GAS RATION CUT TO THREE GALLONS FOR AA-1 COUPONS

Makes Ration Uniform For All Canada

Ottawa. — To conserve Canada's diminishing supplies of gasoline, the Munitions and Supply Department announced, last Friday, a reduction in value of gasoline ration coupons in Ontario, Quebec and the four Western provinces, from four to three gallons.

The reduction, effective after the close of business Saturday, means that gasoline coupons will have a uniform value throughout the Dominion. In the Maritimes, the unit value already is three gallons.

When gasoline rationing was first introduced last spring, the value was five gallons everywhere in Canada. Since then, there have been a number of regional alterations to meet local supply shortages.

STOCKS REDUCED

G. R. Cottrelle, civil controller, who issued the reduction order, recalled that Hon. C. D. Howe, Munitions Minister, had said in a speech on September 17 that Canada's reserves of gasoline were about 20,000,000 gallons lower than a year previously and that stocks of crude oil and unfinished petroleum products were lower by 40,000,000 gallons.

"Unfortunately," Mr. Cottrelle said, "the position has not improved, and our supplies are still dwindling."

Available transportation facilities at present are not adequate to bring in enough crude to meet current demands.

The oil controller said demand for oil has increased to record proportions and added "as long as this falls short of total requirements the motorists of Canada may expect to receive less and less gasoline."

DRASTIC CUTS

The newly-announced cut means that motorists in "AA" category everywhere in Canada will register from 45 to 60 gallons to last them until next April 1st. Altogether 225,000 drivers are being reduced from "A" category to "AA" — the new rating for those using cars for non-essential purposes.

The annual allowances for drivers in higher categories under the reduced value will be as follows: "A"—180 to 240 gallons; "B"—360 to 348; "BX"—396 to 516; "C"—504 to 648; "CX"—840 to 1,080; "E"—1,164 to 1,500.

SENT TO GAOL FOR ONE MONTH FALSE PRETENCES

Garth Sharp, Belleville, appeared before Magistrate Garvin in Napanee Police Court on Thursday, October 15, and pleaded guilty to obtaining money on false pretences from the residents of South Fredericksburgh and Adolphustown Townships. Sharp was sentenced by the Magistrate to serve thirty days in the county gaol.

Sharp, who is about 21 years of age, is a sewing machine repair man. Recently he visited a number of homes in Lennox and Addington, along No. 33 Highway, where he told the householders he was a representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, sent to repair their sewing machines, and he stated that if the machines were beyond repair they were liable to confiscation for salvage. In each case where he called and collected money for repairs ranging from $3.50 to $9.00, he claimed to have made replacements of worn parts, which was later found to be untrue, as no parts had been renewed.

Mr. Pringle, of Belleville, representing Sharp, told the court that Sharp had no previous addition to his record and was married and had one small child. He further stated that Sharp had had very few advantages in life and could neither read nor write.

The Magistrate was inclined to be lenient in passing sentence, but when it was learned that restitution of the money collected was not possible, he gave Sharp a sentence of one month in gaol.

SCOUT APPLE DAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

The Boy Scout Apple Day, held on Saturday, October 17th, was an outstanding success due to the wholehearted cooperation and support of the citizens of this town. Some 37 barrels of apples were distributed. Over $100.00 was added to the funds of the No. 1 Napanee Troop which is about three times the amount realized last year.

This money will be used to further scouting activities in town and thus help towards the development of better citizens.

The Scouts are indebted to a number of individuals for their kind support and assistance. Special mention should be made of Mr. John Wilson who gave the Scouts the use of the store on John Street as Apple Day headquarters. Citizens who donated the hundreds of empty baskets which the Scouts collected are also extended thanks.

The Scouts themselves worked hard and long at making a success of the day. The apples had to be transferred, from the barrels, polished and placed in the baskets. Handbills were distributed, orders taken, apples delivered and collections made. Every boy from the Troop Leader to the newest Tenderfoot, put in really excellent job as is indicated by the financial success of the campaign.

LARGE ATTENDANCE NAPANEE ARMOURIES LOAN DEDICATION

W. S. Herrington Gives Address—Kingston Band in Attendance

Mr. W. S. Herrington, K.C., was the speaker at the Third Victory Loan Dedication Service held in the Napanee Armouries, last Sunday afternoon. Venerable Archdeacon R. J. Dumbrille, who was scheduled to speak, was taken suddenly seriously ill in the morning and was moved to Kingston General Hospital, so was unable to fulfil his engagement.

Mayor D. R. Hall, Napanee, chairman of the County War Finance Committee, was chairman, and music was provided by a massed choir under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Madden, and the Canadian Legion Band of Kingston conducted by the Bandmaster, Gilbert Snowden.

Seated on the platform besides the chairman and the members of the choir, were W. A. Grange, honorary chairman of the War Finance Committee, Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace Church, and the following Reeves of rural municipalities. In whom Victory Loan flags were presented: Reeve A. E. Galt, South Fredericksburgh; Reeve W. H. Ward, Newburgh; Deputy-Reeve C. A. Brandon, Ernestown; Warden W. A. McLeod, Reeve of Richmond; W. A. McCabe, North Fredericksburgh, and Reeve J. G. Daly, Napanee.

Following the address by Mr. Herrington, the chairman led in reading in unison with those present, the Victory Pledge, and the Victory Loan Flag was raised by Donald Elliott, Scout Patrol leader.

Preceding the meeting in the Armouries, the members of the 47th Battery, in charge of Lieutenant Gerald Doyle, paraded the streets of the town.

Mr. Herrington, in beginning his address, said that at least one good thing has come out of the war, and that is the people of the Empire have been drawn closer together and are united as never before in the single purpose of winning the war. The war, he said, is obliterating all distinctions of class, race and religion.

Taking as his theme the slogan—Stop—Look—and Loosen— Mr. Herrington said it was a good time to stop and ask what we are doing to make Canada what it should be. There has been too much complacency and not enough concern as to what can be done in the individual to further the interests of our country. There can be no exemption to anyone in a crisis such as we are now facing and each has a responsibility and must do his part.

We should look into the past, the present and the future to see just where we stand. In the past we considered we had cause for being thankful we lived in the fairest land on the earth and asked nothing better than to be allowed to go on living in peace. To-day we find there are terrible tragedies being enacted in Europe and even our own country feels the danger of invasion. Our cities, which we thought far from the war zone, now lie in peril of being bombed.

Our future is none too secure because Germany has been handed the envious eyes upon Canada. The Germans feel they are the only people fit to have such a rich prize as Canada. The conquest of Canada by the Nazis might happen unless every Canadian does everything possible to defeat Hitler. We can avert this calamity by doing our share towards bringing about a victory which will extinguish Hitler and his gang. You can only be done by Canada having a better army, better tanks, planes, guns and ships than the enemy. This end can be attained by lending the war the money, to buy the necessary equipment.

Mr. Herrington closed by appealing to everyone to subscribe to the limit to Canada's Third Victory Loan and pointed out how easy this was being made by arrangements which The canvassers and bankers are able to make for purchasers of Victory Bonds.

FIRST IN SERIES SPECIAL SERVICES AT GRACE CHURCH

The first in the series of three special services in celebration of Grace United Church's Hundredth Anniversary, was held last Sunday, with Rev. Dr. R. B. Cochrane, the general secretary for missions of The United Church of Canada, as the special preacher. The attendance at the services both morning and evening was good. At the evening service members of Trinity Church were also present and Rev. G. M. Chidley, the minister of Trinity Church, took part in the service.

In the morning, Dr. Cochrane took as his subject, "What is Time to Me yesterday," in which. tribute was paid to the church member of the past.

Dr. Cochrane's evening subject was "The Field is the World." In his address he pointed out the changes which had come over the world in the past few years, which have drawn peoples of different lands together and made life the concern of the interests of another. Dr. Cochrane urged a still greater interest in the welfare of others, both in our own country and in other countries, if the conditions which brought about the present world war are to be done away with.

The minister of the church, Rev. C. D. McLellan, made an appeal for a generous anniversary offering, part of which is to be used to start a church improvement fund to be expended following the war.

The music for the two services was in charge of the choir leader, Miss Letha Scott, with Mrs. H. Black at the organ. The anthem in the morning was "His Works of Love," by Sinper, and in the evening the anthem was "Praise my Soul the King of Heaven," by Richards, with Milton Martin sang during the offertory "Thanks be to God."

Following the evening service a social hour was held in the Sunday School hall, during which light refreshments were served.

Next Sunday, the Anniversary services will be continued and the preachers will be two former ministers, Rev. Dr. R. T. Richards, minister of Centennial Church, London, Ont., and Rev. C. E. Cragg, Grace Church, Toronto.

ANNIVERSARIES

Anniversaries have become a standard part of the Ecclesiastical year in Canada. This yearly event is celebrated in the evangelical churches almost universally. It is an interesting and fruitful development of Canadian church life. These anniversaries nearly all come in the fall months, whether the dates chosen are the actual anniversary of the date when the church was organized or dedicated is not always easy to determine. But really it makes little difference. Sufficient that one day in the year should be chosen on which to concentrate all the religious forces of the congregation.

Just now, Grace Church, Napanee, is celebrating the One Hundredth Year of its existence as a church. A hundred years in this new country, is a long time. When Grace Church was started, candles were the only means of lighting houses and churches. The streets were the original mud, with not even a Macadam surface. There were no sidewalks as we now know them, even the wooden sidewalks came later. Of course, there were none of the amenities of our modern civilization and without which we think we cannot get along—bathrooms, hot and cold water, central heating, which we consider indispensable, were non-existant.

In spite of the lack of these privileges, the people were hard-working, and happy. They had less variety of intellectual and material food, but they digested what they partook of and grew strong intellectually and physically.

They were people of vision, as the erection of a great church like Grace Church bears striking testimony. Of course, the present church was not built at that time, but the religious foundations were laid when the congregation was founded.

The record of the churches in this old Loyalist community is one of which we all may be proud. In them the principle of a just and enduring civilization were instilled into the people. And from them have gone out men and women in all walks of life, to carry the influence of these institutions with them.

In days when all that these have stood for is now challenged by a new emergent paganism, the anniversary takes on a new and deeper significance. It serves to recall the debt we owe to the past, and to stimulate faith in the future.

WHERE DOES IT END?

Where will competition in frightfulness end? That is a question which must be before men and women who are doing any thinking about the modern situation. The British shackled a few Germans when taking them prisoners at Dieppe. The Germans retaliated by shackling a great number of British and Canadian prisoners. Canada and Great Britain come back and shackle prisoners of war in Canada and in Great Britain. Germany makes the announcement that all prisoners are to be treated as a unity, that if Russia mistreats a German prisoner, Germany will avenge herself on any prisoners in her country, whether British, Canadian or Russian.

If this sort of competition goes on there can be only one end. The nations at war will refuse to take prisoners, and will kill all enemies taken in war. That is the inevitable consequence of the competition in frightfulness.

Are we ready to go that far? Are we ready as a people to push our measures of retaliation to that point? That is a question which we must face. There is no use thinking that anything short of that will suffice when the nations engage in frightfulness.

The prisoners of war in this country are closely guarded. They are carefully guarded and watched. They have not been successful in making a break for liberty. This in itself shows how carefully they are guarded. There is nothing to be gained by putting handcuffs on their wrists—doing so is not going to help our boys who are in German prisons. Somewhere along this line of competition in frightfulness, a halt should be called. It is up to the Democracies to make the first gesture. If chaining the German prisoners in Canada would shorten the war by even a few minutes, if it would help in any way to make the lot of our boys in Germany the slightest bit easier, we would be all for it. But neither of these will result. The Democracies cannot begin to compete with the Nazis in frightfulness.

SERIOUS PROPOSALS

In a dispatch from Ottawa, it is indicated that before long the Government intends closing down many small businesses in order to release men for essential industries. The dispatch says that it is estimated that there are in Canada 155,000 wholesale and retail establishments of which 140,000 are retail and 15,000 wholesale. The dispatch continues "upwards of 500,000 people are employed full time in these business and 45,000 part time. In the wholesale firms there are more than 6,000 proprietors, about 84,000 male employees and 20,000 female employees. In the retail field there are about 125,000 proprietors, 190,000 male employees and 85,000 girls and women."

Now it is proposed to close down these wholesale and retail businesses or part of them, in order to place men in war industries. Granted there is need for men, yet the effect of closing even a considerable part of these businesses will work a great hardship on many people. There are thousands of men and women who have worked long and hard in order to get a little business for themselves. They have rendered a service to the community and have earned their right to a place in the economic sun. To close down these businesses on which so much labor and sacrifice have been expended will be a severe blow to personal initiative, energy and ambition. For once close these services and they would never be reopened again.

In the event that this legislation is passed the service now rendered by the individual small storekeeper and wholesaler, will quickly be taken over by the chain stores and the large corporations. The trend towards big business and monopoly will be accelerated. The small independent merchant will undoubtedly be wiped out. The trend in recent years has been towards larger and larger merchandising organizations with more outlets. This may or may not be the most economical way of handling the nation's business; there are those who argue for one side and others who argue convincingly for the other.

The one thing about this that must be kept in mind. If the present trend towards monopolies continue the Government will have to take a more definite hand in their control and administration than they have yet done. The present movement may be a precursor of a socialist state, in which there will be a very few great distributing organizations, owned and operated by the tate for the good of all. In the meantime the small man, "the white-aproned man" as an English writer calls him, will have to pay the price as he always has to do.

FLOWERS AND SMOKE

"Flowers in the Springtime, Fires in the Fall."

The smoke of burning leaves is in the air. Like a heavy pungent incense it rises skyward as if a burnt offering for a bountiful harvest. The practical horticulturist deplores this act of wasteful men—burning leaves — for these we are told, contain needed chemicals and make good loam for replenishing the soil. But the Fall season would lose much that is characteristic if all the leaves were saved and no fires lighted. There is something symbolic about Fall fires — there is a touch of Summer's fading sadness in the wreaths of dull smoke that ascend from the damp, leaf pile.

There is a sort of clean-up atmosphere in the Spring and Fall seasons. Flowers in the Spring, along with the rapid growth of green grass in the meadows, turn to earth, left drab and dreary, by the melting snows of Winter's frost, into a new world. The gray gives way to green, and the earth takes on a brighter hue. In the Fall man takes a firmer hand, cleans pastures and meadows, plows under the stubble, rakes and burns the withered vegetation, making everything neat and tidy against the ravages of Winter. It is the smoke of these fires curling heavenward which is intriguing. They belong to the season. If the time ever comes when the Government passes an order-in-council forcing everybody to rake and save his leaves, the world will be robbed of one of its most fascinating, alluring and deeply satisfying experiences.

In the next section, taken from the Book of Amos, the writer, Amos himself, a vigorous rural preacher, denounces in words that burn and blister, the feasts and the festivals at which the people imbibed too freely. His famous saying regarding justice, in the twenty-fourth verse, is one of the most dynamic, most fundamental ever issued: "Let justice roll down as waters and righteousness as a mighty stream. INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, OCTOBER 25TH, 1942

STEPS TOWARD SOLUTION OF THE ALCOHOL PROBLEM

Lesson Text: Ecclesiastes 10: 17; Amos 5: 21-24; Romans 14: 19-21 II Corinthians 6: 17; I Peter 4: 1-5

portant as that righteousness and justice should prevail. There are perverted and outlawed wherever the liquor business gets in control. In Romans, Paul pleads for total abstinence on the ground of the effect of one life on another. "It is good, not to eat meat or to drink wine nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth." There is a salutary piece of admonition here to some of our "good" church people who give cocktail parties to youth and thereby create an appetite for that which so often blasts and degregates their lives.

In Corinthians, Paul demands that Christians should have courage to step out from the crowd, and live according to the law of strict self-discipline. "Be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch no unclean thing."

Peter, in the section from his letter, places the appeal for temperance and total abstinence on the highest possible grounds. Christians are urged "for Christ's sake" to avoid the sin of drunkenness and all that follows after.

Here we are then.—pleas from many different men of God, for temperance on various grounds, everyone of which is solid to-day. A temperance lesson can be taught from any one of these passages.

The evils of intemperance against which these men protested, are perhaps more evidence in Canada today than ever before in her history. We are in the midst of a great war, one which will determine the future of our race, and yet there will be spent $250,000,000 on liquor this year. This is sheer waste—it wastes grain, it wastes materials which enter into its production, it wastes the lives of the men and the women engaged in war industry, and in the armed forces. The Prime Minister has promised to do something about it. But he does nothing. Why is he not doing? Why is he not living up to his pledge to The United States? What sinister influences are at work? It might be well to demand an answer before taking too seriously his request for money to carry on the war.

NOV. 10 LAST DATE CHRISTMAS MAIL

The Post Office Department has announced that Christmas mails to the Overseas Forces must be posted not later than 16th November. A huge volume of Christmas mail for the Canadian armed forces overseas is anticipated and it is advisable that gifts should be sent now—the earlier the better—to ensure timely delivery.

Parcels should be packed well and no fresh fruits should be enclosed. It is illegal to enclose matches, safety matches, lighter fluid or any other inflammable substance. Such a practice endangers all other parcels. Any postmaster will give details concerning the regulations governing the sending of parcels or letters overseas to the fighting forces. The weight limit for parcels to members of the Canadian fighting forces overseas is 11 pounds, to civilians, five pounds.

Ottawa. — Gen. LaFleche, new Minister of War Services, has replaced Hon. Joseph Thorson as head of the sub-committee of the Cabinet dealing with various phases of the liquor question.

The story of one phase had been reported on the day of the recent Cabinet reorganization but was not considered at the time and allowed to stand. That particular phase related to advertising and certain recommendations for its curtailment were made both as regards liquor and beer.

Other angles of the question are being studied. A new one is a proposed national campaign for temperance and saving on the drink bill of the nation. That would be by federal and Provincial undertaking.

Whatever else is done here will be wholly within the lines of Dominion jurisdiction, the study embraces the use of raw materials and manpower, alcoholic contents and the question of reducing releases of liquor from bond and also the release malt for making beer. Any change which is made is likely to be by means of an administrative order as a war measure rather than by Parliamentary legislation.

NINETEEN ENVOY NOW IN CANADA

Ottawa. — Time was when United States Consul-Generals were the only diplomatic representatives in Ottawa, although there is a number of consular "agents" in other local people.

Today in the evolution of the capital of Canada "diplomatic" becomes increasingly complex. Five nations within the British Empire fourteen foreign countries are represented and two more are adding about 12. From the Empire are the High Commissioners for United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India.

Latest addition to foreign representation is the Soviet Mission. Others are United States, France, Russia, China, Belgium, the Netherlands, Argentina, Poland, Norway, Yugoslavia, Greece, Brazil, Chile, Czecho-Slovakia.

Representatives of practically all these countries have the status of ministers. The war has influenced greatly with social life, but receptions are occasional. The United States and France have both presidential Legations and the rest are of a chancellery. Locally the Netherlands Minister has proved somewhat of a problem owing to the amount of space required and the scarcity of properties.

BUY VICTORY BONDS NOW!

WE'RE GOING TO NEED SO MANY THINGS WHEN THE WAR ENDS ... things that are hard to get now

MANY THINGS WE HAVE WILL BE WORN OUT
FARM EQUIPMENT
THINGS FOR THE HOME
. . . and there are things we had planned on getting, too . . . things we've long wanted to have . . . we'll have to wait till factories are making them again.

Every day, almost, we find that something else is getting scarce. So often, we are told "they're not making it any more". Factories are making guns, instead of ploughs, tanks instead of tractors, planes and shells instead of stoves and beds. We'll have to replace so many things when the war ends . . . things we can't buy now.

MONEY INVESTED IN VICTORY BONDS will provide the cash to buy them

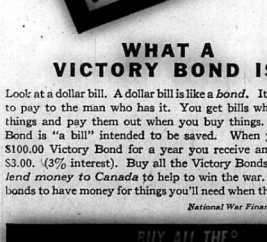
TWO WAYS TO BUY VICTORY BONDS NOW



—with Cash

. . . in one lump sum, with money we have saved. There is no safer investment . . . no better way to protect our savings.

Or—we can buy bonds and pay for them through our banks in monthly instalments. As the instalments come due the bank will charge them to our accounts.

—with Produce

Farm folk can pay for Victory Bonds in another, convenient way—by using the "PRODUCE FOR VICTORY" TICKET. By simply signing a "Victory Ticket" you can authorize those who buy produce from you to send all or part of the proceeds to the War Finance Committee to buy Victory Bonds for you. (Ask your local War Finance worker for details.)

WHAT A VICTORY BOND IS

Look at a dollar bill. A dollar bill is like a bond. It's a promise to pay to the man who has it. You get bills when you sell things and pay them out when you buy things. A Victory Bond is "a bill" intended to be saved. When you keep a $100.00 Victory Bond for a year you receive an additional $3.00. (3% interest). Buy all the Victory Bonds you can—lend money to Canada to help to win the war. Save your bonds to have money for things you'll need when the war ends.

Anderson United Ch. 70th Anniversary

Anderson United Church observed the 70th Anniversary of their church's history in special services on Sunday evening, when the Rev. Harold E. Prair, of Enterprise was greeted with a large congregation, and preached a helpful sermon. The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, and the choir rendered special music. One of the interesting features of the service was the presence of some of the pioneer members of the congregation.

Anderson Church was built on the Thomas Anderson Farm, in 1872. The title deed to the property was issued in 1872—a year after the construction began. Twenty-one years later the first insurance policy was made out in favor of the trustees, who were John P. Anderson, Nelson Dollar, Charles Dollar, William Baird and James Joyce. The Rev. Dr. Carman Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church presided the church.

A congregational social was held on Monday evening. There was a splendid attendance. A program of great variety was much enjoyed. Mr. A. A. MacGregor, Napanee, led in a sing-song in which all took part. A piano duet was rendered by Mrs. Carl Wright and Miss Eleanor Mellow, Napanee.

The Late Amos Cronk

The funeral service for the late Amos Cronk, whose death occurred suddenly at his home, Thomas St., Napanee, last Sunday morning, was held at the Tierney Funeral Home on Tuesday afternoon.

The service was attended by a large number of business associates, town officials and friends, all of whom had held Mr. Cronk in the highest respect.

For nearly 25 years Mr. Cronk was an employee of the Hydro Electric Power Commission, and was an expert mechanic, whose place as a workman will be almost impossible to fill. Previous to entering the employ of the Hydro he worked for over 30 years as a blacksmith in the carriage factory of the late Charles A. Graham.

The late Mr. Cronk was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cronk, and was born in Napanee about 67 years ago. All his life was spent in Napanee. He is survived by his wife, the former Emma Cane Graham, and one brother, Samuel Cronk, of Toronto.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace United Church. The service at the graveside, in Riverside cemetery, was in charge of the members of No. 212 Lodge, I.O.O.F., many of whom were in attendance at the funeral.

The bearers were fellow employees of the Hydro: Messrs. Bert Beaubien, Ray Moore, John Hayes, Harold Derby, Earl Loucks and Mel. Lowry.

NORTHBROOK

Northbrook, Oct. 19. — Visitors home for the week end were Parachutist Karl Both and sister, Mildred, Miss Patricia Both, of Toronto; Miss Betty Both, teacher at Coxville; Mr. Ray Lloyd and Mr. Joshua Lloyd, of Pickering; Miss Isobel Vogan, of Ontario Business College, Belleville, and Mrs. Louis Vogan, of the Sawyer-Stoll Lumber Co.

The Victory Loan drive is in full swing again, with Mr. C. C. Thompson as salesman for this district for the third time. He led this district to more than double its objective in the Great War, and again in this war's previous loans. We are sure of a generous response again.

Little Miss Joanne McNeil, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs Geo. McNeil, of the Tourist Hotel, was the winner of the lucky number in the War Stamp drive begun by Tweed. She received a $25.00 Victory Bond, donated by a friend, and was one of the many children who have been purchasing stamps with great interest instead of the usual amount of candy.

There have been several accidents around this country caused by livestock wandering on the highways. The other night, a fine black colt, belonging to Mr. Hugh O'Donnel, was hit by J. Champagne when driving a car owned by Chas. Ball, causing considerable damage.

We voice the sentiments of all with whom our C.P.R. Operator, Mr. Harry Quirl, and wife, of Kaladar, have come in contact in their 13 years with us, that their moving to Port Burwell will be an irreparable loss. About 100 of their many friends surprised them on Thursday evening when they called to bid farewell. The departing couple were presented with a beautiful floor lamp and a smoking set as a small token of remembrance. The business of the station has been carried out with the utmost efficiency under Harry, as he is known to all. Mrs. Quirl and daughter, Joan, spent many years in beautifying the unsightly station grounds. Many have visited the spot to view the rock gardens, shrubs, unusual varieties of lilies, and the abundant growth of everything in the vegetable world. Our best wishes go with them to their new home.

Mr. John Wood is up and about again, after being confined to bed for a few days with broken ribs and bruises, received when a car driven by Mr. Jones, of Massanoga, struck him while walking on the highway near his home. Mr. Wood is nearing 80, and it is remarkable how he survived the accident.

Mrs. Fred Nelson, of Saskatoon, has joined her husband here, and they will spend the winter with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell.

Mr. & Mrs. Both has returned to Hearst, where he is employed on the new Trans-Canada Highway.

Hunting season has again come and many a would-be hunter will have to refrain from that sport in November for a time.

Mr. Henry Vanness is another farmer who will have grow old. At 82 he is alert, capable, and very supple. He has arranged his farm and stock so that he can work in the lumber camps for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rosenplot and infant daughter, Barbara Ann, of Kingston, spent a few days with Mrs. Rosenplot's mother, Mrs. Robb Jackson.

Mr. Jack Huffman, of Harlowe, is in the Napanee General Hospital, recuperating from an operation on his leg, the result of an injury suffered in the Great War.

Mr. James Cuddy, 21-year-old son of Robt. Cuddy, of Harlowe, had the misfortune to shoot off his toe and otherwise injure his foot on Saturday, when he pulled the trigger of what was thought to be an unloaded gun.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rosenplot are moving to Napanee—for the winter, to enable Mr. Rosenplot to be nearer his work at the Nylon factory in Kingston.

A quiet wedding took place in Pievna on Monday, October 5th, when Miss Doreen V. Thompson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Thompson, was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel Cuddy, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cuddy. Both have lived in Harlowe, and will now reside on the groom's farm there. A reception and dance was held in Harlowe Hall on Saturday evening. Many beautiful gifts gave evidence of the popularity of the bride and groom.

Miss Velva Thompson was a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Boyle, Belleville.

Travelling Pastor Simpson was again in our village last week.

Mr. Philip Peterson had the exciting experience of knocking a big wolf on Saturday within a mile or his farm south of Northbrook.

WEDDING BELLS

LICHTY — BOYES

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. F. Boyes on Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, when her younger daughter, Augusta Madeline, was united in marriage with Lieut. Lorentz Victor Lichty, of Sudbury. Red and white roses decorated the living-room where the ceremony took place, the Rev. Murray Chidley officiating. The wedding music was played by Mrs. J. H. Madden.

The bride, given away by her grandfather, Mr. J. L. Boyes, was beautifully gowned in gallant blue crepe, with softly draped bodice and skirt, trimmed with heavy blue frieze. Her small hat was of matching blue, and she carried a charming old-fashioned nosegay of red and white roses, tied with ribbon of gallant blue. She wore an antique bracelet, which had belonged to her great grandmother, Mrs. Beverley Fuller, attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a smart frock of Victory red crepe with cream collar and buttons, and corsage of white roses.

Lieut. J. L. Boyes was the groomsman.

Mrs. Boyes, mother of the bride, received her guests, wearing a black gown with a corsage of gardenias. She was assisted by Mrs. William Tremblelon, of Toronto; Mrs. J. L. Boyes, Jr., and Mrs. Kelberth Lichty. The bride's table was set in the sunroom, and was charmingly decorated in pink and white.

After the wedding supper, Lieut. and Mrs. Lichty motored to Belleville to take the train, the bride travelling in a smart suit of grey frieze with brown squirrel collar, brown felt hat and matching accessories. She wore the groom's gift, a wrist watch.

After the honeymoon, Lieut. Lichty will return to Petawawa, where he is stationed at present, and Mrs. Lichty will reside in the vicinity of the Military Camp.

NEWBURGH W. I.

The September meeting of the Newburgh Women's Institute was held at Mrs. Baldwin's home.

After the ode and creed the roll call was answered with a favourite recipe. Many worthwhile recipes were given. During the business period reports of the various phases of the work were given. Mrs. Walker reported the work sent to Napanee Red Cross from June 27 to September 9, as follows: 6 pairs seamen's stockings, 4 pairs 16-inch stockings, 3 pairs whole mitts, 13 pairs men's gloves, 18 pairs ladies' socken, 6 pairs ladies' gloves, 3 aero cape, 16 ladies' cardigans, 7 turtle neck sweaters, 1 pair ladies' knickers, 16 quilts.

It was decided to buy yarn and knit socks for the community Christmas boxes for the soldiers.

A piano duet was given by Mrs. K. Kleinsteiber and Mrs. R. Fluke. Current events by Mrs. R. Kleinsteiber were most interesting.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Diamant, of Napanee, who spoke on Home Economics, recommending it as a fine course for girls to take. She stressed the importance of taking pride in our home work. Mrs. Wilson moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Diamant.

...WOMEN MAINTAIN WARTIME VIGILANCE, TOO!

Hello Homemakers! You need not feel that in your home you are isolated from the Canadian line of defence. When you do the family ironing, aim to save as much as you can for the purchase of War Securities. Every time you snap on an electric switch, remember, too, how greatly electric power is needed in our war industries.

Neither scientists nor government bureaus can make a nutrition plan truly effective. For the nutrition of our Dominion is in your hands as the homemaker who shops, plans and prepares the meals for the family every day.

Every homemaker who keeps a vigilant eye on the kettle as it begins to steam, the temperature as it rises in the oven, knows that necessary electricity can be saved by turning the heat to "Low."

TAKE A TIP

1 When stitching heavy fabrics, such as canvas, khaki cloth or heavy duck, the stitch can be made to penetrate more easily if lugns and seams are rubbed with hard yellow soap.

2 A simple method of cleaning windows is to rub the glass with a cloth saturated with vinegar, then polish with newspaper.

3 Milder stains can be removed from a leather bag or suitcase by rubbing well with a soft cloth dipped in petroleum ointment. Allow to remain on leather for a few minutes, then rub dry. If necessary, repeat this process.

TESTING RECIPES FOR OVERSEAS BOXES

CANADA'S KITCHEN HAD BOYS IN MIND

"Happy Christmas" A little premature" you think? But it's not too early to send Christmas greetings to the boys overseas, and a box of good things from home means more than you could ever tell. Some of Christmas cake and cookies are delicious. These extra special parcels. The family may have to go easy on the sugar ration for a week or two preceding, but no one will mind that small sacrifice when by means of it they can provide a Christmas treat for Daddy or big brother.

Drop or bar cookies are the most satisfactory to include in overseas parcels, for in spite of careful packing rolled cookies and shortbreads are all apt to arrive in the form or crumbs. Bar cookies can be cut into individual pieces before baking. Wrap the bars in wax paper, pack carefully so they cannot jiggle. Wrap the box in wax paper and the cookies will arrive in first class condition. Shredded wax paper makes a good shock absorber to fill in the spaces. Small wrapped candies are also favourite companions for drop cookies as they fill in the spaces between the cookies to good advantage. Honey nulls and coffee tins make excellent containers for fruit breads and cakes, as they can be used both for baking and shipping.

The staff of the Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa had overseas boxes in mind when they tested these recipes; they are good travellers and guaranteed to make a hit with gift boys.

OVERSEAS FRUIT BARS

One cup seedless raisins, one-quarter cup each—chopped candied orange, lemon and citron peel, half-cup chopped nuts (optional), one-quarter cup syrup from canned fruit or orange juice, one teaspoon vanilla, half-cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, two and one-quarter cups sifted all-purpose flour, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder, half-teaspoon baking soda.

Wash raisins in hot water and dry. Add peel, nuts, liquid and vanilla. Cream the butter and sugar, add the beaten egg and beat well. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add to the butter mixture. Add the fruit mixture last and mix thoroughly. Pat out on a lightly floured board making five strips 1½ inches wide by inch thick and 12 inches long. Score the strips in individual pieces before baking on a greased cookie sheet at 400 degrees for 18-20 minutes. Break bars whole; if cutting at home allow to cool before breaking into pieces.

LIGHT CHRISTMAS CAKE

One and one-half cups butter, two cups fine granulated sugar, six eggs, two cups blanched sultana raisins, three-quarters cup chopped citron peel, two cups of chopped red glace cherries, four cups flour, half-teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder.

Cream butter well, add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add unbeaten eggs one at a time beating well between each addition. Dredge the prepared fruits with part of the flour. Sift salt and baking powder with the rest of the flour and add to the creamed mixture. Add the fruit. Line a nine by nine inch fruit cake tin or two four-pound loaf pans with two thicknesses of greased brown paper, bake in a slow oven, thirty degrees, for approximately two hours.

ORANGE BREAD

Two orange skins, put through the food chopper, one cup water, one cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one egg, one cup of milk, three cups flour, one teaspoon salt, six teaspoons baking powder.

Cook ground orange skins, sugar and water together till syrupy. 15-20 minutes. Add butter and let cool. Sift half the dry ingredients to the egg and milk mixture, then add the orange mixture and the rest of the dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Put in greased loaf tins or lined honey pails or coffee tins in a slow oven 325 degrees about 45 minutes. This recipe makes enough for two loaves. If making for home use, let stand one or two days before using. Be sure the bread is perfectly cool before packing for overseas shipping.

HOUSEHOLD LINEN CARE NOW DOUBLY IMPORTANT

With incomes reduced by taxation and supplies less plentiful than formerly it becomes doubly important that the proper care of household linen.

Linen nowadays frequently means "cotton" because there is a scarcity of linen on the market and few people are now using linen sheets, linen sheets and pillow slips, linen table cloths and napkins. However, whether of cotton or linen, it is supposed with linen or with cotton these fabrics must be made to last as long as possible.

Experts point out that the life of linens can be extended through careful laundering so with less money to spend on replacement now is the time to follow the best laundering advice.

Laboratory tests show that linens stand up best under home washing if proper care is observed, but experts point out that the greatest damage in modern laundering is due to misuse of bleaches. Often directions accompanying bleaches call for the use of more than is really safe for fabrics.

Clothes should be ironed within a few hours after laundering. Mildew and rust are bugbears of the home laundress and mildew is caused by putting away linens not quite dry, rust is caused by contact with metal whether in the household which the outer finish is worn or broken. Metal tubs and boilers, enamel containers and wire clothes lines should be carefully inspected. The safest way to remove rust is by application of a two-per cent solution of oxalic acid, after which thorough rinsing is necessary. Since oxalic acid is a violent poison, it must be guarded in the household and kept out of the medicine cabinet.

BY J. M. HILL

LESSON III. OCTOBER 18TH
SHOULD ANYONE DRINK — THEN DRIVE?
By J. M. Hill

Let us suppose that your teacher asked your class to write an essay on this subject, without previous preparation. What answer would you give? One student might write a vivid story of a speeding automobile approaching a bridge; on the sides of the bridge children are at play and, suddenly, one dashes in front of the car; the driver frantically presses the brake. Is he in time? Much depends on the condition of the car, much more on the condition of the driver. Another student might tell of a prominent professional man of the district. He was driving his car so recklessly that he was stopped by a police officer. He was in no peace and goodwill. What would you write about?

When the students in your class had finished the story part of their essays, would they know how to carry on from there? In other words, would they know WHY the driver, if he had been drinking, might not be able to stop his car in time to save the child? Would they know WHY the professional man's driving was so erratic that he was considered a menace on the highway? Would they be able to finish the essay on "black" holiday seasons by giving reasons for such appalling numbers of accidents among "moderate" drinkers? If you do not know the answers to these questions, you will find some of them in the following paragraphs.

There are four ways in which alcohol affects the driver. His vision is blurred. His judgment is impaired. His hand action is delayed. His foot action is delayed.

Taking one at a time, safe driving requires clear vision. The extent to which alcohol impairs vision depends upon the quantity consumed and the personal factor. Alcohol blurs vision, sometimes causing a person to see double. That is a well-known fact. Two facts which are not so well known are: (a) alcohol narrows and shortens the vision of the driver, and (b) alcohol makes some drivers colour blind. It can be readily seen that all these facts make for dangerous driving. If a speeding car is driven by a man who sees what is immediately before him, hazily, or who fails to see danger at all or partially on either side of him, or in the distance, and who cannot distinguish the "red" of a traffic signal clearly, there is almost certain to meet him "head on."

Our second point: Judgment is impaired. This is one of the greatest dangers of alcohol. Alcohol gives the driver a false sense of confidence. He believes recklessly and takes foolish chances.

Our third point: Hand action is delayed, and with this we can couple foot action. Numerous experiments were performed in Denmark. Fifty or sixty men, many of whom were laborers, drivers, were given the tests. Each man was tested before he had had any alcohol. Then each consumed about ten mild ones, a half teaspoonful of alcohol in the form of beer, and was tested for reflexes after drinking, they were given the tests again with the following results: Time required to make a reaction: 9.7 per cent. longer with alcohol than without.

Time required for muscular action: 7.8 per cent. longer with alcohol than without.

Errors made from lack of co-ordination: 59.7 per cent. greater with alcohol than without.

"Danger looms in split seconds. Safety depends upon instantaneous reaction. If the driver's normal, his mind acts quickly and the muscles of his hands and feet respond almost instantly. Doctor Heise found, by tests, that at a speed of 20 miles per hour drivers passed sixty feet between hearing a signal and applying the brakes; with alcohol in their blood, they passed twenty-two feet before braking. Six feet may spell the difference between life and death."

THE ALCOHOL PROBLEM VISUALIZED

What is to be done about this? Obviously education is needed. People do not wilfully maim and kill. The automobile is not treated with the respect a high-powered machine deserves. In Canada, so far as we know, there are now high schools teaching the boys and girls safe driving, as part of the curriculum. In the United States six hundred were receiving driving by May 1940 and probably many more are doing so at the present time. In addition forty-one state colleges were giving summer courses to teachers on how to teach driving to their classes. A science teacher in New York joined the group because a member of his family was killed by a drunken driver. He translated his shock and anger into action, took the course for teachers and established a class in his school. Let us hope that this movement spreads rapidly and that it reaches Canada.

"It would be a comfort to know that a generation of safe and safe drivers was growing up, soon to take the road. These young people would have little respect for the drunken driver. How effectively they might stamp out this evil! One teacher says to his high school students: "In handling such a dangerous machine as the automobile, your responsibilities on the road overshadow your rights."

QUESTIONS

1 What effect has alcohol on the vision, judgment and hand and foot control of the driver? (10 marks).

2 Write an essay giving:

(a) A story (if possible, a true story) of a car accident caused by a drunken driver. (5 marks).

(b) Follow your story by giving the reasons why the driver was out of control. (5 marks).

DID NEVER SEEMED TO FIND TIME TO PLAY WITH HIS OWN KIDS WHEN THEY WERE LITTLE —— NO! SKADDOO! I'VE GOT TIME
BUT NOW THAT THEY'RE GROWN UP AND HE'S A GRANDPOP, YOU'D THINK THE OLD BOY BELONGED IN THE KINDERGARTEN, HIMSELF!
AW, PLEASE, C'MON, PA AND HELP ME FLY MY KITE ——

What I like about this Country—

As I was saying to my friend Bill who works alongside of me in the shop,
"What I like about this country of ours is that a man can blow off steam by beefing"—
Not that it helps the meat shortage, but it does keep the pressure down.
Now you take when the new taxes came out,
doy, did I hit the roof.
Then I grabbed a pencil and did some quick number-work.
Then I dusted off all those fancy words—the boys in the shop sometimes use and gave them a good work-out.
And that night I told Helen (she's my wife) that it was "scratch" from here in.
And I told her when that last Victory Bond is paid for—we're through.
Helen just looks at me and says nothing.
Then one night we're sitting around the radio listening to the war news and somebody is beating the drum for the new Victory Loan, and suddenly Helen says:
"It's nice that the kids have lots to eat."
I looked at her astonished
"What—" I began, but she continues,
"And it's nice we have this comfortable home, and a little in the bank."
Then she says: "Fred, we're going to buy another Victory Bond."
And before I can get my say in about the taxes she goes on:
"Look Fred! The new taxes have been coming out of your pay for about two months now.
We're still living and eating and putting a little away.
Maybe we can't buy all the things we want but at that we still have a big edge on all those poor souls over in Europe

All the fight has gone out of me by this time and I'm nodding my head

And the next day at the shop
I sign up again for another Bond.

I'm telling Bill about it,

Anyway—we're buying Victory Bonds again!

There is not enough power for our war industries and for our homes. . . . The use of electricity in our homes must be reduced—most take second place—if we are to keep our war plants working at full speed.

Unless you cut your power consumption by at least twenty per cent—you're not saving enough.

17TH ANNUAL RALLY NORTH SECTION OF W. M. S.

The Seventeenth Annual Rally of Napanee, North Section, of the Woman's Missionary Society was held in the Newburgh United Church on Thursday, October 15th, with the vice-president, Mrs. T. W. Wilson, presiding.

After singing the Doxology, repeating the Lord's Prayer and singing the National Anthem, Rev. H. B. Herrington took charge of the worship service. He stressed the fact that we need the Spirit of God and must wait in His Presence.

Mrs. Moore, of Newburgh, extended a very cordial welcome to the guests, to which Mrs. W. Ashley of Napanee, gracefully replied.

The Nominating, Courtesy and Resolutions Committees and Press Reporter were appointed.

"The Story of the Year" was responded to by a member from each Auxiliary, Circle, Band and C. G. I. T. group and showed much activity in each society and proved most interesting.

The offering was dedicated by Mrs. Vernon Paul.

Mrs. Farnsworth, of Belleville, after speaking of the pleasure it gave her to come to Newburgh and meet the many friends of former years, spoke on the subject of "Temperance." She asked that each meeting give a few minutes to the study of this subject which is so important at the present time. One hears of it on every hand and we realize there is so much to do. Truly as a nation is free from alcohol is it ready for Christ. Women have great power. Mrs. Farnsworth said, and asked if we have measured up to it. It is too big a subject for any political party, but not too big for women. War will be prolonged unless alcohol is restricted. Other things are rationed but not yet, alcohol, but it is coming in closing. Mrs. Farnsworth urged us to join hands, before it is too late, and remedy this matter.

Mrs. Wilson introduced Miss Pearson of India, and the Presbyterial President, Mrs. Spafford.

Mrs. Frair, of Enterprise, sang a solo, after which Mrs. H. Haggerty, Mrs. Beaton and Mrs. C. Lochhead conducted the closing service and quiet half hour. The thought given was "Be still and know that I am God."

The session was adjourned, and during the noon hour a delicious luncheon was served by Newburgh and Strathcona auxiliaries.

AFTERNOON SESSION

At 1:30, the afternoon session opened with a sing song led by Mrs. H. B. Herrington. The roll call of auxiliaries, circles and bands, was responded to by a Bible promise.

Mrs. Wilson invited Mrs. G. Findlay, past-president, Mrs. Hooper, past-president; Mrs. Spafford president of the Presbyterial, and Miss Pearson of India, to come to the platform.

Thirty-five boys and girls of Newburgh Mission Band gave a very fine selection, "We are a Missionary Band."

Mrs. G. Findlay gave a most interesting report of "The School for Leaders." Some of the thoughts she passed on to us were "To be truly Christian, our religion must be woven into our lives. We must seek to comforth others. As light shines through different colors of glass in a window, so Jesus shines through us, in different ways, to others."

Mrs. Spafford introduced Miss Pearson, of India, who gave a most interesting and instructive address on the political life of that country as well as the work of the missionaries. She said she felt anxious that those on the home front know conditions better so they would better understand the needs of India and also of her missionaries. She displayed a number of beautiful Indian costumes and dressed in one and wore it, while giving her address. She said costumes and jewelry meant a great deal to the people of India. They believe in color and also in a smile. At present there was such uncertainty. It was thought the war would bring the people of India together, but it hasn't. Indians can't seem to co-operate. They are disappointed in Ghandi. If they have the right leaders, Miss Pearson said, the Indians can be educated to work together. Everyone wants independence, but not in the same way, and nothing can be done until the people can learn to co-operate. If Christians would only stick together as Mohammedans do, we could do wonders. We talk of brotherly love but don't practice it. Indians drive a hard bargain, but if they get to know one, they are true friends. Miss Pearson had been living in a hospital with a missionary doctor, Miss Sarah, Father Dr. Smith, and the area they had to cover was seventy miles by ninety miles. They were allowed four gallons of gas a month, so used bicycles, and did a great deal of walking. There are about seven thousand illiterate people in the area and Miss Pearson was a teacher so the problem looked hopeless. Missionary work has just begun. India needs both prayers and support. The Indian Christians are very true and will carry on the work.

Mrs. B. Findlay, of Strathcona, rendered a solo and Mrs. K. S. Wess of Centreville, declaired the afternoon offering.

Mrs. James Wilson brought in the report of the Resolutions Committee, as follows:

That we heartily encourage the study of International Relationship and World Peace, and try by every Christian principle open to us, to do our part to be worthy of a lasting peace.

That we heartily approve the action of the General Council in sending a delegation to Premier King, asking for curtailment of the liquor traffic, for the duration.

We also recommend that this W. M. S. Section pledge its support to every temperance measure.

Mrs. Fletcher Yarker, reported for the Courtesy Committee. We the members of the Courtesy Committee wish to express on behalf of the friends here at this our 17th annual rally, our appreciation for the warm welcome and hearty hand-shake we received when we entered the church.

We were inspired by the worship service given by Rev. H. B. Herrington, the address of Mrs. Farnsworth and the spirit which prevailed during the quiet half hour.

We would like to thank the Newburgh and Strathcona ladies who served such a delicious dinner and decorated the church so beautifully and others who helped to make this rally worshipful, by music and song.

The speaker of the afternoon, Miss Dorothy Pearson, gave an insight into the work that is being done and inspired us to greater effort in helping to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

To Mrs. Spafford, who so kindly furnished her car and brought Mrs. Farnsworth and Miss Pearson to the rally to give us such wonderful addresses, we extend our thanks.

Lastly we would like to thank the officers for their leadership in the past year and for the excellent programme they prepared for us this day.

Mrs. Wesley Wagar, Centreville, gave the report for the Nominating Committee, which is as follows:

"As a Nominating Committee we are pleased to present the names of Mrs. T. M. Wilson for vice-president and Mrs. H. D Thompson for secretary."

Mrs. Wagar before moving the adoption of the her report, spoke of the excellent work done by these officers during the past year and impressed upon all present that the whole responsibility did not rest with the officers, and asked that by standing, each pledge herself to support the efforts put forth by the officers.

Mrs. Wilson replied and thanked the convention for the honor given her.

The next place of meeting was discussed and it was decided that if agreeable to Napanee South, there would be a union rally of the two sections, held in Napanee, in 1943.

Rev. G. M. Chidley of Napanee, closed the session with prayer.

$150 FINE IMPOSED ON PETER GANAS FOR SUGAR HOARDING

Two Charges Were Laid by Wartime Prices and Trade Board

Peter Ganas, proprietor of, The Regent Restaurant, Napanee, appeared before Magistrate Garrin in Napanee Police Court, last Thursday, to answer two charges: (1) attempting to deceive or mislead officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, by failing to disclose stocks of sugar in his possession or control, and (2) acquiring or accumulating excessive stocks of sugar between December 1st, 1941 and June 17th, 1942. The Magistrate within his judgment until Monday when he found the accused guilty on both counts and fined Mr. Ganas $125 and costs on the first charge and $25.00 and costs on the second charge, the total of which will be about $180.

The Magistrate gave a lengthy review of the evidence and in delivering his judgment on the second charge—that of acquiring an excessive stock of sugar— he said:

At the penalty which I should impose I think I must take into consideration the weakness in the regulations in not prescribing a more definite limitation on the amount of sugar that the industrial user of sugar may have in hand at any one time or during a given period. I am also taking into consideration the multitude of extra work which the owners of restaurants have now to do as opposed to a little over a year ago—the stock of sugar— he said:

ENCOURAGING SIGNS

There are encouraging signs in the war situation. In Europe the conquered peoples are restive. Recovering from the staggering, shattering blow which left them paralyzed, they are getting a grip on themselves and beginning to assert themselves in one way or another. The most notable instance is in France, where in spite of repeated urging from their own leaders, the French workingmen have refused to go to work for Germany in anything like the numbers demanded.

Another sign is the increased air power operating over the Axis territory. It would appear that the United Nations have now air superiority. The daylight raids over occupied France, the terrific bombardment of Turin and Genoa in Italy, and the devastating attacks on Rossmel's lines, provide ample evidence of that.

Then there is the new British drive in Libya. It is too early, yet, to determine whether or not this is an all-out effort to destroy Rommel's army. It may well be such. In the initial stages of the battle the United Nations have made notable progress.

Then there is Russia. Timoshenko is still holding the Germans at bay at Stalingrad. Wave after wave of Nazi infantry, tanks and planes attack the city and are repulsed. The epic stand has held Hitler from fulfilling his timetable, which called for the taking of Moscow after Stalingrad had been captured. Both objectives were set for this Summer.

Then the Americans are giving a good account of themselves in the East. Hong Kong has been bombarded twice, by American flyers, and the Japanese are being held, in the Solomons.

And there is the growing might of the United Nations. President Roosevelt has said that the manufacturing quotas for 1942 will not be met. But the organization is completed and production is in full swing. Millions of Americans will soon be under arms. Hundreds of thousands are now well trained, and are distributed in various theatres of war, waiting for the green light.

In Great Britain, we are told that production has reached an all-high. That the production of aeroplanes in Britain alone, now exceeds that of the Axis. Two battleships of the first-class are reported in service, bringing the strength of the Navy in capital ships where it was at the outbreak of the war.

In Canada the war pace accelerates. Ernest Bevin, Minister of Labor in the British Cabinet, speaking at a press conference, Monday, paid a great tribute to the contribution which Canada was making. "The weight and resilliency of Canadian output in the last two years," he said, "particularly in 1940 when we had few friends, were a salvation to us. In addition to the men sent overseas, and the tanks, guns, aeroplanes and other munitions, Canada is building more merchant ships than Great Britain."

These are signs which should give courage to men and women in the United Nations and fill Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito with some misgivings and forebodings.

V

A CONTEMPTIBLE TRICK

The most despicable and contemptible hoax that has been perpetrated for many a day on this Province, is one in which the perpetrator plays upon the affection and love of people for those overseas. A Sergeant who claims to have accurate information, tells a mother that her son whom she believes overseas is in a hospital in Canada. He describes the lad accurately, gets some money to take to him and then disappears. Later on the women call at the hospital only to find they have been misled by some impostor.

How any man in his right sense could thus capitalize on the anguish and sorrow of other people, for selfish ends, passes understanding. When he is apprehended, as he will be, the Sergeant who poses as a confidential messenger to the family of one in the Forces, should receive the full penalty of the law.

ALMOST FORGOTTEN

We had almost forgotten the Quints. They were the world's wonder for years. They held the spotlight. Thousands visited their home. They were the most photographed children in the world. And then, the war broke. Great issues of world - wide moment crowded the Quints off the front page, and then out of the papers, altogether.

But now, they are back, back in Toronto on the second trip they have made from their home. They are quite big girls now and had the faintest suggestion of a "permanent" for their appearances before the public — for they are on the Nation's business, helping to arouse public interest in the Victory Loan. There can be no doubt but that the large crowds at the Arena were impressed by the presence of these children. For while they have lost their baby-looks and interest in them has waned in the light of the war and its compelling concerns, yet people are still interested in this—Nature's great experiment!

It was a happy inspiration on the part of those responsible for the publicity of the Loan, that these famous children be brought to a centre of population where thousands might see them and for a brief hour be in the presence of these children. For while they have lost their baby-looks and interest in them has waned in the light of the war and its compelling concerns, yet people are still interested in this—Nature's great experiment!

It was a happy inspiration on the part of those responsible for the publicity of the Loan, that these famous children be brought to a centre of population where thousands might see them and for a brief hour be in the presence of these children. For while they have lost their baby-looks and interest in them has waned in the light of the war and its compelling concerns, yet people are still interested in this—Nature's great experiment!

WHAT NOW?

•What will we do now that Mr. Hepburn has resigned from the Premiership? He was always good for an article or two. He was a dynamic, colorful, unpredictable character. He always did the unexpected. He always managed to keep in the limelight. Let nobody say that the former Prime Minister was not clever. He was a brainy man. He knew as much about the Departments of Governments as the Ministers in charge. Often when a minister was under fire in the House, Mr. Hepburn would come to his rescue with information which seemed to pop out of his mind just when needed. He was as inconsistent as any man could be. He won the last election on a defeat of the C.I.O. policy, and then recently champions publicly, the cause of the Communists. He opposes Labor in the Campbell Soup strike, and breaks it by transporting women and girls from the farms to the factory. Then he turns around and champions Left Wing Labor. He repudiates the Quebec power agreements and then makes new ones, not much different from those he repudiated.

Mr. Hepburn had a dictator complex. He would have made an excellent one-man government. Indeed, a dictatorship of a sort was not far off, on occasion. Had Mr. Hepburn's alliance with Mr. Duplessis and Colonel Drew gone through, the Canadian scene would have been different from what it has turned out to be. There was enough discontent, due to unemployment and the depression, to have given Mr. Hepburn a pretty free hand. And it is certain he would have been heavily backed by financial interests. But the movement was defeated by the late Ernest LaPointe, in Quebec. The one consistent policy which Mr. Hepburn maintained throughout his premiership, was his implacable opposition to Mr. Mackenzie King. In season and out of season, the Ontario Leader never forgot his personal vendetta with the Prime Minister of Canada. His alliance with Colonel Drew on a "King Must Go" programme, might have succeeded had not the Prime Minister of Canada made a quick, astute political move in calling a general election.

Mr. Hepburn, in spite of all his cleverness and his ability, has not been a good influence in Ontario politics. He had a ready answer and a quick wit. He was always good for a laugh, but in their sensible and quiet moments, those who laughed were rather disturbed at some of the Prime Minister's words.

What the future of Mr. Hepburn will be nobody can foretell — the future of the Ontario Liberal Party, without his strong hand, is equally uncertain.

OTTAWA CURBS BUS TRAVEL

Ottawa, (C.P.) — The Munitions and Supply Department has advised all public vehicle operators in Canada that, in order further to expedite the are of gasoline, rubber and labor, no bus passenger may be carried said.

The directive requires the discontinuance of any services which unnecessarily duplicate other transportation services, but routes which supply essential local services will be maintained.

It is expected that travellers going long distances now will be unable to choose between railway and bus transportation, thus throwing a further load upon already crowded railways.

Last week, a census of week-end travel upon Canadian railways was taken. It is considered probable the census will provide the basis for careful study to determine whether any curtailment of rail travel is necessary.

Hon. C. D. Howe, Munitions Minister, recently asked the public to reduce unnecessary travel by rail, and suspend conventions for the duration of the war.

CAFES FACING RATIONS' BAN

Ottawa, (C.P.) — The Prices Board reported last week that a "great many" institutions and public caterers have not furnished returns upon the number of meals they served in September, and consequently may receive no November quota for sugar, tea and coffee supplies.

Since October 1st, public caterers and operators of institutions have been subject to sugar, tea and coffee quota rationing. Organizations in those categories, and also small industrial users, are required to turn in a monthly report upon which their next quota is based.

The board said report forms were sent out at the beginning of September for return at the beginning of October, when the information for September was complete. Forms, marked as being for September, were supplied to all users.

"We are obliged in every case," ration officials explained, necessary use of bus operation is in local service" and added, "a saving in excess of fifty miles cannot be, and is not, deemed to fall within this category."

Where buses are the only means of transportation, or where other means are "hopelessly inconvenient," exceptions will be made to the general order, each case being judged on its own merits, the department said.

Last Sunday Rev. Dr. F. Richards, Grace Church, London, a former pastor of the church, was the speaker in the morning. In the evening, Rev. C. E. The morning music was an anthem called "Brother James Air", based on the 23rd Psalm, and a ladies' trio, "Beautiful Saviour." POULTRY PRICE CEILING LIKELY

ZONING BASIS SIMILAR TO BEEF FORECAST

Ottawa. (C.P.) — Establishment of ceiling wholesale prices for poultry, on a zoning basis similar to that for beef, was forecast in informed quarters, recently.

Prices of poultry have been plentiful during recent months and would likely be governed by the ceiling applied on the basis of prices charged during the basic period of September 15th to October 11th, last year.

Said to bring wholesale prices generally into line through the country, it was understood the Wartime Prices and Trade Board considered the establishment of zones within which the wholesale prices of poultry products will be established.

RETAIL PRICES IN LINE

In poultry, as in beef, the retail price would be in line with the permitted wholesale price.

It was not known whether the proposed order would allow for additional zoning, but poultry prices throughout the year to give the producer his highest return following the Board's previous ceiling feeding. The beef price adjustment is designed to encourage the farmer who feeds beef cattle during the winter for the higher costs he has to carry on his operations with grass feeding during the summer.

Under the beef order, the prices of cuts and portions of beef are established for fifteen zones across the Dominion. The prospect was seen that zones set up under the poultry order would be less numerous.

Production of poultry meat has been encouraged by enlargement of quotas to meet British requirements for 45,000,000 dozen Canadian eggs this year.

L. & A. POTATO CLUB TEAM WINS CONTEST

As a result of their high standing in the 1942 Potato Club project, Joseph Killoran and Wray McLaughlin, of R.R. No. 2, Napanee, represented their Club in the Provincial Inter-Club competition in potatoes, held at the Kemptville Agricultural School on Friday, October 23rd. The team was successful in winning first place in competition with teams from other Counties in Eastern Ontario, which entitled them to compete against teams from Western Ontario in a similar competition at the Provincial Agricultural College, Guelph, on Friday, October 23rd.

The boys proved themselves unbeatable again at Guelph, and carried off first honors, which will represent Ontario in the National Club contests comprising teams from other Provinces in the Dominion, to be held in Toronto, November 2nd to 6th. The boys will be guests of honor on November 2nd and will be quartered in the Royal York Hotel. The provincial Potato Club project, on the 2nd, and 3rd, and the following day, they will be guests of educational tours in Toronto, Hamilton, and Niagara. In 1931 a Swine Club team, composed of George Purcell and Fred Creighton, won first place in the Inter-Club competitions, and, later, won the Provincial Swine competitions, which was then held in connection with the Royal Winter Fair, in Toronto. In 1938, Stuart Ems and Walter Thurlow, representing the 1938 Dairy Calf Club, won first place in the Inter-Club competitions and then took part in the National Club contests and stood 4th in competition with teams from other Provinces in the Dominion.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor,
The Napanee Beaver,
Toronto, Ont.
20th. October, 1942

Dear Sir:—May I ask you kindly to publish this letter?

At the last annual meeting of the Ontario Historical Society, stress was laid upon the danger that in the necessary salvage operations now being carried on things with historical value might be destroyed. The hope was expressed that if — in the course of house-clearing—letters, diaries, documents, and articles of old date are uncovered, they would be referred to some authority such as an historical society, the provincial archives, or a competent librarian before being turned over to salvage collectors. Steps have already been taken in a few places to prevent such losses, with good results. The undersigned will be glad to give advice if consulted.

COUNTY ORANGE BANQUET HELD AT YARKER

A gathering of about 200 Orangemen and friends from various parts of the County assembled at Yarker at 6:30 p.m. last Friday and were served a delightful dinner by the Women's Association of the United Church of Yarker.

Seated at the speaker's table by the time when Genesis was written, a scientific theory embodied their ideas of the creation of many things in beautiful stories. This method was not confined to the Hebrews alone. Indeed, all the people of ancient times who have left written records, followed the same path. But the Hebrew stories are different from others. There is a high ethical content in all of them. They are deep, eternal, underlying truths in them, which will last as long as the world lasts.

In this story of the creation of woman, is a recognition of the need for companionship: a recognition of the fact that men, need for their physical, physical and mental strength and stability, the intimate companionship of others. The story of the rib has often provoked a smile. THE CHRISTIAN VIEW OF MARRIAGE spirit with which some people approach the ceremony of marriage to a large extent accounts for the fact that unfortunately true that in early days of a nation's life, so much importance is not attached to their living from the soil, and the women live close to the soil, home life is stable, and the atmosphere that in days when there is ease, luxury, comfort and wealth abounds. We would not suggest a return to the primitive conditions, in order to correct the evil tendency towards divorce, but the hunger pangs of a pioneer society can be carried over into peace, if there is a deep realization of the sacredness of marriage as a religious covenant, a religious undertaking. Of course, when we are perplexed and disturbed about the number of divorces, it is well to remember that the people who have a fairly extended period of peace. By far the great bulk of men and women live happily with their families.

The question of marriage is equally applicable to the present day, as it was to the days of Jesus. Indeed, it is to-day, because of the present war. — What about war marriages? Are they justifiable? Are they on solid grounds, should avoid a hasty marriage. Indeed, it is the best assurance for a happy married life that those marrying should be of the same religion, same race, and same general educational environment.

Jim Says

IT CAN BE DONE

Jim finds times hard. His standard of living has dropped. There are all these new taxes.

Now there's another Victory Loan and Jim is expected to subscribe.

"Rock bottom!" was Jim's first thought. "We're on rock bottom. Just can't find the money!

He's thought some more since. And he's decided it can be done. Jim says he doubts if Merritt lost much time wondering if it could be done when he crossed the bridge at Dieppe.

THERE IS AN ACUTE POWER SHORTAGE!

Save ELECTRICITY!

■ Ontario Industries produce approximately one-half of Canada's total war output. And electricity is the driving force that powers thousands of machines that produce the weapons of war. Today . . . more and more electricity is required to meet the expanding demands of our war effort. Present sources of this vital power supply are taxed to the limit . . . there is not enough for every need. Our war industries come first. Electricity must be conserved.

From the day war started, Hydro Engineers were keenly aware that additional electrical power would be essential. In spite of the difficulties imposed by a scarcity of materials, equipment and labour . . . greatly increased quantities of electricity have been provided. But . . . even with these important new developments . . . an acute power shortage threatens our war effort today.

Our munition plants must have all the power they need. Everyone can help them get it by reducing their consumption of electricity to a minimum . . . by conserving Hydro power wherever possible. Watch all the switches . . . in your home, office or shop . . . turn them 'off' when not needed. Remember! While individual savings may seem small, collectively they become a tremendous flood of power to meet the needs of our war production. Save electricity at all times.

TRINITY W.M.S. Autumn Thankoffering

A worship service under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Bull and Mrs. A. Woods, with Miss B. Baughan at the piano, opened the October meeting of Trinity United Church, Napanee. The theme for the month "The Christian Home," was presented by members of the group. The study book, "The Church in the City Streets," was competently taken by Miss L. Gandier. She told of the deplorable conditions which existed in many of the poorer homes here and in the large cities.

Mrs. R. J. Cowell brought forward the offering which was dedicated in prayer by Mrs. G. N. Chidley.

For the reception of reports and business, Mrs. P. Asselstine occupied the chair. The minutes of the September meeting were read and approved. Encouraging reports were given by the treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Vandusen Mrs. George Switzer directed attention to the fact that next month we will celebrate the 60th anniversary of the W.M.S. in Trinity United Church.

Mrs. William Howitt, Sr., gave a short talk on Temperance. Mrs. P. Asselstine asked Mrs. G. M. Chidley, Mrs. W. W. Riley and Mrs. T. B. Moore, to be responsible for a prayer service during November. ILSLEY ANSWERS WAR LOAN QUIZ Question: Why not get all the necessary savings by compulsory methods ?

Answer : It is impossible to set up a full-scale system of Compulsory Savings to be administered, let us say, like Income Tax, which would take into account all variations in personal circumstances.

To meet all our borrowing needs out of Compulsory Savings, we would have to call every family before some sort of tribunal, examine their circumstances, and then tell them how much they would have to save before their next examination. In addition, we'd probably have to freeze people's assets, and establish moratoria on many types of debts. This "means" test would be a cumbersome and expensive way of attacking the problem even if the public would stand for it.

It is far better to follow our present system. Under it, Canadians are asked to make an all-out savings effort based on their knowledge of their own special circumstances. The amount of our present Compulsory Savings is simply the minimum level of savings we can require from everybody. Our main savings effort must be a matter of individual responsibility.

Question: How much does a Victory Loan Campaign cost ?

Answer: In the First Victory Loan, in June, 1941, total costs of all kinds amounted to a little more than one cent for each dollar raised. The costs of the Second Victory Loan, last February, were just under one cent for each dollar obtained. These costs include expenditures for preparation and delivery of the bonds, office stationery and supplies, publicity, organization expenses including payments to investment dealers and brokers who give up their regular business and give full or part time service to the Loan organization, remuneration for the services of banks and trust companies, and commissions to salesmen.

Question: Why do you try to secure large numbers of small loan subscriptions when it is less costly to borrow all the money from the banks ?

Answer: Borrowing from the banks is the modern, streamlined way of issuing additional money, and amounts to much the same thing in the end. We cannot do this instead of borrowing from the public if we are to avoid inflation or the slowing down of our war effort.

When the banks lend large sums to the Government, they create additional deposits in the process. In the first instance, the new deposits are turned over to the Government by the banks when they make the loan. But the Government spends these deposits by drawing cheques against them—and they arrive in the hands of the public exactly the same way as if the Government had printed more dollar bills to pay its expenses.

These bank deposits are the commonest and most important form of money these days, and the increase in them produces inflationary effects, and must be subject to limits.

It is far better and cheaper, all things considered, to borrow, even in relatively small individual amounts, from the millions of subscribers to Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. Any extra cost in selling expense or higher interest rates is far more than outweighed by the value of such borrowing in keeping down the danger of inflation.

Question: How are people with medium and small incomes going to be able to buy Victory Loan bonds after paying the new heavy Income Taxes and Compulsory Savings ?

Answer: The taxes and Compulsory Savings are not as heavy as many people think. I have met a great many people who forget the fact that the tax income is lightened by the credit for National Defence tax paid in this year up to the end of August, and by the reductions they can make in the amount of Compulsory Savings payable to the Government if they are making savings in the form of life insurance premiums, pension fund payments and payments of mortgage principal. Each of us should look carefully at his tax situation and not jump to conclusions on the subject.

When all this is taken into account, the taxes are not light, but we've got to win this war. To do this, each of us must willingly bear his share of the load. This is not a war that can be won with small change — it requires a real effort and sacrifice from those on the home front — as it does from those in the front lines.

I am not suggesting people should cut their spending below present wartime living standards but I am saying we must cut-up-spending to that level. This means we must have savings from practically everything including people with medium and small incomes. The savings of people with modest incomes may not seem large to them, even if they do their utmost — but in total, they will amount to a huge sum.

Question: Is there any likelihood of regulations being issued preventing people from cashing their War Savings Certificates or selling their Bonds ?

Answer: No. Rumors to this effect have been in circulation in some parts of Canada recently. They are sheer nonsense. People will be able to sell their Victory Loan Bonds in the future just as they always have been able to in the past. War Savings Certificates will be redeemable in the future just as they always have been.

MR., MRS. POLLARD HEAR ABOUT SON NOW IN ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pollard received a letter from Mrs. Crisp, Old Lodge Lane, Purley, Surrey, England, telling them of a recent visit made by their son, Pte. James Pollard, at the home of Mrs. Crisp.

The letter said, in part : "We have seen Jimmie pretty often lately, in fact three week ends in succession. He is lucky with his leaves. But it will not always be so easy for the dear boy. We all try to give him a good time. But it would be so different if it was peace time. He could then see England as it really is, and how hospitable we could be. Jimmy is a good boy and you have nothing to worry about. He enjoys himself and is quite happy. We talk about you all and I feel I know you all very well."

The letter contained considerable of a private nature, but Mrs. Crisp closed by saying : "The war is dragging on, but we shall win, and not too far away, I think."

In speaking about the hospitality extended his son, Mr. Pollard expressed his great pleasure that an English family was showing an interest in Jimmie, and said he thought Canadians should do their part to make the English lads in Canada feel more at home.

OTTAWA PLANS CURB ON BEER

Ottawa. — Operations of the brewing industry will be restricted under an order announced last week by the Prices Board, and the announcement added that it would probably result in some shortage of domestic supply."

The order, issued by David Sim, administrator of alcoholic beverages, stipulates that on and after November 1st, no brewer will be allowed to use more malt for producing beer in any quarter than the amount used in the corresponding quarter of the preceding year.

The first three-months period covered by the order ends January 31st, next.

Further restriction was foreshadowed in the announcement. It said "the action is understood to be a preliminary step in a program of restriction which will be developed after more detailed examination of the position of the industry".

It recalled that consumption of beer in Canada increased approximately 15 to 20 per cent in the past year and added "it is obvious that the limitation imposed by the order will represent a substantial curtailment of output and in all likelihood result in some shortages of domestic supply."

A Dominion Bureau of Statistics report, issued last month said Canadian breweries produced 20,247,237 gallons of beer, ale, stout and porter during 1941, an increase of 17,859,974 gallons against 1940.

Selling value of the products at the factory rose from $74,115,731 in 1940 to $86,420,982 last year.

Officials explained that Canadians did not consume all the brewers' output. A considerable amount was exported. Export figures no longer are made public but exports are many times what they were in 1939, the last year for which figures were published. In that year they totalled 175,780 gallons.

Last week announcement said Prices Board officials expected a substantial saving in man-power would be effected by the restriction.

Somebody has invented a game of bridge played without partners. This will take a lot of the kick out of the pastime.

IT'S HALLOWEEN!

HELLO HOMEMAKERS! Pass the doughnuts please! Such specialties as doughnuts apples, pumpkin tarts, cider and popcorn are all that's necessary to remind your friends of fun on Hallowe'en.

Real-o-doughnuts folks — that's just about all of us—will enjoy preparing their own party, the informality and the jollity of the Hallowe'en atmosphere And if some of the men or girls in uniform get late leave, they may come right into the kitchen, too, and make themselves at home. That's when the hilarity starts — washing the apples, getting out the popper, bringing up the brown jug of cider — everyone helping.

If the weatherman donates a nice crisp autumn day that will be the perfect place to make popcorn, toast cheese rods and heat the cider on a crisp Fall evening.

RECIPES

Oyster and Tomato Stew

Two cups stewed tomatoes, one tablespoon chopped onion, one bay leaf, salt and pepper, three cups milk, two tablespoon butter, one and one-half dozen oysters, one-eighth teaspoon soda.

Combine the tomatoes, onion, bay leaf, half teaspoon salt and a few grains of pepper in a saucepan. Cover and cook for ten to fifteen minutes. Remove the bay leaf. Scald the milk in a double boiler and add the butter. Cook the oysters in their own liquid in lower part of double boiler over electric element turned Low until the edges curl. Then combine with hot milk. Just before serving stir in the tomatoes which have been mixed with the soda. Stir servings.

Sour Milk Doughnuts

Half-cup corn syrup, half-cup sugar, two tablespoons sour cream or shortening, three eggs, one cup sour milk, half - teaspoon soda, half-teaspoon baking powder, half teaspoon salt, half-teaspoon lemon extract, half-teaspoon nutmeg, four and one-half cups of flour (more or less).

Cream the sugar with the cream and add the beaten eggs and sour milk. Sift the other dry ingredients with the sugar and flour and add to the first mixture. Add additional flour to make a dough just stiff enough to handle. Toss on a floured board, roll out and cut. Fry in deep fat (360-370 deg. F.) Drain on unglazed paper.

Golden Glow Ice Cream

One cup dark corn syrup, one cup milk, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup heavy cream.

Combine corn syrup, milk, salt and vanilla. Beat cream until thick but not stiff; gradually fold in syrup mixture. Pour into tray of electric refrigerator and set control for fastest freezing; freeze until firm throughout (one to two hours). Remove mixture to chilled bowl, break in pieces with wooden spoon; beat with rotary or electric beater until smooth but not melted. Return quickly to refrigerator tray and continue freezing until firm. Makes five to six servings.

TAKE A TIP:

Making Doughnuts:

1 If the fat is the right temperature for doughnuts, an inch cube of bread will brown in 60 to 65 seconds. If you have no doughnut absorb fat; if too hot, they will brown before sufficiently risen.

2 The dough should be soft enough to handle — not too stiff.

3 Do not put too many into the hot fat at once. They should come to the top quickly.

4 Avoid turning more than once, except Sour Milk Doughnuts.

5 Drain doughnuts on unglazed paper.

QUESTION BOX

Miss M.P. asks: "Recipe for a good sauce for boiled spaghetti."

Mexican Tomato Sauce

One onion finely chopped, two tablespoons baking fat, one red pepper, one green pepper, half a clove garlic (optional), two tomatoes, peeled and sliced, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one tablespoon celery diced fine, salt and pepper,

Cook onion in fat five minutes. Add other ingredients and cook on electric element turned Low, twelve minutes.

BANK OF MONTREAL 125TH ANNIVERSARY NOVEMBER 3RD, 1942

HAS SERVED NAPANEE FOR 14 YEARS

One hundred and twenty-five years ago next Tuesday—on November 3rd, 1817 — Canadians were provided with their own real money for the first time. Up to that date practically all domestic business had been done by barter, although some money was no unknown in the Canadian colonies, "the currencies that were in circulation formed such a weird variety — Spanish and Portuguese as well as British, American and French — and the varying rates of exchange were so baffling, that the colonial trader of those early days experienced constant difficulty and the product of his business affairs.

It was to ameliorate these conditions that the Bank of Montreal was founded. Opened for business on November 3rd, 1817, the bank made available to the traders of the colonies a truly Canadian currency with which they could transact their affairs with some degree of stability. This money was issued in the form of bills in small denominations and, later, copper coins which were known as tokens.

Thus was Canada's banking system born and the country's business life placed on a sound and orderly basis. Since that day, a century and a quarter ago, the Bank of Montreal has carried on without interruption; in times of peace and prosperity and war, through booms and depressions, through panics and political upheavals, never has a business day passed without the doors of the bank being open.

Beginning with a staff of seven in modest rented premises, the institution has grown, working day by day with citizens in, every walk of life and with business concerns large and small, until today — with a staff six thousand strong—it serves the Canadian people through hundreds of branches from coast to coast.

PRIMITIVE CONDITIONS

At the time of the bank's founding, Canada consisted of a few scattered and struggling colonies. The population numbered less than 400,000, the very large proportion of which was settled in Upper and Lower Canada, as Ontario and Quebec were then known, and in the maritime colonies now known as New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Beyond Upper Canada to the west there was no settlement. Practically unknown then, the great western prairies were peopled almost exclusively by Indians who hunted great herds of buffalo.

The branch banking system began with the founding of the Bank of Montreal, for within two weeks after its establishment in Montreal, it appointed its agents in Quebec, and eight months after, its operators were extended as far as Kingston and York as Toronto was then known. This action was in line with the policy laid down at the institution's inception. The bank's directors realized that only by the establishment of branches at strategic points could the trade of the country—which was then almost entirely in furs and lumber—be put on an orderly basis.

And thus, the bank expanded step by step, developing its services and organization to meet the needs of a young and growing country. During the 1840's the spread of its branches became extensive and of a truly national character, reaching as far apart as Bytown, as Ottawa was then known, and Queensbury, St. Thomas, Belleville, St. Catharines, Cobourg, Brockville, London and Hamilton. Later the bank's organization moved eastward and branches sprang up at Fredericton and Halifax.

So it was everywhere throughout the country as conditions warranted and local legislation permitted, the institution's services grew until the completion of the railway across Canada in 1886, its organization was nationwide.

Today, with hundreds of branches from coast to coast, the bank is represented in communities great and small throughout Canada and Newfoundland, and in the financial centres in London, New York, Chicago and San Francisco. Its resources, which at more than a billion dollars, while still its capital and reserves amount to $75,000,000 — a short-term contrast to the corresponding figure of 125 years ago, when the bank began business with a capital of $350,000.

BANK SERVES LOCAL COMMUNITY FOR 74 YEARS

Just as the bank has served the people of Canada during the past years its foundation in 1817, so for nearly three-quarters of a century has Napanee office has been endeavoured to work for the advancement of this community. By reason of the services it has rendered to the people and business interests of Napanee, the bank has aided materially in the growth of the town and the development of its trade and industry.

The office was established in 1868 at a time when Napanee was still in a somewhat pioneer stage of its development. Subsequently the town has made great progress, and many civic improvements such as sidewalks, electric lighting, paved roads, etc., have been added, new indistries have been established, and the population of Napanee has increased. To keep pace with the growing demands from its services, a century has Napanee office has endeavoured to work for the advancement of this community. By reason of the services it has rendered to the people and business interests of Napanee, the bank has aided materially in the growth of the town and the development of its trade and industry.

An important message to every motorist who has wondered:

How Good Will Tires Be When They're Made With Synthetic Rubber?

IMPORTANT: Canada right now needs scrap rubber of all kind, . . . your old tires, old rubbers, old boots. Turn them over to the scrap collection agencies.

● More than two years ago, hundreds of patriotic corporations and car owners were already making road tests with a new kind of tire. It bore the famous Silvertown name. But more than half its rubber was synthetic . . . B. F. Goodrich Ameripol.

Since that time synthetic rubber has leaped to new importance. A large part of our war effort depends upon this continent's ability to produce good tires from synthetic rubber. The tires we will drive upon after the war may well be synthetic.

Hence the question, "How good will these new tires be?" is a vital one. There are several ways to answer it. Perhaps the best way is to let you read what actually happened when tires made with Ameripol were put to the test of day-after-day driving. Perhaps the best people to tell you are those who owned the cars and did the driving.

The etters quoted here are only a few of many received. We hope that others who patriotically co-operated will understand that space limited the number of statements we could print.

NOTE: This advertisement is not intended to give the impression that tires made with synthetic rubber are on public sale. This is not true. And it is not known when it will be true. This is because military needs must come first.

Astra Life Insurance Co.—"We put these tires on our Dodge car and ran them for approximately 24,000 miles, at which time they were replaced. At no time as we could determine, the tires gave service just about equal to genuine rubber tires."
Rawdon W. Myers, V.P.

Beech-Nut Packing Company—"Altogether we would say that they showed up well, and we would be just as satisfied to buy them as tires of natural rubber."
C. N. Robinson, Director of Purchases

Car Owner—"On November 10, 1940, I purchased four Ameripol tires. My driving has been very heavy, including over all kinds of roads, and after 25,000 miles I was well pleased. They were driven at least 10,000 miles further under the pressing emergency."
S. O. Anderson

General Baking Company—"The following mileage was obtained on the four tires: 24,333 miles, 24,330 miles, 28,310 miles, 27,025 miles.
"These tires are worn smooth, but no fabric is showing and successors appear to be in good condition. The earned mileage as above is normal and compares favorably with regular line tires."
Farrar Tilner, Director Purchasing Dept.

General Outdoor Advertising Co.—"To date, our tires have been driven 16,000 miles, and from my investigation I may expect an additional 16,000 miles' service."
B. W. Robbins, Pres.

Pepsi-Cola Bottler—"I traded the car in, and a doctor friend of mine has since re-traded the car, and we have heard a click of it. I believe that the doctor had between 4,000 and 5,000, and the tire still looked like new. I would say that the Ameripol tire will give better service than those made of ordinary rubber."
Charles S. Bunch

Petroleum Machine Company—"We bought Ameripol tires and drove 10,000 miles. We bought another set and drove 10,000 miles. Another set was bought and driven 10,000 miles. We considered the second set only slightly inferior to the first. There were no differences noted between the tires of the different brands and tires equal to rubber."

L. & A. BRANCH O. R. E. C. HELD AN. CONVENTION

The Lennox and Addington Religious Education Council held its annual convention recently at Napanee Public United Church, with a good attendance both morning and afternoon. Seventeen Sunday Schools were represented from the various parts of the county. We were fortunate in having fine leadership in the persons of Rev. E. R. McLean, General Secretary of the Ontario Religious Education Council, and Mrs. Robert Orr, at present of Belleville, formerly Baptist Girls' Work Secretary for Ontario. Inspiring worship services were conducted by Enterprise and Newburgh Sunday School executives.

We were made aware that we were one of forty-one similar county conventions being held in all parts of Ontario this Fall. On the very same day another was being held in Nor-anda. And all the conventions were seeking to promote the interdenominational continent-wide United Christian Education Advance. Our general theme was "The Church Reaching and Teaching Every Person." Rev. E. R. McLean spoke upon the theme in the morning saying in part:—"Change is inevitable but progress is not. The new world order that everybody is talking about won't just happen. If it is to come we must plan, pray, and work to bring it about. We are at present faced with an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency even in very small children. Sunday School attendance has been steadily decreasing for the past ten years amounting to fifteen per cent. while decrease in public school attendance has been only five per cent. Thus the need for a United Christian Education Advance. And this advance will not take place on the larger scale till it reaches down to the local Sunday School. We must reach all the boys and girls, then we must hold them by truly Christian teaching. But how can we judge whether it is good teaching? First, do the boys and girls know anything worth while as a result of my teaching? Second, are they learning the right attitudes of life? Third, are they behaving better?"

Rev. E. R. McLean also led in a Round Table Conference, bringing out many points that were very helpful to those present. And he spoke again in the afternoon on the theme "To Show Thyself Approved" stressing the value and need of training for Christian leadership. This is necessary he said because Jesus believed in it and practised it, because the material with which we work is so precious. The boys and girls are made in the image of God. Moreover, much is at stake not only for the present but the future not for the Church alone, but the State.

Mrs. Orr led in a discussion on means of increasing attendance, especially by means of a community survey. In many ways her help was given throughout the day.

The following resolutions were passed by the Convention:

1 Re Temperance. Having heard the address of the Prime Minister, that the Government is about to announce a policy for the curtailment of the consumption of alcoholic beverages, we eagerly await the official announcement and in regard and hope that the new policy will be adequate to meet the serious situation to-day.

2 Re Family Week. We commend the congregations in this county for the observance of Family Week, May 3-9, 1943, in which there might be a family service at Church, a discussion for young people on marriage and homemaking, a family night in the Church Hall, a family night at home.

3 Re Religious Instruction. We recommend that each Township executive outline a course of study to discuss religious instruction in the public schools, and that special invitations to such meeting go out to school teachers, school trustees and ministers.

Much credit for the convention goes to the capable leadership of Mrs. Craig of Marven, who acted as chairman, due to the recent bereavement of the President, Mr. Elgin Vannest, in the loss of his father.

The following is the list of the officers of the Lennox and Addington Religious Education Council for the coming year:

President — Mr. Elgin Vannest, Enterprise.
1st Vice-Pres. — Mr. Russell Craig, Napanee, R.R. No. 4.
2nd Vice-Pres. — Mrs. Fred Ball, Moscow, R.R. No. 3.
Sec.-Treasurer — Mr. Maurice McLeod, Selby, R.R. No. 1.

Anniversary Service At Gretna Church

The 60th anniversary of the opening of Gretna Church was observed in special service Sunday evening, October 25th, when a large crowd of members and friends from outlying districts were in attendance. The chief feature of the service was the unveiling of an Honour Roll in recognition of the men who have joined the Armed Forces, and one young woman in the C.W.A.C., who is serving as a nurse overseas. The Honour Roll was unveiled by Mrs. Nelson Young, who paid a fine tribute to those who had left the community in defence of freedom and peace. The following names appear on the Roll: Albert Allenbrack, Douglas Amey, John Crook, Edward Lane, John McCubbin, Gordon A. Moore, James F. Moore, Laverne O'Connor, Howard O'Connor, Charles Sills, Roy Sills, Ralph Sills, Dudley Young and Nurse Lenora Lloyd.

The Rev. A. C. McCallum, pastor of the church, conducted the service and preached an appropriate sermon on "The Significance of Public Worship, and its place in the life of the community." L.A.C. John McCallum of the RCA.F., until recently organist of St. Cuthbert's Church, New Westminster, B.C., presided at the organ. Mrs. H. L. Mellon sang a solo entitled "My Living Prayer" which was greatly appreciated. The service was preceded by a song service in which all took part, under the leadership of the choir. The church was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and plants. Two small Union Jack flags draped the Honour Roll in front of the pulpit.

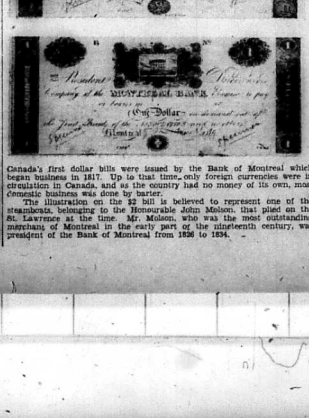
FIRST REAL CANADIAN MONEY



Canada's first dollar bills were issued by the Bank of Montreal which began business in 1817. Up to that time, only foreign currencies were in circulation in Canada, and as the country had no money of its own, most domestic business was done by barter.

The illustration on the $2 bill is believed to represent one of the steamboats, belonging to the Honourable John Molson, that plied on the St. Lawrence at the time. Mr. Molson, who was the most outstanding merchant of Montreal in the early part or the nineteenth century, was president of the Bank of Montreal from 1836 to 1854.

"Now WE hold a Mortgage on Canada Ma!"

"Sure we're working harder than ever—but that never hurt, anybody. We're working longer hours and putting our money away in Victory Bonds. Now we'll be paid interest instead of paying it.

"When peace comes we'll have money saved to buy new equipment for our farm—might even put up a new barn —maybe take a holiday!

"Meanwhile, we can't think of any safer or better place to invest our money than in bonds backed by our country. And we can't think of any better purpose than helping our fighting boys get the jump on the enemy. When we read about our lads bombing Germany, we can think that maybe we raised one of those bombs on our own farm.

'So that's our plan from now until peace comes. We will work to save and lend. We'll have it to spend later. And we can look forward to getting that new tractor and that fine new automobile we're saving for now."

"We'll be laying up for ourselves the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS—backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada: they yield a fair rate of interest; we can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when we need cash!

MR. & MRS. R. MERRITT KILLED ON SATURDAY AT C.N.R. LEVEL CROSSING

Driving Towards Napanee During Heavy Downpour

Mr. Robert Merritt, Sillsville, was killed instantly, and his wife died in an hour later, last Saturday morning, about 7:00 o'clock, after the car had been struck by the east section of the C.N.R. fast train (5, going west, at Mooney's Corners, about two miles south of Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt were driving toward Napanee from their home and apparently failed to see the train approaching the crossing and were attempting to cross the track just as the fast express reached that point. Mr. Merritt was evidently killed instantly and Mrs. Merritt, who was immediately taken to Kingston General Hospital, died about an hour after the accident.

Failure to see the train was thought to have been caused by the heavy rain, part of rain and the misty morning. The road on which they were driving is about parallel to the railroad track for quite a distance. The road makes a sharp right hand turn at the crossing. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt, who had lived in the Sillsville district for about 25 years, must have crossed the track hundreds of times.

Provincial Officer F. W. Barrett and Coroner Dr. D. R. Hall, were called to the accident. No inquest will be held; it has been decided the engineer of the train which struck the Merritt car was George Gregory, Belleville, and the conductor, Douglas Simon, Brockville.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt were among the best known residents of the Sillsville district, where they have lived since they came from England, 26 years ago. Mr. Merritt was one of the most progressive farmers in the County of Lennox and Addington, and his herd of purebred Holsteins was well known throughout the whole district. He was a past-president of the County Holstein Breeders' Association and at the time of his death was a member of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, and a director of the County Livestock Improvement Association, representing South Fredericksburg. He was one of the first farmers in the county to have an accredited herd of Holsteins. Mr. Merritt frequently exhibited his cattle at fairs in the district and was quite interested in all organizations for the improvement of farm conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt were active members of Sillsville United Church, and Mrs. Merritt was a member of the Red Cross and in the Women's Association of the church and the county association.

They leave three children: Percy (Mrs. Sillsville; Mrs. C. Davis, Adolphustown; and Leslie Merritt, of the Royal Bank and at present a member of the R.C.A.F. stationed at Winnipeg.

Their funeral was conducted at the family home, Sillsville, Tuesday afternoon, and interment followed in Riverside Cemetery, Napanee.

Alleged Cattle Thieves Operating in Tyendinaga Township

Cattle thieves are believed active in Tyendinaga Township again on Monday night of last week, according to complaints lodged by Mr. J. V. Walsh, Marysville farmer. Provincial Police were informed by him that two Polled Angus steers, valued at $190 each, were missing from Mr. Walsh's herd sometime Monday night. The disappearance of the two steers marks the second case of suspected cattle rustling in that area within a fortnight. With a shortage of beef reported prevailing, the stealing of beef cattle is considered a very serious offence. No clashes were heard in the vicinity of the Walsh farm at the time.

TRIBUTE PAID TO CHRISTIAN CHINESE BY MISSIONARY

Dr. Duncan McCrae, a missionary in Kong Moon, Southern China since 1914, spoke at a missionary rally for the Napanee district at Trinity United Church, last Thursday afternoon. He gave an informative address on conditions in China, speaking as a result of personal experiences both before and after the war with Japan began. Mr. McCrae lived for two years in Japanese dominated China before returning to Canada on furlough, last year.

Dr. McCrae gave Christian Missions in China credit for China being on the side of the Allied Nations in the present war. China, he said, is to-day, for the first time in her 3,000 year's history, resisting a foreign aggressor and fortunately for the Allied Nations, she is led by a devout Christian, Chiang Kai Shek. Many, he said, are the Christian generals who have come under the influence of Christian teaching and are professed Christians. In the Chinese "Who's Who," 17 per cent. of the names listed are Chinese Christians, and 51 per cent. of the others mentioned went through Christian schools. Eighty per cent. of the present leaders of the Chinese Government are Christians.

The Chinese will to resist, remains stronger than ever, Dr. McCrae said even in face of untold suffering and the death of countless thousands, of the people. Between 30 and 40 million Chinese have fled into the interior and about five million Chinese soldiers have died. Between 80 and 90 per cent. of Chinese industry has been destroyed, but new factories have been built in West China, to supply the Army's needs.

AIRGRAPH LETTER FROM MIDDLE EAST

The following is a copy of an airgraph letter received by Miss Annie Clark, of Enterprise, from her cousin, Grant Gilmore, 417 Squadron, R.C.A.F., Middle East Forces, whose grandparents were former residents of Enterprise.

October 2nd, 1942.

Dear Cousin Annie:

Received your most welcome letter yesterday and also a birthday card mailed long ago. It took quite a while to catch up to me because I rarely have been seeing a lot of the world. The nicest place I have been was South Africa and I sure would like to stay there for the rest of my life. I was going to Palestine for my leave but it has been so busy we may get a pass to go to Cairo.

We have just finished roasting some marshmallows I got from home and it started to rain—first we have had in months. I wear woollen socks all the time here and it gets quite cold some times.

I went to Ken Colwell's station in England to see him, but he was away on leave and he came to see me but I was away, so we have not met yet. Hope everyone is well in Enterprise and that you won't be stuck for help on the farm.

With best wishes, I remain,
Your cousin, Grant.

UNWANTED — $100

One hundred dollar as a nice chunk of cash, but there are times when $100 is no use to any one. That means in economics was learned the hard way by a group of American seamen, swimming in the ocean after their cruiser had been stricken by the Japanese off the Solomon Islands.

As the sailors struggled to keep afloat, one man in the group was fast nearing the end. He had been badly wounded and was gasping out his last few breaths. Telling the others he could not last more than fifteen or twenty minutes, he said he had $100 in his pocket and any of them could have the money. No one took it.

That $100 was of no value to those sailors, struggling so hard for life in the black night in the ocean. Money was no object to them. All they wanted was life and rescue from the death which faced them more menacingly with each passing minute.

There is a note there to link up with the Victory Loan. That money was no use to the sailor who was dying from his wounds. The money of the people of Canada will be of no use if the enemy should win this war. The Victory Loan is an opportunity not only to help win the war, but also to make sure that everything in Canada is not lost.

V

—NOTICE—

The Victory Loan Campaign has three more days to run, Saturday, November 7, is the last official day, and while we have every reason to have still to reach our objective of $650,000. We must not and will not fail. To those who have not subscribed we say DO IT NOW and to those who have bought but can increase their order, do so at once. CANADA MUST provide the funds, with which to purchase the munitions of war for its Armed Forces, and it is the people, have the responsibility in our hands.

Hon. Chairman.

MAYOR ANNOUNCES NAMES OF MEMBERS WARTIME PRICES BOARD

Local Board to Deal With Rationing Matters

At the regular meeting of the Napanee Town Council on Monday evening, the Clerk, W. A. Grange, reported that Mayor Hall acted on instructions of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, had appointed a committee to act as a local board of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for the districts of Lennox and Addington, as far north as Sheffield Township. The members of the committee appointed by the Mayor, are as follows: Chairman, Mayor D. R. Hall; Secretary, W. A. Grange; committee, Andrew Miller, Bath; Allan Wood, Selby; Mrs. R. R. Hall, Shannee, and Mrs. Helen Empey, R.R. 4, Napanee.

At present the local board will deal with matters pertaining to the issuing of tea, coffee and sugar rationing books for transients and visitors who are in the community for a week or more. It will also issue gasoline rationing books to replace lost books after the applicant has taken an affidavit concerning the loss of their book and pays $1.00 for a new book. Registration cards of persons who have died or who have moved from the country, are also to be turned in to the local board.

A grant covering necessary expenses will be paid to the dealers and remuneration will be received by the members of the board.

The Clerk reported also, that letters had been sent to wholesale poultry dealers requesting dates for the annual Poultry Fairs in Napanee and replies had been received from seven of the companies. Only two were able to say definitely they would attend the fairs on the dates suggested. One of the largest buyers suggested other dates when it would be possible to send representatives and the matter of setting the dates and making all necessary arrangements for the fairs was left in the hands of Councillor F. J. Vanalstine, chairman of the Industrial Committee.

The treasurer reported that previous to the land tax sale which was held in October, three of the properties advertised for sale for arrears of taxes were redeemed and the town purchased the Jamieson lots at the adjourned tax sale.

A petition was received from the Napanee Beauty Parlor operators, asking that a by-law be passed to regulate the hours of Beauty Parlors in Napanne. Mr. G. F. Smith appeared on behalf of the Beauty Parlor operators and, after discussion, the matter of passing the by-law was left until further information is secured from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, regarding the powers of the Board in this respect to be granted by-law.

Mayor Hall, chairman of the Finance Committee brought in a report concerning the request for an option on land from the Moss-Miller Biscuit Company. The report stated that the opinion of the Town Solicitor, W. S. Herrington, had been secured and in his advice the committee recommended that the Ross-Miller Biscuit Company be given an option until November 21st, 1942 on the land and that the Company be offered the privilege of purchasing the land, (200 feet frontage on Dairy Avenue) at a price of $800.00. A longer option could not be granted because the present Council has no power to grant an option for a period longer than its present term of office.

A letter was received from Mr. J. Macgregor urging the Council to take some steps to repossess instruments and uniforms which belong to the town and were used by the Napanee Band, some years ago. After discussion, the matter was referred to the Town Property Committee, with power to act.

A request from Bert Beaubien, representing the Canadian Legion for permission to hold a Tag Day for the Legion, on Poppy Day, Saturday, November 14th, was granted.

The Social Welfare Committee reported five single persons and six heads of families on relief in Napanee, at the end of October, with twelve dependents. The total expenditure by the town for relief, in October, was $178.41.

A request from Mickey Dowling, to have his taxi license transferred for the balance of the year to Herbert Benn, was granted.

CONTINUED PROGRESS REPORTED BY BRITISH IN NEW EGYPT OFFENSIVE

Nazis Change Tactics in Russian Campaign

WEDNESDAY—

In their first all-out assault on United States positions in Guadalcanal, the Japanese fought their way through the United States lines, but were subsequently thrown back. U. S. five bombers sank two enemy destroyers and scored direct hits on a battleship, a cruiser and a third destroyer.

The Nazis were driven out of South Stalingrad, and after starting a new offensive in the factory area were stalled again by Russian resistance. Northwest of the city the Nazis were also thrown back after making numerous attacks.

The battle in Egypt was reported growing in fury, even though the main armies of the British and Axis had not yet met.

In a series of wide sweeps British mosquito bombers attacked shipbuilding yards at Flensburg and objectives in Belgium and Holland.

THURSDAY—

The Russians reported their second withdrawal in the battle-torn city of Stalingrad in twenty-four hours, but announced that their army had made gains northwest of Stalingrad and on the Black Sea front of the West Caucasus. The advance of the Germans in Stalingrad amounted to only about 200 yards.

Although the main armed forces have not yet met in the Egyptian battle area, the British continue to widen the road the tanks will follow when they go in to smash Rommel's power dive.

At least a temporary halt has been called in the Japanese attacks on the United States forces in Guadalcanal. The Japs losses in the first attack were said to be very heavy.

FRIDAY—

Using an entire infantry division and tanks against the Nazis were able to make a gain of about 100 yards on Thursday, in the Stalingrad factory district at the cost of 1,500 men, 11 tanks and 23 planes. Further south the Nazis were repulsed in a renewed attack in the Caucasus Mountains. The Germans were reported to be planning a winter drive against Batum and Baku, oil field centres.

Three Japanese attacks on the air field at Guadalcanal were thrown back by the United States forces.

In Egypt British forces were reported slowly getting into favorable positions to strike at Rommel's main force. In five days the United Nations' air forces sank two merchant ships and three tankers trying to bring supplies into the Axis-held port of Tobruk.

SATURDAY—

Apparently anticipating hope of capturing Stalingrad, the Nazis opened-up a formidable offensive in the Caucasus. Some ground was reported gained in the new thrust. Moscow also admitted a slow Nazi advance along the Black Sea coast.

Little change was observed in the situation in Egypt. The enemy showed a bi more activity, but nothing that would challenge Allied superiority.

From the Solomons it was reported that the Jap fleet had been withdrawn, leaving the land forces stranded on the Islands. But the United States does not expect a permanent abandonment, believing the ships will return with reinforcements.

Anthony Eden, in an address at Glasgow, stated that the defense phase of the war is drawing to a close and Great Britain is beginning to take the offensive.

The Russians made advances at Stalingrad, but the new German offensive in the east Caucasus gained more momentum.

The British Eighth Army in Egypt continued its advance against Rommel's forces and pushed Rommel out of a position in the narrow corridor between the sea and the Quattara Depression.

Britain was subjected to its heaviest daytime air raid since 1940, when on Saturday fifty German bombers smashed at Canterbury. Nine of the raiders were shot down.

HERE'S HOPING

Here's hoping that the forthcoming Conservative Party will rise to the occasion. The non-official group which met at Port Hope and drew up a suggested party platform, made a good job of it. They were alive to the changing conditions of the day. They knew that the Old World we have lived in, has gone. It has been in many ways a good world. The system of economics which dominated its life bestowed great blessings on the world. But in the past few years, the system has not functioned. There were many reasons for that, which it is not necessary to enumerate. Sufficient it is to remind ourselves of the terrible days of unemployment, and depression; remind ourselves of the soup kitchen in the Napanee Armouries, of the young men deprived of work who slept in the lock-up at the Town Hall and begged food from door to door, to keep from starving. That world has gone. Nobody would wish to see it back again. To even suggest that a return to what was once called normalcy, after this war, is to indicate that the one who makes the suggestion is hopelessly out of touch with the thinking of the people, and of the world shattering movements that are at work in the world.

A New World is in the making. Courageous action, vision and determination by the best brains and the greatest spirits in the world, will be necessary to steer the Ship of State through the stormy seas ahead to a haven of peace and prosperity. No longer can unrestricted competition go on its way, regardless. There must be a more equitable distribution of wealth, and the four freedoms must be made real and operative.

The political parties of the future must recognize that. The meeting at Port Hope recognized it. The men and women who met there, planned for the future. They made valuable suggestions on which the Official Conservative Party can build its platform. But already, there are voices of protest. Already there are those who counsel a policy of caution which in truth, is reaction. One might just as well try to brush back the incoming tide as to stem the upsurge of new ideas unleashed by the war. And the Conservative Party will seal its doom as a political force in this country if it fails to implement the Port Hope suggestions. This is the great opportunity for the Conservative Party. It is to be hoped that those who attend the forthcoming convention, will not allow themselves to be swayed by appeals for a return to a condition of economics which is now outmoded. The Conservative Party is at the crossroads. Its future depends on the courage with which the members of the convention plan a programme suited to the needs of tomorrow.

VISCOUNT BENNETT'S WARNING

In a timely address on Saturday, Viscount Bennett reviewed the war situation, particularly in relation to Canada. It was a great address, and had Viscount Bennett's usual masterly way of dealing with Canadian topics. One point was raised by the former Premier Minister, which needs to be underlined. Dealing with Canada's method of attacking the war problems, he said that he found "Canada was suffering a bit too much from bureaucracy. "Men," he said, "the price of liberty is restraint, which under out institution, is a parliamentary restraint. War is a negation of Democracy."

It is well to be reminded of this by such a constitutional authority. Certainly, few would have dreamed, a few years ago, that to-day we would be submitting willingly and gladly to so many restraints on our personal liberty. For the winning of the war it is necessary to forego many of the privileges and the personal liberties we have enjoyed, and which are at the heart of the Democratic way of life. But we must be on our guard, that these do not carry over into the days of peace. It will be necessary, of course, to maintain restrictions for some time after hostilities cease. To withdraw them at once would result in chaos. Indeed, it is conceivable we shall have to continue some voluntary restrictions permanently. We can never go back to the loose and unrestricted business practice of pre-war days.

All the same we must preserve our liberty. We must see to it that the "parliamentary restraint" of which Viscount Bennett speaks, is retained. Parliament must regain its proper place in the post-war world, if the Democracy we fight for is to be sustained.

WE KNOW NOW

We did not have long to wait for a pronouncement from the new Premier of Ontario, as to where he stands on many things. In his speech at Oshawa, Prime Minister Conant stresses the need for an all-out effort for the war. That was to have been expected. It is not likely that any man in his right senses would have taken any other position. Certainly the Province of Ontario is behind the war effort. It was hardly necessary to labor the point. The former Prime Minister continually rang the charges on the same theme, and it is to his credit that he and the Government of which he was the head, did many things which would assist the war effort. But Mr. Hepburn himself said that the Provincial Government, under war conditions, is little more than a glorified county council, and while we would not go as far as that, yet it is true that the Provincial Governments have had their work overshadowed by the growing system of controls that are developing in Ottawa, every day. So that the part that the Provincial Government can play in furthering the war effort, is lessening as time passes. It is well to know that Mr. Conant's Government will continue to support an all-out war, even if there is not so much that it can do officially.

We know, too, where Mr. Conant stands with respect to the liquor situation. We are not agreed that the present system of government control is working satisfactorily. There is far too much liquor sold. The sale of it is taking men from productive employment, interfering with the war effort, and creating a whole new generation of drinkers. Mr. Conant raises the question of bootlegging. This is bogeyman which is trotted out by anyone who would frighten the populace into even the slightest restriction. Mr. Conant says the onus is on the Dominion Government — the Dominion Government says it rests with the Provinces. We are still awaiting some word from Ottawa in the direction of a reduction in liquor sales, which has been promised.

There is one point in Mr. Conant's speech which will win hearty approval. He says there will be no feuding with Ottawa. That is encouraging. It will be a welcome change from the practice of the past eight years. If the Ontario Government and the Ottawa Government will work together, then we will have a pleasing demonstration that the Province believes in an all-out war, and that will be reinforced when Prime Minister King implements his promises with respect to the liquor traffic, which he recently made to the delegation which waited on him.

ON THE MARCH

The British Eighth Army in Libya is on the March. The tactics being employed in this drive are different from those which have heretofore been followed in the desert campaigns. In the past there has been a fairly consistent policy of open fighting adhered to. The mine field was opened, tanks poured through the break and then a battle of tanks took place. In that sort of warfare there might be much movement without a decisive battle. Both the British and the Germans have assumed the offensive and driven the other long distances across the desert, without a decision.

In this case, General Montgomery is following a new course. He pounded the supply lines, day and night, so as to prevent supplies coming up to the front line and then he has brought his air and artillery force into action to blast the advance lines of the enemy. The situation somewhat resembles the trench warfare of the First Great War. By this method the British are preventing movement, while wearing down the enemy in the front line. At the same time the British are conserving their mobile forces and tanks so as to throw them into the battle when the enemy has been weakened and disorganized.

It is hard to say what the outcome of this new style of desert warfare will be. Certainly a war of attrition is less spectacular than one of movement, but it may be more effective. There is little advantage in one army chasing the other up and down the desert, if no decision is reached. That has been proved several times in Libya. Now, this new method has a chance and it may be that we will have solved the problem that has faced the British Armies in Egypt ever since Rommel took the initiative in the war of movement. Up to the present, the new tactics seem to promise great things.

CONANT CABINET CUT TO TWELVE

Toronto, (C.P.) — Streamlined to twelve members from a normal 14, Premier Gordon D. Conant's new Ontario Liberal Cabinet prepared to carry on the business of the province while awaiting the effect on the province's political situation of the recent Cabinet changes.

Resignation of Hon. Farquhar Oliver, last week, as Minister of Public Welfare and of Public Works, followed quickly by Premier Conant's reorganization of his administration, gave Ontario its smallest Ministry in many years.

Ministers for all departments are not expected to be appointed until the Premier, designated by Mitchell F. Hepburn, now Provincial Treasurer, on his successor recently, has examined the advice of either a caucus of Liberal Legislature members or a provincial party convention.

Both Mr. Oliver and Harry C. Nixon, former Provincial Secretary who resigned last Thursday, disagreed with the procedure which was followed in Mr. Conant's accession to the Premiership on Mr. Hepburn's resignation.

The life of the present Government of Liberal Legislature members or a provincial party convention.

Both Mr. Oliver and Harry C. Nixon, former Provincial Secretary who resigned last Thursday, disagreed with the procedure which was followed in Mr. Conant's accession to the Premiership on Mr. Hepburn's resignation.

The life of the present Government was to have expired this fall but was extended for one year at the last Legislature session and Mr. Oliver in his letter of resignation said he found himself "completely out of harmony with the apparent lack of concern, as we drift across the line that brings the completion of the Government's elected term of office."

He said he could have continued his Cabinet post for only a restricted period "beyond the expiration of our mandate and then only under one who had been approved as leader by the people."

In his letter of resignation, Mr. Nixon said the Premiership was "too sacred a trust and too vitally important to be so casually given and received," maintaining the voters, the Liberal party, Liberal Members of the Legislature and members of the Cabinet should have been consulted.

MANY CONVICTIONS FOR HOARDING

The increasingly serious view taken by the courts of hoarding prosecutions undertaken by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, is illustrated by fines imposed in different parts of the Dominion during the week of October 10-24.

There were four prosecutions of this type and fines ranged from $100 to $300. A Zboda Man, householder who was convicted of hoarding sugar was fined $200 and costs and a firm of the Wisdom district of Manitoba was similarly fined $100 and costs; having declared and surrendered coupons for sugar in his possession. Two householders at Timmins, Ont., were also found guilty of hoarding sugar, tea, coffee and tobacco. One was fined $300 and costs and the other $250 and costs.

Sixty-six persons, all told, were prosecuted during the week, 48 for alleged infractions of the Board's orders and the remaining 18 for infractions of the orders of the Controller of Supplies and the Oil Controller. The fines imposed for violations of the price regulations ranged from $1 to $1,300, the latter sum having been levied upon a Quebec manufacturer and a Montreal jobber and costs for illegally increasing the prices above ceiling levels.

Other price convictions in the Province of Quebec, included a retail merchant at Ilmolion, $200 and costs for selling sausages above his ceiling; a Quebec city retailer, $15 and costs for increasing the price of photographic film; a Quebec City tanneur, $35 and costs for discontinuing the sale of certain leathers; a Quebec grocer, $100 and costs for selling sugar above his ceiling price; a Chandler grocer, $100 and costs, for illegally increasing the price of canned goods; two Montreal partners, $100 and costs for selling vesi and work at higher than ceiling prices. A Halifax man was also fined $25 and costs for illegally increasing the price of milk. And there were other successful prosecutions in Brockville, Ont., Herbert, Sask., and Saskatoon, Sask., relating to, respectively, the sale of a fishing reel, potatoes and restaurant meals.

The week was marked by 22 prosecutions for alleged infractions of the rentals regulations, four more for breach of the sugar rationing regulations, nine for infractions of the orders of the Oil Controller and eight for infractions of the tire order of the Controller of Supplies. A farmer at Pt Mountain, Sask., and a trucker at Sudbury, Ont., were also fined for transporting passengers in commercial trucks and, at Summerside, P.E.I., taxicab operator was fined for delivering goods not the property of a passenger.

BE STRONG YE SONS OF CANADA

O, Canada, dear Canada!
God made her very fair.
He gave her honor, gave her wealth,
He gave her treasures rare:
Her forests wave, her rivers flow,
Her mountains tower high.
While over all, the proudly,
On all the earth doth fly.

Be strong, ye sons of Canada;
Ye daughters brave and true;
With heart and hand, guard well the land,
Which God has given you.

O, Canada, brave Canada!
Her laws are just and good.
Her spires point toward the sky
Her sons, for peace have stood.
May she for freedom ever stand;
For truth and righteousness.
A pattern unto all the earth
May she the nations bless.

Car Owners Warned To Check Batteries Of Idle Automobiles

Owing to gasoline rationing and the present rubber situation most Canadians are using their automobiles only for essential purposes and the car is often left in the garage over long periods of time.

Consumer Information Service points out that when a car stands idle its wet storage battery rapidly "self-discharges." This is due to internal chemical action and if the car's battery is moist, to an electrical leakage from the posts.

Batteries for cars or home electric plants for that matter, will self-discharge much more quickly if kept in a warm place than those kept in a cool spot. Wet storage batteries should never be stored in the direct rays of the sun.

To keep the plates in good condition, the battery which is standing idle should be brought to a fully charged state at least every thirty days.

Allowing a battery to stand in a discharged or partially discharged condition causes the positive plates to buckle in service (due to sulphation) and shortens its life materially. In fact, standing in a discharged condition may sulphate the plates so completely that text book cure is required before a thorough recharge is possible.

CITIZENS OF LENNOX & ADDINGTON COUNTY

YOUR GOVERNMENT NEEDS YOUR SCRAP IRON AND STEEL NOW

More scrap steel and iron is urgently needed if we are to produce the ships, tanks, planes, guns and munitions necessary to win this war. You are asked to do your part by turning in every available ounce of scrap metal you can find in your home or on your farm.

This campaign is from November 1st to December 15th, 1942.

In order to facilitate the systematic collection of scrap iron and steel in your County, Wartime Salvage Limited, a Government Company, and the Steel Controller, have completed arrangements with your County Warden and Township Reeve to supervise the collection and sale of the scrap iron and steel you deliver.

HERE IS WHAT YOU DO

Dig out every ounce of scrap iron and steel you can put your hands on.

Township Groups have been formed. Find out from your Township Reeve how and where he wishes you to take your scrap.

The price to be paid by Wartime Salvage Limited, a Government Company, has been fixed by the Department of Munitions and Supply as follows:

1. Price at Collection point will be $7.00 per net ton on ground.
2. For scrap loaded on cars containing less than 25 tons, price will be $8.50 per net ton.
3. For scrap loaded on cars containing 25 tons or more price will be $10.00 per net ton F.O.B. cars.

The above prices will be paid for all forms of scrap iron and steel excluding (a) Sheet Tin of any kind, (b) Automobile Bodies and Fenders, (c) Stovepipe, and (d) Wooden Attachments.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF YOUR SCRAP WHEN COLLECTED!

When you have delivered your scrap to the place designated for your Group in accordance with the instructions of your Township Reeve, you can then—

★ 1. Sell your scrap metal to the Government Agency and divide the proceeds of such sale among the various members of your Group to which you will be appointed by your Township Reeve, or—

★ 2. You may donate your scrap metal to the Voluntary Salvage Corps or Committees functioning in your Community, or—

★ 3. You may sell your scrap metal to the Government Agency and then turn over part or all of the proceeds of this sale to the Local Salvage Corps or Local War Charities.

Your contribution to the war effort is simplified by this arrangement. Don't wait until you are urged by your Township officials to do this all-important work. Get busy right away. Canada needs, and must have, tons of scrap iron and steel now if we are to keep our fighting forces armed and ready to win through to victory.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, NOVEMBER 8TH, 1942

"CHRISTIAN NURTURE IN THE FAMILY"

Lesson Text, Deuteronomy 6: 4-9, 20-25. II Timothy 3: 14, 15

Perhaps no people of ancient times had as intimate and strong family life as the Hebrews. Indeed, the same condition prevails today with certain exceptions. The Jewish family life is a wholesome home life. The ties that bind the various members of it together are strong and persistent. The reason for this is that it is founded on religion. The first six verses of today's lesson are called the "Shema". They are counted as among the most important of Jewish ritualsused to call the people to worship in every synagogue meeting. The verses in sist that the people recognize that there is but one God, all powerful, omnipotent. The writer insists that the words be learned by heart, so that always the Hebrew people will remember the precpts of their church. Not only are the people enjoined to learn the precepts themselves, but they are to teach them to their children.

In both the Old Testament passage and that taken from Paul's letter to Timothy, in the things for basis of a happy and contented life begins in the home. This is something on which the teacher should dwell, for it is the lack of religion in the modern home which has to a very large extent been responsible for the breakdown in morals which has characterized our generation. The Church can do some things for youth, but character formation begins with the first day of a child's life. The responsibility for the future outlook on life depends very much on the early years of a boy's or a girl's life.

From this it follows that parents themselves should be properly trained, and have the right outlook themselves. The process goes in circle. But a beginning has to made somewhere. The Church can deal with youth, it can give parents the proper "slant" on life. It can them the ideals to help them shape bring up children. It can point way to happiness, peace and satisfaction by faith in God throu Christ. All this the Church can and attempts to do. But it can do it for those who do not attend its services. Men and women must be willing to place themselves un the influence of the church, become active members in it if they wa have the ideals and the power bring up children properly.

The increase in juvenile deli quency which has marked the pa few years is to a large extent d to the lack of home-training an an admission, silent or otherw that children do not need the instr tion of the Church and Sunday School. Now this situation has be aggravated by the war. Men a women go out to work. They le their children to their own devi The result in an alarming increa in juvenile crime. The State is t ing to help by establishing nurse schools, but these, at best, are o a makeshift. Nothing will take t place of the home.

We have seen what a generati may become when subjected, as Germans, to a continuous pagan fa ganda. The only way for the d mocracies to combat that is to velop a Christian home life in wh the ideals of Christian service be inculcated into youth. Where Christian spirit prevails in a ho where parents and children grow together in a church, there is hope for the future of the race.

A mild indigestion may arise from overeating or the use of food which is difficult to digest.

But chronic indigestion, which stays with you, causing sleepless nights, headaches, bodily pains and depressed spirits, is usually the result of torpid liver and constipation. The process of digestion is held up and the body is poisoned by accumulated waste matter.

The use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills helps to arouse the torpid liver to action, the bile flows freely to the intestines, stimulating these organs and soon everything is going fine. What a pleasure it is to enjoy your meals and feel that there will be no discomfort afterwards.

The Safest Way to Invest Your Money

VICTORY BONDS REPAY ...Every Dollar You Invest!

When you buy Victory Bonds you are laying up for yourself the best of all investments, for back of each one is your country's solemn promise that every dollar you invest in Victory Bonds will be repaid to you in full, plus a fair rate of interest. You can borrow against them, and they are readily saleable when you need the cash. And that solemn promise of repayment in full is backed by all the vast resources of the Dominion of Canada.

When the war is over, you will want to buy all the things we must deny ourselves now. Then, your Victory Bonds will give you the money to buy all these — and your purchases will provide new employment for our boys when they come home again.

What's your share of the savings job? Well, the average Canadian would have to lend to Canada to meet Canada's need $1 in every $5 of income left after taxes and compulsory savings have been collected. But the average may not fit your case. Your own circumstances are distinctly your own. You may be able to do better both out of your current income and out of your accumulated savings in the bank — or you may not be able to reach the average. Your share of voluntary savings is every dollar you can possibly spare.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

PIONEER RESIDENCE NEAR ROBLIN BURNED, MONDAY

About 1:30 a.m. on Monday, fire completely destroyed the farm home of Albert Pennell, three miles north of Roblin. The house, a large frame dwelling was well known to many residents of the district as the Assel estate homestead. It was built and occupied by William Asselstine, a pioneer of the Roblin community and later was lived in by his son, Whitney Asselstine. For several years the house has been occupied by Mr. Albert Pennell, salesman for the Tamworth Cheese Factory, who purchased the farm from Mr. Whitney Asselstine.

The house was solidly constructed with timbers and lumber cut from trees on the farm, and had several double fireplaces. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Mrs. Pennell was wakened when a timber fell after being burned through, and managed to rouse the other members of the household. Her blind father, Mr. William Waddell, was gotten out of the house with some difficulty. Some of the smaller pieces of furniture were removed from downstairs, but the most of the contents was lost.

Alarms were sent out over the rural telephone and with the assistance of neighbours the fire was prevented from destroying the nearby barn, which caught fire on several occasions.

The cause of the fire was unknown.

United Church Anniversary Services At Selby

The Selby United Church anniversary was most successfully observed on Sunday, November 1st, 1942, with services at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Notwithstanding the rainy morning a large congregation assembled to unite in the service of worship and thanksgiving. In the evening the church was filled to capacity, and all present at both morning and evening services were greatly benefitted and inspired by the excellent and timely messages given by the Rev. A. J. Dills, the popular minister of Holloway Street United Church, Belleville.

The music for the services, which was under the direction of Miss Alma Wood, Choir Leader, and Mrs. Geo. Robinson, Pianist, added a great deal to the services, and consisted of two anthems by the choir and three solos. The soloist in the morning was Mr. Ted Wilde. Mrs. Ramsay, of Newburgh, and Mr. Donald Paul, of Centreville, sang solos in the evening.

The church was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers, ferns and plants. An encouraging feature of these services was the liberal response to the thankoffering, which was larger than in previous years.

THE WIGWAM' BURNED ON FORESTERS' ISLAND

At about eight o'clock on Tuesday, October 27th, the "Wigwam", an historic residence on Foresters' Island near Deseronto, in the Bay of Quinte, was burned to the ground. The owner of the building, Mr. Arthur Pearce, Toronto, who used the house as a summer residence, was occupying it at the time in order to close the house for the winter. While coming downstairs with a lighted oil lamp in his hand he stumbled and fell. Oil from the lamp spread over the stairs and was ignited. A very heavy wind was blowing and before any help could be summoned, the fire was out of control and the building was beyond the saving stage. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

The house, known for many years as "Cronhyetekha's Palace" was built by Dr. Cronhyetekha, chief of the Mohawks, and head for some years of the Independent Order of Foresters. It was a frame building and the interior was panelled with wood throughout. Dr. Cronhyetekha lived in it; it was filled with curios and antiques which he had collected in many parts of the world. After his death the property was purchased by the late Senator McWain, who in turn sold it to Mr. Arthur Pearce, Toronto, in 1932.

VICTORY LOAN HIGHLIGHTS

BAUBLES BOOM BUSINESS :— BUT BONDS BOOM BOMES !

Let those who know decide the second front. Our job is to back every front — to buy Victory Bonds for cash or on the Savings Plan.

Don't forget our banks offer safekeeping facilities at nominal rates. Many Bond buyers are looking for this very service.

We choose the cargoes our Merchant Marine carry to our shores through the most perilous waters in the world. No men are braver or tougher, but let's not ask them to carry merchandise we can well do without. Let's buy Victory Bonds instead !

If you saw a chauffeur driving an ambulance, you wouldn't take him away to drive your car, or if a woman was making a gas mask you wouldn't take her away to make a new hat. Don't compete with the war effort — buy Bonds instead. Necessity demands that luxuries are out — all we need now is VICTORY.

Buying of Bonds does a threefold job. It helps Canada in her fight for victory. It helps morale and production. It gives every buyer two important things — a share in the post-war world and a personal stake in it.

By investing millions in Bonds and war savings, the armed forces are won "saving and serving." The least we can do is "Serve by Saving".

Our boys at Dieppe did not stop to talk politics. The Windsor, Ontario mother who, in one day, received four successive telegrams reporting the death of her four sons, knows what sacrifice means.

For the next ten days plan your work — think, eat and sleep Third Victory Loan. Let's roll up a tremendous victory. Let's put everything we've got into the drive !

Stop buying non-essentials — put the money into Victory Bonds instead !

In the conquered countries they have lost what it takes to be free. The French, the Belgians, the Greeks — they haven't got it any more — they've paid off, now, in Occupation Marks . . . imitation money that neither buys the necessities of life nor pays the way back to freedom!

REMEMBER THIS:

The new refundable tax does not replace voluntary savings. The new tax money is just a start towards finishing the war effort. Over and above those new taxes, Canada needs every dollar you can spare because fighting a war costs money. Take the money you would otherwise spend on non-essentials and put it away in War Bonds. PIONEER RESIDENCE NEAR ROBLIN BURNED, MONDAY

About 1:30 a.m., on Monday, fire completely destroyed the farm home of Albert Pennell, three miles north of Roblin. The house, a large frame dwelling was well known to many residents of the district as the Asselstine homestead. It was built and occupied by William Asselstine, a pioneer of the Roblin community and later was lived in by Louis and Whitney Asselstine. For several years the house has been occupied by Mr. Albert Pennell, salesman for the Tamworth Cheese Factory, who purchased the farm from Mr. Whitney Asselstine.

The house was solidly constructed with timbers and lumber cut from trees on the farm, and had several double fireplaces. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Mrs. Pennell was wakened when a timber fell after being burned through, and managed to rouse the other members of the household. Her blind father, Mr. William Waddell, was gotten out of the house with some difficulty. Some of the smaller pieces of furniture were removed from downstairs, but the most of the contents was lost.

Alarms were sent out over the rural telephone and with the assistance of neighbours the fire was prevented from destroying the nearby barn, which caught fire on several occasions.

The cause of the fire was unknown.

United Church Anniversary Services At Selby

The Selby United Church anniversary was most successfully observed on Sunday, November 1st, 1942, with services at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Notwithstanding the rainy morning a large congregation assembled to unite in the service of worship and thanksgiving. In the evening the church was filled to capacity, and all present at both morning and evening services were greatly benefitted and inspired by the excellent and timely messages given by Rev. A. J. Dills, the popular minister of Holloway Street United church, Belleville.

The music for the services, which was under the direction of Miss Alma Wood, Choir Leader, and Mrs. Geo. Robinson, Pianist, added a great deal to the services, and consisted of two anthems by the choir and three solos. The soloist in the morning was Mr. Ted Wilde. Mrs. Ramsay, of Newburgh, and Mr. Donald Paul, of Switzerville, sang solos in the evening.

The church was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers, ferns and plants. The splendid congregations at these services was the liberal response to the thankoffering, which was larger than in previous years.

'THE WIGWAM' BURNED ON FORESTERS' ISLAND

At about eight o'clock on Tuesday, October 27th, the "Wigwam", an historic residence on Foresters' Island near Deseronto, in the Bay of Quinte, was burned to the ground. The owner of the building, Mr. Arthur Pearce, Toronto, who used the house as a summer residence, was occupying it at the time in order to close the house for the winter. While coming downstairs with a lighted lamp in his hand he stumbled over a fall rug. The lamp spread over the stairs and was ignited. A very heavy wind was blowing and before any help could be summoned, the fire was out of control and the building was burned to the ground. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

The house, known for many years as "Cronhyetekha's Palace" was built by Dr. Cronhyetekha, chief of the Mohawks, and head for some years of the Independent Order of Foresters. It was a frame building and the interior was panelled with wood imported from the West Indies and lined in it is was filled with curios and antiques which he had collected in many parts of the world. After his death the property was purchased by the late Thomas McWain, who in turn sold it to Mr. Arthur Pearce, Toronto, in 1932.

BAUBLES BOOM BUSINESS :— BUT BONDS BOOM BOMES !

Let those who know decide the second front. Our job is to back every front — so buy Victory Bonds for cash or on the payroll plan.

Don't forget our banks offer safe-keeping facilities at nominal rates. Many Bond buyers are looking for this very service.

We choose the cargoes our Merchant Marine carry to our shores through the most perilous waters in the world. No men are braver or tougher, but let's not ask them to carry merchandise we can well do without. Let's buy Victory Bonds instead !

If you saw a chauffeur driving an ambulance, you wouldn't take him away to drive your car, or if a woman was making a gas mask, you wouldn't take her away to make a new hat. Don't compete with the war effort — buy Bonds instead. Necessity demands that luxuries are out — all we need now is VICTORY.

Buying of Bonds does a threefold job. It helps Canada in her fight for victory. It helps morale and production. It gives every buyer two important things — a share in the war effort and a personal stake in the post-war world.

By investing millions in Bonds and war savings, the armed forces are both "saving and serving." The least we can do is "Serve by Saving".

Our boys at Dieppe did not stop to talk politics. The Windsor, Ontario mother who, in one day, received four successive telegrams reporting the death of her four sons, knows what sacrifice means.

For the next ten days plan your work — think, eat and sleep Third Victory Loan. Let's roll up a tremendous victory. Let's put everything we've got into the drive !

Stop buying non-essentials — put the money into Victory Bonds instead !

In the conquered countries they have lost what is dearest to the French, the Belgians, the Greeks — they haven't got it any more — they've paid off. They've paid Action Marks . . . imitation money that neither buys the necessities of life nor pays the way back to freedom!

WADE - REED

Wilton United Church was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding Saturday afternoon, when Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth united in marriage Edith Edna, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reed of Wilton, and Corpl. Frank Wade, R.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wade, Peterborough, England.

Mrs. Robert Cairns of Odessa played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. The bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of white sheer, cut on princess lines. Her finger tip veil was fastened to a heart-shaped headdress and she carried an arm bouquet of Briarcliff rosebuds and wore the groom's gift, an R.A.F. bow locket gold pin. She was attended by her sisters, Miss Hilda and Miss Zella Reed, as bridesmaids. Miss Hilda Reed looked charming in a floor-length gown of dusty rose sheer with a shoulder length veil, and Miss Zella Reed looked equally charming in a floor length gown of pale blue sheer, also with shoulder length veil. They both carried bouquets of carnations.

Two little nieces, Roberta and Janice Joyce of Kingston, acting as flower-girl, looked sweet wearing dusty rose and pale blue floor-length dresses, and carrying nosegays of baby mums. Mr. Walter Reed, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Corpl. Robinson, R.A.F., and Corpl Dey, R.A.F., Norman Robins Airdrome.

During the signing of the register, Miss Hilda Reed, one of the bridesmaids, sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Cairns.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The bride's mother, wearing a dosewood crepe dress, received the guests. She was assisted by Mrs. William Coe, of Oshawa, a friend of the groom's, from England. She wore a light blue dress. Mrs. Lasher was served to the immediate members of the family and a few near friends. Tea was poured by Miss Margaret Funk and Mrs. Donald Burt.

The groom's gifts to the bridesmaids were R.A.F. sterling rings; to each of the flower-girls, gold lockets; to the best man an initialed gold cigarette case, and to the pianist, a gold compact.

Later, the bride and groom left for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, the bride wearing a light blue dress with black accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Kingston, as the groom is stationed at the Norman Rogers Airdrome.

Guests from out of town were: Mrs. John Joyce, Kingston; Mrs. William Coe, Oshawa; Miss M. Anderson, Gananoque; Mrs. L. Hogan, Mrs. H. Hogan and Miss Wilda Hogan, all of Collins Bay.

WEDDING BELLS

ROBERTS - OSBORNE

The marriage of Dorothy Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Osborne, Bath, Ont., to Mr. Raymond G. Roberts of Framingham, N.Y., was quietly solemnized in the study of the First Baptist parsonage, Olean, N.Y., by Rev. Edwin T. Hardin, on Thursday, October 22nd.

The bride was charmingly attired in a street-length dress of wine velvet with matching accessories and a corsage of Sweetheart Rose was carried by Mrs. Warden Hall, Olean, N.Y., who wore a becoming model of henna crepe and matching accessories with a gardenia and pink rosebud corsage. Mr. Warden Hall, Olean, N.Y., was best man.

Dinner for the bridal party was served at the "Village Inn." The bride and groom left later for a wedding trip to Syracuse, Watertown and Canada.

The bride travelled in pastel blue crepe with black accessories. Mrs. Roberts is a graduate of the Kingston General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts upon their return to Olean will be at home at 30 Church Street, Frankville.

LINES TO WAR CENTRES ARE ESPECIALLY BUSY

Long distance calls to most points still go through at accustomed speed. But if you are trying to reach a key war centre, chances are that you may encounter some delay. Telephone routes to such areas are the most congested in Canada.

Naturally, we would build more lines if we could. But the materials that go into telephone equipment have been drafted for direct war purposes. We must get along with what we have.

And we can — provided you keep your long distance calls brief and make them, whenever possible, in off-peak hours . . . provided above all, that you avoid all unnecessary calls over routes which your experience shows to be congested with war calls.

When possible, use these OFF-PEAK HOURS;
Before 9 a.m.; 12-2 p.m.; 5-7 p.m.; after 8.30 p.m.

I. O. D. E. MEETING

Declaring that there must be a change in attitudes before we can come to the point of co-operation with other nations in time of peace as well as in time of war, Mrs. Rhea Strader, of Newburgh, discussed "Education" from woman's point of view, at the November meeting of the local chapter of the I.O.D.E. If we cease to learn, we cease to live, and we must prepare ourselves for leadership in home and in government. A new day is dawning out of the din and noise of today, and we must prepare for it by education, which the speaker defined as mental, moral, and physical growth.

Mrs. Duane Hall, Regent, presided, and brought to the attention of the meeting the need of good used clothing for Polish relief, and of 2,000 comforts for the R.C.A.F. More dirty bags are urgently needed, and members may secure bags to be filled. Books and magazines are also needed.

Ten dollars was voted to the Australian Bomber Fund, which makes a total of $15.00 to be sent, from this Chapter. Mrs. Lewis reported the war work done during the month. It was agreed that this Chapter assist the Ladies' Branch of the Canadian Legion in their tag day on November 14th, and Mrs. Raymond Moore was appointed Convener. Mrs. Fisher was asked to give an address on the monthly collection day, November 28th.

Mrs. Gordon MacGregor, who was official delegate to the annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter, held in Kingston, gave a brief report. From the address of the National Regent, Mrs. W. B. Horkins, Mrs. MacGregor gleaned these few thoughts: "The most worthwhile thing is serving; Bs informed; If it is worth while, keep it; If it is a treasury it; Get back to the knitting needles."

The draw was made for the beautiful quilt made by Mrs. H. M. Wagar, and the lucky ticket holder was Mrs. E. J. Corkill.

The meeting was closed by the reading of the Prayer for Peace and singing the National Anthem.

WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD NEWS

For possibly the first time since the Conference on Administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board began operations, prosecution for profiteering was undertaken under the applicable to commodities and services exempted from the prices ceiling. Rentals regulations during the week of October 5-10. There were 23 of the former and 22 of the later, with a total of 68 cases having reached the stage of filing the records.

The heaviest fine imposed was one of $1,000 assessed against W. E. Bevan a wholesale meat dealer in Quebec who sold meats, poultry, and eggs at prices higher than reasonable and just and in excess of the maximum prices. In the same city a retailer was fined $400 and costs of charges of making false statements of tea and coffee in his application for additional supplies. The same retailer was fined $55 and costs in June for illegally increasing the price of potatoes.

Prosecutions for sales of wood at higher than ceiling prices were recorded for the first time during the week. At Chester, N.S., a fuelwood dealer was fined $30 and costs and at Laterriere, Que., another dealer paid a fine of $10 and costs.

An illegal increase in the price of candy brought a fine of $25 and costs to the owner of an ice cream parlour in Saint John, N.B., and in Knowlton, Que., a retailer who rabbed the price of potatoes above the legal ceiling was assessed $25 and costs.

Similar fines in Ontario and Quebec were fined for selling beer above basic ceiling prices and other commodities figuring in the prosecutions included meats, raisins, bottle caps, diamonds, restaurant meals and coal.

Fines imposed in rentals cases ranged from $1 to $320, and another penalty of $300 was levied upon a Windsor, Ontario, householder who acquired sugar by purchase voucher for canning and preserving without declaring to the Board the amount of sugar on hand and surrendering the necessary coupons therefor. In Beechy, Sask., another householder was fined $100 and costs for sugar hoarding and in Vancouver a consumer paid $5 and costs for acquiring a quantity of tea in excess of the amount reasonably required for himself and his household.

NAMES REQUIRED COMMERCIAL VEHICLES

Under an order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board now in effect every private commercial vehicle is required to have attached or painted on both sides of its body in a clearly visible position the name of its owner and the registered address of the vehicle. "Registered address" is defined as the address from which the vehicle operates normally. The regulation of the Board restricting the operation of private commercial vehicles to a 25-mile distance from their registered address without a special permit does not become effective until November 1.

OLD RATION CARDS SOON TO BE VOID

Coupons from the original temporary ration cards issued by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board last June will no longer have any value after November 1st. Thereafter they cannot be legally accepted by retailers and after December 1st, wholesale houses and other suppliers may not use these coupons, as received from retailers, for the replenishment of their stocks. The special concession allowed farmers' wives to purchase extra sugar for the feeding of threshing gangs also expires on October 31st. It is assumed that threshing operations will then have been concluded in most areas.

CHANGE EXEMPTION FOR WOOD TRANSPORT

The exemptions for private commercial vehicles operating more than 25 miles from their registered addresses have been tightened by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board so that vehicles engaged in hauling pulpwood and all kinds of lumber must now obtain a permit to operate beyond that distance. This regulation becomes effective November 1. All operators of private commercial vehicles are also reminded that they are now required to have attached or painted on each side of the body of each truck in letters or figures not less than one inch high the name of the owner and the registered address of the truck.

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR DRIED APPLES

Maximum prices governing the sale of evaporated or dehydrated apples have been fixed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, this step being taken in order to encourage the processing of apples in such manner. The maximum prices vary according to the quality of the apples, the containers used and the area in which they are processed. Ceiling prices of wholesalers and retailers are to be determined by the laid-down costs and the normal mark up, the latter not to exceed twelve per cent. for wholesalers and thirty per cent. for retailers.

NEED IS THE TEST TO GET IMPLEMENTS

According to Herbert H. Bloom, Administrator of Farm and Construction Machinery, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the acceptance of applications for farm machinery under the rationing system now in force will depend upon the acuteness of the need of the farmers making them. "In view of limited supplies," he says, "farmers should not contemplate application to buy a single piece of equipment they do not require. Implement companies' representatives should not solicit the sale of a piece of equipment unless they are convinced that the farmer's need is urgent and essential." Mr. Bloom emphasizes that all applications will be carefully examined and that all questions must be fully answered. Any mis-statement in the application is subject to heavy penalty.

LESSON V

OU CAN WE DO ABOUT IT?

BY J. M. HILL

Living-room of Jane and Brown's home. Jane and Peter busily doing home work.

at the doorbell. Peter goes. ER: "Hello, Don, come on in.. Have you heard about the on the highway? A man ran former—injured him badly. ow, he was dead, but I don't ut sure.

Peter goes. Enter Frank. ANK: (excitedly) "Hello, did hear about the accident on the ? A car hit a man. Didn't instantly, but before a doctor he died to death. Pretty bad.

"Why didn't the driver do ing to stop the bleeding — a all that money and always be perfectly sober when they drive?"

ANK: "Perhaps he didn't know too. Jane. Couldn't we 'phone some- one who could tell us?"

ER: "If it was Dr. Jones who was called, we'll soon know. He has just come in to see Father." Exit Peter. Returns with Dr. Jones.

DR. JONES: "I heard you young people are interested in the accident. Makes his head? Bad business."

FRANK: "Is it true that the driver was drunk?"

DR. JONES: "Not drunk. He had been drinking, though. He will probably be set free finally."

JANE: "Oh, I'm so glad!"

DR. JONES: (sternly) "Glad, Jane? He killed a man!"

JANE (confused) "Oh, I didn't mean that—only he will feel so very badly about it. Isn't it enough to have to live on and on and know that you have killed somebody?"

DR. JONES: "When people drink and then drive they take that chance Jane. I hope he does not get off but I fear he will."

Exit Dr. Jones.

PETER: (teasingly) "You caught it that time, Jane."

JANE: (thoughtfully, almost tearfully) "Yes, but I don't quite understand. Doesn't our government encourage drinking? I read that Canada spends over two hundred and fifty million dollars a year for beverage alcohol. How could people pay perfectly sober when they drive?"

DON: "I have wondered about that too. Jane. Couldn't we 'phone someone who could tell us?"

FRANK: "We could call our member of parliament. I suppose, but he might think it was a bit stuff and not take us seriously."

JANE: "I will call him. (Goes to 'phone, rings a number. Commences to talk at first not clearly — then turning to ground (still holding 'phone says): He says that our system of government control is better than that of either the United States or Great Britain. (Pause, apparently listening) He says that hard liquor is sold only in government stores and by the bottle, that beverage rooms sell only beer and ale. (Pause, as before) He says this system has eliminated the hard liquor saloon, has abolished the retail price war and has removed tempting retail displays of intoxicating beverages. (Pause, as if listening) Thank you. Thank you very much. Good-night. (Replaces 'phone and turns to others) He says that he believes government control is better than prohibition as we had it once before."

DON: "I wonder if government control really is a better way — or if the government passed the revenue from liquor too much during prohibition."

JANE: "We don't know."

FRANK: "One thing we do know, and that is that the "control" is not stopping accidents on the highways. There must be a lot of intoxicating drinks sold (o yield sixty-six millions in revenue and if what Dr. Jones says, is true, every person who has a drink and drives a car afterwards is a menace to public safety."

JANE: "Let's make a study of this thing. We might be able to find out what other countries are doing about it, and how Canada ranks in the number of accidents and deaths caused by drinking."

PETER: "I think we should know what more Canada can do to control the sale of liquor. Perhaps alcohol will be outlawed again before we get a vote, then we can use our influence to keep it out."

DON: "In the last war, drinking was found to be interfering with production in Canada. In England also, it had to be checked, and in the United States. It may be necessary again in this war."

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH OF FREEDOM

A Fighting BIRTHDAY

OUR 125TH ANNIVERSARY 1817 ★ 3rd NOVEMBER ★ 1942

Glorious deeds for humanity have brightened the years of the century and a quarter through which the Bank of Montreal has lived and served Canada. Sordid deeds of treachery and tyranny cannot detract from the record of courage, faith and achievement made by democratic, freedom-loving nations and peoples.

Canada, in the 125 years of the Bank's existence, has grown from a pioneer colony to a state great among nations in wealth, world-wide activities and influence.

Born when Canada was still a wilderness, with here and there a town, the Bank of Montreal has marched, worked and fought beside Canadians of all generations since 1817, assisting in every field of endeavour to build and preserve the nation.

As on our 100th Birthday, in 1917, we now find Canada, together with her sister dominions and her allies, fighting with all her strength, but confidently, for freedom and all that freedom holds.

We re-dedicate on this our 125th Birthday all our accumulated experience, knowledge, technical skill and financial strength to the service of Canada and her citizens.

ALWAYS SERVING CANADA

When the Bank of Montreal began business on November 3, 1817, the only transportation in Canada was provided by horse, wagon, stagecoach, canoe and river packet. There was no means of communication, excepting letters delivered by courier. There was no common currency.

In 1942, the picture of Canada presents a modernly equipped nation with gigantic industries, networks of railroads and motor highways, great steamship lines, continental airlines, instantaneous communications between all parts of the country and with all parts of the world, and a stable system of banking which gives wings to commerce.

In this picture, builded into it for twelve and a half decades, generation after generation, stands the Bank of Montreal, now with hundreds of branches, strong with youth, experienced with age—still serving Canada, in this latest time of crisis.

Napanee South Section Bellevile Presbyterial W. M. S. Rally

The Seventeenth Annual Rally of the Napanee South Section of the Belleville Presbyterial of the W.M.S. was held in Greena United Church, Friday, October 16th. The vice-president, Mrs. (Rev.) C. D. McLellan, presided. The minutes of the 1941 rally were read and approved. The treasurer's report followed, showing a balance on hand of $12.51 It was decided to send Miss Maia Mellow as a delegate to the Whitby School for Leaders, and $10 was voted to defray her expense. A program committee, to prepare for the next rally, was appointed. The 1943 rally will take place in Grace Church, Napanee, and will be a joint session for Napanee north and Napanee south.

A display of missionary literature was in charge of Miss Olive Hambly. Two-minute reports of the highlights of the year's work were given by each auxiliary. Mr. McCallum reported a mission school, held every second Friday, in an outlying section of his pastorate where the children have no opportunity to attend Sunday School.

Mrs. Spafford, president of the Belleville Presbyterial, gave an address, "How to use the Study Book." It is to be read, but our main study must be the mission of the church in our own community. Helpful suggestions were given regarding making Christian homes more Christian, sponsoring religious instruction in our schools, promoting social "fellowship between the old and the young in the church, by making the church a social and recreational centre, and being neighbourly in our own community.

Mrs. E. Farnsworth, of Belleville, also gave an address at the morning session, on the subject of "Temperance." She stressed the evils of liquor, particularly in war-time. "The war will be prolonged unless the sale of liquor is restricted." Public sentiment is the beginning of any reform. We must create a public sentiment against liquor. Mention was made of fifteen members of the Canadian Parliament who have taken their stand against liquor.

Mrs. Hollingsworth and the ladies from Odessa, conducted the memorial service and quiet half - hour, which closed the morning session of the rally. A wreath was placed on the altar, in memory of eleven deceased members and Mrs. Sudder read an appropriate poem.

The afternoon session convened at 1:15, following a bountiful lunch, served by the Gretna ladies, assisted by the Anderson ladies. The highlight of the afternoon session was the address by Miss Dorothy Pearson of Neemuch, India, who is in Canada on furlough. She spoke with a happy earnestness and refreshing interjections of humour. The audience showed much interest in her display of beautiful hand-woven silken garments of Indian design.

Miss Pearson, in her capacity as teacher of homemaking, worked mainly among the Hindus and Mohammedans. It was part of her duty to arrange suitable marriages for the girls in her school, who were from fourteen to twenty years of age. The speaker said that present day reports of conditions in India, are minimized and wholly misrepresent India. There is some sabotage, but only in certain areas where it is created by agents from Japan, who try to foster the belief that Britain won't win this war.

Miss Pearson said that although there is a great lack of doctors in the mission hospitals, on account of the war, and a lack of money to bring in and support Christian leaders, nevertheless the Christian Church in India is growing as nowhere else in the world. Even at the present rate of 15,000 converts a month, it would take 2,000 years to make India Christian. The slogan of the Christian in India, "Each one Teach one," has been changed to "Each one Teach ten," every year up to the stage where they can read the Bible for themselves.

Mrs. Pearson closed her address with an appeal for a strong belief in missions.

Mrs. Reddick then gave a report on the enjoyable and profitable week which she had spent at the Whitby School for Leaders. The attendance numbered 185, and a large percentage were young people.

Mrs. W. H. Herrington gave helpful ideas whereby local secretaries for the Missionary Monthly and World Friends, might enlarge the circulation of these periodicals.

This was the last of the addresses for the day. Those who contributed to the service of song during the day were: Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Smith, of Odessa, Mrs. Jay Gould, Mrs. Harold Magee and Mrs. James McAvoy.

Mrs. Courtland Snider gave the report of the Resolutions Committee, and Mrs. Raymond Pretts of the Courtesy Committee.

Miss Woods, of Selby, reporting for the Nominating Committee, gave the following slate of officers for next year: Vice-president, Mrs. C. D. McLellan; Sec.-Treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Allenbrack; Press Reporter, Mrs. Raymond Pretts.

Rev. Mr. McCallum closed the session with the benediction.

Yours very truly,

C. B. CREIGHTON"

Mr. Creighton's resignation followed the adoption by the Board of a recommendation from the management committee that Miss Rose Bailey's resignation as a teacher on the public school staff be accepted, effective at the end of December. Mr. Creighton objected to the acceptance of the resignation on the grounds that Miss Hanley had signed a contract with the Board of Education to teach for the year 1942-43, and said that in fairness to other teachers on the staff he could not sanction acceptance of the resignation of Miss Hanley.

A motion was passed to lay Mr. Creighton's resignation on the table and his duties as chairman in the meantime will be assumed by the vice-chairman, Mr. P. U. Laidley.

The Secretary-Treasurer was instructed by the Board to advertise for a teacher to fill the vacancy caused by Miss Hanley's release.

The Board accepted another report from the Management Committee as follows: "That the Department of Education was requested to allow religious instruction in forms 5, 6, 7, 8, in the Public School, for one-half hour in the morning, each week, and the request has been granted, and the opening of school to be postponed from 9.00 a.m. to 9.30 a.m. on Tuesday mornings."

The report of the Secondary School Inspector was received and printed copies are to be made and given to each member of the Board.

Dr. O. W. Morden was named a committee to endeavour to locate the land instruments which the Town Council with reference to the appointment of the Chief of Police as school attendance officer.

George Howitt, who was recently appointed a member of the School Board, took his place and was appointed a member of the Property Committee.

A BOUQUET FOR NAPANEE

Last week a young member of the Armed Forces stationed in Toronto, was sitting reading a copy of "The Napanee Beaver" in a recreation room when a young member of another branch of the service came over to him and said: "Napanee! — That's some town." He followed by saying that he had been with the armed convoy which made visits to eastern Ontario towns during the recent Victory Loan Campaign and that the best and most hospitable treatment the members of the convoy had received was given them in Napanee. He said they had excellent meals, a good place to sleep, and had been treated to a show free of charge and were entertained at a dance following the show.

Apparently the hospitality extended by some of the Napanee citizens was greatly appreciated.

DOMINION HONORS WON BY TEAM FROM POTATO CLUB

Win First Place in Competition at Toronto

The Lennox and Addington Potato Club team, Wray McLaughlin, son of F. M. McLaughlin, and Joseph Kilgorn, son of Hugh Killoran, of the Erinsville District, have returned from their trip to Toronto and Ottawa. The boys won the Dominion championship in connection with the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on October 23. Again the winners this time against teams from Western Ontario they were eligible to represent Ontario in the Dominion championships. It was an achievement in itself to win the Ontario championship and it was a great honor for our County boys to represent the province in the Dominion championship and to be declared the winners in competition with teams from other Provinces in the Dominion.

This was the 11th annual contest carried on under the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' Club work. Our local Club, comprised of twenty-one members, was one of fifty Potato Clubs organized in the Province this year, comprising a total membership of 784 boys.

This is the third time that a team from this County has been successful in winning Provincial honors and representing the Province in the National Club Contests, and the second time that Dominion honors have been brought to the Province by Lennox and Addington County boys. In 1931, George Purcell and J. F. Creighton won the Dominion championship in Swine and displayed in the Local Agricultural Office.

The 1942 Boys' Potato Club was sponsored by the Napanee Lions Club.

OPENING MEETING HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The opening meeting of the Fall season of the Napanee Home and School Association, was held Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 28, in the household science room of the West Ward school.

The president, Mrs. T. Hunt, opened the meeting by reading the aims of the Home and School Association, after which she welcomed those present.

An address was given by Miss B. Hawley. She chose as subject, "The Necessary Development of a School Child on Entering School." She pointed out that no two children develop at the same rate, that it is necessary for the child to have developed muscular co-ordination, vision and hearing, maturity equal to that of a child six and a half years of age, before it is ready to begin grade one work. Health habits, correct emotional habits, safety rules, a sense of reverence and honesty, independence and self-reliance should be part of the home-training in preparation for school.

Mrs. T. Moore, convener of the Membership Committee, then spoke on "The Value of being a member of a Home and School Association." Her address dealt with the student first, in which she emphasized the fact that self-dênial is necessary in a student.

In the second part of her address she said that the teacher who knows the child's parents can best understand the child. This is accomplished through the Home and School. The Association should strive to obtain new members but not fail to hold the members of past years. Friendliness should be the key note of the Home and School Association.

Miss Way moved a vote of thanks to both Miss Hawley and Mrs. Moore.

Lunch was served by Mrs. W. Wilson, acting in the absence of Mrs. Mills, and her committee.

MANY RESIDENTS IN NAPANEE AREA HAVE GIVEN BLOOD

Complete List of Donors Up to Present Time

Mr. M. R. Reid, chairman of the local committee in connection with the Blood Donors, has prepared the following list of names of the citizens of Napanee and the District in the County, as far north as Shelfield who have donated blood at the Kingston Blood Donors' Clinic.

So far, one hundred and fifty citizens of the district have donated blood. Some of them have contributed as many as four times. The number following the name of the donor in the list indicates the number of blood donations made by each one.

Mr. Reid stated that altogether there have been 250 who have gone to the clinic at Kingston from the Napanee District. Some have gone but once, which makes the load heavier for others. The need is very great for more donors. This little service, Mr. Reid said, brings the givers pretty close to the firing line, without causing the donor any serious inconvenience.

Mr. Reid asks that those who are willing to become blood donors, see their doctor and get his certificate of fitness and then 'phone the chairman, M. R. Reid, or write to him, c-o Box 279 Napanee, and arrangements will be made for transportation.

Magistrate's Court

On Thursday, a young woman resident of South Napanee, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Garvin, to the theft of six dollars from a young man resident of the same locality. Part of the money was used to pay for a pair of shoes, and $2.86 of the balance was not spent. The girl was given a suspended sentence of one month, after being held in custody for a week, and the unexpended money and the shoes were handed over to the young man from whom the money was stolen.

Magistrate Garvin, in Napanee Police Court on Monday afternoon, granted an adjournment until Thursday, November 12th, in the case of Daniel Rogers, who is charged with assaulting Archie Graham.

British and Axis tanks were reported engaged in a terrific battle in the Egyptian desert, which appeared to be going in favor of the British.

The Japanese succeeded in landing more troops at Guadalcanal in a position east of the United States positions, causing a grave threat to the defenders.

The R. A. F. engaged in bombing sorties over Italy and also attacked Western German centres, in daylight.

THURSDAY —

Reports from Egypt indicated that the British Eighth Army had Rommel's Axis forces on the run in complete disorder. The Axis were said to have lost 9,000 prisoners, 600 planes, 260 tanks and 50,000 tons of shipping in the twelve-day fight. The German second - in - command, General VonStumme, was also reported killed.

German attacks on all Russian fronts were said to have been stopped by the Red Army. Successes were reported by the Russians in the Black Sea sector and northwest of Stalingrad. In the Caucasus the Nazis were repulsed by the Reds.

At Guadalcanal the United States land forces made new gains, along the beaches of the Islands thereby diminishing the Japanese threat to the vital Henderson airfield.

FRIDAY —

The Axis Army, under General Rommel was reported completely routed and was being hunted like jackrabbits by the pursuing Allied forces. Field Marshal Montgomery declared "complete victory is in our sight." Axis losses were estimated at 40,000 so far, besides an immense amount of equipment. Due to the fact that not one Axis tanker had been allowed to reach Rommel's supply lines across the Mediterranean in the past six months, the Axis army was said to be very short of fuel. Other supply movement was being hindered by the continued action of the Allied Air Force.

United States troops were reported carrying on successful engagements east and west of the airdrome at Guadalcanal.

The Nazis renewed attacks on Stalingrad, throwing in heavy reserve forces which were continually mowed down by the Russian defenders of the city.

As a result, the force of diplomatic relations with the United States. The movement of the large U. S. force to Africa is looked upon as the opening phase of a new Allied offensive.

The battered remnants of Rommel's North African army, said to number only 20,000 of the original 140,000 were still being pursued by the Allies and had been pushed back between Matruh and the Egyptian-Libyan border. The Italian part of the Axis force was reported to have been completely abandoned by Rommel.

Allied forces in New Guinea have now occupied all of Papua except the Buna-Gona beach area. On Guadalcanal the United States troops continued to advance eastward against the Japs.

General Giraud, noted French soldier, has arrived in Algeria and joined up with General Giraud will organize the French North African Army against the Axis.

Rommel, in his flight, was reported to have outgeneraled the British, who have been hindered somewhat by desert mud. But if Rommel succeeds in reaching Tripoli it is quite possible he would have the United States to contend with.

Reports from Russia indicate the Soviet armies were standing fast on all sectors of the front.

The United States forces advanced again eastward at Guadalcanal in the Solomons.

A SECRET WELL KEPT

An invasion of the dimensions of that which was carried out by the American troops in Africa on Saturday, must have been planned a long time ahead. Hundreds of people must have been "in the know." And yet the secret was well kept. The continual demand for a second front, coupled with the large scale raid by the Canadians at Dieppe, completely deceived the enemy. It is not apparent that the Axis powers had plans to meet the attack by the Americans. It was admirably planned and brilliantly executed.

The training of the men seems to have fitted them to perfection for the arduous task of seizing French Africa. There was plenty of modern equipment of all sorts. There appears to have been the most accurate timing. The co-ordination between the land, sea and air forces left nothing to be desired.

With this landing the grand strategy of the United Nations becomes clear. The plan is to knock out the weakest partner in the Axis group. Italy is undoubtedly that partner. The Italian people are the traditional friends of Great Britain and the United States. They have never been as enthusiastic in their present relations as Hitler would have liked. Coming into the war when France was tottering, in order to benefit by what seemed an easy victory, and a speedily conducted war, the army and air force have fought with desperation, but only when accompanied by their German overlords and mentors.

Prime Minister Churchill once said to Mussolini, "We will tear your African Empire to shreds and tatters." Once North Africa has been conquered, that threat will virtually be fulfilled. That accomplished, the United Nations will be in an admirable position to deliver the knock-out blow to Italy itself. It is well, however, not to assume that this will be a walkover. The Germans will come to the aid of their hard-pressed partner, not that Hitler and his cohorts have any love for the Italian people, but because it will be to their own advantage to do so.

But the more men and munitions Germany diverts from other areas of war, the more those theatres are weakened, the greater the danger from the United Nations opposing them. Germany has made her phenomenal success to date, by concentrating at her power at one point at a time. As soon as Hitler has to scatter his forces, he will be on the defensive. The tactical position of his military machine will be completely reversed, and his whole strategy of war, built on the principle of "the blitz" will have to be revised.

The war has entered a new stage. Many things obscure a little while ago, now become clear. That General Smuts came all the way from South Africa to make the speech he made in London, is now seen to be part of the general plan. Here was a man, once the leader of an army against Britain, making the announcement that defensive operations were about over. That he is from Africa, is itself significant, in that the preparations for the second front were to be made in that continent.

The road to ultimate defeat of the Axis will be a long and difficult one, but the United Nations are now on the march, well equipped, well trained and well led for the fray.

A GREAT SUCCESS

The War Loan has been oversubscribed. This is more gratifying in view of the heavy income tax payments which every citizen is paying. This district went well over its objective. The Lennox and Addington allocation was $650,000. The amount subscribed was $904,950. Napanee's allocation was $200,000 and the amount subscribed was $362,750. All across Canada the same results were achieved.

To be sure, a good rate of interest was offered, as interest rates go these days. And the security was the whole Dominion, the best possible in days of insecurity, so that it is perhaps arguable that the subscriber was not altogether moved by unselfish motives. Nevertheless the money was poured out and the war effort will be helped no matter what the motives of the investor may have been.

The success of the Loan is evidence of the great amount of money that is in the hands of the people. In rural areas like our own, farm prices are better than they have been for many years. Consequently, it is spent in the stores and all share in the prosperity. In the cities and manufacturing areas, there are more people at work than ever before, and wages are higher than they have been for years past. So that in those places, too, there is a great wartime boom. Money is plentiful and well distributed.

Never again ought it to be possible to argue that there is not enough money available for this or that public service. We are learning, under the changed economy of the present time that it is possible to keep money in circulation and at work, keep people employed and contented. The money system may be intricate and a mystery to the common man, but he knows now, well enough, when money is needed, it can be secured. Where is comes from originally or how it is manipulated and controlled, he does not know, nor does he care much, but he knows well enough that money can be made available when needed. This we doubt not, he will remember.

EDUCATING FOR DEMOCRACY

This week is "Education Week" in Canada and The United States. During the week school teachers and educators all across Canada will stress the need for education. They will urge a better understanding of the educators' work by the parents of children at school.

The modern methods of propaganda are such that a whole nation may be completely changed within one generation. This has been tragically demonstrated in modern Germany.

The schools and educators in the Democracies are waking up to the necessity of understanding these new methods and of meeting them. In this effort to match the success of the Totalitarian Countries, the teachers will need an enlightened public opinion. Too long, the main interest of the average citizen in the schools has been to grumble if his children did not get through quick enough or to protest against the amount of money spent on education.

But the challenge of the newer ideologies has made people think a little more deeply about the things which so long they had taken for granted. Democracy was one of these. Children in the school were given little or no vital drilling in the place of Democracy in the world. Few who graduated from our High Schools and Collegiates, knew much about the way of life for which Democracy stands. But that is one thing much end. Children, it is true, must learn the three "R's" but they must, from the earliest days, learn, even more, formation ideas, and more character building concepts. If we are fighting for Democracy, then we must all know what Democracy means. Is it the right to vote, which right great masses of people ignore; is it the right to worship which many people never avail themselves of; is it the right to say what one pleases without let or hindrance, which most people approve of heartily. Is that all? Has Democracy nothing to say about unemployment, economic security, the right to work, the right to play, the right to good food and good living conditions?

Before we begin to teach the children that Democracy is a better form of life than that of Germany and Russia and Italy, we who are older and in whose hands the education of youth has been placed, had better just clarify our own ideas on this subject. This being done, a programme, as clear-cut and definite as that of the Nazis decided upon, then the schools should go full steam ahead and drill it into the children with their spelling, arithmetic, their botany—in short, in every subject taught in the schools.

If Education Week does nothing more than arouse public opinion to the problem confronting educators, it will have been justified.

Editorial Notes

ALL OVER AGAIN

Just as we were nicely used to Russian place names such as Stalingrad, Nalchik, Mozdok, Grozny, Ordzhonikidze, and Egyptian and Libyan ones like Bug-Bug, Fuka, Mersa Matruh, Sidi Barrani and Sidi Omar, we have got to learn a whole batch of new ones: Tripolitania, Tunisia, Agidar, Safri, Algiers, Rabat, Casablanca, Bizerti, Boujie.

This is a tough way of learning geography which was a hard enough subject, any way. — It is an awful war.

BRITAIN DOES ITS SHARE IN LEND - LEASE

Lend-lease is a two-way street. The recent conclusion of reciprocal aid agreements between the United States and Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Fighting France indicates that.

Here are some of the goods and services Britain is supplying to the United States under reciprocal lend-lease.

British corvettes, some officered, manned by British crews and, some handed over to American crews, are engaged in anti-submarine work in American waters and in the Caribbean under United States Naval Command. The Admiralty has also assigned British destroyers and trawlers for duty in United States waters. They are officered and manned by men of the Royal Navy, but are under American command.

British ships are being used to transport American troops, and British convoy protection is provided for United States troop ships.

Units of the R. A. F. Coastal Command and participating in anti-submarine work in American waters.

Repairs for damaged American warships and merchant ships are unlisted to overtax United Kingdom repair and British ports in all parts of the world. Ships' stores, docking facilities, fuel, water, harbor and pilot services are also provided for the Americans.

Spitfires have been handed over to the United States Army Air Force, R.A.F. aid is given in training American flyers to fly British planes and to fly under the special conditions of European air warfare.

Many R.A.F. airdromes have been turned over to the United States Army. Material and building labor for American airdromes in Britain are supplied by the British.

Gasoline for United States ferry planes is provided by Britain at Iceland and desert airdromes.

Barrage balloons have been sent from Britain to the United States West Coast, and British anti-aircraft guns to the East Coast of the United States.

Specifications of British military inventions, and a quantity of other technical information have been made available for American use.

The equipment and tools of a complete anti-aircraft gun barrel factory, and also for a shell factory, were sent from England for setting up in the United States.

Spare parts are supplied for United States Army motor vehicles.

British bombsights and naval guns with ammunition have been supplied to the United States Army.

Britain has built the cantonments, bases, headquarters and storage facilities for American forces. This task has engaged 250,000 men, including 28,000 building workers who had to be deferred from the draft in July to speed up the work.

A depot covering 900 acres, with 1,500,000 square feet of floor space, has been turned over to American forces, complete with its operating staff of 5,000 British personnel. Two other big repair depots are now being built by Britain and are nearly completed.

NAPANEE ASSESSOR PRESENTS RREPORT ASSESSORS' CONVENTION

M. P. Graham, Assessor of Napanee, presented the following report of the recently held Assessors' Convention, at the last meeting of the Napanee Town Council:—

MR. GRAHAM'S REPORT

I was instructed by the Council of the Town of Napanee to attend the first meeting of the Association of the Province of Ontario, held at Toronto on the 19th and 20th inst. There were over two hundred assessors from all parts of the Province in attendance, together with a number of mayors, reeves and clerks from several municipalities.

This organization has been formed for three specific reasons, namely:

First .To instruct assessors in the more advanced methods of assessing.

Second. To offer the opportunity for assessors to discuss the many problems confronting them in carrying out this work.

Third. As a result of these discussions to recommend to the Legislature, through the Department of Municipal Affairs, certain changes in the Assessment Act, and to bring the Act up to date to meet present day conditions.

The Department of Municipal Affairs of the Province of Ontario is sponsor of this organization and has assisted in the preliminary organization.

The first business of the convention was the adoption of a constitution and certain articles for the direction of the elected officers of the Association.

The Executive Committee is composed of a president, three vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, and twelve chairmen selected from districts and, chairman was selected from each district.

It will be the duty of the chairmen of these districts to call a meeting of the Assessors from their respective districts and at these meetings a discussion of the desired changes in the present Assessment Act will take place and the suggested changes will be forwarded to the Executive of the Association, who will in turn consider such recommendations and where found desirable and practicable, present same to the Legislature for consideration.

During the discussions and addresses many defects in the present Assessment Act were revealed, some of which were of special interest to the larger centres, others to towns and still others to townships.

Lack of Uniformity

One of the outstanding points of discussion was the present lack of uniformity of assessment within the boundaries of counties. Mr. Gray, Deputy Minister of the Department of Municipal Affairs, in his address, especially dealt with this situation and stressed the pressing need of this state of affairs being corrected. It is said that the Assessors in most Counties are paid so little for their work, that all that can be expected from them is to copy the assessment roll, and further, the amount of remuneration the Assessor will receive bring forth the best fitted men for this very important work. He further pointed out that, while it might not be from ten to thirty assessors in a county, none of them used the same yard stick in arriving at their assessments, with the result that there was total lack of uniformity of assessments.

As a result of this lack of uniformity of assessment, appeals against assessments within counties was most frequent, and almost impossible to arrive at, and equalization proceedings before Courts were continually being carried over from year to year, at a cost the Tax Payer a lot of money and it is practically impossible to arrive at any equitable equalization and the only cure for this situation is a proper and uniform assessment. Once this is accomplished there should be no trouble over equalization as the assessment roll of each municipality would be the amount used to establish the equalized assessment of the county.

The Department is now striving to amend the present Act to this end and the Association of Assessors is pressing for the same object and in framing the necessary legislation.

The recognized proper procedure for assessing was outlined by Mr. Gray and was explained in full detail. Many demonstrations in the Province have applied these advanced methods of assessing but a very large majority were still carrying on in the old hit and miss manner.

Need For Competent Men

One of the outstanding difficulties is to secure men who have the proper training to carry out Assessments on the advanced methods as outlined by Mr. Gray, and it may be necessary to establish a central school, or schools in districts, to educate men for counties to direct the assessment and proper methods of assessing.

An interesting address was given by a representative of the Treasury by ressing Department, dealing with Tax Exemptions. As a preface to his remarks I am quoting two clauses from his address, as follows:

There is a large fee which we pay out money for which we receive as much in return as that paid in taxes. For it we obtain education, protection of lives and property, and the opportunity to pursue our calling and to secure those things which make life worth living . We do not think so much about spending a few dollars for government, as we grumble on our automobile, nor do we think anything about educating our families to receive entertainment and spending a dollar or two every week, but the moment we are able to do so. Yet, when we are asked to contribute the same amount for the support of the staff of 5,000 British personnel. Two other big repair depots are now being built by Britain and are nearly completed.

Assessment is the very foundation of our taxing system. It is the first step in the problem of taxation. It is our observation that people generally do not take the assessment of their property seriously. When you think a little on the first thing you see to is that you have a good foundation on which to place it. So too with taxation. We must have proper foundation—which is the assessment.

Large Amount of Property Exempt From Taxation

The speaker pointed out that on an average about 25 per cent. of the total assessment of a city or town was exempt from taxation. If we check up this statement with the Town of Napanee we will find that the total assessment including exempted property in Napanee is $2,350,000 and the statutory exempted properties is $550,000 or about 25 per cent. as stated by the speaker.

The statutory exempted property covers eleven classifications and six of them are applicable in the Town of Napanee, namely :

1. Places of Worship.
2. Schools.
3. Municipally owned Utilities having their own revenues.
4. Cemetery Property.
5. County Property.
6. Exemptions for Business Assessment of Railways and Express Companies.

It was pointed out that a religious organization might rent a property and pay rent for same, but though the owner received rent he could claim exemption from taxation on the grounds that the property was used for religious purposes. We have a case of this in Napanee and when I was approached to exempt this property from taxation I took the matter up with the Town Solicitor and he advised me that under the present Assessment Act the owner was entitled to exemption from taxation. A definite resolution was passed at the convention requesting the Legislature to correct this situation.

Another point brought up for discussion was that of families who live in exempted properties and have or have had children going to school who pay nothing towards the education of their children, and the burden of educating these children falls on the shoulders of the property owners who pay taxes. As a matter of fact we have five such cases in Napanee.

As a further example all exempted properties are extended fire and police protection, roads ade kept up for the use of people using said properties are lighted and all these expenses fall back on the shoulders of the tax paying property owner. Take as an example, the County Buildings, Court House and Gaol. These buildings are used for the purposes of the whole County, yet not one cent is paid towards the services the Town supplies and Mr. Average Tax Payer in the Town has to carry the burden.

Numerous suggestions were offered, some suggested that no exemptions from taxation should be allowed on any property, others thought at least the buildings should be assessed and the buildings assessed for school purposes. What final recommendations will be presented to the Legislature are still in the making and no doubt this whole question will receive careful consideration.

Unusual Problems Face Municipalities

Under present war conditions many municipalities are faced with unusual problems. Where we have been established the expanded in a municipality there has been an influx of people looking homes to rent and in some homes to buy. The result is that while there is a ceiling on rentals there is no ceiling on sales, in fact it is quite clear that a number of properties that have been sold at a price well above the actual value. There are many reasons for this situation.

The question was raised whether the assessors should consider their standards of values in this situation and make a change in the assessment, or should they disregard present conditions or should assessments be based on a normal condition? In the event of a general increase in such assessments the result would be a increase in the tax rate for the time being, but after the war is over the value of property would be reduced and the assessor would then be faced with the necessity of lowering assessments with the result that the tax rate would have to be increased to even pertain the revenue. This would come from the district where when the number attending was smaller and definite conclusions will be arrived at which can be put in the form of recommendations to the General Executive at the District Meetings assessors from townships and towns will meet face to face and if an honest effort is made a real step forward should result in the discussions and many problems in connection between rural and urban districts should be solved.

MARK P. GRAHAM.

Another Old Buildin Torn Down

One of the oldest buildings in the central part of Napanee, the frame store and dwelling on Dundas Street, next to K. S. Hawley's office, formerly owned by the late Nicholas Carscallen, has been sold and the salvage material is being removed by Mr. H. W. Vine, who recently purchased the property.

The building has been vacant for the death of Mr. Carscallen about two years ago. It had not been in very bad state of repair and looked quite as "more or less" a menace. It was one of the very few frame structures left standing in the town's business section. Years ago it was occupied by several different people as a grocery store, and in past few years was used as a residence by Nicholas Carscallen until he was removed to a home in Kingston a short time before his death.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, NOVEMBER 15TH, 1942

"THINGS THAT MAR FAMILY LIFE"

Matthew 5: 31, 32. Luke 12: 13-15.

There are many things which mar the family. Today's lesson suggests three — jealousy, infidelity and greed. Jacob's jealousy of Esau's position as eldest son and head of the house. By a trick fostered by his mother and cleverly carried out, Jacob stole the place which rightfully belonged to Esau.

In the second section Jesus indicates infidelity as the sole cause of divorcement. In this statement is a much debated one, for the other two passages in the Gospel which deal with this matter are different from this and each different from the other. The teacher and student should look up these passages and note the differences.

Luke's passage there is trouble in a family because one thinks that another's share in life is more than his share by his father's more favored treatment.

There are three causes of discontent in the family home. It is hardly possible to separate their relative force as disruptive agencies. Perhaps the first, in its particular instance, has little application to the modern home. Per one of us have to worry much as to which member of the family is to become the official head of the clan. Conditions in the family organization or families are different than they were in a simpler form of society. But the underlying cause is none the less disruptive today than it was three thousand years ago. When jealousy creeps into a house life, whether that be jealousy between husband and wife, or jealousy between children, there is bound to be difficulty. The every other disruptive influence, this can be overcome only by some powerful one. When love prevails there is no room for jealousy.

Infidelity is another disruptive force. It is unnecessary to elaborate that. It is self-evident. The important thing for us to do as students of this subject is to find out the causes of this condition. There are, of course many. The present war with its terrible strain on human beings, with its emotional disturbance, and the broken homes due to the war demands, is one of the conditions which social workers are faced with in an increasingly present way. There are ways in which this can be prevented or, at least minimized. Churches, schools, social agencies of all sorts, can promote healthy recreation and social outlet for soldiers and for those left behind. Today's lesson suggests that a good purpose can do much to keep the home life pure and healthy. During the present crisis the hearts of those overseas by what the right sort of ability from those from the community who are aware and so maintaining those social contacts on which a permanent home alone, depends.

Then there is greed. Perhaps this is a cause of disharmony in the home from which we may more familiarly observed. How often, after the will has been read, children fall over the inheritance. How did they think he got as much as he did? Many a father gets home things which he did not want and did not like the things he expected, and which he felt entitled to. There is estrangement and family feuds and disharmony.

There is no way to eliminate these by the right spirit in the home. Parents must be careful in what they are doing things, and one can never be sure that they will succeed in the last will, do exactly what each one would want. A spirit of love and kindness, a spirit of real humility is the only condition which will make for peace and harmony under any situation. This can be created where religion prevails, where there is a real spirit of gentleness present. Parents can't prevent any that mars both, both in their relations to the family and to each other. They can, by bringing up children in the spirit and admonition of the Lord.

Of course, there are other conditions which will help to prevent deception, neglect, and absence of the kindness of personality. It is easy to have a happy home with strong personalities, each of which has a happy home life, and the home is the basis of the nation it is evident the prime need in this day is a new and deepened respect for religion in the home.

By TAP KEYES

The sharp-eyed guard at the private entrance of the studio had looked me over as though I was a fifth columnist and he a secret service man. Motion picture studios are harder to crash than the payoff of a crooked politician. Then the guard spotted my host, Art Arthur, and waved us in.

Art Arthur is the swashbuckling writer from Toronto whose most recent writing stint was "Sun Valley Serenade." His current picture is "Priorities on Parade" and the one he's working on at the moment is Paramount's "Canadian Capers" a Dick Powell-Mary Martin musical. Arthur has just been made chairman of Hollywood's new canteen, where the stars entertain, wash dishes and sweep floors so that 2,000 servicemen may enjoy themselves.

So now Arthur and I stood facing the largest small building in the world.

This two-storey Tudor edifice faces Berlin's Unter den Linden and stretches from London's Piccadilly Circus to Madrid's Castelnuova. That's what the street signs read. Yet this was Movietone City, which covers an area of 225 acres.

Bus this is Hollywood. Anything can happen in Hollywood.

Hollywood is the Utopia of the writer—the lavish ground floor below the ivory tower or comfortless garret of literary tradition. Writers find their greatest financial appreciation here.

Versatility and craftsmanship are supreme. The writer is expected to fall in with the latest subject cycle, be it child fantasy or racketeering. The incompetent soon finds himself in the warm but dreary world outside the gates. Cleverness at a certain theme will chain you to it until public demand dies out.

An artistic soul and freedom of expression are worth only what they assay at the cubicle in front of the theatre. On the building one reads: "A Play Ought to Be the Image of Human Nature for the Delight and Instruction of Mankind."

That still holds good, even if the emphasis is on "Delight" rather than "Instruction."

I had caught up with Arthur on a slow day. After lunch in the commissary amid soldiers, prospectors, pirates, etc., we took to strolling through the studio's ghost towns. We passed a building used in the making of "In Old Chicago." I was surprised to find it constructed of real bricks.

"No," said Mr. Arthur. "Yes," I insisted. Mr. Arthur wears glasses. I don't. We bet. I lost. The "brick" surface was a pattern.

Soon we came to some actors killing time between takes of Arthur's opus for the Ritz Brothers, "Kentucky Moonshine."—One was rehearsing a tippling hillbilly. "Who is he?" I asked. "John Carradine," replied Art. "Impossible," said I. "Absolutely," said Arthur. We bet again. I lost again.

You just can't be a wise guy in Hollywood.

Returning, we pounded along a cobblestone roadway in an old French village. "Amazing," I said charily. "Once real these fake stones seem." Mr. Arthur laughed scornfully. "They are real," said he. "No," I said stubbornly. There were but two things to do—find out bet. We bet.

This time I had him. The cobblestones were phoney, having been designed on a bed of concrete.

Then Arthur went to where he had parked his car. An angry studio policeman was waiting for him. "You know what a fire can mean around here," he boiled. "Have you no more sense than to park in front of a hydrant for hours?"

"I thought," replied Mr. Arthur sheepishly, "that it was a prop."

You just can't be a wise guy in Hollywood. Or did I say that before?

OPERATIONS IN MADAGASCAR TO PROTECT SUPPLIES

BY BRIGADIER GENERAL H. S. SEWELL

The object of the operations which British forces are carrying out in Madagascar is to deny the Axis the use of bases or facilities anywhere on the island. Diego Suarez, the important naval base at the northern end of the island, was occupied last May to prevent the Japanese from taking possession of Madagascar on some pretext similar to that which they used when they seized French Indo-China ten months before.

With Diego Suarez in their hands, the Allies were in a position to control the western half of the Indian Ocean. No attempt was made then to do more than occupy the port and the surrounding country. The British Government had hoped that the Governor-General of Madagascar would allow the British Command to take such steps as they considered necessary to guard against Axis activity elsewhere on the island. The attitude of the Vichy Government, however, instructions the Governor-General follows, made it clear, however, that the British requirements would not be achieved by peaceful means.

The Government of the United States has associated itself with the action of the British Government in a statement which was published at the same time as the British announcement of the new operations in Madagascar. The Allies are in full accord and the military problem is simple. Both American and British statements recognize that Madagascar will remain French.

Allied strategy is based on the primary need to keep shipping lanes open. The North Atlantic route from the United States and Canada to the British Isles is the most important of all supply lines, and around it has been fought the Battle of the Atlantic, which started in September, 1939, and will not end until the war is decided.

Second in importance to the North Atlantic route comes the supply line from the United States and the British Isles round the Cape of Good Hope to the Middle East and Egypt and to Russia from the South. After passing Capetown the ships which make these voyages turn north up the east coast of Africa and pass through the Mozambique Channel between Africa and Madagascar.

SHIP SINKINGS FORCED ACTION

Japanese submarines have been operating in the Mozambique Channel, and only recently the Comoro Islands, at the northern end of the passage, were occupied by the British.

The present operations are being carried out by troops from the British Isles, South Africa and East Africa, and the South African Air Force. General Sir William Dobbie, who led the forces that stormed the Italian stronghold of Keren in Eritrea, is in command of the expedition. Landings, covered by three naval squadrons, were made on a small island near Ambania and at Majunga and Morondava on the west coast. It appears that it was largely due to naval co-operation, and to the domination of sea power, that the troops were able to establish themselves on shore without meeting serious opposition.

At the time of writing, British columns are reported to be moving by various routes towards the interior, and towards the seat of government at Tananarive.

The coastal area is low-lying, hot and steamy, with rank tropical jungle, but most of the island is on a plateau three to four thousand feet above sea level. Since their conquest of Madagascar in 1885, the French have constructed over 15,000 miles of roads. There are only 500 miles of single-traffic, narrow gauge railway, and the capital is linked by raid with the port of Tamatave on the east coast.

The best main road leading from Majunga to Tananarive is open, all seasons, and has only two bridges across the river Betsiboka. Some of the other roads are metalled, but most of them are of earth and can be used only in the dry season.

The Madagascar operation has demonstrated the steps which the Allied Command are prepared to take to safeguard the lifeline to the armies in the Middle East, India and South Russia. All of these are equally affected by this operation in the South Indian Ocean.

Allied air communications to these important areas traverse Africa from west to east, north of the Equator. The air routes from America and England converge on Bathurst, and from Bathurst regular air traffic proceeds by Lagos to El Fasher and Khartoum. From Khartoum the main route proceeds north to Cairo," and from there to the Middle East, Russia and India.

"It is not enough to merely win the war be won. You must actually do something about it so that the job can be done."—Philip Murray.

V. O. N. PRESIDENT FROM BELLEVILLE SPEAKS AT NAPANEE

At an open meeting of the Napanee Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses, held on Monday afternoon, the members and visitors were addressed by Mr. Franklin, President of the Belleville Branch of the Order, who is also bursar at Albert College.

Mr. Franklin spoke on "Some factors in building a healthier race in Canada." Previous to his address, Miss Dawson, area supervisor, spoke briefly and Miss Docker, the local nurse, gave her report for the month. Mr. Franklin was introduced by Mrs. W. A. Ashley, the president of the branch and a vote of thanks was extended to the speaker by Rev. G. M. Childerhose and Mrs. A. B. Medd. Rev. A. C. McLellan conducted the devotional opening exercises.

Mr. Franklin stated that as a result of the startling facts concerning the physical condition of Canada's young men, revealed when only sixty per cent. of the first 50,000 men called up for military service, were found to be in Class A1, medical authorities came to the conclusion that there must have been a serious lack of medical attention when the men were children. Rigid physical examinations are given men admitted to the armed services, because only the most fit are capable of handling the highly developed machines used in the present war.

It has become apparent that, in the case of many children, the essential rules of health are not being observed. Mr. Franklin observed that the Dominion Government should start an all-out programme on how to achieve a healthy race in Canada. At present, he said, there are not enough laws in the country that will help people to achieve good health. Ontario lacks a law which would compel physical examination before marriage. Such a law, Mr. Franklin said, would prevent much misery and suffering.

The speaker said that the best facilities for pre - natal care should be available to all expectant mothers and that post-natal care for the mother and child should be continued for some time. He also spoke of the importance of inoculation against communicable diseases and pointed out the advances that had been made in that field. Mr. Franklin said that pre-school attention of children and regular check-up during school years should be compulsory.

In conclusion Mr. Franklin said the soundest of all social objectives is the health of the people and he added that necessary laws to that end will be passed when the people demand them.

OBITUARY

JENIA DAVIS PRINGLE
(Contributed)

In the early hours of Friday evening, October 30, at Kingston, Jenia Davis, beloved wife of Mark Pringle and dear mother of Hattie and Donald, entered into rest after a lengthy illness. Born in the Richmond Township, she was the only daughter of Nancy Clarke and Jeff Davis, and with the exception of a few years in Toronto, spent most of her life in this district. She was taken ill about twelve years ago, but continued to attend to her household duties until about a year ago, when the task became too strenuous for her rapidly failing health. Jenia was of a lovable and happy disposition, and made many friends wherever she went. Her happiest times were when her relatives or friends gathered at her home where they were always assured of a hearty welcome. She led a beautiful Christian life, and as long as health permitted, she attended Pentecostal services. Besides her aged father and mother, she leaves to mourn her loss her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Luman McCutcheon (Hattie), and a son, Donald, one sister, Mrs. R. J. Waite (Lena) all of Selby, and a brother, Leighton, of West Plain, and four grandchildren.

Her funeral took place from Vanluven & Wartman funeral home on Sunday afternoon, and was very largely attended. Service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Woodlin, assisted by Rev. Mr. McCracken and Rev. Mr. Rabbie. The hymn sung was Rock of Ages, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman sang, In the Sweet Bye and Bye.

The floral offerings were many and were a silent tribute of love and esteem. The pall-bearers were six cousins of the deceased: E. Robinson, C. Bradshaw, George Robinson, Clarence Bradshaw, L. Davis and Carman Davis.

WEDDING BELLS

MANION - MANION

On Saturday morning, November 7th, 1942, the Church of St. Patrick, Napanee, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Dean Leacy united in marriage Margaret Catherine, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Manion, Selby, to Patrick Edward Manion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Manion, Ardoch. Prof. Lucien Nourry, organist of St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston, presided at the organ, and during the nuptial mass rendered several appropriate instrumental selections.

Given in marriage by her brother, Gerald Manion, the bride was beautifully gowned in a floor-length white sheer dress with finger-tip veil and her bouquet was Butterfly roses. She carried a pearl rosary, a gift from the groom. The bridesmaid, Eileen Manion, sister of the bride, was attired in a floor-length pink sheer dress with shoulder-length veil and carried a colonial bouquet. She wore a lovely bracelet, a gift from the groom.

The groom was attended by his brother, Pte. Evert Manion, Ottawa. The ushers were Pte. Leo Manion, Ottawa, brother of the bride, and Francis Manion, Selby, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony, the bridal party, with their immediate relatives and friends, returned to the bride's home, where dinner was served to forty guests.

Later in the afternoon the happy couple left for Ottawa for a short honeymoon, the bride travelling in a smart forest green dress, with black coat and accessories to match. Upon their return they will leave for Niagara Falls, where they will reside.

LINES TO WAR CENTRES ARE ESPECIALLY BUSY

Long distance calls to most points still go through at accustomed speed. But if you are trying to reach a key war centre, chances are that you may encounter some delay. Telephone routes to such areas are the most congested in Canada.

Naturally, we would build more lines if we could. But the materials that go into telephone equipment have been drafted for direct war purposes. We must get along with what we have.

And we can—provided you keep your long distance calls brief and make them, whenever possible, in off-peak hours . . . provided above all, that you avoid all unnecessary calls over routes which your experience shows to be congested with war calls.

When possible, use these OFF-PEAK HOURS:
Before 9 a.m.; 12-2 p.m.; 5-7 p.m.; after 8.30 p.m.

The Late Mrs. William Clayton

After a short illness, the death occurred at her home in South Napanee on Thursday, November 5th, of Mrs. William Clayton. She was in her 83rd year and had been in failing health for some time, but was seriously ill only a few days.

Mrs. Clayton had lived for many years in the home where she died and was well known and very highly regarded by a large circle of friends. She had been almost a life-long member of Grace United Church and was a woman of the finest Christian character.

Mrs. Clayton, before her marriage, was Alice Hester Bowen and was the last surviving member of the family of several children of Mr. and Mrs. David Bowen. She was born in North Fredericksburgh near Bib Creek and had lived in and around Napanee all her lifetime. She and Mr. Clayton celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary a year ago last January.

She is survived by her husband one daughter, Mrs. Alex. Mitchell, of Brockville, and one granddaughter.

Her funeral was conducted at Grace United Church by Rev. C. D. McLellan, and following the funeral service interment was made at Morven Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. C. A. Wagenah, B. M. Black, G. F. Smith, F. B. Elliott, Wellington Warner, and Fred Mellow.

"Your daughter has a great many admirers," said Mrs. Wilkins.

"Oh, yes," replied Mrs. Bilkins, "she puts nearly all her window curtains on the rods with her old engagement rings."

WEDDING BELLS

REID - SILVER

Miss Audrie Aileen Silver, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silver of Hay Bay, and Howard Roy Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy H. Reid, Odessa, were united in marriage at the Bay Parsonage, South Napanee, Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. A. C. McCallum officiating. The bride was becomingly attired in a two-piece suit of royal blue crepe with navy accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses and mums.

Mrs. K. E. Valentyne, sister of the bride, matron of honor, was attired in a two-piece green wool suit, with rust accessories, and wore a corsage of roses.

Mr. K. E. Valentyne acted as best man. The groom's gift to the maid-of-honor was a lovely costume brooch and to the best man, a leather billfold.

Amid showers of confetti and good wishes, the happy couple left by motor for Western points. On their return they will reside at Morven.

For travelling the bride wore a black coat trimmed with sable fur.

Mrs. Silver is one of the popular young people in the Hay Bay district and received many good wishes from her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silver were in attendance at the ceremony.

WEDDING BELLS

McTAGGART - HISTED

A very pretty autumn wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Histed, Desoronto, on Wednesday afternoon, November 4, at 3:00 o'clock, when their younger daughter, Lallie Minola, was united in marriage to William Grady McTaggart, son of Mrs. McTaggart and the late J. F. McTaggart of Napanee. The rooms were tastefully decorated in pink and white, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. E. P. Laird, of the Pentecostal Church, under a large silver bell and pink and white streamers. Mrs. A. Dennis, Prescott, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music and during the signing of the register, played softly "I Love You Truly."

The fatth-haired bride entered the living-room leaning on the arm of her father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of turquoise triple sheer, with finger tip veil of white tulle, held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of tea roses, orange blossoms and maiden-hair fern. She was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Percy E. Histed, of Camden East, as matron of honor, who wore a becoming dress of heaven blue crepe, with corsage of ping roses and a sprig of roses in her hair.

The groom was attended by Mr. Clarence Taylor, of Napanee. Mrs. Histed, mother of the bride, received her guests, wearing a teal blue crepe dress with corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore black sheer with corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony and congratulations a sumptuous dinner was served by girl friends of the bride. The table, covered with a lace cloth, had as a centre piece, a large three-tiered wedding cake, with pink candle at each end of the table.

Later, the bride and groom left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Picton, where they will spend a short honeymoon. The bride travelled in a beige and brown two-piece dress, green coat and brown accessories.

Many beautiful and costly gifts were received which show the high esteem in which the young couple are held, and they have the best wishes of many friends for a long and successful wedded life.

Sudden Death John A. Young

The dead body of Mr. John A. Young, Conway, was found in his duck boat on Saturday, by his nephews Borden and Arnold Young, near Mr. Young's hunting lodge on Hay Bay. Mr. Young, who had been living with his son, Beattie Young, since the death of his wife, six years ago, had been away at his hunting lodge for several days and had not been seen since sometime on Wednesday, when he had been hunting with his brother. Saturday, the two young men started out to look for their uncle and saw his boat, apparently unoccupied. On investigation they discovered Mr. Young dead. It is no certain how long Mr. Young had been dead, but his death probably occurred on Thursday or Friday, as the result of a heart attack. Coroner Dr. F. C. Wilson stated that was possible Mr. Young had been dead for two days.

Mr. Young, who was in his 78th year, was born in South Fredericksburgh and was a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Young. All his lifetime he followed the vocation of farming and retired a few years ago after the death of his wife.

He leaves one son, Maurice H. Young, clerk of the Township of South Fredericksburgh; one daughter, Mrs. Merton Mellow, Bath; two brothers, Wesley Young and Perry Young, South Fredericksburgh; and a sister, Mrs. Robert Asselstine, of Yarker.

His funeral was conducted by Rev. Kenneth J. Crawford, at Conway United Church, on Monday afternoon.

USE OF METAL CANS CURBED

180,000,000 LESS TO BE USED, OTTAWA RULES

Ottawa, (C.P.) Limitation of commodities which may be packed in metal containers is provided for in a prices board order announced last week, which the board estimated would mean roughly 180,000,000 less tin cans would be used than were used last year.

The order, issued by Leslie Burrows, administrator of metal containers, provides that only "certain essential commodities" now may be packed in metal, and it also restricts the quantity and sizes of permitted containers.

L. R. Stephens, assistant to the administrator of metal containers, said small size cans will disappear and glass and fibre containers will replace tins for many food products under the board order.

Purpose of the restrictions is to conserve supplies of scarce metals for war purposes. A saving of 60,000 tons on 1941 consumption is estimated by the board as a result of the new restrictions alone. Previous restrictions included the prohibition from June 30 last, of the use of tinplate containers for packing and preserving pork and beans, baked beans, spaghetti, macaroni and vermicelli.

The new order, said the board, means that Canadian manufacturers will have to provide containers of glass, fibre, paper or other substitute materials in place of approximately 180,000,000 tins cans used last year for various products ordinarily marketed in metal packages.

The board said the main products for which metal containers now may not be manufactured, or used after January 31, include baking powder, coffee, honey, paint, syrups, edible oils, wax paste and liquid wax, jam, shoe and metal polish, furniture and lubricating oil. The announcement said most of these already are on the market in paper, fibre or glass containers and added honey probably will be sold in paper containers.

The board statement said that under terms of the order, the use of metal containers is permitted for the principal fruits and vegetables, fish, meats and milk. It added, "metal containers are permitted, as well, subject to certain limitations, for some paints, varnishes and dry- ing oils and a small number of special products."

DOMESTIC PURPOSES

Enough tinplate will be made available to take care of the domestic pack of peaches, pears, plums, corn, peas, tomatoes and green, wax or lima beans. For soups of permitted formulae, the announcement added, tinplate may be used up to 100 per cent. of the 1941 pack. For berries, cherries and rhubarb, metal may be used up to 75 per cent. of the 1941 syrup pack by weight. Metal is also permitted, any manufacturer of milk or milk products may produce up to 110 per cent. of the number of each type sold in 1941.

The board, however, added metal containers are prohibited for packaging of any fruit, or vegetable grown or produced outside Canada.

Mr. Stephens said in his speech that restrictions now in force will effect will cut. United States and Canadian production of tin to 13,- 000 tons in 1943 and 8,800 tons in 1944, compared with 33,000 tons in 1941.

RESTRICTIONS OUTLINED

Restrictions being put into effect at once to curtail the use of tin in 1942 include:—

1. Elimination of tin as a container wherever substitutes is possible. Only products which require sterilization will in future be preserved in tins.

2. Elimination of all small sizes in canned goods that require tin containers.

3. Use of silver instead of tin for soldering.

Many products will be put up in fibre containers with metal tops, Mr. Stephens said.

This book by Alexander Poliakov is the first eyewitness account of the Russian Army in action. He is a soldier and war correspondent and his war diary reflects their spirit, faith and determination. From the notes of this soldier there emanates such burning passion to vanquish Fascism that it cannot fail to inspire all who read it with a like courage.

Victory Through Air Power, —de Seversky

One commentator says of this book, "Victory Through Air Power" says in a powerful and angry book what I have heard men and officers in the armed forces of the United Nations say to each other, day after day, in Egypt and China, as they watch the skies and pray for the sight of a British or American plane." It is one of the most brilliant books yet to appear, on the war.

Miracles on the Congo, —Rensa

This is the first book on the Free China movement, by a famous American novelist who was the first to penetrate Free French Africa, and the first to radio to the world the news that France still lived. All of it bears the stamp of truth, and the light that it throws on the gallant Free French and the deep shadows of betrayal with which it surrounds the men in Vichy.

Assignment to Berlin, —Flannery.

This book belongs next to Berlin Diary. Written by the man who succeeded William L. Shirer as the Berlin correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System, it covers Germany in the crucial year 1941. Packed with lively incident, shrewd comment and startling information, it brings the story of life in Hitler's domain up to the eve of America's entry into the war.

The Committee was told that the number of United Church candidates for the Ministry now in active service, totals 63. This is one of the factors accounting for the shortage of ministers in The United Church of Canada. The problem is being given serious consideration by various committees of the church. United Church ministers serving with the Chaplaincy Service in the Navy and Army number approximately 95, in the Air Force 48. There are 20 in the Auxiliary Services and there are more than 30 ministers serving as combatants.

Mrs. George Burton, president of the local Women's Association, unveiled an Honour Roll which has been placed in the church in recognition of the young women and men of the district who have joined the Armed Forces. Altogether, the service was very impressive and will long be remembered. The following names are on the Honour Roll: Elizabeth Manual Conger, Isobel Joyce, Joseph Bagnall, Harry Clark, Jay Clark, Charles E. Conger, Charles G. Conger, Ralph A. Conger, John Davis, Bennie Mitchell, Frank Rombough, William Sternsch, Frank Hambly, Ber; Brown, Robert White.

CHANGE IN ORDER MORNING SERVICE TRINITY CHURCH

As the result of the formation of a Young Worshippers' League in Trinity Church, a change in the order of the morning service has been made and was put into effect last Sunday.

Following the opening hymn the Minister delivers his sermon, after which during the singing of a hymn the members of the Young Worshippers' League, who have not been present in the church, march in from the Sunday School room and take their places in the front pews of the church.

During the latter part of the service the Minister tells a children's story and a children's hymn is sung.

Following the church service the members of the Sunday School adjourn to the Sunday School room, where they immediately go into their class rooms for the Lesson period.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, backache, headache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy.

The expanded Air Training Plan has room for more men who want to be with these fighting comrades of the skies. Right now applications are being accepted for air crew duty, at R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centres throughout Canada.

If you are physically fit, (mentally alert, over 17½ and not yet 33, you are eligible. If you are over 33, but have exceptional qualifications, you may still be considered. Lack of formal education is no longer a bar to enlistment.

WOMEN TOO join "that men may fly." Canadian women fill vital jobs in the R.C.A.F. Wilson's Division, enlisting men for air crew duties. Recruits are needed, age 19 to 40, physically fit, with at least High School entrance. Many useful and fascinating jobs await you. No experience needed. CONVOY OF APPLES FOR HEALTH

Hello Homemakers! Canada is famous for Apples and the apple is king of fruits whether fresh, dried, evaporated or canned — a wholesome food, easily prepared and jolly good eating at all times.

An apple convoy of several millions has just arrived from the orchards of the country, safely delivered at local market ports. Full of healthy, fighting spirit, these rosy - cheeked soldiers are here to bring us health and help us to balance our food budget.

The apple army will be a big factor on the food front this winter. Here's Ila' duty master. Sweet apple cider at breakfast . . . a golden - crusted apple pie for dinner . . . a steaming platter of apple dumplings to top of the vegetable supper . . . a salad'der during the ten minute morning rest, a juicy and appetizing dessert for the lunch box, and a crunchy bite at bedtime. Quite a list, isn't it?

RECIPES
Apple Cake

One cup sifted flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons shortening, two egg yolks, half-cup milk, four apples pared and sliced thin, half-teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, butter.

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and two tablespoons sugar together. Cut in shortening and mix well. Beat egg yolks, combine with milk, and stir into first mixture. Beat well. Pour into greased shallow pan and cover with apple slices. Sprinkle with remaining sugar, cinnamon, and lemon rind and dot with butter. Bake in electric oven (400 deg. F.) about 35 minutes. Serve with Lemon Sauce, for eight.

Apple Fritters

One egg, half-cup flour, one teaspoon sugar, one-quarter cup of water, one tablespoon melted fat, speck of salt.

Beat egg. Add salt, sugar and water. Add flour, a little at a time, beating well. Then add melted baking fat. Pare, quarter and core apples. Dip quarters in batter and fry in deep fat.

Apple Tapioca

One-third cup fine tapioca (or sago substitute) or half-cup of pearl tapioca, one-quarter teaspoon salt, three cups milk, six small apples, honey.

Cook tapioca with salt and milk in top of double boiler until tapioca is transparent.

Core and pare apples. Stick three or four cloves in each. Arrange apples in greased baking dish. Fill cavities with honey and pour cooked tapioca over apples. Bake in a moderate electric oven until apples are tender. Serves six. If using pearl tapioca or soak in some of the milk for several hours before cooking.

TAKE A TIP:

1 For Turnip Apple Whip, simply add thick apple sauce to whipped mashed turnips, adding a dash of sugar, salt and pepper.
2 Sweet-sour Cabbage! Mix one tablespoon vinegar, two tablespoons of boiling water, two teaspoons of sugar and one tablespoon butter. Pour over boiled cabbage. Makes a difference.
3 Make smaller sized pancakes, folks! Why? Easier to flip and more quickly cooked.
4 Name the beets — serve large whole beets by first boiling, scoop out centre (and save to serve cold on the next day's salad plate); fill with the following mixture: chop two hardcooked eggs and season with salt, pepper, dash of curry powder and chutney sauce.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. N. C. asks: "Recipe for cooking using mincemeat."

Answer:

Mincemeat Drop Cookies

One-quarter cup butter, one-quarter cup sugar, one-quarter cup of corn syrup, one egg, one cup of mincemeat, one and one-quarter cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder.

Cream butter, add sugar and syrup. Blend well together. Beat in egg. Mix in measured dry ingredients and mincemeat. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake in electric oven at 400 deg. for ten minutes.

Mrs. R. C. asks: "We still have some cucumbers that have kept well. Can we use socharine for pickling?"

Answer: Yes, but precautions must be taken. Pure saccharine (1 grain) tablets are very strong. The one-quarter grain tablet is the equivalent of about one teaspoonful sugar. There are 48 teaspoons in a cup, therefore you would use twelve one-quarter grain saccharine tablets when one cup of sugar is called for.

FARM IMPLEMENT CHECK-UP WEEK NOV. 16 - 21

From the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto, Ontario.

The third week of November (16th to 21st has been selected as Farm Implement Check-up Week in Ontario farmers face a grave situation respecting implements to seed and harvest another big crop in 1943," stated the Hon. P. M. Dewan, in making the announcement.

Implement manufacturers and importers have been advised by H. H. Bloom, Administrator for Farm Implements, that they may not expect to manufacture or import more than 25 per cent. of machines sold in 1940. This is on the average of all kinds of implements and does not mean that even this number will be available of each kind. A relatively larger number of labour-saving devices, such as milking machines and manure spreaders, may be made, but on the other hand some kinds will be available only 15 per-cent. of 1940 sales and other less necessary implements, not at all.

The situation has been aggravated by very heavy crops in 1942, many of which went down so badly that they had to be cut by hand, which caused additional wear and tear of machines. Farm machinery is now rationed and a farmer cannot buy new equipment without proving that it is essential and obtaining a permit.

Farmers unable to buy new machines for replacements, have only one alternative; to have their present equipment repaired and if necessary re-built. This job cannot be left until seeding and harvest, because of another important fact. The steel situation is such that metal for essential purposes must be set aside early in the season. In normal times implement manufacturers estimate the requirements of various parts, and when any line of these becomes exhausted, it is a relatively simple matter to use reserve metal, and have an extra lot moulded. For the season of 1943, manufacturers must estimate the number of parts required in the realization that there will be no hope of having another lot run at harvest time.

Few except those in the trade will realize the complications of undertaking to keep repair parts for the numerous types and models of machines sold by different companies in Canada. Parts have been available for machines in service fifty years. To calculate the number of different kinds of parts, companies must have in stock to give quick service, one may multiply the number of manufacturers by the number of machine kinds by the number of models sold in say thirty years, by the average number of parts on an implement. This would give a staggering figure —hundreds of thousands of parts.

The situation is serious. Next spring Ontario farmers face the biggest task in the history of Ontario agriculture. The sensible, practical thing to do, is to check over all machines now, estimate repairs necessary and order them at once.

Every farmer may not find it possible to commence actual repair work now, but it should be possible in most cases for him to check over his implements and order parts he finds he must have. This should be done during "Implement Check-up Week," November 16th to 21st.

GIFTS FOR U. K. REGULATED

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Trade Minister MacKinnon announced last week, that no import licence is required for gifts intended for citizens of the United Kingdom, whether civilians or soldiers, provided they are sent by post at infrequent intervals in a single parcel weighing not more than five pounds, including packing nor containing more than two pounds of any one food.

Mr. MacKinnon said British authorities had ruled that permission to send gifts only at infrequent intervals meant no more than one parcel in a calendar month. Parcels must be clearly marked as gifts. Those not complying with these regulations are liable to seizure.

Recipients of gifts of goods rationed in Britain provided the goods conform with the prescribed conditions, are not required to surrender ration coupons for them.

The waiving of import licenses for gifts does not exempt them from duty if the goods are of a dutiable class; however, most goods, when shown to be of Canadian origin, enter duty-free under Imperial preference.

Articles subject to duty even when Canadian products are, notably goods containing silk or artificial silk in any form; clocks and watches, playing cards, mechanical lighters, musical instruments, tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, tea, coffee, cocoa, sugar, spirituous beverages and goods containing sugar, cocoa or spirits, such as jams, chocolate confectionery, or alcoholic perfumery.

ISSUE NEW STAMPS UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

As a convenience to employers of insurable workers, who operate on a semi-monthly or monthly pay-period, the Unemployment Insurance Commission, some little time ago, put into circulation, through the Post Office, four denominations of semi-monthly stamps. Mr. M. I. Perry, manager of the local Employment and Selective Service Office said. These stamps were valued respectively at $1.60, $1.11, $1.24 and $1.37.

This special issue was made following a pressing demand for it as a convenience to certain classes of employers as well as their employees, said Mr. Perry. Information received, however, indicates that the public is taking very little advantage of this issue of stamps. It is now emphasized that they are available at the larger Post Offices.

These stamps may be used by employers to record contributions in insurance books of employees in the following earning categories:

Those earning $26.00 but less than $32.50 in a semi-month; $1.00 stamp; employer contribution 54c; employee contribution 43c.

Those earning $32.50 but less than $43.75 in a semi-month; $1.11 stamp; employer contribution 49c; employee contribution 32c.

Those earning $43.33 but less than $56.25 in a semi-month; $1.24 stamp; employer contribution 59c; employee contribution 65c.

Those earning $56.25 but less than $81.25 in a semi-month; $1.37 stamp; employer contribution 59c; employee contribution 78c.

Mr. Perry pointed out that the stamp should be placed in the employee's insurance book in such a way that it covers the space for the last day of the pay-period for which the contribution is made.

REPORT SUBMITTED BY TOWN TREASURER ON SEWER CLEANING

M. P. Graham, Treasurer of Napanee, who has been supervising the work of cleaning sewers with new equipment recently purchased, submitted the following report at the last session of the Town Council;

SEWER CLEANING

The Town of Napanee has constructed approximately six miles of sanitary sewers and two and one-half miles of storm sewers, over a period of years.

Over the years no effort has been made to keep our main sewers line clean with the result that they have to a certain extent filled with sand and other sediment. Tree roots have also penetrated sewers and blockage of flow has been reported, and in some instances the flow is almost completely shut off. We have built sewers covering the main part of the town and then left them to take care of themselves, whereas, as an actual fact sewers require as constant attention as our pavements, roads, sidewalks, fire fighting appliances, etc.

The continual trouble on Mill St, causing flooding of cellars, finally brought this matter to a head.

It was not difficult to establish the fact that there was serious stoppage in the outfall sewer on Mill Street for two blocks, between West Street and Richard Street, and two blocks from Centre Street to West Street.

Before any sewer cleaning appliances were bought we undertook to clean these stoppages by the use of Fire Hose under heavy pressure from the new Fire Truck. This was unsuccessful and we opened the sewer in two places between Robinson Streets and Richard Street and found in both instances that the growth of roots had practically filled this large sewer. The roots at these points were removed and we also found that the sewer was partially filled with sand and other settlings.

At this point it was realized that the town would have to have some sewer cleaning equipment and as a result it was decided to purchase, after investigating equipment available, the equipment we now have.

The equipment which has been purchased to date is as follows:

526 ft. Flexible Steel Rods, together with screws and numerous tools which go with this equipment, the cost of this equipment was	$927.20
1 Sand bucket, 15 ins.	80.20
600 ft. ⅝ in. wire cable rope	66.32
600 ft. 7/16 in. wire cable rope	81.54
1 Sand bucket, 10 inches	48.00
Total Costs	$1202.26

The flexible rods, and equipment that goes with the rods, is the basis for any sewer cleaning apparatus and without this equipment we would be unable to even make a start towards cleaning our sewers. This equipment furnishes the only method of making connection from one manhole to another and this enables the drawing through of cables so that any cleaning apparatus can then be drawn through the sewer. We should have about 80 feet more of the rods to take care of cleaning the long 500 ft. blocks.

We found that it was necessary to secure some apparatus which would clean out the settlement of sand, etc., and I took this up with Francis Hankin and Company, and they recommended the sand bucket and sent us the 15-inch bucket to try out. After trying this out the results were most satisfactory and it was decided to purchase this bucket. In the block from West to Robinson Streets we took out over two and a half large truck loads of sand and other sediment and approximately the same amount in the blocks from Robinson to Richard Streets. In addition large quantities of tree roots were removed.

I am satisfied now that the screws used to remove tree roots will not remove such roots where they have been forming over a period of years. These balls of roots grow into such a hard formation that no apparatus operating from the manholes can penetrate them. As a fact, the roots will grow and expand to the point where the expansion will break a tile. If sewers were cleaned periodically before the roots form into such hard formations, I am convinced our present apparatus would clear them out without opening sewers.

We tried out diffrgent methods of drawing the bucket and a large ball of barbed wire through the sewers. First we used a winch operated by two men but found this was too slow, and the work was too strenuous for the men. We then tried using a one horse car but found one horse could not draw the apparatus through the sewer. We then secured a small truck for drawing one way and a team drawing in the opposite direction. This worked alright with the exception that the team was too slow. We then secured two small trucks and found this most satisfactory and speedy in operation. At first we were using wire cable on one end and a one inch rope on the other. The rope broke and it was found necessary to secure another 600 ft. of wire cable. This cable was difficult to secure, it was ordered August 18th and did not reach us until September 11th, and in the interval the work was held up. The work of cleaning the outfall sewer from West Street to Richard Street on Mill Street, has been completed and the two blocks from Centre Street to West Street are also completed with the exception of one obstruction in the block from Robert Street to West Street. This will be taken care of very soon. In the block from Centre Street to Robert Street we found an obstruction which could not be cleared and it was necessary at this point to open the sewer. We found the sewer completely stopped with a large growth of roots and this ball of roots had expanded to the point where the sewer-pipe was broken, and a manhole was built here. In the block next west, that is from Robert Street to West Street we found another stoppage which could not be removed. The sewer was opened at this point and we found three broken tile. The flow of the sewage at this point was practically cut off and after cleaning it out a manhole was constructed.

We had the County Engineer take levels from the centre of the block on Mill Street between Robinson and Richard Streets to the bottom of the sewer at the manhole on Richard Street where it turns down to Water Street, and found the centre of the block was approximately two inches lower than at Richard Street. This naturally retards the flow at this point and I am of the opinion that sometime this half-block of sewer will have to be cleaned and lowered to correct this situation.

The equipment we are using over the manholes is a makeshift arrangement and is, in a sense dangerous, not only to the men but to children who insist on being around the work. It has been a constant source of worry to guard against accidents and to watch the children, and another year proper equipment for this part of the work should be secured to eliminate this danger point. What is required is two winches to set over the manholes and a power driven motor to operate the winches in drawing the cleaning apparatus from one manhole to another. This equipment would soon pay for itself as we are paying $1.25 per hour for each truck used for this work. Prices should be secured for this equipment and arrangements made in next year's estimates to take care of the cost.

We have cleaned out ten private drains that were plugged with roots and the results have been most satisfactory. We also cleaned a half block of manhole sewer on Graham St., which was practically blocked.

Trouble developed on Richard St. between Bridge and Dundas Streets and we found two points of stoppage in the sewer which completely cut off the flow on the north half of the block. In one case we found broken tile with heavy root growth and very heavy root obstructions at the other point and the sewer had to be opened at both points.

The plumbers feel that with our equipment the Town is in a much better position to clean drains (private) than they are and if the Town is going to do this work a small charge should be made for the use of our apparatus. This equipment should not be loaned or rented. It should only be operated by our own men, who have learned how to operate the equipment.

I would recommend that next year's council establish a new standing committee to be known as the Health and Sanitation Committee. The present Printing Committee could well be eliminated and the work of that committee could be carried on by the Finance Committee. The Streets Committee has enough work to look after without looking after sewers and the suggested Health and Sanitation Committee should have charge of the sewer cleaning.

The main sewers throughout the town should be cleaned out just as fast as possible as we are satisfied they are all in need of attention. A plan for cleaning sewers in the town could be worked out next year and gradually all sewers in the town would be placed in proper condition.

Four men can carry on this work when the further necessary equipment is secured and no trucks would be needed except to cart the equipment to and from the work.

MARK P. GRAHAM,
Treasurer.

CONTINUED SUCCESSES ARE BEING REPORTED FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Allies Hold to Clean Africa of Axis Forces

WEDNESDAY —

All effective resistance by Vichy has now been reported wiped out by United States, along 500 miles North African coast. Admiral Darlan was said to be a prisoner and Boy of Tunis agreed to grant American troops free passage through Gen. Oran was captured and fighting at Casablanca ceased when the allies' naval defences had been knocked out.

• • •

British armed forces were said to have by-passed Halfaya Pass and Sollum and to be in the neighborhood of Tobruk.

Hitler, Laval and Mussolini were reported to be in conference in Rome.

German operations in Russia were described as having died down almost completely. The initiative was in the Russians' hands in whatever sector continued.

R. A. F. bombers, continuing their round-the-clock raids on Germany and Nazi-occupied Europe, blasted Le Havre, Boulogne and Calais in the second day in succession. Hamburg was bombed and other targets in Northwest Germany were attacked.

THURSDAY —

Admiral Darlan ordered the French North Africa to cease resistance to the British and United States troops. The order applied also to Tunisia but what effect it will have on the French colony awaits the arrival of British and United States troops. Reports stated that Axis troops had been landed in Tunisia to give battle to the Allies as soon as they arrive at the borders.

The British still continued to purge Rommel and the Eighth Army as well as the Allied Air Force, under Marshal Tedder, continued to smash Rommel's remnant of Axis forces.

Hitler, defying his own armistice terms, occupied the whole of France and Marshal Petain, obeying Hitler's order, demanded that French troops in Northern Africa resist the British and United States forces. But Axis soldiers were reported on their way to Toulon, where the remnants of the French fleet had been tied up. Whereabouts of the fleet was said to be more or less of a mystery.

The United States continued on the offensive in the Pacific, attacking Japs on the Solomons and at Guadalcanal, to the Solomons.

The situation in Russia remained unchanged.

FRIDAY —

The first blow in the battle for Tunisia came on Thursday when the R. A. F. based on Malta, raided the aerodrome at Tunis and destroyed 35 Axis aircraft. On land, the British First Army, with units of Americans, was at the gates of the Province.

Rommel did not make a stand at Bizerta, Paris, the natural barrier between El Alamein and Benghazi, but left a company of Italians to defend Tripoli. The Italians were ousted after five minutes by New Zealand troops and the British proceeded to chase Rommel.

Hitler made a peace offer to the Russians in return for their assistance in the control of the French fleet, but the fleet was reported standing off Toulon ready to resist aggression by either side, in the war.

The Russian Army was said to be taking advantage of the developments in North Africa by commencing its large forces for an offensive, which is reported to have been opened in the area.

United States submarines sank seven more Japanese ships in the Western Pacific.

SATURDAY —

Tobruk was reoccupied by the British, without any opposition from Rommel, who had retreated more than 300 miles from the El Alamein line. His father came from England as a young man and his mother was a native of the country. All his life was spent on the farm in North Frederickburgh until 1913, when he moved to Napanee ,where he had since resided.

Before coming to Napanee, Mr. Hambly was a member of North Fredericksburgh Township Council for many years and was twice of the township and warden of the County of Lennox and Addington in 1908. In 1922 he was elected Reeve of the Town of Napanee and in the same year was the successful candidate for Lennox riding in the election for the Ontario Legislature. He was member for the riding for the years 1923 to 1925 and in 1926 was re-elected to represent the riding of Frontenac-Lennox for the term extending to 1934. Mr. Hambly was a member for many years, of Union Lodge No. 9 A.F. & A.M. and of the Orange Order. He was also a member of the congregation of St. Mary Magdalene's Anglican Church.

After leaving the farm and coming to Napanee, Mr. Hambly was engaged in the grain business until about two years ago. As the result of his business connections and his political activity he was well known to a large number of people in the county.

Mr. Hambly is survived by his wife, formerly Grace Wagar, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wagar life-long residents of North Fredericksburgh and Napanee. He also leaves one brother, George R. Hambly of North Fredericksburgh.

The funeral service was held at the Tierney Funeral Home, on Saturday afternoon, with Archdeacon H. J. Dumbrille in charge.

Interment was made in Riverside Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Geo. Sampson, G. S. Reid, J. Ed. Harrison, W. G. Paul, William Ballance and John Wilson.

- V - Ontario Counties Scrap Steel and Iron Rural Salvage Campaign

An important appeal for co-operation in the present rural scrap campaign, is made by the Premier of Ontario, Hon. G.D. Conant, in a letter appearing in the "Transport News" and reproduced hereunder.

To The Citizens
Of Rural Ontario:

The salvage-collection campaign which has been inaugurated in forty-four counties in Ontario is of the utmost importance to the continued reproduction of munitions of war to be used by Canada's fighting forces. Great quantities of scrap steel, iron and other metals are urgently needed to enable our shipyards and factories to produce the ships, tanks, planes, guns and other munitions required to win the war.

On nearly every farm in Ontario there is scrap metal in large or small quantities, lying around the farmyards, or in barns or implement sheds. That metal is where it is, serves no useful purpose. It is waste material taking up space around the yards and buildings.

That metal is needed now, and in the province-wide salvage campaign provides citizens with an opportunity to make a contribution to the war effort of the nation. In every township, places have been designated to which scrap metal may be delivered. I urge all citizens to extend co-operation by handing over their scrap metal to be turned into the fighting metal.

All of Ontario's resources are pledged to aid in all-out war. Scrap metal is one resource, and "will help to drive our fighting forces "the tools they need to finish the job."

G.D. CONANT

In 1922 he was elected Reeve of the Town of Napanee and in the same year was the successful candidate for Lennox riding in the election for the Ontario Legislature. He was member for the riding for the years 1923 to 1925 and in 1926 was re-elected to represent the riding of Frontenac-Lennox for the term extending to 1934. Mr. Hambly was a member for many years, of Union Lodge No. 9 A.F. & A.M. and of the Orange Order. He was also a member of the congregation of St. Mary Magdalene's Anglican Church.

After leaving the farm and coming to Napanee, Mr. Hambly was engaged in the grain business until about two years ago. As the result of his business connections and his political activity he was well known to a large number of people in the county.

Mr. Hambly is survived by his wife, formerly Grace Wagar, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wagar life-long residents of North Fredericksburgh and Napanee. He also leaves one brother, George R. Hambly of North Fredericksburgh.

The funeral service was held at the Tierney Funeral Home, on Saturday afternoon, with Archdeacon H. J. Dumbrille in charge.

Interment was made in Riverside Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Geo. Sampson, G. S. Reid, J. Ed. Harrison, W. G. Paul, William Ballance and John Wilson.

The report of the Fire Department submitted by the Secretary-Treasurer, F. H. Vake, was read by Councillor Vanalstine, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Department. The report stated that during last year the Fire Department answered 58 calls and four of these were over two hours' duration, namely: Mrs. Tucker, Miller's Apartment, Lennox Lumber and Coal Co. and barn. There are sixteen firement in the brigade and the total number of hours they were on duty was 983, attending fires. The total amount paid to the firemen for their services during the year was $1,304.75.

A by-law was passed, at the request of the hairdressers and beauty parlor operators, fixing the hours when the parlors are to be closed which are as follows: Monday, 6:00 p.m.; Tuesday, 10:00 p.m.; Wednesday, 12 o'clock noon; Thursday, 10:00 p.m.; Friday, 6:00 p.m.; Saturday, 6:00 p.m.

A by-law was passed fixing the polling places and naming the officers for the municipal election to be held on Monday, December 7th, as follows:

East Ward — Geo. Switzer's Store:
D.R.O., Mrs. Katherine Powell.
Poll Clerk, George Knox.

Centre Ward ,No. 1, Town Hall —
D.R.O., J. M. Graham.
Poll Clerk, Mrs. C. Macdonald.

Centre Ward, No. 2, W. B. Grieve's residence —

D.R.O., B. M. Black.
Poll Clerk, W. T. Shaver.

A request was received from the Board of Management of the Napanee Board of Education, asking the Council to reconsider its decision in regard to the appointment of Chief T. S. Moore as School Attendance Officer. After discussion and expression of opinion by all members of the Council who were present, a vote on the motion to reconsider the decision was taken and was lost. The general opinion of the Councillors was that Chief Moore was too busy with police duties to take on any outside jobs. The yeas and nays on the motion to reconsider were taken and resulted as follows: Yeas, Exley, Kimmerly, Stration; nays, Chalk, Daly, Luffman, Vanalstine.

A request from Francis Bakery for permission to extend their present building on Bridge Street, out to the street was, on advice of the Town Solicitor, refused. The Highway Act does not allow the Council to give permission to erect any structure which would encumber the highway.

The Clerk reported that replies had been received from Pickering Farms, Canada Packers and Henry Gatehouse & Sons, stating that they would be in need of feeder cattle and buyers to Napanee on December 2 and 4 and December 17. Accordingly Councillor Vanalstine was instructed to make arrangements for and Advertise Napanee Feeder Markets for the above dates. The Lennox and Addington Poultry Pool had also assured the Clerk that they would also buy poultry on the above mentioned dates.

A request from Miss Josephine Leamy, for the privilege of holding a tag day for the Beaver Santa Claus Fund, on Saturday, November 28th, was granted.

Members of the Council present were Reeve Daly, Dep.-Reeve Stration and Councillors Chalk, Luffman, Exley, Vanalstine and Kimmerly.

Reeve Daly presided in the absence of Mayor Hall.

LOCAL HOLSTEINS ENTERED IN ALL-CANADIAN CONTEST

Among the 84 Holsteins from 57 different herds in all parts of the Dominion that have been nominated for the All-Canadian Contest is the local heifer, Dorothy Jewel Pontiac.

The All-Canadian Contest is the final step in a system devised this year to take the place of the major Canadian exhibitions, few of which are functioning. Particularly missed are the Canadian National Exhibition and Royal Winter Fair, the former for having been the largest Holstein exhibit on the continent and the latter bringing together the winners at the other leading fairs. This year local Black and White Days have been held throughout Ontario with the winners competing at four Regional Championship Shows held at Kemptville, Roseneath, Milton and Ingersoll. These were a great success with 175 herds from 31 counties showing 534 animals. A committee composed of the judges at the Championship Shows and at fairs of provincial championship calibre in other parts of the country will now pick an All-Canadian and a Reserve All-Canadian winner in each of the regular show classes. Results will be announced early in December.

The local entry is Dorothy Jewel Pontiac owned by Lennon Bros., Odessa. She was first prize junior yearling heifer and Junior Champion at the Roseneath Championship Show.

SPEAKER AT LIONS CLUB MEETING

DAVE AMORY

Dave Amory, Montreal, senior rank-ranger of the Lions Clubs of Canada, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Lions Club in Napanee last week. Mr. Amory gave an address that was both helpful and instructive ,dealing with the fundamentals necessary to preserve Lionism.

Essential principles on which Lionism is founded, Mr. Amory said, are character, friendship and leadership. He said he placed most significance on character, because character created leadership and a leader is always friendly. High ideals, he said must be considered a paramount fundamental of Lionism. Without high ideals the wherewithal for communityservice ceases to exist.

Looking toward the future, Mr. Amory said that even though a great amount of welfare work would undoubtedly be done by provincial and federal agencies, after the war is over, service clubs will still have a part in the work, especially in social work. The new era of service who will likely flock to Canada from Europe.

Small Boy: Mother wants to borrow some pots and pans right away, Mrs. Nabor.

Mrs. Nabor: Having a party?

Small Boy: No—it's starting to rain and our roof leaks.

The Beaver Santa Claus Fund, which was instituted quite a number of years ago by the late William Templeton, is still a going concern and will continue again this year under the very capable management of Miss Josephine Leamy. While the demands on the fund are not expected to be as heavy as in the depression years, there are still many children and aged people in Napanee, whose Christmas would be bleak and cheerless unless they were remembered by The Beaver Santa Claus Fund.

The lists of those who need help are being carefully checked and already plans are being made to provide Christmas gifts, food and clothing, which will be distributed as usual at Christmas time.

Some weeks ago, a woman who was leaving town for the winter brought in $5.00 for the fund, the amount she had given for years past. That was the first contribution for the current year. Other donations may be left at The Beaver Office or may be sent by cheque to "The Beaver Santa Claus Fund" in care of The Napanee Beaver, Napanee, Ontario.

Magistrate's Court

Gordon Sweet pleaded guilty to operating a car while in charge of a scene of an accident, in police court on Monday. Magistrate Garvin imposed a penalty of $10.00 plus the costs in each case—total $31.50, payable forthwith, or thirty days in default.

The charges were laid by Provincial Officer P. W. Barrett, following an accident on the Hauflburg Road, about one and a half miles south of Napanee, on Saturday evening, November 7th, about 7:30 o'clock. The car Sweet was driving was on the wrong side of the road and crashed into a car driven by Clarence Bowerman, of Napanee. Both cars were damaged ,Sweet's car beyond repair. No personal injuries were suffered by the occupants of the car.

Sweet claimed the lights of Bowerman's car blinded him, which caused him to be unaware of his position on the road. After the crash Sweet got out of his car and talked to Bowerman, but left immediately without returning.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS HELD CONVENTION SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Excellent Address Given on "The Problem Child"

Miss M. H. Thompson of the Ontario Hospital Staff at Kingston, was the principal speaker at the annual convention of the Lennox and Hastings South Teachers' Institute, held on Saturday, at the West Ward School. Miss Thompson spoke on "The Problem Child" a subject of great interest to teachers and parents.

The convention was presided over by Mr. G. P. Eyo, B.A., Principal of the Deseronto School. President of the Institute. The session was opened with devotional exercises conducted by Mr. M. R. Reid, a former inspector of the district schools. Routine business was conducted and two solos were sung by Miss Berrington, with Miss Lulu Fluke at the piano.

Miss Thompson said in talking about the Problem Child she would be dealing with the extreme cases in school classes. On an average, she said, there is one child in every four to eight in a class who needs immediate especial attention. The subject of the Problem Child should be approached in two ways: (1) What the child needs and, (2) what the teacher can do. The child needs love — a knowledge of being wanted and recognized by the teacher and also by the parents. In some cases, the teacher creates the problem for the child and then proceeds to correct the child for the problem he did not create himself, and so throws the child out of time with his surroundings.

Miss Thompson said there is no need to have a problem child, if time is taken to find out what is his trouble. This can best be accomplished by the teacher refraining from talking too much to the child and by allowing the child to do most of the talking and thereby learning what are his difficulties.

There are two special influences affecting a child — his home and his school. If the trouble lies in the home, the teacher should try to suggest means to the parents to correct the difficulty. If the problem is created by the school, some means should be taken by the teacher to modify the school programme to suit the child's needs both in the school room and the playground. Once the problem children, Miss Thompson said, have never failed to play over half of such cases could be cured if a more positive play programme were followed. The child should be given some responsibility, should be made to feel in time with his associates and should believe that he or she is liked and wanted at home and at school.

Some problem children are created because of faults in the educational programme which teachers attempt to fit to all pupils. Many children are kept back, through no fault of their own, because the school does not become the accepted school age because of physiological, mental or undevelopment. There are also some parts of the school work prescribed should be postponed for a while or the pupil should not be sent to school until older. In other cases children are not placed in proper groups in school with the result that too much is expected of them and they become discouraged by failure to measure up to the results attained by others.

Miss Thompson recommended careful study of problem children and a sympathetic approach by the teacher as to the best means of helping them to overcome their difficulties and to enable them to take their rightful place in society.

Following Miss Thompson's address the Nominating Committee reported and the following officers were elected for the next year:

Hon. Presidents — E. J. Corkill, B.A., M. R. Reid, M.A.

Past President — Gordon P. Eyo, B.A.

President— Miss Fanny Mellow.

Vice-President — Mrs. Wierden Valentine.

Secretary-Treasurer— J. A. Hill, B.A., assisted by Miss Evelyn Robinson, Miss Dorothy McEwen.

FIX NEW CEILING FOR POTATO SALES

Effective November 12, maximum wholesale and retail prices for potatoes in all parts of Canada are now the highest lawful prices at which they were sold during the period November 1-10, 1942. This action has been taken by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board because of recent sharp increases in the price of potatoes. Sales of potatoes by a primary producer to a processor, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, or other dealer are exempt from the price ceiling, but the price of the primary producer direct to the consumer is not to be higher than he charged during the November 1-10 period. Seed potato prices are not affected by the new order.

Letter From J. McGill, In Egypt

This our mail letter was sent via Pan-American Clipper and Trans-Ocean by A. G. Jack McGill, now stationed in Egypt, to Miss G. Kimmett, Shannonville.

Egypt, 8. 10. 1942.

Dear Gwen:

Well here it is Tuesday evening and I am finally set line down again. This is the first time I've had a chance to write you since I left England although I have thought of you a lot.

I hope you and mother received all the telegrams I sent since I left England. I also wrote to you and mother while at Gibraltar. Hope you got them. We were at Gibraltar nearly a month. We flew all the way and I sure will have some stories to tell about Africa when I get back. I can't tell much now.

We stopped one night at a Pan-American airdrome, and it sure was a home. Coca-Cola and American cigarettes. I had the best meal there since I left home. Eats were real treats after Africa. We have had black boys to do all our work until we got to Egypt. They did our washing and ironing, polished our shoes, made our beds, and even brought us a cup of tea in bed. Mentioning tea, bet I will be able to drink more tea than you ever saw. Don't know whether it is clear or with milk, sweet or bitter and weak or strong. The tea here is made with salt water. There is nothing cold to drink, as the water is warm.

The meals are no bad. We have American magazines, and chocolate, but it is expensive. The canteens are all five piastres or about 25c. Some nickle bars are chocolate are 2½c here. I have not been in any of the towns except about an hour in Khartoum. Besides the native Arabs Egyptians, Syrians and Jews there are Greeks, French, British Commonwealth and nearly every member of the United Nations.

We are billeted in tents here and once you get them tied down, they are not too bad. They have double tops and do not get hot during the day. There is sand every where and generally the flies are worse. It is getting cooler now and they are not so bad. The wind blew most of the night. Just imagine a windy winter's day with drifting snow and put sand in place of the snow, that is about the ordinary day here, except that you sweat and the sand sticks. It's not bad to get used to though and I like it better than England.

I have received no mail since I left England, but some of the boys have been here nine months without getting any, so if I don't answer your letters, don't worry. I will just write every week from now on and then only every other time to you. If you don't hear from me don't worry — no news is good news.

One thing about our trip out, we had all kinds of fruit, bananas, grapes oranges, peaches, coconuts and peanuts. For awhile I had at least half a dozen oranges every day, besides the other fruit.

I have been fine all the way out; have not had any of the tropical diseases yet, although our wireless operator is at the hospital now with malaria.

I have not collected any souvenirs of the trip as we have to carry everything with us and the less I have the better it is.

Well, guess this is about all for now. I have to write mother yet, too. I may think of something later. I will write again soon, but may not send it air mail. We can only write one sirsprah a week, so that cuts it down.

Well, so long for now. Love,

JACK.

CAUTION NEEDED

Caution is a prime necessity now if the United Nations are not to make decisions which will, later on, land them in trouble. Apparently, Darlan has been entrusted, by the United Nations, with the control of civil administration in conquered North Africa. Under him Giraud has assumed command of the French forces. Pierre Etienne Flandin and Pierre Puchen have recently flown to Africa to join with the Darlan forces. Generals Nogues and Juin, and others are there assisting in the task of raising armies with which to assist the United Nations in their attack on the Germans.

Now, all these men have been in France co-operating with Germany. The question which has to be faced is whether or not these men have had a change of heart. It is quite possible that, having made an honest effort at co-operation with Germany, they have become convinced that the co-operation Germany wants is the absorption of France. These men — or most of them — were in the Government at Vichy. They were, to all intents and purposes, friends of Germany. Perhaps they have concluded that after three years of earnest effort to work with Germany, there is no possibility of co-operation. All this is quite possible. But in these days, when there is so much uncertainty and intrigue, these men should be given authority only under the closest supervision.

On the other hand, General de Gaulle who led France at the start and has been the leader of the Free French from the very beginning does not seem to have played any conspicuous part in the present transfer of power in North Africa, to the new line French leaders. He is a man who can be trusted. He knows Germany and the Germans. He left his own country, on the fall of France, to continue the fight from Great Britain. He has done effective work. It is well known that he is not as highly estimated in the United States as he should be. There may be reasons for that. At the same time, he has shown his true colors; he has shown that he can be trusted. He has stood for his convictions by being disowned by Vichy France. Under these circumstances, it would be most unfair to think that, if anything in the nature of a French Government is to be established in Africa, de Gaulle should have a premier position in it.

General de Gaulle once declared that the leadership of the France that is to be, must come from the ranks of men and women of today, are practically unknown. It must spring from the oppressed classes, from those in the underground movements in France who, meanwhile deprived of any means of expressing themselves, are biding their time for the future.

It would be well to keep that in mind, as we take on our enthusiasm for the newly-found leadership in the cause of the United Nations.

V

ADVENTURE, MELODRAMA

The wildest flights of dramatic imagination could hardly produce more thrilling stories than those which fill our daily press. The story of Major General Clark's trip to Africa is one of the most daring recorded. He along with seven others journied to Africa by submarine. They were put ashore in an enemy country, travelled 15,000 miles by planes, canoes, boats and automobile, in order to spy out the land prior to the invasion by the American forces. They escaped capture once when they hid in a wine cellar, with the Vichy police investigating upstairs. They found out all they wanted — the disposition of the troops, the location of building fields and the names of those officers whom they could depend for help — and, then, when making their escape, lost $18,000 in gold, when the boat they were boarding upset. They saved their documents and returned to headquarters to report.

And then, there is this week's story of two officers on the "Oakville" a Canadian corvette, who boarded a German submarine mid-ocean and took off the German crew, using them to swim to a rescue steamer. These two officers have since returned to their home in Oakville, where they have been feted by the community.

As if that were not enough for a week, there comes the story of the thrilling rescue of Eddie Rickenbacker. Rickenbacker was an American air ace in the First Great War, having shot down twenty-two planes. On October 19 while on patrol duty in the South Pacific, he radioed that he had but one hour's gasoline left. That was the last heard of him until he was picked up later. Three of the party in the plane had been earlier picked up on a small island in the South Pacific. When rescued, Rickenbacker had two others with him, Colonel Hans C. Adamson and Private John F. Baitek; the other occupant of the little rubber raft, Kaczmavezyk had died from exposure and was buried at sea. It is a thrilling story which waits to be told in full.

A short time ago, W. J. T. Adamson, past-president of the Lions Club, addressed the local branch. It has since been reduced to print, and makes hopeful and refreshing reading. It is refreshing to hear a business man say what others were condemned for saying a few years ago, and receiving an attentive audience. Here are a few sentences which scar men's souls:

"Did we set out to make the world better, more safe to live in (after the last war). No! We lost the true perspective of that trial, and after the conclusion of that war, we carried on in a world orgy of speculation, of spending, of business exnansion, of chasing the almighty dollar, of pleasure and excitement, until the balloon burist in 1929."

"A man was appraised by what he had, not how he lived; and we had not been very much concerned as to how he got what he had."

"The preservation of right and the ruthless stamping out of evil is every man's business, wherever it happens in the world. It takes moral courage and effort to stand up for the right thing. But we were engrossed in other, more pleasant things and hated to be bothered about what we knew to be wrong . . . we are paying for it today."

"Hitler and his satellites have openly boasted that the British Empire and the Democracies have been slipping into decay. I'm not so sure, much as I am ashamed to say so, that he is not partially right. The decay of our nation began when we lost the moral courage to stand up against indisputable wickedness; when we adopted the policy of compounding evil instead of crushing it: when we decided we were not our brother's keeper any longer."

Mr. Adamson then pleaded with his hearers, with the political, business and church leaders to chart a course for the future of Canada, which will avoid the rocks on which the world was wrecked following the First Great War. This prophetic challenge at this instance has deep significance: it should disturb even the most irresponsible and indifferent to recognize the moral basis of the universe and to a new awareness that those nations or individuals who refuse to recognize this, are bound to come to disaster.

RIGHT — LEFT

Just to keep the record clear, it is well to call attention to comments made in these columns, more than once, when it was suggested that the final struggle in Europe would be between those of the right and those of the left. The war proceeds it becomes abundantly evident that this will, no doubt, be the case. While for the time being the war is between nations and between ideologies, the latter is the more deep-seated and the more fundamental phase of the struggle. Once the military decision has been reached, then the struggle in the ideological and social arena will have to be settled. There is no use of blinking the issue. The world is in a fluid state. The ideas by which men lived, the system under which they laboured, are melting like the snow on a shiny day. The struggle for control of the forces of civilization will be a long one. The rising tide of socialism will not be accepted by those who hold the reins of economic power, without a struggle. That struggle will cut across national boundaries; it will involve the whole world.

Evidence of this is to be seen on every hand at the present moment. The Leftist sees his ideal in Russia, and now he has his opportunity, he is making the most of it. The Leftist looks forward to a day when the people will control all life in a more direct way than ever before. He believes in out-and-out socialism, with all life — social, economic ,political, under the direct control of the people; with public ownership of everything.

On the other hand, the Rightist hopes for a return to the economic system which has prevailed in the past, where private initiative, unimpeded, results in the control of the economic organization of society by the few.

In Canada, both these groups are outspoken, and are bidding for public support, even in war time. The military peace, when it comes, will not solve this problem. It will have to be solved after peace has been declared, unless we have the courage even while the war is in progress, to plan for the future. The probability is that the way of life that will prevail for the next state of society will lie somewhere midway between these two extremes. The world is hardly ready for out-and-out Communism, even if it were desirable, but no more can we return to the conditions which produced the bread lines and the hunger of the early thirties. There must be more socialism, more social legislation. No longer can we say there is not money enough. That excuse has been given the lie a dozen times over since the war started. More public ownership, more regimentation and government control are essential. We might as well plan for it now, rather than face the chaos which descended on the world after the First Great War, because men and nations failed to heed its lessons.

Midst a setting of rare photographic value, but under a sullen overcast sky with a gale blowing, your correspondent, under a veritable hail of fire, bullets, shells, mortar bombs and smoke bombs, witnessed a mock demonstration of a Canadian Infantry Brigade, with supporting arms, going into the attack on Dieppe beach age for the remainder of the Division to go through.

The infantry regiments of this Brigade are three well known to residents of Ontario. This was the Brigade that in June, 1940 went to France "for" due to conditions that prevailed there at that time, were ordered to withdraw without taking part in any engagements with the enemy. These were your boys or your neighbours. The same Brigade which Stratford, Orangeville, Brampton, Oakville, Belleville, Picton, Napanee, Oshawa, Toronto, Weston, and various other Ontario towns so familiar to us all. For the past three years, these lads have been training and training hard for what lies before them. And despite the boredom of waiting, waiting, waiting, and the natural longing to be with their loved ones once again, these men have steeled themselves for what is to come and are keen to meet the enemy on any ground.

MANY ARMS TAKE PART

The infantry were supported in their task by the entire Divisional artillery, a Tank Battalion, a section of Engineers, two companies of Machine Gunners, an Anti-Tank Regiment, and in theory a squadron of the R.C.A.F.

Three strongly held positions of most tactical value gave the enemy the advantage in this magnificent show of endurance and skill by the Canadian Troops. Despite very heavy going, due to the recent rains and the condition of the ground, and the fact that several large hills had to be surmounted, the infantry (the P.B.I. as they were called in the last war) successfully gained their objectives and moved forward at the appointed times. One has to take a small part (even as a spectator moving over the ground in these manoeuvres, to appreciate just what amount of stamina and spirit is required to overcome natural and man-made hazards.

CO-ORDINATED EFFORT

The efficiency and co-ordination of all arms was remarkably good. Inter-communication with the various units was of a high order. Companies of the Infantry being in constant communication with their battalion headquarters and the battalion headquarters in turn being in communication with the Brigade Headquarters who controlled the whole effort from brigade headquarters via various means, the supporting arms were directed by the Brigadier.

Directly on the stroke of the zero hour, the Artillery opened up a terrific barrage on the initial objective, herd the mine clearance party of to allow a troop of tanks to shepherd the mine clearance party of Engineers, in two sections of carriers to carry out their task of clearing the mine fields for the follow-up of tanks and infantry.

CHURCHILLS IN ACTION

It was a grand sight to witness from our vantage point. The huge lumbling Churchills sprayed everything in front of them to give cover to the engineer party. The job completed, the engineers placed tapes to make a safety lane for the following tanks and infantry. Then they returned to a rear position under the protective care of the tanks who now the next wave of tanks (which in the distance looked like ants crawling about) were proceeding at tank speed on to their objectives, to clear the ground of any remaining anti-infantry obstacle that might be in the way. They manoeuvered about, firing Shilling and 2pdr. guns, until reached the crest of the first objective. Right on their heels were the first wave of infantry, with bayonets fixed, running towards the enemy and, taking cover as the ground rose, then rising and advancing several hundred more yards.

INFANTRY PLAYS ITS PART

During this advance of the infantry, the artillery came into play, setting down the smoke screens to give the infantry and tanks protective cover from the left flank and to the front, while the R.C.A.F. were doing likewise on the right flank. While the forward battalions of infantry were consolidating their first objective, the two battalions following through pivoted right and left to reach their respective objectives, and so widen the gap created by the forward unit. During this time, the various arms of the infantry were brought into use. Bren carriers and mortar platoon doing a very effective job, with the odd anti-tank machine gun nest that had been overlooked by the tanks, dealt most effectively using H.E. and smoke and the carriers doing a nice job of work with their Bren guns.

The entire co-ordination was particularly good, but the enthusiasm and knowledge of their task, shown by the infantry, was a revelation to this writer, and to all those privileged to witness this attack of Canada's Senior Infantry Brigade.

CAUTION NEEDED

Caution is a prime necessity now if the United Nations are not to make decisions which will, later on, land them in trouble. Apparently, Darlan has been entrusted, by the United Nations, with the control of civil administration in conquered North Africa. Under him Giraud has assumed command of the French forces. Pierre Etienne Flandin and Pierre Puchen have recently flown to Africa to join with the Darlan forces. Generals Nogues and Juin, and others are there assisting in the task of raising armies with which to assist the United Nations in their attack on the Germans.

Now, all these men have been in France co-operating with Germany. The question which has to be faced is whether or not these men have had a change of heart. It is quite possible that, having made an honest effort to co-operate with Germany, they have become convinced that the co-operation Germany wants is the absorption of France. These men — or most of them — were in the Government at Vichy. They were, to all intents and purposes, friends of Germany. Perhaps they have concluded that after three years of earnest effort to work with Germany, there is no possibility of co-operation. All this is quite possible, but in these days, when there is so much uncertainty and intrigue, these men should be given authority only under the closest supervision.

On the other hand, General de Gaulle who led France at the start and has been the leader of the Free French from the very beginning does not seem to have played any conspicuous part in the present transfer of power in North Africa, to the new line French leaders. He is a man who can be trusted. He knows Germany and the Germans. He left his country, on the fall of France, to continue the fight from Great Britain. He has done effective work. It is well known that he is not as highly estimated in the United States as he might be, but there may be reasons for that. At the same time, he has shown his true colors. He has shown that he can be trusted. He has paid for his convictions by being disowned by Vichy France. Under these circumstances, it would appear that the natural thing that, if anything in the nature of a French government is to be established in Africa, de Gaulle should have a premier position in it.

General de Gaulle once declared that the leadership of the France that is to be, must come from the ranks of men and women who, today, are practically unknown. It must spring from the oppressed classes, from those in the underground movements in France who, meanwhile deprived of any means of expressing themselves, are nevertheless the true France.

It would be well to keep that in mind, as a brake on our enthusiasm for the newly-found leadership in the cause of the United Nations.

ADVENTURE, MELODRAMA

The wildest flights of dramatic imagination could hardly produce more thrilling stories than those which fill our daily press. The story of Major General Clark's trip to Africa is one of the most daring recorded. He along with seven others journied to Africa by submarine. They were put ashore in an enemy country, travelled 15,000 miles by planes, canoes, boats and automobile, in order to spy out the land prior to the invasion by the American forces. They escaped capture once when they hid in a wine cellar, with the Vichy police investigating downstairs. They found out all they wanted — the disposition of the troops, the location of landing fields and the names of those officers on whom they could depend for help — and then, when making their escape, lost $18,000 in gold, when the boat they were boarding left. They saved their documents and returned to headquarters to report.

And then, there is this week's story of the two officers on the "Oakville" a Canadian corvette, who boarded a German submarine in mid-ocean and took off the German crew, leaving them to swim to a rescue steamer, these two officers have since returned to their home in Canada, where they have been feted by the community.

As if that were not enough for a week, here comes the story of the thrilling rescue of Eddie Rickenbacker. Rickenbacker was an American air ace in the First Great War, having shot down twenty-two planes. On October 21, while on patrol duty in the South Pacific, his radioed that he had but one hour's gasoline left. That was the last heard of him until he was picked up later. Three of the party in the plane had been earlier picked up on a small island in the Pacific. When rescued, Rickenbacker had two others with him, Colonel Hans C. Adamson and Private John F. Baitek; the other occupant of the little rubber raft, Kaczmavezyk had died from exposure and was buried at sea. It is a thrilling story which waits to be told in full.

A short time ago, W. J. T. Adamson, past-president of the Lions Club, addressed the local branch. It has since been reduced to print, and makes hopeful and refreshing reading. It is refreshing to hear a business man say what others were condemned for saying a few years ago, and receiving an attentive audience. Here are a few sentences which scar men's souls:

"Did we set out to make the world better, more safe to live in (after the last war). No! We lost the true perspective of that trial, and after the conclusion of that war, we carried on in a world orgy of speculation, of spending, of business expansion, of chasing the almighty dollar, of pleasure and excitement, until the balloon burst in 1929."

"A man was appraised by what he had, not how he lived; and we had not been very much concerned as to how he got what he had."

"The preservation of right and the ruthless stamping out of evil is every man's business, wherever it happens in the world. It takes moral courage and effort to stand up for the right thing. But we were engrossed in other, more pleasant things and hated to be bothered about what we knew to be wrong . . . . we are paying for it to-day."

"Hitler and his satellites have openly boasted that the British Empire and the Democracies have been slipping into decay. I'm not so sure, much as I am ashamed to say so, that he is not partially right. The decay of our nation began when we lost the moral courage to stand up against indisputable wickedness; when we adopted the policy of compounding evil instead of crushing it; when we decided we were not our brother's keeper any longer."

Mr. Adamson then pleaded with his hearers, with the political, business and church leaders to chart a course for the future of Canada, which will avoid the rocks on which the world was wrecked following the First Great War. This prophetic challenging utterance has deep significance; it should disturb even the most irresponsible and indifferent to recognize the moral basis of the universe and to a new awareness that those nations or individuals who refuse to recognize this, are bound to come to disaster.

RIGHT — LEFT

Just to keep the record clear, it is well to call attention to comments made in these columns, more than once, when it was suggested that the final struggle in Europe would be between those of the right and those of the left. As the war proceeds it becomes abundantly evident that this will no doubt be the case. While for the time being the war is between nations and between ideologies, the latter is the more deep-seated and the more fundamental phase of the struggle. Once the military decision has been reached, then the struggle in the ideological and social arena will have to be settled. There is no use of blinking the issue. The world is in a fluid state. The ideas by which men lived, the system under which they laboured, is melting down like snow on a shiny day. The struggle for control of the forces of civilization will be a long one. The rising tide of socialism will not be accepted by those who hold the reins of economic power, without a struggle. That struggle will cut across national boundaries; it will involve the whole world.

Evidence of this is to be seen on every hand at the present moment. The Leftist sees his ideal in Russia, and now he has his opportunity, he is making the most of it. The Leftist looks forward to a day when the people will control all life in a more direct way than ever before. He believes in out-and-out socialism, with all life — social, economic ,political, under the direct control of the people; with public ownership of everything.

On the other hand, the Rightist hopes for a return to the economic system which has prevailed in the past, where private initiative, unimpeded, results in the control of the economic organization of society by the few.

In Canada, both these groups are outspoken, and are bidding for public support, even in war time. The military peace, when it comes, will not solve this problem. It will have to be solved after peace has been declared, unless we have the courage even while the war is in progress, to plan for the future. The probability is that the way of life that will prevail for the next state of society will lie somewhere midway between these two extremes. The world is hardly ready for out-and-out Communism, even if it were desirable, but no more can we return to the conditions which produced the broad lines and the hunger of the early thirties. There must be more socialism, more social legislation. No longer can we say there is not money enough. That excuse has been given the lie a dozen times over since the war started. More public ownership, more regimentation and government control are essential. We might as well plan for it now, rather than face the crisis which descended on the world after the First Great War, because men and nations failed to heed its lessons.

INFANTRY, TANKS, GUNS, GREAT DEMONSTRATION

Canada's Senior Infantry Brigade Go into Mock Action Against Heavily Defended Positions

BY C. V. CHARTERS

Midst a setting of rare photographic value, but under a sullen overcast sky with a gale blowing, our correspondent, under a veritable hail of fire, bullets, shells, mortar bombs and smoke bombs, witnessed a great demonstration of a Canadian Infantry Brigade with supporting arms, going into the attack to clear a passage for the remainder of the Division to go through.

The infantry regiments of this Brigade are three well known to residents of Ontario. This was the Brigade that in June, 1940 went to France but on the conditions then prevailed there at that time, were ordered to withdraw without taking part in any engagement with the Allies to enemy. These were your boys or your neighbours. They came from London, Stratford, Orangeville, Trenton, Oakville, Belleville, Picton, Napanee, Oshawa, Toronto, Weston, and various other Ontario towns so familiar to us all. For the past three years, these lads have been training and training hard for what lies before them. And despite the boredom of waiting, waiting waiting, and the natural longing to be with their loved ones once again, these men have steeled themselves for what is to come and are prepared to meet the enemy on any ground.

MANY ARMS TAKE PART

The infantry were supported in their task by the entire Divisional Artillery, a Tank Battalion, a section of Engineers, two Companies of Machine Gunners, an Anti-Tank Regiment, and in theory a squadron of the R.C.A.F.

Three strongly held positions of great tactical value, gave the enemy the advantage in this magnificent show of endurance and skill by the Canadian Troops. Despite very heavy going, due to the recent rains and the condition of the ground, and the fact that the enemy mine fields had to be surmounted, the infantry (the P.B.I. as they were called in the last war) successfully gained their objectives and moved forward at the appointed times. One has to take a small part (even as a spectator moving over the ground) in the set manoeuvres, to appreciate just what amount of stamina and spirit is required to overcome natural and man-made hazards.

CO-ORDINATED EFFORT

The efficiency and co-ordination of all arms was remarkably good. Inter-communication with the various units was of a high quality. Companies of the Infantry bring in constant communication with their battalion headquarters and the battalion headquarters in turn being in communication with the Brigade Headquarters who controlled the whole effort. From brigade headquarters via various means, the supporting arms were directed by the Brigadier.

Directly on the stroke of the zero hour, the Artillery opened up a terrific barrage on the initial objective, here the mine clearance party of 6 lb. 4 ton tanks of the Royal Canadian Engineers, in two sections of carriers to carry out their task of clearing the mine fields for the follow-up of tanks and infantry.

CHURCHILLS IN ACTION

It was a grand sight to witness from our vantage point. The huge rumbling Churchills sprayed everything in front of them to give cover to the engineer party. When this was completed, the engineers placed tapes to make a safety lane for the following tanks and infantry. Then they returned to a rear position under the protective cover of the tanks. By now the next wave of tanks (which in the distance looked like ants crawling about) were proceeding at tank speed on to their objectives, to clear out machine gun nests and any infantry obstacle that might be in the way. They manoeuvered about, firing their machine guns, and when they reached the crest of the first objective. Right on their heels were the first wave of infantry, with bayonets fixed, running towards the enemy and taking over as the necessity arose, then rising and advancing several hundred more yards.

INFANTRY PLAYS ITS PART

During this advance of the infantry, the mortars came into play, setting down the smoke screens to give the infantry and tanks protection. While the left flank moved to the front, while the R.C.A.F. were doing likewise on the right flank. While the tanks and the infantry were consolidating their first objective, the two batallions following through pivoted right and left to reach their respective objectives and so widen the gap created by the forward unit. During this time, the various arms of the infantry were brought into use. Bren carriers and mortar platoon doing a very effective job with the anti pill-box machine gun nest that had been overlooked by the tanks, the mortars effectively using H.E. and smoke and the carriers doing a nice job of work with their Bren guns.

The entire co-ordination was particularly good, but the enthusiasm and knowledge of their task, shown by the infantry, was a revelation to this writer, and to all those privileged to witness this attack of Canada's Senior Infantry Brigade.

THE RECORD OF MARSHAL PETAIN

BY WAVERLEY ROOT

With the first puff of military action, the Vichy Government-in-house of cards has collapsed about the ears of those who constructed it. It was apt to be so from the start. England's defeat seemed probable, by those who wanted to discount that defeat and save themselves the consequences.

Today, the situation has been reversed. It is Germany's defeat which has to be envisaged now (and one of those who have envisaged it is Adolf Hitler, who was certainly thinking of nothing less when he assured the German people that he would not flee, like the Kaiser). It is not enough for France or for the opportunists who hastened to get on the right side of the fence at once, it, such as the delivery of the French fleet, there is no reason why it should not profit by his desire to atone for a past mistake.

NO "FUTURE REWARD"

That is not, however, any reason why he should be offered a future reward. The United Nations are going to have to distinguish very carefully ate the motives and the merits of many Frenchmen who are going to rally to their side, and also to the varying degrees. There has been a tendency in Washington and London, particularly in Washington, to overamplify the currents and cross-currents in France. There are almost as many different views in France as there are Frenchmen. The Allies are now on the right track, unfortunately. It is not quite so certain that they are following that track with equal clarity.

It is worthwhile, therefore, to try to get some picture of the leading Frenchmen in the present situation. First and foremost is Marshal Petain.

The various opinions concerning Petain's personality can be classed roughly in three categories:

1. Marshal Petain assumed the difficult role of leading a defeated France, and has struggled to preserve for France the maximum of autonomy against the pressure of the Germans and the devices of their puppets, Laval.

2. Marshal Petain bears the responsibility for urging the armistice because he mistakenly decided that England was beaten and that it would be impossible for the British Empire to continue the fight from North Africa, His policy of collaboration, though sincere, was a mistake, a mistake of judgment rather than an act of treason.

3. Marshal Petain betrayed his country to the invaders on the theory that the German victory would leave him as the Fuehrer of France, and that on an equal footing with Hitler he would lead a Fascist France to a glorious destiny in which Germany and France together would dominate at least Europe and perhaps the world; and not until he had allowed the Germans to get positions on the soil of France, not until he had demanded and got the head of the resistance of the French Army, did he discover that he had been double crossed.

The first two opinions on Marshal Petain can be classed as explanation. The third, which is less known, is worth discussing further.

THE CASE AGAINST PETAIN

1. Petain was known to have authored a defeatist speech before the war. At the time of the abortive Fascist demonstration of February 6th, 1934 the formation of a government by directorate was widely discussed, under a triple dictatorship—Petain, Weygand, Tardieu.

At the time of the 1937 coup d'etat affair (an attempt to bring about a Fascist putsch in France) Petain's name was one of those whispered as the possible candidate for Fuehrer of France, but there was never any evidence to connect him with it. There was evidence, however, that high officers in the French Army were involved.

2. Signs that treason somewhere in high Army circles operated during the German blitzkrieg were plentiful. Soldiers were left in the front lines without ammunition. Air support for the French armies was non-existent. Valuable troops were immobilized at points which were not threatened. Defensive forces were ordered past natural lines of defence. Some of these points were brought out at the Riom trial.

4. This trial developed quickly into an examination of the French Supreme War Council and particularly of Marshal Petain for having blocked sufficient military preparation. Marshal Petain, was sacrificially treated as a witness, being called as a witness as having been responsible for the release to the press of a confidential Army document which caused great harm to morale. At this point the trial was suddenly stopped.

5. The decision to ask for an armistice and to make peace, Chief of State was taken by a parliament and a cabinet debating as practical prisoners of the Army, in buildings surrounded by troops, obeying the orders of Petain and Weygand. Many witnesses have agreed since that there was a definite impression that Petain was willing to use the Army to take over the power by force if Petain had not been granted him.

6. Early in the war, Petain, then Ambassador to Spain, said to a Spanish minister, Don Sudge Perano, "I've been in France by her present aspect. About next May or June will undergo a national revolution, similar to yours, from which she will emerge strengthened and regenerated." The German attack in May.

7. In the offer for the armistice, at the period when Petain, if the theory that he betrayed France is correct, should have begun to realize that the Germans had double-crossed him and did not intend to allow France equal states with Germany, the Stuttgart radio broadcast in French began to give France the impression that the leader who had betrayed them had distinctly after that broadcast, set out Hitler as Monsieur and assumed the policy of collaboration. The Stuttgart radio said nothing about betrayal.

This is the evidence—all admittedly circumstantial. It would seem plain, as least, why Petain has been assured American support in his desire to free himself from German grip — but so far he has been able to do so. It is possible that at this time for this reason, if France has a guilty secret, if the Germans are in a position to reveal that secret and make his name as defendant obliquy forever, he will remain a prisoner, whatever he may say wherever he may go.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, NOVEMBER 22ND, 1942

"MOTIVES THAT STRENGTHEN FAMILY LIFE"

Lesson Text: Exodus 2; 1-4. Joshua 24: 14, 15. Ephes. 5: 25-31; 6:1-4

The basis of our national life is the home. Under our modern economic and industrial set-up, the family life is in jeopardy. Different members of the family go out to work at different hours. Many eat their lunch away from home. The evening meal is the only time when there is a possibility of all getting together, and even that is problematical. For one after the other has an appointment of some sort and they quickly scatter. The radio has done something to offset this tendency, for now father can get his hockey match in the comfort of the home, and mother, son and daughter, if they are so inclined, may have their varied interests met over the air. This is one gain which the modern invention has brought into being.

In spite of the disruptive forces which would disintegrate the home, there are deep and eternally true motives which, if given half a chance, will keep the family ties intact. In the well-known story of Moses' early life, one of the strongest of these is illustrated. It shows to what extent a mother will go to preserve her child. In order to prevent her child from being seized by the authorities, the mother was prepared to give the child away. "Love" as the New Testament writer has it, "never fails." Love is the basis of a happy family life; love never fails to forgive; love never fails to sacrifice for another. There are countless ways in which this motive applies in the life of society.

In the next section Joshua lets the matter of worshipping God squarely up to those whom he addressed. Make a choice. He says in effect, and stay with it. He then declares his own allegiance to God. In seeking for motives that strengthen the family life reverence for God and allegiance to Him stand out from the rest. In days when our faith in God is being challenged, when even the existence of God is repudiated by great sections of population, it is well that we who still nominally believe in God should make real and practical our faith. It has happened before in human history that the dynamism of an early faith has become codified into laws that little by little destroy the early enthusiasm which gave it birth, is left. There is danger that we have taken our faith in God for granted, that there is need to feed a great revival if we are to get back that sense of God's presence which is so essential to a healthy family life. What about the children? What about the cultivation of the spirit of devotion and reverence for the Unseen Hand? What about the recognition within the family that there is a moral law at work, and Christian, that is at the basis of the universe. Without religion, life in the home is insecure, with danger and threatened from every angle.

The third passage and that which suggests another motive binding the family together, is that of mutual help. Children of husbands and wives. It is well known that the increase in the number of divorces in the country has risen at an alarming rate. The new freedom of economic independence for women is responsible for it. There is no resetting one's face against the development of freedom between the sexes. It is still further a new experience and in it there has been the alarming increase in the divorce rate. Mutual give and take, a recognition of the right of human personality and a desire to share all, is one way of meeting the situation. The clash of strong personalities is responsible for much disharmony. Only by a deep mutual trust and affection can a home survive.

The final section has some sage advice for the guidance of those parents and children. Children are to obey their parents, and parents are not to provoke the children to anger. That is sage advice in days when children early learn to "live their own lives" and when parents are not altogether blameless in an all too often "family row".

The first snow of the season is here, and winter is just around the corner.

STRATHCONA

Strathcona, Nov. 16. — The thanksoffering meeting of the Strathcona W. M. S. was a "Family Party", held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Fenton. Rev. H. Herrington presided over the meeting and gave a very timely address, "Why Bother About Missions?" Mrs. Herrington and Miss Lucille continued a very pleasing duet, with harp accompaniment. The Mission Band, under the supervision of Mrs. Bruce Finlay, presented a fine temperance play, "The Market Basket". This was very well done, and was entertaining as well as instructive. Malcolm Finlay recited "Thanksgiving Day". The offering was received by Bill Finlay and Ronald Wilson. Several members sang the chorus, "Lord, I want to be a Christian in my Heart". The closing service was an affiliation service of the W. C. T. U. with the W. M. S. Mrs. James Wilson, recording the W. M. S. greeted the girls telling briefly of the great work-wide work of the W. M. S. and expressing pleasure at the desire of the girls to become affiliated. Shirley Boyce conducted the worship service, in which all joined. Six W. M. S. members, wearing badges indicating their countries, each welcomed the C. G. I. T., and the girls replied. Edna Withers presented the offering from the C. G. I. T. to the Treasurer of the W. M. S. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Richmond received a cable from their son, Sgt. Reggie Richmond, Air Gunner, R.C.A.F., that he had arrived safely in Great Britain, and all was well. The cable stated that he was on leave and was visiting his brother, L/Bdr. Eldon Richmond, who went to England with the First Canadian Regiment, R.C.A., nearly three years ago.

Mr. Melborne Kirkpatrick, of this village, recently purchased a very valuable race horse, known as Hal Gratian to the horse racing lovers of this district. Mr. Kirkpatrick has, for years, been interested in race horses, and now feels he has made a very creditable purchase, as this beast has been in the money at Clayton, N.Y., and Alexandria Bay, N.Y., as well as other places. He was formerly owned by Mr. J. Mulville, of Westport. This will renew the public interest in horse racing in this locality, as there have been no outstanding horses around here for a number of years.

The sale of poppies in this village on Saturday, November 7th, was conducted by Mrs. R. E. Stinson. The poppies and boxes were made by the teachers and pupils of the Consolidated School. Those who sold poppies were Misses Dougal Ryan, Jean Courneya, Freda Ware, Joy Downey, Betty Tucker, and Glennis Pedley, and these girls were assisted by little Misses Hopkins, Cassidy, and Nicholson, at Erinsville. The sale netted the local Red Cross Unit the sum of $37.55.

Remembrance Day services were held, as usual, in the Town Hall here, on Wednesday morning. The hall was filled. School children were marched in order by the Principal, Mr. H. J. Miller. A massed choir from the Anglican and United Churches was in attendance. Mr. J. R. Adair acted as chairman. Rev. F. O. Ware, of Christ's Church, took part of the service, and Rev. A. W. Beales, of the United Church, gave the address. After the service, every one went out to the War Memorial, and Mrs. James Wood placed a wreath in memory of those whose names are on the Memorial.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Nicholson, of Erinsville, were host and hostess on Saturday evening, November 7th, to over 70 guests at a euchre party in aid of the Red Cross Unit here. A large number from Tamworth were in attendance. The evening throughout was a most pleasant one. A prize party was held on Armistice Day, the evening began with the singing of the National Anthem. The house was attractively decorated with flags of different sizes. The prize winners were as follows: Euchre, Ladies, Miss Doris Chaplin; Gents, Mr. Leo Cassidy; Travelling prize, Ladies, Mrs. Vincent Lynch; Gents, Mr. W. G. Richmond. Lunch was served by the hostess and friends. The Red Cross President, Mrs. P. W. Krosie, received a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson for their hospitality in aid of such a worthy cause.

There were rumors about wolves in the vicinity. One of our citizens, who visited in Centreville recently, a mile north of this village, was surprised upon hearing his dog making a noise, to find him being attacked by two wolves. They made their getaway before Mr. Kirkpatrick could get a gun from the house.

A good blanket of snow covered this part of the country on Thursday night. The weather, at time of writing, looks as if winter had set in for sure, although on Friday morning some citizens report lightning, and the local weather men say that this indicates an on-coming warm spell.

Many hunters from this village have returned, and perhaps the most spectacular showing thus far reported is that of C. L. Wagar, Norman Mitchell, and party. There were six in the party who sallied forth to the Camel-shool district on the Madawaska river. When they returned home on Thursday, they had four fine bucks and two does. One of the party remarked that the deer were so plentiful that they took their pick.

Film fans will feel a genuine regret at the passing of Tom Mix's famed horse, Tony, who shared all his late master's adventures and has now followed him into another world. Tom and Tony were in a great measure responsible for the present popularly of western films. The friendship of Tom and Tony was lifelong, the horse being 40 years old when he died. Tom saw Tony as a colt straggling after a peddler's wagon in his home town and acquired him. Tom Mix, experts say, wasn't the best horseman in the world but Tony's love of heeding Tom's orders went a long way in making it up.

You may sometimes wonder what theatres get out of the time and hard work used up in behalf of Victory Loan drives, War Savings Stamps activity, rubber matinees, etc. Well, they get nothing but your approval and the government's thanks. The government honors the theatres with a special place in each drive and leaves it to the managers to work out the best schedule. For instance, the matinees to which children are admitted free if they bring rubber and other salvage are gift shows from the management. The friendship and loyalty of the fans to movies has caused the government to place them in a special spot and the managers, gratified by this distinction, do everything for nothing or bear the costs themselves. In many instances, however, campaigns of theatres do increase patronage but the increase is balanced by free shows for servicemen.

For your information: There were 1,232 movie houses in Canada in 1940—and something like 12,500 in the United States. Since 1939 Canada has acquired 50 more theatres. The number of paid admissions in 1940 for Canada was 152,127,277. In dollars that meant $37,858,955. There are theatres which operate only in the summer, when the roads are clear, and others to which film must be flown. This gives you some idea why the movie business occupies the special attention of the government.

Another interesting side of the Canadian Motion Picture Industry is the work of supplying army camps with entertainment: gratis. Canada being the only country where a majority of the soldiers see shows for nothing while in camp. Four service organizations co-operate with the movie people to see that the boys are well supplied—the Canadian Legion, Knights of Columbus, the Salvation Army and the Y.M.C.A. In the vast majority of cases 16mm. films, smaller-sized, are shown and each film made for larger screens has a smaller print. Most companies didn't make them until the army and arose. Almost 100 army camps theatres get free entertainment. The work is still growing, since there are 400 camps in Canada, many of which have no equipment as yet. The equipment is contributed wherever possible by the service organization.

So you see your movie admission does many things before it's broken up into final costs.

Canadians will have a special interest in the motion picture biography of the late Dr. Norman Bethune, the Montreal surgeon who perfected the mass blood bank method while serving in the Spanish rebellion for the Loyalist forces. He died while heading a Canadian medical mission in China. Dr. Bethune developed blood poisoning from injuries received while operating on Chinese wounded. He was born in Gravenhurst, Ontario, and graduated from the University of Toronto.

"TIRED" ALL THE TIME

She felt miserable—draggy—low in vitality—nervous. She hadn't thought of her kidneys, and a friend suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills. At once Mrs. Cook "took Dodd's". The "washed out" feeling was soon replaced by clear-headed energy and restful sleep. Well, and the list of other signs of faulty kidneys disappeared.

Distilled Cider Vinegar

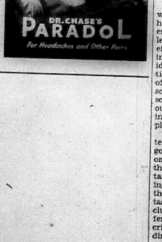
Experimental Farms News

During the past few years a new type of vinegar has made its appearance on the Canadian market. This constituted a world premiere, for it was developed and first manufactured in Canada. It is known as Distilled Cider Vinegar and while it has the aroma, flavour and characteristic softness of pure cider vinegar is colourless and entirely free from soluble solids, says H. W. Armes Jones, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Popular preference for white vinegar prompted experimental work at the Fruit Products Laboratory, Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa. This work led to the development of a special distillation process by which the rather dark coloured cider vinegar is converted to a colourless product, with no effect upon its flavour or acid strength.

The process is known as vacuum distillation and while the vinegar is made to boil in order that it may distil over, its actual temperature is so low that one's hand could be place dim the boiling liquid. It is this low temperature distillation that preserves in the distilled product the natural flavour of cider vinegar.

Shortly after the perfecting of the process in the laboratory three separate plants were set up in the Canadian apple growing districts by established cider vinegar manufacturers. While the output is not yet large it is reported as being well received by consumers and it is confidently expected that this new vinegar will prove itself to be a worthwhile outlet for those grades of apples that have no retail sale value on the fresh fruit markets.



Combining Foods In Ingenious Ways Results In Interesting Meals

"Economy and conservation" is the watchword all along the line in homes throughout the country. Kitchen economy need not result in tasteless, uninteresting meals. It can be effected by using ingenuity and being continually on the alert for new ideas and changes in the food situation. It means getting the most out of available foods and making every scrap of left-overs. Foods that are scarce or high in price must be eked out by combining them in new and ingenious ways with other more plentiful or less expensive foods.

The British have become past masters in the art of making a little go a long way, and the Food Advice contists in the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, have been collecting and testing many of their recipes, adapting them when necessary to Canadian tastes. Two British recipes are included here. Savoury Batter is different and delicious; it is light and crisp, and resembles Yorkshire Pudding. Baked Cabbage Surprise makes a tasty and inexpensive one-dish meal.

AIR GUNNERS ON THE MARK

BY AN AIR CORRESPONDENT

"Junkers 88 approaching dead astern, 700 yards!" the gunner shouts.

Sounds like an attack. But it can't be, for, the gunner is squatting in front of an oblique mirror reflecting the "flight" of a scale model airplane. The mirror, with a sight exactly the same as the one in a gunner's turret, approaches or recedes simultaneously with the movements of the airplane. "Clouds" on the wall behind the model plane are also reflected in the mirror. As the mirror comes closer, the outline of the aircraft becomes larger, and the gunner is expected to judge the distance and direction of the attack.

This is just one of the elaborate devices the R.A.F. uses to train the gunners of a bombing crew. In another, called the "spotlight trainer," the gunner has to keep his aim trained on a small cross of light thrown from a lamp in a dark room on to the inner surface of a huge concrete bowl set on its side. The gunner sits in a turret and the light is whisked about in disconcertingly erratic fashion. Another light shines from the gunn. The squadron gunnery officer can see at once whether the gunner has been following his own bomber stations, a gunner spends three four hours each week practising for half an hour at a time in the Spotlight Trainer.

During his training the gunner learns immediate aircraft recognition. By the setting of the engines, the curve of a wing, or the tilt of a tail, he must be able to recognize instantly whether an aircraft is an enemy or friend. He must have what psychologists call an "eidetic image" in his brain of every type of British, allied and Axis aircraft.

The shadowgraph helps the gunner to form such a gallery of mental images. This is a screen on which a large circle represents the ringed head sight of his gunner turret. At one side of the screen is an electric light, and between the light and the screen accurate scale models of aircraft are manipulated so that the gunner on the other side of the screen can watch the outline of the approaching bomber or smaller, twist or dive. By the size of the model's silhouette in the ring he learns to judge the distance.

By the time a gunner has gone through the Initial Training Wing, Air Gunnery School and the Operational Training Unit, he knows enough to make his training in action against the enemy. But the practice he gets against Messerschmitts is not enough, and so there is a special organization to pass on, for the benefit of all the knowledge that each gunner gains in battle.

After battle the squadron gunnery officer writes a summary of every encounter. A gunner who claims to have shot down a fighter is closely questioned by Intelligence officers. The movements of the crew must have been seen by other aircraft to confirm the claim. If it can be claimed as destroyed the squadron gunnery officer's report is sent to the Group Gunnery Leader, who circulates it among all the stations of the Group.

Here, for example, is the report of a battle between a Halifax and one of Germany's newest fighters, a Focke-Wulf 190.

"After attacking Cologne, the Halifax was intercepted by an enemy night fighter. Height 4,000 feet. Clear sky with full moon. Time 0127. First indication of attack was when searchlights on the ground pointing out the aircraft's track. Fighter identified as F-W 190, was seen by rear gunner approaching at 1,000 yards on the port quarter. Evasive action taken at 350 yards, and rear gunner opened fire. Fighter broke to starboard, then attacked from dead astern. Fighter closed in, firing all the time, and again rear gunner opened fire with a three-seconds burst. Fighter appeared to stall and spin. Strikes observed and enemy claimed as damaged.

"Half an hour later the aircraft was again attacked. Same procedure as before was observed. Fighter, again F-W 190, seen astern and below at 400 yards. At 600 yards enemy aircraft opened fire. Rear gunner withheld fire until range had fallen to 300 yards, then opened fire with five-seconds burst. Almost at once fighter stopped firing, caught fire, and was seen to crash in a explode on hitting ground."

The comment by the Group Gunnery Leader on this report was: "Both encounters probably with same fighter. This is the first time we have had encounters with an F-W 190. Evasive action was in good time, and rear gunner put in some excellent shooting."

Training, concentrated and continuous, in the air and on the ground, was responsible for this success. To prepare the gunners for battles such as this, fighter affiliation practice is arranged between bombers and fighters. Gunnery consequently becomes one of the more important items in training bomber crews, for every bomber that goes over Germany must be ready for fighting in self-defense.

Absence Of Silk, Nylon Due To Vital War Need Used In Making Chutes

Patriotic consolation for wartime absence of silk and nylon hosiery is that 136 pairs of these stockings make the equivalent of one parachute.

Another comforting factor is the presence of rayon, the manufacture of which has greatly improved and is improving all the time. Rayon stockings look well and deserve the best of care.

Two facts about rayon cannot be stressed too strongly according to Consumer Information Service — it takes a good deal of "setting" when dry and the fibres are very weak while wet. No process has been discovered to overcome this weakness, so washing rayon hosiery should consist only of a gentle squeezing throughout, lukewarm suds and a careful rinsing in water of the same temperature. Rubbing is apt to damage the tender, wet fibres, so any rough handling is done "at owner's risk." For this same reason the stockings should never be worn until perfectly dry.

While the rest of rayon hose are quite constant in size, the legs have a tendency to congate. When purchasing a couple of inches can be allowed for this stretching.

AIR POWER WILL PAVE THE WAY FOR ARMY

London — There are. It is believed here, fewer than 200 prime targets in Germany that need to be destroy in France and Germany in order to render Hitler so vulnerable the Allies could roll their armies into it, and end the war by next Fall. These targets comprise Nazidom's chief war industries, rail communications and rolling stock. In short, they represent the sources of much striking power and the means of moving that power into action.

In order to achieve this destruction quickly and thereby prevent great prolongation of the war, British and American bombers based in this country would have to be heavily increased.

How much air power would be needed to carry out this program? Obviously, no attempt can be made to give detailed figures. But it can be said that if these two forces were enabled, within the next couple of months, the Allies could achieve enough by Spring so that an invasion army could go into operation.

Of course, it leaves a lot to the imagination to talk about "trebling" the bomber forces when we don't know what the present fleets are. Still, authorities who do know the figures will recognize that this would be a feasible estimate.

CONCENTRATION FACTORS

This concentration of air force in Britain would be made:

1. By current production in both countries;

2. By transferring air craft from other activities which would spare them for this major operation in Western Europe.

In this second category might fall some of the submarine scouting now being carried on by aircraft with the U-boat menace is at the business base and not after the U-boat has started to roam the seas.

Emphasis must be placed on speed in providing bomber reinforcements. Hitler should not be allowed to use the winter months to repair the German damage he has suffered in the Russian campaign.

Then there's another point which affects the time factor in preparation. It has had great success with new, heavily - armored, heavily - armed Flying Fortresses with astonishingly small losses.

This is due in large degree to the fact the Flying Fortress is so protected that it is a sense both bomber and fighter.

The Nazis are not able to cope with the Fortress, nor have they been able to devise a weapon for which they were not prepared. It won't be easy for long, however. Science marches fast and we may expect the Boche to develop a defence.

Thus Hitler must not be given a chance to devise a weapon to beat the Fortresses before they have taken a full toll among vital targets. Now is the opportune time for the bombers can do the most damage with the least risk to themselves.

The destruction already achieved by British and American bomber fleets during Hitler's reign of terror is staggering.

They have spent many hours recently with high-power magnifying glasses studying enlarged airphotos of the damage done in raids on cities at Rostock, Luebeck, Cologne, Lille, Wilhelmshaven and others.

I defy anyone to analae them and not be convinced that Hitler can be largely paralyzed by bombing power and transport in a comparatively short time — if the bombers are available.

The bombing already done in Occupied France and Germany is heavier than anything the Germans did in the London blitz. Factories, docks and other cities were inundated with giant explosives.

Yet experts say that had Hitler continued these fierce assaults he might have paralyzed Britain. If the weaker Nazi bombings were so effective, how much more so must be the recent Allied raids which have been pulverizing German cities.

What Hitler has have done then, but did not, is something which will have been in military history. He changed horses in the middle of the stream by attacking Russia, and the moment he struck the bulk of his air force had to be tied to his attacking armies.

And there his planes have remained—anchored to the ground, so to speak.

You can call that a vital error on the Fuehrer's part or you can say it was just bad luck. Undoubtedly he thought his Russian campaign would be a short one — and how the war gods must roar with laughter over that one.

Anyway, whichever way you look at it, there's a moral for the Allies in this. It is: Don't get your forces anchored to the army unless there is no bomber is need of the air fleet elsewhere.

Specifically we must iron out Western Europe by bombing before we invade with land forces. To try to put troops ashore before air preparation would be inviting a catastrophe.

Once the invasion is underway, the combined forces will be used for military operations on the ground and the landing of our 200 targets would have to cease.

S.O.S. For Metal Tubes Sent Out By Price Board And Salvage Officials

Another S.O.S. for collapsible metal tubes has been sent out by S. Godfrey, Used Goods Administration of Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Canadians are urged to search through their medicine cupboards for old tubes and not to wait to turn them in to their druggists only when they buy new tooth-paste or shaving cream.

Many of the older tubes contain more than 90 per cent tin. This scarce metal is vital in manufacture of many types of arms and other war equipment.

One of these tubes may contain enough tin to line the water bottles of twenty fighting men.

REGULAR MEETING CHILDREN'S AID

At the regular meeting of the Lennox and Addington Children's Aid Society, last Thursday afternoon, a review of the year's work of the society, submitted by the Department of Public Welfare of Ontario, was read. The report commended the work of the Society and the Superintendent, Mr. W. F. Barrett, and again recommended the addition to the staff of a full-time social worker. It was pointed out that with the additional work done by the Superintendent in connection with soldiers' dependents, it is impossible for him to cover the whole field of investigation and preventative work recommended by the Department.

Mr. Barrett, in his review of the past month's activity indicated that in addition to the regular work of the Society he had spent a great deal of time in investigation and interviews in connection with his duties for the Dependents' Allowance Board and the Dependents' Board of Trustees.

The following is the Superintendent's monthly statistical report:

CARE REQUIRED IN EMPTYING TEA PACKAGES

Unwittingly many housewives seem to be sacrificing part of their precious rations of tea by leaving a portion of it as a waste, and even for a pot full, in the wrappings.

Salvage workers in one Eastern Ontario community whose task it is to remove paper from the foil containers of tea frequently recover tea in the process. They report that in many cases they have salvaged as much as a teaspoonful from the corners of the one container.

This loss the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which is responsible for the rationing of tea and thus vitally interested in its conservation, suggest that consumers explore every nook and cranny of their tea containers before they are discarded and even remove the paper wrapping behind which particles of tea often lodge.

The Board points out, is just now a particularly precious commodity in view of the fact that all of it has to be imported from far-distant countries by means of ships under constant threat of attack. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that the weekly ration of one ounce per person per week should be eked out to the greatest possible extent and that none of it should be wasted, even to the extent of that which is frequently discarded with its wrappings.

"When 'Over There' was written we were going over there. Where are we going now?"—Irving Berlin.

Combining Foods In Ingenious Ways Results In Interesting Meals

"Economy and conservation" is the watchword all along the line in homes throughout the country. Kitchen economy need not result in tasteless, uninteresting meals. It can be effected by using ingenuity and being constantly on the alert for new ideas and changes in the food situation. It means getting the most out of available foods and using every scrap of left-overs. Foods that are scarce or high in price must be eked out by combining them in new and ingenious ways with other more plentiful or less expensive foods.

The British have become past masters in the art of making a little go a long way, and the Home Economists in the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, have been collecting and testing many of their recipes, adapting them when necessary, to Canadian tastes. Two British recipes are included here. Savoury Batter is different and delicious; it is light and crisp, and resembles Yorkshire Pudding. Baked Cabbage Surprise gives a tasty and inexpensive one-dish meal.

SAVOURY BATTER

Half-cup whole wheat flour
Salt and pepper
One teaspoon thyme or sage
One egg
One cup milk
One cup chopped, cooked meat
One cup chopped cooked vegetables (corn, carrots, peas, etc.)

Cook onion in part of the fat, then skim out and mix onion with the meat. Add vegetables and pepper and egg. Form into 12 balls, roll in flour and brown on all sides in remaining fat. Place in a casserole. Add tomato, sprinkle with parsley and cook approximately one hour in a 375 degree oven. Makes six servings, and is good with baked squash and mixed green salad, or can be served on hot noodles.

AIR GUNNERS ON THE MARK

— BY AN AIR CORRESPONDENT —

"Junkers 88 approaching dead astern, 700 yards!" the gunner shouts.

Sounds like an attack. But it can't be, for the gunner is squatting in front of an oblong mirror reflecting the "flight" of a scale model airplane. The mirror, with a sight exactly the same as the one in a gunner's turret, approaches or recedes simultaneously with the movements of the airplane. "Clouds" on the wall behind the model plane are also reflected in the mirror. As the mirror comes closer, the outline of the aircraft becomes larger, and the gunner is expected to judge the distance and direction of the attack.

This is just one of the elaborate devices the R.A.F. uses to train the gunners of a bombing crew. In another, called the "spotlight trainer," the gunner has to keep his guns trained on a small cross of light thrown from a lamp in a dark room on to the inner surface of a huge concrete bowl set on its side. The gunner sits in a turret and the light is whisked about in disconcertingly erratic fashion. Another light shines from the guns. The squadron gunnery officer can see at once whether the gunner is aiming correctly. At most bomber stations, a gunner spends three or four hours each week practising for half an hour at a time in the Spotlight Trainer.

During his training the gunner learns immediate aircraft recognition. By the setting of the engines, the curve of a wing, or the tilt of a tail, he must be able to recognise instantly whether an aircraft is an enemy or friend. He must have what specialists and psychologists call an "eidetic image" in his brain of every type of British, Allied and Axis aircraft.

The shadowgraph helps the gunner. It is a form of gallery of mental images. This is a screen on which a large circle represents the ringed bead sight of his gunner turret. At one side of the screen is an electric light, and between the light and the screen accurate scale models of aircraft are manipulated so that the gunner on the other side of the screen can watch the outline of the aircraft grow larger or smaller, twist or dive. By the size of the model silhouette in the ring he learns to judge the distance.

By the time a gunner has gone through the Initial Training Wing, Air Gunners' School and the Operational Training Unit, he knows enough to continue his training in action against the enemy. But the practice he gets against Messerschmitts is not enough; and so there is a special organization to pass on, for the benefit of all, the knowledge that each gunner gains in battle.

After the squadron gunnery officer writes a summary of every encounter, a gunner who claims to have shot down a fighter is questioned by Intelligence officers. Two months later a gunner can actually see the enemy aircraft go down in flames or crash on the ground, before it can be claimed as destroyed. Now squadron gunnery officer's report is sent to the Group Gunnery Leader, who circulates it among all the stations in the Group.

Here, for example, is the report of a battle between a Halifax and one of Germany's newest fighters, a Focke-Wulf 190.

"After attacking Cologne, the Halifax was intercepted by an enemy night fighter, Height 4,000 feet. Clear sky with full moon. Time 0127. First indication of attack was series of lights on the ground pointing out the aircraft's track. Fighter, identified as F-W 190, was seen by rear gunner approaching at 1,000 yards on the port quarter. Evasive action was taken, and when rear gunner opened fire, fighter broke off to starboard, then attacked, from dead astern. Fighter opened its firing at the time, and again rear gunner replied with a three-second burst. Fighter appeared to stall and spin. Strikes observed and enemy claimed as damaged.

"Half an hour later the aircraft was again attacked. Same procedure of lights on ground observed. Fighter, again F-W 190, seen astern and below at 400 yards. 400 yards enemy aircraft opened fire. Rear gunner withheld fire until range had fallen to 300 yards, then opened up with five-seconds burst. Almost at once fighter stopped firing, dived to fire and was seen to crash and explode on hitting ground."

The comment by the Group Gunnery Leader on this report was: "Both encounters probably with same fighter. This is the first time we have had encounter with an F-W 190. Evasive action was in good time, and rear gunner put in some excellent shooting."

Training, concentrated and continuous, in the air and on the ground, was responsible for this success. To prepare the gunners for battles such as this, every "operational" practice is arranged between bombers and fighters. The consequently becomes one of the more important items in training bomber crews, for every bomber that goes over Germany must be ready for fighting in self-defense.

Absence Of Silk, Nylon Due To Vital War Need Used In Making Chutes

Patriotic consolation for wartime absence of silk and nylon hosiery is that 136 pairs of these stockings make the equivalent of one parachute.

Another comforting factor is the presence of rayon, the material most of which has greatly improved and is improving all the time. Rayon stockings are well and deserve the best of care.

Two facts about rayon cannot be

AIR POWER WILL PAVE THE WAY FOR ARMY

London — There are, it is believed by now, more than 2000 prime targets Allied bombers need to destroy in France and Germany in order to bring Hitler's European empire tumbling like ill-cooked pastry before their armies ever him and end the war by next Fall. These targets comprise Naridom's chief war industries, rail communications and fighting stock. In short, they represent the sources of much striking power and the means of moving that power into action.

In order to achieve this destruction swiftly and thereby prevent great prolongation of the war, British and American bombers based in this country would have to be heavily increased.

How much air power would be needed to carry out this program? Obviously, attempts can be made to give detailed figures. But it can be said that if these two forces were trebled, within the next couple of months, the Allies could achieve enough by Spring so that an invasion army could go into operation.

Of course, it leaves a lot to the imagination to talk about trebling the bomber forces when we don't know what the present fleets are. Still, authorities who do know the figures will welcome that this would be a feasible expansion.

CONCENTRATION FACTORS

This concentration of air force in Britain would result in:

1. By current production in both countries.

2. By transferring air craft from other activities which would spare them for this main operation in Western Europe.

In this second category might fall some of the submarine scouting now being carried on by aircraft with the expenditure of a maximum amount of labour for a minimum of results. The ideal place to get a submarine with bombers is at the business base itself, where the U-boat has started to roam the seas.

Emphasis must be placed on speed in providing bomber reinforcements. Hitler should not be allowed to use the winter months to repair the grievous damage he has suffered in the Russian campaign.

There is another point which affects the American force directly. It has said great success with new, heavily - armored, short - range Flying Fortresses with astonishingly small losses.

This is due in large degree to the fact the Flying Fortress is so protected that it is in a sense both bomber and fighter.

The Nazis are not able to cope with the Fortress now because it is a new weapon for which they were not prepared. It won't be new for long, however. Science marches fast and we may expect the Germans to develop a defence.

Thus Hitler must not be given a chance to devise a means to beat the Fortresses before they have taken a full toll of the vital targets. Now is the appointed hour when the bombers can do the most damage with the least danger to themselves.

I have spent many hours recently with high-power magnifying glasses studying the photographs of the damage done in raids on such cities as Rostock, Emden, Cologne, Lille, Duesseldorf and Emden.

I defy anyone to analyse them and not realize that Germany is largely paralyzed in his industries and transport in a comparatively short time— if the bombers are available.

The bombing already done in Occupied France and Germany is heavily concentrated on the Germans did in Britain in 1940-41, when docks and other cities were inundated with high explosives.

Yet experts say that had Hitler continued these fierce assaults he might have paralyzed Britain. If the weaker Nazi bombings were so effective, how much more so must be the recent Allied raids which have been pulverizing whole areas.

What Hitler might have done then, but did not, is something which we know he will do tomorrow. He changed horses in the middle of the stream by attacking Russia, and the moment he struck the bulk of his air force had to be tied to his attacking armies.

And there his planes have remained— anchored so the ground, so to speak.

You can call that a vital error on the Fuehrer's part or you can say it was just bad luck. Undoubtedly he thought his Russian campaign would be a short one — and how the war gods must roar with laughter over that one.

Anyway, whichever way you look at it, there's a mistake to be made there. It is: Don't get your air force anchored to the army unless there no longer is need of the air fleet elsewhere.

Specifically we must iron out Western Europe by bombing before we invade with land forces. To try to put troops ashore before air preparation would be inviting a catastrophe.

Once the invasion is underway the combined forces will be tied to military operations on the ground and the bombers of our 200 targets would have to cease.

S.O.S. For Metal Tubes Sent Out By Price Board And Salvage Officials

Another S.O.S. for collapsible metal tubes has been sent out by J. S. Godfry, Used Goods Administration of Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Canadians are urged to search through their medicine cupboards for old tubes and not to wait to turn them in to their druggists only when they buy new toothpaste or shaving cream.

Many of the older tubes contain more than 90 per cent tin. This scarce metal is vital in manufacture of many types of arms and for other war equipment.

One of these tubes may contain enough tin to line the water bottles of twenty fighting men.

REGULAR MEETING CHILDREN'S AID

At the regular meeting of the Lennox and Addington Children's Aid Society, 1st Thursday afternoon, a review of he year's work of the society, submitted by the Department of Public Welfare of Ontario, was read. The report commended the work of the Society and the Superintendent. Mr. W. F. Barrett, and again recommended the addition to the staff of a full-time social worker. It was pointed out that with the additional work done by the Superintendent in connection with soldiers' dependents, it is impossible for him to cover the whole field of investigation and preventative work recommended by the Department.

Mr. Barrett, in his review of the past month's activity indicated that in addition to the regular work of the Society he had spent a great deal of time in investigation and interviews in connection with his duties for the Dependents' Allowance Board and the Dependents' Board of Trustees.

CARE REQUIRED IN EMPTYING TEA PACKAGES

Unwittingly many housewives seem to be sacrificing part of their precious supply of tea by leaving enough of it for a cupful, and even for a pinchful, in the wrappings.

Salvage workers in one Eastern Ontario community whose task it is to remove paper from the foil containers of tea frequently recover tea in the paper container. They report that in many cases they have collected as much as a teaspoonful from the corners of the one container.

This leads the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which is responsible for the rationing of tea and thus vitally interested in its conservation, to suggest that consumers explore every nook and cranny of their tea containers before they are discarded and even remove the paper wrapping behind which particles of tea often lodge.

Tea, the Board points out, is just now a particularly precious commodity in view of the fact that all of it has to be imported from far-distant countries by means of ships under constant threat of attack. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that the weekly ration of one ounce per person per week should be eked out to the greatest possible extent, and that none of it should be wasted, even to the small amount which is frequently discarded with its wrappings.

RED CROSS NEWS

One of the comfort bags, worked by the Napanee Red Cross Branch, has been received by a sailor, a resident of Napanee, who is now in Sydney, Nov. 8, 1942.

Napanee Red Cross:

I received the parcel today and I was very glad to get it. It was a nice Christmas gift and I thank you all for your kindness.

It makes a person feel better when he knows somebody is thinking about him. As for Norwegians, who haven't got a country at the present time, we are very grateful to the people over here for their kindness.

Sincerely,
ARNOLDT SOBENG.
S.S. Hjalmar Wessel.

Many of these comfort bags were paid for by individuals, and their names was placed in each parcel donated. No doubt they will receive letters from the recipients as the bags is given out.

Mrs. Chidley and Mrs. Exley, Sr., were hostesses on Saturday afternoon, with a good attendance in spite of the cold weather.

The buns baked from the prize tag of flour sold rapidly and were so well received that the sale will be repeated next Saturday afternoon.

The sewing department of the Napanee Red Cross is very much in need of two sewing machines. There is a great deal of stitching done, much of it heavy work, and the machines would need to be in good working condition. No appeal made to the public through this column has ever gone unanswered, and we feel sure that anyone having a machine they do not need will be glad to get in touch with either the President, Miss Herrington, or Mrs. Ralph Ham, from the sewing department.

NOVENA CLOSED AT ST. PATRICK'S CH.

At St. Patrick's Church, The Novena, in honour of the Sorrowful Mother of God, was brought to a conclusion on Friday last. The Novena commenced on the evening of September 18th, and Friday evening after Friday evening, the beautiful church was crowded by a devout and enthusiastic congregation, taking their part in the recitation, in unison, of the beautiful Novena prayers, while the congregation's singing of Marial hymns, consecrated by their antiquity, was most impressive. Dean Leacy presided at the closing service, as he did during the entire Novena.

The shrine of Our Sorrowful Mother, located for the occasion within the sanctuary, was beautifully decorated with white and yellow mums and ferns in profusion, while twinkling little blue and white votive lights, interspersed the setting. With the lights of the church dimmed, the shrine was a vision of inspiring loveliness, with profound religious feelings to be remembered by the large congregation.

Dean Leacy delivered a powerful and eloquent sermon, dealing with the Sorrows of Mary, and drew from them consolation and encouragement for his attentive hearers.

It was the united tribute of a faithful people, that never was a service more impressive and prayerful; none more lastingly enduring, than was the dramatic closing of the Fall Novena at St. Patrick's.

TUBE ORDER

ONLY AFFECTS SHAVING CREAM, TOOTHPASTE SALES

Ottawa, (C.P.) — S. Godfrey, used goods administrator, of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said in a statement last week, that "it is only when selling shaving cream or toothpaste that retailers must require the customers to turn in a used collapsible tube.

He added: "This used tube can be of any kind — not necessarily a shaving cream or toothpaste tube."

The statement added that salves, medical and other preparations can be purchased without turning in a collapsible tube. But all extra tubes over and above the one required for the purchase of a new supply of shaving cream or toothpaste form part turned in immediately.

Other exceptions to the turn-in order, he said, include sales by a retailer where the purchased shaving cream or toothpaste forms not but not more than 25 per cent. of the value of a gift kit, or combination of goods.

Needs of the armed forces are met by a provision that a used tube will not be required to be returned from anyone who sells from stores or supplies of any canteen or mess within the limits of a naval, military or air force camp, barracks, dockyard, vessel or similar establishment, or by anyone operating a store or canteen within the limits of a military hospital or similar establishment. The statement said sales by these establishments already indicate that members of the armed forces have a preference for tooth powders rather than pastes.

THE MIXING BOWL

THE MAIN COURSE OF FOOD AND EVENTS

Hello Homemakers! Coming events may "cast their shadows before" — but shortages in goods provide a strange new experience for most of us. To-day the dinner table reflects these shortages and brings the war close. How we can admire with more understanding the spirit with which the people of Britain have accepted changing conditions.

Thoughtful people will not only be anxious to comply with Government regulations — they will study equivalent values of other plentiful Canadian products and also methods of quick cooking to conserve electricity.

Where rationing is fashionable it is up to us to make it so. The question "How does it affect me?" has only one answer — multiply what you do by 11,000,000 and see if it adds up to 100 per cent war effort. The right spirit is as vital to us as our daily bread and as necessary for victory.

RECIPES

Vegetable Loaf

Half-cup cooked green peas, half-cup cooked green string beans, half-cup chopped boiled carrots, one and one-half cups milk, one cup soft bread crumbs, half-teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, half-teaspoon of paprika, one egg.

Press peas through a sieve, cut beans in small pieces, then combine all vegetables. Add to them the milk, bread crumbs, egg, crumbs and seasoning. Turn into a greased baking-pan and bake in an electric oven (350-degrees F.) until firm.

Cheese Cutlets

Two-thirds cup grated cheese, two cups mashed potatoes, 4 tablespoons minced pepper, one cup cooked Lima or navy beans, (ground), one teaspoon salt.

Combine ingredients and shape the mixture into cutlets about one-half inch thick. Saute them in a small amount of hot fat, and serve with horseradish sauce.

Creamed Eggs and Canadian Sardines

Four tablespoons butter, one-quarter cup soft, stale bread crumbs, one cup thin cream or top milk, two hard boiled eggs, half-package sardines, half-teaspoon salt, quarter-teaspoon of paprika, half-teaspoon pepper.

Melt butter, add bread crumbs and cream, and bring to the boiling point; then add eggs, finely chopped, sardines and seasonings. Again bring to the boiling point, on element turned "Medium" and serve at once.

TAKE A TIP:

Percentage Protein Composition in a pound or common foods gives the homemaker suggestions on how to balance the busy worker's menu:

Rump Roast (medium fat)	19.8%
Cooked Leg of Mutton	23.3%
Smoked Haddock	23.3%
Eggs	14.8%
Milk	3.2%
Cornmeal	9.2%
Cheddar Cheese	27.7%
Cracked Wheat	11.1%
Sifting Bread	23.7%
Carrots, Beets, Cabbage— about	1.0%
Corn	3.0%
Navy Beans	22.5%
Soy Beans	35.1%
Dried Peas	24.6%
Apples	0.3%
Peaches	0.4%
Plums	0.2%
Gelatin	91.4%
Cocoa	21.6%

Protein is needed for building and repairing tissues and cells; and when meat is scarce it is wise to consider other foods of high protein content according to cost.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. D. C. asks: "How can we freshen coconut?"

Answer: It may be the new synthetic coconut which may be soaked in milk and then crisped in the oven.

Mrs. S. H. asks: "Recipe for a Spice Bran Cookie."

Answer:

Molasses Cookies

Half-cup baking fat, half-cup of sugar, one egg, one-quarter cup milk, one-third cup molasses, half-cup bran, one and half cups flour, quarter-teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, quarter teaspoon salt, half teaspoon ginger, half-teaspoon cinnamon.

Cream fat and sugar and beat in egg. Add milk, molasses and bran. Sift the dry ingredients and add. Spread butter very thin in greased jelly roll pan. Bake in electric oven at 300 deg. F. for 25 minutes. Cool slightly and cut in squares.

Oven Used Once For Four Meals Results In Power and Fuel Saving

There is real art to planning meals that save, for so many new factors enter the picture. Every one is rushed nowadays and tries to plan meals that come up to the standards set by the nutritionists, so say nothing of those on by the family. Meals must be planned and made good use of the available foods and no easy thing is that must be imported or are in short supply. Then there are conditions created by rate easy on both pocket book and ration book, that conserve power or fuel and at the same time save time and energy for the many other things the family and community life make on her.

It is easier to plan successfully and economically for several days ahead than to plan meals from day to day. These and every will be saved in marketing for several days at a time, and advance planning means that more efficient use can be made of the stove with a resultant saving of power and fuel.

In these menus, prepared by the Consumer Section, of the Department of Agriculture, the oven is used only once in the preparation of two days' meals, but it is used to capacity at that time. Using these menus as a guide, it will be simple to plan other meals along the same lines.

Here is the oven schedule followed in preparing these meals, based on the time and temperature required to cook the pot roast. A five pound pot roast cooked entirely in the oven will take about three hours. The oven is pre-heated to 400 degrees and the pot roast, pumpkin pie and a pan of Melba toast (to be filled with fresh or canned fruit for dessert on the third day) go in. At the end of fifteen minutes the Melba will be cooked, the oven temperature is lowered to 350 degrees (liquid is added to the pot roast and the apples are put in to bake. Half an hour later the pie and apples will be ready to come out and their place immediately taken by the custard and the orange bread. Individual custards will bake in twenty minutes but a large one will need 30 to 40 minutes, the same time required by the orange bread. Parsnips go in at the end 50 to 60 minutes, vegetables are added 15 minutes before the meat is ready to serve. Cabbage, carrots, beets, pumpkin or squash can be cooked while the meat is roasting.

If you have a fireless cooker, the meat is brought to the boiling point, then put in the cooker with the vegetables and left for several hours. Then the meat is roasted in the oven for the last hour.

Finally when the dinner is finished and the heat turned off, the Melba toast for supper is put into the cooling oven; here's a tip, if the bread is placed between two wire cake racks the toast won't curl up at the edges.

In planning meals of this type a choice of dishes that require approximately the same cooking temperatures and careful timing will ensure the maximum amount of use from the oven with a minimum consumption of fuel, not to mention the comfort and convenience of the wife appreciates of having dishes prepared ahead of her and also of leisure to wear work or other household activities.

JAPAN AND THE AXIS

BY BRIGADIER GENERAL H. S. SEWELL

For the last month Japanese forces have been trying hard to win back what they lost in the Solomon Islands, and in New Guinea they have also launched a determined attack towards Port Moresby, the key air and sea of Australia's north-eastern defenses. These operations are not necessarily indicate that it is Japan's intention to invade Australia. The Japanese military leaders realize that such a venture would have small chance of success. What they can first cut the communications between the United States and the Allied base in Australia. By the mere activity in the southwest Pacific appears to be threatening that objective. If they can block the approaches to Australia from the northeast, they will feel comparatively secure against an Allied attack from that continent, and they will then be able to turn their attention to improve their position on other fronts.

General Wavell in a recent speech likened Japan to a boa constrictor that has swallowed a goat and now has to go away somewhere to digest it. The main restriction requires peace while digesting his goal, and Japan wants safety from interference while developing and consolidating her conquests in the East Indies.

The Indies are only a part of the vast territory occupied by Japan and regained for the new Japanese Asian sphere. The link between Japan and her new Empire is by sea, and to remain these communications maritime supremacy in the west Pacific is essential. Japan has not been able to open up land communications through China to Indo-China Siam and Burma. Chinese armies have recently regained most of the important railroads by which it might have been possible for Japan to keep in touch with her conquests on the mainland.

EXPOSED TO ATTACK FROM FOUR QUARTERS

Japan itself, and the enormous territorial block from Manchuria to Burma and New Guinea, is exposed to attack from four different quarters: from Vladivostok in the North, from a full-scale naval action against supply routes in the Pacific, from the Indo-Burmese frontier in the West, and from Australia in the South.

The first of these four potential threats (from Vladivostok) does not become an actuality unless and until war breaks out between Japan and the Soviet Union. Japan has now garrisoned the islands of Sakhalin forces concentrated in the north, and there have been rumors all this Summer that an invasion of Siberia was imminent. It would have been a great help to the Germany if Japan had made an attack on Siberia in coincidence with the offensive on the Don. That no move was made then is an indication that Japan intends to pursue her own interests and take action, which would suit Germany, only if such action coincides with her own interests.

It is also that in October 1941 Hitler told Japan the idea that Moscow and Leningrad were bound to fall and because of this Japan decided to enter the war. It is not surprising if Japan refuses again to accept Hitler's estimate of Russia's strength. The Red Army in the Far East is known to be formidable in numbers and equipment, and the Soviet authorities have announced that the reserves transferred to the European front have come from western and not eastern Siberia.

WHEN WILL JAPAN ATTACK RUSSIA?

It is probable that the Japanese have their own plans for obtaining information about the Russian strength, and that they have made their own decision as to when, if and how they will attack. Much will depend on the extent to which Germany can cripple the Russian military machine in the immediate future, and the pressure which the Allies will be able to exert on the Japanese Empire in the South and West. The decision will be made in Tokyo, and the strength of the Allied Nations will do more to influence Japanese plans than any "guidance" from Berlin.

Of the three other possible quarters from which the Japanese might be threatened, the time has not yet come for a full - scale naval assault upon Japan's ocean supply routes. Step by step routine for move island bases appears to be a necessary preliminary before the Allies will be in a position to launch such an attack.

The continuous monsoon season has ended and operations on the Burma frontier should be possible before long. Though the terrain presents great difficulties either for an invasion of Burma by the British, or a battle by the Japanese, the chances of a successful encounter appear to be in favour of the forces on the shores of the Bay of Bengal and not so good as they were five months ago. Such operation would require ample naval and air support, and it is probable that the Japanese have greater need for these assets in their operations in the Pacific.

There are many indications that the Allied air strength in India is mounting rapidly, and by the time all the Japanese could make much headway unless they assemble a large air force than is now engaged in Burma. The task for which General Wavell's small army is preparing in the East is to expel the Japanese from Burma and to open up the road by which China could receive aid. Supplied. Up to now the army in India has been on the defensive through necessity, but with its increased strength, it will soon be ready to change its role to the offensive. Whether the Allied High Command decides that the opportunity has come

Germans Clean Up Norwegian Quisling Police

Drunk with fulfilment-of power, publicity in Norway is now like Hitler or like the too successful criminals who always go too far, and make one step too far and find their careers brought to an abrupt end.

This week Quisling found himself in many departments of the quisling puppet government and although the Party and the German occupying power have shut their eyes to many activities, and in fact given them their covering, things have gone too far even for them in quite a number of cases.

The quisling police chiefs particularly have been making mistakes. The patriotic population make it as difficult as they can for them, because they no respect for these depraved and incompetent National Samling members. Even the fact an increase in the size of the police forces throughout the country has not been sufficient to cope with the opposition.

One hot-bed is Sarpsborg. When the notorious Oerd Holtskog — known in Oslo as the "Town's Pride" — wheedled his way into the position of the chief of police in that town he found that out of a population of some 13,000 there were only about 150 members of the Quisling Party. His immediate reaction was to attack the people madly, and attempt by brute force to bring them to heel. In this he failed miserably, and consequently he met with some of the strongest opposition in Norway. There were mass arrests in the district, when many were imprisoned and sent to concentration camps. All to no avail. Meanwhile Holtskog was, together with his Party accomplices, blundering the homes of those whom he had fixed into prison and leading a gang of black market racketeers.

Public feeling became so intense against this gangster police chief that the authorities could no longer shut their eyes to his activities. Holtskog has been dismissed from office, and, probably because he had no other choice, he has joined the Norwegian Legion — the military organization which Quisling formed to fight "Bolshevism." Holtskog is now on the Eastern Front.

He has been replaced by Lindblom, the unsuccessful police chief of Bodoe, who although quite incompetent may calm the sentiments of the public in Sarpsborg for the time being.

Skien, another seat of great disturbance, the scene of many mass arrests and the burbear of Terboven who has on more than one occasion had to make a personal visit to quell disturbances, has just had its fourth police chief appointed in three months, while at Aalesund the fifth in a year has just taken up his duties.

The new chief in Skien, Harmann Jensen, has not been long in making himself known to his "flock." His first declaration on taking office was: "If the Norwegian police corps falters the whole country will collapse. To be a policeman today is to be in the most difficult profession in the whole of Norway. The most incredible things are demanded of the police, and more than ever we must be on our guard. We have to consider the people, the Government and the occupying power, and these things require adaptability. We must maintain peace but we must not push. There are certain events in the country who are not in sympathy interest and they must be suppressed ruthlessly."

Ramstad, the ousted Premier of Troms, has been appointed chief of police for Kirkenes — well known quislingdom. Mayor Bjoern Breeds Ramstad as executive of the fifth in two years. Ousted at Harstad was also reprimanded for not having left while the district police chief and the county police in Tromsoe, have been removed from the Party and dismissed because of their failure to carry out the directives of the Germans, and the terror and friendship among the members of the Quisling Party have been ruled.

. . . And one machine gun in action for only four minutes uses enough copper for a mile and a half of telephone wire.

Those are just two of the reasons why copper and other materials needed for war equipment can't be used now to build new telephone lines.

Right now, Long Distance lines are often overcrowded, especially to key war centres.

Won't you help by cutting down your Long Distance calls to these points to an absolute minimum?

BATH

Bath, Nov. 16. — The funeral of the late Mrs. H. M. Calvert was held from her residence to the United Church on Sunday afternoon. Rev. James Robinson, pastor had charge of the service. The deceased, who was formerly Harriet Pinner, came from England many years ago and settled in this district. The past few years of her life have been spent cheerfully even though her sight was impaired and finally lost. She was very active until a few weeks ago, when she remained in bed. Many and varied were the experiences she could relate quite distinctly in spite of her ninety odd years. Her husband passed away a few years ago, and she leaves to mourn, four sons, Fred G., Robert, William, and Albert; also two daughters, Mrs. J. N. Osborne and Miss Edith, all of Bath; also several grandchildren and great grandchildren, many of whom were present. The bearers were grandsons of the deceased. The hymns were two favorites, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". The choir rendered an appropriate number. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The remains were laid beside her husband in the cemetery beside the church. We sympathize with the community is extended to the family. Our friends at the Waller Sawmill will be sorry to hear that he is seriously ill in the Kingston hospital. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Burgess mourn the loss of their grandson. Burgess suffered a stroke about two weeks ago and is confined to her bed. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Burgess, of Toronto, and Mrs. E. Walker, of Colebrook, are spending some time at her home.

What might have proven a serious fire was prevented by local men on Saturday, when a fire was seen burning in the Hogle building. "BUILT ACCORDING TO PLAN"

In the technician's vernacular it implies, "correct in every detail" and so it applies to EATON Made-To-Measure Clothes. You are carefully "sized up" for posture and stance, every measurement is double-checked and charted. This serves as a blueprint for our master craftsmen to hand-cut your choice of the English or Domestic woollens. Time and time again, our experts, like the technical workers, check the blueprint and for the same reason . . . to turn out a good job. Seeing is believing . . . satisfy yourself by making your next suit an EATON Made-To-Measure.

TWO YOUNG MEN

with faith in themselves

BEFORE the war, two young graduates in chemistry faced the future with no assets but technical training and unbounded faith in themselves. They planned to capitalize on their years in college by manufacturing a certain chemical product. "But we'll need some money to get started," they said. "Let's put it up to the bank."

Their banker decided that their faith was well founded in character, ability, energy. "We'll finance you to start in a small way," he said. "Make a test on the local market first."

Presently the product was being sold all over Canada and exported to the United States and overseas. Now it fills a wartime demand. The enterprise employs a large number of people.

This actual example illustrates how this country's Chartered Banks help credit-worthy people to benefit themselves, their fellows and their country under the democratic system of free enterprise.

Banks, like any other business, exist because they provide service which a community needs and is willing to pay for at a rate which will yield a reasonable profit. Chartered Bank profits average less than one-half of one per cent a year on total assets. Few, if any, other businesses operate on as small a margin.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT NEWS
WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

In order that reports of organizations may be printed the week following the dates on which the meetings are held, we find it necessary to request that all copy be in our office not later than Saturday morning. We ask for the co-operation of the reporters, so that we may continue to be of service. — Editor.

NAPANEE W. I.

The November meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, November 10th, in the agricultural rooms.

Mrs. E. I. Boyle, first vice-president, presided owing to the absence of the President, Mrs. J. Haggerty, who was ill. The meeting opened with the singing of the ode, prayer for peace, and a salute to the flag.

The treasurer, Mrs. K. Powell, gave her report which showed a balance on hand. It was decided to ask for the Government grant. The delegates' expenses to the Kingston area convention, were paid. It was decided to have an afternoon euchre on Friday, November 27th, with Mrs. M. B. Luffman and Mrs. B. Seymour as conveners, some of the members donating prizes.

Mrs. Alma Alcombrack reported on the Girls' work, stating there was a class of fifteen girls, which was meeting on Monday nights.

Mrs. B. Seymour gave the report of the first day of the Kingston area convention. Mrs. Haggerty will give the second day of the convention at a later date.

Mrs. K. Powell was convener of the program, which was on "War Work." Mrs. Powell gave a most interesting paper on "The part women are playing in the war." She also read a letter from Miss Luva Perry of the C.W.A.C. Ottawa telling of her work there. Mrs. B. Seymour and Mrs. B. Black then gave a piano duet. Mrs. T. S. Moore gave a paper on "War Work" which was very helpful.

The District W.I. placed a wreath at the cenotaph on Sunday.

The roll call was the Name of a Relative on Military Service.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

SILLSVILLE W. A.

The Sillsville W. A. held a war-work meeting at the home of Mrs. W. D. Young on November 4th. The scripture lesson was taken by the minister, Rev. K. J. Crawford. One quilt was nearly finished at the meeting. It was decided to send a Christmas box to Albert Gilbert. The repairs to the parsonage, so badly needed, will not be begun until next spring. But one hundred dollars subscribed for that purpose by a freewill offering being inadequate. Victory bonds were purchased by the Sillsville W. A. on the last day of the Victory Loan drive.

The meeting was brought to a close, and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Harold Young. Proceeds from the lunch amounted to $2.75.

HAY BAY W. A. AND W. M. S.

There was a good attendance at the joint meeting of the Hay Bay W. A. and W. M. S. at the home of Mrs. Reuben Wednesday afternoon, November 11. The theme of the W.A. programme was "Remembrance Day" with appropriate readings and musical numbers. Mrs. Dorothy Spraggett was in the chair and conducted a devotional period. Mrs. Jas. Robertson gave the scripture reading and the Rev. Mr. McGallum led in prayer. Mrs. Nolan also contributed a pianoforte selection. The secretary reported on the recent redecoration of the exterior of the church and that all accounts had been paid. The matter of interior decoration was postponed for a while. Several members handed in their Full thankoffering. The president, Mrs. W. B. Bell, took charge of the devotional exercises of the W. M. S. meeting. The treasurer reported missionary givings to be in excess of last year, with a slight increase in membership.

Following the meeting the hostess served lunch and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Rendell for her kind hospitality. The Rev. McCallum closed the meeting.

GRACE CHURCH W. M. S.

There was a fairly good attendance of the November meeting at which Mrs. Booth presided. An interesting feature of the meeting was the display of supplies for the bale. These included quilts, layettes, children's wear, and other comfortable wearables, contributed by the various groups, with Mrs. Neely as supply secretary.

The treasurer, Mrs. P. Vine, gave the financial report of the financial return to date. A short report of the Sectional Rally at Gretna, October 16, was given by Miss Emma Vanalstine. The worship period, the theme of which was "The Home" was in charge of Mrs. W. F. Barrett and Mrs. P. Vine. Appropriate scripture passages were read and an appropriate solo, "A Happy Home" was sung by Mrs. Milton Martin. In the absence of Miss Hazel Vanalstine, Study Book Leader, because of illness, the study book, "The Church in the City Streets" was introduced by Mrs. Wilfred Smith, Mrs. F. Correll and Mrs. C. D. McLellan, and proved very interesting.

MORVEN W. M. S.

Mrs. William Raycraft was hostess to members of Morven W. M. S. on Wednesday, November 11th. Fifteen members and three visitors were present. The president, Mrs. V. Mills, presided. The meeting opened with a worship service, with the president giving a few explanations as to how we can use our talents one day at a time, after which a quartette was sung by Mesdames G. Fralick, W. Withers, R. Hill and S. Denyes.

The business items were, that Mrs. Henwood be remembered by a card from the members and that mite boxes be brought in at the December meeting.

Mrs. William Raycraft took charge of the election of officers for 1943, which are as follows: President, Mrs. V. Mills; 1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. R. Lund; 2nd. vice-pres., Mrs. Charles; 3rd vice-pres., Mrs. G. Fralick; treasurer, Mrs. G. Fralick; rec.-secretary, Mrs. R. Hill; Corr.-sec., Mrs. A. Winters; temperance sec., Mrs. S. H. Fraser; supply sec., Mrs. J. H. Cole; Miss. Monthly, Mrs. H. Stone; mite box sec., Mrs. J. B. Hawley; peace sec., Mrs. Raycraft; Christian stewardship Mrs. G. Fralick; strangers sec., Mrs. William Maddok; press sec., Mrs. R. Hill; organist, Mrs. Wm. Raycraft; auditor Mrs. William Ball, 1942-43; Baby Band, Miss Irene Vanalycke; watch tower heralds, remain as 1942; associate helper sec., Mrs. Percy Lake.

A reading by Mrs. H. Stone, followed by prayer, closed the meeting.

A vote of appreciation was given the hostess for opening her home, and for the delicious grapes and apples which she provided.

Interesting Letter From Mrs. Edmonds In China

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Boyes, recently, from their niece, Mrs. Lorenia Edmonds, a teacher in the Canadian school at Hinshow, Szechwan.

The Canadian School,
Henshow, Szechwan,
Sept. 14, 1942.

We left the mountains on September 1st and travelled for two days on roads only one foot wide except where there were bridges across streams. There they were about three feet wide. The weather was ideal. A gentle breeze was blowing both days and the sun was under a cloud most of the time. In the valleys the rice had been cut but on the higher levels it was still standing. The indigo plants were growing nicely and everywhere one saw the sweet potato vines. The cotton plants although not as sturdy a type as found in the Southern States, U.S.A. were in flower and everywhere the pickers were at work. This plant continues blossoming and developing its fruit until the end of October. In some places the ploughing was already under way for the spring wheat crop. Corn had been harvested and all the farmhouses had a great array of corn drying. In some cases it was hanging on the cobs which were strung on a rope and hung above the doorway. In other cases, it was shelled and spread out on bamboo mats to dry in the sun.

As I wrote you, the boys led the cow, calf and dog on our trip to the hills the beginning of summer. But the cow died and we sold the calf. So for the return trip they led our dog and the dog of a friend. I hired a litter to be used jointly by the two boys. On this way one was always walking, leading the two dogs, and one was riding. This meant that they were not overtired. Nettie and I each had a litter with two men carrying us. To make up the additional weight on Nettie's litter, I added my small suitcase and our lunch basket. On the road we bought hot water, Chinese tea, rice and hard boiled eggs, but carried with us what we needed otherwise for two dinners, one breakfast and one supper, and we had cookies and tea in the middle of the afternoon.

Transportation is so expensive this year that I did not take a steamer trunk or any other trunk to the hills. Instead, we used native baskets made of thin strips of bamboo woven together. They are much stronger than western suitcases or wooden boxes. Since we pay for transportation at the rate of so much per load of one hundred pounds, it is important not to have too heavy a container. Fortunately, I did not have to pay for my dishes and kitchen utensils to be carried these two days, but stored them in the home of missionary friends at Junghsien which is at the foot of the hills and therefore only about three hours' travel.

In this district crops have been good. But in the Tsetiusing district where we used to live, there has been little rain since last April so that practically famine conditions prevail. The cost of living continues to increase. During the two summer months the price of sugar rose from $7.00 to $11. Here at the school we bought a year's supply in February when the crop came in for $4.40. You can easily see what chances there are for the merchants to profiteer with such changing prices.

Arthur has now gone to Chengtu and will begin work to-day on his Honour Matriculation. He is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spooner, Toronto people and Victoria College graduates. Mr. Spooner is a chemistry professor. He was able to go to Chengtu in a very fine Ford ambulance, which had been donated to China by the Red Cross. In this ambulance there arrived as our school here, last week, the son and daughter of the Chinese Red Cross president, a Dr. Lim, and another Chinese girl student and their escort. We are very glad to have these new students this year. Altogether we expect to have about fifty-five students this year. They are coming from all sections of this Western section of what is known as Free China.

One of the mothers here who is acting as a matron of a home with twelve of our students in it, is Mrs. Terry, of Texas. Her husband was here last week after a journey of some three months in southwest China. He says he saw many heart-breaking scenes. One young man he met, told of being in a party of eight who had evacuated from a city which was about to fall into the hands of the Japanese. His fiance was among the party. She asked this young man to go across the street to their boarding house and get something for her out of her suitcase. He did so, but then the alarm came that enemy planes were approaching. No one was allowed to move. He crouched down in the doorway nor could they join him. Planes came and the seven in the original group were all killed. This young man alone was saved. Mr. Terry also mentioned how the students of East China were suffering. The enemy shoot students at sight. Evidently they greatly fear students. Hence students have been leaving all occupied or about to be occupied areas. They were fleeing from Shanghai. They had little food while travelling, often had no money and not proper clothing. Often these students became ill. Mr. Terry says that refugee camps are being opened and these lads are being cared for. As they do not dare to carry any identification badges on them, it is often necessary for their teachers to come to identify the boys.

There are harrowing tales of the way the Japs have machined gunned trains of helpless refugees. We are so thankful to be spared these persecutions but cannot help but think of those who are undergoing them.

NAVY LEAGUE WEEK NOV. 22ND - 28TH

Never before have Canadians been as conscious of their Royal Canadian Navy, their Merchant Navy and the personnel of both as they are today. It is fitting, then, that these "gallant men of the sea" should be honoured during the period that has been set aside for that purpose, namely Sunday, November 22nd, to Saturday, November 28th. This will be known as Navy Week and the public will be invited to take advantage of it by becoming more familiar with naval matters.

"Navy Week" was suggested by The Navy League of Canada and this national organization is sponsoring it. Largely through the press and with the help of radio and motion pictures, something of the tremendous responsibilities of the Navy and Merchant Marine — coupled with the work of the Navy League — will be made known in greater detail than usual.

The school children of all Canada will be made familiar with these activities through the distribution to teachers of a booklet entitled "Ships Mean Victory" which was written especially by Lieutenant-Commander William Strange, R.C.N.V.R. Upwards of 100,000 copies will be used for that purpose. In return, the boys and girls will make their annual donation in support of The Navy League, and will do so through their school classes. No other financial appeal will be made and there is nothing to prevent parents from augmenting these gifts if they so desire nor will larger donations be refused.

During Navy Week there will be many activities including parades and "open house" at local Sea Cadet barracks. Speakers will appear before the several service clubs and in many churches reference will be made and sermons preached by the Ministers on the opening Sunday.

It is intended to intensify The Navy League's appeal to magazines and other suitable reading matter, the need for which is great when ships are at sea. It is hoped that a million copies will be obtained.

The activities of The Navy League with respect to its Sea Cadet work will be emphasized and every opportunity will be given to boys between 15 and 17½ years who may wish to join a Sea Cadet Corps.

All the while The Navy League's work will be going on apace, in its fourteen hostels, in the distribution of 100,000 Daily Bulletins, in the collection of hundreds of fur-lined vests for the men of the forces at sea, and in the collection and forwarding of scores of survivors' bundles, in the operation of its Recreation Centre in Halifax and in a myriad other ways which will be described more fully as Navy Week approaches.

Everyone is asked to participate—so that from coast to coast there will roll up a great tribute to the men who guard the vital sea-lanes for those who must get the ships across, come what may.

ONTARIO HOME ECONOMISTS:
REGISTER FOR WAR EMERGENCY

Another forward step in the preparation for war emergencies in Canada is indicated in the announcement that each province is to set up its own registry of home economists. Preparation of a complete list of those who have had training in this important field will begin in Ontario immediately.

That better health for Canadians is closely allied with increased production in war industry, with a reduction in the number of rejections for the armed forces and with a higher standard of efficiency and morale in civilian ranks is a well established beyond question. Wonderful work in the special field of home economics must assume leadership in boosting the country's "health index."

Whether or not they are now employed or free for employment, all trained home economists living in Ontario are urged to send their names to Miss Ruth Dean, Ontario representative of the Canadian Home Economics Association, 79 Burnhamthorpe Road, Islington, Ontario. The name of the school or college at which the home economist trained and any other relevant information may be forwarded with the name and address.

Good News Comes From Nearly All War Fronts

WEDNESDAY —

Very little news was available concerning the situation in North Africa. There were some indications that Allied patrols had met in Tunisia and that Nazi units had fallen back on Bizerte.

There was some evidence that Rommel's battered forces were attempting to fight back as small units encountered by the British and quickly overcome.

It was reported that there will be a upward revision in the report of damage done to the latest Solomon actions.

• • •

In Russia the situation seemed to be shaping up for a winter stalemate, although action was reported around and near Stalingrad.

United States bombers blasted German submarine shelters at St. Nazaire and British and Canadian warships patrols shot up ground installations in Northern France.

THURSDAY —

It was predicted that Rommel would try to make a stand at El Agheila in order to delay the British while he tried to withdraw and form his forces at Tripoli. The British pursuing Rommel were said to be within a day's journey of Benghazi.

The British First Army and the United States forces were within 70 miles of Bizerte and Tunisia. The latter was said to be massing planes in Italy and moving more troops from the Russian front to meet the Allied threat in North Africa.

• • •

More attacks by the Germans on Stalingrad were repulsed by the Russians and the Soviet War Office was said to be on the offensive all along the Caucasus front.

United States Flying Fortresses and bombers dropped heavy loads of high explosives on Nazi Atlantic submarine bases.

FRIDAY —

French Tunisian forces under General Barre joined the Allies against the Axis. Other French garrisons were also reported to have joined with British and United States troops and were moving eastward. Other new developments were

A British armored column reached the sea at a point between Benghazi and El Agheila, where Rommel is expected to make a stand.

Reports from the Caucasus sector of Russia were especially encouraging, where a severe defeat had been inflicted on the Germans.

Japanese losses in the recent heavy naval engagement were reported to be astounding. The count now includes 24 warships sunk and three others damaged.

The Italian production centre of Turin was heavily bombed by the R.A.F. by the fifth raid, this month. Italian cities, . . .

For the 18th day, there was no attempt during the night on British soil for the 12th day no air attack during the day. . . .

SATURDAY —

Berlin admitted that Benghazi had been evacuated by the Axis North African troops and that Rommel was preparing to fall back on positions to the west of Benghazi. It seemed almost impossible that Rommel could make an effective stand because of his great ydepleted mechanical equipment and lack of air support.

The Germans were reported pouring men and equipment into Tunisia with the evident intention of trying to hold Bizerte and Tunis. So far the Allied forces have had the worst of the battle at the hands of the British and the United States.

The total of Japanese ships' losses at Guadalcanal, in the recent battle, was officially announced to be 24 by the U. S. Navy Department. On land the United States forces have pushed out all enemy positions east of the airdrome. The U. S. flag on the island was declared to be fairly secure.

In Russia the Red Army was said to have taken the offensive on nearly every front. In the Caucasus, at the entrance of the Georgian Highway, the Nazi retreat was said to be continuing rapidly.

MONDAY — • • •

The Russians, in a brilliant offensive, smashed across both railways supplying the Nazis east of the Don River and placed in great danger the German forces at Stalingrad and throughout the whole Don basin and the Caucasus. With this success it was generally believed that the Nazi battle for Stalingrad was just about ended. . . .

The Allies continued their attacks on Tunis and Bizerte, but the real battle had not yet started, it was believed. . . .

British columns hard on Rommel's heels were reported to be only thirty miles from the El Agheila corridor in Libya. British forces occupied Benghazi on Saturday. •

The capture of Buna, the Japanese invasion base in New Guinea, by Allied forces, appeared to be imminent. The Allies were threatening the base from three sides, and the air base at Buna was completely wrecked by Allied dive bombers.

The recent bombings of Genoa by the R.A.F. are thought by British experts to have knocked out the city's industries for months to come.

TUESDAY —

On orders of Admiral Darlan, all French West Africa, including the strategic port of Dakar, has been handed over to the Allies. With Dakar in their possession the Allies have an important new base on the Atlantic from which to wage the war against Axis submarines.

The Russians, in their great new winter offensive smashed across the Don River to a point about 100 miles northwest of Stalingrad in a double-flanking action which cost the Germans 50,000 casualties.

Overcoming Axis rearguard resistance the British Eighth Army smashed to within 70 miles of El Agheila, where Rommel may make a stand.

Air activity in Tunisia was reported increasing, apparently in preparation for an Allied assault on Bizerte and Tunis.

United States action against the Japs in Guadalcanal, continued and it was thought would eventually force the withdrawal of the Japs from the strategic island.

United States bombers attacked the Nazi "school" base of St. Nazaire, shooting down fifteen Nazi planes.

The R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F. followed up with a heavy night raid on Stuttgart, in southern Germany.

$1,000,000 SOUGHT FOR AID TO RUSSIA

A $1,000,000 campaign objective has been set for the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund, J. S. McLean, of Toronto, chairman of the National executive, announced last week.

The campaign will be launched Wednesday evening, November 25, when Wendell Willkie will probably address a rally.

A personal canvass will not be conducted but the National War Services Department has granted authority to the fund to collect money by general appeal and special events.

It is the wish of the department that all non-government activities in connection with aid to Russia be associated with and function through the Canadian Aid to Russia fund, said Mr. McLean.

CO. COUNCIL APPOINTS MISS MARION HAWLEY COUNTY TREASURER

Succeeds Her Uncle the Late T. J. Cook in Important Office

WOULD DRAFT LAND WORKERS FROM SCHOOLS

A compulsory land army of students recruited from public and private secondary schools for service on farms in processing plants and in creameries, supervised by high school teachers paid by the State, under the Department of Agriculture, was recommended in a 10,000-word survey by M. M. Robinson, director of the Ontario Food Distribution Council, which was compiled by 250 delegates to a conference in the Royal York Hotel, last week.

Mr. Robinson further suggested that the high school term should end on June 15 instead of the customary September 22, with a reduction in the Christmas holidays and the elimination of the vacation at Easter; a revision of the high school curriculum so that a full year's work could be done in the shortened term; a reduction in so-called frills or extra-curricular activities; the establishment of credits for land army accomplishments; farm service to be part of the pass requirements for each student; a distinctive uniform for members of the land army; and an intensive programme during the winter to show teachers and students the need for such an organization.

Thousands of children were out of school April 6 to October this year he said, commenting: "Any one with a knowledge of our educational system knows this cannot go on unless education is to be entirely thrown overboard for the duration." On the other side of the picture Mr. Robinson said, the R.C.A.F. stressed that academic standards no longer applied because recruits would be given the necessary education in special schools.

Principal flaw in the past summer's plan of granting school children leave of absence in April to put in thirteen weeks at farm work was that the children worked during May, June and July and then took holidays from August 1 to September 22, he said. Often the children had given up their farm jobs when most needed by the farmers but, having put in their thirteen weeks, they were through. The children had also "escaped exposure to our educational system" long enough to interfere seriously with the progress through secondary schools. In addition, the program was hampered by a lack of sympathy from many principals, teachers and trustees, some of whom had scant realization of the job to be done, he said.

U. S. PLANE OUTPUT NOW TOPS AXIS

The United States is turning out more airplanes, monthly than the combined output of the Axis, and the 1943 goal—reported to be between 90,000 and 100,000 planes — should give the United Nations unquestionable air superiority over the enemy, responsible sources said recently.

A rough estimate of Axis output objective was given by Donald M. Nelson, War Production Board chairman. He told reporters that the current monthly rate of plane production must be doubled to achieve President Roosevelt's new goal. It previously had been reported that 1942 production would total about 45,000 or 50,000 craft of all types.

Best estimates of Axis output is slightly in excess of 3,500 planes a month, but authorities point out that the present ratio between the Axis and the United Nations will change as the Allied offensive expands Axis production, it was stated will drop in proportion to the damage wrought by their bomber plants by Allied bombings.

Magistrate's Court

In Napanee Police Court Thursday afternoon, Dan Rogers was found guilty of assaulting Archie Graham and was assessed $1.00 fine and costs which totalled about $25.00.

The charge against Rogers was laid by Chief of Police Moore following a fight between Rogers and Graham in the Paisley House beverage room, which was the aftermath of an argument about plowing which Graham was doing for Rogers.

Mr. Graham stated that while in the beverage room he and Rogers were arguing about plowing and Rogers became angry at him and took off a heavy mitt which he was wearing, which he used to strike Graham over the head, three or four times. Graham said he struck Rogers in order to defend himself he picked up a chair and would have struck Rogers with it, but Rogers pushed him up against the wall and down on the floor. In the mixup Graham's hand was cut and blood issued from it Graham also said that after the charge of assault had been laid by the Chief of Police, Rogers came to his place seven times offering to settle the case out of court. J. M. Simpson was consulted about the matter and advised that the law would have to take its course.

Rogers assessed striking Graham, and said it was Graham who pulled off his (Rogers') rubber boot and struck him with it. He also denied making any attempt to settle the matter out of court.

William Davis, the beverage room attendant at the Paisley House, who was a witness for the Crown, was declared by the Magistrate a hostile witness after continually evading answering the Crown Attorney's questions. Davis finally stated that he had not seen the fight and knew nothing about; the argument which had preceded it.

Chief of Police Moore in his evidence stated that he interviewed Davis twice after the fight and on both occasions Davis had said that he had seen Rogers strike Graham, and had heard the two men argue about the plowing Graham was doing for Rogers.

Clarence Cooper was found guilty of being intoxicated in a public place and was sentenced to gaol for thirty days.

Walter Pybus, Napanee, was sentenced to five days in gaol for false pretences.

Ernesttown Resident Has Interesting Collection Old Minutes

Mr. Don Thompson, who lives near Odessa, in Ernesttown Township, has commenced to put together a collector of articles of historical interest, and has in his possession a valuable collection of old-time firearms, which he has acquired throughout the years. Last week he was in The Beaver Office and showed copies of the minutes of the township of Ernesttown for the past 91 years — dating from 1850. His collection of the Township minutes is the only one of its kind in the township, and consequently, township officials have to consult him in reference to old by-laws and regulations. An item of interest in the old records was a notation in the year 1856 which refers for the first time to the Village of Odessa, until that year known as Mill Creek.

In 1877 the minutes were printed by Templeton and Beemag the original owners and publishers of the Napanee Beaver, which has printed the township minutes almost continuously since that date.

Free Transportation Recruits Travelling Recruiting Centres

Kingston, Nov. 23 — Free transportation to prospective recruits proceeding from their homes to recruiting centres after they have been interviewed by army recruiting officers, has been authorized, according to a recent Canadian Army Routine Order.

When an army recruiting officer has, as far as possible, satisfied himself that the applicant is a suitable candidate, a transport warrant is issued to the recruit to proceed to the nearest recruiting centre if there are none in the locality where he resides.

If the candidate is rejected, and provided such rejection is due entirely to the requirements of the service, or if the candidate is enlisted and posted to leave without pay, a transport warrant may be issued for the return journey.

Enlisted personnel on leave without pay may be furnished with an additional transport warrant, when required to report at the expiration of their leave.

1943 LICENSES WILL NOT GO ON SALE UNTIL MARCH

Ontario 1942 motor license plates will probably be good for at least fifteen months, as the 1943 plates are not due to go on sale until next March.

Ordinarily the plates go on sale December 1st but the delay this coming winter will be occasioned by the request of Federal Oil Controller George Cottrelle that motor license plates go on sale at the same time gasoline ration books are issued.

For the fiscal year 1942-43, the Ontario Budget provides for $5,600,000 revenue from motor vehicles, with an additional 50,000 for miscellaneous permits. This total is little more than half the revenue for some previous years, there being an anticipated drop of $4,000,000 in revenue due to many motorists storing autos.

A Correction

In the accolunt in last week's "Beaver" of the Armistice Day ceremonies at the cenotaph to mark Remembrance Day, it was stated that one of the wreaths placed by the Napanee Beaver was presented by Lennox Women's Institute. It should have been stated that the wreath was from Lennox and Addington Women's Institutes.

STILL MUCH POULTRY BELIEVED AVAILABLE THROUGHOUT DISTRICT

Large Quantities Live Poultry Already Shipped

Napanee Poultry Days, the big events of the Fall and Winter season for the County and the surrounding district, have been arranged for Wednesday and Thursday, December 2 and 3, and Thursday, December 17. Arrangements have been made by the Napanee Town Council through the Industrial Committee, headed by Councillor P. J. Vanalstine, for well-known poultry buyers to be present. Letters were received from Henry Glatehouse & Sons, Pickering Farms, and Canada Packers, nationally-known produce dealers, stating that their representatives would be in town for the Poultry Fair dates to buy poultry. These buyers, along with others, have bought poultry at the Napanee Pairs for a number of years, and with their presence in the town the Fairs should be a success. In addition, the Lennox and Addington Poultry Pool, which operates every day throughout the year, will also be buying. At least one other dealer will be buying live poultry.

Many people are speculating as to the amount of poultry left in the district considering the fact that one dealer in live poultry has within the past few weeks bought about 50-tons of live birds, which have been shipped to the United States. Some producers prefer to sell their poultry live weight, thereby saving a great deal of labor. Good fires live weight, have been bringing 20c per lb. in recent weeks.

Last year, at the two poultry fairs in Napanee about 93 tons of poultry were bought. At the first fair in 1941 turkeys brought 26 to 28c per lb., chicken, 22c to 24c, and fowl 16c to 18c per lb. At the second fair in 1941 prices for turkeys were slightly higher, from 29c to 31c per lb. and prices for other fowl were about the same as at the second fair.

So far there has been no indication given us to prices for fowl at the fairs this fall.

Million Dollar Fund Sought To Aid Russia Willkie Lends Hand

J. S. McLean Points Out That All Agencies to Help Soviets Should Work With His Committee — Groups Organize Throughout Canada.

BIG RALLY IN MAPLE LEAF GARDENS THIS WEDNESDAY NIGHT OPENS THE DRIVE

Campaign objective of the Canadian Aid to Russia fund will be $1,000,000. It was announced today by J. S. McLean, chairman. The campaign will be launched next Wednesday night in Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto when Wendell Willkie will be the principal speaker. Mr. Willkie's address will be broadcast across Canada over the C.B.C. network from 9-10 p.m.

Mr. McLean said there would be no personal canvass during the campaign, and that the organization had been licensed by the National War Services department to collect funds by general appeal and special events. He said the department had expressed the wish that all non-governmental activities in aid of Russia become associated with and thereafter function through, the Canadian Aid to Russia fund.

Committees Ready

Local committees are already being organized on behalf of the fund throughout Canada. Mr. McLean said that they will have the authority to authorize special money - raising events by all interested persons and organizations.

The moneys raised will be used to provide medical supplies and clothing urgently required by the Russian civilians population suffering from the ravages of the war. All purchases will be authorized by the national executive which will be responsible for shipments overseas.

J. S. McLean heads the fund's national executive as chairman; Clifford Sifton, Toronto barrister, is vice-chairman; H. P. Dale, Bank of Montreal, retired, is treasurer, and Miss Kathleen Gorrie, director of the Dale community centre, Hamilton, has been loaned to the fund for the duration of the campaign.

The headquarters of the fund is 80 King Street W., Toronto, where contributions and enquiries may be sent today.

CAMPAIGN CONTINUES IN RURAL SECTIONS FOR NEEDED SCRAP METALS

Arrangements Made for Collection from School Centres

The Scrap Metal Salvage Campaign being conducted across Canada in the rural areas, is in full swing and many communities are reporting good results. In the County of Lennox and Addington the campaign is under the direction of the U. E. L. Chapter of the I. O. D. E. the only registered salvage committee in the county. Scrap metals, including iron, steel, lead, brass, aluminum and copper are being collected at the schools in the county and from the schools will be gathered up and brought to the salvage headquarters.

The campaign throughout the rural areas extends from November 1st to December 15th, so there is still some time left for farmers to get busy and look up the metals lying around their buildings and farms. It is now against the law to have more than 500 lbs. of scrap metal on any premises.

Pamphlets have been mailed to every householder in the county by the I. O. D. E. Salvage Committee with instructors as to how to dispose of salvage.

From reports reaching National Salvage Headquarters, a total of 211,491,538 pounds of materials have been salvaged from May 1st 1941, to October 31st, 1942. This quantity expressed in other terms represents 105,745 tons, or 7,000 carloads of fifteen tons each.

However, the above statement does not give a true picture of all materials being salvaged in Canada today, because, thus far, only 50 per cent. of 1,064 voluntary salvage committees known to be in operation throughout the country have sent in reports of their operations for tabulation.

As of October 31st, last, on the basis of the committee reports received and considering the provincial population, Manitoba leads the nine provinces in the total quantity of material salvaged, Ontario stands second on the list. Then in order come British Columbia, Alberta, New Brunswick, Quebec, Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. New Brunswick, putting on a little spurt, passed Quebec in the standing, last month.

Premier Gordon D. Conant, Honorable Duncan McArthur, Minister of Education, the Ontario School Trustees' and Ratepayers Association, have commended the campaign to the citizens of Rural Ontario generally and to respective associations and individuals in particular.

CATEGORY MEN TO BE CALLED UP

B-1 and B-2 Subject Now to Army Duty

Ottawa, Nov. 20th — The Defence Department has decided to extend the call-up eligibility of Canadians by accepting men in medical categories B-1 and B-2, effective immediately, it was learned today.

Up to now only men placed in A category after medical examination were drafted for home defence duties.

Between 60,000 and 65,000 men in theage groups subject to compulsory service — 19 to 40 years, inclusive — have been placed in the categories B-4 and B-2 by the medical officers, it was stated.

What proportion of this number would be available for the army cannot be estimated with any degree of accuracy, officials said, because some of them already have volunteered for active service, others are engaged in war work from which they cannot be spared, and still others are farmers who are eligible for indefinite postponement of call-up.

NAP. ROTARIANS HOSTS TO FARMERS AT ANNUAL DINNER

Over 100 men, members of the Napanee Rotary Club and their guests from the rural districts of the County of Lennox and Addington, heard H. R. Hare of the Economics Division of the Dominion Agriculture Department, Ottawa, give an address on "The Farmer's Programme in Wartime", at the annual Farmers' Night of the Rotary Club, last week. The address was given following a dinner at the Superior Restaurant and was one of the best attended gatherings of the sort in some years.

Mr. Hare stressed the need for farmers to continue their activities in a more business like manner and strongly urged farmers to adopt the budget system. He urged farmers to keep up with the times and to know what and when to market and to be ever alert to the advantages of producing the highest quality stock and other farm products, so as to be able to take advantage of all possible business.

Mr. Hare spoke of the scarcity of help and advised farmers to co-operate as much as possible among themselves in order that crops might be harvested at the right times.

Mr. Hare was introduced by C. W. Buchanan, the County representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and the thanks of the Club and guests were expressed by Mayor D. R. Hall.

Mr. Donald Paul and Mr. William Millan spoke appreciatively of the entertainment of the farmers by the Club. George J. Tustin, M.P., welcomed the guests and Warden W. A. McLeod voiced appreciation of the hospitality of the Club's hospitality.

Music was provided throughout the evening by a six-piece orchestra from the Napanee Collegiate, led by Murray Wilson.

THE BAFFLING RUSSIA

Those who remember the Russia of Czarist days and can compare it with the Russia of to-day must stand aghast at the change which has taken place since the Revolution of 1917. Then, Russia lay beaten by Germany, with not a friend in the world — with her internal political machinery shot to pieces, factories gone, farms denuded, and military organization at an incredibly low ebb. A group of idealists—fanatics they were called—set about to rehabilitate the whole nation and to organize it on a basis never before attempted in human History. For years nothing was known of what was taking place there. Stories leake dout, but these were discounted all over the world. How.?, we were asked, could a nation ever manage its affairs and make a success under the kind of leadership it then had. It was all too utopian, too idealistic, too fanciful.

But, bit by bit responsible leaders from other nations went to Russia. They saw with their own eyes an amazing spectacle, of a nation of over a hundred and thirty million people being moulded into a new form of society. Naturally there was the common charge that such people were only shown what the Russians wanted them to see. They were not shown all. To this there was no answer. For visitors to foreign countries have always to depend on others to show them around and interpret for them. And yet those who went, somehow on other were satisfied that something new under the sun was being created. To them it seemed that there could be no discounting the loyalty, devotion of the people, and their enthusiasm for the new way of life which Russia was following.

It would appear that it was at the point of misunderstanding of this Russian enthusiasm that Hitler made his great error. He believed as so many others believed, that the great mass of Russian people were misrepresented by the official Russian press and by the visitors to Russia. He was led to believe that the Russians chafed under the rule of the Kremlin, and that they would desert to the so-called liberator. What has happened is history. No people in the world have stood more courageously defending their way of life than have the Russians. They have shown, not only courage, but cunning, ability and a fanatical zeal.

Hitler missed his guess on Russia. Twice has he been within sight of his goal, twice has he been foiled. The siege of Stalingrad will go down in history alongside the famous stands of the French at Verdun. And one of the most amazing features of the whole Russian picture is the uncanny ability the Russians have of making a devastating attack after having been mercilessly bombarded for months. It will be impossible to beat a people of that sort.

Provided, as they have been, with the tools of war by Great Britain and the United States, these Slavic peoples have surprised and thrilled the whole world by the use they have made of them, and by the brilliance of their military genius. But, perhaps more important than all is the spirit of the people who are fanatically determined that they will die to the last man rather than surrender their way of life.

JUST THINK OF THAT

Dear, dear, here is a man who dares tell the City of Toronto that it is not all it claims to be. What on earth is the world coming to, when a man in public life can be so bold, so daring and so honest as to actually say out loud what he thinks of Toronto—and that in war time, too. "When I was in Australia," said Major-General Victor Odlum, newly-appointed High Commissioner to China, "I was amazed and heart-broken to read in the papers things said in Canada about Canadians. While passing through the United States, I experienced the same thing. Crossing Canada I heard the criticisms again—but the bitterest things come from Toronto. Nowhere else is the pet so pungent. Toronto is Canada's greatest English-speaking centre." It prides itself on being the Canadian home of churches and culture. Why must it be so critical?"

Just think of that. A public official telling the wielders of the pen in Toronto that they are not nice. It seems incredible, and yet, there it is for all to see. We wonder if "The Globe and Mail" will by any chance see that remark. Perhaps it may even escape the ever watchful eye of "The Telegram." Now to be sure, both "The Globe and Mail" and "The Telegram" wl lhave an answer if they should happen across Major - General Odlum's comments. They are the guardians of democracy, and democracy must stand for freedom of the press, which, of course means that it must, on all occasions, denounce those who do not see eye to eye with it. There are lots of saboteurs besides those who slow up industry and blow up bridges—the saboteurs of the mind and the spirit are even more dangerous. By cultivating the feeling that our leaders are incompetent, that they are always wrong, is the surest way of undermining the war effort.

Toronto really should not be so hard on everybody in control of things, for Toronto has abundant evidence of being a favored son in the distribution of war contracts. But then, Toronto is not "The Globe and Mail." There are lots of "little men" hundreds of thousands of them who cannot make their voices heard, for whom the Press does not speak, but who are willing to give our duly-elected leaders a decent break once in a while. It really is not fair to judge Toronto by its so-called "national paper." For, after all, it speaks for itself; the trouble is, some people outside Toronto take is seriously.

IMPERIALISM

A flurry was caused in certain centres, recently, when Wendell Willkie had something to say about Imperialism. His references to India were uncalled for, particularly as Mr. Willkie had not made a personal first-hand study of the subject as he had done of other parts of the world. Probably it was Mr. Willkie's comment which drew from Mr. Churchill the statement that he was not the Prime Minister chosen for the purpose of liquidating the British Empire. "What we have we will hold," those were the sentiments he expressed in his most recent broadcast.

A bit alarmed over the tempest in the tea pot, the City Fathers of Toronto suggested there would be no civic reception for Mr. Willkie when he comes to Toronto, this week. "Who wants a reception," asks Mr. Willkie, when informed of what the Toronto Council was proposing. "I thought they were out for the duration."

Now there can be no shadow of a doubt but that the British Empire has betowed incalculable blessings on mankind. But it cannot be overlooked that not all the people under the protectorate of Great Britain were happy and satisfied with the conditions under which they lived. No nation is perfect. A nation is made up of imperfect people and collectively, is good and bad, like each of us. To be sure, self-governing bodies, such as Canada and Australia, are one situation; India is quite another. Given time and good will there is every prospect of the whole British Empire becoming a group of self-governing bodies — a genuine commonwealth. In the meantime, much has to be done to this end. Certainly it is unthinkable that the Empire, in the stress and strain of war, should embark on experiments which would play into the hands of the enemy.

Now, all that is one matter. But there are other circumstances forced on us by the exigencies of war. The concept of Empire is changing, and it may be that when Mr. Willkie spoke of India, he had in mind one form of Imperialism and that Mr. Churchill had in mind another.

That there is a change in the whole concept of Empire is attested by no less an authority than "The London Times." Nobody can accuse "The London Times" of being radical. It is the embodiment of the whole British idealism and practice. And yet, "The Times" on February 28th of this year, in a leading editorial, had this to say:

"In the perspective of history, the fall of Singapore may appear as the greatest blow which has befallen the British Empire since the loss of the American Colonies. In one sense it is equally irretrievable. British dominion in the Far East, can never be restored — not will there be any desire to see it restored — in its former guise. But in another sense, defeats must serve, just as defeat in the War of American Independence served, as the starting point of a fresh advance in which, adapting herself to changed needs, Great Britain may once again become the pioneer of new policies and a new outlook. No alternative is open to her if she wishes to remain a great power. In the future scheme of things there is no place for the Britain of the past. She must and she can offer to the world of the Twentieth Century, something which the world needs."

This, from The London Times. It may be well in our endeavor to envisage the world of the future not to confuse two ideas of Empire. Quite probably, as the above quotation shows, Great Britain is quite prepared to adopt the form of Empire which Mr. Willkie and all lovers of freedom would enthusiastically endorse.

FUNNY — IS IT NOT?

It is funny that there is little meat available until the prices goes up, and then there is lots of it. And now there is a shortage of butter. We are told, by those who know, that there is no need to ration butter, and it will not be rationed because there is plenty of it in the country. If the prices goes up, the present scarcity of butter will disappear overnight.

Funny — isn't it ?

GERMANY IS AT A CROSSROADS

BY EDWIN SHANKE

The following article analyzes the Nazi position on the home front at the start of another war winter, published in "The War Today" by DeWitt Mackenzie. Mr. Shanke is a former member of the Associated Press Staff in Berlin and now is stationed in London.

The Allied blows in North Africa struck Nazi Germany at a time when it was entering the grimmest winter of the war.

From the standpoint of five determining factors of war — military economic and political strength, tenacity of Allies and morale — Germany is at a crossroads.

It is not a question of a "turnip winter" like that in 1917 which prevailed the fall of Imperial Germany. Goering has told the world the Nazi pressed peoples will starve before Germany does.

But Germany has eaten through her reserves despite the strictest rationing. This year's overall harvest is reported to be only 80 per cent. of normal, although the Germans now are tilling 1,000,000 more acres than last year when the harvest was 15 per cent. below average.

Disorganized by war, flood, drought, peasant hoarding and guerilla warfare, the rest of Europe is much worse off. In France the total wheat production is down 500,000 tons to 6,000,000 and the Germans have ordered the French to double their deliveries on the basis of despite the recent loss of African supplies. Italy can barely squeeze through with its 7,000,000 tons.

EUROPE'S BLACK SPOTS

The Balkans supposed to be the Nazi granary, are barely enough food for themselves. Fodder is generally less, meaning there is likely to be extensive livestock slaughter. The Nazis are claiming nothing from the Russian Ukraine this year. Finland, Poland, Belgium, Norway and Greece are Europe's black spots, with young and old sinking under food deficiencies and diseases.

Economically, Germany is hitting an all-time low. Most of the deterioration is traceable to manpower shortage and transportation knots. And Hitler still has not obtained the oil and rubber he covets.

The war in Russia has proved a tremendous drain of economic resources for Germany and blockaded Europe instead of filling the reserves as the Nazis had hoped.

The North African occupation has cut off Germany's access to phosphates — irreplaceable as fertilizer — cobalt, vegetable oils, manganese, antimony, wool, cotton, fresh fruits and vegetables. Besides, it has closed a leak in the blockade through which Hitler was getting Far Eastern supplies such as rubber.

Hitler has exhausted his own labor. Six million foreigners—one in every four workmen — are engaged in Germany. Prisoners are mostly of low efficiency. The skilled hands he needs are in France where French men have declined to help the Nazis.

Meanwhile, the growing strain of Allied bombs, R.A.F. raids and war conditions on the health and stamina of the industrious German workers, is beginning to tell in declining productivity per man.

A

NEW BOTTLENECK

An iron and steel shortage is becoming a serious bottle neck. As a result machinery in plants closed down, because of wartime transfers, is being scraped. Air raids on the Ruhr district are estimated to have caused a loss of 1,250,000 tons in Germany's steel production.

To stretch the supply of steel the quality is being diluted. After four years of high speed war production, machinery is beginning to balk due to normal wear and tear and inability to make replacements.

It is estimated that only 20 per cent of Germany's present production is for civilian needs.

Hitler is beginning to exploit Russian potentials, but he faces a colossal transportation and manpower problem. The Russians worked the land he has occupied with 200,000 tractors and kept traffic moving with more than 7,000 locomotives.

He hasn't a fraction of that number, unless he wants to paralyze the rest of Europe. Already the German radio has warned the Germans they may have to fetch goods, food and fuel from railway stations and ports with handcarts, this winter.

Politically, Hitler's last year has been serious.

Instead of winning over the suppressed peoples, he was forced to use harsher measures to keep them in control. Hitler, Goering and Goebbels have been apologizing for hardships and making threats against saboteurs. Doubt about the outcome of the war is creeping into the leader's speeches.

This weakening among the leadership and reports that Hitler has shaken up the High Command behind the front all falls in some of his generals are helping to undermine and weaken the morale of the German people. Into the war machine they are throwing it to be over with the fall of Poland.

Instead, victory after victory has led merely to greater hardships and great trials.

Anti-war talk, especially among soldiers, appears to be spreading. A German anti-Nazi station said Hitler can no longer win the war. He can only prolong it — and prolongation spells ruin for us Germans."

A STRATEGY OF ENCIRCLEMENT

BY THOMAS M. JOHNSON

The opening of what President Roosevelt calls "an effective second front" by American-British forces in North Africa, reveals to the general public what the initiate few have known for some time—namely the broad outlines of the United Nations' offensive strategy for winning the war. It is a strategy of encirclement—of going around the block to get back door.

This means that plans for frontal attack on Germany by a British-American concept of the English channel and landing in France probably must wait at least until the autumn of the year, and the North Africa is known.

Primarily the new stroke is a bold attempt to solve the United Nations' greatest global problem, which is Russia — reinforcement and supply. At first, it will be serious in North Africa, too.

The enemy has the interior and shorter lines; we are fighting out on a limb, far from our bases, perhaps the most difficult operation in which American troops ever have engaged. If Vichy French land and naval forces make a real fight and can be really reinforced by the Axis, there may conceivably be critical days for our not having followed the advice of our more experienced strategists.

These pointed out that a straight line across the Channel was the shortest distance between two points — base and objective. The direct-line route was shorter only to the Africa plan partly because of the German strength in France (the French fleet was more valuable than the American public supposes) and partly for reasons more immediate than the possibility of the Axis using Africa to invade America.

The Axis might have done that some day. But as of today, the Africa stroke is meant to cut that knot.

If we elect Mediterranean-first Axis power we reduce by roughly two-thirds the time required for our ships and the Red Army to meet the British-American forces in Africa. That releases transport ships to supply other fronts; the Far East, Britain, Russia. Also we shut off the Axis from all by essentially eliminating what has obtained in French Africa and gain those supplies for ourselves. We also gain some French war equipment and either save some French warships from the Axis or at least fight them dispersed, not grouped, as later we might have to do. Some French, and native troops, will join the Fighting French, whose movements will be greatly simplified, not only in Africa but in France. Laval may fall.

There are even brighter vistas. The northern coast of French Africa, once won, we have a string of naval bases, harbors airfields and a leading eastward to the big Italian base of Tripoli in Italian Libya. Not only is this the place to smash Rommel's remainders, but a natural jumping-off place only 600 miles from Sicily, where anti-Mussolini Italians say an Allied army of liberation would be welcomed. They would be welcome, too, in Yugoslavia and Greece.

Then, as United Nation troops move northward into Central Europe, they would be aided by revolts in enslaved countries: Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, Rumania and Czechoslovakia. The northward advance of this southern pincer would be aided by the southern advance of a northern pincer that at the proper moment would reach from the British Isles into France. Germany would be fought backward, just as she was surrounded in 1918.

WILL AID RUSSIA

And Russia? She may feel that this sort of second front is less effective immediately than her other allies believe, but there is no doubt that she will be aided at once by the diversion of some German troops and materiel, notably planes, from her front to the Mediterranean. An Allied invasion of Italy and the Balkans would threaten the exposed German flank in the Caucasus. And the clearing of the Mediterranean, not only would free many ships to supply Russia — by the southern route — but also would cut their turnaround time perhaps two-thirds.

V

Towards A Better Countryside

A detailed "blueprint" for postwar rural Britain has been drawn up, ready for the Ministry of Planning to carry out as soon as the war is over.

The program calls for the creation of "solid communities" in slums and unsightly patches of industrial development with Britain's countryside.

Houses will be designed to fit in with their surroundings. There will be semi-detached villas and terraced houses will have a green in front of them. Cottages will have greater storey height. They will be wired for electricity and piped for running water.

Tied cottages — cottages owned by a farm and let only to those who work on the farm — will be reduced in numbers. The cottages will be let to workers who have to live on the farm.

The village will have a village hall, theatre, library, possibly a canteen and a clinic. Each village inn will be for the use of the community as a whole, and not as a rendezvous for a few people come to keep late hours. INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, NOVEMBER 29TH, 1942

"THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH"

Lesson Text: Matthew 18: 15-17; Acts 1; 8; 2: 42; 6: 1-4; 11: 27-30; 13: 1-3; 1 John 1: 3.

What is the church for?. There are many answers. The writer has preached on this question and explains that the supreme function of The Church, is worship—taking worship in its original meaning "worthship" estimating the "worth" of all life in the light of the life of Christ. That idea is capable of great amplification. And in the passage which we set for this week's study, we find different aspects of the mission of the church of "worthship."

In the first section there is the statement of Christian practise as employed in personal disagreements. If a person does us a wrong then the Christian procedure is kindly and graciously to point out that wrong to him personally. If he pays no attention, we are urged to take two or three others with us on an interview; if that fails report him to the Church; if that fails he is to be treated as an outsider until he, of his own volition, comes back in a proper mood. This is strict procedure. It is unfortunate the Church does not sufficiently exercise this office. If it did people might hold it in higher esteem.

Then, too, the Church, which for the Jews of that day was "the new order," cannot be ushered in without the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Only men on whom the Spirit of God has descended are capable of mediating God's life to the world. The Church is the company of all such, and thus, in an organized way, becomes the medium through which the Spirit of God will operate among men. If we are to have a "new order" on a Christian basis, the Church must assume its responsibility not only for its services, but for its field effort towards human beings. The Holy Spirit operates in the Church, can work wonders.

Then the Church must have some means whereby the passion of the Spirit of Christ may be made visible and real. Christ provided for that in the breaking of bread and the drinking of wine. In this symbolic rite men and women are reminded that Christ died for them, and that His spirit is their spirit; that they are one with him, partakers of His flesh and blood. This is something we must remember as in the timeless body of Christ. His people we struggle and suffer together. Even though we are separated by stress of war from our Christian brothers and sisters of other lands yet we are all one in Christ, and even of the same Heavenly Father. The next section indicates the beginning of church organization in the appointment of servants or deacons. The church in its early days soon came to see that it must run on business principles. No one can afford to do its work in a haphazard, sloppy fashion. It must be organized in such a way that the arranged for the election of assistant servants. This would help its affairs with careful business efficiency and accuracy.

But a church must have prophets and preachers. To be sure there are some churches in which the preacher is but one among the church members who have had little or no training for the task. But that is the exception. The Church is more than to-day needs a well consecrated, well trained ministry. There is a desperate shortage of such leadership. Just at a time when leaders are needed most they are not available in sufficient numbers. The reason for this lesson can do worse than to appeal to the young people to consecrate their lives to the service of God and His church. It does not promise much, indeed it promises very little, but reverse for service. But there is no more glorious attraction to adventurous youth.

Then there must be lay preachers. Recently, the writer of this lesson preached in another church and felt the need for trained laymen. He received a great many letters from all over Canada, thanking him for the suggestion and expressing the hope that something can be done about it. The whole question is one of religious education particularly in the Church. The Church has largely become a trained lay leaders. We in this section have failed to hold it for Christ by decency, sobriety, and have cannot depend altogether upon the clergy. Trained, consecrated laymen must be pressed into service.

This whole lesson bristles with questions. The wise teacher will not hesitate to make the lesson a matter of an appeal for service to God and the nation, through the Church.

By TAP KEYES

Did you ever see "Hallelujah" or "Green Pastures"? Those were all-negro films that many fans enjoyed. Hollywood has turned out one for a long time but you'll see three of them in the near future. The part colored people are playing in the war may have inspired the film makers. In any case, they're busy turning them out. . . . Do you remember the story of "49th Parallel," in which a crew of Nazi sailors made their way across Canada? Well, in "one of our Aircraft Is Missing," a fine film, a group of British aviators work their way across occupied Europe. The same thing in reverse. And the British fliers are led by Eric Portman —who led the Nazis in "49th Parallel."

Hedda Hopper, the actress and gossip columnist, who is feuding with an Australian actress reporter gave considerable space to attacks on British actors who remain in Hollywood instead of returning home. She didn't say it herself but quoted from letters on the subject. She also printed the complaint of one letter writer who, on hearing that Charles Laughton would quote the Bill of Rights in a forthcoming picture, said: "Just once before I die I'd like to hear an American actor giving out with a bit of American history. It's not the sort of thing one likes to read in these days of strained relations." Miss Hopper's part of the world stands with the critics or defend the actors. We don't recall that anyone ever objected to the theories of Hopper and Winchell when they were actresses on Empire screens. They're very popular. A poor stand—and a poor time to make it.

THE AGRICULTURAL SITUATION

According to reports of the Dominion Statistician, the total number of farms there is reason to believe that the output of Canadian agricultural products during the year 1942-43 will establish new high records. Production of wheat may be estimated at an all-time record of 615,243,000 bushels. Record crops of oats and barley will probably more than equate supplies of feed grains for the expanded live stock programmes. The continuation of the Dominion Freight Assistance policy ensures that these feed supplies will be well distributed. Present indications are, however, that the movement of grain under this scheme may not need to be as extensive as during 1941-42 Pasture conditions remain favourable in almost all provinces and consequently it may be expected that milk production will continue at a high level. Labour remains one of the limiting factors in agricultural production but effective utilization of existing machinery and manpower, it is thought, should enable output to be maintained at a high level.

The expanded production of live stock and live stock products over recent times to meet ready demand both in Canada and on the export market, and in some cases the supply is proving insufficient to satisfy total requirements, have been accompanied by experienced in completely filling the 1941-42 contract with the United Kingdom for 600 million pounds of pork products by the end of September, 1942. Consequently, further restriction of domestic consumption became necessary. Probably the lateness of the harvest in Western Canada has been a factor in retarding hog marketings during recent weeks. There has also been a pronounced shortage of beef in some centres and steps were taken by the Wartime Food Corporation to curtail the export of cattle and to stabilize prices and marketings in the domestic market.

The output of dairy products continues to be maintained at a high level relative to recent years. Cheese production in the first eight months of 1942 was 42 per cent above the corresponding period of 1941, and the output of creamery butter, on the other hand, was lower by three per cent. The recent subsidy of six cents per pound on butterfat is designed to prevent undue curtailment of butter production. Cheese production has been more than adequate to ensure the fulfilment of current commitments to the United Kingdom.

The 1942 tree fruit crop, with the exception of plums and prunes, promises to exceed the 1941 output. The apple crop is estimated at four million barrels, an increase of 73 per cent. over 1941 but 16 per cent. below the 1935-40 average.

A NEW ANGLE ON NORTH AFRICA

BY WAVERLEY ROOT

The curious alliance in North Africa between the democratic military forces and the pro-Fascist political tendency represented by Admiral Darlan has been widely discussed from the political and military points of view. There is another aspect from which it may be regarded which hitherto has been completely neglected—the economic aspect. It is quite possible, indeed, that American diplomacy has not taken this influence into account at all. It is advisable that it should do so.

This angle was high-lighted by the report that ex-Premier Pierre Etienne Flandin and ex-Interior Minister Pierre Pucheu, who escaped from the laboratoinists, had arrived in North Africa. Flandin had this report which originated in London, appeared, than it was swallowed up in gloom. There was nothing mysterious in their arrival. To those accustomed to class the Flandin-Pucheu story in a definite category, that of the secret negotiations from which politicians emerge from time to time with fresh-baked deals — many of which, like the Rome-Laval plan on Thursday, sour abruptly on contact with light and air.

A DIRECT LINK

Whether Flandin and Pucheu actually went to North Africa, or whether the report was only a trial balloon, were details. The mere fact that these names had been brought up at all suggested that the group which they represented was besieging itself. That group is the section of French industry which allied itself with German industry. It has a direct linkage with the Vichy administration of Marshal Petain, which is worked out in delivering French industry to Germany.

Let us consider for a moment the situation of this important economic group. Its French section must be considered as a mere appendage of the German part, since the Germans have acquired majority interests in and hence control of French companies. The entire French chemical industry ,for instance, is now subservient to Germany's I. G. Farben industry, whose machinations in the United States have given the American Government plenty of trouble.)

The big German industrialists are 'mixed' with the factions in Germany which has labored consistently for German world domination, using the monarchy as a facade in 1914 and the Nazi Party for the same purpose in 1939. This faction is always willing to sacrifice the facade to save the effect. It is believed Hitler here losing the war, if he could be with the to throw him overboard in order to maintain some of the gains made under him ,such as the economic stranglehold Germany has achieved over the European countries. This group would consider that the war effort had ended on entirely satisfactorily, at least with a gain for their purposes, if out of military defeat Germany gained economic domination, which she could use in the future for another and more successful aggression. The Flandin-Pucheu faction must come in, comparative's unsuspected representatives of German big industry because they would be manoeuvred by it only to further it. They will be subordinated French industrial group.

WHAT COULD THEY DO

Now what could men like Flandin and Pucheu promote the interests of the industrialists whom they have always served? They could direct means, though probably the direct way. Pucheu would be an attempt; to procure a peace. Acceptance of any arrangement short of the complete defeat of Germany would probably make it impossible to undo the taking over of European industry by Germany, carried out in all the occupied countries with such carefully laid legal forms, with the express purpose of maintaining this German economic victory even in the face of military defeat.

At the other end of the possible efforts which Flandin and Pucheu might effect would be an apparent co-operation with the United Nations with the intention of maintaining its position of power and influence in post-war France by collaborationists who would prevent the carrying out of the plan of strangling the transactions by means of which German trade has literally absorbed French economy.

In this effort, they would be aided by any attempt to save Marshal Petain, viewed by many Frenchmen as a somewhat pathetic old man who has tried to save something from the ruin of his nation—a view which this writer does not believe will be that of history. But regardless of the way in which one sees Petain's role, the fact remains that he cannot be saved without saving also those around him his closest and most influential collaborators. They were all tied up with the Franco-German economic profiteers who saw in the war only an opportunity to increase their own power. Besides Flandin and Pucheu, this crew includes Benoit-Mechin, the historian of the Reichswehr; Paul Baudion, president of the Bank of Indo-China who engineered the surrender of Indo-Chine to the Japanese; Yves Bouthillier, inspector of finances and lieutenant of the Franco-German metallurgical industrial group; and others of the same stamp.

These men and French industrialists—fically or grudgingly, actually have for two and one-half years, actively aided the Germans in absorbing the economy of France. When General de Laurencie advised French stockholders to refuse to sell out to Germans tried to reduce pressure on them by do so, Petain removed him from his post as representative of the Vichy Government with the Germans, and put in Pernand de Brinon already well known both to the Germans and to that part of French heavy industry which collaborated with them.

MANY DECREES

Petain signed various decrees forcing Frenchmen to turn over their holdings in certain companies in which the Germans were particularly interested to the Nazis—for instance, the French Equipment Company which was forced to sell 51 per cent. of the stock in all chemical companies to Germany; the Agence Havas, semi-official news agency; the Bors boys between 16 and 18 voluntarily boys of Yugoslavia, which were French-owned, etc. Whether Petain signed these decrees willingly or unwillingly is not particularly important. What is important is that, having signed them, he cannot take the necessary steps after the war to revoke their consequences; how can anyone connected with his government nor with the powerful French industrialists who profited personally by their acceptance of the German yoke, while millions of French shareholders, large and small were defrauded or their capital.

There are two things that should never be forgotten by democratic leaders whenever they are approached by men of Vichy, men like Flandin, Pucheu or any of their associates; the first is that they represent not only the men of Vichy, but also the collaborationists of French industry, the German themselves — and particularly a group of Germans whose plans for world domination Hitler and will be maintained after him. The second is that they remain in places of power after war, the military battle may have been won, but the economic battle will have been lost; and our chief means for preventing them from obtaining the hold on the places of power which the French people, left free to choose, will certainly deny them, after the war, is our present dealings with any of them at any time or in any fashion.

GOAL FOR WHICH BRITAIN'S YOUTH IS WORKING

BY REBECCA WEST

All the world's people know there is something sacred about youth. It is the human hope that at some time we will change life from a wanderer in darkness into a purposeful movement and personal pitfalls and disaster into an orderly pursuit of happiness. Humanity can do this only if it patiently adding to its stock of knowledge and wisdom, and when we see a young man —or a young girl — who know this is going to be done.

A young person who is healthy and is given by society the right opportunities for development, can be trusted to go beyond the point that was reached by the previous generation. It may be the smallest of such advances, but it is the measure of the goal. All sorts of misfortunes may conspire to prevent such progress, but so long as youth is present, the possibility of progress is there, too. That is why to kill or maim the young, in body or mind, is much more than an act of cruelty to the particular boys or girls involved. It is a crime against humanity, a frustration of the mission of the species. But for the Nazis, it is not the universe which has a mission; it is only Germany.

NAZIS OFFEND YOUTH

The Nazis don't want humanity to add to its knowledge and wisdom and power. They want it only to kill more and drill more. Therefore they have greatly offended against youth, and never more than in the capital of Czechoslovakia on the night of November 17, 1939, when the SS. Black Guards raided hostels of students enrolled at the Czech University of Prague, beat the students both girls and boys out of their beds and carried them through the streets, many in thin night clothes, to the headquarters, where they were subjected to various forms of brutality. A number, which has never been computed exactly, were killed outright and hundreds more were taken off in lorries to concentration camps in Germany. Those who returned, months later were broken in body and mind.

In England, that crime against youth and humanity is being avenged without pause by our young people. We English have always had reason to be proud of our boys and girls, because we have a long history of foreigners sometimes think of us as old people. But we owe our history to the assurance that we don't age. Ours is a strong stock which puts out healthy new shoots each generation. Our young people are of such good stuff that we haven't needed to drill them. The boys of the Sea to exhaust from the time they're old enough to hold a gun. Their women and men, their instincts attend to that. The war has tested the quality of the young people we produce by these free and suave methods and, without national vanity, its results can be pronounced glorious.

YOUTH MOBILIZED

England has mobilized its youth with dramatic completeness. If one goes into a restaurant in London or a provincial city in mid-day, there isn't a young man or young woman to be seen. Where are they all? Some and these are favourites of the popular imagination, are in the clouds. The fate of the whole free world depended on the Battle of Britain, and that won largely by boys. "No, I don't think I know your brother," said one of the Spitfire heroes. "No, wait a minute, I believe I do. He's quite old, isn't he? About 26?"

It's the same in the army and navy, though there responsibility does sometimes take such forms that one would think only maturity could take up the burden. A Jap bomber attacked a vessel on the way from Australia to Singapore and killed or disabled all the officers but one, Ralph Armstrong. He took command of the ship and put it on its course to Singapore. But another bomber sank it. He then launched three boats, giving all orders and undertaking the navigation. He landed the survivors at Singapore ten days later. He is 18.

YOUNGER ONES

ANXIOUS

Behind these young men stands an army of younger boys waiting for a chance to do the impossible, which may also be fatal. Nobody in England is under the delusion that the Royal Air Force, and by far the largest number of instructors that can be spared. And beside these young men stands an equally courageous body of young women attached to the army, navy and air force. It is not our policy to put them in positions of danger but danger often comes their way and then, even when they are still in their teens, they don't run away.

But there is intoxication in danger. Youth might be capable of heroism, yet incapable of withstanding the tedium of long hours in factories. This is not so. Young munitions workers are, in many places, forming themselves into brigades of industrial shock troops as they do in Russia. In one factory, there is a body of young people who call themselves avengers of Dunkirk. These regard any interruption in a steady outward stream of munitions as a problem to be solved by their hard work and ingenuity. In another factory, 300 young girls, in working a diamond boring section, found themselves at the end of the week 90 pieces short of the objective they had set themselves owing to a breakdown of some machines. When they found that the machines were to be repaired on Saturday night, they went out of their own wages and stood at the machines for twelve hours until they had caught up.

Not only are the young people doing well at their actual machine work. They are taking a responsible part in the factory council which, during

The Late Benjamin Huyck

Benjamin Huyck, a well - known resident of Napanee for the past several years, and a former resident of the Bethany district, died early Thursday evening at the home of his son, Blake Huyck, Bridge Street. Mr. Huyck had been in failing health for some time but his death was sudden and unexpected.

1943 County Council Asked To Consider Rural School Nurses

At the final meeting of the Lennox and Addington County Council held last week, a motion was passed that the 1943 Council take definite action in the matter of the appointment of school nurses for all rural public schools in the county.

The question of appointment of school nurses in rural schools was brought up early in the year, when Mr. K. O. Burkin, the Public School Inspector, addressed the Council on school matters. At that time the Council gave the proposition serious consideration.

When the question was again introduced at the November session, it received the hearty support of all members of the Council. Mr. W. Wagar, Reeve of Denbigh, very heartily approved the appointment of school nurses and E. J. Courneya, J. O. Daly, Dr. Strathdee, Jimmy Ward and other members of the Council also expressed approval.

OVERSEAS SOLDIER VOICES PROTEST ABOUT LETTERS

The following letter was received recently by the parents of a young man now overseas with the Canadian Army, who wishes to remain anonymous. The letter will speak for itself and it may cause Canadian friends of boys overseas to think of them more often and not only think of them but write to them.

Letters are the only contact the boys in the overseas army have with home and every effort should be made to keep in touch with them.

Parts of the letter follow:

England, Sept. 166, 1942.

Dear Mother, Dad and All,

I just received your most welcome letter to-day, also 300 cigs. from you and one from another friend. Thanks a million for the cigs. Yes, I do get cigs. from other people, but I never get more than the amount allowed to me which is 1000 per month.

Well mother, you asked me some questions about the raid on Dieppe and I'm sorry I cannot answer them. However, the Canadians did pretty well in that clash with the Huns, exceptionally well in fact. That is about all I can say about it, because it is against orders to write anything about these raids, as that would give away information. For instance, I couldn't tell you if I participated in the raid at Dieppe, or if I didn't. All this

NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Last Time I Saw Paris — Paul

A book about life in France that the whole world is dying to remember. Good reading for anyone who ever lived in Paris — or wanted to. A sentimental tribute in terms of a vote-catching song to a wicked, glorious city. Everybody knows and that will some day live again.

One Foot in Heaven—Spence

An autobiography of a minister written by his son. It shows him as a man who loved every phase of his work and was intensely human in his religious life. It was a man who made "Gospel" living fun, and his son has kept his spirit in a rollicking book that is great fun to read.

Where Stands a Winged Sentry. — Kennedy.

This book is the personal record of Margaret Kennedy "living through history." She is about life in England from the pre-hero hour of Dunkirk and the fall of France, on through the first summer of the war. Quietly, with humor and simple dignity, she brings evidence of the bloodless, even good-natured revolution that is happening to Englishmen and draws from this a new realization that these up-to-date American children and their elders shall go back to something better, when the war is won.

Past Imperfect — Chase.

One critic says: "To read Past Imperfect is something like sitting next to an extremely civilized, intermittently witty, skilful dinner partner, who began conversation flying no matter who the company."

America Speaks — Gibbs

Philip Gibbs' story of his journey from Lisbon through the United States on the eve of war. He was paying a short visit to Canada when Pearl Harbor was attacked by the Japanese, and the closing chapters of his book are devoted to the reactions of the American people after that time, ending with an interview with the President.

Black Mortinque, Red Guiana. — Smith.

A travel book such as only Nicol Smith can write. He has a charm that immediately communicates, itself to the reader. It is an up-to-the-minute book and one it is hard to lay down until you have finished it.

The Commandos — Arnold.

The Commandos is a love story of the war. Its heroine is the head of the underground in a Norwegian town and the hero is the American leader of a commando group. The Commandos is as timely as a radio bulletin. Written by an ace feature-writer of the New York World-Telegram, it is the first full-length book about the Commando forces in England today.

A Man About the House — Young

Francis Brett Young is again spinning a deft and delightful tale. He has woven a fascinating tale of mystery and adventure and at the same time has drawn several of his most convincing portraits.

A Golden Age — Farmelter

There is an unmistakable flavour about this charming story written in the "Golden Age." For it was a golden age. As one of the characters said: "Life is so beautiful it only seems to make it so." If that could be the motto for the present!

Feather Passage — Bridge

Here are adventure, tragedy, love and intrigue skilfully woven by the practised hand of Ann Bridge. "Evening Picnic," "Illyrian Spring," and "Portuguese Night Shade," have already established her reputation. "Feather Passage" carries it forward.

Odd — But Even So — Stern

A collection of short stories in which the readers will find a mixed bag, with adventure, romance, pathos, humour, villainy and heroism. In fact, every regular "Wren" book and no more need be said.

An Apple For Eve — Norris

An Apple for Eve is a realistic story in the best Kathleen Norris tradition.

Drink to Yesterday — They Tell No Tales — A Toast to Tomorrow — Manning Coles.

Three books by Manning Coles. Really first-class thrillers are few and far between and you don't often find ones like these. "Drink to Yesterday" made Manning Coles famous in a day and the subsequent books have more than upheld his reputation.

The Blue Cloak — Bailey

A novel throwing into clear contrast the habits of life and thought of the Mid-West and of the East, as well as being a love story.

Other books:

Marriage for Rosamond—Hauk.

Lover's Alibi—Widdemer.

Mulberry Bush—Miller.

Murder Loves Company—Mersereau

The Chinese Parrot—Earl Derr Biggers.

Guardians of the Trail—Gregory

V
BRITAIN'S CONTRIBUTION TO A NEW WORLD

BY ANTHONY EDEN

Questions of foreign affairs are no longer matters that can be left to experts — the world has grown too small for that. It is not possible any longer to think of foreign countries as distant lands with ways not our ways and interests not our interests. The well-being of everyone in this country depends, and will increasingly depend, upon things happening and thoughts men are thinking in countries which perhaps we shall never see.

Good relations between countries depend on many things, above all on understanding and confidence. We have to create confidence in our work and our intentions, for which we must first have confidence in our work and our intentions, for which we must first have confidence in ourselves.

Looking back over twenty years, I think we have cause for regret — not for our mistakes, though there are many, nor for the evil of our intentions, for these were good. We have cause for regret, just because we had not enough faith. We lacked faith in ourselves and in the cause we championed.

Nowhere was this more evident than in foreign policy. Our will to maintain a strong, consistent foreign policy was frustrated by the desire for comfort and a quiet life, by a willingness to rest upon past glories, by lazy aversion from new ideas, and, above all, by an unwillingness to make sacrifices for our defence and what we stand for.

I believe that this war, with the immeasurable evil it has brought in its train, has done one good thing for us. It has restored our moral purpose, our belief in ourselves. We have learned, I hope, that peace is something that must be won and worked for and paid for. We have learned that past heroism is only valuable if linked to present courage, that ideas disregard frontiers, that unemployment or war in one country affects unemployment or war in others, that peace requires endurance, sacrifices, and vigilance, as much as war. Even after the victory there can be no easy road from war to peace.

I think we learned our lesson; I pray we remember it. It will not be easy to remember it. When the war is over, weariness will come back; selfishness too, for we are human. But if we seek to drift back to the good old times which were really not so good for many among us, if we imagine that all the controls can be swept aside or that we can return to the economic anarchy of the old days, if we think we can have peace and security on the cheap, then certainly we shall bring not only discredit but disaster upon ourselves, and it will be well merited.

What of the contribution this country can make to the world and for the establishment of a better order in international society after the war? Firstly, I must speak of the victims of Hitler's new order and their treatment by their oppressors.

The Prime Minister in his statement to Commons on September 8th reminded us of the indescribable horrors perpetrated throughout Europe in the name of the New German Order. He pledged us once again to exact retribution for these crimes until finally Europe is liberated. We in these islands, who are mercifully preserved from such torments, should constantly remember what our Allies in the occupied territories have suffered and are suffering at the hands of the tyrants.

BARBARIANISM PERFECTED BY THE NAZIS

The technique of oppression which they have borrowed from the barbarians of old was first perfected by the Nazis in Germany itself. Now there are concentration camps from northern Norway to southern Greece, from the Arctic to the Mediterranean. Cattle trucks carry the human loads of slave labor from one end of occupied Europe to the other. Innocent men die in their graves in all these lands. In France, scores of innocent hostages are shot for the death of one Nazi. Executioners are active in Belgium and the Netherlands.

Behind the German lines in the Soviet Union, our Russian Allies are also being torn from their homes, tormented and slaughtered. All over eastern Europe, peasants are turned from their homes to make room for new German settlers. Everywhere national leaders and men of science and learning are systematically being exterminated. Everywhere their place is being taken by the thugs of the Schutzstaffeln.

JAPANESE ATROCITIES NOT NEW

In the Far East, the Japanese armies for five years have been pillaging and ransacking country after country, destroying millions of homes, raping and murdering with a complete disregard for the welfare of the peoples they claim to have come to liberate.

Some months ago, I felt it my duty to describe to Commons some of the bestial crimes committed at Hong Kong. Similar crimes had been committed four years earlier in Nanking.

Daily, new crimes are added to the list. We are resolved that they shall not go unpunished. We are not animated by a spirit of revenge, natural though such must be to many in Europe, but by the conviction that civilized justice will be restored to its rightful place only when the criminals who have sought to destroy it are made to answer for their deeds. Retribution must be swift, sure and complete.

How do we propose to help the people in the enslaved lands, once the ever-increasing might of the Allied forces begins to assert itself? The enemy must first be expelled by the Allied armies, root and branch, from the countries he has occupied and befouled. Law and order must be re-established, civil administrations set going, communications repaired, and the essential services of civilized life restored.

In the initial stage this work must inevitably be carried out under military supervision, since the Allied armies could not operate satisfactorily unless the essential needs of the distressed populations behind their lines were secured. But as operations proceed, and conditions in liberated countries settle down, there must be a progressive transfer of responsibility to civil administration, particularly the responsibilities of maintaining security and feeding the population.

Hence the change-over from military operations to what I would call the second stage of relief will take place almost insensibly. This second stage may well be under way in some territories, while in others the militar ystage will continue. Much will depend on the speed with which effective free governments can be organized. But in the Allied countries this should not take long.

PLANS FOR POST-WAR HELP

The object of "relief" will be to ensure that as soon as territories are clear of the enemy, the population will no longer suffer privations. The task of organizing relief should be simplified by the existing war organizations for the distribution of supplies.

The Anglo-American Combined Boards for instance, which are now established for allocating food, raw materials and shipping will provide useful models and a wealth of practical experience even though they may not after the war continue in the same form. This is not all. A year ago, representatives of the Allied Governments met at St. James's Palace under my presidency, and passed a resolution regarding their common aim to make sure that supplies, food, raw materials, and articles of prime necessity should be available for the post-war needs of the countries liberated from Nazi aggression. It was further resolved that the plans of the Allied Governments should be co-ordinated, that estimates of requirements should be prepared and priorities indicated, and plans for the most efficient employment of Allied shipping resources after the war should be worked out.

It was also agreed that an Inter-Allied Committee should be set up in London under British presidency. This committee has been actively working on programmes of requirements.

America's entry into the war obviously called for a fresh examination of the whole problem, and a number of discussions have taken place with the United States authorities. I myself had preliminary conversations with the Soviet Ambassador. And the Chinese Government has been approached regarding relief in the Far Eastern area.

It is clear that all the United Nations must play a part in any scheme of relief, and that this cannot be arranged in a moment. It is therefore, right to get ready now. The work of preparation is going forward, and the United Nations must find the will and the physical means to cope with the immediate problem of distress in areas free from Axis oppression.

RELIEF IS GUARANTEED

There is a great problem to be faced. But the members of the United Nations who have fallen victim into the Axis aggression may be confident that their sufferings and companions, with their own legitimate governments are determined to surmount them.

I feel sure that the British people as a whole will willingly submit to considerable sacrifices in order to help their friends and their Allies on the continent of Europe.

But what of the future? What of the post-war world which we have to create? How are we to set up an international order more in harmony with the natural trends of our civilization and more likely to give rise to a long period of real peace than the machine-made, soulless tyranny of the Herrenvolk?

The answer lies in the co-operation of the United Nations, and more especially within the United Nations, on the co-operation of the great powers.

V
"HEILS" FOR HITLER IN NORWAY

To please his lords and masters, the Nazis, Quisling panders to them in every way. Among his members is a Nazi chaplain, and there is springing up the same element of "heel licking and "heiling" as there exists in Germany. By his attempts to force the patriots to do the same they have only aroused hate.

It has been decided that "at all German-Norwegian Nazi meetings the German national anthem must always be played first, and then the Norwegian national anthem; also that "heil" shouts for Hitler must come before those for Quisling.

Quisling has given his orders to the controlled Press concerning propaganda for the "great Germanic Union of which Norway is a member."

In other words, Quisling wants to establish a Nazi Norway based on the blue print supplied by the Germans. How he ever hopes to break the spirit of the Norwegian people and regiment them to the doctrines which they have always hated, no one knows.

The "Germanic S.S. Norway" military organization has been set up as a tribute to Hitler, and these people are told that their organization is to be the "vanguard of the New Europe." Day after day the newspapers write about the "new order" which join the Norwegian with their "big Germanic brothers," and emphasize that the time must come when "Norwegians will work together with the Germans as a united people."

The Friderikstadblad in an inspired article recently declared: "The bridge to the Germanic countries must be built on the Norwegian temperament and of Norwegian timber. In future there will be no talk of nations having frontiers according to former narrow conceptions, nor will there be any League of Nations. There will be a blood tie and these S.S. organizations are the primitive cells or this "New Europe."

W. A. MEETING ST. MARY MAGDALENE'S CH.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mary Magdalene's Church were at home to their friends on Wednesday afternoon, November 18th, in the Sunday school room where the contents of the bale which they send annually to Elk Horn, were on display. The guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. C. E. Jamieson. The admission fee was taken by Mrs. Philpen.

During the afternoon a very interesting address was given by Mrs. Charles McKinnon on S. Faith's and the Bishop's Messengers.

The tea table was covered with a lovely bouquet of bronze and yellow baby mums and was presided over by Mrs. Hughson and Mrs. Richards. The dainty refreshments were served under the convenership of Mrs. C. H. Knight and Mrs. W. E. Wilson, assisted by the members of the branch.

NEWBURGH W. I.

Miss A. Briscoe graciously lent her home for the last meeting of the Newburgh Women's Institute. The roll call was answered by the Name of a Premier of any Province, but Ontario. "Legislation" was the theme of the meeting and the convener of this section spoke briefly on the motto: "He who would enjoy power must pay the price of responsibility." The speaker cited various leaders of the day who were towers of power, but completely bowed under responsibility.

The convener of welfare reported a series of welfare awaiting shipment. Three people brought brief reports from the Kingston Convention. Mrs. J. McLeod read a fairly complete report of convention activities. Mrs. Doris Wilson gave a detailed report on the many activities while topics discussed and added her impressions gained while in session. Mrs. Kenneth Kleinsteuber spoke briefly on the Hospitalization Plan.

The speaker who dealt with legislation for our protection and happiness, contrasted the growth since the Sixteenth Century and its progress. Mrs. J. Wilson said that women must be interested in matters of legislation because we do have a tremendous influence on what the worlds is and can be. An interesting discussion followed.

A motion was passed to the effect that luncheo would be cancelled for the duration.

The session closed with the National Anthem.

BAY PASTORAL CHARGE HOLDS MISSIONARY MEETING

Over thirty women attended a special missionary meeting at the Bay parsonage, Monday afternoon, when representatives of both auxiliaries of the W. M. S. heard with much interest an address by Miss L. Gandier of Napanee, which will not easily be forgotten. Mrs. W. B. Bell, president of the Bay (West) Auxiliary, presided and was assisted in an impressive devotional period by Mrs. W. C. Joyce, president of the Bay East Auxiliary, who led in prayer, and Mrs. H. Mellow, who read the scripture lesson.

Miss Gandier stressed the importance of missionary study as the only way by which we can become vitally interested in missions. Her description of the work of missions in China, Africa and India was most instructive.

Mrs. E. Aikenbrack, on behalf of those present, extended thanks to Miss Gandier for her stimulating message. A vote of thanks was also given to Mrs. Mooney for her kind hospitality.

A pianoforte solo was contributed by Mrs. W. B. Nolan and Mrs. Frank Parks gave a reading. The ladies provided a lunch in keeping with wartime restrictions and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

FRENCH SPURN AXIS--SCUTTLE WHOLE FLEET IN TOULON HARBOR

Hitler Breaks Another Promise by Trying to Seize French Fleet

WEDNESDAY —

The Russian drive to encircle the Nazi army besieging Stalingrad was said to have cost the enemy 17,000 men killed and captured, huge numbers of wounded and vast quantities of equipment. Three Nazi divisional generals were taken prisoner by the Russians and the corridor for escape of the Germans, was narrowed to 37 miles.

The Axis managed somehow to get heavy forces in the southern part of Tunisia and as a result the battle for the French colony will be spread all over the territory. Allied commanders admit that the battle for the colony may be long and difficult.

Rommel reached El Agheila and was said to be massing all his forces there, last stand. There was a lull in the tactic activity of the past few weeks in the Eighth Army prepared for an attack on Rommel's line.

Apparently isolated by a tight blockade, the Japs in Guadalcanal are yielding ground to the advancing United States troops.

The capture of Buna in New Guinea was thought to be only a matter of a few days, as Australian and United States troops narrowed the encirclement of Japanese positions.

THURSDAY —

The Red Army continued to close the pincers on the 300,000-man army of the Germans at Stalingrad and only a 30-mile gap remained open by which the Germans could possibly escape. The Russians state that in this latest battle 98,000 Germans have been killed and 140,000 have been wounded.

• • •

The all-out Allied attack on Axis held Tunis and Bizerte appeared to be not far off as the British and United States planes continued to soften-up enemy positions with heavy bombing.

There appeared to be no immediate prospect of a showdown in Libya.

The heaviest air assault on Buna, New Guinea, was made when 100 Allied planes dropped bombs on the Japanese airport. Allied ground forces continued to take ground from the Japs.

FRIDAY —

The Red Army captured 12,000 more Nazi prisoners in its offensive around Stalingrad, bringing the total up to 110,000. The action of the Russians continued and the position of the Nazis was becoming more precarious. The only apparent escape corridor left the German armies before Stalingrad, is one between the Stalingrad - Rostov and Stalingrad-Novorossisk railways.

Only minor actions were reported from North Africa as both sides made ready reinforcements for the decisive battle of Tunisia.

In Libya the British Eighth Army was preparing to strike at El Agheila, where Rommel was apparently making a stand.

The Japanese resistance at Buna was said to be more intense.

SATURDAY —

When Hitler broke his promise to the French by sending boarding parties to seize the French Fleet in the harbor of Toulon. The sailors gave battle to the Nazis and scuttled over sixty warships. Many of the French sailors and the Nazi boarding parties went down with the ships. Shore batteries were wrecked and the harbor of Toulon was rendered useless by the sinking of the ships. The French scored a great victory by their action and as well the eyes of all Frenchmen were opened to the meaning of Hitler's promises.

General Anderson, Commander of Britain's First Army, launched a big offensive against Axis forces in Northern Tunisia.

The Russian offensive was reported slowed up by stiffened Nazi resistance between the Don and the Volga. The total of killed and captured Nazis was raised to 116,000 in Friday's fighting.

NOV. MEETING HOME - SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The November meeting of the Napanee Home and School Association was held on Wednesday afternoon, November 25th, in the West Ward Public School. The meeting was opened by Mrs. T. Hunt, the president, presiding over the business part of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer, Mrs. F. Knox, gave her report which showed a balance of $20.04.

A report of the work of the Programme Committee was then given by Miss M. Way. She reported that the committee had arranged the meeting programmes for the year, which is being prepared by the committee. A copy is to be mailed to each member.

Mr. Hill, Principal of the Napanee Public School, addressed the meeting. He explained that the school was endeavouring to prepare the pupil for life. Having the pupil become a good citizen was as important as having him attain a high academic standing. Promotions were based on both academic standing and the pupil's attitude toward his work.

In illustrating this he used the report cards which the pupils are given. One side marks the academic progress, the other side indicates the pupil's progress in citizenship and attitude toward school. He pointed out that many of the headings under the citizenship side, such as obedience, courtesy and promptness, could be taught in the home.

Miss Betty Sheppard, a pupil from Grade VIII, gave a reading, "The Navy's Job". An address was given by Rev Mr. G. M. Chidley, on the "Era of Leisure Time." He showed how modern inventions had made it necessary for the younger generation to leave their homes to earn a livelihood. This had broken up the home unit. He urged that leisure time be used as much as possible to preserve family life.

He spoke of the influence magazines, books, and the movies had on children, that these things should be used as an instructive rather than destructive force. Parents should demand the type of magazine or movie they wished for their children. He mentioned the Church as an important means of preserving family life. In closing he pointed out that children learn by example, therefore profitable use of leisure time can be taught by adults, only if they themselves, know how to use their leisure time wisely.

Mrs. Moore, convener of the Membership Committee reported eight new members during last month.

Mr. Elliott, on behalf of the association, moved a vote of thanks to both speakers.

Mr. Jamieson, Principal of the Napanee Collegiate, explained the system of marking report cards used at the Collegiate.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem

NAPANEE COL. INST. COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY, DEC. 11

The Napanee Collegiate and Vocational Institute Annual Commencement will be held on Friday afternoon, December 11th, at 2:00 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. J. L. Murray, B.A., B.Paed., Principal of the Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute, and a former teacher of this school.

The general public are invited.

IT WOULD HELP!

Yes, indeed! It would help a great deal to make room for a pleasure in every householder in the town would make an attempt to keep the walk in front of his own house or place of business shovelled after each snow storm. Leaving the snow on the walks until it has been stamped down makes it so much more difficult to remove and certainly makes the walking much more uncomfortable and more dangerous.

It's true that help is scarce and some people find it difficult to do their own shovelling, but those who can manage to keep their walks clean should try to do so. The municipality cannot do everything, especially when it is so very difficult to get men to work on the streets. So it's more or less the citizens' responsibility.

MAYOR AND COUNCILLORS AND ALL OTHER OFFICIALS ACCLAIMED IN NAPANEE

No Change in Personnel Town Council or School Board for 1943

All the members of the 1942 Council, as well as W. T. Mackenzie, Public Utilities Commissioner, and H. L. VanLaere, P. U. Laidley and J. M. Simpson, School Trustees, were returned to office for the year 1943 by acclamation.

Nominations were made at the public meeting on Friday evening and Mayor Hall, Reeve Daly, Deputy Reeve Stratton, W. T. Mackenzie, Public Utilities Commissioner, P. U. Laidley and J. M. Simpson, School Trustees were declared elected by acclamation.

The only other nomination for councillor was A. E. Holmes, who did not qualify. E. C. Hogarth was nominated for school trustee for the Centre Ward, but did not qualify.

The nomination meeting was attended by a very small number of the ratepayers of the town and the proceedings throughout were without excitement.

Following the closing of the nominations, addresses were given by several of the 1942 officials.

PUBLIC UTILITIES — HYDRO DEPARTMENT

W. T. Mackenzie gave the report for the Hydro Division of the Public Utilities Commission. Mr. Mackenzie stated that revenue for 1942, up to the present term, was $49,957.29, which is $4,404.36 in excess of the same period last year. The maximum load, last year was 1,526 h.p., while this year it was 1,456 h.p. The decrease, no doubt, was due to the installation of the flat rate water heater control last year, at a cost of $2,000.00. The water control turns off the heaters each day, excepting Sundays and holidays for 45 minutes during the peak load period, between 11:15 a.m. and 12:00 noon. Expenditures for the year show only an increase of $5,183.59 which is accounted for in the increased use of power, of about $1,500. $1,000 on line maintenance, billing and collecting and general expense of $2,000, and repairs to office building of $500.00 The operating surplus to October 31, thus stands at $2,676 and at the end of the year should be $3,000.

During the year the lines have been rebuilt in Newburgh besides necessary extension of lines and underground cables to serve the new airport at Deseronto.

During the year the Blewett Block was altered and made ready for occupancy and in an excellent condition now. The total outlay on the building, including the purchase price stands now at $12,000.

MR. J. H. MOFFAT SPEAKS ABOUT WATERWORKS DEPT.

Mr. J. H. Moffat, Public Utilities Commission, speaking for the Waterworks Department of the Commission said that although no detailed financial report could be compiled until the end of the year, there was every prospect that the Waterworks Department would complete one of the best years' business since 1930. The operating surplus would likely be $1,000 higher than last year when it stood at $5,740. Gross revenue as of November 26 was $20,600 and with the addition of the December collections, the revenue for the year should be the highest ever collected in any one year. This is due to the increased amount of water being used by the metered customers.

Gross expenditure to date was $18,868, just about the same amount as at this time last year. The electric power bill to date is $350 less than last year, as power was purchased only one month this year compared with three months in 1941. The present outlook indicates a good supply of water power during 1943.

Practically no capital expenditure was made by the department in 1942. Only $1,000 was entered and only one new service was added. This was due to the government regulation that no expenditure for new material can be made except where absolutely necessary.

Outstanding arrears are down to $600, compared with $1,075 in November, 1941. At the end of the year it is hoped the arrears will be reduced to less than $400.

COUNCILLORS SPEAK

Mayor Hall made a short speech in which he thanked the ratepayers for their continued confidence in him and expressed his appreciation of the co-operation of the members of the Council and the Municipal Officials during the past year.

Reeve Daly, who was chairman of the Finance Committee during 1942, reviewed the town's financial position. He said that estimates brought down last February would not be far out when the year's business is wound up. Three departments have exceeded their estimates, mostly because of circumstances beyond control. The Town Property Committee has spent about $350 more than its allotment. This was caused by the redecoration of the town hall auditorium, providing for a room for the V. O. N. in the Town Hall and rebuilding the town scales at the C. N. R. stockyards.

Expenditures for social welfare will exceed the estimates by about $1,000. The reasons for this were the reduction in Ontario Government payments for direct relief of per cent. to 50 per cent. and the purchase of coal for fuel and wood for relief purposes. The Streets Department also overspent its allocation, largely because of the purchase of sewer cleaning apparatus, which the long run will save the town considerable money.

Speaking about tax collections, Mr. Daly said that 83 per cent. of the current year's taxes had been collected. Comparing the collection of current year taxes and arrears over 160 per cent. the amount of the present year's taxes have been collected. Tax arrears at the end of the year will probably be $17,000, while will be $5,000 less than at the first of the year.

At the end of the year there will probably be an over-expenditure of about $1,200, but Mr. Daly said he could see no reason why the town's present tax rate of 48 mills should have to be increased next year.

Speaking about the county finance, Mr. Daly said the County was in excellent financial condition. Ten years ago the county debenture debt stood at $590,000, which will be completely wiped out this year. Napanee's debenture debt has been reduced to $149,392, including $77,000 waterworks debentures. The whole debenture debt of the town will be wiped out in 1948.

Councillor Chalk reviewed the work of the Streets Committee for the year. He said that no capital outlay was being made on the streets because of war restrictions. Only necessary maintenance has been done and this was being carried on by older men since there is no scarce. Councillor Chalk predicted that after the war considerable work will be necessary on the town streets, to put them back in good condition.

Deputy Reeve Stratton and Councillor Vanalstine also spoke briefly of the work of their committees throughout the year.

Councillors Kimmerly, Robson, Exley and Luffman were not present at the meeting.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS SPEAK

P. U. Laidley, chairman of the School Board spoke briefly about matters concerning the schools. He said that enrolment at the Collegiate was lower, this year than usual, but both public schools are crowded. He stated that sometime in the not too distant future the town will be faced with providing increased accommodation for public school pupils, as the Public School Board has not adequate in every way and the West Ward School is already overcrowded. Mr. Laidley said that it was expected there would be a surplus of $1,200 in the Collegiate account, this year, and about $1,400 surplus in the Public School account.

C. B. Creighton, who until recently was chairman of the Board of Education, spoke briefly on his resignation from the chairmanship of the Board. He stated that during this year three teachers had sought to jump their contracts and that he was opposed to this being done unless they had signed contracts to remain in the immediate district approaching the year. When Miss Hanley was released from her contract recently by the Board, Mr. Creighton protested his resignation as chairman in protest against the Board's action. J. M. Simpson, a member of the Board of Education, said that throughout the past year, he had on several occasions taken issue with the chairman, Mr. Creighton, but Mr. Simpson said there was no need for anyone to feel that Mr. Creighton was a martyr because of the obstinacy of the rest of the Board. He said that he would have preferred Mr. Creighton had not resigned. Miss Hanley by name, and added that Miss Hanley had been offered a position on the staff of the Ontario School for the Deaf at Belleville, which would greatly enhance her prospect for the future. Mr. Creighton stated that Miss Hanley being released. She was released, Mr. Simpson said, as the Board's action, contract, as Mr. Creighton elected. The Management Committee recommended that Miss Hanley be released, and the chairman got mad and quit. "It's the old story," Mr. Simpson said, "if I can't be boss I won't play."

Mr. Simpson also said that the story of the typewriter transaction should be aired at the nomination meeting. Mr. Creighton, he said, got the idea that he would buy typewriters for the Collegiate and contrary to the recommendation of the Advisory Vocational Committee, the Board ordered sixteen new machines, when only five were recommended to be bought by the Advisory Committee. Only seven of the twelve members of the Board were present at the meeting when the purchases of the typewriters was authorized and only 4 of the 7 voted in favor of the purchase. No one heard of the project to purchase the typewriters before the meeting. "The project was the child of the chairman," Mr. Simpson said. Later it was found the purchase was not legal because the expenditure was for over $500 and should have been ratified by the Town Council. Mr. Simpson added that the purchase of machines was unnecessary because two old machines could have been repaired at a cost of $200, whereas $1,600 was spent.

THE BEAVER SANTA CLAUS FUND

The organizers of The Beaver Santa Claus Fund wish to express their sincere thanks for the support given by the citizens of Napanee and the surrounding County, to the Tag Day held last Saturday. The results were good, considering the number of calls made on people almost every week but were not quite as generous as last year. However, the demands on the fund will be a little lighter than in previous years and the money raised, about $70, will help materially in supplying Christmas cheer for needy families.

Even though many families, which in years past needed help badly, are in a better economic position this year, there are still many who would have a poor time at Christmas if they were not assisted by The Beaver Santa Claus Fund.

Letters, appealing for assistance are being received by this office and Miss Leamy, and after investigation many are found to be worthy cases and will be given help during the majority of people are in fairly comfortable circumstances it will be good to know at Christmas time that those who are less fortunate are being looked after.

A few contributions besides those made on the Tag Day have already been sent in. The following is the list up-to-date:

Mrs. C. B. Daly	$5.00
Dr. G. W. Morden	$2.00
John Simpson	toys
Mrs. W. A. Templeton	$5.00
Mrs. S. A. Templeton	$5.00

WE SUGGEST A Much-Appreciated Christmas Gift — "The Napanee Beaver"

One of the most appreciated Christmas gifts and one of the easiest to give is a year's subscription to "The Napanee Beaver." The Beaver is sent to friends who are away, they get news from home each week, which it would be impossible for the individual to write. The people in the immediate district appreciate "The Beaver" because it carries news of these people besides giving information about sales and advertisements for the Napanee stores. "The Beaver" costs $1.50 per year for any place in Canada and $2.00 per year outside of the Dominion.

Remember also "The Beaver" can be sent Overseas from this office, but cannot be sent to individuals. Many people who have boys and girls in the armed forces are subscribing for "The Beaver for them. It costs $2.00 a year for Overseas subscription but it is worth its weight in gold in helping the boys to keep in touch with the home folks.

If subscriptions are sent at Christmas gifts we send a Christmas gift card to the recipient.

Members of Women's Institutes Attend Nutrition Conference

Miss R B Rourke of the Department of Agriculture was the speaker on Tuesday last week and conducted a nutritional conference in the Agricultural rooms.

The study and practice of good nutrition was given as an invaluable wartime asset owing to the fact that good health is even more so, in times of war.

The presidents and members of the Napanee, Adolphustown and the Maple Leaf Women's Institutes were in attendance and the conference was very productive

Miss Rourke stated that the conservation of food value by proper cooking as well as the manner to provide for food in the winter, was most important, and that certain food values were lost when cooked, no matter how carefully the cooking may be done.

Mrs. James Haggerty, president of the Napanee Institute presided and the programme consisted of a piano duet by Mrs B. Seymour and Mrs. B. M. Black.

OWNER FINED FOR KEEPING GAMING HOUSE

Hum Wah, proprietor of the New York Cafe, was fined $15 and costs in Police Court, last Thursday, for keeping a common gaming house. The charge to which Hum Wah pleaded guilty was laid by Chief of Police T. S. Moore after he and Night Constable Cook raided the Cafe, about 12:45 a.m. Tuesday, November 24th.

Chief Moore stated that he had received several complaints that gambling was being carried on at the New York Cafe and had warned Hum Wah, the proprietor, that unless it was discontinued the place would be raided. Armed with a search warrant the Chief and Constable Cook visited the premises just after midnight on Monday night, Nov. 23, and found ten Napanee businessmen and two men from Kingston in the basement of the Restaurant. A number of the men were engaged in playing poker and the others were looking on. The Chief said he took the names of the men he found present, but did not confiscate the money in the pack-pot.

J. M. Simpson, K.C., who defended Hum Wah, said that he had known Hum for 34 years and that Hum had always been a law-abiding citizen and like the rest of the Chinese in the town had never run afoul of the law before. Mr. Simpson said he had argued Hum's plea carefully, because he was technically guilty of the charge. Some of the money in the pack-pot, Mr. Simpson said, was taken out and used to buy refreshments. But he added, he did not think the offence was any greater than when bridge is played in private homes where as it is done in many cases in Napanee.

Because of Hum Wah's good record the Magistrate imposed the minimum fine, and, together with the costs, totalled $30.00.

It was also decided that stores throughout the whole day and night therefore find difficulty in doing their Christmas shopping.

It was also decided at the meeting that the retail stores would remain closed Boxing Day, the day after Christmas, which will mean that stores are closed from 9:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 24, until 8:30 a.m. Monday, December 28.

THE ISOLATIONIST

There are still isolationists, both in this country and in the United States. There are those in both countries who think only in terms of their own nation. Quebec in Canada, and the Middle West in the United States, are centres of this sentiment. The extent to which the world has shrunk, in the past few years, does not seem to have been appreciated by those who still think of their nation as apart from the rest of the world.

During the First World War, the same situation prevailed, and while the United States entered that war and help-up her end, yet when it was over this isolationist sentiment asserted itself, and the Senate refeated the effort to make the United States assume responsibility for her share in creating a "just and durable" peace.

There has been, in many quarters, appreension lest history might again repeat itself. There have been those who were quite disturbed over the prospect that the United States, having made an all-out effort in the war, might draw away from any responsibility in maintaining world-peace, after the war.

Mr. Churchill, on Sunday, advanced a view which, while not altogether new, yet received added emphasis because it was expressed by the Prime Minister. Mr. Churchill said that the united efforts of the United Nations would defeat the Axis powers in Europe first. That was their prior responsibility and objective. In this case the United States was helping Great Britain and Russia. Then, when peace was established in Europe and Germany and Italy disposed of, the United Nations would turn to the Pacific. In that area Great Britain and Russia would be helping, among others, the United States. The Pacific was an American problem primarily. The fact that, in one phase of the war, the United States was cooperating to help Great Britain and Russia, and in the second phase Russia and Great Britain were co-operating to help the United States, would bind the partners together in a way that had not been possible after the First Great War. This was a guarantee that the United Nations would be united, not only in arms, but in the making of the peace.

Thus, isolationism may not have the power it had after "Versailles". If Mr. Churchill's prophesy proves true, the future peace of the world may be guaranteed by the United Nations.

V

MR. CHURCHILL ON THE WAR

The address given by Mr. Churchill on Sunday was encouraging without being superficially optimistic. He paid a high and fitting tribute to the British people who stood alone against the might of Germany in the early days of the war. He was loud in his praise of the air, sea and land forces which had so successfully accomplished a landing of hundreds of thousands of troops in Africa. He spoke enthusiastically about the co-operation between the British and the United States in this gigantic operation. The Prime Minister poured out his bitterest sarcasm against that one man who had stabbed France in the back, and got in a few blows at Great Britain, which he thought was tottering. The Italians had been a diligent, contented and hard-working people. They had no need to go to war. Nobody wanted to attack them. It was Mussolini, with his dream of Empire, who had brought sorrow and hardship and suffering to the Italian people. Mr. Churchill said that what had been done to Italy was but the beginning. Scientifically and thoroughly, the industrial cities of Southern Italy would be destroyed as those in the north had been wrecked.

Mr. Churchill revealed that the attack in Libya and the landing in Africa had coincided with the drive of the Russians. He said the whole world marvelled at the power of the Russians to build up reserves and to plan an attack while under constant pressure from the Germans.

Touching reference was made to the loss of the French Fleet. Mr. Churchill said he never had any doubt but that Hitler would seize all France when it suited him, and would try to seize the Fleet. He rejoiced that the uncertainty which had surrounded the motives and actions of the Vichy Regime, was now removed.

The report, on the whole, which the Prime Minister gave, was encouraging. But he warned that there is no easy way out. The present successes are only the beginning. Germany has all Europe under control, has enforced labor on the land and in the factories. He hinted that years of hard and bitter struggle lay ahead. Mr. Churchill has always faced the facts. He has never painted a rosy picture. He tells the world exactly where the United Nations stand, and makes no promises of an easy road to victory. It is not always pleasant to hear the truth, but in the long run, it pays. Had we been bolstered up in our darkest days with promises of an easy task, the shattering experiences of the past three years might very easily have broken the national morale and left us an easy prey to the might of the enemy. But being promised nothing but blood, sweat, toil and tears, the worst which we have had to endure was not unprepared for. There may be a long and arduous trail ahead, but it will be climbed, even though it be through storms and bitter weather.

V

A GLORIOUS EPIC

"Grand, epic, homicidal" in that phrase Tennyson describes the heroine in his poem "The Princess". It may well be used to describe the event which took place at Toulon on Friday last. There the French Fleet, sixty or more strong, committed suicide rather than be taken by the Axis powers. Hitler had given his word not to attack Toulon, not to attack the French Fleet. But this man, who has no sense of moral obligation, whose word has been broken a dozen times without a scruple, once again broke his plighted word and ordered his troops to march on Toulon and seize the French Fleet.

No sooner had it become known that the German troops were on the march, than the order went out according to pre-arranged plans to scuttle the Fleet and prevent it falling into German hands. Axis boarding parties were machine-gunned, while watercocks were opened, allowing the sea water to flood the boats. Fearing this might not be done with sufficient speed, time bombs were set which blew the ships to pieces. And while French naval men were still at their posts, shore batteries opened fire in order to hasten the process of destruction. Frenchmen were firing on Frenchmen with utter disregard for life—nothing matter ed so long as the Fleet was kept from German hands. Shore arsenals and supply depots were bombarded by the French themselves or destroyed by bombs. In a few hours the Admiral of the Fleet conveyed to Marshal Petain that "the French Fleet no longer exists."

It was a tragic but epic episode. History has nothing comparable to it. In a few short hours the genius skilled craftsmanship of the French people, expended with lavish extravagance on the Fleet, of which they were justifiably proud, lay in ruins, some of the ships at the bottom of the sea, others burning hulks of twisted metal. Many of the men and officers went down with the Fleet, preferring an honourable death to a cowardly surrender.

France, torn asunder, baffled bewildered by internal divisions and national saboteurs, has had her hour of glory. In that one incident, all the resentment against the Axis is focussed. In that act the heart of France beats true. The last little corner of France, where the unscrupulous Hitler planned, by his perfidy to win an easy victory, became the graveyard of his hopes. There France found her soul. The French people—the flame of freedom temporarily quenched by the German overlords—will yet emerge. That freedom, unable now to express itself, will, one day, blaze forth anew. No act since the beginning of the war has so served to unify France, as that. A unified France: that which Hitler has dreaded most, and which he has endeavoured to prevent, has been achieved by the evil act of a bad man. That unity may not be immediately evident, because of the repressive measures of the invader; but sooner or later it will emerge and the New France will arise like the fabled phoenix, from the ashes of the old.

NOT BY ANY MEANS

Hon. Mitchell Hepburn is not, by any means, out of the picture as a leading political figure. That much, at least, we may deduce from his statement made before the Liberal caucus, last week. The caucus was called to discuss Premiership, which Mr. Hepburn had handed to Mr. Gordon Conant. The caucus confirmed Mr. Conant's appointment. It was at this time that the recent Premier made the statement that he was still the Leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, even though no longer the Prime Minister.

This is going to create an interesting situation. If Mr. Hepburn is still the Leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, then he will have much to say about the policies of the party. He will have much to say to Premier Conant, for the latter, having been handed the high office on a platter by the former Prime Minister, will have to watch his P's and Q's. Still when we think it over, it may not be an altogether bad arrangement. The former Prime Minister is a colorful figure; his actions are unpredictable; he makes quick decisions; he says and does things which interest the man on the street, but which may not suit the people whom premiers and others in positions of trust have to please. Now it is well known that the voters like a man of Mr. Hepburn's temperament and attractiveness. A man who knows "his onions" can stand heckling and enjoy it, and wisecrack with the best. But for the everyday garden variety of leader, there must be someone who can speak carefully and with tact, who will not hurt the sensibilities of the most sensitive, nor disturb the placidity of the most ardent status quoer.

To be sure, if Mr. Hepburn was merely retained to interest, amuse and attract the public, he would hardly like it. After all, nobody who has once had a taste of power would want to descend to the position of master of ceremonies, no matter how much popular acclaim he might receive.

But Mr. Hepburn has seen to that. He retains the Liberal leadership for himself. He will be able to make his interest compelling statements without attaching much responsibility to them, and then, behind the scenes, he will be able to wield the big stick, while Mr. Conant will make the public statements which will please everybody. After all, it is not a bad arrangement which Mr. Hepburn has thought out.

Some Notes On History Of Schools And The Post Office At Moscow

BY JOSEPH FOSTER

The question of education received considerable thought and attention during the early days of pioneer life at Moscow. In fact it was a major problem, for the reason that the Moscow area comprises approximately four square miles and during the period under review there were practically no roads and the district was almost a wilderness.

In 1846, a primitive log school was organized, seventy families had already settled in the neighborhood. Following a survey of the whole situation, it was decided to divide the district into four sections, to begin, four school sections, that is to say: the Card Section, northwest of Moscow, the Potter Section, south of Moscow, the Perry Section, southeast of Moscow, and the Hawley Section, east of Moscow. Later, of course, these were all joined or consolidated into one School Section, at present constituted.

Prior to the organization of the district for school purposes, clergymen of the several denominations, when visiting the neighborhood, did undertake to instruct the children in their homes, in some of the rudiments of education, but this method however, was soon found to be inadequate.

The first school started under the foregoing arrangement, was known as the Huffman School. It was conducted in a small cottage which was used as a weave shop on the farm of Mr. Robert Clark and just fifty feet west of the Clark homestead, which is still standing. The first teacher was Augusta Foster, (aunt of the writer) followed by Bowen O. Perry.

It was only a short time until the Weave Shop was crowded to capacity and it became necessary to consider the erection of a suitable school building and in due course, the first school meeting of the district was announced. At this meeting the first question on the agenda was naturally a site for the new building. Jacob Huffman, one of the first settlers donated one-half acre on the north west corner of Lot 40 in the Fourth Concession and in a short time a building was erected, thirty feet square with a cottage roof. The following teachers became the first to serve in the Huffman School; Howard Abrams, Baker Wells and Manly Benson. Fanny McCall, Bethel Jackson, Fletcher Lucas, and Datus E. Huffman. Baker Wells and Manly Benson, later became prominent ministers in the Methodist Church.

The Perry School was of frame construction and was located on the north west corner of the Calvin Perry Farm. It is still standing and is used as a farm building by Mr. John Judge, the present owner.

Following are the names of some of the teachers who rendered efficient service in ristructuring the rising generation in the rudiments of secular education and also in the teaching of the Bible which was part of the curriculum of those early schools: Robert Lapum, Allan Pringle, Catherine Ward, William Pomeroy.

About this time a system of school inspection was introduced and Rev. Mr. Shirley, an Anglican clergyman, occupied the position for a time. During a visit to the Perry School, he was stricken with a heart attack and died before medical aid could be summoned. The body was removed to the home of Mr. John Baker and the friends immediately notified.

The Card School was located north of Moscow, on the farm presently owned by Mr. Arthur Rielly and was a frame building. This school was an important adjunct to the educational system of the community and boasts a numer of exceptionally clever teachers, some of whom became prominent in the public life of Canada, notably, the late John W. Bell, K.C., who represented the County in the House of Commons as a Grit for a number of years. Other teachers were: Annie Secord, William Wickham, and John Black. The latter is better known as the late Rev. Dr. Knight, and Zara Vanluven.

During the early days of pioneer conditions rapidly improved. The land was cleared and roads made passable. It was then that an agitation arose for one central school at a point where it would be convenient to all. Accordingly it was decided to build a commodious hall at Moscow and in due course arranged to organize the Central School and to use the Temperance Hall as a temporary schoolroom. The first teacher was Mr. John Black who, following his teaching career at Moscow, taught for a number of years in the West Ward School at Napanee. Nicholas Asselstine was the first male teacher to serve in the Old Hall as it was later called.

It was not long before the New Stone School House was ready for occupation and the following are the names of a few of the first teachers: Nicholas Asselstine, Mrs. W. Pomeroy, James E. Dalby (late Dr. Malbec of Odessa) Emma McMannas, Mrs. Wheeler (Mrs. Major J. A. Amey, Napanee), Miss Saul, Miss Hudgins, Miss Paul, Miss Demorest, Miss Dunkley, Miss Milsap.

The present teachers are Mr. Dorland Wood and Miss Mary Evans, who are perpetuating the splendid traditions which have always characterized the Moscow school.

The establishment of the various schools in the Moscow district, was responsible for a great deal of activity among the settlers. The school building was available for all kinds of friendly gatherings, singing schools, spelling schools and concerts and at election times political meetings. The buildings were used too, for religious meetings, when occasion required.

The big attraction, however, was the school meeting, when the male population of the neighborhood could be sure to be present. Each question on the program would receive earnest and serious consideration and every speaker was expected to make some contribution to the debate. The chairman presiding officer was chosen for his ability to keep the meeting from getting out of control, but often the finest kind of row would fall down one would start an argument which would suddenly precipitate the wildest pandemonium which would furnish splendid entertainment for the young ones and were invariably present to see the show. In the end, all differences would be satisfactorily ironed out.

Those who received their primary education at the Moscow school would make a long list We will mention only a few:

The Church — Rev. A. C. Huffman, Rev. Fraser Bell, Rev. Aylesworth Bell, Rev. Corey Card, Rev. Letty Goudy.

Doctors — Fletcher Lucas, Marshall B. Rombough, Norman Paul, Arthur M. Bell, William Milsap, Ralph Huffman.

Director General Of Reserve Army Pleased With Civilian Support

Ottawa, (Special) — Support of employers and private citizens for the Reserve Army and an appreciation of the serious need for home defence are "highly encouraging" in Military District No. 3, Major-General B. W. Browne, D.S.O., M.C., Director General of the Reserve Army stated following a five-day inspection of reserve units and sub-units in the Peterborough, Lindsay, Coboconk, Fenelon Falls, and Bobcaygeon, met commanding officers and officers of the local units and addressed numerous meetings attended by prominent local citizens.

The enthusiasm of the public for the Reserve Army was gratifying to the extreme," General Browne stated.

"Employers," he added, "have a clear conception of the necessity for a trained and organized people's army and plans this necessity to the actual production of vitally needed war materials"

"Everywhere I went," he stated, "manufacturers were of the opinion that those who forge the bolts of war should also learn to wield them."

He illustrated this point by referring to the Reliance Laundry and Tool Company of Belleville whose general manager personally encouraged the enlistment units in his factory although this is typical of every district — to see bank managers, merchants and professional men of all ranks sweating agricultural training together as privates. That's real democratic sign if there ever was one."

"The Reserve Army needs clear-thinking, intelligent men in its ranks," the General pointed out, "because, unlike the Active Army, training of necessity is not so intensive and therefore has to be absorbed in less time."

"Should the Reserve ever be called to the defence of this country," he said, "it should be that the men who are sent are intelligent men who have the ability to absorb their training speedily and efficiently."

General Browne expressed pleasure at the way in which Reserve units in M.D No. 3 are receiving supplies of new and modern equipment for training purposes. He drew comparison between the situation that existed last year and as it is.

"A year ago every available man was sent overseas or to active units of war as soon as it assembly lines. Reserve units were everywhere in Canada was to carry on as best it could. cent months, however, more and more equipment has been put our hands. Today there is hardly unit that is not reasonably supplied with all types of weapons as well as vehicles and the many items necessary for training.

"The Reserve Army" may be called upon actively to defend Canada," General Browne stated, "and the splendid victories of recent weeks in this big step toward the defeat of Hitler and his gangsters fill us with pride, but he expressed his belief that the enemy hard fighting is still to come and that the enemy may yet strike at danger at these shores.

"Our full-time fighting men battle the foe on foreign soil wherever he may befound," General Browne said. "But we, the Army—the People's Army, are prepared to play our part in defending it."

He said he found this army everywhere he went in Military District No. 3, as well as in other districts, "keen" enthusiasm toward training.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR WAR CONSERVATION OF RUB

Making rubber articles last a real part of war-time duty. To make it a habit to keep rubber articles clean. Warm water and soap make the best cleaners. Dont clean rubber or rubberized fabrics as cleaning fluid destroys the rubber. Rubber articles should be dried and dried thoroughly wrapped in brown paper or boxed and put in a cool dry place for storing.

Copper inlayers rubber soles and gloves should not be worn when polishing brass or copper or when using pots with a ball of copper wire. Gloves should be carefully put on after use and dusted with a little powder to prevent their sticking.

Rubbers and overshoes should be dried slowly and thoroughly in a normal temperature away from direct heat. When new, in the stuff with crumpled paper. Always dry them on and take them off carefully. Rubber footwear should be kept in a pretty dirt-free condition as dirt will result in tears and excessive wear in places.

Rubber raincoats and other rubberized outer garments should be kept folded or shaken out to ensure. Don't expose them to excessive heat or sunlight. Drop rubber cement or rubberizing on the surfaces of the coat to stick together any small holes or tears when separated. The coat should be wiped and hung to dangle at the bottom to dry.

Contrary to usual practice pour boiling water into a hot bottle; pour a little cold water in the bottle and then fill it from then add water. Take care in filling the flask or covering around bottle that it doesn't become saturated. Dry the bottle thoroughly after each use, rather than store it in a cool dark place.

Avoid dragging garden hose over rough surfaces and it should be detached from faucet when not in use. It should be wound on a reel, the nozzle down so water can drain out. Hoses should be stored, preferably indoors, protected from the sun.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, DECEMBER 6TH, 1942

"THE MEANING OF CHURCH MEMBERSHIP"

Lesson Text: Colossians 3: 1-17

Paul speaks of the Christian as one united with Christ in all his experience. Christians, he says in effect, must live with Christ in a realm of high endeavour and aspiration must "seek the things which are above, and not those which are of the earth." That does not mean that a follower of Christ should live in a dream land of unattainables. Not at all. Christians or not, we live in a real world a world of sinning selfish, misguided human beings. To take oneself off or to live out of touch with the realities of human experience, is contrary to the mind and practice of Jesus Himself. What Paul insists on is that the "mind set" must be on things above. Church members must make the ideals of Christ their ideals. Live in the world, though not of it.

The next section verses 5-11, Paul makes a definite application of this general principle to moral conduct. He enumerates many of the grosser sins, and the evil emotions which a church member must at all costs, avoid. It is not necessary to list them here. More necessary is it to note that the power to do the things Paul insists are the hall-mark of a Christian comes from an experience by virtue of which a man has become new. He has put "off the old man with his doings," and has put on a new man, by individual incisions and deep power only as they control group life. This group morality has underlined the necessity for unity in the church. Consequently, it is essential to the development of these, that we live and move always in the Christ-minded. The outstanding development of our lives should be a growth towards a more closely woven group morality, as we live in days of mass production, and of world movements. The world may be led and directed by individual leaders, but real power only as they control group life and cerna. No man can become a true follower of Christ unless he comes out from the world, makes the commitment publicly to a new way of life, and then gets strength and guidance for his arduous and exacting experiences from the spirit of Christ Himself, and from the fellowship of those who have made a similar commitment.

By TAP REYES

The credit for the quickest comback in film business belongs to whirling-twirling-swirling Sonja Henie—but she really hasn't gone very far on the way out. Her studio, convinced that the ice skating rage was over in films, was playing possum as the time came closer for a renewal of contract. Her bosses thought that "Sun Valley Serenade" would provide a graceful exit but it turned out to be her biggest boxoffice hit. They woke up in a hurry and now along comes her eighth effort, "Iceland," with Henie skatier than ever and proving that she has learned to emote, too.

Osa Massen, who plays Sonja Henie's sister in "Iceland," got into pictures via the back door. She was a film editor in her native Denmark . . . Do you remember the grandmother in "Tahiti"? She's Adeline de Walt Reynolds, at 83 growing into a favorite feature player. There, folks, is a real story. This old doll went to college after marrying off her children and graduated at the age of 70. Her film career, after a few years on the stage, began at 80. Now she's going to night school to study shorthand and typing in order to answer her own fan mail!

Hollywood doesn't linger long behind the headlines. One producer is preparing "The Life and Adventures of General Giraud." He's the hard-to-hold French General who escaped from a Nazi camp and joined the Fighting French for the American invasion of Africa . . . Ned Sparks, who returned to his native Canada and announced his retirement from films, has changed his mind. The acid-faced comedian is back in Hollywood for more pictures . . . Gene Autry has been loaned by the USA army to make another picture, the hay-horse-harness farce apparently needing a lift.

A future film will be called "The Life of Will Rogers" . . . "Random Harvest," the film from the popular book of that name, will be shown soon. It stars Ronald Coleman and Greer Garson, which sounds like a wonderful combination . . . The studios are good to their boys overseas. MGM will send each of its employees in the services a well-loaded gift box . . . And that studio has something we'd like to see in Canada which is being displayed across the line in various cities—an exhibit called "The Arts of the Cinema. It includes life masks of the stars, fashion sketches and many of the things that go into the making of a movie.

Wallace Beery is completing his 29th year on the screen . . . Richard Carlson once won a $2500 scholarship at the University of Minnesota, where he turned down an offer to teach. He took the money and opened a little theatre. He'll be seen in "White Cargo" and "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" . . . Bonita Granville, while working in "The Glass Key," cried enough to float a battleship. She got her's a total of seven hours . . . Chester Morris got scared the other day when a script called for him to eat a dog. Somebody left the word "hot" out . . . Before shooting began on "How Green the Bell Tolls" a studio artist made 5,000 sketches of scenes-to-come.

ORDER AFFECTS BREAD AND BAKERY PRODUCTS

Ottawa (CP) — The Prices Board announced restrictions on the use of automotive and horse-drawn vehicles in the delivery of bread and bakery products.

Based on an order by James Stewart, services administrator, the regulations, effective December 28 are designed to relieve manpower for war work and, in the case of motor vehicles, to conserve gasoline and rubber.

The order prohibits distributors of bread and bakery products from operating vehicles which fail to yield weekly sales of a specified minimum, $225 for automotive trucks and $175 for horse-drawn vehicles.

Shortages of sales in any one week will not disqualify a vehicle if the average sales covered by a monthly statement meet the required amount. The maximum number of motor vehicles that a distributor may use for delivery of bread and bakery products is not to exceed the number used by him regularly during September of this year.

Distributors who do not operate more than two vehicles, of which only one may be automotive, are not included in the order, but this exemption does not apply to distributors who do not produce at least 75 per cent in value of the bread and bakery products they sell.

The order does not apply to grocery and other stores which, as a minor part of their business, deliver bread and bakery products with other deliveries. Distributors affected are required to keep records of their sales and to file them with the Prices Board by the 10th of each month, commencing in January.

The United States army has adopted a new plastic trumpet which saves brass and wear on ears. The tone is better, according to the War Department in an announcement recently. Made of cellulose acetate, the new wind instrument is olive drab and needs no warming up pe-ried. The department quoted musicians as saying that it does not "choke up." About twenty ounces of brass went into each old-style metal trumpet.

TO HOLD MEETING DISCUSS FORMING FISH - GAME CLUB

Local sportsmen will be pleased to learn that an effort is to be made to form a Fish and Game Club in the town and county. With this end in view a public meeting of all sportsmen interested in the formation of such a club is to be held in the Council Chamber of the Napanee Town Hall on Monday evening, December 7th, at 7:00 o'clock.

Major P. K. Ketcheson, Napanee, an ardent fisherman and hunter, has interested a number of local sportsmen in the project and at their suggestion has arranged the meeting for next Monday evening, when the formation of a club will be discussed and if decided upon, officers will be elected.

The purpose of the club is to promote good sportsmanship and to cooperate with the Department of Game and Fisheries of Ontario in preserving game and fish in local waters.

Lennox and Addington is the only County in the district which has no Fish and Game Club. In other centres where there are clubs, there is splendid co-operation with the game wardens with the result that more game is made available, by the proper restocking of lakes and rivers with fish and the protection of game out of season.

The promoters of the formation of the Fish and Game Club are hoping that a large number of sportsmen from the town and county will attend the meeting to discuss the organization.

SALVAGE NOTES

The U. E. L. Chapter of the I. O. D. E. Salvage Committee, is frequently asked: "Do you want Fats and Bones?" The answer is decidedly "Yes." Our War Industries require almost 100,000 pounds of this important material every day, therefore not one ounce should be wasted.

The Canadian National Railways realize the importance of bones and fats in maintaining essential war industries and are making a patriotic contribution by having the company-owned hotels and dining cars on its coast-to-coast system, salvage all fats and bones.

Please put your fats and grease in tin cans, not in glass jars or bottles, and give them regularly to the Salvage collection.

Scrap metal and rubber urgently needed. Watch it we shall win. Without it we may fail.

IN THE WAKE OF ROMMEL

BY DeWITT MACKENZIE

Somewhere in Libya — Marshal Rommel is ready to recoup the fallen fortunes of himself and master by making a stand at El Agheila on the Gulf of Sirte.

No one here doubts the determination of the Germans to pay any price in an effort to maintain a foothold in North Africa — for this is essential to control of the Mediterranean. Without that domination, Hitler can no longer even hope for victory in Europe.

How much of a stand Rommel can make at strategic El Agheila must depend, as I see it, on two things:

1. Whether the Axis forces in Tunisia can hold Bizerte and Tunis against the Allied offensive from the west.

2. What striking power remains in Rommel's army. He has suffered huge losses in men and material and the troops have been run ragged by the speed of a retreat of more than 500 miles that, in the early stages, was a debacle.

The greatest danger to the Axis, undoubtedly, lies in the threat to Bizerte and Tunis.

If these two strong positions should fall, the defenders would have to retire in the hope of making a junction with Rommel, presumably at Tripoli thus consolidating all the Axis strength of North Africa. Such a contingency likely would force the marshal to abandon the idea of holding El Agheila and make a dash for Tripoli forthwith.

STRENGTH UNCERTAIN

What strength Rommel can muster for the defence of El Agheila is a matter of speculation. It seems to me it must depend in a large degree on how much help Hitler can manage to deliver to his captain through the tough Allied sea and air blockade.

The Nazi marshal must depend on the resources which he brought through with him on the mad race from El Alamein, then he undoubtedly will be in a difficult position. The fighting machine which he commanded a few short weeks ago bears little debacle has suffered serious damage.

Apart from the 75,000 men Rommel lost in casualties and prisoners, his sacrifice in tanks, aircraft and other equipment has been colossal.

I have just had a remarkable demonstration of the material losses in an unforgettable air trip over the line of his retreat.

There, scrawled across the sands like over the escarpments of the desert, was the story of one of the great routs of military history. It was pictured in the shattered hulks of planes, tanks and motor transport and in the mountains of supplies abandoned in the frenzied rush to escape. Here and there is a mass emphasized by enclosures within which stood rows of new white crosses — markers for sacrificial offerings to Hitler's ambition.

The road, brought the plane down to a height of 250 feet so that the ground beneath lay like an open picture book. We swung over the line of the retreat.

A RECORD OF VICTORY

Everywhere is the record of a great victory and a great collapse —torn earth and the wreckage of the latest designs in machines of equipment of war. But most impressive was the clear indication of speed.

At times the Boches were fighting in such panic that their transports spread out for several hundred yards across the desert on either side of the military highway which skirts the Mediterranean for hundreds of miles. You can see traces of wheels running like those of a vast chariot race meeting across the sands.

Where the battleline ran between El Alamein and the Qattara Depression the whole terrain was pitted with shell and bomb holes. Here where British forces began the offensive that broke through Rommel's defence after a fierce engagement which at times involved hand-to-hand fighting.

After the first bloody stand, panic seized the Axis forces. Signs of complete legsen and the marks of speed increase. Here you can see monumental evidence of the devastation wrought on Axis tanks' warplanes and transport by the Allied air forces.

DIDN'T MAKE STAND

The fleeing Boche and Italians didn't even pause at Halfaya, (Hellfire) Pass — a stong position south of Bardia where they would have made a stand if capable of holding at all.

Here the escarpment shoots up from the desert and forms a plateau which continues westward. The so-called pass is not a pass at all, but a zig-zag highway fro mthe desert floor to the top of the escarpment. Actually there are two highways, four miles apart, and either of them could be defended indefinitely by a well-equipped army.

Rommel made no time for defence here. His whole anxiety was to escape the merciless punishment being dealt out by pursuing air forces. So his troops, transport and tanks fled up the serpentine roads and raced on towards Tobruk and points west.

The marks of outright panic continue to the neighborhood of Tobruk, where Rommel took a deep breath and pulled up his socks. From there on the speed was maintained but evidence of a debacle was lacking.

The fine little harbor of Tobruk was filled with sunken ships, both transport and war vessels.

From Tobruk onward, Rommel proceeded fast and methodically.

Allied air fleets continued to plaster him, but he did better in salvaging both guns and ribs. They are essential for the insect's flight, for if they are rubbed off it is no longer able to remain in the air.

V

Did you know that butterflies have feathers? Their wings are covered with them, but they are so small that they cannot be seen by the naked eye. Yet, under the microscope, they are perfect in every detail, having both quills and ribs. They are essential for the insect's flight, for if they are rubbed off it is no longer able to remain in the air.

AID GIVEN BY RED CROSS TO RUSSIA

On the eve of the launching of the Campaign for $1,000,000.00 by the Canadian Aid to Russia Committee, it is only proper that the Canadian Red Cross Society should give an accounting of the money contributed by the people of Canada through their Red Cross Society during the Campaign launched about a year ago.

When Russia's needs were so great in the late fall of 1941, the Red Cross released from its supplies held in Britain a very large quantity of surgical dressings, hospital supplies and warm clothing. The actual cost of the material contained in these supplies, was $121,140.00. Their actual value was at least three times this figure. At the same time the following drugs were purchased and delivered :

100,000 units of Antitetanus serum ...	$23000 00
1,000,000 units of Sulfathiazole — value ...	10000 00
1,000 Baxter Vaccibler se.s	1020 00
10,000 Vaccibler containers	5625 00
30,000,000 7½ gr. sulphanilamide tablets ...	73800 00
74,000,000 7 gr. urotropin tablets ...	69000 00

At the urgent request of the Russian Red Cross, we purchased carpenter tools for the purpose of erecting cottage hospitals:

These tools cost ...	$56226 70
We also purchased and shipped:
4,000 hospital tents ' ...	$98800 00
1,000 hospital cots ...	4400 00
2,000 tent stoves ...	5500 00
Sheets and pillow cases, (over 250,000) :
Cost of material alone ...	$156,909 15

For use in the hospitals, the following food was sent:

19,992 lbs. of cream food ...	$13007 92
12,000 lbs. glucose ...	4097 75
19,992 lbs. chocolate malt and milk beverage ...	8302 93

Besides the above purchases, the sum of $100,000.00 was cabled and presented to Mme. Minsky, the chairman of the Russian Red Cross Committee in London. This constituted a total expenditure of $627,350.45.

The Canadian Red Cross had received definite instructions from the Department of External Affairs that only such things should be purchased as were specifically requested by the Russian Red Cross through the British Government. In the early summer it was found that there were no other commodities either manufactured in or available in Canada, which were required by the Russian Red Cross. However, on the 16th day of November, the Red Cross received word from the Department of External Affairs that the Russian Red Cross had asked for clothing and was instructed that the balance on hand might be spent in this way.

The Purchasing Committee of the Red Cross met on the evening of November 23rd and carefully reviewed the whole question, and authorized the expenditure of the balance on hand for clothing. Owing to the fact that winter had set in in Russia, it was decided that the Red Cross supplies in store in Britain should again be drawn upon in order that the supplies may be made available to the Russian people at the earliest possible moment. At a later date the Red Cross will make a final announcement of the clothing which has been sent.

The Red Cross wishes to acknowledge the great help that was rendered in this Campaign by all the Russian, Polish, Slovak and Ukrainian Societies across Canada. The relations of the Red Cross with these bodies has been most cordial and has resulted in the special gift of one ambulance. For instance, the Federation of Russian-Canadians has agreed to provide the money for the purchase of thirty-three ambulances which have been ordered and which will be shipped from a western Canadian port to Vladivostok as soon as they are delivered.

From the above it will be seen that the gift of the Canadian people to our gallant ally during the past year, taking into consideration the value of the work done by the women across Canada, will be in excess of $2,000,000.00.

The Red Cross wishes the Canadian Aid to Russia Committee every success in their new effort.

P. H. GORDON,
Chairman National Executive Committee, The Canadian Red Cross Society.

Digestion—The Great Process of Life

Acute indigestion may arise from overeating or the use of food which is difficult to digest.

But chronic indigestion, which stays with you, causing sleepless nights, headaches, bodily pains and depressed spirits, is usually the result of torpid liver and constipation. The process of digestion is held up and the body is poisoned by accumulated waste matter.

The use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills helps to arouse the torpid liver to action, the bile flows freely to the intestines, stimulating these organs and soon everything is put to rights. What a pleasure it is to enjoy your meals and feel that there will be no discomfort afterwards.

PUBLIC CARRIER ORDER HOISTED

Toronto, (CP.) — The Prices Board, lifting prohibiting unauthorized operation of a truck other than a public carrier more than 35 road miles from its normal operating address, will become effective December 28, instead of November 30, to avoid unnecessary hardship," Services Administrator James Stewart announced last Saturday.

The extension was decided upon, the board announced, because it was realized the order would require "very drastic adjustments in the methods of distribution previously used by many persons." Movements of farm produce and manufactured and wholesale goods was heavy and in many cases had not been completed as early as usual.

"This is not to be taken as an invitation to operate trucks without restraint," the announcement said.

Telephone Company Says "Use The Mails"

The war surely brings about some revolutionary changes in the business and social world. The Bell Telephone Company of Canada is asking the public to send their Christmas greetings by mail this year, instead of by long distance telephone—and to do it early out of consideration for the post office workers. The Company has Quebec spent many thousands of dollars in building up the "Christmas Greetings by Telephone" habit, but, apparently it is concerned, best wind war business may be delayed—for, as it points out, "the war must go on, even at Christmas time." It's the sort of request that many thoughtful people will heed. And of course the Government can make good use of the extra revenue that increase in postal-traffic will bring.

The speaker went on to tell of the many gifts that Scotland had offered to the world in all realms of life through the work of her sons, in literature, statesmanship, science, engineering, religion, etc. The names of Burns, Scott, Carlyle and I. Deceased was thirty-seven years of age. He was born at Sillsville and spent the early years of his life there. For the past thirteen years he had been a resident of Violet Settlement. He was well-known and highly regarded by a large circle of friends.

He leaves to mourn his loss besides his wife, formerly Rhoda Dayer, his parents two sisters, Helen of Ottawa, and Grace of Orton, Alberta, two brothers, Ralph of Sillsville, and Ross, of Kingston.

His funeral was conducted from the Jones Funeral Home, to Sillsville United Church, at 2 p.m., by the Rev. Mr. Crawford. Following the funeral service, interment was made in the family plot at Sillsville.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Borden Young, Morley Creighton, Charlie Gilbert, H. C. Empey, Archie Wagar, Victor Shetler.

The sympathy of friends and acquaintances is extended to the bereaved.

MRS. JOHN HENDERSON

Mrs. John Henderson, one of Lime Lake's oldest and most respected residents, passed away recently, in her 86th year.

Her maiden name was Elizabeth McMullen, and she was born on the farm adjacent to the one on which she was living when she passed away. In her early life she was a cheesemaker and, with her sister, Mary Jane, operated cheese factories at Centreville, Big Creek and Marlbank.

About 60 years ago she married John Henderson, who predeceased her six years ago. She was predeceased by two sons, John, who died when a small child, and Arthur, who died in the summer of 1941, during the first Great War, and by one daughter, Mrs. W. J. Sexsmith (Rose). There are left to mourn an only sister, Mrs. Rosetta Pinney, Napanee; five grandsons and one son, Mrs. Thuch McCormick (Mabel), Smith's Wreh.; Mrs. James Whiteman (Maggie), Lonsdale; Mrs. Victor Pringle (Annie), Trenton; Mrs. Wilbert Sayer (Emma), Bellville, and Charles on the homestead.

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was held at Lime Lake United Church. Her pastor, Rev. J. T. Caswell, conducted the service. A beautiful anthem was rendered by the choir. The pall-bearers were her six grandsons—James Whiteman, Lonsdale; Dewar Peterson, and Kenneth Ferguson, R.C.A.F., Toronto; Borden, Archie and Norman Sexsmith.

Burial took place in the family plot at Lime Lake.

The Late Roy Lewis

At the early age of 17 years and eight months, Roy Lewis died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Lewis, near Marlbank, Tuesday, November 24. He had been in frail health for several years, and had been ill for the past few months.

He was born on the farm where he died. He had lived at his parents' home all his life and attended the local public school and the Holiness Movement Church, Roblin.

He is survived by his parents, three sisters, Mrs. Claude Wales (Lillie), Jessie and Mary and his grandmother, Mrs. Effie Arnold.

The funeral was conducted last Thursday at the Holiness Movement Church, Roblin, by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bisson. Following the funeral service interment was made in Roblin Cemetery. The bearers were Robert Kingsett, Raymond Hay, Bills Richmond, Tommy Richmond, Frank Booth and Glen Pringle. The flower girls were Mary Kimmerly and Gerald Fretts.

THE VERSATILE DIAMOND

In addition to the well-known use of diamond as a gemstone it is used industrially for cutting and grinding. A row of carbonados or black diamonds set in the end of a diamond drill cuts into rocks and enables mining companies to explore beneath the surface of their properties. Now diamond is a form or carbon, and so largely is coal. Another material identical chemically with coal is anthraxolite, which unlike coal will not burn. Graphite, another form of carbon, is highly resistant to heat.

WHO WILL SUCCEED HITLER?

BY LOUIS F. KEEMLE

The military set-backs which the Axis powers are suffering serve bound to affect German and Italian morale, but most important the leadership of Adolf Hitler.

Hitler has assumed personal responsibility for the conduct of the war and has promised victory to the German people. The reverses in Russia and North Africa and the intensified bombings of Germany and Italy cannot possibly be concealed from the masses in the Axis countries much less from the inner hierarchy in Germany.

When the crack-up comes in Germany, which it is bound to do, Hitler's position would be unenviable. One American correspondent, repatriated from Germany, expressed the belief that Hitler would not try to carry on. He thought it likely that the mystic Fuehrer either would take his own life or make a grand gesture in keeping with his character by going to the battlefront and perishing there.

That raises the question of who would take over in Germany if anything happens to Hitler.

It is a hard one to answer. The most likely thing in the opinion of informed observers who have been in Germany, is that the traditional military caste or "army clique" would take over and disavow the entire Nazi regime. The old army prestige, these observers believe, would inspire more confidence than any of Hitler's possible successors in the Nazi organization.

In this connection, the Nazi organization is interestingly dissected in "This is the Enemy", in a new book by Frederick Oechsner and the Berlin staff of the United Press.

The book points out that while Hitler launched and conceived the war, there is a handful of his immediate delegates such as Goering, Ribbentrop, Goebbels, Himmler and others who formed a leader group and made it possible to carry out his plans.

Among these men there is intense rivalry. Goering, dubbed in the Oeschner book "the faithful paladin," is No. 2 man and is designated as Hitler's successor.

Yet Goering is at odds with Ribbentrop, Hitler's roving ambassador of intrigue. Ribbentrop in turn is in league with Heinrich Himmler, head of the Gestapo or State Secret Police. In fact, he controls all the police in Germany and has infiltrated many thousands of his Brown Shirts and Black henchmen into the army.

Himmler, a ruthless executioner, is described in the book as "one of the most vicious products of National Socialism," it adds:

"The Goering - Himmler struggle bears watching, for it is also apt to furnish a major battle in the showdown. A roughly army-conservative versus S.S.-Radical) when serious military reverses commence to crack the Nazi set-up."

The conclusion is that with the downfall of Hitler, his satellites would be so discredited in the eyes of the country that none of them could take control, unless possibly Himmler for a short time. Describing Himmler's rise to police power and penetration of the army, the book says:

"Thus Himmler built up an empire, small at first, then more powerful. In a 'revolutionary' country, any man who controls the police has a man to be reckoned with."

However, it is certain that the Allies would never deal with Himmler or any of the others in helping end to have weighed nine full pounds. Surprisingly the giant stalk was not of coarse texture but crisp and of excellent flavor.

PREVENTING THE LAG PERIOD OF THE DAY

Hello Friends! Talking to Miss Ruth Rannom of the Department of Pensions and National Health, we asked how nutrition is being applied to industry. Her encouraging reply was that "Management and Labour are keeping up and increasing vital war production due to a newer knowledge of nutrition." The increasing war tempo makes demands on all — necessitating better health care.

Miss Rannom is one of the Government nutritionists who have been visiting war plants and collecting data about the food of workers. As a result, they know what workers eat and from questionnaires as well, they have found the reason for the lag periods between the hours of 10 and 12 in the morning and 3 and 5 in the afternoon. It's lack of proper nutrition.

If 50,000 Canadian workers were not producing at their best for every one day, it would mean a loss in production equivalent to two bombing planes. Think of it! Inquiries made of thinking men in many of these organizations showed that the remedy was an official short rest period, at which time those who eat inadequate breakfasts — and they are many — may be helped by enjoying a sandwich, some fruit, or a bottle of milk.

With these facts in mind, we suggest that the busy homemaker prevent her lag period by a short rest and a glass of milk. Secondly, that she be more than ever on her toes to provide adequate daily table-meals and carried lunches for her family.

NUTRI-THRIFT LUNCHES

Balance these lunches with breakfasts consisting of stewed fruit, cold baked fruit or fruit juices, whole cereal with milk, dry toast with butter and jam, and a cup of hot beverage — occasionally sausages, cod fish balls, etc.

MANY HOUSEWIVES' COOKING MISTAKE DUE TO RECIPES MISUNDERSTOOD

In these days no one can afford to have failures in cooking. Foods are too precious to be wasted, fuel and power must be conserved and the housewife's time be used to the best advantage.

The Home Economists in the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, realize from letters received in the department, that many kitchen tragedies are the result of misinterpretation or misunderstanding of directions or rather than faulty recipes.

The inexperienced housekeeper is often puzzled by baking directions which say "about 40 minutes in a moderate oven", or, "approximately half-an-hour," and wonder why baked goods sometimes can be given definitely. The reason for this is that in the case of cakes, puddings, etc., the size and shape of the utensil used for baking will affect, to some extent, the time required for baking. For example, a cake baked in a large pan with the batter one inch deep will brown quickly than the same amount of the same mixture baked in a smaller pan where the batter is perhaps two inches deep; if the batter is baked as individual cakes, the time required for baking will be considerably shorter. Similarly, muffins baked in the large sized muffin tins will take a few minutes longer than if baked in smaller tins. In the case of meat or fish the shape and thickness of the piece will affect the time of cooking.

In some recipes oven temperature is indicated by the words slow, moderate or hot. These terms can be translated into degrees. Fahrenheit and Centigrade by the way, a reliable oven thermometer represents a small investment that pays big dividends in better baking results.

Very slow oven	200-250 degrees
Slow	250-300 degrees
Moderately slow	300-325 degrees
Moderate	325-375 degrees
Moderately hot	375-400 degrees
Hot	400-450 degrees
Very hot	450-500 degrees

Some other common cookery terms that are often not clearly understood follow:—

Shortening Shortening is a general term that includes any fat used in baking, so called because it makes the product "short" or tender. Butter, lard or vegetable fats are all "shortenings" and any of these may be used where shortening is specified in a recipe.

Oven Poaching Dishes such as custards and soufflés, in which eggs are a principal ingredient are oven-poached in order that an evenly low temperature may be maintained. This simply means setting the dish to be baked in a large pan, containing hot water, before placing it in the oven

Broil and Grill These are synonymous terms which indicate cooking under or over direct, intense heat. The food is placed on a rack over a pan so that any fat which is extracted may escape. Chops or steaks may be pan-broiled or grilled. To do this a heavy frying pan is heated, the meat put in, turned frequently during cooking and fat is poured off as it accumulates

Blanch When applied to fruits or nuts this process is used to facilitate the removal of the skin. Boiling water is poured on the food to be blanched and is left, not over heat, from 1-3 minutes, then poured off. The food is rinsed under cold water when it may be easily removed. When the term is applied to vegetables, usually in connection with canning or pickling, the purpose of blanching is to reduce strong flavor or to fix or to set the color by plunging the food into boiling water and letting it remain from 3 to 5 minutes.

Marinate The purpose of marinating is to prepare meat, fish or vegetables as salads, by adding a small amount of a mixture of oil and vinegar ("French dressing"), and allowing the food to stand for a time before further preparation. Spices and herbs are sometimes marinated before broiling for seasoning, tenderizing and to prevent drying out during cooking.

Par-boil This means partial cooking in boiling water, a preliminary step in the preparation of certain foods.

Scald This term is usually applied to milk and indicates that it should be heated to the point where skin begins to form on the surface, but not allowed to boil.

Puree To Puree a food simply means to rub it through a sieve, as foods are pureed for babies. As much as possible of the food solids should be rubbed through the sieve for a puree, whereas when the word strain is used it is usually intended simply that the liquid part be drained off.

NAZIS SPEED U-BOAT OUTPUT

Hitler's great efforts to hold Tunisia and retain command of the Sicilian narrows appear at last to be has recognized that command of the seas will be the most vital factor in victory, an authoritative source said today in a review of the last week's events in the Mediterranean.

Since Hitler has been forced to the conclusion that shipping will be the foundation of victory, the German war effort now is being devoted to U-boat construction and maintenance and the training of crews ad infinitum.

At the same time there has been a heavy concentration of Axis air power for the rapidly-approaching fight for the Sicilian narrows when the continued, and there are good indications that part of the German air force has been drawn off from the Russian front and sent to the Mediterranean area.

He said the Allies' Mediterranean problem is complicated by the fact that, while it has shown little disposition to fight, the Italian Navy is being and the Allies must maintain a force capable of countering anything it may do.

Rumors About Farm Produce Taxes Declared "Silly"

The continued circulation among farmers of rumors which it characterizes as "silly and groundless" is reported by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which suggests that whenever and wherever farmers hear reports of this description which lack confirmation they should be challenged on the spot.

One of these rumors recently reported was actually to the effect that the government purposed putting a tax of $7 on every hog, while another circulated in the Maritime Provinces had it that every flock of hens over fifty in number would be taxed. In yet another case farmers were told that any person who raised hogs for his own use would only be allowed to keep 40 per cent of the meat.

Some of these reports have gained such widespread circulation that the authorities consider it quite possible they were inspired by individuals friendly to the Axis powers who desire to weaken Canada's food production effort. In suggesting that wherever such stories, many of them quite preposterous, are encountered their source should be immediately challenged and reported, the Board further points out that important decisions relating to farmers and their products are immediately announced in the newspapers and elsewhere.

HOW THE GREEKS FIGHT ON

Still fighting bitterly in Greece are the 30,000 Greek guerrillas, along with some 2,000 British and Anzacs who weren't evacuated, says Newsweek. According to an Italian Blackshirt high command document, which has reached London, they are well armed and trained in guerilla warfare. It added:

"They are composed of men who will not stop at anything. They do not go only against the lonely sentry and the small picket but also against the military garrisons of superior strength."

The guerrillas operate in five main areas. Between 9,000 and 6,000 hide out in caves on the Rhodope mountain range living on goat's milk, fourth is on the Taygetus Mountains of old Sparta.

Biggest of all is the army of 12,000 in Crete, led by General George Mandakas, already a national hero. Imperial the Germans have given the Italian the job of extermination — to three Cretan towns.

Brother May Transfer To Be With Brother In Army

Kingston, Nov. 30 — Strenuetlions the "spirit of service" of the Canadian Army is a new N.D.H.Q. ruling order in which National Defence Headquarters has authorized the transfer or posting of a younger brother to be with an elder brother, or a son to be with a father.

Canadian Army officers have always encouraged the spirit of comradeship between the men of the fighting forces and this latest move in this direction is also in the interests of the army as a whole.

When applications for such transfer or posting of a younger brother to be with the younger brother or a son with a father, the relation for the transfer or posting of a soldier will be with the younger brother or a son with a father, the relation for the transfer or posting of a soldier will be with the younger brother or a son with a father.

Application for the transfer or posting of a soldier at his own request will be submitted to his Commanding Officer, who must satisfy a bona fide relationship exists between the soldiers as shown by en-value to the United Nations this information will be considered in the light of the military requirements of the service concerned.

A delicate political situation involving French factions must be unravelled before it can be determined whether the French fleet units at Dakar will fight in the Allied camp and whether the facilities of the port and naval base will be available to the Allies.

STRENGTH GREATLY THINNED ACROSS TWO NEW FRONTS

BY BRIGADIER-GENERAL H. S. SEWELL

The report that German fighter squadrons in the central Mediterranean have been reinforced in the last two weeks is likely to be correct, in view of the Allied threat to the whole Axis position in Africa.

The Axis fighter squadrons based in Sicily and Sardinia are using Tunisian airdromes as their advance operational fields, and both fighters and dive bombers are being employed against the Allied army advancing from the west, and against the ports of Algiers and Bona, and the road and rail communications between Algeria and Tunisia.

The R.A.F. and the American Army air force, under General Eisenhower, have recently been able to give cover for the advance of the ground forces, but the Allies do not seem to have had time fully to develop either their fighter or their bomber strength in northwest Africa.

A great deal of preliminary work is necessary on operational airfields before they can be used with full effect.

It is probable that the ground crews arrived with the original expedition, and they should by now be established and preparations completed for the reception of fighter planes, which can be flown in from aircraft carriers.

These considerations may account to some extent for the apparent delay in progress in Tunisia. The air fighting which is now taking place is on a small scale compared with what is likely to happen when General Eisenhower's air strength is fully built up. A great air battle is likely to be fought before any big ground operations in Tunisia can be undertaken, and this battle has only just started.

Of the eventual outcome of the coming battle there is little doubt. The Nazis will do their best to maintain air superiority over the central Mediterranean, but their resources are limited, and the strength of the Luftwaffe is spread thin on their western fronts, and they cannot long reinforce their southern front without weakening themselves in the west, or in the east. If they should do this, the Allies are in a position to take advantage of any German weakening in the west, or in the east. In operations during the last year, we have shown the ability of either army to switch the direction of attack as opportunity arises.

A STATEMENT about BUTTER

In spite of the fact that in some Canadian cities butter supplies recently have not been sufficient to meet the greatly increased demands, the situation does not constitute an emergency; nor is it as serious as some people seem to think. There are two main causes for these temporary and local shortages.

For the past year we have been consistently using 10% to 15% more butter than in normal times—with consequent disturbance to the distribution of our butter-supplies.

Many people have been buying more butter than they currently need.

The limited nature of the present shortage is shown by the fact that if every home would reduce its consumption of butter by only one ounce per person per week (for the average home this means a quarter of a pound a week)—or if we reduced our national consumption to the peacetime rate—the shortage would soon disappear.

There is no Reason for Panic Buying

It is unpatriotic and unnecessary for housewives to rush out to beat their neighbours to the nearest grocery store. Butter will not be rationed to meet the present situation. Butter production is actually above normal for this time of year. The Board itself is taking special action which it is believed will speedily restore normal supplies in retail stores.

These supplies will however be adequate for normal consumption, if housewives in all parts of Canada co-operate.

You can help in these ways:

Scrupulously avoid waste and extravagance. Waste is wrong at all times. In time of war it is sabotage.

Reduce present consumption of butter by at least one ounce per person per week—(for the average home this means a quarter of a pound a week.)

Do not buy more than is needed for immediate use.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

HOW TO SAVE BUTTER

AT MEAL-TIME —
1. Use butter only for spreading on bread.
2. Never use butter just out of the refrigerator. Wait until it is soft enough to spread easily.
3. Add a small amount of milk when creaming butter for sandwiches.

IN COOKING
1. Do not use butter in baking and cooking, when lard, shortening or meat dripping can be used.
2. Use level measurements of butter . . . Guard against waste!
3. When adding cheese to a cream or white sauce, use only half amount of butter stated in recipe.
4. Use paper wrappings from butter to grease baking dishes.
5. Do not use butter for re-warming vegetables.
6. Serve meat gravy to avoid the use of extra butter on potatoes.
7. When adding butter to vegetable dishes, add it sparingly. Do not melt it and then pour on.

NAMES OF MEN ENLISTED FOR ACTIVE SERVICE FROM NAPANEE AND THE SURROUNDING DISTRICT

It is the wish of "The Beaver" to secure and print a list of all men in the Town of Napanee and the county who enlist in the army raised in Canada. Friends of men who have already enlisted can assist in compiling this list by sending to "The Beaver" names and the units to which they are attached.

EXPORT FOOD SHOW AT OTTAWA DECEMBER 10 - 11

Arrangements have been practically completed for holding the Eastern Ontario Export Food Show in the Machinery Hall, Central Exhibition Grounds, Ottawa, December 10 and 11. Cheese, bacon and eggs will be the principal products displayed; three food products that are being exported to Britain in large quantities.

The cheese exhibited will be limited to types of export cheese. There will be open classes, one for June cheese, one for July and August cheese combined, one for September, and one for October. A feature of the show will be a special County Class for each of the ten counties in Eastern Ontario, namely, Carleton, Leeds, Lanark, Renfrew, Grenville, Dundas, Stormont, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell. Three cheesemakers exhibiting in their county class will be in competition with other cheesemakers of their own county only. A special Season Workmanship class which includes grading, the cheesemaker has been able to achieve in his factory, will be a feature. The bacon exhibit will be made up of 124 Wiltshires, cut from 62 hogs, produced by 62 farmers, 48 of whom must be farmers in 17 counties in Eastern Ontario and 14 from the province of Quebec. This exhibit will show Wiltshire sides as they are exported to Britain, and they will be judged on a basis of type, conformation and general carcass quality. Prize awards will be made to producers.

The egg exhibit consists of competitive classes of cases of eggs open to about 40 egg grading stations in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec, and exhibits of dried egg powders will be open to drying plants over a wider area.

There will be attractive educational exhibits designed to draw attention to the nutritive values of certain food products.

While the Show is being held there will be meetings of producers and processors to discuss their problems and how quality and uniformity can be improved.

HELL'S VAUNTED 1942 OFFENSIVE HAS PASSED PEAK

BY LOUIS F. ... United Press Staff Reporter

This has met the opening of an offensive in the Mediterranean theatre by co-operative military energy on the eastern front which puts Hitler right spot.

Now becomes apparent that the campaigns of not precisely second front" that Russia originally wanted, is being accepted as a move which has turned the tide of war. The official Soviet newspaper Izvestia commented that the military situation has been radically changed and now favors the alliance of Russia, Britain and the United States.

Recent dispatches from Moscow are tinged with more optimism than has been shown since the start of the war. The Russians evidently feel that Hitler's vaunted 1942 offensive has passed its peak and that the initiative now rests in Russian hands.

Whether that view is justified should become apparent within a few weeks. The Germans have already been routed in the Central Caucasus, and if they are not able to make a comeback by the end of this month, either there or in the hotly-contested Stalingrad sector, there is little prospect that they can do so this winter.

At the best, Hitler is so seriously threatened in the Mediterranean and in Europe itself, that an offensive is predicted by Izvestia along the entire 2,000-mile front.

At the least, even if Hitler cannot be driven back into Europe, he will be tied up in Russia, unable to shift his forces to meet the menace in the West.

It makes a big difference to the course of the war. London military observers have expressed the conviction that Hitler cannot accept the present situation in the Mediterranean without attempting a counterblow.

They have suggested a possible move through Turkey or through Spain towards Gibraltar. The latter course gained credence when Hitler occupied the remainder of France and set up Laval as a pro-Axis dictator.

The difficulties in either case are tremendous. It is a question whether Hitler can carry out a successful drive through Turkey or Spain without draining his resources from the Russian front and leaving him open to disaster there.

It is fairly certain that Turkey would resist with all its strength, which is considerable. The campaign might prove as difficult as the one in the Caucasus.

"Will hold your place"

IN EVERY city, town and village throughout Canada today there are gaps where once were young men. They heard a call and put on navy blue, khaki, horizon blue, and they have gone, answering a call . . .

They are missed—missed not only in their homes but also in the business places which once they filled.

They have gone from every institution in Canada; but from none more than from the chartered banks. There is hardly a branch office from coast to coast which is not today the poorer—and the prouder —for those who thus laid down their pens.

But every branch manager, as he shook parting hands, had this consolation: he could say, "We'll hold your place. It will be waiting for you when you come back. That is a pledge."

So it is the part of those who remain to serve their country in such a way that the promise may be kept: "We'll hold your place."

There were 14,433 single and married men from 18 to 45 years of age employed by the Chartered Banks at the outbreak of war. 5,053 — or 35% of them had joined the armed forces by October 31st, 1942; 1,243 others who joined bank staffs since war began have also enlisted.

THE CHARTERED BANKS OF CANADA

AN OPEN LETTER TO HON. G. D. CONANT, PREMIER AND ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Conant:

After an absence of several weeks in Eastern Canada and Newfoundland I have returned home to find you as a new Premier installed in office. I find from press reports of an address you delivered in Oshawa on October 30th. I deeply regret to note some of the statements you made on that occasion with reference to the liquor problem. Many of your friends in the Province had high hopes when in 1937 you were appointed Attorney General. Those hopes were not fulfilled owing to the dominance of the situation by the then Premier. Many feel that under his leadership the political life of Ontario descended to its lowest level in this generation. When I heard of the change I rejoiced, hoping that when you became master of the situation a new and better day would emerge. A perusal of press reports of your Oshawa speech dims that hope. It indicates an adherence to the policies that have cursed this Province for the past eight years. You state for instance: "I think our present Liquor Control Act, the regulations there under and the administration meet the liquor problem as well as it is humanly possible to do so." What are the facts?

1. In the Counties of Huron, Perth and Peel your Liquor Control Board, with your connivance and consent as Attorney General grants authorities to sell beer and wine despite the fact, that there is in force in these Counties a Dominion Law prohibiting such sale. The Supreme Court of Canada has ruled that the Canada Temperance Act is and has been in force there since June 1st, 1927. True you challenged the validity of that law in the courts, but the courts decided against you. As a lawyer you know that the decision of my British Law Court is binding throughout the area over which it has jurisdiction until reversed by a higher court. You appealed to the Privy Council. When it was suggested to leave the case over until after the war the temperance people agreed provided you would agree to abide by the law as it now stands. You refused. At a meeting of a Committee of the Privy Council in London, Viscount Maughan presiding said, "The decision of the Supreme Court of Canada is binding on everybody until it is reversed if it ever is reversed. It sounds to me rather surprising that he should disobey the law if that is what he is doing." Lord Wright said, "We cannot believe that the Attorney General would defy it." A well known lawyer of Toronto said to me the other day: "These statements from the Law Lords of the Privy Council constitute the severest criticism of any Attorney General that I have ever known to come from that body."

You express fear that if the Dominion Government restricts liquor selling it will increase bootlegging of which you profess to have such a horror. At the same time by far the most expensive bootlegging illegal sale of liquor enterprise in the Province is carried on by the authority and under the protection of the Government of which you are the head and of its creature The Liquor Control Board of Ontario.

You are the source and fountain of law enforcement in Ontario. What an example you are setting the people! Property is insistent in demanding an all-out national effort in defence of Democracy, you forget that one of the corner stones of Democracy is obedience to law. As a lawyer you must appreciate the legal principles so flagrantly violated. People are shocked that in view of the statements of Lords Maughan and Wright you have done nothing to rectify the situation.

2. The actual results of the operation of Ontario's liquor laws by you and your associates provide a rather strange commentary on your claim that you are doing all that is "humanly possible" to meet the problem.

In 1934 when your party assumed office and the present system of beverage rooms was established, the liquor bill was estimated at $42,000,000. In 1934 it had risen to $88,000,000. In 1934 the number of convictions for drunkenness in Ontario was 9,060. In 1940 (the last year for which figures are available, they had nearly doubled—17,823.

The Chief of Police of Toronto in a recent report on the alarming increase in juvenile delinquency listed the causes. He placed at the very top of the list "the beverage rooms spread all over the city and operated long hours far into the night."

The Police of Toronto in official reports indicated that there were beverage rooms in the city that were fruitful sources of prostitution and crime.

The Military Authorities have found it necessary in the interests of the health and morality of the troops to put twenty-three of your beverage rooms out of bounds. Surely sir, places that are unfit for the armed forces to frequent are unfit for Ontario's citizens old and young, male and female.

To all this must be added the debauchery of thousands of our youth, especially young girls, the increase in illegitimacy due to lack of self control through drink, the demoralization of homes, the breaking up of families, the brawls, some of them fatal emanating from your beverage rooms. For such conditions to exist is bad enough, but for the Premier and Attorney General to stand up publicly and express satisfaction with and approval of, arouses gravest apprehension.

3. There is another series of facts that furnishes comment on your statement. I refer to the instances in which the Liquor Board with the backing of the Government has forced beverage rooms upon communities in opposition to the expressed desire of the people i nthose communities. You know, sir, it is on the record that in several cases Municipal Councils, business men, churches and citizens generally have protested, yet your Liquor Board has ruthlessly persisted in forcing the establishment of beverage rooms.

4. The amended Liquor Control Act and its regulations of which you so heartily approve have abolished the permit formerly required for the purchase of case lots of beer. This is a great boon to bootleggers. They can now obtain abundant supplies without restraint from your liquor stores and from wery warehouses. Only police who try honestly to enforce the law find that a serious handicap. Apparently you are quite willing that beer shall be sold by bootleggers provided the Government is allowed to levy toll on their transactions.

It may be Mr. Premier that you and your associates are doing all that is humanly possible," but certainly it is not in the direction of control of the liquor trade or mitigation of its evils. Rather it seems your efforts are in the direction of the widest possible distribution of intoxicants. For example you permit ten beverage rooms to operate at one street corner in Toronto, five in one hotel and five in another. In all honesty you should amend the title of your Liquor Act, changing the word 'control' to 'sale'. The element of control is very secondary.

Mr. Premier toward you as an individual I have nothing but the kindest good will, that, however, does not prevent my candid criticism of your public acts. I want to do more than criticise. I am going to take the liberty of making a positive, constructive suggestion. In the name of good citizenship and public decency I appeal to you to make frank, public statement completely breaking with the policies and practices of the past. Inaugurate a new day of obedience to and enforcement of the law of the most rigid control of this traffic and of whole hearted efforts to minimize its evils and abolish the many abuses that exist. If you will do this, and act accordingly you will render a great service to your Province.

In closing, I feel I must warn you Mr. Premier that there is a rising tide of indignation in this Province. There are thousands of men and women who are neither total abstainers nor prohibitionists whose sense of decency is being outraged every day by the appalling conditions that exist. The people are patient, perhaps a little too patient sometimes, but the day when that patience will be exhausted draws near. When that day comes, politicians who promote and protect this evil traffic had better beware.

I am releasing this letter to the Press.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN COBURN

SERRANO RE - ENTERS SPANISH PICTURE

BY WAVERLEY ROOT

This columnist was not among those who ordered an extra big pot of whitewash and proceeded to apply it to Generalissimo Francisco Franco when he removed Hitler on a lay Serrano Suner from the head of the Fascist, pro-German Falange party and became its leader himself.

It caused joy in the ranks of those observers who had always been pro-Franco and hadn't dared to say so in the last few years, when Fascism, even the Spanish brand, had become definitely unpopular. They arose in unison with a paean of praise for the Caudillo, whom they depicted as having at least thrown over his Axis partners and having turned towards the democracies.

One columnist even went so far as to say that Falange propaganda and espionage activities in South America were not to be charged up to the count of the government of Spain because the Falange had been repudiated.

ONE - PARTY COUNTRY

This was a somewhat remarkable deduction since Spain was a one-party country, and that party was the Falange. Moreover, Franco's method of "repudiating" the party—becoming its leader — was rather peculiar. On the same reasoning, that columnist no doubt would have said that on Dec. 10, 1934, when Hitler knocked out his opposition in the Nazi Party, that the National Socialist Party in Germany has been repudiated.

On September 7, this column printed a different story concerning the mental processes of the pro-Franco writer quoted: "Some of you would reason from this change (the ousting of Suner) that Madrid is escaping from the influence of Berlin would have reasoned on December 13,1940, when Pierre Laval was ousted from the cabinet of Marshal Petain, that France was escaping from the influence of Germany . . . can use Franco just as well as Hitler. . . . And she can always put Suner in again if she wants to."

Permit me now to call your attention to a fact which many have escaped your notice, because it was given much less display than the report of Suner's dismissal from his post — he has been put in again. Franco has discharged the national council of the Falange Party and set up a new one, and Suner is in it.

GERMANY'S GRIP ON SPAIN

What does this signify. It is fairly plain. The United Nations have been flirting with Spain. Their public actions have shown that — President Roosevelt's statement some months ago about our intent to develop Spanish tourism after the war, and his note to Franco at the time of the North African invasion. There have certainly been unpublicized activities as well. The British-American effort has always been to woo Spain out of the Axis by economic means, and it cannot be doubted that proposals along this line have been put to Madrid.

Apparently some persons felt success was coming the efforts of the United Nations. Newspaper stories none of them confirmed, have told of Spanish refusals to permit German use of Spanish bases, of warnings by Hitler if he attempts to invade Spain, even of the possibility of Spain entering the war on our side.

Perhaps Berlin was worried also for fear that Franco might not hold firm on the Axis side. So, taking no chances, she saw to it that her faithful servant, Serrano Suner, was returned to a post of influence. Up to this time, she had seen no necessity for intervening in the internal rivalry for power, she was able to force Suner on Spain just as she was able to force Laval on France.

How does she do it? She can exert pressure on Spain in three ways—psychologically, militarily, economically. It is probably the last which is most important now. The struggle is an uneven one, because all the United Nations can do, though they are richer, is to promise future aid; Germany can threaten immediate disaster. And that is the more potent weapon, particularly as action to prevent fulfillment of this threat does not necessarily eliminate all chance of future help from the opposite camp.

WORKED LIKE FRANCE

Germany's conception of economic "aid" to other countries is that of creating a situation in which they become completely dependent upon her.

She has succeeded in working Spain like France into this position. She has in addition used the weapon of economic warfare, money, to direct political ends. The Falange is not simply a party politically friendly to the German thesis. It is a party which belongs to Germany. Even before the war, figures in the secret archives of the French Foreign Ministry credited Germany with paying 275,000,000 pesetas annually into the treasury of the Falange Party.

Putting Serrano Suner back into the council of the Falange was a precautionary move; but it may not have been necessary. Franco himself is not free to move away from the Axis. He is an ideological prisoner of Fascism. He has 90 per cent. of the population against him, and even though he should announce that he had changed sides and taken his stand with the United Nations, they would not forgive him the thousands who have been executed and the million political prisoners still in jail. If he turns from the 10 per cent. of the present ruling class of Spain who, together with Germany and Italy, uphold him, he will represent exactly nothing and be able to lead nobody. His future course is determined by his past. He has no way of escape. Washington and London might forgive him, but they are far away, and the guerilla fighters of the Guadarrama and the Asturias, still under arms against his government, are nearer, and they will not forgive.

It is no true that the Gestapo in Berlin has wrongfully arrested a Nazi official. They just kot him ahead of his turn.

DEPOSITS EXCEEDING A BILLION AND ASSETS AT AN ALL-TIME HIGH FEATURE BANK MONTREAL REPORT

Assets of $1,175,319,000 include $683,835,000 of Government and Other Bonds Reflecting Co-operation in Financing National War Effort.

INCREASE IN TAXES REFLECTED IN EARNINGS

Showing characteristic strength in all departments, the Bank of Montreal's annual statement, just released, marks a record in the institution's 125-year career, with assets at the new high figure of $1,175,000,000 and deposits exceeding, for the first time, the billion dollar mark.

Profits also show reduction compared with those of a year ago, owing to the increase in Dominion Government taxes, which this year amount to $2,539,674, compared with $2,242,965 a year ago. In the former figure is included an amount of $72,-360, which is refundable under the provisions of The Excess Profits Tax Act. The profit, after payment of taxes, amounts to $3,283,018, compared with $3,437,026 a year ago, and represents 4.21 per cent. of capital, rest and undivided profits. This contrasts with 4.51 per cent. in 1941.

Dividend payments show a reduction of $180,000, compared with last year's figure, the decrease being due to the lower rate of the dividend made effective in recent months. The dividend payments amounted to $2,-700,000, which, with $500,000 appropriated for bank premises, left a net amount of $83,018 to be carried forward to profit and loss, making the balance in this account $1,236,686.

NOTABLE INCREASES

Notable among the increases in resources is the figure for government and other bonds and debentures which amount to $683,835,000, compared with $498,740,000 a year ago. Commercial loans amount to $221,-354,000 compared with $275,698,000 in 1941. The former figure reflects, no doubt, lessened requirements of business due to the increasing extent of government assistance to concerns engaged in war work, as well as the fact that many firms engaged in peace-time pursuits are not now requiring the accommodation needed in former years.

In line with this is the increase in the bank's quickly available resources which amount to $896,935,000, being 61.65 per cent. of liabilities to the public. Substantial increase in these resources is recorded in cash in the bank's vaults and money on deposit with the Bank of Canada, which stand at $112,710,000, compared with $92,755,000 in 1941.

Like commercial loans, call loans have shown decrease, and amount to $16,210,000, compared with $20,041,000 reflecting the lessened activity in security markets.

Deposits at the record figure of $1,064,645,000 compare with $928,387,-000 in 1941. These are made up of deposits in Canada of $930,996,000 and elsewhere $133,649,000, compared with $809,110,000 and $119,277,000 a year ago.

Notes of the bank in circulation show a reduction from $17,890,000 to $15,354,000, reflecting the trend which, some years ago, when the chartered banks commenced the gradual reduction of their note circulation in favour of the Bank of Canada. This reduction is now, under the terms of the Bank Act, occurring at a rate equal to 10 per cent. of capital per annum, and the circulation will eventually reach a figure equal to 25 per cent. of bank capital.

With assets amounting to $1,175,-319,000 and liabilities to the public totalling $1,096,326,000, the excess of resources amounts to $76,793,000. This is made up of the capital of $36,000,-000 and reserve fund, profit and loss account and reserves for dividends and taxes, $40,793,000, which together represent the shareholders' equity in the bank.

Shown below are comparative figures for main items of the statement:

EFFORT BEING MADE TO PREVENT RISE IN COST OF LIVING

Cut in Prices Tea, Coffee, Milk and Oranges is Ordered

Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Canadian Minister of Finance, in a radio broadcast last Thursday evening, announced the Government's decision to curb the rising cost of living by lowering retail prices on tea, coffee, oranges and milk and reduce the profit margins on beef taken by some dealers.

The Minister said in his broadcast that the proposal would push the cost of living "at least part of the way back" to the level of the basic period used for price fixing—September 15th to October 11, 1941.

The effect of the proposed reduction is hoped to prevent the cost-of-living index at January 1, 1943, from rising above the November 1, 1942 level which was 17.7 per cent. above the level at the start of the war.

The lowering in the price of the commodities include:—

1. Reduction in the price of coffee by four cents a pound.
2. Reduction in the price of tea by 10 cents a pound.
3. Reduction in the price of oranges to "about the levels of September and October, 1941.
4. Reduction in the price of milk, "the general objective" being two cents a quart to the consumer.
5. Reduction in the profit margins on beef taken by some retail dealers to "reasonable limits."

The $40,000,000 estimated annual cost of the new program will be required in part to pay milk distributors and retail outlets a subsidy of two cents a quart, the amount by which the retail price is to be reduced.

Another large portion of the total will go in remission of taxes on oranges to reduce the price. The remainder will be needed for the reduction of tea and coffee prices. This will be administered by Mr. McKinnon, president of the corporation which is the sole importer of these commodities.

BONUSES NOT AFFECTED

Mr. Ilsley emphasized this reduction in the cost of living would not affect existing cost-of-living bonuses, but that it is hoped to so keep down the cost of living that there will be no automatic increase in the bonus when the next quarterly adjustment is reached next February 15th.

Milk price reduction is applicable only to fluid milk sold for human consumption — not to milk going into processing of dairy products.

The subsidy on milk now being paid in certain areas to stimulate production will not be disturbed by this new arrangement and in no case will the price paid to the producer be charged because of the new subsidy.

When the effective date of the new milk price is announced, sufficient warning will be given to permit disposal of all impurities of fluid milk then being distributed.

THE BEAVER SANTA CLAUS FUND

We know there is an impression abroad that this year there are practically no families in Napanee who will need the assistance of The Beaver Santa Claus Fund at Christmas time, because of the relatively small number in the town who are receiving relief. Business conditions are better, everyone knows, but still there are families who have been receiving a regular pay check only a short time and many of them had back debts to pay and were in dire need of new household equipment and clothing. The result is that very little cash remained to buy anything beyond the bare necessities. The children in such families would not have a very bright Christmas if The Beaver Santa Claus Fund were not able to send them some gifts and food for a Christmas dinner. Besides there are a number of old people in the town who are remembered each year and who depend on The Beaver Fund to make Christmas something more than just another day.

The only donations sent in this past week were:

C. and E. $1.00
Mrs. J. M. Thomson 2.00

Please make your donations soon so that arrangements may be made to purchase the necessary supplies. If sending a cheque, make it out to "The Beaver Santa Claus Fund."

Fire completely destroyed the building and contents of "Ruth's Sandwich Bar" on Roblin's Hill last Wednesday afternoon. The fire, which was of unknown origin, broke out during the heavy wind and snowstorm and the building was soon completely demolished.

The Napanee Fire Department was called, but before their arrival on the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the building.

The total loss was estimated at about $1,500, which was not covered by insurance.

Included in the contents were an electric refrigerator and garage mechanic's tools.

CONSIDERABLE POULTRY SOLD AT FAIR DESPITE BAD WEATHER

About 60 Tons Bought During Two Days

The Poultry Fair held last Wednesday and Thursday in Napanee, which, is generally one of the big events of the fall and winter, in the community, was more or less of a disappointment, this year from the standpoint of the business people of the town. A fairly large amount of dressed poultry, about sixty tons, was bought in the two days, but weather conditions and the roads were so bad farmers did not stay in town longer than absolutely necessary. On both days a very strong wind was blowing and on Wednesday it was accompanied by snow, which filled up some roads very quickly.

Several buyers were on hand to purchase poultry, the principal firms represented being, Pickering Farms, Henry Gatehouse & Sons, Canada Packers and Modern Poultry. Several others bought smaller quantities.

The average price for turkeys on the two days was 30c per lb. for chicken, 27c to 29c, fowl, 20c, and ducks, 25 cents.

Only a small number of turkeys were offered for sale but it is expected at the next fair, which is to be held on Thursday, December 17, that a large amount of turkey will be offered for sale.

J. W. NOSEWORTHY SPEAKS IN NAPANEE TOWN HALL ON C.C.F. PROGRAMME

Outlines Proposed Legislation If C.C.F. Party Secures Power at Next Election

Post war legislation to embody social security, adequate income, and first consideration for human rights and human needs, was outlined by J. W. Noseworthy, M.P., South York, at a C. C. F. Rally in the Town Hall, on Saturday night. The speaker, making his first appearance in Napanee, addressed an enthusiastic and receptive audience that gave good representation to a cross-section of the community and district.

Following a few introductory remarks, Mr. Noseworthy said he firmly believed the policy of the C. C. F. will meet the needs of the Canadian people after the war. The Government at Ottawa, he said, had been elected by the Canadian people and had been put in office by the largest majority ever given a government by the Canadian people, and it was doubtful if any party that might be elected now would want to assume the responsibility of effecting any revolutionary changes in the pattern of the war effort.

Reference was made to the Beveridge report recently released in England and it was pointed out that in the manifesto brought up by the C. C. F., ten years ago, similar recommendations had been made and already, in New Zealand, many of the measures are being applied to give a greater social security to all classes of citizens. "Why should it be necessary?" Mr. Noseworthy asked, "for our citizens to spend the greater part of their lifetime being haunted by the fear of insecurity, misfortune and adversity, and is it fair for the people to be relegated to a $20.00 a month pension at the age of seventy, given as a form of charity, and only if there is no other form of income?"

In New Zealand, it was explained, this pension begins at the age of sixty and is $30.00 monthly and there is no lien taken on any property and citizens are allowed income up to a certain amount to augment the pension.

State medical and hospital services and family allowances were also advocated by the speaker, who expressed the opinion that there were many people in Canada who felt they could not afford to raise children or have very large families.

DEALS WITH PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYMENT

The abolishment of mass unemployment as in pre-war years was of first importance. Mr. Noseworthy said. Now the country is more prosperous in the midst of war than for many years before. Business is better even with the wartime restrictions, and the national income is higher than ever, and one chief worry now is to prevent inflation and channel the resources of the people.

Must we accept the theory that we cannot provide the same prosperity in peacetime and that we cannot put our people to work except in time of war, the speaker asked, and, continuing said, that the war has shown that prosperity lies along the road of keeping all people employed and maintaining an adequate income. All the millionaires and wealthy people of Canada consume a negligible total of production. It is the masses who consume and all people must be kept producing and earning adequately or we will have another depression to face again.

Mr. Noseworthy criticized the profit basis of the economic system. A factory operated he said, as long as profits are realized on the production, but when profits are diminishing, wages are curtailed and the workmen suffer, with the result that consumption is affected. Justify, if you can, Mr. Noseworthy said, profits first and human welfare second. What is not only the employees, but the families of employees who are affected when wages are curtailed. There is no chance for a new social order while profit on production remains the guiding principle in industry.

Concerning the problems of farmers, it was stated that no attempt had ever been made to adjust the selling price of farm products, and that no business could attempt to carry on without a comparison between costs and selling prices.

OUTLINES POLICY ON EDUCATION

Equalization of educational opportunities for boys and girls, Mr. Noseworthy said, should be established by a new order that would make it possible for every boy and girl to profit by education. To-day, he said, much of the praise our system of education, the boys or girls who get an education are not necessarily those who would profit most by it, but by and large, are those whose parents can afford to send them to school. Mr. Noseworthy, who himself was a former principal of a Toronto Collegiate Institute, said that he had found fifty per cent of pupils with first class homes for first and second form work, had to drop out when sixteen years of age, on account of economic circumstances. If we are educating for democracy, he said, a boy born in the east or west or in a town or city, is entitled to the same education.

The rally opened with a general outline of the C. C. F. policy being given by E. B. Leavens, the general secretary and chief organizer, who stated that previous meetings in the district had been held in Picton, Belleville, Gananoque and Brockville, and organizations had been set up in those places. It was evident now he said, that there was a great surge toward the C. C. F. policies. He prophesied a Provincial election within six months, and said the C. C. F. hoped to contest most of the seats in the House, and went so far as to say that the C. C. F. party would capture every seat from Kapuskasing in the north to Sault Ste. Marie on the west.

At the conclusion a collection was taken up to assist in defraying expenses of the meeting. A number in the audience also signified their membership in the C. C. F. Party by depositing a nominal fee.

Green said he had been working for some time in Kingston and was making $20.00 per week. Since the original court order he had paid his wife only $26.20, and was in default to the extent of $294. THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION

The Conservative Convention gets under way in Winnipeg, this week. It is full of possibilities. It may well be a momentous event. Much depends on the vision and the courage with which the convention faces the future. The Port Hope unofficial gathering made certain findings which it was thought might become a guide for platform makers at Winnipeg. The findings were good. They showed that those who drew them up realized that the world is moving, and that some new approach to social and economic problems is necessary if the Conservative Party is to survive.

There have been rumblings that this report is not acceptable to the brasshats in the party. If that is true, and if they succeed in suppressing the report or the ideas it represents, then they will earn the fate they deserve.

But there are rumors that the term "Conservative" may be dropped, and a new name chosen. Really that is unimportant. By their fruits shall they be known, and a rose by any name would smell as sweet. There is much of value in keeping the historic continuity which inheres in a name. What really matters is that the name and all it stands for be given a new content. By all means keep the name, but infuse a new spirit into the old machine. Such a new spirit will be in evidence only if many who have held control in the past are willing to resign/sin it. We are living in a new day. Men of a past generation cannot change. That is not their fault. They may be the very best motivated and intentioned, but if they have been brought up under a philosophy of life which is now outmoded, they should not be entrusted with the positions of leadership.

Colonel George Drew has been suggested as a possible new leader. His record has not been impressive. To be sure he is clever, and an attractive speaker. But to become the leader of a party which bids for Canadian powers and responsibility, is quite another matter. Of course, he is young in years. His ideas are not always as youthful as might be hoped for.

There is some suggestion that Premier Bracken be chosen as leader. He is not a Conservative, but that would not matter. Indeed, it might be a help. He has made a success of his provincial leadership, and if he could do as well in Dominion politics, he would be a real find.

Just what Mr. Meighen will do is not certain. He may have a good deal to say with respect to the appointment of a successor. He is a strong man and has a large following. It is doubtful if he would want to continue. It is not likely that the party will desire that he should.

We in this country, have suffered much because of our lack of "color" in our leaders. For the most part they are convincing and logical speakers, but they lack that something which marks a Roosevelt, a Churchill or a Wilkie. Among those whose names have been mentioned there is little promise that this situation will be remedied. Perhaps it is too much to hope for that we should have a leader who would possess all the qualities of leadership and glamor, as well. Mr. Hepburn might have had all those qualities, but dissipated them because of lack of self-control and restraint.

Whatever happens at Winnipeg, it is to be hoped that the eyes of the platform makers will be towards the future and not to the past nor even too much on the present.

FREEDOM FROM WANT

For several days following the publishing of Sir William Beveridge's report, the British Broadcasting stations were continuously on the air, by long wave and short wave, in English and other languages, telling the world of the kind of society England hopes to have after the war is over. That was good psychology; it was good propaganda. Russia has made her plans for her people known to the world. Germany has boasted of the new order. But Britain never had much to say — perhaps because there was not too much to boast about. But now, there is something to boast about. Now, Great Britain marches on the social front, and is determined to meet the challenge of those newer ideologies.

Sir William Beveridge, in presenting his report, says it is half way to Russia, and that is true. In the Russian social system there is no unemployment. In the British system, Sir William says, provision will have to be made for a continuous unemployment group of one million five hundred thousand. Apart from this, all the social benefits which the Russians receive and which many thought fantastic and utopian, are to be granted to the British, after the war. There will be increases in the present social benefits, unemployment, sickness, old age. There will be grants to persons about to be married, grants on account of children, grants to women before and after childbirth; there will be funeral grants.

Where is all the money to come from for such an ambitious scheme. It seems about futile to raise this question in the light of the money that is now being raised to conduct a war. If it is possible to get money in wartime, it must be possible to get it in peacetime, as well. That is a fair assumption: one which has never before been acknowledged as it should. There is plenty of money available. The fact that England is planning to put that money into social security for its people, is an evidence of British foresight and courage. Sir William Beveridge estimates that the total amount that will be needed to establish the benefits in 1945 is $3,485,000,000.

The world has moved a long way in the past few years. It is a far cry from the Beveridge report to the ridicule which was heaped on Britain because of "the dole." In an industrialized world the obligation of caring for the whole community is a charge on the nation as a whole. The time has gone by when governments can make their regulations and legislation for the benefit of the few. It has taken a long time for people to see this, and a life and death struggle to bring it into focus—but here it is. The British Government is planning now to care for all the citizens after the war is over.

Canada has become industrialized since the war, to a point scarcely appreciated by ourselves, and when the war is over and the wave of unemployment sweeps the country, there will be unrest, poverty and distress unless something similar to that which has been done in Great Britain, is done here. Once again, Britain leads the way.

ISLANDS

Islands have always played a part in history, which is out of proportion to their size. England is a sea girt land but it has played a part in world history which has not been equalled in a thousand years. Japan is an island, and Japan has shown a capacity for work, progress and endurance that has surprised the world.

Readers of ancient history will recall how eagerly the islands in "The Great Sea" dominated the history of ancient Greece and Rome and how deep a place they held in the affection of poets and artists. These numerous islands stretch across the whole Mediterranean from end to end. They are receiving new importance since airships came into being with landing fields a necessity, and the islands have become stepping stones across Britain's "life-line."

The Balearics — Majorca and Minorca — are the first of these, lying east of Gibraltar and south of Marseilles. They were used as an air base by Italy during the Spanish Civil War, when Italy was getting experience for her other exploits. These are fertile and prosperous islands.

Further east lie Sardinia and Corsica. Rocky barren places, but of strategic value. Sardinia has little place in history, but Corsica is well known as the birthplace of Napoleon. The ruggedness and austerity of the land is reflected in a hardy people. It was this environment which produced the domineering, brilliant "Little Corporal."

Sicily is a large well-known area lying just south of Italy. It is an exceptionally fertile land with a climate so soft and congenial that it attracts people from all over Europe who seek to escape the rigors of the northern winter. Sicily is the centre of distribution of Axis reinforcements and munitions to Africa. When the Axis forces are driven out of Africa, they will, in all probability use Sicily as a field for delaying action against the armies of the United Nations.

Malta will never be forgotten. It lies east of Sicily. Its contribution to the defeat of Rommell is beyond measure. It is a small island not so fertile as Sicily, but capable of sustaining quite a considerable population. From this island the British Air Force has gone out, day and night to meet the enemy in the sky. It is the most bombed spot in the world.

Further east is Crete, seventy miles south of Greece. According to the Ancients, it was the source of great wealth. But of late it has not lived up to its ancient reputation. Crete is in the hands of the Axis. It was at Crete that the Axis demonstrated, for the first time, the ability to seize and hold a whole area by means of air-borne troops and munitions. With Rommell hammering at the Western borders of the Nile Delta, Crete became a constant threat to the Suez Canal from the East, and would undoubtedly have been a base from which to launch one arm of a pincer movement against Egypt, had it not been for Montgomery and the Eighth Army.

Still further East, are the Ageans — a great number of small islands, so many indeed that it is said the captain of a steamer on the Agean Sea is enever out of sight of one of these.

Then there are the Dodecanese, of which Rhodes is the largest. They lie close to the shore of Asia Minor and within easy access of the most westerly of these stepping stones, the Island of Cyprus.

Traditional and historical lore lingers over all these islands. But they have taken on a new significance in days of aeroplanes and gliders.

GETTING TO KNOW CANADA

Several good books have been published for the Christmas trade, by Canadian authors. For those who would know more of Canada, of its background, history and charm, nothing will better serve the purpose than the reading of one or more of these books. As a people, with a diverse population, we have not yet achieved nationhood. Only when we have a distinctly characteristic literature, and culture can we claim to have come of age, nationally. We are growing up; we are developing. To know and to understand that growth, Canadian authors should be read. For there is an increasing number of men and women of letters who are interpreting each in his or her own way the Canadian spirit, in books and poems which live.

For those of us who love Eastern Ontario with its loyalist tradition, a little book "The Thorn Apple Tree," by Mrs. Grace Campbell, is particularly inviting. The theme centres around Glengarry County. While the story is attractive in itself, yet the charm and beauty lies in the telling. The flow of language is swift but smooth. To most of us, in Eastern Ontario, however, it will appeal more particularly because of the way in which the author describes the pioneer life in this part of the country. The pioneer characters are sharply drawn; while the manners and customs which have not altogether been outgrown, are described with vividness and accuracy.

Another book of a different sort, for which we predict a future is "Little Man," by G. Herbert Ballam. "Little Man" is a prize novel, winning in open competition the Ryerson National Prize for the best Canadian novel submitted. It is a rugged, vigorous story. It is written around the life of a man who was born in Ontario, who as a child moved west with his father on the death of his mother. He grew up in Saskatchewan, left his college course in Winnipeg to enlist for the Great War. Served in France, returned and took up residence in British Columbia, where he went through varying experiences during the boom, depression and Second World War. The story is enthralling. In reading it the reader of middle life will see himself, and the way he reacted to the quickly moving Canadian scene since the turn of the century. It is the story of the way these events have affected "The Little Man" — the average person. It is a great Canadian novel.

For those interested in the Maritimes — and who is not?— there is "Cape Breton Over," by Clara Dennis. Miss Dennis has done two other books on Nova Scotia. The former books deal with the mainland of Nova Scotia; this exclusively with the Island of Cape Breton. It is a book of travel, of keen observation, and of picturesque writing. It will be welcomed particularly by Maritimers and students of Canada's history and lovers of travel books.

Acquisition of Dakar Will Aid Allies In War On U-Boats

BY LOUIS F. KEMLE
British United Press Staff Writer

Allied "expediency" in accepting the services of Admiral Jean Francois Darlan in Africa appears more than justified in the light of a dispatch from John A. Parris, British United Press correspondent just returned to London by air from Africa.

Darlan, it appears, is in accord with Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and between them they hold the confidence of the French people. Their leadership on behalf of the United Nations would destroy the influence of such treacherous Nazi tools as Laval, Deat and Doriot and would mean the end of "collaboration."

Darlan already has made a valuable contribution to the Allied cause by bringing French West Africa into the camp of freedom. The latest news from London leaves no doubt that he has done so. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Commons that discussions are under way with the French for the use of West Africa's facilities and ports, including Dakar.

Dakar is an acquisition of great importance. Not only is it the nearest point to the South American continent but it is invaluable as a base from which to combat the Nazi submarine menace.

This menace is very real. Prime Minister Churchill pointed out on Sunday that it is growing instead of diminishing and is likely to become worse before it is overcome.

Allied leaders have not forgotten that Germany almost won the last war with submarines. The fact now is that the submarine is Germany's chief remaining weapon. The Reich has been outstripped in air strength and in tanks to fall further behind.

Without superiority in the air, Germany cannot invade England. Her land forces are immobilized in Russia and in various parts of the European continent. The remaining hope is the submarine, with which to choke the Allied supply line.

The British are not announcing shipping losses, and experience, Not only is it the nearest point to the South American continent but it is invaluable as a base from which to combat the Nazi submarine menace.

The big British-American expeditionary force in North Africa is dependent on the Atlantic route for supplies. The British are not announcing shipping losses, and experience of enemy submarine action is not known.

There is reason to believe, however, that the German submarines concentrated their undersea activities in the South Atlantic and off the coast of their campaign off the North African coast.

With a heavy concentration of submarines, of which Germany has several hundred — perhaps three times as many as in the last war — the Nazis are capable of making an onslaught on two main Allied lines.

One is the line from the United States to West and South Africa. It is essential to the Mediterranean campaign, which is designed to provide for the invasion of Europe from the south.

The other is the "life line" around the Cape of Good Hope which supplies the Middle East, India and Russia.

Possession of Dakar will help the Allies greatly in combatting this menace.

And STILL It's a Merry Christmas

Like most customs which become popular and deep-rooted because they satisfy a sound need, the idea of wishing friends and acquaintances a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" goes on, war or no war.

Christmas cards, for instance, a decidedly Old Country idea which became in pre-war days, a world-wide custom, were first popularized a hundred years ago in England by Sir Henry Cole The great vogue of Christmas came with Charles Dickens who, probably, did more than any mortal to spread the thought in this world of "Peace on earth and goodwill towards men." Dickens did it in a truly English style, with plum pudding and all the trimmings.

There will be few frills on the English Christmas Dinner menu this year. Food rationing will see to that; but there will be good cheer, and brighter war news in the Island Fortress, thank heavens. And in the midst of all the rationing, paper and printing included, it is an interesting fact that Britain has stuck to her 100-years old tradition of Christmas cards. Sir Andrew Duncan, British Minister of Supply, announced a while ago a special allotment of paper for the making of greeting cards with the statement that "Greetings cards are essential to the war effort. People are living under a great strain, and many of them are unable to collect their thoughts and express their feelings in a letter, but in a tray of greeting cards, with sentiments already printed on them they find words which express what they feel in their hearts."

In Canada the same is true, except that we are not so restricted in paper.

Thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands, of people have moved from their families and friends and loved ones, men and women, into the war forces, workers into war industries — yet in their homes and hearts and hearing homes the cries of children there will be precious few who will not remember those who are away from the people they love most dearly. We quite agree with Sir Andrew Duncan. Greeting cards are among the things that bind us together. We intend to send out a few ourselves, and, incidentally, we intend to get a lot of them from our friends.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, DECEMBER 13TH, 1942

Lesson Text: Matthew 5: 17-16; Mark 12: 12-17 1 Peter 2: 13-17

"THE VALUE OF THE CHURCH TO THE SOCIAL ORDER"

The three passages set for this week's lesson have to do with the place of the Christian in the community, his relationship to society, his obligation to the state.

In the first of these Jesus lays stress on good works. He tells His followers that they are not to hide their good works. They are to be like a light on a hill, seen of all men. They are to be like salt which gives flavor to all food, making it nutritious.

It is interesting to observe that Jesus makes no mention here of what men are to believe. What counts is what they do. Too often Christian people throughout the history of the Church have been so concerned with matters of belief that to a marked degree works were forgotten or overshadowed. They were not understimating belief, for unless there is some faith, some belief, there would be no work. But it is by their fruit that Christians must be judged. And that fruit must be developed in the Christian community. The Christian cannot be developed or exist in solitude. There can be no expression of love if a person seeks to live alone. There can be no unselfishness save in community. The Christian, in addition to his personal virtues has laid upon him the necessity of making his life count for righteousness in business, in entertainment and all other groupings with which he has to do. He is the salt of the earth; he is a light set on a hill.

In the second passage Jesus lays down the rule which is to govern the discharge of a man's duty to the Church and to the State. He is to do justly by each. He is to render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's. It would appear from this that it was the thought of Jesus that Church and State had separate spheres of operation. The Church has her functions to perform and the State has its functions. Neither must coerce the other. The Church is not therefore debarred from influencing the Government. Indeed, that is one of its main objectives. It may do this in two ways. It may do it by training the men and women who make up its membership, so that in their civic positions they will be moved by Christian principles, and it may do it by the creation of a Christian public opinion which, in time, will find expression in the laws and conditions by which men live.

These functions of the Church is necessary to emphasize for it is apparent that unless it will probably take care that loyalty is not exacted from all its citizens, even in great formative days. The Church has an opportunity now to see to it that the world that is to be will be a good world, more in conformity to the Mind of Christ than any that has been known. It will be too late when the war is over. Whatever is done to the making of a better world should be done now. The church has a shorter memory than the state—not such inclusive term embracing the high and the low, the weak and the strong, the black and the white—all men. "Love the Brotherhood" is the Church. So long as men and women possess a profound affection for those who are like minded, those who like themselves are devoted to Christ, there is hope for the world. When love dies out, compromises, there becomes a cold, lifeless, and routine affair. "Honor the King." Honor him because he represents the whole nation. He sums up in his own personality the nation's life. In ignoring him we honor ourselves, the State and all that it stands for. And so the Christian is to exercise his power, his influence in every walk of life until the world and our Lord's "dream comes true."

Attention To Woollens Repays In Long Wear

Every woman is conservation-conscious nowadays and wants to keep her clothes in the best possible condition. As winter approaches warm woollens which were stored away last spring are taken out, shaken, and prepared for another year's use. Proper care of these woolens will make many garments go farther. Consumer Information Service points out.

When washing woolens never wring them out. Press the excess moisture out of a sweater or gloves by wrapping in a bath towel. Do not stretch them too much.

Always hand press woolen garments, using a clean, damp cloth. When pressing press down and lift the iron going in the direction of the weave. Never move it back and forth.

Woollens shouldn't be hung on hangers They should be folded neatly and placed on a shelf or in a drawer Leave them out to air from time to time so that they can "breathe."

Before giving a suit or coat a once over with a whisk broom, hang it on a hanger. Sew buttons correctly, leaving a little leeway between the button and the cloth so that they do not pull at the material.

After several days of constant and hard wear, a spare wool suit will assume its crinkly shape simply by hanging in the clothes closet for a short time.

Eighty-one per cent. of the total 1942 crop in terms of maple syrup was produced by Quebec, 18 per cent. by Ontario, and the remainder by New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor of
The Napanee Beaver.

Deseronto, Dec. 7, 1942.

Dear Sir:—

The C. C. P. meeting in the Town Hall, Saturday night, did not prove to be the drawing card it was expected. About forty persons were present. The meeting was addressed by the Chairman and Mr. Noseworthy, M.P. of South York.

The chairman stated he did not intend to take up much time with his address. About an hour was taken to give a resume of the growth of the C. C. F. in Canada, which could have been condensed to ten-minute speech. Everyone who reads the papers are fully conversant with the achievement of the C. C. F. Party. He said Mr. Noseworthy was practically unknown and that the popularity of the C. C. F. Party had elected him an M.P. by a large majority.

He did not tell that the people had not forgotten Mr. Meighen's political party stand, when for two years he and Mr. King fought their battles with a majority of one or two votes, while the business of the Government practically stood still. He did not tell that Harry Nixon's statement, that it would be a national disaster if Mr. Meighen was elected, that had a great deal to do with the results of that election. Nor did he tell that the people had not forgotten that Mr. Meighen had forced the powers that be, to bring Miss Agnes McPhail from a sleeping berth, in an ocean liner, by special train, to Ottawa, to take the Government by one vote.

In the after discussion, the chairman had to admit that it was the unpopularity of Mr. Meighen that caused the turnover in that election.

When the Chairman could plainly see the audience was growing weary talk, he introduced Mr. Noseworthy.

Mr. Noseworthy gave a high-class, academic address on social security, stressing the four great points of economic labour, security and educational. He made a high-class address in every way, and had it been given in a Convocation Hall, to an audience of professors, it would have been appreciated. Given at a political rally, three quarters of his talk went over the heads of his audience. He told us all the benefits that would come to the people, when the C.C.F. came into power. No unemployment Insurance for the farmers, increased pensions for old age, widows not needy, more purchasing power for the labouring man and no financial service for all. He did not tell how these things were to be coming from. Nor did he tell us how, under our Party System he was going to enact these things into law.

After his speech a collection was taken up and four questions was allowed. The first question was: If and when the C. C. F. comes into power, what will be their attitude toward the Party System? His answer was that the C. C. F. did not intend to change, in any way, the present Party System. Another questioner then asked: That means you are just another Party. Answer. Yes! Another question was: Do you mean that you want a number of parties in the Government, similar to what they had in France.— Answer. It might work out that way.

Considerable more discussion took place but it was all along the lines of how he was going to do the things he said. The answers were mostly the same, that the people would have to wait and see.

One man suggested that we would have to depend on the promises of the C. C. F. for the reforms he advocated, to become law, that it might take a century. Another stated that he was perfectly voluntarily part way to Washington and Moscow but we might, by compulsion, have to go a long way past them or either of them, when this war is over.

W. J. HOLDEN.

Successful Bazaar Conducted By Churchwomen's Guild

Another successful bazaar, bridge party and dance, under the auspices of the Churchwomen's Guild of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, was held at the Napanee Town Hall last Friday afternoon and evening. Attendance both afternoon and evening was good and the financial returns were very satisfactory.

The president of the Guild, Mrs. Geo J Tustin, was unable to be present on account of illness and her place was taken by Mrs. Scobell Ferguson, the vice-president.

During the afternoon the sale of articles made throughout the year and of vegetables, flowers and home-cooking was carried on and a large number of guests were served refreshments. In the evening a bridge-euchre and dance was held under the convenership of Mrs. Lalbert Cowling. The vegetable and flower table was in charge of Mrs. D. E. Hall, Miss Betty Smith, Mrs. P. K. Ketcheson, Mrs. David Roffey and Mrs. Lalbert Cowling. The sale of work was convened by Mrs. Joseph Sager and Mrs. W. Hilton.

The display of linens and fancy goods, was in charge of Mrs. T. D. Smith, Mrs. John Fraser, Mrs. D. F. Roblin, Mrs. Albert Hill and Miss K. O Britton.

Mrs. Raymond Moore, Mrs. A. E. Cook and Mrs. W. L. LeMaistre, looked after the candy table. Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Jos. Tustin sold tickets on a turkey. Tickets on the quilt and doll outfit were sold by Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Naughton and Mrs. Mervyn Owen. The grocery table was in charge of Mrs. Charles A. Walters and Mrs. A. Grange.

Mrs. W. J. Webster was convener for the afternoon tea and was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Dafoe, Mrs. Ross H. Knight, Mrs. J. E. Robbins, Mrs. H. E Boyle, Mrs. S. D. Goodridge, Mrs. L. H. Scrimshaw, Mrs. A. B. Medd and Mrs. William Boyle.

Arthur Galt Elected Reeve S. Fredericksburgh

Arthur Galt was elected Reeve of South Fredericksburgh on Monday, defeating D. Wesley Young by a small majority.

Mr. Galt was Reeve of the Township last year, and Mr. Young was a former reeve for six years, and was Warden of the County in 1937.

In 1881 he was united in marriage to Emma, second daughter of the late Robert S. and Esther Dunnion. The earlier part of their married life was spent on their farm east of the village.

In 1931 they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, but shortly later he was bereft of his devoted helpmate.

Although declining in strength, he was able to be about until a few months previous to his demise, taking his interest in the events of the day ever waned.

He is survived by one son, R. D. Martin; three grandchildren, Hazel (Mrs. B. Hurek), Milton in the R.C.A.F., and Charlie overseas.

The funeral service, which was held at the home of his son on Sunday morning, was conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. R. Merrick, who paid tribute to the deceased and delivered a very inspiring message, basing his thoughts on the words of the Psalmist, "Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labor until the evening." At the conclusion of the service the funeral cortege proceeded to Riverside cemetery, Napanee, where interment was made in the family plot.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Jim Rose, H. A. Wood, W. Telford, Stanley Setzuth, Percy Hudgins, and Dr. Tummon.

Some Information About Dieppe Raid Given In Letter

The following letter was written by Bill Davison, who enlisted at Oxbow, Sask., a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davison, Wilton.

Somewhere in England,
August 24, 1942.

Dear Ones at Home:

Just a few lines to say hello and how are you these fine days.

I suppose you will have gotten my telegram long before this and wonder what it was all about. Well, Dad, I was on the raid in Dieppe on August 19th, and with the first bunch to land. Our platoon, I think, was the first of the S. S. R. and I was out of the assault boat right behind our officer. We had an easy time getting in, but it was hell coming out. It was the hottest place I ever saw in my life. We got inland quite a way, but not as far as we would have liked. Jerry was ready for us. I was about the second man behind the lieutenant when he was wounded and he told me to push on with the game; he was only to be away about twenty minutes.

When I left my officer, I got in with Capt. Osten and stayed with him until we started to pull out. He stayed with me "Red" Neil, from Glen Ewen and a machine gun, and covered us while we left. He was a real man all the way and never stopped. He worked and fought like the devil. As far as I can find out, he was headed for the wounded, and a man under each arm going as fast as he could. I don't think he made it, but he was a man all the way.

I didn't see Bill Cunningham, but they say he was marvellous. He was killed in action and never made it out. Frank Harper is in the hospital but I guess he will pull through O.K.

When I left the beach I waded out as far as I could and then started to swim. I swam well over a mile before I got picked up. I was never so happy in my life when two sailors reached out and pulled me into the boat. They gave me a drink and a smoke. We cruised around picking up men and headed for a destroyer. I got some clothes on the ship and came back with a pair of sailor's pants on. I'm keeping them as a souvenir.

Dad, I am enclosing a French ten franc note. I want you to have it. It came from the first Jerry I saw. You can be sure he won't be needing it.

We are busy getting new equipment and getting our guns clean again—they were brought back if lost mine and everything else, even to my pipe. It made me mad because I had just had a new one and was really beginning to enjoy it.

I can't think of any more to say now, but I think of you every day. Write when you can. Best wishes to all.

Your loving son,
BILL DAVISON.

HOLLYWOOD and HERE

By TAP KEYES

Hollywood's first property woman is Georgette Mineaux. . . . She was called "The Silver Queen," married George Raft, Priscilla Lane, shows San Francisco in 1870. In those days there was much fuss about the influx of Orientals and signs were sent from lamp posts reading: "The Chinese Must Go!" The signs will be duplicated in the picture but they'll read: "The Japanese Must Go!!" . . . Producers of Westerns are worried. The standard shots used to be of herds of cows. Now the herds aren't handy for those purposes, what with all the pressure on beef. . . .

At the Hollywood Canteen the stars do almost all the work except whenever asked to. A soldier wanted a picture of a star in action and asked Rosalind Russell to pose in the kitchen. So she escorted her there, asked the dishwashers to get out of the way, and shoo! Ros holding a dish daintily. Then the dishwashers got to work. The soldier hadn't noticed that the dishwashers were Jean Gabin, John Garfield and several other stars! . . . Raymond Massey, who just joined the Canadian Army, has a son in the RCAF. . . .

Priscilla Lane wore Hollywood's heaviest dress in "Silver Queen." It was made of silver and weighed 17 pounds. It was padded down and given to an ambulance corps, which finds that sheet very valuable. . . . Bob Taylor's next will be "Bataan Patrol." . . . When Gladys Swarthout sang for a crowd of Marines a few others didn't know that her husband was one of them. . . . Paramount's "Canadian Capers" has become "Ridin' High" because of transportation trouble. Dorothy Lamour, Dick Powell, Victor Moore and Cass Daley have been cast in it. . . . Plenty of the 100,000 per year men have given it up for soldier's pay but many Hollywood extras, who earn $300 per year, won't leave the film scene. . . .

Adolf Menjou has been making propaganda broadcasts in eight languages. Last time it was Chinese. . . . English film fans, picking the best 10 pictures of all time, chose "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" first, "Mrs. Miniver" second, "Gone With the Wind" third, "Rebecca" fourth and "How Green Was My Valley" fifth. Joan Crawford, about to star in a film about the WAAC's, is going to train with a unit to learn her role. . . . John Garfield has been suspended because he refused a role that made him out to be a coward. . . . Two great pictures coming up are "It Which We Serve," a tribute to the British Navy, and "Random Harvest."

The first cargo unloaded in the war zones when a transport arrives are the films, which are rushed to the waiting soldiers. . . . A new recruit to films is 18-year-old Dustine Farnum, daughter of the old time cowboy hero, Dustin Farnum. . . . And Rita Hayworth's kid sis is in a New York musical. . . . Sonja Henie is having a hard time finding male skating partners. You could usually find one in Canada but our figure-skaters are in the army now as is Stuart Erwin, once her film partner. . . . Buster Crabbe is headed for the Marines. . . . The Academy Award, a gold statue, is nicknamed "Oscar." Bette Davis gave it that name when she was married to Harmon Nelson, a band leader, whose middle name is Oscar.

WEDDING BELLS

HART - DESCHENE

Two of Pumnichy's popular young people were united in marriage at a quiet ceremony held in the United Church Manse at Raymore, Saskatchewan, on Saturday, November 28th, when Miss Antoinette Mary Deschene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Deschene of Lestock, Saskatchewan, became the bride of Mr. Albert Arnold Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hart, of Roblin, Ont. The Rev. J. Morland officiated.

The bride was charmingly attired in a dress of blue crepe. Miss Dora Deschene, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Thos. Reynolds supported the groom.

The happy couple spent a brief honeymoon in Regina and have taken up residence temporarily in the Val Cerre Hotel in Pumnichy. We join their many friends in wishing them every happiness and success.

LEWIS - DAVERNE

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Napanee, on Saturday afternoon, November 28th, 1942 at 3:30 o'clock, when Archdeacon R. J. Renwick united in marriage Nora Catharine Daverne, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. George Daverne, of Napanee, to William Carper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lewis, of Napanee. The attendants were Miss Betty Hogstons of Napanee and Mr. H. J. Knuth, of Debert, N.S.

OBITUARY

MRS. BENJAMIN LEWIS

The funeral of the late Mrs. Benjamin Lewis, who died at Kingston, on November 29th, was conducted at Wartman's Funeral Home, Napanee, on Monday of last week, by Rev. A. C. McCallum.

Mrs. Lewis was the daughter of the late Dr. Ephraim Ashe, of Wilton. From her childhood she was very interested in her father's profession and her main ambition was to study medicine, but the death of her father, when she was sixteen years of age, prevented the fulfilment of her wishes. She was educated at Newburgh and taught school for six years previous to her marriage to George H. Dunn, Tamworth.

Mrs. Lewis was left the head of a family of ten and was twice married. She is survived by three daughters and one son by her first marriage, Mrs. P. O. Huyck, of Hay Bay; Mrs. E. E. Baker, of Forest Mills; Mrs. A. Hughes, of Toronto, and Frank Dean of Galveston, Texas. She is also survived by two step-sons and one step-daughter, family of the late Benjamin Lewis, George, of Napanee, and Wm. and (Charlotte) Mrs. W. Campbell, of Wesley.

Mrs. Lewis was in her 88th year and when in health, was an active worker in the Methodist Church, also was a life member of the Women's Missionary Society and a member of the local auxiliary for four-teen years.

The words of the text from which Rev. McCallum's sermon was most appropriate, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." She was laid to rest in Tamworth Cemetery by the side of her husband, who passed away twenty-six years ago.

Six grandsons acted as pallbearers, Guy Huyck, Bruce Huyck, Dean Hughes Clarence Baird, Lorne Campbell and Herb Kilpatrick.

Mr. Thos. Woods Died Suddenly In Picton

Mr. Alpine Woods, Napanee, and Mr. Carlton Woods, Roblin, received word on Sunday of the sudden death of their brother, Mr. Thomas Woods, of Picton. Mr. Woods who was 67 years of age was found dead at the bottom of the cellar steps in his home and it is thought the fall was caused by a misstep or a fainting spell.

Mr. Woods was a prominent and successful business man in Picton for the past forty years, where he conducted a cheese box manufacturing business, in which he was actively engaged until the time of his death. He was a man who was very highly regarded by his business associates and the citizens of Picton, but had never taken an active part in organizations of a public nature. He was a member of the United Church.

The late Mr. Woods was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Woods. He was born at Gananoque, but moved with his parents to Roblin when he was a young child. He remained in Roblin until he moved to Picton about forty years ago.

Mr. Woods is survived by his wife, formerly Annie Van de Bogart; one daughter, Miss Bernice Woods, of the Civil Service, Ottawa. His only son, Lyal, died about four years ago. He is also survived by three brothers, Alpine, Napanee, Carlton, Roblin, and Stuart, in Saskatchewan. He was predeceased by two sisters, Mrs. Valleau, who died a few weeks ago in Saskatchewan, and Mrs. Andrew Martin; and by one brother, George Woods, Tamworth.

His funeral was held at the family home in Picton, on Tuesday afternoon, and interment followed at Glenwood cemetery.

The Late G. B. Poste

The funeral of the late Gilford Benjamin Poste was conducted at the Vanluven & Wartman Funeral Home in Napanee, on Tuesday, December 1st, by Rev. A. C. McCallum, minister of the Bay Circuit United Church.

Mr. Poste died at his home in Newcastle on Sunday, November 29, after an illness of six weeks. Mr. Poste was formerly a well-known farmer of the Hay Bay district in North Fredericksburgh, until his retirement about four years ago, on account of ill-health. Since retiring from active farming, he had lived in Napanee and had been an invalid during that time. He was born in North Fredericksburgh about 68 years ago and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Poste. He had farmed all his life on a farm near where he was born. He was a Presbyterian and formerly attended the Presbyterian Church at Sand Hill.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Helen Williams, and two sons and four daughters, Harold, Napanee; Arnold, Kingston; Mrs. Clayton O'Neil (Grace); Mrs. Hardy, Pollyn (Lainia), Adolphustown; Mrs. Orval Perry (Lethe), Oshawa, and Mrs. John Easterbrook (Neva), of Belleville.

Following the funeral service interment was made at Morven. The pallbearers were Messrs. Blake Sharp, Ward Sherman, Clayton Cronkson, Gerald Pollard, Jack Murphy, and Ray Perry.

ONTARIO HOSPITAL PLAYS DUAL ROLE

ABANDONED BABY FINDS NEW HOME

NO CLUE TO PARENTS

It sometimes happens that very young babies, who have been abandoned by their parents, find their way to the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto. There they are given a thorough medical check-up before being transferred to the organized agencies responsible for the care of such children.

Not long ago a three-weeks-old baby girl was found late in the evening, crying on the doorstep of a private dwelling. The infant was wrapped in warm clothes and appeared to have every care due to the tention. There was no clue to the parents.

Police were called, and the baby was taken to the Hospital for Sick Children, where she was given a warm welcome by the night staff. "Welcome little sister," said the nurse who took the infant from the cold and two blankets in which it was wrapped. "Click around and enjoy yourself." The nurse continued as the little one laughed at her in glee as if she knew she had found a new home.

What was that tragic story lies behind this incident. But perhaps it brought some grain of comfort to the mother's heart to know that her little brown-eyed baby was in such capable hands.

How wonderful it would be if every case ended as happily as this one. But all too often the theme is a sombre side to the story.

The well over half a century the Hospital has been in existence has been a sanctuary for the sick and crippled children from every part of Ontario. Accident cases; children with deformed backs and limbs; defective vision; rare diseases and physical disabilities all are cared for and nursed back to health, regardless of race, creed or the ability of parents to pay the most of hospitalization.

Some ideas of the immense value and wide scope of this magnificent work may be formed by considering the fact that during the past year alone over 9,000 sick and crippled children were given treatment in the Public Wards. The Out-Patient Department handled well over 65,000 visits.

Less than five per cent. of the little patients are in the Private Wards, and these are the only ones able to pay the full cost of their care. This means that 4/5 of the 432 beds in the Hospital are in Public Wards where the per patient is approximately $1.50 per day more than the combined income from the patients (or their municipalities) plus the government grant.

This is one reason why the Hospital has to raise every year despite the fact that operating costs are the lowest in North America for institutions of a similar type, and the services and medical assistance are recognized by the hospital world as outstanding in efficiency.

This worthy institution which accepts its little patients regardless of race, creed or financial circumstances has started its annual Christmas appeal for funds to meet the huge deficit and to enable its work to be continued in fast as effective a manner as in the past. This year $125,000 must be raised. Government grants have not risen with the tremendously increased cost of the past three years of war. Despite an expense ration among the lowest in North America for children's hospitals, the difference between our Public Ward rate as authorized by law and their actual outlay, has gone up from $1.25 to considerably more than $1.50 per patient day.

No help is received from the Toronto Federation for Community Service because of the fact that patients are admitted to the Hospital from every part of the province.

There is dire necessity behind this appeal for help. Little children depend on it for their chance for health. Your gift should be mailed to the Appeal Secretary, The Hospital for Sick Children, 67 College Street, Toronto.

A chance for health and happiness is the greatest possible gift to little children.

DOMINION-WIDE CAMPAIGN FOR FATS AND BONES

Ottawa, Dec. 7. — A Dominion-wide campaign for the collection of fats and bones has been launched by the National Salvage Division of the Department of National War Services, in cooperation with the Oils and Fats Administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, it is announced by Charles LaPerle, Director of National Salvage.

In connection with this new war drive, Mrs. Phyllis Turrer, Oils and Fats Administrator, declared that today Canada faces a serious shortage of fats and oil for war industries, and needs a minimum through salvaged fats and bones, 25,000,000 lbs. of fat a year, or, reduced to per capita figures, about one ounce of fat per person per week.

This is not just another brief campaign with a spurt to be put on for a few days and then dropped, and then forgotten," the Salvage Director emphasized. "The campaign must be sustained, right across Canada, in every household, hotel and restaurant from day to day for the duration of the war.

Housewives are the key people in this campaign. They are asked to take waste fats and bones to their meat dealer. In any community where a fats and bones collecting system is already in operation, either through municipal collection or encouraged by a local voluntary salvage committee, housewives can continue to dispose of fats and bones through such as system.

The Canadian meat dealers, as their contribution, have undertaken to accept salvaged fats and bones at their stores and to see that they are forwarded to the renderers and meat packers for the recovery of vital glycerine for explosives and other materials essential for war industries. Renderers and packers likewise have promised their cooperation in making the campaign a success.

Every ounce of dripping, every morsel of scrap fat, every bone, green or dry, must be saved.

Meat dealers will pay from 4 to 4½ cents per pound for dripping fat.

PRICE CONTROL FUTURE SHAKY

BOARD CHAIRMAN TELLS OF PRESSURE EXERTED

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Donald Gordon, chairman of the Prices Board, said last week he looked to the future of price control "with considerable alarm" because of "tremendous pressures developing on every side."

Speaking over a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation national network on the anniversary of application of the price ceiling on June 1, 1941, Mr. Gordon said, optimistic predictions about the continued success of price control would be rash and unrealistic.

"The pressures which are developing on every side are tremendous," said, speaking personally. I look to the future with considerable anxiety," he said.

In the year there had been important success in keeping a check on cost of living. He feared many people thought the job had been done and Canadians could relax.

'DANGEROUS DELUSION'

"That is a dangerous delusion," said Mr. Gordon. "We need more determination now than ever before to hold the line. Whatever adjustments may have been necessary during the first year to meet seasonal conditions have been made — the full cycle of the seasons are behind us and all major or many minor situations or time-lag problems should by now have received proper consideration.

"Consequently the Prices Board will resist with every power at its command any and all price increases that tend to raise the general cost of living."

The country had shown the battle against inflation could be won, but it would need all the courage, patience and understanding it could muster, and every group or class interest must make its fair contribution.

Inflation destroyed faith and hope in a people without hope would turn to anything in their despair.

THE MIXING BOWL

"MEATING" THE WAR EMERGENCIES

Hello Homemakers! Even if the average price of round steak is lower now than a month ago, today's meat prices still make our eyes bulge like the tally on the cash register. Hence this article with some welcome stimulants for the hard hit pocketbook!

Have you ever noticed how people in the country over are talking about inexpensive dishes? Not rare and costly concoctions of truffles or lobster but goulashes, stews, ragouts—these are what make folk smack their lips and pass their plates for more.

Appetizing stews that surprise and delight the family with their concentrated goodness may be made from inexpensive pieces of boneless beef chuck, seared until they are almost burnt, then flour stirred in to make a good thick rich-brown sauce. Taking the skillet from the range, carefully pour in one quart of cold water with just three cups of diced vegetables. Season, cover, place on "High" heat until steaming, and then simmer until done. This stew is delicious served piping hot or bottled cold for the lunch box. The children have named it Monday's-my-goodness-this-is-good so no matter what vegetables or seasonings are used. You will be rewarded with the success of this stew that you will be spurred on to try variations.

RECIPES
Sunday Supper

Three quarters pound weinerswo and one-half cups of boiled kidney beans, one green pepper chopped, salt.

Cut weiners into pieces and combine with beans and green pepper. Cover and simmer fifteen minutes. Season and serve.

Variations

1 Place finely chopped apples in the split weiners and bake.
2 Place a thin slice of cheese in the split weiners.

Priority Beef Pie

One and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon paprika, half-teaspoon celery salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, five tablespoons lard, three-quarters cup milk, one-quarter onion sliced, two cups cream soup (leftover), half-pound cooked beef brisket.

Sift flour, baking powder and seasonings. Cut in three tablespoons of fat, stir in milk. Brown meat in fat, then add onion. Add soup and cover with biscuit mixture. Bake in electric oven at 450 deg. about twenty minutes Turn upside down and serve.

Thrift Spanish Rice

Two and one-half cups cooked rice, half-cup uncooked), half-pound ground New England ham ends, two green peppers or half-pound mushrooms, two cups tomatoes (5 tomatoes), four onions (medium), one-quarter pound cheese, salt, pepper.

Sauté onions in boiling fat. Stir in sliced peppers. Add rice, ham ends, tomatoes and sprinkle with cheese and seasonings. Cook.

Note: Rice may be cooked with even more ham ahead.

TAKE A TIP:

Don't waste fat. Millions of pounds are needed for conversion into glycerine for explosives. All you need do is strain used cooking fat—bacon grease, meat drippings, frying fat (except from fried fish) — in to a clean, wide-mouthed can. (Do not use glass or paper containers). When you have saved a pound or more, take it to your meat dealer.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. J. F. P. suggests: "If you break your plastic knitting needle and you cannot get another one immediately, just use an ordinary pencil sharpener to put on a new point."

Mrs. L. I. suggests: "Try using candy lemon drops instead of sugar in hot tea They give a nice flavor and a novel touch."

Mrs. R. C. says: "It's a good idea to keep a package of pipe cleaners in the kitchen. They are very useful for cleaning and drying tiny hard-to-get-at places, such as around the electrical elements, parts of the can opener and the grooves in electric beater handles — which, by the way, should always be very dry before being re-inserted into the machine also the cogs of the diver beater."

Sauces Add Interest To Many Fish Dishes

Fish dishes take on new interest if served with a tangy tartare sauce, the Department of Fisheries says.

Mayonnaise with a finely grated horse radish added to it is a Norwegian favorite.

Tartar sauce is improved by addition of a tablespoon of finely chopped dill pickle, onion, parsley and capers.

Thick mayonnaise with grated cucumber added is another refreshing variation.

Thousand Island sauce is made by adding to mayonnaise two tablespoons of any of the following per cup: chopped green peppers, stuffed olives, sweet pickles, parsley, onion, pimento capers or chili sauce.

Apples Hold Supreme Place In Canada's Winter Menus

Of all the fruits that grow in this rich land, the apple is perhaps the most typically Canadian. For approximately ten months in any year some variety of Canadian apple is on the market, but it is from November till the end of February that the apple is King.

The eating apples par excellence is, of course, the Macintosh; they make good sauce, but are not generally satisfactory for cooking. Baldwins and Pamfluse are good all-purpose apples while Wolf River, Greening and King are top-rankers among cooking apples just now. Their place will be taken a little later by the Northern Spy, Rome Beauty and Winesap.

The variety of apples deserta that can be made, even within the limits imposed by sugar rationing, is almost endless, and there is really no excuse for the wail that sometimes goes up that the family like—"apples again!"

The Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have carried out extensive tests with apples recently, and have found that many apple desserts can be made with much less sugar than was formerly thought necessary. One and one-half teaspoons of sugar per apple for baking or sauce was found to give sufficient sweetness, the addition of a few raisins in the centre of baked apples will increase both sweetness and food value.

Why not let an apple salad, accompanied by hot biscuits or nut loaf, be a bowl of rosy McIntosh apples served with crackers and cheese, take the place of desserts which call for sugar when the bottom of the sugar bowl comes into view?

These delicious tested apple desserts will prove popular with all the family.

Prelude To Russia's New Drives From Stalingrad

BY WALTER KERR

The two Russian offensives, northwest and southwest of Stalingrad, which cut the city's railroads supplying the German forces attacking the city, were carried out against powerful defensive systems.

The proportion of the soldiers captured to the soldiers killed — 13,000 to 14,000 — indicates, however, that demoralization began soon after the armored attack.

When the Germans drove toward Stalingrad just three months ago, they put their necks far out, by fortifying their left and right flanks and pushing straight ahead with twenty-five divisions until they broke into some of the cities and to part of the factory district.

The values of the victims were not far away. At times the banks of the river were under shell fire. Even at this time, however, the Russians' forces to the left, and to the right were strong, but the prize seemed within their grasp and that prize meant the Red Army cut in two.

The Germans hammered away. They tried attacking all sectors of the city. They tried attacking on two or three sectors. Toward the end they tried attacking just in the northern part of the city.

But all the time the Russians were holding within Stalingrad the Soviet command was strengthening its armies to the northwest and southwest. As early as last September, the troops pounded at the German and Rumanian troops holding the flanks. The pressure was steady and insistent.

Finally, the Russians were ready for simultaneous attack. The operation in many respects resembled the counter-offensive near Moscow last winter, but then the Germans still were on the offensive. This time they were deeply entrenched.

Reports from the front make it clear that the two major factors leading to the Russian break-throughs were excellent preliminary reconnaissance and devastating artillery preparation when the zero hour came. On the northwest direction it is said that the majority of the German firing positions were suppressed after only sixty minutes of shelling.

The situation must have been similar on the southwest direction where 5,000 men out of a division of perhaps 12,000 surrendered together with the commander of the division's artillery regiment.

We have a pretty good idea of what this artillery preparation must have been from the description of the German defensive system. It was largely a defence against armored attack, and as such was built, primarily around field artillery, anti-tank guns and mine fields.

Northwest of Stalingrad, along one sector from a mile to a mile and a half wide, the Germans had anti-tank guns. The Soviet command says that northwest and southwest of Stalingrad the Germans lost wholly or in part thirteen infantry divisions, three tank divisions and two motorized divisions.

Here is the anti - tank firepower of just one of the infantry divisions: the division has an anti-tank battalion of thirty-six 37MM (1½-in.) guns. (More recently formed divisions have an anti-tank battalion of twenty-four 50mm (2-in) guns and sixteen 37mm (1½-in.) guns, and some new divisions have 75mm (2¾-in.) guns alongside Czechoslovak rifles in French 47mm (1⅞-in.) guns. Every regiment has an anti-tank company of twelve 37mm (1½-in.) guns and twenty-seven anti-tank rifles.

Beyond these special weapons, there is, of course, in all divisions artillery, and for counter-attack tank forces which are supported by a battalion of mobile guns consisting of three batteries of six 76mm (3-in.) self-propelling guns.

To increase the piercing capacity of anti-tank shells the Germans have used new tricks recently. They use special shells the calibre of which is smaller than that which the guns call for, and fit them with carbide-Wolfram fore caps. On 37mm (1½-in.) guns, which generally speaking are too light for Soviet tanks, the Germans have adopted a piece of equipment which makes it possible for them to use shells whose calibre is larger than the guns call for. This is like an extra large barrel fitted to the end or top of the gun's original barrel. It probably is muzzle loading like a mortar.

These adaptions give the projectile a muzzle velocity of 1,000 metres (⅝ of a mile) a second.

When the Russians attack as they did northwest and southwest of Stalingrad, the Germans try to bomb the Russian tanks some distance from the line, then start a mobile barrage when the tanks are three or four miles away.

The barrage fire follows the tanks as they approach. There also is a steady barrage laid down 200 or 300 yards before the main defence line, just behind the line itself.

At the head of the German trenches are anti-tank guns and light artillery, which are assigned to break up the attack. When there is a breakthrough as there was near Stalingrad, the Germans try to blind the tank crews with smoke rockets fired from pistols and toss hand grenades and bottles of flaming benzine at them.

A breakthrough is possible only if preliminary reconnaissance has revealed the location of every anti-tank gun and if the artillery preparation has been skilful.

When the Russians crash through a forward line, their columns thrust into the battle their tank forces, supported by self-propelling guns. The latter have a weight of twenty-five tons and a speed of little more than thirty miles an hour.

If they are unsuccessful, the division's anti-tank battalion goes into action. The battalions batteries are scattered in order to protect the heavy artillery, divisional headquarters and other vital areas. Now all the arms are firing, including guns of six-inch calibre.

EFFECTIVE NOW

Prices of TEA, COFFEE AND ORANGES are reduced by law!

This action is taken in line with the Government's declared determination to stabilize living costs on a basis that is fair to all. It is a developing attack on the menace of inflation which arises out of wartime conditions. The prices of tea, coffee and oranges are now lowered by official order. Plans for reduction in the price of milk to the consumer are also under way and will be announced in the near future. The items chosen have been selected because of their important place in the weekly budget of every home in Canada.

TEA and COFFEE Effective now—the retail price of tea is reduced by 10c per pound and the retail price of coffee by 4c per pound below the recent lawful ceiling prices.

The table below indicates how the reduction of 10c per pound applies to less-than-pound packages; and is for purposes of illustration only.

Tea formerly selling by the pound at	$1.00	90c	85c
Must now sell at
per pound	90c	80c	75c
per 1-2 pound	45c	40c	38c
per 1-4 pound	24c	22c	21c
per 1-8 pound	13c	12c	11c

BULK TEA

The reduction in the maximum retail prices of bulk tea sold in quantities less than a pound should correspond to the reduction in retail prices for the small sizes of packaged tea.

TEA BAGS

Reductions in retail prices of tea packaged in tea bags must correspond to those made on packaged tea.

ORANGES Oranges must be reduced to give consumers the benefit of the reduction in cost to retailers brought about by lower prices for the new crop, by seasonal removal of import duty (effective December 1st, this year) and by the removal of the War Exchange Tax. Oranges should sell at or below the September-October 1941 retail price levels.

BE SURE THAT YOU GET THE FULL BENEFIT OF THESE REDUCTIONS

SPECIAL NOTICE TO RETAILERS:

Retailers will be compensated for any loss on present stocks—in order that these reductions may be enjoyed by the public immediately. Retailers should take inventory of their floor stocks of tea and coffee as of the close of business, Saturday, December 5th. They will shortly receive forms upon which to make their claims for compensation for losses on inventory due to these price reductions.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

The roar of these guns must have been terrific northwest and southwest of Stalingrad when the Russians lunged in to cut the two railroads and put the Germans attacking Stalingrad in a pocket from which there was only one way of retreat—across the open Steppes back to the Don.

As the Russians armored power goes forward, its accompanying artillery moves in, ready to break up the counter-attack of enemy tanks and suppress the fire of enemy artillery. The Russians' regulations say these guns must keep as close as possible to the advancing tanks and be ready to open direct fire over open sights.

Restrict Delivery Of Bakery Products

Restrictions upon the use of both automotive and horse-drawn vehicles for delivery of bread and other bakery products will become effective December 26, under an order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The operation of motor vehicles is contingent upon minimum weekly sales of $225 and horse-drawn vehicles upon weekly sales of not less than $175. In any case, the number of motor vehicles a distributor may use is not to exceed the number regularly used by him for that purpose in September last.

RAISE BETTER CALVES AT LOWER COST
Indisputable tests show that, by feeding calves "Miracle" Calf Meal, and selling the milk they would otherwise need, there is an actual feed saving. The milk brings more than the feed cost. And when calves are fed on "Miracle" Calf Meal they are free of rickets, grow stronger and faster. "Miracle" Calf Meal shortens the time when calves will pay their own way as milkers. And this feed in the dotted bags starts them on the way to higher milk production.

In our eyes, these boxes being packed are very special boxes.
They're going, or have gone, to all EATON employees in the forces, with best Christmas wishes from the Directors of the Company and the EATON Employees' War Auxiliary.
The Company sends the goodies and the general items ... the Auxiliary provides warm knitted things.

The labels read like a page in geography;
One is marked Egypt ... another India,
That one is Middle East Command,
Scores and scores, of course, to various spots in the British Isles.
And look, that one's for Malta.

To dozens of points in Canada, as well —

Newfoundland and Alaska.

And such carefully planned boxes!
things the boys need and like—such as candy and razor blades—flints and wicks and shoelaces, handkerchiefs and cigarettes—and a big, fruity slab of "Mayfair" fruit cake.

For the girls—such dainty, feminine things as skin balm and lipstick and cleansing cream, along with the good things to eat.
It's an annual EATON custom since the war started, to remember our people in the services with Christmas parcels.

And do they love them!
One lad wrote last year, "The EATON Santa Claus arrived in Scotland safe and sound and extremely fat. Thanks a million."
Another wrote, "I'm sure we Eatonians are the envy of every man in the services."

It's a nice way to say "Merry Christmas," don't you agree?

Due to heavy rains there was a temporary lull in the fight for Tunisia. The rains have had heavy reinforcements added to their force in Tunisia.

• • •

For the second night in succession and the sixth time in a month, Turin was again visited by the R. A. F. and R. C. A. F., with devastating results.

SATURDAY—

From reports emanating from Tunisia the Allied Force south of Tebourba was stalled in a pocket formed by the two advance Axis spearheads and was facing the threat of being encircled.

BRACKEN OF MANITOBA CHOSEN NEW LEADER BY CONSERVATIVES

National Convention Held Last Week in Winnipeg

Hon. John Bracken, Premier of Manitoba, today is the new leader of the Progressive - Conservative Party of Canada.

He won a clear majority on the second ballot at the national party convention, held last week. Mr. Bracken, for twenty years Premier of his adopted province with Liberal and Progressive support, crossed a political Rubicon and joined forces with the rejuvenated party to enter the field of national politics.

Mr. Bracken, who studied and taught scientific agriculture before he became Provincial Premier, gave more than one hint of his proposal to seek the guidance of expert specialists in his leadership acceptance speech and at a press conference afterwards.

In his speech he said he wanted "team-play" from "the best specialized brains of this country" as well as from the members and officials of the party and the country at large, in order to arrive at rational policies for the general good.

Although successful in achieving coalitions in Manitoba, he said, he does not expect to follow that course in Federal politics, one reason being the announced opposition of opposing parties, Liberal and C.C.F., to coalition.

ELECTED ON SECOND VITE

"We are going to tell the Canadian people that if they are wise they will put on the bandwagon of a rational program for Canada," said the new leader at his press conference, when pressed for a statement of his intentions for the course of the party under his direction.

Mr. Bracken succeeded Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, veteran Conservative leader and a former Prime Minister, who took over the office in November, 1941. Mr. Meighen announced his intention to retire when the convention opened Tuesday.

There was never much real doubt about Mr. Bracken's eventual success. It was merely a question as to how good a run Murdoch MacPherson, Regina, could make. Few actually believed anybody else would get very far, and there was an element of surprise that John Diefenbaker, Lake Centre M.P., could show enough strength to survive the first ballot.

Mr. Bracken got 420 votes on the first round of voting, and since a majority over all would have been 446 the prospective leader was just 16 short of an absolute majority.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, veteran political figure from Vancouver, secured only 20 votes on the first ballot, and withdrew. He was quickly followed by Howard Green, Vancouver-South M. P., who faigured on the convention floor the night before. Mr. MacPherson tried to withdraw, but his supporters kept yelling at him to "sit down," and he finally acquiesced.

Results were not given publicly on the second ballot. There was just a bare statement by Leon Mechot, of Three Rivers, chairman of the nomination committee, who announced that Mr. Bracken had attained a clear majority. The actual vote was 538. This would represent a total voet of two-thirds of the delegates.

870 OF 921 CAST VOTES

The first ballot drew more attention because there was little element of surprise in the second. Mr. Bracken's success by then was a foregone conclusion. Before the first ballot was taken, there were still dozens of delegates on the floor of the convention who would bet money that MacPherson would be the winner. Each body listened intently when Mr. Mitchell announced the voting strength of the convention.

Provincially, the delegates which had a vote were as follows:—Ontario 365; Quebec, 90; Nova Scotia, 43; New Brunwick, 51; Prince Edward Island 8; Saskatchewan, 101; Alberta, 66; and the Yukon, 2. Besides these there were 15 delegates-at-large and 11 Dominion delegates-at-large, a total of 931.

Only 870 votes were cast: A hush fell over the hall when Leon Mechot of Three Rivers, got ready to announce the results of the first ballot, and the votes were cast like this:

BRACKEN	420
STEVENS	20
DIEFENBAKER	120
GREEN	88
MACPHERSON	222
TOTAL	870

When the results were announced Mr. Stevens withdrew.

OTTAWA HINTS CALL-UP OF MARRIED MEN

Ottawa. — The manpower situation in the armed forces may lead to the call-up of married men, it was learned last week.

The question has been under lengthy discussion by army authorities and by the Government but no decision has been reached.

Such a call would be under the National Resources Mobilizatio Act and it would be in respect of service in Canada, not outside of Canada. There are large dispositions of troops as proper strategic points as or near both coasts.

The information of military authorities is that, for these services, the "need more men." The men are represented as not forthcoming in sufficient numbers. What with the demands of war industry, farming, lumbering and mining.

Hence the suggested call-up of married men for service in Canada. As in all questions of the sort there are elements of controversy and it is understood that this is reflected in the latest discussion.

The original call-up was for single men between the ages of 21 to 24. Then this was raised successively, from 24 to 30 and from 30 to 33. Next the age lowered to 20 years. Before it was further lowered to 19 years, the age, at the other end, was raised to 45. The definition of "single" men is those who were single on July 15, 1940.

Discussion of the question, it is intimated has relation to compulsory service in Canada and not outside, although the clause of the Mobilization Act, barring compulsion for service beyond Canada and its territorial waters, was eliminated at the last session of Parliament.

Conservatives Prefix Progressive Label

Winnipeg, (C.P.) — With a unanimity in marked contrast to earlier contention, the national Conservative convention adopted a new name for the party, "Progressive Conservative," instead of "National Conservative" as adopted at the 1938 convention.

After the election of Hon. John Bracken as leader, the chairman, H. J. Milner, of Edmonton, brought up the name-changing motion which had been left over from the day before when it met with sharp opposition, both on its merits and on the timeliness of presentation.

Lieut. - Col. Alan Cockeram, of Toronto, who earlier opposed changing the name before choice of a leader, said he had no objection and now was glad to support the change. "It is moved and seconded that the name of this party is the Progressive Conservative Party," said Mr. Milner.

"Carried," came the shouts of approval from the convention and the battle was over.

ONT. CAR LICENSE DEADLINE SET AT FEBRUARY 28

Toronto. (C.P.) — Ontario's 1942 motor vehicle licences will go on sale January 4th and must be obtained by February 28th, Hon. T. B. Mc-Questen, Minister of Highways said last week.

He explained that though the term of the 1942 licence has been extended to February 28 as in other provinces, Ontario has found it impossible to accede to the request of the oil controller to alter the term of vehicle permits to coincide with that of gasoline ration coupon books, which are not renewable until March 31. Such a change would have a serious effect on the budget for the current fiscal year, he said.

"We shall continue to co-operate with the oil controller," the Minister went on, "in the issuance of ration books next year through the offices of our agents, so that present ration books may be valid for use with new 1943 permits. The number of the 1942 permit, which is now on the ration book will be entered on the new 1943 permit.

"It will be necessary that until March 31 the 1942 permit be presented with the ration book when purchasing gasoline. Ration books for 1943 will be available sometime in February."

TIE VOTE RECORDED AT BD. OF EDUCATION ON TYPEWRITER PAYMENT

Lengthy Meeting of Board Held Monday Evening

At a lengthy meeting of the Napanee Board of Education which lasted four hours on Monday evening, the presentation for payment of the account of Remington Rand for $983, the balance due for the typewriters purchased last summer, again opened up the whole question of the legality of the purchase, and after lengthy discussion, a motion moved by Messrs. Beattie and Creighton, that the account be paid resulted in a tie vote. The yeas and nays on the motion were taken with the following division: Yeas, Wartman, Creighton, Morden, Smith and Beattie. Nays: Marshall, VanLuven, Simpson, Paul, and Laidley. Members absent were D R. Sharpe and George L. Howitt.

As a result of the tie-vote no further action could be taken on the payment of the account and it was left over until the first meeting in the New Year. The members who voted against the motion to pay the account took the stand that the purchase of the typewriters was illegal. Some of the members who voted to pay the account contended that since the machines had been purchased and had been in use for some months they should have to be paid for eventually and might as well be paid for without further objection.

As a result of recommendations in the Public School Inspector's report, the Management Committee was given power to make any necessary changes in the caretaking staff of the schools.

The Property Committee was authorized to arrange for the flooding of the skating rinks at the schools.

The Supply Committee was instructed to purchase a record player attachment for the radio at the Collegiate and was authorized to purchase a set of drums of the Collegiate orchestra.

Matthew Taylor was appointed School Attendance Officer at a salary of $100 per year.

The resignation of C. B. Creighton as chairman of the Board, submitted at the last previous meeting, was accepted by the Board.

J. L. MURRAY, FORMER N.C.I. TEACHER, SPEAKS AT COMMENCEMENT

Diplomas Presented to Graduating Class

Mr. J. L. Murray, B.A., B.Paed., Principal of Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute, and a former member of the Napanee Collegiate staff, was the guest speaker at the annual commencement of the Napanee Collegiate and Vocational Institute held last Friday afternoon in the school auditorium. Mr. Murray's address to the graduating class was based on "What is the Worth of a Man." He said that in some cases a man's value is set by the size of his bank account, but to make that the only basis of gauging a man's worth is quite incorrect. "Value," Mr. Murray said, "according to the dictionary is that property by which a thing is made useful or desirable." That definition, he added, applies equally as well to man as to things.

In estimating the value of the members of the graduating class, Mr. Murray spoke of their value to the school where they got their training and pointed out that whatever the members of the class did or became would reflect on their school. Their value is equally important or detrimental to their own community and to Canada, where they will have the opportunity of helping to develop the natural resources of the country and its business or professional life.

Finally in dealing with the value of a member of graduating class to himself or herself, Mr. Murray gave some sound advice. He said to the students not to set a value on themselves by what someone is willing to pay for their services. "You are the ones who set your own value on yourselves." "Make yourselves so valuable to the firms which employ you that they will have to pay you what you are worth to keep you," he added.

One of the most important things for a young person to decide, who is starting out in life, Mr. Murray said, is to determine what type of work he likes best and then to stay with it. "Never take a job," he said, "just because of the money that is in it. Never take a job you dislike."

Aids toward making a successful life, Mr. Murray said, are good habits, a strong body and mind, good manners and attention to general personal appearance.

Mr. Murray was introduced by Dr. G. W. Morden, who was principal of the school when Mr. Murray was a member of the staff in 1927 and 1928. He was thanked by the chairman, Mr. P. U. Laidley, chairman of the Board of Education.

THE COST OF LIVING

Canadian people should be deeply grateful for Donald Gordon and the almost herculean task which he is meeting so successfully. Recently, he announced that his problem of maintaining stable prices was made increasingly difficult because of the pressure which was continually exerted on him and his department. His is a hard and trying job. He deserves the wholehearted support of the people and their unbounded co-operation.

From the very first we have urged that the public should support Mr. Gordon's efforts. Since a recent visit to the United States, we are more convinced than ever that the plan of economic subsidies and price stabilization is absolutely essential, if inflation is to be prevented. Whether or not the vicious spiral in the United States can be stopped with the application of ceiling prices in certain commodities, is questionable. Food prices are rising in the States, meals are, at least, a third higher in restaurants than in Canada, while the essentials of life are correspondingly high. Naturally the demand for increased wages to meet this increased cost of living, is insistant. With each increase in the cost of living, goes a demand for increased wages, until the cost of living always a jump or two ahead of the wages.

The deflationary spiral has not begun to operate in this country, to any great extent. The relationship between wages and cost of living is kept in approximate relationship to what it would be under normal conditions. True, it is taking forty million dollars or more a year to make this possible, but it is worth it. In that way the burden is spread among the whole people and not left to any one group to carry.

The Canadian experiment was a noble and a bold one; it is succeeding, and should be backed up by every householder in Canada.

FIRES AND FIRE-TRAPS

The appalling disaster in Boston a few weeks ago, when hundreds lost their lives in a dance hall, stirred the hearts of this whole Continent. Hardly has the shock of it died down, when we are stunned by the news of another disaster of a similar kind in St. John's, Newfoundland. Naturally, in warfare the easy and the most ready explanation is sabotage. But in the Boston fire it was admitted that the fire started by a flame touching some Christmas decorations—a single accident, but one which brought sorrow to hundreds of homes.

In St. John's, the earliest suggestion as to the cause is sabotage. And, of course, that may be true. There is no extent to which an enemy will go to damage and destroy buildings or persons in the country with which they are at war. And yet, Newfoundland is Britain's oldest colony. It is a loyal population, mostly of English descent, and though there is a great number of people from the United States and Canada, due to the war, yet the most rigorous examination is held of all those entering the country.

The writer, a few months ago, visited the hall which was burned. It was on a Sunday evening, and the hall was filled with troops and citizens of St John's, who were entertaining them. It is a flimsy, wooden structure and would burn like tinder once it caught fire, especially as it stood on a high hill and would catch the breezes. St. John's has a cool climate. The probability is that fires were rushed and some imperfection in the system led to the disaster. We will not know, however, until the investigation is held and the reports released.

These buildings which are abnormally crowded now, in areas where soldiers are located, should be rigorously inspected, and should have wider exits. When fire starts, most people become panic-stricken and make for the doors. It ought to be possible to devise some very wide door which could be thrown open in an emergency in the twinkling of an eye.

These calamities, coming on top of one another, should arouse school boards and those responsible for public safety, to see not only that there are exits sufficient to empty a building under ordinary circumstances, but under extraordinary circumstances, as well.

V

THE FORWARD LOOK

The Conservative Party is looking to the future. The choice of Mr. John Bracken of Manitoba makes that quite clear. Mr. Bracken has given Manitoba good Government. He has held office when others have gone down in the storm. Not only so, he was able to effect a coalition of all parties in Manitoba, and so attack the problems of the day, unbeset with party squabbles.

He, moreover, has spent most of his life in the West. He has the Western point of view. The Conservative Party has been associated in the minds of the electorate as representing big business interests in the East. Just how Mr. Bracken will fit into this universally accepted picture of the Conservative Party, is conjectural, to say the least. But having the Western point of view, knowing the Westerner's dislike for tariffs and disliking them himself, it is not too much to hope that he will be able to make the influence of the West felt in the councils of the party.

He is a farmer, Ontario born, and trained on a farm. He knows the point of view of the farmer. That is in his favor. The farmers have always had a grievance. They have always believed that the economic organization of society placed them at a disadvantage. Now, with a man who has a farm background, who is a student of farm problems, and who is sympathetic with their point of view, the Conservative Party should win much support from that section of the community.

Mr. Bracken has insisted on the name of The Conservative Party being changed to "The Progressive Conservative Party". That may mean much or nothing. The Conservative Party has tried hyphenated names before: "Liberal-Conservative," "National Conservative." These names have meant little in the minds of the common people. Hyphenated titles are never very popular in ordinary parlance. The usage usually concentrates on one word. We will be greatly mistaken if the party is not known by the man on the street — by the average voter, as The Conservative Party.

The four principles on which the Conservative Party has staked its future, are all that can be desired as general principles. Here they are:—

1 Freedom: Freedom is founded on a sense of responsibility toward God and a belief that all men and women have been endowed by Him with individual worth and dignity.

Being equal in importance before Him, they should be secured in equality of opportunity under the law and in the full exercise of the democratic liberties and rights which have become the heritage of the free men.

2 Security: Freedom will be a reality when social security and human welfare become a fundamental objective of the nation. Freedom from want and freedom from fear are essential to a happy and normal family life. Want and fear must be banished. Social security brought within reach of all Canadians

3 Opportunity: The prosperity of the Canadian people depends on our creative capacity, individual initiative, our energy, determination and willingness to work. Gainful occupation for all is a primary objective of Conservative policy.

We affirm our faith in the future of a united Canada. Our natural resources, under progressive development, can be made to provide a high standard of living for all Canadians and for a larger population drawn from people whose intelligence and love of freedom will fit them for a democracy in the British tradition.

4 The British Partnership: We affirm our loyalty to the King and our faith in the British partnership. We accept the responsibilities together with the benefits of this partnership.

The guarantee of freedom, security and opportunity for Canadians will be found in the strengthening of the British Commonwealth, in closer association with the United States of America and our other fighting Allies, and in the application of the principles of the Atlantic charter.

The Conservative Party looks to the future. It has recognized that changes are coming. It is preparing to meet them in a constructive way. It will not be a straight sailing, as events in the local Manitoba House have shown. The C. C. F. has withdrawn from the coalition and has left itself free to oppose the majority. This may have the effect of attracting some moral followers of the Conservatives.. But that is the risk that a Progressive Party must take. With progressive, constructive and dynamic leadership, the historic Conservative Party bids fair to take a position of more influence and power in the Dominion than has marked its life during the past few years.

DR. ROBT. McCLURE WRITES FROM CHINA

Toronto. — Co-operation between the Chinese Army, the Chinese Red Life Movement, the Chinese Red Cross and the Friends' Ambulance Unit is "marvellous," writes Dr. Robert B. McClure, United Church Missionary now director of the Friends' Ambulance Unit, China Convoy. Dr. McClure was writing to the Board of Foreign Missions of The United Church of Canada.

In his letter Dr. McClure declared that the Chinese Army leaders are now aware of the importance of health work. "One cannot offend against a single health rule without paying a high price," he writes.

Describing his work with the Friends' Ambulance Unit, Dr. McClure says: "With the gradual winding up and handing over of the work for Chinese wounded and evacuated soldiers in India we are now in a position to reconstitute our first Mobile Surgical Team which has been there since the retreat from Burma. Our ambulance men will soon be entirely brought back to China too and will be absorbed in the increased transport work here. The surgical team will be working in the far southeastern part of China while the other team remains in the far southwest of China.

"The transport work has become better organized and we are in sight of having moved everything out of Burma. Now everything is out of Kunming and we shall soon have it all moved up to West China or to Kweiyang. All this in the midst of Japanese advances, loss of petrol stores and cutting of the Burma Road. The fuel shortage in China is most acute. A man from the British Embassy who spent last night with us reported that the day before the black market price for petrol in Kunming was U.S. $1.500 per 53 gallon drum and 80 drums were offered at one time, the buyer to take all or nothing. Three hours later enquiry revealed that the sale had been made and no more was available.

"We lost 240 drums of petrol this side of the Burma border through official red tape only and have been hampered for lack of fuel since then. We are getting some alcohol, when possible we are running on charcoal, our diesels are working fine on fuel already in the country and we are negotiating for supplies of gas made from wood oil cracking process. When one remembers that we lost eleven trucks in Burma and yet we are now hauling twice as much as ever was hauled by International Red Cross fleet, we feel quite proud of our record in transport."

This Ontario Minister In No Sense A Drifter

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

A recent article in "Saturday Night," critical of the members of the Ontario Government, moved the Hon. T. L. Dewan, minister of agriculture, to good, old-fashioned, honest anger. In a letter to the editor of the publication in question, Mr. Dewan refers to an article in the issue of October 31, in which this passage appears:

"Most of the remaining ministers (after Mr. Hepburn's retirement from the premiership) can travel only by virtue of their leader's steam and will probably stay with the ship. McQuesten can be an anchor man if he will. Duncan McArthur minister of education, is in poor health, as is Mines Minister Laurier of the blank name. Peter Heenan may step along in a department denuded of most of its functions, nears the end of his political trail. Lands and Forests Minister Hipel wrestles with an impossible inherited from Colleague Heenan; Agriculture Minister Dewan drifts with the tide in his bailiwick; Labor Minister Conant has no duties to explode under Health Minister Kirby."

"I take," wrote Mr. Dewan, "strong issue with this appraisal. Of myself, writer Lewington says: 'Agriculture Minister Dewan drifts with the tide in his bailiwick.' To this I can reply that senior officials of the Department of Agriculture need not fear, any more than I, to submit to detail the accomplishments of the Department of Agriculture during the past five years. A summary of these would indicate that neither leadership nor personnel has been afflicted with inertia. True, we have not produced our own deeds from the housetops. We have preferred to work rather than to talk and to boast. At the same time, we do not claim perfection, and we have always welcomed, and will continue to welcome, honest criticism and constructive suggestions with regard to departmental policy. But personally, I do object to sweeping and damaging statements which explain nothing and which are without foundation in fact. Ordinarily, I should pay no attention to such a diatribe. To ignore, I am well aware, would be the usual course. But when a seemingly unfair and notoriously inaccurate criticism appears in what is usually regarded as a reputable and dignified journal, then I think, in the public interest, it should be challenged."

The editor of the publication commenting on Mr. Dewan's letter writes:

"It may interest Mr Dewan to know that we have received several letters from other agricultural correspondents expressing admiration for his sincere and energetic interest in the farmers, and especially the young farmers, of the province. Some of these writers have commended Mr. Dewan for undoubted fact that he himself has taken little or no part in the bickering and controversy of the period. He destroyed a lly that fact does not relieve him of his share of the minister's collective responsibility for it."

Mr. Dewan comes through this with all flags flying. Mr. Dewan does not "drift with the tide in his bailiwick," by which presumably Oxford County is meant, for the very good reason, that neither he nor the county is a driftin. Oxford is a substantial, virile and progressive county. To say that Mr. Dewan drifts with the tide where no drifting exists, is to imply that he is more or less inactive. Not a month, not a week passes, without effective work and leadership of the minister of agriculture.

WHAT DO I WANT FOR CHRISTMAS?

What would I like for Christmas?
Really — now of all?
I'd like to see our soldier
Standing, straight and tall:
I'd like on Christmas morning
To open wide the door
And see him standing smiling,
Safe at home, once more!
Of all the Christmas presents,
He's what I want the most—
To see his issuing eyes, and smile
Returned from war-torn coast.
This would make me happier
Than all the gifts, galore —
What did I want for Christmas?
My Swee:heart, home from war.

VAST SUPPLIES NEEDED SO RUSSIAN MIRACLES WILL NOT BE IN VAIN

Never Has Medical Profession Responded So Well To Challenge of Millions Needed. But Tireless Service Must Be Maintained

APPEAL NOW MADE TO ALL CANADIANS FOR SUPPORT OF AID - TO - RUSSIA FUND

The guns rumble 24 hours a day along the Russian front. They are pounding the lines at Stalingrad, they tear and burn the flesh of Russia's fighting men and women constantly along 2,000 miles of Soviet territory. That front, if transferred to this continent would extend almost from the Atlantic to the Pacific and cut deep into the most populous provinces of Canada.

The Russian front is, in terms of fighting conditions, the most difficult and largest of the Allied fronts. It is estimated that about 15,000,000 men are engaged on it, and the fighting in Russia's winter conditions is cruelly hard.

Millions have been wounded on this front, and in this year, where guerilla fighters are carrying on the battle, more millions are being shattered every day and night.

Soviet doctors are working tirelessly to repair the damage wrought by Nazi guns. A Russian front-line correspondent has reported that there are times in the height of battle when Soviet surgeons work at operating tables for three days on end. In these 72 hours a surgeon will treat 200 to 250 wounded men.

NEVER SUCH CHALLENGE

Never before in the history of the world has medicine been faced with such a challenge and, according to dispatches from the Russian front never has the medical profession responded so well. Russian doctors have devised methods that might have been lost for another century. Russian doctors are taking the nerves and tissues from cadavers, for instance, and are moulding them into place to mend the shattered limbs of Soviet soldiers.

Soviet medical scientists have developed new methods for preserving blood, both plasma and corpuscles, to replenish the strength of the wounded within a few miles of the battlefront and maintain their strength for the long journey back to the base hospitals where other miracles are performed to return the fighting men to battle.

Techniques have been developed by Russian doctors for repairing brain injuries which were, until recently, considered hopeless. New methods have been developed for the treatment of open wounds, preventing infection and saving limbs and quickly repairing torn flesh.

Soviet transport experts have developed a system of flying ambulances so the more seriously wounded may be rushed far behind the lines for major operations before the chance of saving them is lost.

For the wounded civilian population, for the tired strained, injured men and women in the unshacking of Russian medical science is working overtime, too.

MUCH HELP NEEDED

For the maintenance of these services on so vast a scale much help is needed. To heal wounds and combat infections, medical supplies are needed. To return men and women to the front and to the factories, food, warm clothing and other supplies are needed in large quantities in the Soviet Union.

The Canadian Aid to Russia Fund is appealing for $1,000,000 with which to dispatch some of the supplies that the Russian people need in such desperate measure.

This appeal is directed to all Canadians — workers in factories, physicians, surgeons and nurses in the laboratories and clinics, housewives, businessmen; everyone in Canada who appreciates the significance of the Russian front. Send your contributions to the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund, 20 King Street W., Toronto. Donations may be deducted from income tax.

DIRECT SALES BY FARMERS CONTROLLED

Although there is no ceiling on sale of products by farmers to dealers processing plants and the like, Wartime Prices and Trade Board points out that when farmers sell direct to consumers, ceilings on a public market or by house-to-house delivery or in any other way they are in nearly all cases definite price ceiling regulations. A general provision is that where there are in nearly all cases no ceilings, they may not exceed the highest lawful price for the same products prevailing in their immediate district, nor may they exceed the highest lawful prices ever established. Fresh fruits and vegetables are exceptions. There is no ceiling price whatever on these products, except for potatoes and onions, so far as sales by farmers are concerned. In the case of dairy butter made on the farm, farmers selling direct to consumers may charge only the prices that were charged in the basic ceiling period, September 15th to October 11th, last year.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, DECEMBER 20TH, 1942

THE BIRTH OF JESUS

Lesson Text: Luke 2: 8-20

We are not so much concerned about the method by which the news of Christ's birth was made known to the world as we are of the fact of the birth itself. The fact is of a definite time in human history. God broke into our life and revealed Himself in His completeness and most perfect form. That He came as a child, and through the normal processes of growth and development, is evidence of His unity with suffering, sorrowing, aspiring men and women.

Naturally, it would rob the story of its birth of much of its beauty, its loveliness, its charm, to divorce it from its setting. The angel visitants, the Star of the East, the Heavenly voices are a part and parcel of this Christmas story. Around them some of the world's loveliest poetry has been woven, some of the most beautiful pictures painted, and some of the finest and most enduring sculpture carved. All of this testifies to the aspirations of men in every generation, to describe in some fitting medium the unique event of the birth of our Saviour.

The recurring birthday of our Saviour reminds us of the deep necessity for our understanding of Him and his way of life, and the need to make Him real in our private and corporate experience. This is brought into poignant and bold relief today, as we look out on the world, plunged into war, bathed in tears, and drenched in blood. It seems strange indeed that we should speak of peace and good will under these circumstances. And yet this is the time when perhaps more than some others, men should review their evaluation of the things in which they have trusted and the way of life they have followed. Too long men have centered their own desires, too long have they followed a way of life of their own making, and now in the darkest hour they are amid the desolating gloom of the world they made in ruins, and the world that might have been unreached.

When Jesus proclaimed peace on earth, it was not a negative ideal, a mere passivism. He sponsored, it was a peace-within, was based on the recognition of universal brotherhood. When people love as brothers there is no cause for war will be removed and the way paved for the coming of His Kingdom.

How can we claim to believe in brotherhood, when men are used as tools to serve a responsibility to be bought and sold. The day of slavery is not past. There is slavery wherever human life, human labor, human talents are exploited for personal gain or the advantage of the few. There is no genuine brotherhood among people, where one group is denied access to the materials on which comfort and happiness depend. There is no brotherhood where Jim Crow ears and lynchings mark the civilization.

Love can be shown in God's desire, in the gift where the Young Child lay. There is no other way.

The right-of-way of the abandoned C. N. Railway has been disposed of by the Township of Sheffield Municipal Council, and a substantial sum realized. Most of the land was purchased by the farmers whose land adjoined. The station, warehouse, and land connected therewith, were bought by the Highway Department, which intends to beautify the grounds and landscape them for a park. It is beautifully situated on the south shore of Beaver Lake and on No. 41 Highway. Winter Short Courses At O. A. C. Guelph

Five courses will run concurrently from Monday, December 28th, to Saturday, January 2nd. The topics for these courses are: 1, Livestock production; 2, Farm Mechanics; 3, Home Gardening; 4, Co-operation 5, Beekeeping.

Room and board can be had at reasonable rates in homes and private rooming houses in Guelph.

The Canadian agricultural program for 1943 calls for increased production of hogs, milk, eggs, wool, etc. Farmers will be expected to operate their farms more efficiently, and farm labor will continue to be a serious problem. These matters will be discussed at the short courses and every young man and woman who can possibly arrange to attend should plan to do so even though it may interfere with some of the farm work and will mean a little extra expense.

More detailed information and application blanks may be had by writing to the President's Office, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

EXCERPTS FROM DEC. RED CROSS BULLETINS

We have had several letters from branches complaining of changes in the quality of certain materials. We regret that we cannot control this and that it may become increasingly more noticeable. We all, in our own personal shopping, find that substitutes of one sort or another are everywhere in evidence, that some types of materials have disappeared from the shops entirely. The same is true of some of the materials we send you. We cannot now buy striped ticking, so we ask you to use heavy white material instead. We cannot buy white drill, so ask you to make doctors' and nurses' operating-room gowns of factory cotton. We cannot buy the pleasant materials we once had for quilt linings, so we ask that you dye factory cotton and use that instead. We cannot buy bias tape for binding, so we ask you to cut your own. Let us be glad that in woollen materials for necessar youtdoor clothing, we have a good looking stock yet.

Donations of old fur coats or large pieces of fur, free from moths will be gratefully received by your branch. The furriers of Canada are offering to remake old fur coats, etc., into fur vests for seamen. Letters from the boys who have already received these vests state that "They make all the difference in the world."

Branches will be glad to know that all good used clothing for men, women and children, and washer woollen underwear of all sizes can now be used for survivors bundles. These articles may be brought into the local Red Cross rooms.

1,787 "First Capture" parcels sent to the boys taken prisoner at Dieppe were sent out in mid October by the Canadian Red Cross overseas department. Packages contain pyjamas, underwear, sox, pullover, woollen helmet, gloves, shirt, personal toilet necessities, including razor and blades, chewing gum and chocolates. Every prisoner is also receiving an army uniform and boots through international Red Cross pool as well as the weekly Red Cross food parcel. Dieppe hero Capt. J. G. Houssez, Toronto, now a prisoner of war in Germany, writes that the Red Cross package was the first food parcel he received since taken prisoner at Dieppe. So grateful was he for the contents he had his mother donate $10 of his money to the Canadian Red Cross.

Mrs. Alvin Vanalstine Dies in 96th Year

Mrs. Alvin Vanalstine, one of the oldest residents of Napanee, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas MacBeth, Thomas Street, Napanee, on Monday afternoon, December 14, in her 96th year. Despite her advanced age, Mrs. Vanalstine was remarkably well until a few days before she passed away.

She was born in Napanee and was a daughter of the late William Fletcher and Adney Lounds. She spent the greater part of her life in Napanee and on her husband's farm on the Palace Road, about a mile from the town.

Mrs. Vanalstine's father, William Fletcher, was an employee of the Herring Foundry, one of the important industries in the earlier days of Napanee. As a young girl, Mrs. Vanalstine attended the first school in the municipality of Richmond. She was the oldest member of Trinity Church in years of membership, and in her earlier life was an active worker and regular attendant of the church.

Her sister, Mrs. Adelaide Cole, died a short time ago, in her 92nd year.

Mrs. Vanalstine's funeral is being conducted at the Tierney Funeral Home this afternoon (Wednesday), by Rev. G. M. Chidley, minister of Trinity United Church.

Dr. Joseph Adams Died at Denbigh

(By our Denbigh Correspondent)

After a short illness of only one week Dr. Joseph Adams passed away peacefully, on the morning of December 8th. Dr. Adams was 75 years of age. He was born April 15, 1867, and was the son of the late William Adams and Mary Dillon of Kingston. As a boy he attended Queen's University where he studied medical science. In 1891 he married Esther Marie Chapman, and to them was born a son, Joseph. For 51 years Dr. Adams had in his wife a real helpmate who shared alike with him the blessings and the hardships of a country doctor. There is not a house in the Township of Denbigh, Abinger and Ashby and of the neighboring townships of Griffith, Matawatcha and Raglan that has not, at one time or another, required and received the services of this man of healing.

In 1905 he became Clerk of the Township of D.A. and A. and as Medical Health Officer he served the whole community for many years.

Dr. Adams lived a full life of steady and undiminished activity until about two years ago when his strength began to wane. But up to the very last week he was at the service of all those who sought him.

He leaves to mourn his loss his beloved wife, Esther Marie, and son, Joseph, of Peterboro, three grandchildren, and three sisters; also many close relatives and many more friends. His funeral was held Thursday, December 9, from his residence to the St. Paul's Lutheran Church and cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. P. G. Pfeiffer, pastor, assisted by Rev. Carrison, Pierna.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Herbert Fritsch, Adolph Warlich, Herbert Chatson, William Warlich, Edward Fritsch and Adolph Gleaser.

The Late Mrs. Chester Neville

The death occurred at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, on Saturday, November 28, of Mrs. Chester Neville, a former well-known resident of Switzerville, who for the past ten years had been a resident of Kingston.

Mrs. Neville, who was 82 years of age, had been a patient at the Hotel Dieu Hospital fro the past year. She was predeceased about ten years ago by her husband, who was a prominent farmer at Switzerville, all his life.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Neville was Mary Sharp of Peterborough. During the time she resided at Switzerville Mrs. Neville was an active worker in the Switzerville United Church and for some years was president of the Missionary Service.

She is survived by one son, Dr. Kenneth Neville, who resides in London, Ont., and by one sister.

Following the funeral service, Mrs. Neville's body was interred at Switzerville Cemetery.

The Late Mrs. Robert Jackson

The sudden death of Mrs. Robert Jackson occurred last Saturday at the home of her son, John Jackson, Bath, where she had gone a few days before to spend a short time. Mrs. Jackson, since the death of her husband, about five years ago, had made her home in Napanee with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Knight. When she left town last Thursday, to spend the week-end at the home of her son, she was apparently in her usual state of health. On Saturday morning, when she failed to rise at her usual time and when members of the family went to her room they found she had passed away. Later in the day the body was brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Knight in Napanee and on Monday afternoon a short service was conducted at the house by Rev. L. G. Osborne-Walker of Bath and Archdeacon Dumbrille of Napanee, after which a public service was held at St. Thomas' Church at Morven, followed by burial at Morven Cemetery.

Mrs. Jackson, who before her marriage was Emma Louise Irwin, was born in England about 79 years ago. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Irwin, who came to Canada when Mrs. Jackson was about seven years of age and settled at Milton, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were married at Milton and came to Morven about 45 years ago, where they farmed until Mr. Jackson's death. Mrs. Jackson was an active member of St. Thomas' Anglican Church at Morven and was especially interested in the work of the Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Jackson leaves three daughters, Mrs. C. H. Knight, Napanee; Mrs. Reta Vanalstine, St. Catharines, and Mrs. W. J. Tompkins, Alberta, and one son, John, at Bath.

The pall-bearers at the funeral were Messrs. Harry Spence, Lawrence Chadwick, Debert Snider, Harold Brandon, Matthew Shetler and Luke Young.

OBITUARY

THE LATE WILFRED LASHER
(Corrected Obituary)

Suddenly, in the Kingston General Hospital on November 21, there passed away Wilfred Reginald Lasher, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lasher, of Sillsville.

Born at Sillsville on July 27, 1904, he spent all his life in the Napanee district. In 1929 he married Arabella Doyle of Sandhurst, and they resided ever since in Switzerville. The late Mr. Lasher is survived by his wife, his parents, two sisters, Helen of the Naval Department of the Civil Service, Ottawa; Eileen, of Orton, Alta.; two brothers, Roy, of Kingston, and Ralph, at home.

The funeral, held from the home of his parents, to Sillsville United Church, was conducted by Rev. K. Crawford, of Adolphustown Circuit.

Following the service interment was made in Sillsville cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Morley Creighton, Borden Young and Charles Gilbert, of Sillsville; Hobart Evans, Harold Shorley and Archie Wagar, of Switzerville.

OBITUARIES

THE LATE MRS. ARNOLD WOLFE

Mrs. Arnold Wolfe died unexpectedly on Monday evening, December 14th, at her home just west of Napanee, on the Newburgh Road. She had been slightly ill for about a week, but her death was apparently due to heart failure.

Mrs. Wolfe was a resident of Nap anee all her lifetime. She was formerly Isabella Morris, only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris, well known residents of Napanee, who passed away some years ago. She was a lifelong member of Trinity United Church and was well known by a large circle of friends who regret her unexpected death.

She is survived by her husband and one son, Morris, who resides in Detroit, Michigan.

Her funeral will be conducted at the VanLuven & Wartman Funeral Home on Thursday afternoon, and interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

THE LATE JAMES O'RAY

Friends and neighbors were deeply shocked to hear of the sudden death at his home on Monday evening, November 30, of James O'Ray. He had been in poor health for over a year, but had never complained. He was a man of fine Christian character.

The deceased was born in Richmond Township, seventy-seven years ago. He moved to Napanee from a farm at Centreville, Ont.

He is survived by his sorrowing wife, the former Mary McKeown, and his three daughters, Mrs. G. Walter and Mrs. A. Colling, of Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. T. Morten, of Buffalo, also a sister, Mrs. Margaret Corey, Chicago. A son, Daniel, predeceased him 17 years ago.

The funeral was held on December 3rd, to St. Patrick's Church, where requiem mass was sung by Very Rev. Dean E. M. Leacy. Interment took place in the family plot. The pallbearers were Messrs. Herbert Millican, James Kennedy, Frank Mc Dermid, Daniel O'Shaughnessy, Harold Barrett and Anthony McKeown.

THE DOMINION BANK Seventy-Second Annual Statement

Total Assets at High Figure. Continued Strong Liquid Position. Large Reserves in Investment Portfolio Deposits Substantially Higher. Earnings at a Satisfactory Level

On Wednesday, the 9th instant, the Annual Meeting of The Dominion Bank was held at the Head Office in Toronto with a large number of shareholders in attendance. The 72nd Annual Statement covering the Bank's operations for the twelve months ending 31st October last, was presented and approved.

The statement contained a number of interesting features; the large increase in the Bank's investment portfolio; the growth in total deposits of over $41,000,000; the strong liquid position further strengthened; the total assets at a higher figure; and the earnings at a satisfactory level.

The Bank's investment in securities is the highest in its history and total $97,168,000, compared with $42,-649,000, a year ago. Of the total $37,-637,000 is in Dominion and Provincial Government securities and includes approximately $33,355,000, Dominion of Canada 3% Deposit Certificates. Other investments, in which there has been little change during the year, consist of municipal and high-grade securities.

Total deposits show the large increase during the year of $41,688,000, and stand at $184,679,000. Non-interest bearing deposits at $83,350,000, show an advance during the year of $34,239,000; interest - bearing deposits at $88,653,000, have increased by $5,291,000, and deposits of the Dominion and Provincial Governments, $12,475,000, show an increase of $1,-260,000.

The Bank's strong liquid position has been further strengthened during the year with immediately available assets at $130,460,000, or 67.71% of public liabilities. This is an improvement during the year of $30,329,000. Cash assets at $39,791,000 are 20.66% of public liabilities.

Total assets have grown by over $43,000,000 during the year and now stand at $212,443,000.

Having made provision for Dominion Government taxes of $537,245 an increase of $88,242, over the previous year — the net profits are $823,990, for the twelve months. After providing $665,000, for dividends, making a contribution of $100,000 to the Officers' Pension Fund and writing $150,000, off Bank Premises Account, Profit and Loss Account stands at $686,591.

Commercial Loans and Discounts in Canada are shown at $70,495,000, a decrease of $8,328,000, which indicates a lessened demand during the year by the Bank's customers.

Call and Short Loans in Canada and elsewhere amount to practically the same figures as last year at $3,-317,000.

The Bank's Circulation at $3,319,-000, shows a decrease of $580,000. provision having been made for the unredeemed circulation.

Letters of Credit, Acceptances, etc. stand at $4,759,000 compared with $2,329,000 a year ago.

Capital $7,000,000 and Reserve $7,000,000, remain unchanged.

WEDDING BELLS

MOORE - BARKER

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at Hay Bay Church parsonage at 12:30, on Saturday, December 12th, when Rev. A. C. McCallum united in marriage Jean, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Barker, Robert S reet, to Bryce, youngest son of Mrs. Herbert Moore, and the late Mr. Moore, of Hay Bay.

The bride wore a becoming dress of soft blue trimmed with a sequin spray of flowers, her accessories were a contrast in brown. Miss Mabel Moore, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a navy blue dress with matching accessories. Mr. Bill Moore, cousin of the groom, was his best man.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a cameo pendant, and to the groomsman, a leather bill-fold.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to the immediate families and a few close friends at the home of the bride's parents.

Amid showers of confetti, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a wine costume with harmonizing accessories. On their return, Mr and Mrs. Moore will reside on the groom's farm at Hay Bay.

TRINITY CHURCH Y. P. U.

U. S. BUILDS SECRET PLANES

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

New York, (A.P.) — The United States Army has two new planes that are "enough to make the angels gasp," the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was told last week.

Major Nathaniel P. Silsbee, of the Army Air Force, said in a paper prepared for a meeting of the society that a score of new fighters, bombers and transports are under test. Many, he said, already have been flown, but are still on the secret list.

In addition to the new designs the Air Force has developed a method of making wholesale alterations in planes after manufacture. This is done in places called modification centers, of which he said there are dozens. They are not all at aircraft factories.

These centres make quick alterations demanded by battle conditions, such as, said Maj. Silsbee, installing different type guns, or refitting with a landing gear that will not crack up in desert fighting.

Such centres have painted planes a dusty pink for the Egyptian desert, and fitted others for Arctic regions. He said that the tail gun added to the Flying Fortress caught the Japanese so by surprise that nearly 100 Japanese planes were shot down before a single ship was able to get back to tell the others what was happening.

It is not generally realized, he said that most of today's first-line military planes are the results of designs six years old. As examples he cited the German Messerschmitt ME-109 British Spitfire and Hurricane and American Curtiss Hawk P-36.

The Germans, he said, were reported to have at least two planes with pressure cabins, which relieve their crews of most of the handicaps of high-altitude fighting. One is a

LET'S PLAN FOR A "WHITE CHRISTMAS"!

Hello Homemakers! Sparkling frost or gleaming white snowbanks put us in a different mood — yes, Christmas is in the air! Holidays are on us, all of a sudden! And the happiest spot in all the world at Christmas should be the home.

Candle - lit windows, wreathed doorways, evergreen boughs — there are so many ideas for a homemade Christmas. Decorations can be simple and inexpensive, yet lovely—and the whole family can have the fun of helping.

Let's start at the front door! Tie a big red ribbon bow or a Christmas wreath on the door. Then the front hall; the children will be delighted to make a vine, with paper points! Stay here and there, to twist down the stairway rail. An archway between rooms makes a grand place for a display of green and red — use one large light or the top and tie the decorations to a heavy green cord from the top and down the sides. The mantel will still be the favorite place to hang your stockings. But "will never do to hang precious rayon or flale hose this year — so make bags or socks of red netting for everyone. Empty thread spools painted red with water paint will hold sprigs of pine upright like little trees for use on tables and window sills. Christmas bells make gay decorations in doorways or hung from chandeliers. Red paper stars can be cut out to spangle your white curtains. Once started, all sorts of bright ideas will come flocking to you.

RECIPES

Christmas Pudding

One-third cup butter, one-quarter cup corn syrup, one-quarter cup brown sugar, two eggs, one and one-quarter teaspoons of baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon of soda, half-teaspoon salt, three-quarters teaspoon cinnamon, one-quarter teaspoon cloves, 1-quarter teaspoon allspice, one-quarter teaspoon mace, one and one-third cups flour, half-cup buttermilk, one cup chopped seedless raisins, one-third cup chopped citron, half-cup chopped nuts (if obtainable).

Cream the butter, add the syrup and sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add the eggs and beat well. Mix and sift the baking powder, soda, salt, spices and one cup of the flour and add to the first mixture alternately with the buttermilk. Stir in the raisins, citron and nuts which have been mixed with the remaining one-third cup of flour. Pour into a greased mold, cover and steam for about two hours in well-cooker of electric range. Serve with Red Currant Sauce made as follows:

One egg, three tablespoons sugar, few grains salt, four teaspoons red currant juice, one-half cup whipping cream.

Beat the egg white until stiff and add the sugar gradually, beating constantly after each addition. Add the salt, and red currant juice. Fold in the beaten egg yolk and the whipped cream. Serves six to eight.

Melting Moments

Two cups sifted pastry flour, one teaspoon of baking soda, two teaspoons cream of tartar, three-quarters teaspoon salt, one cup baking fat, two-quarters of cup (lightly packed) brown sugar, one egg, one teaspoon pure vanilla, citron peel.

Measure flour and add baking soda, cream of tartar and salt. Cream the baking fat slightly and gradually blend in brown sugar. Beat and add egg. Stir in dry ingredients, about a third at a time combining after each addition. Add vanilla. Mix in additional flour, if necessary, to make a dough which may be handled. Roll small portions of mixture into balls and decorate with slices of citron peel and cherries to represent holly. Bake in greased pan in moderate electric oven, 350 deg., about twenty minutes.

TAKE A TIP:

1 The Dominion Power Controller has stated that ornamental lighting will be permitted Within the Home during the period of December 24th to January 1st, inclusive. "Within the home" does not include lighting of Christmas trees on the front lawn or any decorations not strictly within the house. It does not permit Christmas tree or decorative lighting in stores or any other place except "within the home."

2 Do not cover lamps with tissue paper — it may cause a fire.

3 Save electricity — do not leave Christmas decorative lights on longer than necessary.

4 Living room lights may be turned off while everyone is chatting. Decorative lights will give enough cheerfulness and be much more effective.

SUBSTITUTES FOR BUTTER ARE AVAILABLE

So there really is a butter shortage! The figures recently released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics clear up all those rumours about it being a phony shortage due to panic buying and wicked profiteers waiting for the price to rise. The cold facts are that Canadians are eating more butter than they did last year, so that although production has been maintained at the previous level, we have now much less to go around than we had this time last year.

This means that all of us have got to eat less butter. If we are to avoid the extremely cumbersome and expensive alternative of rationing.

This is not the nutritional disaster you may suppose. The fact is that there are other and cheaper ways of getting the two chief food essentials supplied by butter. These essentials are fat and Vitamin A. A great many people would be a lot better off if they ate less fat, so that's no loss. Those who need this high energy food can get it by eating the fat part of meats, and of course all meat contains a certain amount of fat throughout. We have only one source of Vitamin A, a reduction in butter consumption would be really serious, for too little of this important vitamin in our diet leads to night blindness, lessened resistance to infection — hence more colds and colds — and in extreme cases to a serious eye disease, xerophthalmia. But butter is only a fair source of A. Cheaper and better sources are the green leaf and yellow vegetables, spinach, broccoli, beet greens, carrots sweet potatoes, squash. And you will be glad to know, Vitamin A is not a temperamental vitamin and survives even the most careless cooking very nicely.

Other excellent food sources are liver and cod-liver oil. These cannot be considered cheap substitutes for butter but if you eat liver occasionally and take cod-liver oil regularly you're getting more Vitamin A than even excessive use of butter could supply.

One thing to remember— if your chief source of A is to be the green leaf and yellow vegetables, don't use them most of it. A post card request sent to the Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, will bring you a free copy of an up-to-date and authoritative Vitamin Chart.

Eritain is now producing twice as many tanks as in August 1941, three times as many as in February 1941, and five times as many as in August 1940.

Strong Sunlight Is Bad For Furs Even In Winter

Winter is here again and for many women in Canada it is far time furs were more than ever clothing shields for many dresses. Therefore, the fur coat should be no exception to the rule, says Consumer Information Service.

Never drop a fur coat carelessly on a chair or couch or over a radiator. Instead hang it promptly on a wide hanger, and keep it in the coolest place available. Be sure that strong sunlight is also not good for furs and it may fade them. Both heat and strong light are apt to dry out the oils of the leather.

Furs should receive regular inspection for tears and rips, and should be repaired immediately. Small rips very easily work into jagged tears that will require an entirely new skin to replace the damage.

Never dry a wet fur coat over a hot radiator or near the stove. Comb lightly with the fine side of the comb brush it in the same direction, shake it briskly and then hang it in a cool room where the air is allowed to circulate freely, and it will dry out in no time.

Carrying a hand bag or parcels under the arm continually, wears away both the sleeve and the coat and should be avoided. Sliding in and out of automobiles wearing a fur coat also wears away the fur.

Proper Food Use Topic of Booklet "Healthful Eating"

"We are what we eat" an old proverb reads. This offers a challenge to every person in Canada who can improve his health and add liveliness through correct diet according to the authors of "Healthful Eating" a new booklet prepared by Nutritional Services, Department of Pensions and National Health, Ottawa.

What are "food elements"? What does "hidden hunger" mean? Is milk fattening? How can people in low income groups obtain adequate nourishment? These are some of the questions answered in the booklet, which will be useful not only to nutrition group leaders working in the January National Nutrition Campaign but to everyone interested in improving their health through the proper use of food.

Proteins, energy foods, minerals and vitamins are translated into practical food terms in "Healthful Eating" which also includes a Food Selection Guide for three basic groups. It is shown in this table that while families living on low incomes cannot afford the variety of food available to those better off, that they can still get adequate nourishment out of the cheaper foods if they are used and cooked intelligently.

There is advice on marketing, cooking and storing of foods and the booklet closes with answers to many questions concerning diet.

December 9th, 1942 — Today Mr. R. Y. Eaton announced his retirement from the Presidency of the T. Eaton Co. Limited and the Canadian Department Stores and the election to that office of John David Eaton, son of the late Sir John Craig Eaton.

John David Eaton was born in Toronto in 1909. He received his early education in Trinity College School at Port Hope, Ontario, after which he attended Upper School and Cambridge University in England.

Returning to Canada in 1930 he entered the service of the Company where after short periods in the Purchasing and Advertising Departments at Toronto he gained his first merchandising experience in the Men's Furnishings Department.

In 1931 he was moved to the Company's Winnipeg Store where he spent the next two years in acquiring a first-hand knowledge of the Company's Western business, including its extensive Mail Order operations in the Western provinces.

Returning to Toronto in 1933 he received his final managerial experience when he assumed Supervision of the Men's Shop in the College St. Store.

In 1934 he was elected a director of the Company and, in the same year, undertook supervision of the Northern Ontario development of the Company's business.

Elected a Vice-President in 1937 he has gradually undertaken increased responsibility in the direction of the Company, and Mr. Eaton is typical of its traditions.

Mr. Eaton has travelled extensively in Canada as well as overseas, and has become thoroughly familiar, from personal observation, with every phase of the Company's business, from which a clear goal in its buying centres abroad.

In order to facilitate travelling in Canada on business, he learned to fly, the air at an early stage in his business career, acquiring first a single - motored monoplane and, later a twin - engined plane in which he travelled extensively in Canada. At the outbreak of war, however, he donated his plane to the Government for service.

Mr. Eaton was married in 1933 to Miss Elizabeth Sutherland of Winnipeg, and is the proud father of three sons, John Craig, Frederick Stefan and Thor Eaton.

He is a great devotee of the outdoors life and counts among his favourite hobbies, yachting, fishing and hunting.

Mr. J. J. Vaughan, a Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Company, is also, at this time, retiring from active service, and will be succeeded by his brother, Mr. Orval D. Vaughan as a Vice-President.

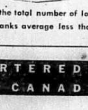
Helping to House Canada's War Workers

WHEN the huge shell-filling plant came to his town, Charles Hunter got to thinking about the critical shortage of housing . . . and about the two large cottages he owned. It wouldn't cost much to modernize and sub-divide them to make comfortable homes for four families.

He talked it over with his bank manager, who extended him a $600 loan. With the money, Hunter not only converted his cottages but took part of the loan, along with some of his rental income, to remodel another house to accommodate eight single individuals.

With the aid of the bank Hunter helped to provide urgently needed homes for war workers. He has now paid off all but $100 of the loan. A very small amount paid out for interest has thus enabled him to more than double his former revenues.

Such modest, highly useful loans typify the contributions that the banks make to Canadian enterprise. The above story is an actual case—only the name has been changed.



At least two-thirds of the total number of loans outstanding in Canada's Chartered Banks average less than $500 per loan.

TORIES DRAFT 4-POINT CREED AT WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, (C.P.). — A four-point Conservative "creed" — a general summary of the principles for which the party will pledge itself to stand through the years — was approved last week by the Conservative National Convention, amid general applause.

"Freedom, security, opportunity and British partnership" is the one-line title of the creed. Its four points under those four sub-headings.

Following is the text of the creed as drafted by the convention resolutions and policy committee:

1 Freedom: Freedom is founded on a sense of responsibility toward God and a belief that all men and women have been endowed by Him with individual worth and dignity.

Being equal in importance before Him, they should be secured in equality of opportunity under the law and in the full exercise of the democratic liberties and rights which have become the heritage of free men.

2 Security: Freedom will be a reality when social security and human welfare become a fundamental objective of the nation. Freedom from want and freedom from fear are essential to a happy and normal family life.

Want and fear must be banished and security brought within reach of all Canadians.

3 Opportunity: The prosperity of the Canadian people depends on our creative capacity, individual initiative, our energy, determination and willingness to work. Gainful occupation for all is a primary objective of Conservative policy.

We affirm our faith in the future of a United Canada. Our natural resources, under progressive development, can be made to provide a high standard of living for all Canadians and for a larger population drawn from people whose intelligence and love of freedom will fit them for a democracy in the British tradition.

4 The British Partnership: We affirm our loyalty to the King and our faith in the British partnership. We accept the responsibilities together with the benefits of this partnership.

The guarantee of freedom, security and opportunity for Canadians will be found in the strengthening of the British Commonwealth, its closer association with the United States of America and our other fighting Allies, and in the application of the principles of the Atlantic Charter.

BOARD MEETING OF THE V. O. N.

The official announcement of the retirement from office of Mrs. Wilton Ashley, was received with much regret and deep appreciation of her faithful and efficient service. During the last four years, she presided at all regular meetings and served on numerous committees.

The Branch suffered a similar loss in the resignation of Mrs. Percy Chambers, who has ably filled the post of secretary for three years.

Mrs. Scobel Phippen, Mrs. Albert Lewis, Mrs. E. J. Corkill, Miss Eileen Fox and Mrs. J. Dismant have consented to act as a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the New Year.

At the January meeting the annual reports of all officers will be given. The Auxiliary Group will also give an account of the year's work.

Miss Decker's November report shower the daily round of work was much as usual. It was gratifying to note that many mothers are taking advantage of the Child Welfare Conference by regular attendance with their babies. A local case was cited to show the actual monetary value of the V. O. N. to the community. In this one instance, a clear saving of $275 was effected.

Mrs. Ashley was appointed Liaison Officer from the V. O. N. to the Consumer Branch of the Wartime Prices and Control Board.

Since the last meeting the work of the Branch was supervised and approved by Miss Dawson, of the Central Board, Ottawa.

The meeting was held in the Legion room, with a good representation, the president in the chair, and was opened with prayer by Captain Gray of the Salvation Army.

RED CROSS NEWS

Despite the time of year and the cold weather, the attendance at the Red Cross work rooms has been splendid, and the Wool Department reports that even with the difficulty experienced in getting wool, there were more finished garments turned in last Saturday than in any other single day, this Fall. . . . The Surgical Dressing Department is running full speed, with the workers putting in three afternoons a week. 1230 pieces of dressing are being sent out every two weeks. . . . With the Christmas season approaching we are reminded that many boys will be away from home for the holiday. A special plea to the citizens of Napanee is being made for the Fleet Air Arm boys from the Norman Rogers Airport at Collins Bay. Anyone who can take one or more of these boys into their home for the day, please communicate with Mrs. T. D. Sneath. The boys will arrive Christmas Eve, or New Year's Eve, and will provide their own transportation. . . . The rooms will be closed on December 24th and 26th. These are two of our regular work days, but owing to their closeness to Christmas Day, work will be cancelled. . . . Mrs. Cameron Wilson and Mrs. W. Huston were hostesses Saturday. . . . A new feature at the rooms is the opening of a "Superfluity Counter," where articles of all kinds, clothing, outgrown, but still in good condition, are being sold. Anyone interested in this project and wishing to donate anything to this counter, may do so any Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday afternoon. The proceeds go, of course, to the purchase of materials.

TENANT PROTECTED UNDER NEW ORDER

An order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which is now in effect is aimed at relieving tenants of the fear of having the premises which they occupy "sold over their heads" and of having to find other accommodations on relatively short notice. The new regulation provides that the tenant of a house which has been sold must be given at least twelve months' notice to vacate by the new owner. Even then the owner must prove that he will need the property for his own residence when the tenant leaves. This regulation applies to all houses purchased after December 9th. The new regulations also clarify the position of tenants in houses which are not sold. Hitherto a landlord could evict a tenant on three months' notice by declaring he required the accommodation for himself, a relative or an employee. It is now provided that a landlord may evict a tenant on three months' notice only if he actually "needs" the accommodation as a residence for himself. A landlord wishing to evict a tenant on grounds that the accommodation is needed for demolition or for conversion or business accommodation must obtain the approval of the Real Property Administrator before giving notice to vacate.

NEW LEADER OF CONSERVATIVES STATES HIS IDEALS

In his address of acceptance after election as Leader of the Conservative Party, last week, Mr. Bracken stated his ideals for Canada and Canadians, which he listed as follows:

1 The right of every man, to have a job.

2 The right of every worker to a fair day's pay for a fair day's work.

3 The right of every individual to be rewarded not on the basis of equal pay for all but on a basis which recognizes the value of the service given.

4 The right of farmers and other primary producers to a fair share of the nation's income.

5 The right of both public and private enterprise to a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

6 The right of private enterprise to a fair return on the investment it risks.

7 The right of every child and youth to equal opportunity to the maximum education suited to its capacity that the state can provide.

8 The right of every citizen to security against loss of income arising from accident, sickness, loss of employment, old age and other disability.

9 The right of depressed provinces to a rationalization of Dominion-Provincial financial relations.

10 The right of the public to expect efficient administration of the funds it grants to the management of the state.

11 A recognition by the public of the right of the state to exact the funds necessary to meet the services required of the state.

12 The right of future generations to a world of plenty.

13 The right of future generations to a world of peace.

14 The right of the people to expect from their leaders a determined effort to disencumber society from the barriers to world trade, world progress and world peace; and the right of these leaders to expect from the public something more than passive support in getting them removed.

Large hatcheries, and also large and small farms, furnish statements showing that hens fed on "Miracle" Hatching Mash (or home mash made with "Miracle" Hatching Mash Supplement) for a month before eggs are incubated give a remarkable percentage of hatch—often from 75 to 85% of the eggs set. This large increase over results of usual feeds means more chicks per dollar of feed and hatching cost. You can get these results if you use Long distance telephone lines are carrying an all-time record load. War is on the wires!

Can we add the usual load of Christmas calls and still assure prompt completion of vital wartime messages?

The answer is "Impossible!" — for war won't take a holiday!

Please don't make your usual Christmas Greeting calls this year! If you feel you must let far-away friends hear your voice, then call them a few days before or a few days after Christmas.

Even at Christmas war calls should come first. And our boys and girls calling home from camps all over the country will be delayed and disappointed unless you avoid your usual Christmas telephoning.

War needs the wires you'd like to use for Christmas calls.

AIR LETTERS

SHORTAGE OF AIRPLANE SPACE REPORTED

Ottawa, (CP.) — Postmaster General Mulock, because of the "acute shortage of space aboard ocean planes," asked Canadians to confine overseas air mail correspondence to armed forces air letters or to the airgraph service.

Airgraphs are available for messages both to the forces and civilians in Britain, the Middle East, India, South Africa, and other countries.

"Although the Canadian post office assures the public that any regular air mail received prepaid at the normal transatlantic rate of 20 cents per half-ounce will be given the fastest route possible, it is pointed out that the necessary facilities for this service are not regularly available and post office officials have been instructed to advise the public to use the airgraph system and surface means until regular air mail conditions improve (also armed forces air letter form to active service," said Mr. Mulock's statement.

"In the event that air mail is posted for overseas destinations it must now be restricted to items not exceeding two ounces in weight and if any are received over that limit they will be forwarded by surface, although prepaid for aid mail transportation."

Airgraph messages on microfilm and armed forces air letters, the combined air letter and envelope sent by air to the armed forces anywhere overseas, receive preference in the limited air mail space allotted transatlantic planes.

"Patrons are urged to use lightweight stationery at all times for their air mail correspondence, as this enables the authorities to dispatch the maximum amount of air mail in the limited space available under wartime conditions," Mr. Mulock said.

WHEN BUYING FRESH FISH FOLLOW RULES SUGGESTED BY FISHERIES DEPARTMENT

When buying fish here are points worth remembering from the Dominion Department of Fisheries:

Fresh fish is characterized by clear eyes which are not sunken, a fresh smell especially at the gills which should be red, and the flesh firm and elastic to the touch.

For a generous meal allow three servings to the pound for fillets and a half a pound per person for whole fish.

It is sound economy to buy a pound or so so extra when purchasing fish so that if any is left from the first meal it may not be wasted, but combined with the extra fish and used in another way for a second meal.

Winners Announced Lions Club Draw For Turkeys

The winners of the Lions Club turkey draw with tickets were sold during the past ten days, were Herbert Parks, Napanee, and Mary Knapp. The proceeds will be used to pay for cigarettes which have been sent to the Lions Club's members in the armed forces.

At the meeting of the Club Monday evening Christmas carols were sung with Gerald Smith as the song leader, Corporal Borden Lewis, who recently returned to Napanee from overseas, sang a solo "White Christmas."

Eight new members were welcomed to the club: Bruce Allenbrack, Morley Perry, Rev. Bowen, Holbert Empey, John Gilmore, Joe Reynolds, Sig. Wessman and Red Wessman.

The Beaver Santa Claus Fund has Christmas gifts for 80 children of the town and 26 Christmas dinners ready to be sent out before Christmas Day. While the number of families helped this year is less than in other years, it has, nevertheless, required a good deal of time and thought and work to make the necessary preparations, much of which has been done by Miss Josephine Leamy. Miss Leamy has been assisted by a number of women of the town, without whose help it would have been impossible to do the packing.

Those responsible for the administration of the fund are very grateful for the donations received and for all the help that has been given. So far the donations are much less than in previous years, and any other citizens who wish to make donations may do so, even after Christmas, so that all obligations may be met.

45 TONS POULTRY SOLD IN NAPANEE LAST THURSDAY

About 45 tons of poultry were sold in Napanee last Thursday at the Poultry Pair, making a total of over 100 tons marketed at the two poultry pairs held in Napanee, this year.

Prices paid last week were better than at the first fair on December 2nd and 3rd. Turkeys, last week, sold at 34c to 38c, compared with 30c at the first fair. Chicken at 24c to 29c was about the same as on December 2nd and 3rd; fowl, 20c to 22c, slightly over the first fair prices. Geese sold at 24c lb. and ducks at 25c last week.

Producers appeared to be well satisfied with the prices paid and the buyers considered the quality of the poultry extra good.

It is difficult to estimate the amount of poultry sold during the whole season, because a great deal of live poultry has been shipped almost daily this fall and winter. But Lennox and Addington is still retaining its reputation as one of the largest poultry producing counties in the province.

MARRIED MEN BETWEEN 19-25 LIABLE TO CALL

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Married men between the ages of 19 and 25 have been made subject to call for compulsory military service, it was announced officially by the Labor Department. At the same time the Department, which now administers the call-up machinery through National Selective Service, moved to clean up all single men in the age classes previously subject to call who have not received call-up notices or who have not received them, have failed to report.

Those men now are notified, by proclamation to report by filling out special forms which will be available shortly in all postoffices. The men affected by the proclamation are single men and childless widowers between the ages of 19 and 40.

Notices have not yet started going out to married men in the 19 and 20 classes but it is expected they will start moving in January.

As all men married since July 15, 1940, have been classed as single men for purposes of the call-up it is not believed a large number of married men will be affected by the new decision.

Only those who now are between 19 and 25, and who were married before they were 23 years of age will become liable to call, and the number of these is not believed to be large.

Candle Light Christmas Services In United Churches

Candlelight services were held last Sunday in Trinity and Grace United Churches and in spite of severely cold weather, large congregations attended both services. The churches were beautifully decorated with evergreen and the lighting was entirely by candles and small electric lights. The service at Trinity was held at five o'clock and consisted of carols ringing by the congregation and special numbers by the choir. The carols were thrown on a screen were illustrated with beautifully colored pictures. The choir for the night was made up of a junior and senior choir trained by Mrs. J. E. Madden, the organist and leader. The junior choir sang two carols, "Love Came Down at Christmas," and "Alleluia." Five boy soprano solos, Donald and Murray Hogarth, Donald Smith, Myron Mills and Gerald Creighton, sang "Brahm's Lullaby," most effectively. The choir's anthem was "Glory in the Highest" and "The Cherry Tree Carol." Mrs. Harold Denison sang as a solo "The Christmas Song."

In Grace Church the service was held at 7:30 p.m. The choir of nearly 100 voices was made up of two junior choir groups, seated on each side of the church in the balcony and the senior choir in the choir loft. As a processional the choir sang, "Holy Night." Carols were sung by the choir and the congregation. The junior choir sang "Holy Night, Blessed Night" and the senior choir sang "A Star was His Cradle."

"The Birthday of the King" was Mr. G. F. Smith's solo. "O Holy Night" was sung by Miss Phyllis Richardson, and "Night of Nights" by Allan Aylsworth.

The choir under the direction of Miss Letha Scott, and Mrs. B. M. Black was at the organ. During the service the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan, told a Christmas story.

HALF POUND PER PERSON BUTTER ALLOWANCE EACH WEEK IN CANADA

Order Made Effective Beginning of this Week

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Butter joined tea, coffee and sugar as a rationed food commodity, Monday, with each Canadian restricted to one - half pound a week.

Donald Gordon, chairman of the Prices Board, announced the new rationing measure Sunday night, declaring the step had been taken with reluctance and criticizing "some greedy and unscrupulous people" he said are aggravating local shortages and placing a strain on butter distribution.

The rationing order, which follows weeks of recurring butter shortages in eastern centres, has been forced upon the people generally because of the thoughtless and selfish action of a relatively small section of the community," Mr. Gordon said.

PRICE BOARD ORDER

Allied with the rationing order were these further steps:

1 Effective Monday the wholesale price will be reduced 1½ cents a pound to 35 cents a pound on the basis of Montreal and Toronto. Effective December 28 the retail price, where it has been increased since October 30, will be reduced to the October 30 level, and this will mean a reduction of two cents a pound at retail in practically all cases.

2 To compensate butter producers for loss of income due to abandonment of the plan permitting progressive increases in the butter price during months of low production, the butterfat subsidy of six cents a pound will be increased to 10 cents until May 1, when it will revert to six cents. Estimated cost of the added subsidy is less than $2,000,000.

The rationing plan affects every Canadian — producers as well as consumers. Farmers who may be producing butter are expected to observe the ration limitations.

The ration applies to every member of a household, children included.

SPARE "C" COUPONS

The "Spare C" coupons in existing ration books and temporary cards will be used in securing butter supplies. They are brown coupons numbered 1 to 11. No 1 is good today for the purchase of eight ounces of butter. The coupons are good for two weeks only, with the exception of Coupon No. 2, which is effective only from December 28 until January 3.

•Consumers who have more than a pound of butter on hand at the time of the household on hand today are required to report to the nearest office of the Prices Board not later than January 5 a written statement showing the amount together with butter coupons covering any excess. If they have insufficient coupons to cover the excess they must surrender coupons from later coupon issues.

CEILING TO BE SET ON ORANGES

Ottawa, (C.P.)—The Prices Board announced last week that oranges now have been made eligible for subsidy.

The board's announcement said that when the Government removed the duties and taxes on oranges it believed that consumers would benefit, but wholesalers and retailers to sell at prices not in excess of those which prevailed during the week ending December 12.

However, the recent temporary increase in the f.o.b. price of oranges has to some extent nullified the effect anticipated in the remission of duties and taxes.

The announcement said the general principles governing import subsidies will apply upon claims submitted to and approved by the Prices Stability Corporation. Subsidies will be payable to the importer who acquired title from the foreign supplier at the point of production, and will represent the difference in Canadian dollars between the price f.o.b. California points and $4 (U.S.) or the price f.o.b. Florida points and $3.25 (U.S.).

The board said that through this means oranges should sell at prices not in excess of those which prevailed at retail during the basic period, September 15 to October 11, 1941.

Before the end of the year, the board announced it intends to promulgate an order fixing retail prices for oranges and specifying that thereafter oranges must be sold only by weight.

CONST. BARRETT TRANSFERRED TO NIAGARA FALLS

Provincial Constable P. W. Barrett has been transferred from the County of Lennox and Addington to Niagara Falls, Ont., and expects to leave Napanee before the end of the year, to assume his new duties.

Constable Barrett has been a member of the Provincial Police Force since 1929. Previous to that time he was Chief of Police in Napanee for fifteen years. He has been prominent in fraternal circles in Napanee for many years and has been a most efficient and capable officer, both in the town and in the provincial force.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett came to Napanee from England about forty years ago. They have two sons, Sergt. Clifford Barrett, R.C.A.F., and W. F. Barrett, Napanee, superintendent of the Lerlkay and Addington Children's Aid Society. Mrs. Barrett expects to remain in town at least the winter months and is at the home of her son, W. F. Barrett.

Fish and Game Club Approves Constitution And By - Laws

At a meeting of the Lennox and Addington Fish and Game Protective Association in Napanee, on Monday night, the directors drew up a Constitution and By-Laws for the Association.

The various committees were appointed and the chairmen were as follows:

Conservation and Re-stocking — Mr. Carmichael.
Finance and Legislation— Major P. K. Kelcey, Mr. Frank Correll.
Entertainment — Mr. R. Hinton.
Membership — Mr. J. McPherson.
Hunting — Mr. J. Vine and Mr. B. Weese.
Fishing— Dr. McLaughlin and Mr. F. B. Mills.

A splendid programme was outlined for the winter months, among which was a community Fox Hunt for the Boxing Day Holiday, turkey shoot, motion pictures of various activities in connection with hunting and fishing.

The secretary was asked to write the Anglers Association to ascertain the possibility of becoming associated with the Provincial Association and report at the next meeting.

A resolution was also passed to have the Department of Game and Fisheries remove the Carp which are doing so much harm to the game fish and wild duck food in the vicinity of Hay Bay and the Bay of Quinte.

As there are so many members and prospective members outside the town who, during the winter are handicapped from attending the meetings in town, it was decided that every so often members from town journey to the outskirts of the County and put on programmes of motion pictures, etc., for their benefit. It was also decided that publicity be given the fact that all who wish to join in the undertaking should contact the secretary, Mr. Frank Correll, and that the 50 cent membership cards will be sent.

All British munitions of war sent to Russia have been sent under British Lend-lease. Up to the end of June 1942, practically all aid promised to Britain had been sent. This aid includes tanks, anti-aircraft guns, ammunition, radio equipment, machine tools, medical supplies, food and vitally needed raw materials.

Boy Scouts have started a scheme to raise a memorial fund. The memorial will be a house in London—to be built after the war — as a centre for Scouting.

Workers and employers have sacrificed peace time rights to ensure the maximum production. 8,000,000 workers in essential industry cannot quit their jobs or be dismissed, except by permission of the Government.

PREMIER ANNOUNCES LIQUOR RESTRICTIONS

Reduces Alcoholic Content of Beverages

Ottawa. — Under the new regulations announced last week by Premier Mackenzie King, all liquor sold in Canada will be limited in alcoholic content to 30 per cent under proof and most whisky will be less potent than at present, and after a period of six weeks no liquor advertising will be permitted in Canada.

The definition of proof spirits is a complicated one but liquor of proof strength is approximately 50 per cent. alcohol. Most popular brands of liquors now are either 24.75 or 25 under proof while some of the cheaper brands of rye whisky are sold at 30 under proof and will not have to change.

Some gins, officials said, now are only 25 under proof and some brandies are also strong in alcoholic content. Rums are the most common of the high-alcoholic-content liquors, running as high as 30 and 40 over proof. All these have to comply with the new order.

The order-in-council announced by Mr. King will bring the strength of liquors in Canada to about the level of spirits sold in the United Kingdom but considerably below the strength the United States where many brands are as high as 10 per cent under proof.

ALCOHOL SALES TO CEASE

The new order will mean the disappearance from the market of alcohol now sold in the liquor stores of several provinces. It has to be cut to 30 under proof and, of course, will be no longer alcohol.

Officials said they had no information as to what provincial liquor commissions will charge for the weaker spirits. Two factors figure in it. Whether the distillers will lower their prices to the commissions, and the amount of saving on excise duties. While the excise duty levied by the Dominion Government remains unchanged, it is figured that as many spirits tasks and accordingly less duty will be paid on 30 under proof liquor than on 25 under proof.

BASED ON LAST YEAR

In administering the new order, the distilleries will be required to supplying each of their customers with not more than 70 per cent. of the quantity in a general quarter supplied last year. Since the only customers are provincial liquor commissions the spirits available in each province will be based on the quantity sold last year.

The same system will be followed in the case of imported liquors. Only liquor commissions and distilleries can import spirits, and it goes into bond on arrival. The distilleries may import only for blending purposes.

FIX ORANGES AT BASIC PRICE

Retail and wholesale prices of oranges must not be more than the prices charged in the period Sept. 15 - Oct. 11, 1941, Mrs. Jean Bedford laid down in an order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board by which wholesalers and retailers are limited to the maximum prices established by them for the same kinds and sizes of oranges in the basic period.

Factors in bringing about the reduction in price are removal of the seasonal import duty, which this year became effective December 1st and removal of the war exchange tax of 10 per cent., which is retroactive to December 1st.

The order of any advance in producers' prices for the new crop, this will, if necessary, be offset by subsidy. The sum of $40,000,000 mentioned by Finance Minister Ilsley as the cost of reducing prices of tea, coffee, oranges and milk to the public included not only the elimination of duty and war exchange tax on oranges, but also a provision for subsidy, should this become necessary.

Retailers are now advertising oranges at from 7 to 10 cents per dozen less than the prices which were in effect before Mr. Ilsley's announcement.

FIRST CONVOY REACHES YUKON

INITIAL TRIP MADE OVER ALASKA ROAD

Edmonton (CP) — Wing Commander C. M. G. Farrell officer commanding Royal Canadian Air Force ferry operations bringing aid to the Yukon, revealed the safe arrival of a 100-driver convoy loaded with supplies for air bases along the Alaskan Highway route, the first such convoy to make the trip over the newly-completed highway between here and Whitehorse, Y.T.

The heavily-loaded motor caravan left Calgary about a month ago.

"All officers and men in charge of the convoy were immensely thrilled over the experience," Wing Commander Farrell said. "They reported the road in excellent condition and not a single truck was lost or even damaged.

He said that some of the temporary wooden trestles across northern rivers were carried away by ice but engineers had time to move the trucks across at these points and there was no delay.

CLEARS UP MISUNDERSTANDING ABOUT MEAT SALES

Fear having been expressed in some communities that farmers who have been in the habit of slaughtering live stock and selling meat to regular customers either on public markets or from door to door will be prevented from doing so under the slaughtering order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board its Foods Administrator points out that there is no intention whatever of interfering with this legitimate meat trade.

Farmers who engage in it are, of course, required to obtain permits before they carry out slaughtering of live stock for the sale of meat to consumers, but as long as the trade is conducted in accordance with the regulations of the Board and there is no attempt deliberately to evade those regulations or to violate the ceiling of maximum prices, the Board has no fear of interference with their accustomed activities.

Farmers who have always been in the habit of selling meat to their customers on markets or elsewhere will be permitted to continue that practice. They will be granted permits to carry on this trade as soon as they make application, and these permits will be in effect until such time as officers of the Board have investigated each case and decided it upon its merits, after which new permits for continued operations will be granted.

No permits are, however, needed when the farmer slaughters live stock for consumption in his own household.

PRESENTATION MADE TO MR., MRS. CHAS. GRAY, SELBY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray was the scene of a very happy occasion on Thursday evening, when their neighbors and friends assembled at an early hour to extend felicitations on the occasion of their approaching departure to their new home at Odessa. Before leaving, Rev. Mr. Merrick called the gathering to order and, on behalf of the assembly, Mrs. Melvin Windover read the following address:

Mr. and Mrs. Gray,

We your friends and neighbors, have assembled here this evening to express to you our regret that you are so soon leaving for another home.

From your earliest childhood this community has been your home. As time sped quickly on from childhood to manhood and womanhood you have made yourselves many warm friends. We have at all times found you the best of neighbors always cheerful and willing to lend a hand in any worthy cause.

From the church and the Sunday school you will be missed, although we look forward to many happy home comings. As you go from us and make new friends, may success and happiness follow you and your family but may you ever cherish many pleasant memories of Selby friends. As one link in memory's chain we ask you to accept this cabinet of silver.

With our very best wishes.

(Signed) on behalf of the neighbors, Earl Nugent, Chair., Percy Ross Dadgeon, Donald Pringle.

Mr. Ross Dadgeon made the presentation in a very happy manner.

While taken by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Gray acknowledged the gift given, assuring their friends that while it would be impossible for them to ever forget Selby and their associations of the past, they would take great pleasure in welcoming any and all of their old friends to their new home.

DOCTORS PERFORM MIRACLES IN THE DESERT DUST

BY PAUL CHADBURN

Paul Chadburn is a featured writer in "Parade," the weekly magazine published for United Nations' troops in the Near and Middle East.

Desert weariness, a disease with a local habitation and expressive name, sometimes appears in the tent "surgeries" of British army doctors in northern Africa. This is a form of nervous trouble that starts with some overstrain, perhaps in battle and cumulatively reaches breaking-point under desert conditions.

But the desert doctor's cases, when all is comparatively quiet on the battlefronts, are mainly such as rheumatism, jaundice, dysentery and malaria. Taken by and large, probably few doctors in the healthiest parts of England have fewer serious cases of disease to deal with. The M.O. of the camp from which this is written has to look after the health and hygiene of some 1,200 men. Of these, on an average only thirty a day come to his tent, and most of these have minor injuries. Whatever they have wrong with them, at least they do not suffer from the effects of city smoke, airless offices, sitting on stools or working in factories all day.

REMEDIES
FROM OPTIMISTIC NAZIS

The desert M.O.'s medical chest, often meagerly equipped at the beginning of the last campaign, grew fuller in the course of it. The Afrika Korps — a well-fed body, judging by its strange assortment of drugs, injections, salves and appliances — furnished a welcome, if not always serviceable, addition. There are now in many an M.O.'s tent special anti-snake and scorpion bite serums; quantities of food powder, drugs that combat the dysentery bacillus, and — of less use in the desert, since the diseases are not known here — medicines for cholera and black fever. Signs, perhaps, of Hitler's optimistic exhibitions of African conquest.

The desert M.O. is responsible for the hygiene of his area, so he travels with "recce" parties when a new campsite is being found, and makes sure the position is not malarial, or infected by refuse left behind by the enemy.

When the camp is established, he has the vital job of seeing that no epidemic breaks out. He must examine the latrines to see that all possible precautions have been taken to keep out flies. Dysentery-carrying and inspect cook houses to see that stall is properly disposed of. He also trains his First Aid parties.

When the battle is on, the doctors of the field ambulances and casualty clearing stations are in the thick of it. In no previous war and perhaps in no other front in this one, has the Army Medical Corps worked in such conditions as it has done in three recent desert battles.

A field ambulance at Sidi Rezegh found plenty of trained out, operating and tending the wounded with no troops between it and the enemy. Another that was captured and then German and Italian casualties to attend after, found one time for actual battleground of an encounter between opposing armies. Tanks, firing furiously, threaded between the rows of wounded. The German tank commander, in command of the operating table with an anti-tank bullet through his chest. The second-in-command, who came up to the dressing-station after being shot in the head, but refused to be done while the operating theatre — a converted three-tonner — was the pivot of the battle. Whereupon the Mark IV's sheered off.

The battle ebbed and flowed round this unit — men fighting each other and patching each other up. German guards accompanied the British doctors on their rounds.

Once, one of these guards went out for a smoke. Immediately afterwards, in walked a battle-stained soldier, a British officer. "What camp's this?" he asked.

"You'd better wait it," he was told by the M.O. "It's German." But the officer and re-enter immediately the guard. Next day the Germans retired and had to leave the unit behind, which somehow found itself to be released. This time it was a German officer who drove into the camp in an armored car one night. "I'll be seeing you," he remarked in English before they told him of the German withdrawal. But he was wrong.

So it goes on. Anywhere, on either side, at all hours of the day and night, the desert M.O. gets on with his job, and with him work his orderlies, the regimental stretcher-bearers, the drivers of motor ambulance convoys.

THEY EVEN HAVE A MOTTO

Then there are the doctors of the desert hospitals, of one desert hospital in particular — the one at Tobruk. It is split up into several sections, but whether the doctors and staff work in the bombed-shattered converted Italian barracks in the town, on the beach-head perimeter, or in the rock caves, they live up to the motto chalked up on the wal lof the hospital reception room: "Our aim is service with a smile."

You get some idea of this service from the number of cases that passed through the hospital during only the period of battle — 8,000. During the same period no fewer than 1,200 operations were performed. The twenty doctors had their hands, and the 500 hospital beds, full.

The Isle of Man has been at war with Germany for twenty-eight years. The Manx Government declared war in 1914 — but were never invited to Versailles and therefore did not sign the peace. So no new declaration was needed in 1939!

THE MIXING HOUR

THIS IS CHRISTMAS !

A Joyous Christmas to everyone! And as Tiny Tim observed, "God bless us every one!" Let's remember the happier things for a spell and dwell on the spirit of good fellowship, of thought for others, of heart warmth and old - fashioned cheer — for this is Christmas!

Yes! We shall keep Christmas. This year we will celebrate it more quietly, more simply. But the boys across the world — on land, at sea or in the air — will be able to think of us, at home, keeping Christmas for them.

The Christmas reason will mean more to you if you follow these three simple rules:

1. Look back to your very happiest Christmas and say: "It will be that way this year — we've so much to be thankful for."

2. Decorate — even though the materials are simple. There may be no Christmas tree but there will be evergreen sprigs, popcorn, cranberries, red and silver streamers and lots of other things.

3. Plan special menus for Christmas adding a festive touch to each meal. If this is something you have not tried before, then it will be a surprise for the family and they'll love it.

RECIPES
Liverwurst Canapes

One-quarter pound liverwurst, one teaspoon lemon juice, one teaspoon scraped onion, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, mayonnaise, crackers, six pimiento olives.

Remove the skin, and mash the liverwurst to a smooth paste. Add lemon juice, onion, salt and paprika; moisten with mayonnaise. Spread on crisp crackers. Top with pieces of pickle. (A tasty accompaniment with vegetable juices).

Savoury Dressing
(without butter)

Two cups soft bread crumbs, half-cup finely cooked prunes, one grated apple, one tablespoon minced onion, one tablespoon of sage, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon paprika, one-quarter teaspoon cinnamon (optional), one-quarter teaspoon thyme, half-cup of water.

Mix together lightly; do not mash. Enough for a four pound fowl.

Roast Turkey With Savoury Dressing

One twelve to fifteen pound turkey, salt, savoury dressing, baking fat.

Prepare young turkey for roasting. (Reserve wing tips, neck and gizzard to cook for broth). Rub well with salt. Stuff with Savoury Dressing. Sew securely. Rub outside with baking fat. Place on shallow pan and into a cold oven. Turn switch to BAKE and set control for 325 deg. Cook, timing turkey twenty minutes per lb. If a larger turkey, lower temperature to 300 deg. and cook eighteen minutes per lb. An old turkey should be cooked for a longer period — twenty to twenty-five minutes per lb.

Turkey Soup

Break turkey carcass in pieces, removing all stuffing; put in kettle with any bits of meat that may have been left over, cover with cold water, bring slowly to boiling point and simmer two hours with switch turned to "Low". Strain, cool, remove fat, and season with salt and pepper. One or two outer stalks of celery may be cooked with carcass to give additional flavour.

TAKE A TIP :

1 Make red oilcloth place mats for the Christmas table. They may be placed on top of the linen cloth for evening — plain — the cloth must do for the holiday week.

2 Where will Santa Claus put the presents this year? Around the fireplace, on the decorated buffet, or in a huge snow ball made by the boys covered with sheets and sprinkled with artificial "snow," opening at the side.

3 Trim the table with an idea in mind — a miniature church, an original floral arrangement, a tiny cardboard uniformed girls or men, if one of your guests is in uniform.

"TURNAROUND" TRADITION IS FOUNDED AT SHRISTMAS BY KHAKI-CLAD MEN AND WOMEN

Shristmas this year will be a "turnaround" time. Turning N. C. O.'s and other ranks of the Canadian Army in Military District No. 3. However, it is tradition.

Non - commissioned officers will scrub floors, and officers will wait on privates at mealtimes. Rank is spread on tables heavily laden with the Yuletide trimmings.

In all army training centres and establishments in Military District No. 3 special meals are being planned for Christmas Day, and in some instances, where personnel are going away for the holidays, these meals have already taken place.

STOPS GRUMBLING

A neat answer — to those who grumble about wartime shortages is given by a country clergyman to his congregation, relates The Leeds Yorkshire Post. The parson gives the grumblers a summary of how our forefathers managed to do without things we have come to regard as necessary. Our forefathers, he tells them, lived without:

Sugar till the 18th century.
Coal till the 17th century.
Butter on bread till the 15th century.
Tobacco or potatoes till the 16th century.
Tea, coffee or soap till the 17th century.
Umbrellas and lamps till the 18th century.
Trains, telephones, gas and matches till the 19th century.
Airplanes, motor cars and wireless till the 20th century.

And they had more than their share of wars.

Sauces for Holiday Puddings Create A Problem This Year

By now, Christmas puddings are made and stored away to await the moment when, steaming and fragrant, they provide the climax to the Christmas dinner The sauce for the pudding presents a bit of a problem this year, for the old favorites would make considerable inroads into the sugar supply, already feeling the strain of holiday baking.

The Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, has experimented with sugar saving to build delicious sauces that are not only suitable for Christmas but may be used the year round.

Orange Cream Sauce

Two egg yolks or one whole egg
Half cup sugar
Grated rind and juice of one orange
Small cream
One teaspoon grated lemon rind and three tablespoons lemon juice
Half pint cream

One cup evaporated milk
Chill evaporated milk until ice crystals begin to form. Whip till stiff. Add sugar mixture to the whipped milk and blend with egg beaters. Chill two and one-half to three cups of sauce.

This makes a rich sauce that is delicious with plum pudding, plain steamed or cottage pudding, gingerbread or as a topping for plain cake.

Foamy Sauce

One tablespoon cornstarch
One-quarter cup white sugar OR Half-cup brown sugar
One cup boiling water
One tablespoon butter
One teaspoon lemon rind
One tablespoon lemon juice
One egg

Combine cornstarch and sugar. Add boiling water gradually; boil three minutes in the top of a double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat, add butter, lemon juice and rind and stir till blended. Add mixture slowly to stiffly beaten egg white, stirring vigorously. Serve hot or cold with plum puddings, spice puddings or fruit puddings. If using brown sugar, lemon juice and rind may be replaced with half-teaspoon vanilla.

Cherry Sauce

Two tablespoons cornstarch
One tablespoon butter
One cup warm water
One cup juice from canned cherries

Half-teaspoon almond extract.
Combine cornstarch and butter, add water gradually, bring to a boil and cook, stirring constantly until thick. Add cherry juice and simmer ten minutes. Add extract. Yield, two cups. Serve hot or cold. If serving cold use only one tablespoon cornstarch for thickening. If unsweetened cherry juice is used add one-quarter cup of sugar to the recipe. Mix sugar with cornstarch and proceed as directed above. This sauce is delicious with Christmas pudding and may be made a day or two in advance as the flavor improves on standing. It may also be served cold with blanc mange.

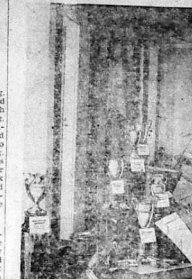
MORLEY E. MACKENZIE ANGLING CONTEST RESULTS ANNOUNCED



Toronto, Dec. 11—Unusually large fish took prizes in the Morley E. MacKenzie Angling Contest this year, according to reports released by Mr. Mackenzie today. The contest, the largest held in Canada, had prize winners in small non-fish bass, muskellunge, speckled trout, caught by bait and by fly, lake trout, pickerel (wall-eyed pike) and Pike. Canadians and residents of the United States divided the honors equally, with four first prizes going to each.

Trophies "breaks" of the year was that suffered by H. A. Lyle, Osgoode, Ont., who took the second place for speckled trout last year with a square-tail weighing seven pounds, three ounces, taken from Lake Nipigon on the 5th. Mr. Lyle returned to that section again this year and caught what undoubtedly was the largest fish of the type in Ontario this year — another lusher weighing four pounds, six ounces, with a girth of sixteen inches, and a length of 25. Conditions of the contest required that the length of fish entered must be received before the judge's decisions are made and for some reason Mr. Lyke did not comply with the requirement. Accordingly his entry was disqualified and major honors went to Charles H. Mullan, Sioux City, Iowa, with a trout weighing seven pounds, and fifteen ounces in the fly class, while an eight pound one ounce fish fell to the rod of John C. Beil, Washington, D.C., who took the bait class award.

Lake Nipigon and the Nipigon River, which includes undoubtedly the world's greatest speckled trout water, provided both winners and both runners-up for that species this year.

For the first time, northern Muskellunge water failed to score in the contest for these fishes. A 38-pound fish which was taken by Dr. James D. Chesstown, Youngstown, O., took major honors. It was caught in the Trent River, while second place went to Amedee Lorin's 35-pound eight and one quarter ounce fish caught in the St. Lawrence River—both in Eastern Ontario waters.

LIONS CLUB MEMBER VISITS BRITISH CHILD WAR VICTIMS HOMES

BY CAPT. GRAHAM M. JAMIESON,
1st En. The Regina Rifle Regiment, 3rd Can. Div, CA. O. S.

"We stand Steam Service." Rather odd name, isn't it? You know the society is the one that is responsible for running the Lions British Child War Victims Fund. No office upstairs, I'm told you, but it is run on the "one man" way of putting it, is not "Chairman Bill" in your mind to-day as you read this? Bill Chaffin is dismissing individuals in charge of some hard-to-get-at matters and making sure that they get in grab sufficient parachute to reach, to island, to safety and to bed.

Were you thinking that I was? I don't blame you if you were. Bill Chaffin since coming overseas I have been with him on visits to the homes and see what they are doing and how well they are succeeding. Did I ever see the surprise of my life when I stepped into the car to hear about it, so here goes.

Mr. Vaughan and I finally clicked on the 15th of September. I was one of the homes on 8th September. First of all we were to a nursery school. Nursery school, I hear you protest, a bombing young blood exclaim! Don't tell my wife's schooned us as the door, I expected to find bonnets and gray woodwork. It doesn't show the dirt as much). dark wallpaper or green wainscoting on the walls, and drab linoleum on the floors. Imagine my surprise on finding most of the woodwork enamelled in white, walls painted or papered in only light shades of colour, polished hardwood or colorful linoleum floors. In the living room French windows opened out on a lovely lawn surrounded by an impenetrable-appearing hedge and with a quaint old Spanish - type church at one end. There were sand piles and outdoor cots and the paraphernalia of a well - run nursery school.

Come to find out, this was the Hon. Mrs. Randolph Churchill's home which she turned over to the Society for the duration. Large items of her furnishings, drapes and rugs for the use of children and staff. Many of the homes at which "our" children are being cared for are acquired in this fashion.

A few glimpses around the house to tell the story: the little coats and hats in the cloakroom were varied in design and share of colouring. The towels, dressing - bags and tooth-brushes in the bathrooms were multi-coloured. The miniature dining-room suite was finished in light varnish, like the dishes were bright and colourful. The old and water-colour paintings on the walls were both artistic and juvenile. Just like a real home, you'd say. Exactly what I thought.

The children were out for a walk to see the morning train go through their little village when we arrived. This gave us a chance to see all around the building and to get some particulars regarding some of the children for whom we are providing. Michael, for instance, was a four years of age. His home was bombed. He was trapped inside. Rescue workers dug him out of the debris. He lost his speech through shock and fright. He is very much better now, but the effects of his dread ordeal are still plainly evident. Michael's father is in the army. His mother has sufficiently recovered to begin work in a munitions factory.

How did the children, most of whom have been through a blitz, react to bombing, I wanted to know. Well, this did happen: One night a violent thunderstorm. Mass hysteria broke out, with screams and shouts of "Bombs! Bombs!" Even the children under five insisted upon being taken down stairs. Thomas to the general procedure, but the nursery staff there has been no recurrence of this.

There's the odd bit of grim humour in, too. Blasting in a nearby town frightened the children one day but was quickly corrected by explained the cause, they were soon all quieting down. On another occasion there was real bombing nearby, and Matron hit on the happy thought of making stuff as blankets. One bright young cynic piped up, "Blasted bomb-ers, more likely!"

What about food? Not only here, but in private homes where I have inquired from time to time I have found that the British children are as well fed as ever they were. Milk, fruit, cod-liver oil and eggs are reserved for them, and only on rare occasions are any of them difficult to procure. The children are getting as many candies as ever. Actually so far as food is concerned, many of the nurseries fare better than those in ordinary homes.

We arrived at Knebworth Boys' Home in time for mid-day meal. The boys attend the local school, associating freely with the village children. They are free at any time to bring chums to meals with them, and they in turn are free to accept hospitality in return. Again there were no uniforms. Everything was natural and normal. All through the meal there was a buzz of conversation at all the tables. Three of "our" boys were in the group, two sets of brothers. I did not single them out from the others lest I should draw undue attention to them and embarrass them with the feeling that they were the objects of charity.

After tea we all gone back to school we went into the headmaster's living-room for tea and for a chat. I was much honored with him and with his wife. He has a thorough grasp of the problems confronting him, and an excellent technique for dealing with them. Most significant of all, his pupils are individuals to him. He knows them as a father knows his children. And no father could have a more personal interest in and ambition for his sons than has he for his boys.

A few things seen in the foyru of the school which followed are revealing. Every boy has a locker for his own personal things. None of them are locked. In fact, nothing in the whole building is locked, even the privacy of these lockers is respected. Seldom is there any pilfering, "which" said the headmaster in explanation, is a surprising how boys measure up when placed on their honour." I looked closely and I could find no evidence of pilfering anywhere about the building; names carved in desks and woodwork, broken plaster, smashed panels in pleasing shades of colour-ful, that you expect to find in schools but not in homes. The building was quite as well cared for as any home, and with evident pride. The hardwood floors, especially the lovely old ones with wide boards in the bedrooms, shone with wax. No ugly old gray blankets were draped on the beds. They were covered with bedspreads in pleasing shades of colour-ful, and a different colour scheme for each room. Evidence of craftsmanship were

War WILL CARRY ON...
and so must we!
"OF COURSE I realize that I must be at the switchboard on Christmas Day. War never takes a holiday, even at Christmas. There will be thousands of vital calls to put through.
"And our soldiers, sailors and airmen will be calling home all over the country. Their calls should go through as promptly as we can complete them. Long delays will be inevitable—unless you decide to avoid your usual Christmas telephoning.
"Won't you please help us at Christmas to get this really necessary job done? Can't you mail your Christmas Greetings this year? Or, if you find it absolutely necessary to make a telephone call, won't you please make it a few days before, or a few days after Christmas? That will be a great help.
"We shall be very grateful for your co-operation, and you will be safeguarding Canada's war effort."

Bath, Dec. 12. — The annual Commencement Exercises of the Continuation School was held on Friday evening in the Masonic Hall. An unusually large audience was present for both the programme and dance, which followed. A very pleasing feature was the presentation of diplomas to Dorothy Weese and Andrew Miller, for a completed Middle School. Others who received Lower School certificates were Anna Forbes, Maud McClelland and Bernard McDonald. The programme was varied. It included songs and a Scotch folk dance by five girls in kilted plaids and caps. The feature of the evening was a play "Cyclone Sally" by the senior students. Those taking part were Lois Ladley, Jennie Cooper, Alice Miller, Doris Webster, Maud McClelland, Allan Hawley, Bernard McDonald, Eric Feegel and Billy Vanalstine. Each member of the cast took his part exceptionally well and the audience was kept laughing throughout. One character actor applauded was Reginald Manners, the English gentleman which was taken by B. McDonald. His English accent was amusing. The proceeds of the lunch booth are to be spent on extras for the ex-pupils who are in the Forces.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson, in the sudden passing of the former's mother, Mrs. R. Jackson, formerly of Morven. The late Mrs. Jackson had come to Bath Thursday last to spend a few days at the home of Mrs. Jackson, Jr. On Saturday morning, when she did not come downstairs at the usual time, Mrs. Jackson Jr. went to her room and found her dead. SILLSVILLE

Sillsville, Dec. 21. — The annual Christmas concert of School Section No. 5, South Fredericksburgh, was put on by the pupils under the direction of their teacher, Miss Trumpour, in the hall at Sillsville, on Thursday evening last. There was a good attendance of parents and their friends and the sum of $11.90 was realized at the door. Before the programme, John Creighton sold copies of "The Victory Paper" the proceeds of which are for the Junior Red Cross. This interesting little paper of six sheets is prepared at school every two months. It contained besides the programme, news, personals, stories, current events, the results of exams and a want ady section. The program itself consisted of seventeen numbers all very interesting and very well done. The first one, "A Christmas Exercise," by the school, seemed to bring the Christmas atmosphere into the hall, with its shepherds and its the wise men bringing gifts to the babe in the cradle; and, of course, Santa Claus came at the end to distribute the many gifts from the tree.

Mr. J. B. Elliott was chairman and at the conclusion, Mr. McLean, seconded by Mr. Sharpe, moved a vote of thanks to Miss Trumpour and the children.

This district has suffered a week of severe winter weather, with the thermometer hovering around 25 and 30 below zero, until Saturday night, when it dropped to 42 below. This is most unusual for this time of year. With the prevailing shortage of coal, and very little wood being brought to the village, people are wondering how they will manage if the present conditions continue, and, as the first official day of winter has just passed, it seems a long way to spring.

Mr. S. Haggerty has returned from the General Hospital, Kingston, after having been a patient there for a few days. While splitting some wood in the basement of his home he had the misfortune to cut the middle finger off his left hand.

Mr. Kenneth Adair, of Oshawa, spent a few days recently visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Jas. Wood.

London firemen have cultivated gardens and allotments on the blitzed site of a bank. They have a fine show of vegetables, and have also planted apple trees. The shell of a bombed office building nearby they have made into a rabbit farm.

AVOID LOSSES ON YOUNG PIGS
Every runt in a litter, or one that dies young, represents a real loss of money. If young pigs are started on "Miracle" Hog Starter, runts will quickly achieve normal size, and the mortality will be lessened. Then, at the proper time if they are changed over to "Miracle" Hog Grower they will develop strong frames and fine flesh—faster. It pays in fewer losses and quicker marketing—better grading, too—to feed these feeds.

NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Last Train From Berlin — Smith

It is perhaps the most sensational book that has come out of Germany since the beginning of the war, describing the state of the Nazi home front as a result of the reverses in Russia.

Picture Gallery of Canadian History, Vol. 3 — C. W. Jefferys
History told mostly by pictures from Discovery Days to 1763.

The House in the Rain Forest — Crockett.

One of America's great reporters tells his story of the winter of 1941-1942 in Russia and Stalingrad. His flight to Cairo with the Litvinovs and their children, and his first-hand and breath-taking account of the battle against Rommel's tanks in the North African desert.

Fifty Years Below Zero — Brower
For fifty-seven years Charlie Brower lived within the Arctic Circle. Remarkable this, but the actual record of this long, useful and exciting life is more remarkable still.

Canada Today and Tomorrow — Chamberlin.
No full understanding of the part the North American Continent is playing in the war and will play in the future, can be had without familiarity with the facts which go to make up this comprehensive appraisal of Canada today.

A story of ordinary people in extraordinary circumstances. A book you can't stop reading until you have finished it.

Crescent Carnival — Keyes.
For the first time Mrs. Keyes has chosen the Deep South as a setting for a strong and spacious story, herself spending many months in the Crescent City while working on this novel of three generations. Crescent Carnival is the most significant of all her books; it is also the most exciting and the most entrancing.

Old Soldiers Never Die — Ronald
James Ronald has given us a glimpse of that unfathomable, contradictory and heroic thing — the English spirit. Quixotic, humorous, touched with nobility, "Old Soldiers Never Die" will be remembered as one of the clearest and most unforgettable reflections of a people fighting for a way of life.

CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

The dictionary definition of citizen is "a member of a nation or sovereign state — one who owes allegiance to a government and is entitled to protection from it.

Citizenship is defined as the status of a citizen with all its rights and privileges. We are all, as citizens, ready to avail ourselves of all the advantages and privileges of modern life, without considering the sacrifices and efforts of those of former generations, which have made this possible. This has perhaps caused us to become self-centred and indifferent to the sufferings, privations and opportunities of those not so fortunate as we are.

Citizenship deals with our relationship to our country, but Christian citizenship involves acceptance of our relationship to God, to our country and to our fellowmen. It means obeying the second great commandment of all, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." The Fatherhood of God and Brotherhood of man involved in race relationships are the foundation stones of Christian citizenship.

Too often we think only of our ourselves, of pleasure, of money-making, etc., and we neglect the more important things of life. The standards of nations are simply the standards of the individuals, who form the nations. It is perhaps due to God-seeking and God-fearing that the world is in the turmoil it is today.

At a meeting of the Social Service Council of Canada, some time ago, a speaker outlined causes of crime and suggested methods for its elimination. Some causes he named were, defective religious and moral training, defective home life, shiftless or dissipated parents, poverty, bad housing and divorce. He thought these might be eliminated by minimum wage legislation, correction of divorce laws, relief of unemployment, and an allowance to dependent mothers. Gambling, drug addiction and alcoholism were named as other causes of crime, and the need of moral and religious training of children, stressed. Another speaker discussed what he called "Social Minimum" as a goal towards which we should strive. Namely, the right of a child to be well born, to be brought up in a clean wholesome atmosphere, the right to have a good education, the right of every child to expect work when he is equipped for it, and the right of Canadians not only to be able to secure work, but to enjoy a decent wage.

In Biblical times Jesus drove the money changers out of the temple. It is our duty and responsibility as Christian citizens to try to preserve high ideals in our community, and nation, and endeavor to stamp out wrong, even though it takes moral courage to stand up for the right.

The women of to-day, through enfranchisement, have wonderful opportunities to help bring about moral and social reforms, but many do not avail themselves of these privileges. The struggle for the franchise has been a long weary one, involving effort and sacrifice, yet it is often held as of trivial value. We Canadian women, who have received this right so easily, can scarcely be expected to regard it in the same light as our British sisters or our sisters in the U. S. A., who had to put forth much more effort to accomplish their wish to be recognized as responsible citizens of their country.

As Canadian citizens we can plainly see that our Democracy is far from perfect. We can discern many evils and defects all around us. In our politics we cannot fail to see corruption in high places, the greed, the fear of readjustment of existing conditions, the bribery, the narrow partisanship and the low-type of citizen who is frequently elected to represent us in the various forms of democratic government. Let us, as Christian women of Canada, accept our responsibility in bettering these conditions.

The man or woman who lives only for self is a very small person, but that one who lives for others, even though this involves his or her own community, is living a life more abundant than any self-seeking politician. One who is victorious wields an influence which constitutes a challenge to others to go and do likewise.

We women, as citizens of the British Empire, should use every method in our power to enlarge our sphere of action, and as we reverently repeat "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done," we surely cannot refrain from using the power of our franchise, nor can we illuse this dearly bought heritage. When all around us is uncertainty and suspense, let us remember;

"Be Strong!
We are not here to play—to dream—to drift.
We have hard work to do and loads to lift.
Shun not the struggle—face it, 'tis God's gift.
Be Strong!"
Say not the days are evil—who's to blame?
And fold the hands and acquiesce—O shame!
Stand up, speak out, and bravely in God's Name.
"Be Strong!

Signallers At Vimy Now Publish Their Own Monthly Paper

Kingston. — Believed to be the only soldier-signaller magazine in the Canadian Army, the first edition of "The Signalman," a 20-pagad effort came "off the press" at the Canadian Signals Training Centre, Vimy Barracks, Kingston, this week.

Modelled after set-up, layout and headings of the magazine reflects experience in typography of the entire staff, which is composed of: Capt. H. F. Stappaus, of Winnipeg; editor-in-chief, Sgmn. D. G. Mantell, of Ottawa; associate editor, Sgmn. O. E. Spruml, of Toronto; School of Instruction Representative, Lieut. J. J. L. McCrear of Toronto; art editor, Sgmn. T. A. Allen, of Toronto; circulation manager, Sgmn. R. F. Brown, Toronto; editorial staff, Corp. J. Marlyn, of Winnipeg; Corp. Nickling, of Hamilton; Sgmn. "Red" Kieran, of Westmount, Quebec; and F. J. Todd, of Vancouver.

The pages are given to timely sports writeups, while other pages are filled with interesting campliffe items, training features, cartoons, and pictures.

The camp commandant, Lt.-Col. A. A. Anderson, D.S.O., has given his official blessings to the magazine, and in a short article, "The Colonel Speaks," points out that the training centre is not like a unit, as there is a constant changing of the personnel. He said the indefinable something known as "esprit de corps" must be built up to get the best out of the signallers stay at the centre.

Despite the many obstacles to be heralded in putting out a first edition, the magazine staff has done a real job. The office of the editor in the daytime is a sports storeroom, and in the evening is an editorial office, where the "reporters" bang out their copy surrounded by hockey pucks, goalers' pads, baseball bats and balls, skates, hockey sticks and other athletic equipment.

The men in the training centre have been asked to contribute to the magazine, and several have displayed their writing ability in this inaugural issue. Members of the Kingston area have placed advertising with the magazine, making its publication possible.

Nutrition Campaign Sponsored By Dominion Government

Official Dominion sponsorship for the Nutrition Campaign next January was provided this week when Prime Minister Mackenzie King issued a statement urging public support for this important war-time program.

Highlights of the Prime Minister's statement:

"Government departments, industry and voluntary associations will co-operate in this campaign. The support of all Canadians is essential to its success."

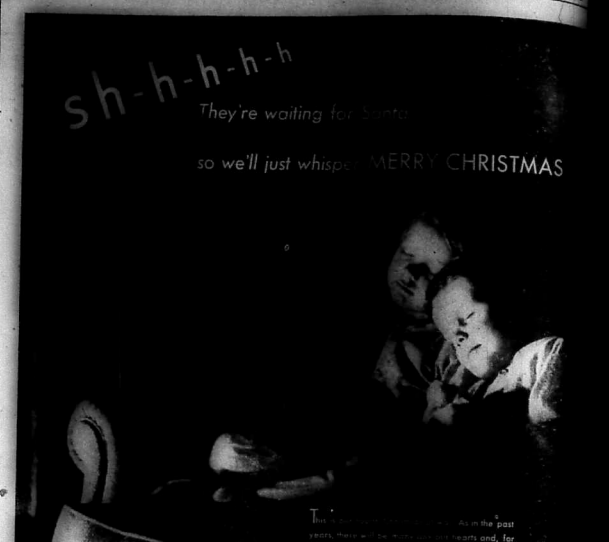
"Health is a vital dynamic factor contributing to victory."

"A proper diet for the people as a whole is a matter of national concern."

These statements by the Prime Minister of Canada indicate the importance of the January Nutrition drive. They illustrate also the necessity of supporting that drive. Experts contend that nutritional and local organizers, newspapers, magazines and other media. Nutrition is not a war project but it is also a foundation for the Canada of the future.

How many readers know the meaning of cullets and cullas? Several words appeared in the news recently and reminded a correspondent there are hundreds of words in daily use by many people that are unknown to most.

Cullets means merely broken glass collected for re-melting, usually with a special bread used by glass workers for ceremonial purposes.



This Christmas, as in the past years, their will be many sad hearts and, for most of us, the merriest attendant on the day will be restrained. But even with that the beloved Christmas customs and Christmas Carols, with their message of hope and faith, will bring comfort to a troubled world, and that in 1943 the promise of Peace on Earth will be fulfilled in the Victory of right.

Again our sincere thanks to our many friends and customers for their kind understanding, co-operation and patronage. To our employees, a full measure of appreciation for their sincere, loyal support.

40 DEATHS CAUSED BY TRAIN WRECKS EARLY THIS WEEK

Two train wrecks in Ontario, this week, took the lives of forty persons and caused a serious injury to over 150 others.

At Almonte, in Lanark County, 35 were killed or died from injuries and at least 150 others were injured when a troop train piled into the rear of a passenger train at Almonte station on Sunday evening, about 8:30. The C. P. R. passenger train, a little behind schedule, was about to pull out of the station, loaded with Ottawa Valley residents, homeward bound, after spending Christmas with friends, when a heavy troop train piled into it scattering many of the packed cars. Very little damage was done to the troop train and only slight injuries were suffered by its occupants.

No cause for the tragedy has yet been found, but railroad officials and provincial authorities are investigating.

A second wreck occurred on Monday near Nipissing Junction on the North Bay - Ottawa C. N. R. line. Five men were killed and others were injured.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

The keynote of Christmas festivities at St. Patrick's Church was sounded with the chanting of Midnight Mass, by the pastor, Dean Leacy, before a congregation which completely filled this sacred edifice, while it was estimated that more than a hundred people were unable to find accommodation. The sanctuary was tastefully decorated with spruce trees, while yellow and white 'mums, in profusion, banked the high altars.

The beautiful Crib depicting the first Christmas night at Bethlehem, drew large numbers of the congregation to it, after the conclusion of the service.

The choir, under the direction of Miss Agnes Cavanaugh, organist and choir director, ably rendered Pietro A. Yon's Mass of the Shepherds, and drew well - earned praise and congratulations from the entire congregation.

Dean Leacy extended Christmas greetings and was followed by Rev. Jos. Valliéres, C.S.S.R., rector of St. Mary's College, Brockville, who preached an eloquent sermon on the meaning of Christmas.

Low Masses were celebrated at nine and ten-thirty on Christmas morning, with large congregations at both of which Dean Leacy preached impressive sermons. He stressed the fact that Christmas Day, with all that it stands for, is the best sign of peace, to-day, in our war-torn world, and, that we need Christmas, together with everything it signifies, more to-day, than at any other time in the world's history.

RUSSIANS CONTINUE OFFENSIVE ACTIONS IN ALL SECTORS

Comparative Quiet Reported in North Africa

WEDNESDAY —

The Russians broke into the Ukraine, which was conquered some time ago by the Germans and the Nazis were reported retreating so fast the German air force was bombing its own ground troops in an attempt to halt the retreat. Two powerful Russian armies were used in the offensive — one driving westward toward Kharkov and the other toward Rostov.

• • •

Allied naval and air forces, in a series of fierce attacks on the Axis Tunisia-Sicily supply lines, sank at least six and probably ten supply ships and warships.

Desperate Japanese resistance continued in the Buna area of New Guinea, as two Allied forces came within a mile of closing pincers biting through the enemy's remaining Buna beachhead.

The R. A. F. and R. C. A. F. struck at a 135-mile stretch of the continent from Ghent, Belgium, to St.Lo, in France.

THURSDAY —

In the middle Don offensive the Russians advanced more than 100 miles in eight days. Furious battles continued at Stalingrad and in the Rostov sectors.

• • •

Land action in North Africa was still confined to patrol skirmishes because of bad weather. The Eighth Army continued to follow up Rommel and was ready to give battle to him whenever he made a stand.

• • •

Allied action against the Japs in the Indian Ocean continued to grow steadily, particularly by air.

Two Axis warships and eight merchant vessels were reported sunk or damaged along the Mediterranean supply routes, by Allied planes.

• • •

The docks at St. Malo, France, were bombed by the R. A. F. and no British planes were lost.

FRIDAY —

The Russians opened a major offensive in the streets of Stalingrad and continued to push back the Germans in the middle Don area, in the Caucasus and on the Central Front, west of Moscow.

• • •

The United States forces in New Guinea made advances and threatened to cut the Japanese Buna beachhead in two.

• • •

The main forces of Britain's Eighth Army occupied Sirte, 315 miles from the Tunisian Border and continued to keep contact with the retreating Axis forces.

• • •

The British beat off two Jap attempts to retake position in the Chin hills, in Burma.

• • •

Admiral Darlan's assassin was shot by a French Army firing squad.

SATURDAY —

The Russians were reported 125 miles from Rostov. So far this winter the Russians have regained more territory than they lost throughout the whole of last winter.

• • •

In Tunisia, continued downpouring rain held up ground action. The remnants of Rommel's army were said to be still in flight.

United States fliers destroyed 24 enemy planes in the Central Solomon Islands Enemy plane losses in the Solomons Islands campaign now stand at 667.

MONDAY —

Great advances were made during the week end by the Russians driving south to Rostov, west to Kharkov and north to Stalingrad. Moscow claimed that 300,000 Germans were trapped in the Don River pocket. The Russians were reported to be within 100 miles of the Black Sea port, Rostov.

• • •

British troops in Tunisia captured a strategic ridge and gained new positions along an are six miles east of a vital junction point. Two more enemy supply ships were sunk by British submarines, off the coast of Tunisia. In Libya the main body of the Eighth Army was reported well beyond Sirte.

• • •

In New Guinea the Allies continued actions which will result in the envelopment of the remaining enemy positions at Buna.

Jap bases in Burma and Siam were heavily bombed by the Allies operating from India.

• • •

A meeting will likely be held between General deGaulle and General Giraud, which it is thought will result in the uniting of all French forces fighting the Axis.

TUESDAY —

The Russian Army was reported threatening a town 90 miles southwest of Stalingrad, from three sides, and was only 45 miles short of a union with its middle Don forces. The Russian offensive in the middle Don continued to develop.

• • •

The rain let up in Tunisia and British patrols were more active, causing the enemy considerable loss.

• • •

It was reported the British Eighth Army had made contact with the rearmost troops of Rommel's retreating army in North Africa. Rommel's leading forces were said to be in Tripoli, indicating that he does not intend to make a stand against his pursuers.

• • •

A large force of United States fourmotored bombers dealt a second destructive blow at Bangkok, Japanese-held capital of Siam.

Local Ration Boards Duties Outlined

Toronto. (C.P.) — L. B. Unwin of Montreal, administrator of consumer rationing for the Prices Board, said, last week, that "total problems can only be dealt with effectively by local boards."

Outlining the function of local boards, he said they should issue temporary permits to members of the Armed Services on seven - day leave; supply temporary cards to Canadian visitors assist persons who lose coupons; record address changes; handle applications for baby ration books and look after complaints.

GLENORA FERRY ENDS SEASON

The ferry at Glenora - Arodphustown crossing ceased operations for the season on Saturday. The Bay is now frozen over at that point.

Farmers To Colect Ration Coupons For Butter

Now rapidly coming into operation throughout Eastern Ontario, the new Local Ration Boards, which will supervise consumer rationing in the territories assigned to them, have had important responsibilities given them under the butter rationing order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Ottawa announces.

This order provides that every farmer who makes butter on his farm must register with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board as a manufacturer of butter, and he will do this by sending his name and address to the nearest Local Ration Board before January 31st, 1943.

Moreover, every farmer who sells butter made on his farm, either direct to the consumer or to stores, must collect the proper number of brown coupons covering these sales, and these are to be turned in to the Local Ration Board. Coupons thus collected for the remainder of December and for all of January need not be turned in until the end of the latter month. Thereafter all coupons must be turned in at the end of every month.

Every farmer who makes his own butter and who consumes it in his own household must also turn in every month enough coupons to cover the butter so consumed, at the rate of one coupon per half-pound of butter per week for every person in the household.

DAIRY BUTTER IS ALSO RATIONED

Dairy butter is covered by the rationing order now in effect, and farmers or others selling butter of their own production are required to collect coupons from consumers and the appropriate documents from commercial customers. The order requires every producer of dairy butter to register with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board by sending his full name and address to the Local Ration Board in a statement that he is making butter. Producers of dairy butter who consume it in their own household are to forward at the end of January, 1942, and each monthly thereafter, all butter coupons not used in acquiring butter from any other person. They are allowed to acquire in this way only the difference between household consumption and the amount which they would have lawfully acquired on the ration basis They must record all their transactions in butter. Although farmers who are producers of dairy butter must not sell or supply butter unless they have been registered as producers with the Board.

SERIOUS FIRE DESTROYS LARGE BLOCK IN VILLAGE OF BATH

Frame Buildings Over 100 Years Old are Burned

Early Saturday morning fire broke out in the main block of the village of Bath and completely destroyed seven buildings, forcing fourteen families out into zero weather in night attire.

The fire broke out in the centre of the wooden block and spread both ways with such rapidity that it was impossible for firemen from Kingston and Napanee to save the block. No one was injured, except from exposure in the bitter cold. Origin of the fire is not known, but is believed to have started in the back shop and the hotel hall operated by J. H. Osborne. Most of the buildings were of wooden frame and dried from over 100 years of wear. One of the buildings was 162 years old.

Mrs. Ray Calvert, telephone operator at Bath was a heroine in her efforts to call help. She phoned the Kingston fire department, although an adjoining building was burning, while she also aroused neighbors before leaving her telephone board.

Mrs. Charles Merkley and her five children escaped from the burning building and found refuge in a house across the road from the fire, which was saved from destruction by George Labarby. 16, who started a bucket brigade to pour water on the house.

Among the families now homeless are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cade and two children; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Beaubeard, Mrs. Charles Merkley and five children; Mr. and Mrs. Lennox, who lived back of their store; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hegadorn, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Hoselton, one child; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calvert, and one child; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hegadorn, Mrs. Wilmot Wort and Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson.

The village experienced a bad fire in the year 1925, when St. John's Anglican Church, the oldest Anglican Church in Canada, was destroyed by fire, but was later rebuilt. The original church was erected in 1790.

Mass Aluminum Output Plan Proposed by Brazilian Government

New York. (A.P.) — Give Brazil the machinery and other nations in pre-war to produce 100,000,000 pounds of aluminum annually for war planes, Joao Alberto Lins de Barros, Brazilian co-ordinator of economic stabilization, said recently.

"We have tremendous electrical power to begin manufacture of the finished product, and we have the man-power," De Barros, emissary of President Vargas to the United States said in an interview. "Now we need only the assurance that we can get the machinery, because your own geologists and engineers have discovered that Brazil has deposits of high-grade bauxite (aluminum ore) which will last 45 years.

"Lack of shipping facilities can be overcome by producing finished aluminum at the source — even to the extent of building bombers and fighter planes ready to transport.

"It is a simple matter of arithmetic to understand Brazil's desire to enter the production field when you consider that 25 tons of aluminum is recovered from 100 tons of bauxite a vast saving of cargo space can be effected through the production plan we propose."

A few months ago the Reynolds Metals Company, he said, surveyed the aluminum deposits in Brazil and found the outlook so promising the company offered to assist in the financing of Brazilian refining plants.

It went out of sight

40 DEATHS CAUSED BY TRAIN WRECKS EARLY THIS WEEK

Two train wrecks in Ontario, this week, took the lives of forty persons and caused a serious injury to over 150 others.

At Almonte, in Lanark County, 35 were killed or died from injuries and at least 155 others were injured when a troop train piled into the rear of a passenger train at Almonte station on Sunday evening, about 8:30. The C. P. R. passenger train, a little behind schedule, was about to pull out of the station, loaded with Ottawa Valley residents, homeward bound, after spending Christmas with friends, when a heavy troop train piled into it shattering two of the packed cars. Very little damage was done to the troop train and only slight injuries were suffered by its occupants.

No cause for the tragedy has yet been found. But railroad officials and provincial authorities are investigating.

A second wreck occurred on Monday near Nipissing Junction on the North Bay - Ottawa C. N. R. line. Five men were killed and others were injured.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

The keynote of Christmas festivities at St. Patrick's Church was sounded with the chanting of Midnight Mass, by the pastor, Dean Leacy, before a congregation which completely filled that sacred edifice, while it was estimated that more than a hundred people were unable to find accommodation. The sanctuary was tastefully decorated with spruce trees, while yellow and white mums, in profusion, banked the high altars.

The beautiful Crib depicting the first Christmas night at Bethlehem, drew large numbers of the congregation to it, after the conclusion of the service.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs Agnes Cavanaugh, organist and choir director, ably rendered Pietro A. Yon's Mass of the Shepherds, and drew well - earned praise and congratulations from the entire congregation.

Dean Leacy extended Christmas greetings and was followed by Rev. Jos. Valleres, C.SS.R., rector of St. Mary's College, Brockville, who preached an eloquent sermon on the meaning of Christmas.

Low Masses were celebrated at nine and ten-thirty on Christmas morning, with large congregations at both of which Dean Leacy preached impressive sermons. He stressed the fact that Christmas Day, with all that it stands for, is the best sign of peace, to-day, in our war-torn world, and that we need Christmas, together with everything it signifies, more to-day, than at any other time in the world's history.

Comparative Quiet Reported in North Africa

WEDNESDAY —

The Russians broke into the Ukraine, which was conquered some time ago by the Germans and the Nazis were reported retreating so fast the German air force was bombing its own ground troops in an attempt to halt the retreat. Two powerful Russian armies were used in the offensive — one driving westward toward Kharkov and the other toward Rostov.

• • •

Allied naval and air forces, in a series of fierce attacks on the Axis Tunisia-Sicily supply lines, sank at least six and probably ten supply ships and warships.

• • •

Desperate Japanese resistance continued in the Buna area of New Guinea, as two Allied forces came within a mile of closing pincers biting through the enemy's remaining Buna beachhead.

• • •

The R. A. F. and R. C. A. F. struck at a 135-mile stretch of the continent from Ghent, Belgium, to St.Lo, in France.

• • •

THURSDAY —

In the middle Don offensive the Russians advanced more than 100 miles in eight days. Furious battles continued at Stalingrad and in the Rzhev sectors.

• • •

Land action in North Africa was still confined to patrol skirmishes because of bad weather. The Eighth Army continued to follow up Rommel and was ready to give battle to him whenever he made a stand.

• • •

Allied action against the Japs in the Indian Ocean continued to grow steadily, particularly by air.

• • •

Two Axis warships and eight merchant vessels were reported sunk or damaged along the Mediterranean supply routes, by Allied planes.

• • •

The docks at St. Malo, France, were bombed by the R. A. F. and no British planes were lost.

• • •

FRIDAY —

The Russians opened a major offensive in the streets of Stalingrad and continued to push back the Germans in the middle Don area, in the Caucasus and on the Central Front, west of Moscow.

• • •

The United States forces in New Guinea made advances and threatened to cut the Japanese Buna beachhead in two.

• • •

The main forces of Britain's Eighth Army occupied Sirte, 314 miles from the Tunisian Border and continued to keep contact with the retreating Axis forces.

• • •

The British beat off two Jap attempts to retake position in the Chin hills, in Burma.

• • •

Admiral Darlan's assassin was shot by a French Army firing squad.

SATURDAY —

The Russians were reported 135 miles from Rostov. So far this winter The Russians have regained more territory than they lost throughout the whole of last winter.

• • •

In Tunisia, continued downpouring rain held up ground action. The remnants of Rommel's army were said to be still in flight.

United States fivers destroyed 34 enemy planes in the Central Solomon Islands Enemy plane losses in the Solomon Islands campaign now stand at 687.

MONDAY —

Great advances were made during the week end by the Russians driving south to Rostov, west to Kharkov and north to Stalingrad. Moscow claimed that 300,000 Germans were trapped in the Don River pocket. The Russians were reported to be within 100 miles of the Black Sea port, Rostov.

• • •

British troops in Tunisia captured a strategic ridge and gained new positions along an arc six miles east of a vital junction point. Two more enemy supply ships were sunk by British submarines, off the coast of Tunisia. In Libya the main body of the Eighth Army was reported well beyond Birte.

• • •

In New Guinea the Allies continued actions which will result in the envelopment of the remaining enemy positions at Buna.

• • •

Jap bases in Burma and Siam were heavily bombed by the Allies operating from India.

• • •

A meeting will likely be held between General deGaulle and General Giraud, which it is thought will result in the uniting of all French forces fighting the Axis.

TUESDAY —

The Russian Army was reported threatening a town 90 miles southwest of Stalingrad, from three sides, and was only 45 miles short of a union with its middle Don forces. The Russian offensive in the middle Don continued to develop.

• • •

The rain let up in Tunisia and British patrols were more active, causing the enemy considerable loss.

• • •

It was reported the British Eighth Army had made contact with the rearmost troops of Rommel's retreating army in North Africa. Rommel's leading forces were said to be in Tripoli, indicating that he does not intend to make a stand against his pursuers.

• • •

A large force of United States fourmotored bombers dealt a second destructive blow at Bangkok, Japanese-held capital of Siam.

Local Ration Boards Duties Outlined

Toronto, (C.P.) — L. B. Unwin (Montreal), administrator of consumer rationing for the Prices Board, said, last week, that "total problems can only be dealt with effectively by local boards."

Outlining the function of local boards, he said they should issue temporary permits to members of the Armed Services on seven - day leave; supply temporary cards to Canadian visitors and persons who lose coupons; record address changes; handle applications for baby ration books and look after complaints.

V

GLENORA FERRY ENDS SEASON

The ferry at Glenora - Ardoghtown crossing ceased operations for the season on Saturday. The Bay is now frozen over at that point.

Farmers To Colect Ration Coupons For Butter

Now rapidly coming into operation throughout Eastern Ontario, the new Local Ration Boards, which will supervise consumer rationing in the territories assigned to them, have had important responsibilities given them under the butter rationing order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which is now in effect.

This order provides that every farmer who makes butter on his farm must sell it to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board as a manufacturer of butter, and he will do this by sending his name and address to the nearest Local Ration Board before January 31st, 1943.

Moreover, every farmer who sells butter made on his farm, either direct to the consumer or to stores, must collect the proper number of brown coupons covering these sales, and these are to be turned in to the Local Ration Board. Coupons thus collected for the remainder of December and for all of January need not be turned in until the end of the latter month. Thereafter all coupons must be turned in at the end of every month.

Every farmer who makes his own butter and who consumes it in his own household must also turn in every month enough coupons to cover the butter so consumed, at the rate of one coupon per half-pound of butter per week for every person in the household.

V

DAIRY BUTTER IS ALSO RATIONED

Dairy Butter is covered by the rationing order now in effect, and farmers or others selling butter in their own premises are required to collect coupons from consumers and the appropriate denominations from commercial customers. The order requires every producer of dairy butter to register with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board by sending his or her name and address to his Local Ration Board in a statement that he is making butter. Producers of dairy butter who consume it in their own household are to forward by the end of January, 1943, and monthly thereafter, all butter coupons not used in acquiring butter from other persons. They are also allowed to acquire in this way only the difference between household consumption and the amount which they would have lawfully acquired on the ration basis. They must record all their transactions in butter. After January 31st, 1943, producers of dairy butter must not sell or supply butter unless they have been registered as producers with the Board.

Dear Friends :—

We your neighbors and friends have met this Christmas night to bid you "bon voyage" on the anniversary of your sixty years of married life.

To many of us this seems a little time but to you who have lived a life such as you have, it is only a fond remembrance of God's will.

We meet tonight, to extend to you our very best wishes, and ask you to accept these gifts and express the hope that you may enjoy comfort while using them.

It surely has been an inspiration to enjoy such Christian influence and the fellowship that you have exercised in our midst during all these years.

And I am sure it is the desire of everyone of your friends, of which you have a great many, that your remaining years with us will be happy and many.

(Signed) on behalf of your neighbors.

Mass Aluminum Output Plan Proposed by Brazilian Government

New York. (A.P.)—Give Brazil the machinery and the capital and it is prepared to produce 100,000,000 pounds of aluminum annually for war planes, Joao Alberto Lins de Barros, Brazilian co-ordinator of economic stabilization, said recently.

"We have tremendous electrical power to begin manufacture of the finished product, and we have the man-power," De Barros, emissary of President Vargas to the United States said in an interview. "Now we need only the assurance that we can get the machinery, because your own geologists and engineers have discovered that Brazil has deposits of high-grade bauxite (aluminum ore) which will last 85 years.

"Lack of shipping facilities can be overcome by producing finished aluminum at the source — even to the extent of building bombers and fighter planes ready to transport."

"It is a simple matter of arithmetic to understand Brazil's desire to enter the production field when you consider that 25 tons of aluminum is recovered from 100 tons of bauxite a vast saving of cargo space can be effected through the production plan we propose."

A few months ago the Reynolds Metals Company, he said, surveyed Brazilian deposits in Brazil and found the outlook so promising the company offered to assist in the financing of Brazilian refining plants.

There was a young girl in the choir
Whose voice went up hoir and hoir
Till one Sunday night
It went out of sight
And they found it next day in the spoir

SERIOUS FIRE DESTROYS LARGE BLOCK IN VILLAGE OF BATH

Frame Buildings Over 100 Years Old are Burned

Early Saturday morning fire broke out in the main block of the village of Bath and completely destroyed seven buildings, forcing fourteen families out into zero weather in night attire.

The fire broke out in the centre block, and because of the high winds with such rapidity that it was impossible for firemen from Kingston to control their work. No one was injured, except from exposure in the bitter cold. Origin of the fire is not known, but is believed to have started in the barber shop and billiard hall operated by J. E. Osborne. Most of the buildings were of wooden structure and dried from about 100 years of wear. One of the buildings was 103 years old.

Mrs. Ray Calvert, telephone operator at Bath ,was a heroine in her efforts to call help. She phoned for the Kingston fire department, although an adjoining building was burning, while she also aroused neighbors before leaving her telephone board.

Mrs. Charles Merkley and her five children escaped from one burning building and found refuge in a house across the road from the fire, which was saved from destruction by George Labarby, 16, who started a bucket brigade to pour water on the house.

Among the families now homeless are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cade and family, Osborne, and Mrs. R. P. Shepherd. Mrs. Charles Merkley and five children; Mr. and Mrs. Lemmon, who lost all their stock in trade; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hegadorn, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Hoselton, and one child; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calvert, and one child; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hegadorn, Mrs. Wilmot Wort and Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson.

The village experienced a bad fire in the year 1822, when St. John's Anglican Church, the oldest Anglican Church in Canada, was destroyed by fire, but was later rebuilt. The original church was erected in 1792.

THE NEW YEAR

As 1942 draws to a close we breathe a sigh of relief. It has been a year of anxiety not untouched with hope. Behind all the tragedies that have marked the year there has been the confidence that The United States was coming into the world struggle with increasing force, vigor and material aid. The production of munitions of war has increased beyond what anyone could have believed possible, a few years ago. There has been an increasing demand on our manpower. We have suffered losses in the air, on the seas, and on the land. There has been a shortage of certain foods. We are experiencing rationing of an increasing number of commodities. In every way Canada is more conscious of being at war than ever before. In every way it has been a year of consolidation, of preparation, and of getting ready.

The New Year will not be an easy year. We are faced by a strong, unscrupulous and clever enemy. He will not easily be beaten. The cost of overcoming his initial advantage, and the gains he has made in the conquered countries, will be heavy in life and materials.

But the Axis powers have reached their zenith. They can not look forward to campaigns of aggression such as have marked the first three years of the war. They will be on the defensive. They will have to change their strategy so that they will be on the alert to ward-off attacks and to hold what they have. The year closes with the Allied Nations on the aggressive on every front. The New Year will see that aggressive movement pushed on with vigor. The people on the home front are grimly and determinedly backing up the military effort:

Considering these facts and the increasing power of the Allied Nations, we may look forward, with confidence, to the achievements of the year on which we are entering.

V

THE DARLAN EPISODE

Admiral Jean Francois Darlan was assassinated in cold blood. Whether he was killed because of his aid to the Allies, or because of his earlier Fascist leanings, nobody at the present time, is able to discover from the meagre reports which have been allowed to come through. The German controlled Paris press blames it on the Allied Nations, while General Bergeret (like Darlan, a recent convert from Vichy) blames it on the Axis. Much has been made of the fact that the young man who shot Darlan was of Italian descent. Why Darlan was assassinated will probably not be known for the duration and probably historians for years after, will have a first - class controversy, until the truth is finally unearthed.

The death was branded by President as "murder in the first degree." Vengeance was swift—the assassin was quickly dispatched.

The political effects of the Darlan episode may not be without advantage to the Allied cause. The appointment to the position of Supreme Commander in French Africa, led to a bitter estrangement between the fighting French and the newly acquired friends of the Allied cause. General DeGaulle and his organization were opposed to Darlan. They were unwilling to believe that one so lately in the Vichy Government, could be sincerely converted overnight. They felt that having been on the side of the United Nations from the time of the fall of France, they themselves should have been charged with the responsibility of handling the affairs of French Africa.

There were those in the United Nations too, who were not so sure of Darlan. There were suspicions that he was the spokesman for the wealthy Fascist group in France who, seeing their power and influence waning, had fled to North Africa, where there was abundant raw materials and cheap labor on which to erect a new French industrial empire.

Now that Darlan has gone the situation has been eased considerably. The appointment of Giraud, to Darlan's position, will do much to heal the breach between the French sections and will renew confidence in the sincerity of the French move towards the United Nations. Giraud is a national hero in France. He is not a politician. He is a soldier, and as such holds the good will of all classes in his own country and the admiration of all in the United Nations. The suspicions which surrounded the Darlan appointment will now be dissipated.

Shortly after his elevation to the new office of High Commissioner for Africa, Giraud said: "In assuming the functions of High Commissioner of French Africa, after the tragedy which cost Admiral (Jean Francois) Darlan's life, I ask all to stand united behind me to assure, with the support of our Allies, the success of our armies. Only one thing counts: France and her Empire. There will be one aim, Victory."

It may just be that the death of Darlan will effect that unity of French fighting forces which is so much to be desired, and so essential to victory.

V

THE LIQUOR RESTRICTIONS

Those who listened to Prime Minister Mackenzie King's address on the liquor situation in Canada, must have been impressed with the quality of the address and the evident sincerity and conviction with which it was delivered. Premier King recognized fully the disastrous effect of the liquor traffic on our war effort. He pled with the people of Canada to impose on themselves the discipline of moderation and temperance, and he outlined certain restrictions as a government policy. These restrictions were:—

1 Reduction during the year beginning November 1, 1942, as compared with the previous twelve months, of the amount of alcoholic drinks available for sale, as follows: beer, 10 per cent., wine 20 per cent., spirituous liquors 50 per cent.

2 Alcoholic content of all imported or domestic spirituous liquors to be reduced to a maximum of 30 per cent. under proof.

3 Fortification of wine with distilled liquors prohibited.

4 Prohibition of advertising of spirituous liquors, wine and beer, throughout Canada for the duration of the war, effective not later than February 1st, 1943.

5 The Prime Minister appealed to the Province to reduce the hours of sale to a maximum of eight hours a day.

This is some concession to the insistent clamor of public opinion, and it implements the pledge given to the delegation from The United Church of Canada in September. And we are certainly grateful that the Prime Minister is awake to the dangerous effect which the increase in consumption of liquor has on the morale of our people and on our war effort.

At the same time, it would be well not to let our enthusiasm override our judgment.

The two factors which are still causing some concern are the ones which deal with advertising and with beer. The Montreal Gazette more than hints that the ban on advertising is not so serious, for liquor firms may still use space without mentioning brands of liquor. That will have to be watched.

The disturbing fact about beer is that there has been a 60 per cent. increase in consumption since the outbreak of the war, and with a reduction of ten per cent. the amount left over from bond will still be fifty per cent. more than prewar requirements. This does not promise much reduction in drinking and its results.

Nevertheless, we must be grateful to a Prime Minister who was able, even in a small way, to withstand the power of "the interests" and it will be a mark of our sincerity if the citizens co-operate with his request, in their personal deportment.

HOPEFUL SIGNS

One of the hopeful signs in a world which is plunged into a tragic conflict of armed forces is the increasingly large number of individuals and groups who are seriously studying plans for the future of society. Perhaps if war had to come, history may record that its coming within the lifetime of those who lived through the First World War was a fact of the greatest influence on the society of tomorrow.

As we thing back over the years 1914-18, we can recall little attention to the world of to-morrow was paid by the common man. Today, though not any less than those of the former generation, ours is determined on victory, yet more thought is being given to the world which shall emerge from the conflagration. Here and there, throughout the Democracies, study groups are grappling with the question. Large influential organizations are seeking the basis for a "just and durable peace." In England, in the United States and in Canada, men and women, in a quiet, thoroughgoing way are analyzing the causes of war, and seeking how best they may be removed. They are dealing with "imperialism," "race discrimination," "tariff restrictions," "education," "religion," "money", and a thousand and one other subjects which stem from a complicated, coordinated world order.

Probably not many of these will arrive at a blue print for the world that is to be, but they give ground for hope in two respects. In the first place, they reveal the desire of men and women to avoid, if within human possibility a repetition of what is now being enacted, and in the second place, they are creating a public opinion and preparing men's minds for future changes which are essential to a stable peace.

The world is in a state of flux. We are passing through one of the great creative eras of history. We are making our decisions now, and that men and women are thinking, planning and dreaming of tomorrow, is our hope. But a word of warning may not be amiss. We are making decisions now which may determine our future, and we ought not to be so concerned about the world of tomorrow that we overlook the world of today. For there is a danger that when the war ends we may awake to the fact that there is little to be done, for the kind of world we want has been determined by decisions made during the conflict.

DRAMA OF CANADA'S MERCHANT SHIPPING — 1,200 TONS TO 900,000 TONS IN THREE YEARS

BY CHARLES CLAY

Charles Clay has written extensively on Canadian war problems. He is author of "So You Want a War Job."

In the year prior to the war Canada built only 1,200 tons of shipping. This calendar year she will build about 900,000 ton sof merchant shipping as well as a large number of naval vessels.

Canada's nineteen major shipyards and fifty-eight smaller ones, together with 190 engineering shops and 300 industries of various kinds and sizes, are making a substantial contribution to the United Nations' war effort.

THESE ARE THE RESPONSIBLE HEADS

This construction programme falls into three parts, which are under the general direction of the Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply. The first two divisions involve steel and wooden shipbuilding and envisage the continuous expansion of Canada's Navy. The Director-General of Shipbuilding of the Department is Desmond Clarke, is the head of this work.

The third division of Canada's shipbuilding programme is cargo vessel building, is the responsibility of Wartime Merchant Shipping Limited, under H. R. Macmillan. An important ship repair programme, which is administered by a Controller of Ship Repairs, D. B. Carswell.

The whole shipbuilding is ambitious, but the blue-prints are materializing day by day and week by week into sturdy cargo boats and speedy men-o'-war. The Dominion's shipbuilding programme is constantly being expanded. Orders placed for ships now exceed $500,000,000.

FORMERLY A STAGNANT INDUSTRY

This shipbuilding accomplishment is doubly significant, because it is of recent growth, and spectacular growth. When war broke, Canadian shipbuilding was a starved industry. It is true that imperial aid had been given to ship construction during the 'twenties, when shipyards were established on the East and West coasts and a number of shipbuilders were built in 1920, but production ceased.

But the industry did not survive the lean years of the depression; in 1932 Canada built five ships totalling 2,123 tons; in 1933, two ships totalling 919 tons; in 1934 three ships totaling 862 tons. Personnel moved from active industries, yard facilities fell into decline, and a general lifelessness paralyzed affected the entire set-up.

Of course, while Canada was not particularly keen on any sizable scale in 1939, she was not without her seafaring past. In the days of wooden ships, and especially during the 19th century from 1840 to 1890, Canada had spread a vast fleet of merchant ships. Partly because of her great timber resources she actually had been in the front rank of the world's carrying trade.

In 1878, Canada ranked fourth among ship-owning countries of the world with 7,196 vessels aggregating 1,833,105 tons. Canada's coastal towns and cities were established, during the era of clipper ships.

Today there are hundreds of ships in Canada's Navy, and her already large merchant fleet is increasing monthly. Everyone of these new ships has been built in Canadian shipyards. By Canadian workmen, using ninety-five per cent Canadian materials. Ten-thousand ton cargo boats are coming down the ways in Canada. Twelve shipyards are engaged in carrying out the project which now envisages the construction of 10 10,000-ton cargo boats and eighteen ships of 5,000 tons deadweight capacity. Their total value is over $325,000,000.

TEN MEN MAN GUNS FOR DEFENSE

Two-thirds of the 10,000-tonners are running between the ice-free Pacific ports; the remainder on the St. Lawrence ice-free in the early part of the year. Designed at Sunderland, England, and popularly known as the "North Sands" type, they are ideal wartime cargo vessels. They are non-complex, coal-burning vessels with Scotch marine boilers and triple expansion reciprocating steam engines. It takes 2,200 tons of steel to build the hull of such a ship. Each is 427 feet long, fifty-seven feet wide, and draws twenty-five feet of water.

The Canadian-made power plant for each 10,000-tonner could generate enough electricity to serve a city of 15,000 people. Each ship needs a crew of forty, of whom twenty are in the stokehold. Ten seamen-gunners man its defensive armament.

The eighteen 5,600-ton cargo boats are called the "Wartime Grip" type, and are equally simple and suited to wartime needs.

The keels have been laid for many more than half of these ships; scores have already been launched, and a substantial number have been delivered. Construction is speeded by prefabrication. Parts are moulded, foundries, making brakes and struts, and ribs of wood. Then undertake any work of assembling and riveting the individual parts of these sections and sending them to shipyards for conclusion as units. Other prefabrication includes the construction of such parts as masts, funnels and ventilators, at factories other than those of the shipyard building them.

WHAT ONE SHIP CAN TRANSPORT

The work is further speeded by launching hulls as soon as possible and fitting them while afloat. Engines, boilers, guns, miles of electric wiring, tubing, pipes, living quarters, steering gear, auxiliary machinery, secret devices — all these are installed while the hulls are moored by the fitting wharves. Thus, in most yards, all stages of production may be found, from keels newly laid to ships almost ready to put to sea. After a ship is launched the fitting is rapidly completed.

The hull of one of the 10,000-tonners is like a great steel box, with heavy steel walls dividing it into compartments. It provides thousands of cubic feet of cargo space.

An indication of the carrying capacity of such a 10,000-tonner may be gained from consideration of the United cargo ONE SHIP can carry on ONE TRIP, stowed in the various holds and on deck:

Enough fighter planes, bacon, ham, canned and dried foods to feed 225,000 persons in Britain for one week; steel and other war metals in bulk and bars amounting to 2,150 tons; enough canned meat to feed several carriers, trucks and motorcycles to equip a full infantry battalion; 1,900 tons of bombs, enough to load 940 medium bombers for attacks on western Germany, or to load 225 heavy bombers for attacks on Berlin; enough timber, plywood, wallboard, nails, to build ninety-two modern cottages, or a row of, dwellings nine blocks long; two complete bombers stowed on the deck; and enough aluminum in its holds to contribute to the building of 310 medium bombers or 643 fighters in England.

An example of the war-time "warships in miniature" is, indeed, well known. From their inception they have been designed for convoy and patrol work. They are fast enough for deadly attack upon any enemy submarines, and they have a cruising range which permits them to stay at sea for long periods. Their armament is of a defensive guns heavy enough to engage any submarine which dares come to the surface, and hich-angle guns or quick-firing anti-aircraft guns which to ward off enemy planes, while, offensively, they are equipped with depth charges which are often effective against submarines.

Building time, despite its small size, is not child's play. These war wasps are complicated in design and packed with equipment. One requires approximately 375,000 manhours of labor to build and outfit one and, on account of the large quantity of equipment aboard each vessel, for the small space in which it must fit, the job requires much construction skill.

It is interesting to report that the Royal Canadian Navy decided to name these corvettes after Canadian cities and towns, so that each part of Canada would be represented at sea. Navy Minister Angus MacDonald recently said:

"The Canadian Navy with its corvettes is sharing thirty-nine percent of the convoying and escorting ships across the North Atlantic."

Canadian - built minesweepers are sturdy patrol craft. There are two types made in Canadian shipyards. Two are of wooden construction. The three main types, however, are made of steel. These resemble corvettes in general pattern, though alterations in details have been necessary to enable them to do their specific sea job. Even so, minesweepers are not limited to minesweeping; they are able to undertake other naval operations.

DESTROYERS AND SMALL CRAFT

Besides the corvettes and minesweepers, Canadian shipyards are building a large type of destroyer.

These are destroyers of the "Tribal" class, four of which have been laid in Halifax and work is progressing with satisfactory speed. Four of these vessels are being built in Montreal shipyards. Tribal destroyers are of 1,927 tons.

The rest of the naval construction program has to do with "small boats" made of wood. Since the beginning of the war, Canada has ordered some 14,00 of these small craft, involving an expenditure of more than $8,000,000.

The shipyards build them for Canada's three armed services—the Navy, the Army and the Air Force—and whether were also built for the Royal Netherlands Navy.

Some sixty smaller shipyards located on the East and West coasts and the Great Lakes are engaged in the production of these craft — motored dispatch boats, subchasers ranging from 75 feet to 112 feet in length, and scores of other kinds.

The latter include targets. Diesel Cape Island boats, pinnaces, water boats, motor launches, aircraft tenders, pilot boats, crash boats, target towing-boats, whalers, towing targets, dghnick boats, refueling scows, lifeboats, collapsible assault boats, motor vessels, drop - keel dinghies, general utility harbour tugs, skiffs and harbor patrol craft.

Some of the boats on this program are of special interest. For example, the new famous motor torpedo boats — or MTB's, as they are popularly called. The type of MTB's built in Canada was created by Lieut. Scott-Paine, famous English flying boat and motorboat designer, and construction in a wartime secret. With the exception of armament, engines and fittings, these fine vessels of war are constructed entirely of wood. They are equipped with torpedo tubes for invisible attack, and anti-aircraft guns which rotate in power-operated turrets, for defensive purposes. The vessel is powered with Packard marine engines.

The fine record of the Netherlands Navy, in the glorious sea battles against the invading Japanese, was due partly to the use of this very type of fast and powerful, albeit small, sea fighter, made in Canada by Canadians. The achievements of these craft operating in the English Channel against Naxi E-boats, have not yet come to the front. It can be told" stagg.

An important phase of Canada's shipyard activity is repair work. The risks attached to holding ships in the United Kingdom for refitting or damage repairs can readily be appreciated. Canada is therefore playing a large role in servicing naval and merchant vessels.

At his discretion he can fix fees, allocate work, determine priorities, designate the facilities to be employed by any ship requiring repair, and even relationship any machines and tools employed by any industry. He is also empowered to take possession of shipbuilding and repairing tools and, subject to Order-in-Council, to acquire and operate any plant.

All this tremendous activity in shipbuilding and repairing was not possible, of course, without a like expansion of employment; approximately 40,000 men are working in shipyards. In addition, the number of men employed in the manufacture of ship components is about equal to that employed in the yards themselves. Actually more men are working in the Dominion's shipbuilding industry than ever before. They represent nearly fifty occupations, listed in 1940 by Canada's National Registration Bureau.

WOMEN ACTIVE IN HEAVY WAR WORK

Using untrained labor, with no standardization and short courses, Under the Training for War Industries Plan, Canada was divided into regions each with its own director. These regions undertake the training of workers for shipbuilding. Courses are conducted "right on the scene" as men and women can be trained as welders, riveters, caulkers and in any of the other trades connected with shipbuilding.

But men are not alone in this war effort. Canada's women and girls are also active in this type of war work. Scores of the thirteen regional offices of the Department are largely encompassed by them.

Each, then, are the highlights of the picture of Canadian shipbuilding. It is only ONE of the bigger war jobs that Canada is undertaking. An important job is being written into the record — and an important job well done.

SIMILARITY IDEALS BETWEEN A.T.S. – C.W.A.C. SEEN BY GEN. KNOX

Kingston, Oct. 5 — The Canadian Women's Army Corps and the Auxiliary Territorial Service of Great Britain stand shoulder to shoulder and are "looking up with a higher ideal of service," according to Major-General Charles Foulkes, Director General of the A.T.S. who visited Kingston on the first leg of the course of a Dominion-wide tour to see the W.A.C.'s in action.

General Foulkes who reached Kingston at 10:30 a.m. by R.C.A.F. bomber, was greeted by Lieutenant-Col. Lade-Armstrong, O.B.E., officer commanding Military District No. 3. His Worship Mayor H. A. Edwards, Group Captain D'Arcy Greig, officer commanding No. 31 Service Flying Training School, R.A.F.; Lt.-Col. M. E. Foster, M.C., A.A. & Q.M.G., District Headquarters, Lieut.-Col. L. F. Grant, G.S.O. 1, District Staff, and Captain Grace Russell, C.W.A.C. Staff Officer.

In a press conference held here General Knox stated that Canada's growing women's army is the younger sister to the A.T.S. after which it is modeled, and from what she has already seen, she is "thrilled" by the progress made and by the "absolutely marvellous" spirit which prevails.

Confident in her belief that the women of Canada have everything to offer in the way of service essential to Canada's war effort, General Knox pleaded that they become "all out war" help toward stimulating interest. She has learned all she knows about women in the war by practical experience, and her rise from volunteer to the rank of major-general has been entirely by reason of her own merits.

The aim, ideals and basis of training of the A.T.S. are identical, The chairman of C.W.A.C. (R.C.A.F.) is largely due to the interest and understanding of General Knox, who does not believe that because they are doing "a man-size job" women need lose any of their charm of femininity.

That's why the members of Great Britain's A.T.S.—most important of the women's war services in the country—are enjoying the improved appearance and greater comfort of new uniforms. Instead of the unsightly bell-shaped skirt which was so unbecoming to their figures, a very short view of things. I believe that leave should be given and taken. Efficiency is the aim of the A.T.S. and it is, I know, the aim of the C. W.A.C. I have been enough already to know that the C.W.A.C. in Kingston is a shining high. But I do not believe that you can be efficient working twenty hours a day, seven days a week."

It was she who arranged that her girls should be given leave to coincide with that of husband or fiance, and another of her innovations was that on the week-day off, members should not have to report for inspection parade, but should be absolutely free.

It is not to be wondered at that ever since General Knox received her appointment as Controller-General, a great wave of loyalty has swept through the service in Great Britain. The girls she leads know that she is with them and for them every time.

DEHYDRATED BUTTER

As the result of research work by the Dairy Research Institute dating back to before the war, New Zealand is now producing dehydrated butter or dried butterfat, and the British Government has contracted to take up to 20,000 tons during this season and next. This development, occurring at a time when New Zealand's shipments of whole butter to the United Kingdom have ceased through lack of refrigerator space, is of considerable help to the dairy industry of the Dominion, as well as a valuable contribution towards Britain's demand for fat.

The possibilities of producing dried butterfat were investigated a few years ago when it was believed a market existed for it in certain parts of the world not served by refrigerator ships. After the outbreak of war the deterioration of the shipping position caused a progressive reduction in exports of creamery butter and after a period the complete elimination of exports of whey butter in view of the resultant surplues the matter assigned great importance and a satisfactory method was devised. A trial shipment of 400 tons was made some months ago to England and was very well received. The opportunity for large scale operations therefore presented itself.

Only pure unsalted whey butter is used in the manufacture of dry butterfat, though experiments are being carried on to provide an outlet for creamery butter as well. The butter is melted over a jet of steam and the melted fat and condensed steam are run into a cylinder which automatically separates the water that settles by gravity from the butterfat-other solution. After then going through two cream separators the material undergoes a final process in a centrifuge in which it is then subjected to a special solution of ceiling, filled into steel containers and sealed. It can be stored and shipped as general cargo. The product can be used in its dry state by pastry cooks and ice-cream manufacturers and the conversion of fat into butter is achieved simply by adding water and salt. It is regarded as a very suitable item in a parcel to soldiers and prisoners of war as it keeps better than tinned butter.

By the end of next year it is anticipated that fresh 10,000 to 20,000 tons of dry butter will have been processed, but production is governed by the shipping situation and the stocks of butter available. Facilities to produce on a large scale were completed in Auckland last July. In the meantime a small plant turned out ten to twelve tons per day. The plant which became available last July. It is announced, enables the factory, when whey butter and the very small quantity of second grade creamery butter made in New Zealand do be processed.

Although the United Kingdom demand for dry butterfat may end with the conclusion of hostilities, it is considered possible that a market of value to New Zealand may be developed in other countries which Britain's refrigerator ships do not visit.

THE FARMER OF WINDSOR

Windsor, home of the Duke and Duchess, is a busy bulging town in a farm in Ontario. It is an outstanding example of a centre at war, and Windsor is keenly conscious of its responsibilities in any other war.

Of the total of 50 new arable, which were broken before the war. The greater part of which, some 1,000 acres, was ploughed in a special effort to help the war.

The King's Lands, the pasture, and the farmers, which adjoined the Royal Estate, are also in full operation, and produce as much as possible by the King's animals, and the Royal Estate is used for a farm, which is also in full operation.

Shortage of help became acute, and it was decided to be reduced to a minimum. Only a few cows, and large white pigs remain.

Three members of the Land Army work on the farm, and the greatest praise for their work Clark is something which has been given to them, and before another year by, its beauty and its fertility for a farm.

The quantity of milk produced by the British kinds an acquisition of the services of the Land Army is a revelation in its hour of need.

One of the farmers, Mr. C. H. Hall, is working there for the first time in his life, and has been heard of saying that he can recall previous years in Norfolk farm, once of the best soils by George III in the days of the Napoleonic operations, when he lived on the Great Park, now the site of the Royal Air Force.

In fact, it was not only rare records were created, but land which had been ploughed for centuries again.

Local farmers were astonished when they became known that Park was to be ploughed, grow anything," they said, "but the Park is now growing.

It is probably the most fertile in the country. It is announced, enables the farmer, when whey butter and the very small quantity of second grade creamery butter made in New Zealand do be processed.

Although the United Kingdom demand for dry butterfat may end with the conclusion of hostilities, it is considered possible that a market of

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JANUARY 3RD, 1943

LESSON TEXT: JOHN 1: 1-14

"THE GLORY OF THE SON OF GOD"

We have been studying, for some time past, the life and teachings as recorded in the synoptic gospels. For the next three months the Sunday School lessons are taken from the passages in the Gospel according to St. John, or as it is frequently called, the fourth gospel.

The Gospel of St. John is different from the other three. It does not set out quite as definitely as the others to give a detailed biography of our Lord. It has another object. The writer has another purpose. He has something to say for scholars. He is trying to make them see that Jesus is the One for whom they have been searching. The Greeks were a contemplative, thoughtful people. Even the most people of that time, wondered how man, so insignificant, could ever approach the great God of the universe. An intermediary was necessary, just as a private in the army needs a corporal or a sergeant to parade him before an officer. A private cannot approach an officer directly. So the ancients thought there should be some intermediary between God and man. The Greek thought of this as the "Word", which "Logos" in their language is "wisdom". John, addressing these Greeks, says that Jesus is this mediator, Jesus is this "Word". That which, for years, the Greeks had created out of their thought about, and speculated over, was made real in the life and person of Jesus. This is the burden of the fourth gospel. It is absolutely essential that this be understood if we are to get the best out of our teacher's study. Jesus is the Word, the word, made flesh, who acted and lived on earth and brings men into the presence of the most high.

The fourth gospel must, therefore, be studied from a quite different point of view than the synoptics. It is not an accurate biography, but the biographical material is used to illustrate the general theme of the book. It was written much later than the first three gospels, probably over two hundred years after the death of Christ.

The gospel begins with the most direct statement that is made in the Greek philosophy was the eternal power of God, who was one with the Father, and who was the source of the light and life of men.

Then the author, in a sentence or two, tells of John, the Prophet, who came to bear witness to the light. He was not the light. He merely came to bear witness to the light. His work was to point out Jesus as the One who was the light of the world. The author then proceeds to deal with Christ first, as the light of the world. The theme that is one of the keys of the book, which should be noted as we proceed in the study of these weeks, is the idea of light. Light is in all the qualities on which life depends. It is used in many other features of experience we take light for granted — we rarely stop to think what life would be like if there was no light. So John would arrange in a world of darkness and sin, Christ brings light, is himself light, making possible growth and development of the spiritual qualities.

"He came unto his own and his own received him not." This is, of course, his reference to the rejection of Christ by the Jews. Born a Jew, Jesus was of that race of people, and then betrayed and crucified by his own. But the right to be called children of God, a right which the Hebrews had always claimed for themselves, was forfeited when they rejected the word and all people, whether Jews or Gentiles, who accepted the way of Christ, were children of God. No question of blood and soil of which we hear so much in modern Germany, but identifying himself completely with all of their experience, save sin, and thus was able to complete and accomplish the salvation of the race.

Scientists Explore Possibility of Solar Energy

One of the scientific dreams which modern research is training steadily closer to realization is the capturing of energy directly from the sun's rays. The tapping of even a small part of the tremendous quantities of solar energy which flood the earth every day and its harnessing to man's industrial and domestic needs would effect a complete transformation in the life of every nation.

No country would be more profoundly affected than Canada. With its highly developed industrial activities and with its huge reserves of both developed and undeveloped water power, the Dominion has a vital interest in such new sources of energy. Our rivers and waterfalls rank second only to those of the United States in the amount of energy which they generate, and our utilization of hydro-electric energy on a per capita basis is the third highest in the world. Our tremendous national investment in dams and power stations and transmission lines might be rendered valueless.

Scientists have already built, on an experimental basis, solar engines which effectively utilize the power in the rays of the sun, though so far they have been unable to solve the practical problem of making this power available at the low cost which would make it a servant of daily life. When and if that day comes, it will see a revolutionary change in our present method of releasing stored up solar energy through burning coal and oil. These fuels are formed as a result of a natural process which, through millions of years, transforms the sunlight originally stored up through the action of chlorophyll, the green stuff in leaves and vegetation. Science is attacking the mysteries of chlorophyll in the hope that some day man may be able to duplicate nature's action and thus produce fuel synthetically from chemicals.

Also going on is research based on the application of the so-called "thermocouple" principle in converting the sun's rays into electricity. Photoelectricity — already put to many practical uses by the means of the "magic eye" — is also the subject of hopeful research. Finally, the basic principles involved in releasing the atomic energy potentially available in matter itself are also known, and science is engaged in the search for means of putting this limitless source of energy to work in the service of mankind.

It may be that future generations will have at their disposal a wealth of power that will dwarf our present output from waterpower, oil and coal, just as these multiply a thousandfold the energy which earlier civilizations had at their command in the form of human and animal labour.

A dapper little man applied for a separation order to be made out against his wife on the ground of cruelty.

When asked by the magistrate if he could prove his case, he replied meekly: "One night I dreamt I won $100,000, and the following morning my wife nearly killed me for not putting it in the bank before I woke up."

HOLLYWOOD and HERE

By TAF REYES

Folks are still good-humored about the things they have to do without. At a preview of "White Cargo," which stars Walter Pidgeon and Hedy Lamarr, the audience broke into applause at the sight of rubber trees in bloom . . . Norway will be a getting plenty of attention in forthcoming films. Five pictures deal with the underground fight in that country—"The Moon is Down," "The Avengers," "The Edge of Darkness," "The Commandos Strike at Dawn" and "This Land is Mine." . . . The rush of events are hard on film titles. "Ship Ahoy" was originally called "I'll Take Manilla." The Japs did and the title became unfunny. "Beyond the Blue Horizon" was originally called "Malaya." The news has, however, made other titles seem more attractive. There is a revival of "Algiers" and "The Road to Morocco," as well as "Casablanca," are being eagerly awaited.

When the USA government decreed that no more than $5,000 was to be spent on each set, it looked as if the day of the massive background was at an end. But the studios are being clever about getting over the hurdle. For instance, in "The Moon is Down' you'll see a Norwegian village. You probably won't recognize it but you saw it first as the Welsh mining town in "How Green Was My Valley." The studios are now nosing around each other's back lots, borrowing old sets in exchange and some system is being worked out to help things. Now, when Hollywood spends a regal mansion, it doesn't build one. Rich citizens rent theirs and give the money to charity.

Bob Hope was making one of his many appearances at an army camp and Bing Crosby sent him a wire. Back came another wire: "Hope not known here. Please state rank, etc" . . . Every once in a while the gag about movie queens smoking cigars in private comes up. Recently Merle Oberon denied the statement of a well-known columnist that she dragged on the long weeds. But a real battle developed from the statement of Jimmy Fidler that Gene Tierney was seen smoking a cigar. Her studio demanded that he be fired for making so deglamorizing a statement. The radio chain refused. So the studio ordered all its stars off any programs over that chain. Gene Tierney was scheduled to appear with Abbott & Costello's air show and Betty Grable was ready to do a stint on Jack Benny's program when the order was issued.

In "The Navy Comes Through" Pat O'Brien wears a navy movie uniform for the 15th time. Pat really knows how. He was a seaman during the first great war . . . It seems Clark Gable wasn't all through with movies when he joined the Army. He's making one in Florida for the Army Air Force . . . Olivia de Havilland fumbled off a bike and has just returned to work. It seems some folks can't get used to the new-old coptractions . . . Hollywood has the only complete outfit of Nazi uniforms on the continent. Warner just used 300 in one picture . . . Do you remember Leigh Whipper, the negro actor of "Of Mice and Men"? He'll play Haile Selassie in "Mission to Moscow."

MANY OTTAWA POSTS VACANT

Ottawa. — Intimations came from Government circles of various appointments before Parliament resumes January 27. Some of them will be obligatory, such as a new Speaker of the Senate to replace Hon. George Parent, who died suddenly and a new Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons. Some more sensational appointments are also likely.

For the Senate speakership, to be appointed by the Government, names mentioned include Senator Pelland of Quebec, and Senators David and Vien of Montreal.

As Deputy Speaker in the House of Commons vacant by the appointment of Thomas Vien, former M.P. to the Senate, the selection will be of a French-speaking member. It will be not by the appointment of the Government but on a motion in the House. Mentioned for this are Lionel Cherrier, M.P., for Stormont, Joseph Bradette, M.P. for Temiskaming North and Joseph Jean, M.P. for Maisonneuve.

There are still twelve senatorial vacancies, following three recent appointments. Four are in Quebec, two in Ontario, two in Manitoba and one each in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

While nothing is yet official about it, there is a likelihood of the extended term of Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff, expiring on January 7 may be enlarged for another year. It would require an Act of Parliament.

Lt.-Col. Frank Pinard, K.C. deputy chief of the Transport Commission, will expire in the early spring when he attains the age limit of 75.

WHOLESALE PRICE BEEF TO ADVANCE 50 CENTS PER CWT.

Ottawa, (C.P.)—The Prices Board announced, last week, that maximum wholesale prices for carcasses, sides and quarters of beef will advance 50 cents per hundredweight next Thursday in line with the board's policy enunciated October 12 last.

The order said wholesale prices for beef cuts are permitted to advance relatively, but, because of a reduction in the charge allowed to wholesale operators for cutting beef, combined with recognition of variation in the seasonal demand for various cuts, most wholesale beef cut prices have been reduced.

Officials said that in only a very few cases have these prices been increased. The new maximum prices will be effective until February 11, 1943, when a further similar advance will take place. Subsequent seasonal advances will be made March 25, April 29, when the peak will have been reached. Beef prices then will be free to fluctuate seasonally under that ceiling in accordance with actual cattle market conditions.

Officials of the board's food administration said that beef carcasses, sides, quarters and cuts, if shipped on or after Dec. 31 to meet their destination Dec 24 or later may be invoiced at the new maximum prices.

Where sales have previously been agreed upon at the lower price, that price must prevail.

A retailer's maximum price, the board announcement said is the sum of his laid-down cost of the carcass, side, quarter or cut, plus a mark-up not exceeding his basic period mark-up and not, in any event, exceeding seven cents per pound of beef.

SEEK TO HAVE TIME CHANGED

Prince Edward County Council has petitioned the Federal Government to seriously consider the matter of reverting to Standard Time. It is claimed that Daylight Saving Time is an inconvenience to farmers.

NEW AIRCRAFT PRODUCED IN CANADA

The design of the "Mosquito" was inspired by Captain DeHavilland, father of Geoffrey DeHavilland, well-known British pilot and one of the heads of the famed English aircraft firm of the same name. The plane is being produced in Canada by DeHavilland Aircraft of Canada, Ltd., Toronto.

Wingspan — 54 ft. 2 inches. Length — 40 ft. 9½ inches.
Height — 15 ft. 3 inches. Construction — Almost entirely of wood.
Engines — Two Rolls - Royce Packard
Aircrews — De Havilland three-bladed hydromatic type.
Armament — MAY CONSIST of four 20-mm cannons, and four .303-inch machine guns.
Recognized as the world's fastest and most efficient plane, the DeHavilland "Mosquito" bomber has an exceptionally long range. is extremely manoeuvrable, and can be utilized on day or night operations. It can also serve as a reconnaissance craft to great advantage because of its remarkable speed. The photograph shows the first Mosquito built in Canada.

BRITAIN'S FOOD SUPPLY WELL PLANNED

BY LORD WOOLTON,
Minister of Food

There is a much - quoted cookery recipe which begins: "First catch your hare." The recipe to which any minister has to reach might well begin, "First find your Food." *

The United Kingdom is a highly-industrialized country and in peacetime produces less than one-half of the food which it consumes. The remainder has to be imported. As a consequence Britain is the world's largest food buyer and the supervisory economy of many countries is largely governed by the spending of food in Britain.

Our peacetime food imports amount to about 21,000,000 tons, of which some 8,000,000 tons are feeding stuffs for animals. The regular arrival of these supplies from overseas is ensured in a well-organized shipping industry, and today, nearly all kinds from the ordinary tramp steamer to the specially - designed fast, refrigerated fruit or meat ship.

TRANSPORTING ADEQUATE FOOD TONNAGE

In time of war, shipping routes are one of the first points of attack selected by the enemy. Commerce raiders, submarines and, today, long-range aircraft, seek to cut off our food imports. To combat this, shipping has to be organized into convoys which not only travel by longer and more devious routes, but also at reduced speeds. The speed of the convoy is the speed of the slowest ship. This in itself means that there is less shipping available to carry the necessary imports of food.

At the same time the demand for shipping to bring weapons of war from overseas to this country, or to carry troops and munitions to the more distant theatres of war, increases steadily. It is clearly impossible to bring to Britain the same tonnage of food as in peacetime.

Plans to meet this situation were drawn up in detail long before the present war. There are two main ways of easing the pressure on shipping. One, the more direct way, is to grow more food on the home farms. The other is so to select our imports that we bring in the maximum of food value in the minimum cubic space.

British agriculture in normal times is not primarily devoted to bulk crops like corn and sugar beet. It is a specialized kind of farming, producing milk and livestock, together with a considerable quantity of market garden products. This type of agriculture demands a steady import of animal feeding stuffs. The farm animals act as converters to transform imported fodder into milk and meat for human consumption. Such farming, though it may suit our peacetime economy, has to be radically altered in wartime. An acre of land will produce far more food for human beings when used for growing potatoes or wheat than if used to graze cattle, whether for milk or beef.

The problem before my colleague, the Minister of Agriculture, has therefore been to plough up a large part of our grass land and put it under crops, and at the same time to persuade the farmer to grow his own fodder so that his livestock will be, as far as possible, independent of imported feeding stuffs.

A very considerable degree of success has followed his efforts. It is estimated that this year the area under crops will have increased by 5,250,000 acres, or more than fifty per cent compared with 1939. Despite this increase in the arable acreage it has been possible to keep milk production pretty well up to the pre-war level, and to maintain the cattle population, although pigs and poultry have been reduced.

The task of the Minister of Food, knowing the estimates of home production, is then to plan an import program which will supplement the food produced at home in such a way as to provide an adequate diet for the population, while making the minimum demands on shipping. The first problem is, where can the food be found? The nearest source of food, Denmark and Holland, which normally supplied a large proportion of our dairy produce, have been closed to us since May, 1940. Most of the other markets of the world are still open to us, but the determining factor is distance and available shipping. We have to plan within the limits of our allocation of tonnage, which depends largely on the movement of war supplies to and from this country.

DRAWING UP NUTRITIONAL BALANCE SHEET

Having decided what foods we would like to import, and having made certain that they are available, we next draw up a nutritional balance sheet showing the energy value in calories obtainable from the expected supplies, the vitamin, protein and other necessary contents of these foods. If the total supplies of all these constituents work out at levels which will provide a healthy diet for each individual in the country, the program is adopted.

The first supplies which have reached this country under the Lend-lease arrangements have been particularly useful in providing a better balanced diet. The loss of Scandinavia and the Low Countries as a source of dairy produce meant that Britain's imports were short by seventy pounds, forty-five per cent of butter, seventy-six percent of cheese and dried milk, seventy-three per cent of shell eggs and 11 percent of cheese. It was difficult to find easily available supplies of these foods at a moment's notice and in the spring of 1941 the British housewife found it a problem to give her family a diet containing sufficient protein.

We are normally relatively large meat eaters in Britain and, although the dietetic experts agree that it is possible to remain healthy on a very much smaller ration of protein than we are accustomed to, the process of adjusting oneself to a low protein diet takes time and is not particularly pleasant. It produces that "unsatisfied" feeling after meals.

SPACE SAVING FOOD DEVICES

Accordingly, when in the summer of 1941 extra supplies of dried cheese and condensed milk began to reach this country from the U.S.A. they were most welcome in every household. Later, the arrival of canned meats and canned fish enabled us to operate, in December, 1941, a new Points Rationing scheme which gave the public additional supplies—on a limited scale it is true — of yet more protein foods.

With the increasing strain on shipping the production of concentrated foods has become an urgent problem. With the co-operation of American and Canadian packers and manufacturers and scientists, we are now able to import powdered egg, which contains all the valuable food constituents of the fresh egg, while occupying only one-fifth the tonnage of shipping space. This is a great achievement. The import of powdered milk and the production of dehydrated meat and butter will effect still greater savings.

To the layman the provisioning of a country in wartime may seem to be largely a problem of building sufficient stocks in the country to last out the period of the war. In practice, however, in a country which is producing only about half of its requirements, the all important responsibility is lay up sufficient stores.

NORMAL FOOD STOCKS LOW IN 1939

For many years prior to the war the tendency in the United Kingdom has been to decrease the size of the stocks held there, since with efficient shipping and rail transport it was possible to meet any demands on short notice from overseas, rather than in warehouses built on expensive land in this country. As a result, the normal stocks in the United Kingdom at the outbreak of war were probably lower than in any country of the same population. Such stocks as we held were generally situated for convenience in the port areas.

Modern aerial warfare inevitably selects ports as primary objectives for attack. To leave our food supplies in such areas was asking for trouble, and steps have been taken in the past three years to decentralize food storage to the maximum possible degree. New warehouses and cold storage centres have been erected in inland districts, preferably away from the centres of population, so take the food which otherwise would have to lie in the ports. But this in itself did nog give sufficient storage capacity.

Accordingly, garages, disused factories and buildings of all kinds have been pressed into service as additional warehouses. This dispersal of stocks throughout the country has not been carried out haphazardly, but on a careful plan. The country has been divided into about 100 separate districts and stocks have been so located that each district can be self-supporting in food for a reasonable period.

These stocks must not be looked upon as reserves of food which are locked up and left untouched from year to year In order to keep from its good condition they have to be turned over at regular intervals, and so there is a steady flow of new supplies into the stores, while corresponding quantities are withdrawn and put into consumption.

The principal dispersal, as applied to food reserves, is also the basis of the administrative control of food supplies. There are some 1,500 food control areas in the country, each of which has a Food Control Committee and a Food Executive Officer who is generally the town clerk or his deputy. Between these officers and the headquarters of the Ministry there are nineteen Divisional Food Officers, each of whom acts as the local agent for food control in his own region.

MACHINERY HAS WORKED WELL

In time of emergency a Divisional Food Officer can be completely cut off from the Ministry headquarters, but in such case he assumes far-reaching powers of action on his own initiative. To co-ordinate the activities of the Divisional Food Officers with the Military Commands there are five Chief Divisional Food Officers exercising between them the whole of the country.

At the other end of the scale, in small villages which under invasion conditions might not be able to maintain contact with the local Food Executive Officer, Village Food Organizers have been appointed. In emergency they are empowered to take charge of the food supplies of their village, and to see that they are fairly distributed.

The complete picture of Britain's planned food supply therefore consists of the main parts, first, the machinery for deciding what foods are needed and how to get them; and, second the machinery for distributing them safely and fairly throughout the country.

So far the machinery has operated reasonably smooth. I have every confidence that, with the co-operation so readily given by the housewives of Britain, by the food traders, and by our friends in the Free Nations, it will continue to operate satisfactorily in the future.

C. I. S. Gives Advice To Canadian Drivers On Car Conservation

Although in the winter months there are many days when the family car is not used, and especially these days when gasoline and rubber are in such short supply, automobile owners should pay special attention to their cars.

Consumer Information Service, in Ottawa, has given motorists eight tips on car conservation:

1. Check the air pressure in the tires, including spare, at least once a week.

2. Have the brakes checked from time to time. Unequalized brakes shorten tire life.

3. The front wheels should be tested and straightened if they are out of alignment. Improper alignment shortens the life of rubber tires.

4. The tires should be shifted from wheel to wheel if the tread has not been done for the past 5,000 miles.

5. Have the spark plugs cleaned and adjusted.

6. The air cleaner should be cleaned out, and the distribution points checked to see whether they need cleaning or adjusting.

7. From time to time check the oil filter, and also make certain that the distilled water in the battery is about one-half an inch above the top of the plates. Any corrosion from the battery terminals should be cleaned.

8. From time to time the strength of the anti-freeze in the car should be tested by a reliable service station attendant.

1,000-MILE TREK MADE AFOOT TO ESCAPE JAPS

Washington. (AP.)—A 28-year-old Netherlands naval officer revealed recently how he escaped from a Japanese prison at Hong Kong and made his way on foot 1,000 miles across China to Kunming where Flier of the American Volunteer Group flew him to India.

Lieut. Raul S. Hordyk, who told the story to reporters at the Netherlands Embassy, was second in command of a submarine which was on patrol in the China Sea when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

TWO SHIPS SUNK

The submarine sank two Japanese troop ships and then, off Malaya, was attacked by three or four Japanese destroyers. For two days and a night it lay on the bottom while the Japanese dropped 163 depth bombs in surrounding waters.

Heavily damaged, the submarine rose to the surface. Her crew attempted to make a fight for it, but their ship was sunk after it fired two shells. Nine of the crew of forty officers and men survived and were picked up by the Japanese.

Hordyk was taken first to Saigon, French Indo-China. His group were the first white prisoners the Japanese there had seen, and he was questioned by an admiral. Hordyk stood the admiral, he said, with her hand on her hip and he could win the war.

"I think so," he quoted the admiral as replying. "The men there are not uncertain about is the mentality of the American people—whether they will really fight."

JAP PROGRAM

The admiral also told him he said that, after Asia, Japan would conquer Africa and America, and that the war would last so long "your beard will be white" when it was over.

Hordyk was removed to Hong Kong and was there only two days before escaping. He said he did not detail the bad lice he had on his clothes when his quinine ran out and he fed them on the uniform of a British corporal given him by the Japanese. He had obtained the uniform by the little else Chinese fed and sheltered him and gave him information on how to avoid Japanese patrols during his long trek.

Even the poorest villages would add," he said. "There was one where nearly everybody gave me money—25 cents, 50 cents, $15 in all."

IN PRISTIN UNIFORM

Hordyk wore the British uniform throughout because he was afraid, he said, he would be shot as a spy if captured by the Japanese in Chinese dress. Once, he said, he had no difficulty in avoiding the Japanese.

He was six weeks reaching Kunming, he said, insisting that by the route he took—he walked at least 1,000 miles. Finally he met an American officer who provided him a truck ride for the last of the journey.

Once in India, he proceeded to Colombo, Ceylon, and joined a Netherlands naval unit.

He reported his treatment by the Japanese at Saigon was all right and at Hong Kong "nearly too bad."

"But you see I didn't stay long," he added with a grim smile.

"Commando" Training for Airmen With Muddy Faces

Rain was coming down fast and persistently; the distant hills and mountains were shrouded in mist.

On such a day you think longingly of the fireside, but that was not for us to-day. We had a job to do—watching non-operational members of the R.A.F. and Civil Defence Services go through their toughening and hardening course.

Dressed in khaki denim overalls over battle dress, the men looked clean and neat, but not for long. They were going through a gruelling experience and yet each had a broad grin on his face. One Cockney trainee said the obstacles reminded him of the egg and spoon race on Margate sands, another boasted that he had always won the obstacle race as a boy and was sure these wouldn't get him down. The instructor, who knew the course inside out and had a ready appreciation of its tricks, made a mental note of the assurance of these two candidates.

OFF THROUGH THE WIRE NON-STOP

They were all lined up. Twenty yards ahead of them was a big patch of barbed wire. Half a dozen men were sent through this entanglement and told not to stop till they had completed the entire course.

Off they went. They dived through the wire — not madly, but cunningly. You could see that they were using their brains. They all kept going. In real battle they knew that if they stopped for a brief second they would present a sitting target. They wriggled through. Halfway through one was caught and stopped to extricate himself. As though to help, the instructor hurled a small harmless bomb which burst at the feet of the entangled one.

"So you always was the obstacle race, did you? You don't look like winning this one," yelled the instructor after him.

There were torn clothes here and there now, and the instructor made a remark had already lost half a trouser, but he soon caught up with the others who, with rifles at the ready, were racing across country towards a ditch half full of water, with barbed wire to negotiate every few yards.

LIVE BULLETS AROUND AND ABOVE

At the top of the ditch was another obstacle—a rifle in hand; he kept shouting "Keep your heads down or you'll be shot." If he saw a head coming up he fired. It was live ammunition, but the marksman made sure that he missed his target.

If they stopped running, bullets pattered around their feet. "Keep going, keep going, keep going," he shouted.

At the end of the ditch all pretence of being clean had vanished. Faces were muddy, hands were muddy and clothes were muddy — but the grins were still clear to see.

Successfully through the ditch, they made straight for a small river which had its cross without getting wet. With rifles slung over their backs they mastered a wooden bridge and crept along a derelict bridge. Halfway across they had to swing themselves on to the other bank. One man fell in the water. As a penalty a bomb burst under the river promptly blew up and indicated that he was theoretically "no more." He was none the worse for his ducking and with great enthusiasm refused to give up. Later we learnt that this was rather more difficult than the schoolboy obstacle race. He tried again, succeeded and although he was technically a "dead man," he carried on with the struggle.

The river had to be crossed again. This time through a smoke screen. The only means of crossing was by a rope which dangled less than eighteen inches from the water. "Rifles must not touch the water," called the instructor. Monkey-like they crossed, Hand over hand, leg over leg. Not a rifle was wet. Then four bombs burst very near them, sending up huge spouts of water. Somehow the rifles remained dry. Rifle bullets whizzed underneath them. Without undue hurry they crossed the river.

UP AND OVER TWELVE FOOT WALL

Dashing over a field they climbed a twelve-foot palisade and slid down the other side to the accompaniment of bursting bombs, whistling shells and rifle bullets. Having accomplished the seemingly impossible feat of climbing a perfectly straight wall with little or nothing on it to throw them a grip, they crossed another river by walking across a series of planks less than three inches wide. Not one man fell in. No one gave a cheer when a bomb burst.

That was the end of the obstacles. They formed up and charged the enemy. They then lay down, took aim at targets and everyone of them hit the card. At the end, although they were mud-stained and scratched they looked by no means being out of breath. They were fit to win and they had enjoyed it.

At the end of the course they will return to their normal duties at their stations with greater knowledge of the meaning of total war and accustomed to the noise of battle. Some are clerks, some are armourers, some are batmen; but all are first and finest enthusiastic members of the Royal Air Force.

ENGLAND'S ORCHARDS YIELD TRACER BULLETS And Flares for Shipwrecked Seamen

English farmers digging holes in the orchards of Gloucestershire are helping to make tracer bullets and signal flares for shipwrecked seamen.

Under their apple trees and elder, where they find a mineral called celestine containing strontium salts. These give flares the vivid red colour which can be seen for a greater distance than any other.

The celestine deposits in this quiet corner of rural England are by far the most important in the world, and in peacetime are almost the only ones worked commercially. New workings are found by means of a boring tool about 9ft. long by ¾ in. in diameter, which is "jumped" or drilled into the ground until a comparatively hard bed is reached. "Experts" can tell by the "feel" if it is celestite or some other rock. A small pit is dug with picks and shovels, and when the deposit is worked out it is filled in with marl and the turf replaced so that the land can revert to agriculture.

Sometimes the mineral has been deposited in fossil nuts from the famous thermal springs of Bath, while it has also been found in the boilers of Transatlantic liners, in egg-shells and even in the livers of human beings.

Apart from flares for ships, aerodromes, and communication signals, strontium compounds are used to crystallize sugar from beet, for fillers in electric batteries, and in the chemical, pharmaceutical and ceramic industries.

Before the war Britain was producing about 10,000 tons of celestite a year, much of which was exported to the United States for the manufacture of the standard yellow flares. Nowadays, the whole of it is needed in Britain for war purposes, and a ton of it is worth several pounds to the Gloucestershire farmer.

V

He was the terror of all the kids in the neighborhood — except one. So far his fierce threats and clenched fists had failed to daunt young Clarence, who was a professor's son. Now he was having another go at it.

"You tallow - faced slob!" he snarled. "For two pins I'd knock your head off!"

But Clarence was unmoved.

"I shall go and consult the lexicons in the library," he replied, "with reference to the word 'slob.' If I find it has an opprobrious significance I shall return and chastise you as becomes the son of a gentleman bound to defend the family honor."

Hydro Home Economist

RING IN THE NEW YEAR!

New Year's Greetings, Homemakers! It is our wish that each day of the New Year may be a healthful, happy, and memorable one for you and yours.

We have made our own New Year's resolution — to do everything we can to help people learn about nutrition, so they will eat the right foods for good health, strength and happiness. Our Government has planned a Dominion-wide nutrition programme, and Canada's economists have answered the "alert" and are ready to do their share.

We suggest that every homemaker make a "resolution" to plan for daily a daily diet adequate for good health—the gold standard of nutrition. For the part the homemaker will play is most important.

The purpose behind this nutrition programme is "to build a stronger race through good food." It will require the co-operation of agricultural scientists, health bodies, nutritionists, educationists, the medical profession, industry, homemakers—in short, everyone. While nutrition is, first of all, an individual and family problem, it is so far reaching in its results that it is also of community and, finally, of nation-al importance.

There have been breath-taking discoveries made in the field of nutrition during the past 20 years. We put to work what we now know about food requirements, our own lives can be greatly enriched and to-morrow's civilization can be vastly different and far better than to-day's. So nutrition is extremely important to each and every one of us. Dr. R. W. McHenry has told us that if we replace an average diet with an adequate diet, we get an increase of almost ten per cent. in the active life span. Think of it! Through applying our knowledge of nutrition, we can eliminate the half - hea th, half - strength and half - happiness which result from a diet not quite good enough.

So let's all get behind the nutrition programme by following Canada's Official Food Rules — for our own sake, our children's sake and our country's sake.

Special New Year's Eve Recipe Which Will Delight Everyone

Holidays are party days. This year when transportation is difficult and few taxis will be available for merrymakers in the wee smallhours of the night before New Year's Day, house parties will be the most popular form of entertainment.

Realizing that money cannot be spent this year on decorations and expensive menus, Canada's Ribbon of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has worked out special New Year's Eve recipes which will not only add color to the festive table, but will prove delicious to eat, and here is one of them:

New Year's Eve Salad

One 20-ounce tin tomato juice
One teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Two tablespoons lemon juice
Salt to taste
Two tablespoons gelatin
Half-cup cold water
Two and one-half cups diced, cooked potatoes
One-third cup diced celery
One tablespoon chopped green pepper (optional)
One and one-half tablespoons of chopped onion
Salt and pepper
Mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten.

Combine seasonings with tomato juice and bring to boiling; add lemon juice. Meanwhile soak gelatine in cold water then add to boiling tomato juice. Oil or grease a flat-bottomed round mould, put in half the tomato mixture and allow to set firmly. Arrange on this the potato salad, cover with remaining, partially set tomato jelly. Chill till firmly set. Unmould on a large dish and pipe on the figures for the face of the clock, using softened cream cheese to which a little milk has been added. Thin slices of green pepper, shaped with scissors, for mthe hands.

EXTENSION OF RATIONING IS POSSIBLE

Ottawa. — Rationing of butter, coming suddenly as most of such announcements do, was cited as an illustration of what may happen in wartime Canada in any line of human consumption.

Curtailment of the purchase of butter, tea, coffee and sugar is partial restrictions on the use of other foods are the most prominent examples, rising conditions are of the every concern of the average family.

But butter is a great farm product of Canada, and every effort is put forth by the Dominion government to be totally rationed. During the years when butter was voluntarily cut down on this or that to help meet requirements abroad, Some of these years were very rationed, have be one exceedingly difficult to get.

Now the question is as to whether what has been stated of butter may not have to extend to other foods.

In the last area is the rationing of butter is attributed to heavily by people in all parts of the country. For there were ample evidence of consumers' desire for increased purchasing power. Another was increased demand for butter to cheese to meet huge commitments abroad. But apart from these, there are undoubted increased buying in various centres. That, in turn, raises the question whether the scale was large, moderate or small.

Recognition of this condition and the shortage that came about led to suggestions as to rationing. Recently, however, the food controller declared that the acute situation was twofold, attributable to panic talk and buying and not to actual shortage.

No matter how much the authorities sought to discount the probability of rationing because, save for hoarding, it wasn't considered necessary, and also because of the difficulty of a rationing system, the buying went on. It appeared to go to the point where the butter-buying propensity seemed to be one of mass psychology.

BLAME NOT SET

Where, mainly the fault for this lies, officials say it would be invidious to indicate. But the check-ups of stocks and their speedy absorption when released is said to indicate the largest per capita buying in the history of the country.

The first move from Ottawa was to appeal to people to lay off butter for the modest extent of an ounce a week. It was said that that would save the situation. The response was that the head remedial plan was to ease out what is in storage and distribute it equally. This, too, would have met the situation had there been any apparent disposition to wait a while. Instead, whereas butter was to be had, the disposition to grab it up became increasingly manifest.

Finally on Friday, the head of the War Prices Board reported to his Minister, Hon. J. L. Ilsley, that rationing seemed the only way out. This was approved by the Cabinet later in the day. While the decision became known to some press correspondents, they were advised of and enjoined to await Sunday's official announcement so as to forestall panicky week-end buying.

Rationing of butter is not accompanied by rationing of bacon or hams because now there is little or none to ration. The meat situation has so improved as to suggest, for the time being, no rationing there. But, after butter, there is no positive guarantee of immunity, save for bread.

Jap Exploitation in Indies Thwarted By Dutch Policy

London, (CP.) — The Japanese are held powerless to exploit the economy of the Netherlands East Indies to the damage done to Holland's pre-war trade with the Indies, it was stated here recently by well-informed Dutch sources.

While Netherlands East Indies products are of great importance to the Japanese war machine, the Dutch policy of denial has effectively prevented the Japanese from trying to build their own industry on the ruins of the Dutch.

The quarter of a million Japanese in the Indies have been kept under close watch by European and native police and have been prevented from [illegible] in any of the key industries.

ROBLIN

Roblin, Dec. 28. — After the extremely cold weather of the previous week everyone was pleased with the milder Christmas weather. The daily and road reports ideal for travelling, and many visited friends.

The following were Christmas holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Reid: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peat and Lois and Mrs. W. T. Cook, all of Toronto; also Cora, Wm. Paul, of Petawawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley York spent Christmas Day with Mrs. York's brother, Mr. Ed. Johnston, and family, at Buster Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Kimmett and family were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anson McKeown, Newburgh, Road.

The anniversary concert of three School Sections, which was held in the hall on Roblin on Monday evening, December 21st, was a decided success, and the hall was filled to capacity. The members who trained the children were Mrs. E. Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Woods, and the music leader, Mrs. Stan. Simpson. Mr. Percy Sharman Arnold, of Cornwall, was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvaro Arnold, for Christmas.

Mr. Calvin Arnold is seriously ill in the hospital at Kingston. Mrs. Bennett, of Newburgh, and Mrs. Wm. Weese, of Centreville, are with Mrs. Bruce at his bedside.

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Caswell were with their family on Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McLaughlin, Ingle.

WEST PLAIN

The December meeting of West Plain W. A. was held at the home of Rev. J. T. and Mrs. Caswell, with a large attendance.

The meeting opened with a hymn. Mr. Caswell led in prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The minutes were read, and the Treasurer's report was given.

A letter from George Johnston was read, thanking the Aid for the box they had sent him.

A discussion on lunch followed. It was decided to just have sandwiches and tea, every member to bring her own tea.

Election of officers then followed: Honorary President, Mrs. J. T. Caswell; President, Mrs. B. Young; 1st Vice President, Mrs. H. Lasher; Secretary, Mrs. T. Wickham; Treasurer, Mrs. W. Young; Sick Committee, Mrs. G. Young, Mrs. F. Lasher, Mrs. W. Pringle, Mrs. C. Dafoe.

Two new members joined for 1943.

The meeting closed by singing "Holy Night, Silent Night", followed by the benediction.

THE stout-hearted people of Russia not only need our help — they have truly earned it. They have exhibited a courage and determination rarely paralleled in the world's history. Stubbornly fighting against almost insuperable odds—not only of armed force, but of bitter cold, privations and shortage of essential needs as well—the gallant Russians, soldiers and civilians alike, have shattered the myth of the Wehrmacht's invincibility—and in very truth have held the Hun from British and possibly from Canadian shores. But at what cost!—Russian homes scattered; literally millions of men, women and children facing the numbing winter months short of food, clothing and medical supplies.

What can we do for such people? We can subscribe generously to

The Thwarted Invasion Of September 1940

BY J. M. SPAIGHT, C.B., C.B.E., O.B.E.

The combined operation against Dieppe and discussions about the opening of the "Second Front" in Western Europe have served to draw attention to the change in the situation which has been brought about by the two years of war.

There were "invasion scares" two years ago as there are today, but the positions of the parties have been reversed.

Today the powerful air force of the Britain is no longer alone, or on the defensive. She is poised for the spring.

In the autumn and winter of 1940-41 the people of Britain were expecting a German descent upon the Island. Now they are looking forward to, and eagerly awaiting, a British-American invasion of the Continent. United States army is allotted with her own and later forces of America in troops are present in the British Isles.

To assert that all danger of a German assault has passed would be unwarranted. To claim that the chances of a successful invasion would be far more slender today than they were two years ago is merely to state self-evident truth.

History is an incorrigible self-plagiarist. Nearly 140 years ago there stood waiting at Boulogne a great army, assembled for the overthrow of England—a host that is, by the standards of those days. It numbered 153,000 men and 2,293 transport vessels had been assembled by laborious conveyance.

That plan went awry when the French Admiral Villeneuf, after having lured Nelson away to the West Indies, on his return found that part of the western approaches to the English Channel had been blocked by Admiral Calder's fleet. Nelson's subsequent destruction of Villeneuf's fleet off Trafalgar and Spanish fleets at Trafalgar was the finishing blow which wrecked the whole project.

In 1940 it was an army more than ten times as great. There were ninety-six divisions, including nine Panzer divisions, of the German Army in France and the Low countries to be drawn upon for the attempted execution of a plan which had failed Napoleon.

For its transport, a still greater volume of shipping than Napoleon had assembled was waiting in all ports from Amsterdam in the east to Cherbourg in the West — no less than 3,000 self-propelled barges alone. These had a carrying capacity of about 1,000,000 tons, and, in addition, merchant vessels whose tonnage was about four times as great had been raked up. At Le Havre alone forty-five ships were discharging by air one time. This latter-day project was to be followed by a vast extended invasion of September 1940 but it might have succeeded. Another chance was lost. Some people believe that Hitler ought to have risked it. He missed only a chance of winning the war, they think, when he balked at the Channel water jump.

TROOPS WITHOUT EQUIPMENT

Certainly he could never have cast his British foe so unprepared on the shore to meet the assault of his legions. More than half the total equipment of the British Army had been left behind, in France. There were plenty of troops in Britain, but they had lost their essential armor and artillery without which the Panzer divisions had they once effected a landing, and had they had effected a cover, could not have been stopped.

Britain would, indeed, have been hard put to it if her most had been crossed. Think how the German juggernaut once crunched its way into the depths of Russia, and remember that the Soviet forces had no lack of armor or guns. Of course, remember, Given only the successful negotiation of the blue water tank trap, and reasonably adequate air support, it is difficult to see how Britain — the Island in fact — could have survived at that time.

Projections of the most thorough and detailed kind had been made for invasion. It couldn't be kept a secret. From the end of the month of August 1940 it was perfectly well-known to Britain's authorities what was in the wind.

By the middle of September the Channel ports were packed and shipping in Channel ports was practically complete. The purpose for which they had been assembled was clear. It could be for nothing else than the conveyance of a huge expeditionary force across the narrow sea.

On September 11, Mr. Churchill issued a grave warning to the nation. "No one," he said, "should blind himself to the fact that a heavy, full-scale invasion of this Island is being planned with all the usual German thoroughness and method, and that by many hundreds at any time now upon England, upon Scotland, upon Ireland, or upon all three."

The great expeditionary force never started. Some people say that it did and that it suffered disaster. What actually happened was, however — in all probability — that a dress rehearsal of the invasion was caught in the act and smashed up by British bombers, and neutral observers thought that they had proof of failure of the real attempt to cross the Channel.

It seems certain, at any rate, that about the middle of September some calamity did overtake the forces earmarked for the attempted invasion. It is known that a large number of German soldiers were treated for burns in French hospitals about that time, and it was widely reported that their injuries were caused by oil set ablaze by the British bombers that sank the barges in which they had just been embarked for practice. Bodies of Germans were washed up also on French, Belgian and Dutch coasts. A storm may have added to the discomforture of the flotilla.

Why was a positive attempt at invasion not made? One may surmise with some confidence that the main reason was that something went wrong with the preliminary operation of the great project. This operation was to have been the elimination of the Royal Air Force as an overhead cover for the southern of England.

An all-out effort was made by the Luftwaffe in August and September 1940 to drive the Royal Air Force out of the sky, and put its bases out of action. If failed. Fighter Command of the Royal Air Force obstinately refused to be driven from the sky, and indeed turned the tables and ejected the Luftwaffe intercemonious-ly. (Two years ago — Sept. 15, 1940 — 185 Nazi planes were shot down).

It was not Fighter Command only which brought Hitler's plan to nought. Bomber Command took a hand in the game of wrecking too. Barges and ships which had been concentrated in ports along the south side of the English Channel were an inviting target for British bombs. They were duly dealt with again and again. During September and October they were raided almost nightly. An Air Ministry bulletin of 41 the people of Britain were expecting a German descent upon the Island. Now they are looking forward to, and eagerly awaiting, a British-American invasion of the Continent. United States army is allotted with her own and later forces of America in troops are present in the British Isles.

CORVETTES SAIL 50,000 MILES IN CONVOY WORK

BY "TAFFRAIL"

Corvettes, as they are now known, were vessels smaller than sloops and larger and faster than trawlers. They have stumpy hulls, with an unstanding bow and stern and a single funnel amidships. They carry a powerful gun armament for their size, besides depth-charges and the usual submarine detection gear. They have a complement of round about sixty officers and men.

Fifty-two corvettes were ordered in Britain under pre-war Navy Estimates and many more have been ordered since and are now in service. Apart from the 58 mentioned, the names of another 61 have been quoted as having been "adopted" by various districts of Britain during the recent "Warships Weeks."

All of these vessels are named after flowers or shrubs. Corvettes have also been built or are building in Canada, Australia and India. One of their chief advantages is that they can rapidly be built to standard design by firms accustomed to constructing merchantmen, whereas destroyers can only be built by the relatively small number of yards which specialize in warships of intricate design and very high speed.

Another type of vessel named after birds, and formerly known as sloops, are now called corvettes. These are the "Kingfisher," "Mallard," "Pintail," "Kittiwake," "Sheldrake," "Widgeon," "Guillemot" and "Shearwater," ships of between 500 and 600 tons completed between 1935 and 1939. They have speeds of twenty knots. They carry a good gun armament. They are also well suited for constructing merchantmen, whereas destroyers can only be built by the relatively small number of yards which specialize in warships of intricate design and very high speed.

THEN, ON WITH MY MAE WEST

It's exactly 2:45 when I leave the Liberal hut, just enough time to finish a cigarette, put on my scarf and "Mae West," and then saunter out to my aircraft, where one of the crew is holding my parachute ready. It's a lovely day, with a few cumulus clouds a couple of thousand feet up. I note that the wind is blowing gently from the north and that visibility's good. As always, my aircraft looks as clean as a new pin.

The fitter who's standing on the wing helps me into the cockpit, and hands me a reviving thermos flask and a map. Long ago I learned that it's essential to be comfortable in an airplane; and, you know, a Spitfire is small enough to sit in, even without any padding. With a few cumulus clouds a couple of thousand feet up. I note that the wind is blowing gently from the north and that visibility's good. As always, my aircraft looks as clean as a new pin.

The fitter who's standing on the wing helps me into the cockpit, and hands me a reviving thermos flask and a map. Long ago I learned that it's essential to be comfortable in an airplane; and, you know, a Spitfire is small enough to sit in, even without any padding. With a few lighter pilot has to carry with him on these occasions.

As I look round the airdrome, I can see other pilots climbing into their aircraft and settling themselves comfortably. Over on the far side of the field one of the other squadrons in our Wing is also getting ready to take off; it can see airmen running about. This squadron is due to leave shortly after us and to form up on us as soon as we are airborne.

Hello! the Wing Commander's aircraft has burst into life; that's the signal for all of us to start up. I unscrew the doping cock and give a few pumps to richen the mixture in the cylinders. As I press the self-starter button and turn on the magneto switches my airscrew begins to revolve, and some sheets of flame belch out from the exhaust ports; I can feel the heat of them on my face. Suddenly, with a roar, both the engine picks up and I throttle back until I get my correct revolutions.

Next I wave the airmen away from my wing-tips and follow the Wing Commander as he taxis round to the side of the field. We join over the ground, and just before turning on to the line and getting into position for taking off, I press the switch on the R.T. and a few seconds later I hear that familiar wave and faint crackle in my headphones. Then a few bumps and we are airborne.

Slowly we climb up along the coast. At twelve thousand feet I turn on my oxygen but, apart from intricate the flicker of the needles registering the flow, I can't detect any other sign. Oxygen is often such noticeable so long as the feed is all right and there's plenty of it; it's when there's a lack of it one feels uncomfortable. And it doesn't give you any warning either. On one occasion, I remember, I was caught with an oxygen failure at 22,000 feet; at one moment I was flying along merrily, but at the next, or when I came to, I found myself spinning down to earth with my altimeter marking five thousand feet.

Well, here we are at 18,000 feet and approaching Blank-on-Sea. I close the radiator flap and although I'm only wearing a sweater over my shirt and trousers, I feel quite warm with my flying kit on.

My clock shows that according to schedule we should be sighting the bombers, with their escort of Spitfires provided by a neighbouring Wing, within the next minute or so. There they are, approaching from Ireland; they are quite easily recognizable by their shape and by their formation in which they fly. We allow them to pass us, and then we climb up above, always keeping them in full view.

RENDEZVOUS IN THE SKIES

Half-way over the Channel we take up our battle positions by increasing the distance between aircraft; that's so that each individual pilot may watch over his friend's tail. At the same time, we keep the bombers in view, and watch the sky all round them. Slowly — it seems slowly, because by now we are high up, but actually our speed is well over 280 miles an hour — we approach the French coast, and cross it near Boulogne.

I can see one or two of the puffs that appear all round us. Above the noise of my engine, I can't hear any sound of explosion. The puffs remain quite innocuous until one bursts about twenty feet from my starboard wing, and very close to the aircraft on my right. I hear the faint "crump" and can see the vicious orange centre as it explodes. The airplane next to me rocks slightly. I look round quickly; all's well — the pilot has put his thumbs up.

Now the silence has been broken by the controller back at our base. He tells us that there are enemy aircraft climbing up towards us from the southeast, a message acknowledged from the Wing Leader by a curt "O.K." Hearing votes is always a comfort; and these are crystal clear in my headphones.

Suddenly here is the warning voice of the Wing Leader: "There they are — right — three o'clock," and as I look in that direction, I can just see them a long way in the distance against the white cloud. I try to count them, but at present the specks are still too far away. Anyhow, as they are still below us, they won't attack.

We are passing over St. Omer and approaching Lille. Although I haven't yet had time to examine the ground, I can already recognize certain landmarks, for I'm daily becoming more and more familiar with them. I spot the airdrome near St. Omer. It is just visible as a small square. Two narrow strips cutting across it are the runways.

Just behind me is a large green. That would be the Foret de Nieppe, and immediately below us is the canal which runs from Dunkirk to Bethune. We are almost on time, by Lille now, and the bombers are flying in close formation in front of us. As I'm looking at them, their bombs leave in a shower and flash towards the ground.

THE ACK-ACK GETS THICKER

If only I could follow them down, and watch them explode on their target! But I've been on too many of these shows to do that sort of thing, for I know that at any minute we are likely to be attacked by odd Huns who will dive down and try to break up our formation. All the way from the coast there's been spasmodic ack-ack, but now that we are over Lille it's much thicker. Still, nobody's hit. The bombers have bunched their second salvo of eggs and they fly through as if there were nothing to hamper them, and then start to turn through 180 degrees. We turn with them — keeping in order to afford protection if they are attacked at this moment when they are more vulnerable. I squint up continually into the sun because I know that if an attack is made it will come from that direction. Then the Wing Leader's voice:

"Hello! Clinker Leader. Ratter Blue one here. Two o'clock, 1000 feet above. Watch 'em."

I look up to the left. Yes, there they are — two black specks with slightly longer fuselage and blunter wing-tips than ours. I wonder, will they dive on to us or on to the bombers? Neither. Just then two Spitfires from another squadron above come tearing down; one of them, already firing, for I can see some red tracer coming from his cannon. Good show! One of the 109's reels kind of crumbles on to his back with white and black smoke pouring out of him. The other one?No.—the other has done a flick half-roll, and dives down towards the ground; he seems to have got away all right. But the first 109 is now a blazing mass of wreckage and leaves behind a trail of thick black, oily smoke.

I can't watch any longer because our own squadron's being threatened, and the Wing Leader has ordered us to turn to the right to meet the attackers. I do a steep turn, holding the stick well back into my tummy until a kind of red mist begins to form in front of my eyes. That's a warning that, if I turn any tighter, I shall just "black out."

So, gently, I ease the the stick forward and look all round me. Two more black 109's flash by at terrific speed, and disappear before I get a chance to open fire on them. I set them go, a lesson I've learned since doing these sweeps; never follow a Hun down.

"Channel Sweep"

BY A

Squadron Leader

Based on an article in the R.B.C.F. Quarterly by a member of the R.A.F. whose name at the present cannot be revealed.

Let's imagine we are in the dispersal hut waiting to be briefed for a cross-Channel sweep. As soon as the Wing Commander Flying—he's the fellow who issues all the orders and say with a smile: "An easy one today, chaps. Just a quickie to St. Omer and back via Calais," or something like that. But today it isn't quite such a "quickie" as we are flying somewhat farther; the target for the afternoon is Lille.

The Wing Commander is now reading out to us the particulars of the sweep. We are to take off at 1:02 p.m., climb up and rendezvous with the rest of the party at 3:17 over Blank-on-Sea, then fly with the bombers to Lille and stick to them. Good practice, this, for the method of take-off, and the order and position in which we should fly; that's a most important point. Then we see every one of us might start flying round and round in circles and get full of Spitfires looking for each other.

THEN, ON WITH MY MAE WEST

It's exactly 2:45 when I leave the dispersal hut, just enough time to finish a cigarette, put on my scarf and "Mae West," and then saunter out to my aircraft, where one of the crew is holding my parachute ready. It's a lovely day, with a few cumulus clouds a couple of thousand feet up. I note that the wind is blowing gently from the north and that visibility's good. As always, my aircraft looks as clean as a new pin.

The fitter who's standing on the wing helps me into the cockpit, and hands me a reviving thermos flask and a map. Long ago I learned that it's essential to be comfortable in an airplane; and, you know, a Spitfire is small enough to sit in, even without any padding. With a few lighter pilot has to carry with him on these occasions.

As I look round the airdrome, I can see other pilots climbing into their aircraft and settling themselves comfortably. Over on the far side of the field one of the other squadrons in our Wing is also getting ready to take off; it can see airmen running about. This squadron is due to leave shortly after us and to form up on us as soon as we are airborne.

Hello! the Wing Commander's aircraft has burst into life; that's the signal for all of us to start up. I unscrew the doping cock and give a few pumps to richen the mixture in the cylinders. As I press the self-starter button and turn on the magneto switches my airscrew begins to revolve, and some sheets of flame belch out from the exhaust ports; I can feel the heat of them on my face. Suddenly, with a roar, both the engine picks up and I throttle back until I get my correct revolutions.

Next I wave the airmen away from my wing-tips and follow the Wing Commander as he taxis round to the side of the field. We join over the ground, and just before turning on to the line and getting into position for taking off, I press the switch on the R.T. and a few seconds later I hear that familiar wave and faint crackle in my headphones. Then a few bumps and we are airborne.

Slowly we climb up along the coast. At twelve thousand feet I turn on my oxygen but, apart from intricate the flicker of the needles registering the flow, I can't detect any other sign. Oxygen is often such noticeable so long as the feed is all right and there's plenty of it; it's when there's a lack of it one feels uncomfortable. And it doesn't give you any warning either. On one occasion, I remember, I was caught with an oxygen failure at 22,000 feet; at one moment I was flying along merrily, but at the next, or when I came to, I found myself spinning down to earth with my altimeter marking five thousand feet.

Well, here we are at 18,000 feet and approaching Blank-on-Sea. I close the radiator flap and although I'm only wearing a sweater over my shirt and trousers, I feel quite warm with my flying kit on.

My clock shows that according to schedule we should be sighting the bombers, with their escort of Spitfires provided by a neighbouring Wing, within the next minute or so. There they are, approaching from Ireland; they are quite easily recognizable by their shape and by their formation in which they fly. We allow them to pass us, and then we climb up above, always keeping them in full view.

RENDEZVOUS IN THE SKIES

Half-way over the Channel we take up our battle positions by increasing the distance between aircraft; that's so that each individual pilot may watch over his friend's tail. At the same time, we keep the bombers in view, and watch the sky all round them. Slowly — it seems slowly, because by now we are high up, but actually our speed is well over 280 miles an hour — we approach the French coast, and cross it near Boulogne.

I can see one or two of the puffs that appear all round us. Above the noise of my engine, I can't hear any sound of explosion. The puffs remain quite innocuous until one bursts about twenty feet from my starboard wing, and very close to the aircraft on my right. I hear the faint "crump" and can see the vicious orange centre as it explodes. The airplane next to me rocks slightly. I look round quickly; all's well — the pilot has put his thumbs up.

Now the silence has been broken by the controller back at our base. He tells us that there are enemy aircraft climbing up towards us from the southeast, a message acknowledged from the Wing Leader by a curt "O.K." Hearing votes is always a comfort; and these are crystal clear in my headphones.

Suddenly here is the warning voice of the Wing Leader: "There they are — right — three o'clock," and as I look in that direction, I can just see them a long way in the distance against the white cloud. I try to count them, but at present the specks are still too far away. Anyhow, as they are still below us, they won't attack.

We are passing over St. Omer and approaching Lille. Although I haven't yet had time to examine the ground, I can already recognize certain landmarks, for I'm daily becoming more and more familiar with them. I spot the airdrome near St. Omer. It is just visible as a small square. Two narrow strips cutting across it are the runways.

Just behind me is a large green. That would be the Foret de Nieppe, and immediately below us is the canal which runs from Dunkirk to Bethune. We are almost on time, by Lille now, and the bombers are flying in close formation in front of us. As I'm looking at them, their bombs leave in a shower and flash towards the ground.

THE ACK-ACK GETS THICKER

If only I could follow them down, and watch them explode on their target! But I've been on too many of these shows to do that sort of thing, for I know that at any minute we are likely to be attacked by odd Huns who will dive down and try to break up our formation. All the way from the coast there's been spasmodic ack-ack, but now that we are over Lille it's much thicker. Still, nobody's hit. The bombers have bunched their second salvo of eggs and they fly through as if there were nothing to hamper them, and then start to turn through 180 degrees. We turn with them — keeping in order to afford protection if they are attacked at this moment when they are more vulnerable. I squint up continually into the sun because I know that if an attack is made it will come from that direction. Then the Wing Leader's voice:

"Hello! Clinker Leader. Ratter Blue one here. Two o'clock, 1000 feet above. Watch 'em."

I look up to the left. Yes, there they are — two black specks with slightly longer fuselage and blunter wing-tips than ours. I wonder, will they dive on to us or on to the bombers? Neither. THE MYSTERY OF SOUTHERN INDIA

BY SONYA TOMARA

Madras — The south of India is very different from the north. It is grander, more mysterious, and much more unfathomable. The earth of southern India is one of the oldest lands formations. Indeed, as I travelled for some thousand miles over the Deccan, the vast plateau, I could see the ruins of the earth. In the midst of fertile plains rose weird mountains made of boulders looking like giant footstools. I remembered the Indian epic of Ramayana, where heroes fight by flinging rocks at one another.

The people of the north around Delhi are closer to us than the dark skinned Indians of the south, who have much Dravidian blood in them. These are ancient people who were conquered by Aryans from the north 3,500 years ago. Modern influence has hardly reached them. European civilization, which entered India through the British, French and Portuguese colonies of the south, has made only right encroachments into the Hindu life of the southern area. The caste system has remained rigid. Brahmins virtually run the native states of Mysore and Travancore. In Delhi you hardly know whether you talk to a Brahmin or a person of a lower caste. In Madras you are aware of it all the time.

The untouchables are easily distinguished here by their dark turbans and stooping backs. You see them among the streets and repair roads. I am told that twenty years ago they were not only untouchables but unapproachables, particularly in Travancore, at India's southern tip. In earlier times an untouchable was punished by death if he passed within thirty yards of a Brahmin.

In Mysore the untouchables are called Adikarnataka, old dwellers of the Carnatic lands of the Dravidians conquered by the Aryans. Efforts are now made to uplift them but before the progress slowly. I saw untouchables sit in the Mysore Legislative Assembly, and some of their children are taught in the same schools as other village children. Ambedkar, who calls himself the untouchables' leader and holds the post of Labor Minister, told me how he had to sit in a separate pen outside the school.

The people in the south of India look different from those in the north. The women are prettier and less bedecked with jewels. The men wear beards, but wear their hair short and tuck it into a god Siva from the follower of Vishnu.

National Selective Service Office

The Hindu religion is strongly entrenched in the temples and in the people's hearts in southern India. It has not suffered from Moslem invasions, and the temples have remained intact. They have towers covered with carved figures of gods. No detail to one or other incarnation or aspect of either Siva or Vishnu. Outsiders are not allowed to penetrate into the actual shrine, but they can walk in the precincts, full of beggars, cows, priests, people sleeping in the shade and children playing near the water.

I visited one of Siva's most ancient temples at Tirpanamalai, at the moment of the sunset worshipping. There was the heat of drums and the lament of bagpipes. Men and women waved their dark, limbs in a great tank near the temple, and flowers were scattered before the deity. It was weird, worshipping the gods with strange shapes and many arms. In the middle of the temple courts was the image of Nandi the bull, one of Siva's incarnations.

A cursory study of Hindu mythology, such as I have been able to make, opens one's eyes to the confusion existing in Indian politics, and nothing is more complex and more confusing to the Western mind than the pantheon of the Hindu deities worshipped in their different aspects. Siva, the god of reproduction, is at the same time the god of wrecks. His wife may appear as Parvati, the goddess of beauty, or Kali, the bloody one.

But behind all the godly images is a great mystical religion that teaches that the physical world is only Maya, or a world of illusions, and that in the spirit alone lies the truth. Two years ago I travelled most of a day and most of a night by road and wood to visit an Indian saint famous in all southern India. He is called Sri Ramana Mahanishi, the latter meaning the great saint" and he lives in Ashram, or community of disciples. Among them there are a few Europeans and until a year ago there also were one or two Americans.

My visit to Ramana was impressive. He is sixty-three, has a powerful face, with a stubby white beard and penetrating brown eyes, and wears only a loincloth. He teaches that self is the only reality and that one can arrive at tranquil communion with self, otherwise the spirit, by meditation.

I entered his Ashram, having taken off my shoes so as not to pollute it with the animal's hide on my feet. The teacher was sitting crosslegged on his couch, shaking with his feet were some twenty men and aside were half a dozen women. My male companion fell on the floor flat, touching it with his forehead, stomach and toes, and the other men did the same. The women knelt, touching the floor with the forehead. There was silence, with all the pupils if they in meditation. The teacher called me to him and talked to me. I was told to retire.

French nation and government failed—not the soldiers — because the most debased men were in control.
Some things, Dr. Kent said, will be made clear about France that will be terrible to hear. One of the great problems for after the war will be to learn how the people of France are to be brought together and taught how to govern themselves.

Speaking of Germany, Dr. Kent said that before the Germans went crazy, no one could help admiring their efficiency. If one could be sure autocratic leaders were always able and of good character, we could put up a good case for autocratic government. But the lowest depths to which an autocracy can sink can be seen in the Hitler regime in Germany, to-day. Dr. Kent reviewed briefly the history of Germany, especially since the Great War. After the Treaty of Versailles, Germany was told it had to have a democratic government. But the Germans did not know how to make democracy work. A few well-intentioned Germans tried to work out a system which they did not understand and which the people did not want. It could only have been, Dr. Kent said, with the kindly co-operation of the great democracies, that democracy in Germany would have been a success.
On the whole, Germany did not get that co-operation. Britain gave some help, France none and the United States withdrew entirely.

Italy, likewise, has never had anything like a democracy, but Dr. Kent gave the opinion that the Italians might more easily be taught democratic ways than other European nations.

Most of the European nations are without any traditions of democracy and the difficulty after the war will be to make democracy fit, where it does not now fit. That is how education will come into the picture. We must be prepared to take other nations under our wing and teach them how to live together decently without war. Leaders will need to be trained. There will need to be educational institutions which will help bring about good living conditions prevent some of the terrible which have overtaken the de-cies. Education must get at failures and expend its energy development of character and character, as well as must be looked after in our al system, and leaders who

As a result of a long drawn-out investigation Monte Spicer of North-brook and Murad Wagar of Yonde-Ont., will be charged with theft and receiving stolen goods respectively. It is alleged they were responsible for the removal of a large quantity of power transmission line cable from steps in Hungerford Township. After an intensive investigation by Chief of Police Clair Harper, Tweed, the cable was found to be in the possession of Wagar. A considerable amount of the cable was recovered and the pair will appear in County police court to answer to the charges.

Terence Brady Died Early Wed. Morning As Result of Fall

As the result of a fall down the cellar steps at his home on Bridge Street, Napanee, about 11 p.m. on Monday, Terence Brady died early on Wednesday morning, December 30th. Inaugural Address Delivered By Mayor D. R. Hall

Council Chamber
Napanee, Jan. 4, 1943.

To the Members of the 1943 Council:

This is the inaugural meeting of the Council for the year and to you all I extend my cordial greetings.

We have all been elected to our respective positions by acclamation indicating, at least in part, that the ratepayers have approved of the Council's conduct of the Corporation's business for the calendar year just passed. I trust however, that this commendation of your past services will not dull your zeal for greater fulfilment and earnest effort on behalf of your municipality. This effort consists not only in regular attendance at Council meetings and at the sessions of the several standing committees, but also in taking an active intelligent interest in all matters which pertain to the betterment of the municipality and to all our citizens, to endeavor to make our town a desirable and wholesome place in which to work and live.

The great war in which Canada is now engaged, is the most important units of the great British Commonwealth of Nations, in close co-operation with all the United Nations is apparently reaching a crisis, but I believe it will require much further time before the aggressor nations shall have been so thoroughly beaten that we can say that the victory has been won. Even then, will follow a long reconstruction period in which the efforts of every one will be loyally and unselfishly required to bring about that stability which will make a better world—socially and with justice to all, in which to live and in this we must all, in our humble way, actively play our part.

Reverting to the work of our own Council, I am quite sure that our financial position will progressively improved and our debenture debt has fallen to the lowest figure in many years and our tax rate is in the down grade, and I hope we will be able to materially reduce our mill rate this year.

Last year we made a good start in clearing up our sewer difficulties that had been neglected in former years and in order that this work may be intelligently continued I recommend that a special standing committee be appointed to take charge of that particular work and I respectfully commend for that purpose that a by-law be introduced making some changes in our committees.

In respect to the Standing Committees I have found, in consultation with some of last year's chairmen, that there is a desire that the committee chairmen be changed. It appears to me that it is unwise to leave the personnel of any of the committees for a long period no matter how effectively they have performed their tasks. We all become stale if too long engaged on the same work and in addition, it is wise to have men with new outlook and varied experience to bring new life into a committee's activities. I trust with this in mind you will choose your committees in a fair co-operative manner.

There does not appear to be any large undertakings for us on the horizon at present but new municipal problems appear often when we least anticipate them. If they come I trust we will be able to deal with them in a proper business-like way.

My relations with you for the several years I have presided over your deliberations, has been exceedingly pleasant and you have given me the greatest support and confidence and I trust that this year we all will continue to work together consistently, intelligently and in harmony.

Yours sincerely,
Duane Robert Hall, M.D.,
Mayor.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

The municipal elections in Toronto constitute a significant commentary on modern political trends. Two Communists and two C. C. F. candidates were elected as aldermen. The two Communists, J. B. Salsberg and Stewart Smith, have served the City before. But when the Communists were under Government ban they were out of public life. But now they are back, elected as Communists.

The two C. C. F. candidates are William Dennison who also served the City as alderman, previously, and a newcomer to civic life, Rev. John Frank, popular rector of Holy Trinity (Anglican) Church. Mr. Frank has always been interested in the underdog of society, and during the depression worked day and night for the unemployed. He now assumes civic responsibility on a C. C. F. ticket. It would have made little difference on what ticket Mr. Frank ran, he would probably have been elected; the people trust his honesty and his fearlessness when dealing with social conditions.

The significant fact about little election, however, is that it marks a definite trend, a swing to the left, as we might say. Previous consternation in certain quarters, when these leftist groups entered the civic contest as groups. But the result shows that even in Toronto, the home of Conservatism, the centre of wealth and vested interests in the Province, there is a body of public opinion which is definitely dissatisfied with the present situation. The few men who have been elected to the Toronto Council may not be able to do much to alter things. They will be quite outnumbered, but it is evidence of the shape of things to come.

THE PRESIDENT'S OUTLOOK

President Roosevelt, in his New Year's message given at a Press Conference on January 1st, went out of his way to elaborate his view of the principle which must govern the world that is to be. Contrary to his usual practice at these Press conferences, the President permitted his extemporaneous comments on his prepared statements, to be directly quoted. The task which the President said faces the world on New Year's Day, is three-fold. (1) "To press on with the massed forces of free humanity till the present bandit assault upon civilization is completely crushed; (2), so to organize relations amongst nations that forces of barbarism can never again break loose"; (3), to co-operate to the end that mankind may enjoy in peace and in freedom the unprecedented blessings which Divine Providence through the progress of civilization has put within our reach."

These are brief and easily remembered, and they tie all the very heart of a just and durable peace. There can be no question now but that The United Nations must make every efforts and every sacrifice necessary to defeat, in a military way, the aggressors. It might seem almost unnecessary for the President to say that, and yet we can easily imagine a situation arising whereby peace overtures would be made by the Axis groups, and if United Nations, tired of all the cost in treasure and life, might be tempted to listen to them. We can count on it that as soon as the tide surges in against the Nazis, there will be an effort made by them to secure a compromise peace. One of Hitler's greatest arguments, as he stirred the German people to war was that the German army was not beaten in the First Great War. They were let down by the folk at home. Only a military victory will prove to the Germans, beyond all preventure, that war does not pay. And it will be the last ounce of military might and the last bit of productive effort of the United Nations which will ultimately be the determining factor in bringing this about. War-weary, impoverished and bleeding as we may be, there must be no let up until the victory is complete.

When the President said we must so organize society that the forces of barbarism can never again break loose, he forecasts some instrument of force in virtue of which bandit nations may be restrained. We must, of necessity, recognize that the world cannot remain static. Life is fluid. Hard and fast geographic boundaries cannot be maintained in perpetuity. Adjustments must be made, situations must be open to review. But no longer must any one of the sixty or more sovereign states in the world be allowed to say, "I think that they are a law unto themselves, and if they do not get what they want, they will take matters into their own hands. True the League of Nations sought to meet just such a situation, but it failed. A new international organization must not be allowed to fail, and it will be a success if each nation is ready and willing to admit a limitation on its own sovereign powers, for the common good.

Organization for peace, that all may enjoy the benefits of Providence is an economic problem of the utmost importance. There is plenty of money, plenty of goods, plenty of food in the world for everybody to have a fair share of it. One of the greatest causes of war, and an underlying cause of this one, is the unequal distribution of this world's goods. Some nations have grown rich at the expense of others. Some have more food than they can consume while others starve. Some have produced raw materials under almost slave conditions that others might reap rich profits. Some sort of economic equality must be established in the world that is to be, and President Roosevelt was right in stressing it. Unless we are mistaken, greatly, it will be around this third point in the President's address that the greatest battle will take place. Entrenched positions of economic preference will not be relinquished without a struggle, even after the battle of bullets is over.

But unless it is settled, and settled right, we have no guarantee against other and more devastating wars.

V

THANKS !

Probably the many citizens of Napanee and the surrounding country, who made contributions to the Beaver Santa Claus Fund this year, do not expect to be specially thanked for their generosity, but we feel that, as promoters of the fund, we should express our thanks for their generosity.

The Beaver Santa Claus Fund was instituted quite a number of years ago by the late William Templeton, and has been operated each year since that time. Some years there have been more than many demands on the Fund and we believe that every year an honest attempt has been made to meet all the calls. Fortunately for everyone, this year, the need was less than in many years. But still there were a number of families who would have had a dreary Christmas without the gifts received from The Beaver Santa Claus Fund.

The total returns from the Tag-Day totalled $69.69 and contributions were reported in The Beaver were $55.00. Besides the cash a large number of useful articles of clothing and toys were also received.

On behalf of the recipients and The Beaver Santa Claus Fund, we extend our sincere thanks. We also wish to thank Miss Josephine Leamy for her continued interest and for all the work she does throughout the year, and all others who assisted in the packing and distribution of the gifts.

V

GETTING ACTION

It was announced on Monday, that the Liquor Commissioners from eight Provinces would meet on Thursday, in Toronto, to discuss shortening the hours of the sale of liquor. Premier King when he made his statement on the liquor issue, put it up to the Provinces to shorten the hours. The present move is in line with the Prime Minister's suggestion.

It is hoped that some real change will be made that will help end the grave disorder and drunkenness. The revelations which have been made by "The Globe and Mail" have given publicity to a condition which most people knew existed, but which was not brought before the public as is ought to have been.

There is no greater deterrent to an all-out war effort than the liquor traffic; there is no greater menace to the morals and the spirit of our people than the same traffic. The Premier of the Dominion has made certain promises of remedial action, and the Provinces act in unison and with an eye single to public health, safety and efficiency, they will learn the gratitude of all patriotic citizens.

V

WHY ?

Why has Canada no one to speak with respect to the future organization of Society with the authority which surrounds a government spokesman. In England, Sir Stafford Cripps and Anthony Eden, Lord Halifax and others, gave some indications of the pattern life must take after the war in the Old Land. In the United States the President has something to say. More explicitly, however, Vice-President Wallace speaks with official sanction and outlines the pattern in the Government's mind for that world of tomorrow. Mr. Wallace follows the same general lines of the President. But Mr. Wallace indicates how the plans for the rebuilding of the world are to be carried out. There must be some machinery, he says, and in brief he mentions the machinery. There must be machinery to keep aggressors disarmed; for preventing economic warfare, and for settling disputes. There must be an International Court. He suggests some sort of regional arrangement for conducting international affairs.

This is all very definite, very frank, and very statesmanlike.

While both Great Britain and the United States have their official spokesmen on these all important matters, we in Canada are quite content to go on making investigations and collecting data. To be sure we have our committees on reconstruction. Principal James, of McGill University, is the chairman of one such committee, appointed by the Government. But there is need, besides that, of some definite and clear statement to make pronouncements similar to those made by the leaders of the other Allied Nations.

Canada has done a magnificent job in every branch of war service. Too little has been said about that. Political considerations have tended somewhat to belittle our nation's war record. When this is all over, the part which Canada has played will be emblazoned as its true worth. Canada has earned the right to have a definite voice in the post-war world. Quite probably when the time comes, we shall not be heard. But the people of Canada should be told now, what sort of a world her young men and women are dying to bring into being. The new world is not going to be brought into existence the day after the war ends. Its character is being determined now, as Governments are making today are the ones which are determining what the new world will be like.

Someone in authority should be telling Canadian people whither bound!

Hitler Plans Permanent Terrorist Control

A secret German document, giving Adolf Hitler's plans to replace law and order with Gestapo terror rule in the event of an Axis victory, was captured by British forces during the Libyan campaign.

The document was taken from the headquarters of the second German reconnaissance battery of the Seventy-fifth Panzer Division, which went to Libya as part of the Fifth Light Division. That division was subsequently converted into the Twelfth Panzer Division. The document was circulated by the regimental headquarters on May 3rd, 1941.

Attached are the texts of an accompanying letter and of the document itself:

SECRET:
ARMY HIGH COMMAND
H.Q. Army High Command.
23rd March, 1941
Army General Staff, Western Section.
No. 127/41 (8)

RE: Statements of the Fuehrer regarding the future state police troops.

RE: Army High Command, Army General Staff—Special Department.
No. 24/940 B
II. 9/40

Doubts have arisen as to whether, at the time when the Fuehrer's views on the functions of the armed SS were conveyed, i.e. to the General, a wider circulation was intended. In this connection, the Chief of the Supreme Command of the Armed Forces (ie. Field Marshal Keitel) has ruled that it is highly desirable for the views of the Fuehrer on this matter to be disseminated as widely as possible. The aforementioned order was at the time only circulated to Generals down to and including Generals commanding the Army Corps. The views of the Fuehrer, therefore, on the function of the armed SS are again circulated in the attached document.

P.P. (signed) LL-Col. of General Staff.

FOLLOWING IS THE DOCUMENT

On the occasion of the order for the reorganization of the Leibstandarte "Adolf Hitler" this probably refers to the conversion of Hitler's SS bodyguard from a brigade to a division on August 6th, 1940) the Fuehrer laid down the principles on which the necessity of the armed SS is based. These principles are summarized in the following text:

"The Greater German Reich in its final form will not exclusively embrace within its frontiers national units per se as well disposed to the Reich. It is therefore necessary to maintain state police troops outside the Reich, capable at any moment of such men will resist in critical times disruptive influences. Such a continent will feel a pride in its integrity and will therefore never fraternize with the proletariat and with that underworld which undermines the fundamental idea.

"Moreover in our future Greater German Reich, only a police trained to a completely unreliable will possess the necessary authority in its relations with other citizens (Volksgenossen). Through the glorious exercise of military sphere and through its education in the spirit of Socialist Purity, our people the necessary respect for the police, that the sock-kindtime policy of 1848 can no longer assert its authority.

"For this reason, it is necessary that the state police should present itself in SS units at the front, and should stand by their side every other contingent of the armed forces. Only in turning home in the ranks of the armed SS after proving themselves in the field, the contingents of the armed SS will possess the authority to carry out their tasks in police line. The use of the armed SS as the police troops in the rear, and of the armed forces themselves."

V

ORDERS FOR ARMED FORCES

It must never again be tolerated in the future that the German people be concerned from the whole people should be sent into the battle lines of interior crisis against their own flesh and blood. For this reason, the armed SS will possess the authority to carry out their tasks in police line. The use of the armed SS as the police troops in the rear, and of the armed forces themselves."

NORTHERN CANADA REINDEER HERD NOW OVER 9,000

Up north in Canada there are reindeer herds and, under the auspices of the Mines and Resources Department, one of these herds is being developed.

On March 4, 1935, 1,370 reindeer were delivered from Alaska and transported to the Mackenzie River delta on the east side of the Mackenzie River delta. There are now three herds in that area, under Eskimo management near the Anderson and Horton Rivers, about 150 miles east of the reserve.

Some 2,000 deer have been slaughtered for food since the herd started in Canada. Meat has been sold to the Eskimo residents of Aklavik and distributed to settlements and missions, while some animals have been used for "dog teams" and sleighs by the reindeer-herding staff. Others have strayed from the herds and been killed by wolves.

But Resources officials say the experiment has been given positive promise of extension of the herds. Canada, who used to kill everything they could get in

4087 THE PROOF

NATURE OF THIS WAR : THE NEW STRATEGY

BY BRIGADIER G. K. BOURNE

This is an abbreviated version of the address given by Brigadier Bourne, of the British Joint Staff Mission, on July 8th, at the University of Virginia's sixteenth annual session of the Institute of Public Affairs.

Before we examine the strategy to win the war, it will be as well to examine its nature. First of all, it is a war of ideas. In this respect it is a war to gain territory and power. Here the war has its deepest and the advantage because his ideals are warlike whereas ours few are definitely peaceful. In this field of weapons and arms, we have a great leeway to make up. It is an unpleasant truth that only when we can inculcate our own populations with a war-like spirit can we hope to beat opponents whose children are raised from arms to a warlike creed.

I mention this idealistic side of the struggle because it has a direct bearing on our strategy. If you are fighting an aggressor you cannot wage purely military factors and ways we will support this ally because we shall gain territorially, but we will not support that one because it will be a waste of military effort.

We were forced to try to succor Norway, although it was a hopeless military proposition when we had only self-defense and striking the Germans a small beam. We put our army in Flanders to help the French, and politically it would have been extremely difficult to refuse in advance to the help of Belgium.

In all these cases we lost valuable military positions and much of the equipment of a complete army, leaving us desperately short for our main task—self-defense and striking the Germans a tremendous advantage in the balance of military power. Our whole campaign which ought to follow.

The only instance on the part of the Allies which proved following this idealistic war policy has been when we were forced to support the Greek guerilla Greeks. The odds were against us—were desperately against us—but politically it was essential to preserve land and air forces, even at the expense of the Greek army, which could not be saved. TIME WILL SHOW whether that was the right move or not. Nobody knows but the German war.

This is one the first really world-wide war. Napoleon's wars had three theatres—continental and naval and colonial. They were centered in all the countries of the globe. This war took the same global scale, but the First World War had in this it falls into two distinct parts — a European war and an ocean campaign.

We, the British, are necessitated to be that type of war in which we have to gain power on the seas in order to gain strength on the land, and at the same time provide all the assistance we can to our continental allies.

It is well to remember that British participation on the Continent has not always taken the form of a large army, and that in keeping up the blockade of Europe and in greatly heavy bombing of German industry and morale, and in supplying munitions to Russia we are achieving great assistance by avowed traditional methods.

A FIVE-NAVY WAR

We have long had the power to gain quick decisions on the Continent and Britain has never yet failed to provide armies that, it will probably last many years. How on earth, then, could we supply to the United States requirements, and, more importantly, how do they apply to an overall British-American strategy?

The outstanding feature of this war is the fact that it is not the first time that the United States has successfully fought a naval war, but never before have the American and British sea communications been so seriously threatened.

The final military aims must be, as Clausewitz put it, first, to destroy the enemy's armed forces; second, to get possession of the enemy's means of aggression, i.e., his raw materials and industry; and thirdly, to gain public opinion. This may be interpreted as overcoming his will to resist. We may note in passing that in China with Japan, the last aim is ultimately gained by great victories and usually by possession of the enemy capital — which reminds us of our mistake at the end of the last war and of which Hitler is not guilty.

Strategy can be described as the means by which we exploit the military war aims which are laid down by the heads of our governments. The general advance when the political head and active military head of a nation are one, as in the case of Frederick the Great, Napoleon and now Hitler. Great democracies, like our own, cannot have this advantage, though they sometimes approach it, but must devise the next best thing — an efficient Chiefs of Staff system. Now this modern war is a truly national affair, in the sense that every man and woman and all political and economic resources are as fully engaged as the purely military forces. Then the Chiefs of Staff organization, in forming its strategic plans, must take full account of all these factors.

It is largely for this reason that the staff systems in Washington and London are so large, and possibly to an outsider they may appear cumbersome. But modern war embraces practically every facet of national life and the strategical directors must have expert advice on all of them.

It is the aim of strategy to win a war with as little actual fighting as possible. Hitler has followed this theory to its logical conclusion by only working on the morale of his opponents before attacking them as to make each campaign a rapid overture from the start.

Lenin put it another way when he said this: "The soundest strategy in war is to postpone operations until the moral disintegration of the enemy enables the delivery of the mortal blow with possible ease and certainty." We have seen Hitler thoroughly put into practice by Hitler against his successive opponents — concluding with the classic example of France, when his fifth Column and preparatory subversive treatment of French bureaucracy quickly nullified the will to resist of the French Army. In fact, Hitler has so far in a land campaign has been against the Russians, who were at great pains to eliminate their own Fifth Column in their regime purges before the war. We may justifiably hope that from this date Hitler will do better.

From these modern examples, it is clear that the Germans definitely prefer their attacks against our morale. Is there a reason for this? It is a reply to this Blitzkrieg war. With its preliminary softening process another Blitzkrieg.

Or is this method merely suitable to the aggressor?

THE MASTERY OF THE OFFENSIVE

The two new great weapons in war are the airplane and the tank. Theoretically they were both employed in the last war, did not greatly affect the strategy. This time, however, they have altered the very nature of the campaigns and consequently the strategic methods. On land they have given that mobility and that rapid maneuvre which was characteristic of the Napoleonic campaigns and, most strikingly, of the American Civil War, and which was lost in the long years of trench lines and masses of men in 1914-18.

These two new weapons, as new, required, have restored, for a period, any rate, the mastery of the offensive on land.

The Germans overcame the Low Countries and France at a cost of two or three months, and in Russia, during the first months, they made twenty miles a day. This was by the use of highly trained mechanized forces supported by concentrated air power, both of which the Allies did not have. Britain will have in abundance before long. As General Longfellow Davis has put it, "Blitzkrieg means right up our alley."

Our strategic aim is to go forward and thus pursue the United Nations on exterior line — the strategic warfare which is invariably expensive and slow, involving the unwinding greater reserves of force, and the traversing of great distances, in order to engender superior power at the critical point.

We deal first with the war on the sea. Twenty-five years ago the British Navy assumed a strategic mold which, through a series of defended ports, directly strung out along the European coast. Far East route. At only one point, but that was the Suez Canal, was this British line in any way threatened by land or air forces. Moreover, the requirements of a naval base in those days were simply a combination of docks and coaling facilities, defenses and a sufficient field army to hold the beaches against landing attack.

PROBLEM OF NAVAL BASES

Japan has, by a strong combination of land, sea and air warfare, advanced her frontiers to include almost every raw material which she needs except wool. Militarily, she has secured herself, for the time being, at any rate, from serious attack from the sea. Singapore is the key to Japan's defensive strategy against Australia and New Zealand, and, in addition, until she has eliminated this one danger spot, Hitler does not dare to put more than a token force with formidable problems of space and time in any offensive against Japan. Your professional soldiers and sailors have necessarily planned for a new strategy for years past and we can trust them to take full advantage of great future superiority in the air. The increasing effectiveness of air bombing attack and particularly of long range power is the most promising factor for a reasonably quick decision in the Pacific War. Until American bomber forces can be placed within operating distance of the Japanese main fleet bases it will probably only be possible to get within striking distance of their armed either decide to risk it or make a major blunder.

WILL IT BE WAR OF ATTRITION?

More probably, therefore, it will be a war of attrition in which, by the same co-ordinated junction of amphibious actions supported by air, Japan more extended sea routes will be cut off, routes such as that to the oil of Borneo and Sumatra and to the rubber of Malaya. We shall gain air bases from which to narrow down the Japanese-controlled sea areas.

I have called this a five-navy war, but it could also be called a mercantile war as it is upon this that not only our lives and ability to make war rests, but also the power to transport our attacking forces to the desired places. When we pass to the offensive, our methods and plan of attack will be governed very much by the state of our merchant fleet.

Already a large part of our tonnage is employed in military movements and maintenance for the purely defensive campaigns now being waged in the various theatres. When we choose the theatre for our main offensive or second front, as it is commonly called, and if time is the same vital consideration as it was in Napoleon's view, then our choice must obviously be influenced by the length of the shipping run from our main bases. The other normal military factors, such as the disposition of the enemy forces, the nature of the coastline and the terrain, and the overwhelming air superiority will play their part, but until the American merchant marine is expanded very greatly indeed this shipping factor will probably outweigh all others.

On land Germany has pushed outwards to the western seaboard of Europe so that the subsequent campaign has gained additional range and so that our shipping lanes from the British Isles and across the Bay of Biscay can be threatened by long-range air attack. So far Germany has air-by trying to push southwards and eastwards to the oil of the Caucasus and Iraq and the cotton of Egypt without which she cannot hope to fight a really big war.

In past times Egypt and the Middle East were the vital British key on our route to the Far East. In this new situation this area is more to be regarded as a support to the Russian southern flank and at the most important section of our blockade of Europe.

Our military offensive is bound nowadays it is launched from Britain to be a long one. People are apt to forget this and to maintain that the Second Front must necessarily be short because it is an offensive and forget the need for covering up soft spots.

The people who cry for a second front in Western Europe will be asked to remember one or two things. Firstly, the permanent invasion of the European continent by a modern German Army. Hitler must be considered quite but all previous British campaigns on the Continent have been in the nature of a temporary nature, whether it was Napoleon's Peninsular War, or the First World War, which ultimately ended in Flanders. Secondly, we should remember that the German army with an air force which could support it effectively is strong to obliterate this French air force, but not — unless we are prepared to lose very heavily — to destroy it. Thirdly, we must be prepared to lose the second page to the Russians, and, fourthly, that the Russians cannot correctly, that the softening process of air attack and blockade which could make a Hitler had not sufficiently progressed to make it possible for the Russians to be ruled by Hitler. We must be prepared to resist pressure and are prepared to fight a defensive war. It is in fact a question of taking risks.

THE ART OF TAKING RISKS

The Germans are committed nowadays to one military part and thereby they take risks, they take calculated risks. It may be with the Russian campaign, but it is not with Germany — occupied Europe should collapse like a house of cards. In other words, we must maintain the blockade by keeping up an unbeatable navy and air force, in addition to creating very large armies which could be used for the invasion; and by raids on the model of Cherbourg and Dieppe, together with Nazaire. This process together with the rising temper of the occupied countries, will enable us to achieve what has never been done, or even attempted.

The plain present fact is, however, that in the European theatre we are not yet strong enough actually to overwhelm the enemy possesses, and what strength individual enemy soldiers and sailors derive from the war creed which has been imbued in them.

ADVANTAGE OF INDUSTRIAL STRENGTH

It is not enough for our armies to be brave. Somehow we must imbue our soldiers with the determination not merely to fight for a democratic peace, which is apt sometimes to appear as a vague and distant goal, and which has rather a passive appeal. They must fight with a spirit equal to that achieved in the bitterest civil war.

This, we should, in my opinion, be encouraged by the trend which modern strategy is taking under the influence of mechanized warfare. Air warfare, particularly, should give to the hands of the nation which invented the airplane.

The combined effect of these comparatively and natural powers, blended together in the English-speaking civilization, will, to my mind, be the greatest possible safeguard for the future peace of the world.

Sat. Morning Hockey Games Started Last Week

The Saturday morning hockey got under way Saturday, January 2nd, under the direction of Fred Bentley with his two assistants, Art Primeau and Jim Markle. The boys were very eager to get started and were at the rink by 9:00 o'clock, in great numbers.

The coach is very well pleased with the showing of some of the boys and is hoping to see some real games before the season is over.

The two senior teams will play on Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. There is no admission charge to see these games and the management would be very pleased to have as many parents as possible come to the rink and give some encouragement to the boys in this clean healthy sport.

E. J. Pollard and G. S. Reid, Justices of the Peace, took the place of Magistrate Garvin, who was unable to be present because of the illness of Mrs. C. N. R. rain on which he usually arrives in Napanee.

DRY CLEANING may be RATIONED unless . . . !

Cold Facts Make it Imperative that you have Spring and Summer Clothes Cleaned NOW !

The war and Canada's manpower demand that every worker must be kept in war time. Workers cannot be held idle in progress of Industries which have in the past and has been at all times, must continue to until a real manufacturing of necessities

Canada's Dry-Cleaning Establishments, because they specialize in the care of clothes, will be required to do their part in this position. Dry-cleaning, summer and winter, must be done by dry-cleaning establishments. Time is precious, in the crisis.

Canadian dry-cleaning establishments have been told by the government that they must conserve their equipment so as to help it be maintained for the duration of the war. Impossible for them to do this unless they have your co-operation.

This means that unless your clothes are cleaned NOW, you will not be able to get them cleaned later. You will have to wear them for weeks to have them dry-cleaned.

But if you send these clothes to your dry-cleaner NOW, they will be cleaned in an efficient manner, and you will be able to wear them comfortably.

You will of course, continue to have your clothes cleaned as usual, but by sending your summer clothes to your dry-cleaner NOW, and having them cleaned and stored away, you will help to relieve congestion in the dry-cleaning establishments, and help to make your service better, more efficient and better protected.

This is not a commercial appeal. It is a straight statement of fact. We must act NOW.

We want you to have your clothes cleaned NOW, and will do our part to see that you receive the best service possible.

Send Spring and Summer Clothes to be DRY CLEANED NOW

New Delhi — When Lieutenant-General Archibald Wavell, famous commander-in-chief of the Middle East, arrived in India to succeed Lieutenant-General Sir Alan Hartley Hartley as commander-in-chief of India, he was greeted at a station in the Indian capital by a guard of honor composed entirely of Indian troops. Wavell, who is a poet as well as a soldier, was met by Indian poet Sarojini Naidu, who presented him with a bouquet of flowers.

Wavell is here with him.

Where you have General Wavell, a man of many interests and an odd sort of a combination of soldier and poet. He is in action against the Japanese, and we cannot believe the Japanese are going to be allowed to camp indefinitely in Burma or on the Road to Mandalay.

The bride-to-be was showing her friends a list of guests to be invited to the wedding.

"What's the matter?" asked the bride-to-be.

"Isn't it rather strange?" queried the friend. "You have only put down the names of married couples."

"Yes, that was Jack's idea, Don't you think it's rather clever? He says that if we invite only married people the presents will be all clothes."

Gerald S. Anderson Died in Montreal, Buried In Napanee.

The remains of the late Gerald S. Anderson, a former resident of Napanee, who died in Montreal on Christmas Day, were brought to Napanee on Wednesday, December 30th, for burial in the family plot in Riverside Cemetery. His home was recently sold and the ashes were accompanied to Napanee by his brothers, Bishop Anderson and Donald H. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson's death followed a long illness. His funeral was conducted by Rev. Charles Smith, of the Napanee Baptist Church. Interment was made at Ardoch cemetery.

The late Mr. Anderson, who was in his 49th year, was born in Napanee and was the second son of the late Thomas E. Anderson, for some years collector of customs in Napanee and the late Mrs. Anderson. Although a man he moved to Montreal in his manhood and the other members of the family, following his father's death. He entered the service of the Bell Telephone Company and was in the employ of the firm for the thirty years as travelling auditor and later as payroll supervisor. He was a member of the Masonic Order and the Mount Royal Golf Club and was also an enthusiastic golfer.

He survived by his wife, formerly Isabel H. Grey, and one son, Gregory Grey Anderson, Ellenton, Florida; three brothers, Bishop Anderson, Donald H. and Stanhope all of Montreal.

"I have lost my soul companion—
A life linked with my own.
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone.
Oh, God of mine, a weight of sorrow
Must we, the lonely ones bear,
A lonely home, a silent voice
And only his vacant chair."

"He used to watch and wait for us,
Anxious if we were late—
In winter by the window,
In summer by the gate;
And so I know that where he is
He must be watching yet—
Without from Heaven's window,
Learning on Heaven's gate.
We have lost, Heaven has gained
One of the best the world contained."

BATH RESIDENTS Adjusting Themselves AFTER BIG FIRE

Written by our Bath Correspondent MRS. HATTIE MILLER

Bath, Jan. 2. — The families who were forced to leave their homes on account of the fire on Saturday morning, are being adjusted and doing their best to carry on in as nearly as conditions permit. Mr. Shepherd has arranged his goods at his residence next to the Town Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Lammon have accommodation with Mrs. Barker; Mr. and Mrs. Caird in the rooms formerly occupied by Mrs. Burton; Mrs. Merkley and children have rooms in the Lewis house; Mr. and Mrs. H. Hogadorn and Mr. and Mrs. W. Hewelin, in Mrs. Mott's home; Mrs. Ward and children are in Mrs. Hagerty's house, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Readorn have rented the lunch room formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher, and the Post Office and cottage. The Telephone Board have made temporary repairs and are installing a Central in the Wright house. The work will soon be completed, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calnan assume their regular duties as operators in an early date. The buildings that have been destroyed were: On the west end, the three-storey brick, owned by Mr. and Mrs. David Rowse, who lived in the upper part. The ground floor was open for business, the Customs Office, post, and the Public Library. The Bank first occupied its offices in this building; it was known as The Northern Crown Bank. Later, the British was moved to the Hogg block and was taken over by the Royal Bank. The Hagadorn and Hoselton store, and bakery was originally operated by the late Mr. and Mrs. Overton Bell. Mr. Bell sold to the Hazleton Bros., who, later, dissolved partnership, Charles and Hewitt moving away from the village. Mr. Hegadorn bought their share in the business with Elmer. The brick block, which Mrs. Osborne operated, was formerly owned by the late Joseph Trimbell, who was a barber and took care of the telephone which board located in this building. The pool room has always been open as a recreation room. The building was owned by Mr. Bain, who operated a shoe repair shop, and also made shoes for many of the residents of the district. This part was where the telephone booth was located. The remaining was the old McKenly property. A general store was conducted on the ground floor, and the family lived in the upper part. This property and district handle many thousands of property, is owned by H. B. Mortson of the buildings, the Rowse and McKenly houses, and the original style and attractive well preserved, and I see a veritable ailing the front and the railings and steps to the and the. The sides of building, the Rowse house and the Mortson house, has been pulled of her many interesting bits of historic property. Many of these bricks have been used in the fitting in recent years, as the installation of the Ray Shaw fireplace, which includes the residence of the late Miss Robinson and the general store belonging to the late Robert Hall in May, 1902. These were all rebuilt. In October, 1902, the engineer burned, and the Bath fire was extinguished by Mr. and Mrs. Corrigan Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hall and Miss Chas. Johnston (Annie Chumberes). Later the same beginning to The Baker store, the Williams. Ernest Young's cottage and coal shed are on the property at present. In September, 1950, the Shibley block, which left six families homeless. Morton Hughes's residence and grist mill owners the property now. In November, 1909, the school was destroyed by fire, but was rebuilt as soon as material could be obtained. In May, 1911, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Parks and another small residence in her yard to names. The first built located here. In April, 1925, St. John's Church was burned, and rebuilding operations were started as soon as possible, the corner stone being laid in July, 1925. On December, 1930, the Butler home was burned. Graham Manor has been built on this site, which was the old homestead of the Hoselton family for years. The history of Bath is not compared to book, as each landmark has been removed it reminds one of the lives of prominent pace in the story. To those of us who have been born in the vicinity and come to school and Sunday School, played on the lies each year, romped with the boys and girls on Hallowe'en and New Year's Eve, it causes many a sad comment when we witness a sight like the one on January 2nd, 1942, at 6.00 a.m., to say nothing of the material losses. Though all we have to mourn is to be thankful for. There was no one injured or a life lost. This is nothing to a number of poor people in Bath, England, and other places have suffered from the ruthless bombing. It is rumored that building operations will commence as soon as weather and conditions will permit.

The brick block, which Mrs. Osborne operated, was formerly owned by the late Joseph Trimbell, who was a barber and took care of the telephone which board located in this building. The pool room has always been open as a recreation room. The building was owned by Mr. Bain, who operated a shoe repair shop, and also made shoes for many of the residents of the district. This part was where the telephone booth was located. The remaining was the old McKenly property. A general store was conducted on the ground floor, and the family lived in the upper part. This property and district handle many thousands of property, is owned by H. B. Mortson of the buildings, the Rowse and McKenly houses, and the original style and attractive well preserved, and I see a veritable ailing the front and the railings and steps to the and the. The sides of building, the Rowse house and the Mortson house, has been pulled of her many interesting bits of historic property. Many of these bricks have been used in the fitting in recent years, as the installation of the Ray Shaw fireplace, which includes the residence of the late Miss Robinson and the general store belonging to the late Robert Hall in May, 1902. These were all rebuilt. In October, 1902, the engineer burned, and the Bath fire was extinguished by Mr. and Mrs. Corrigan Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hall and Miss Chas. Johnston (Annie Chumberes). Later the same beginning to The Baker store, the Williams. Ernest Young's cottage and coal shed are on the property at present. In September, 1950, the Shibley block, which left six families homeless. Morton Hughes's residence and grist mill owners the property now. In November, 1909, the school was destroyed by fire, but was rebuilt as soon as material could be obtained. In May, 1911, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Parks and another small residence in her yard to names. The first built located here. In April, 1925, St. John's Church was burned, and rebuilding operations were started as soon as possible, the corner stone being laid in July, 1925. On December, 1930, the Butler home was burned. Graham Manor has been built on this site, which was the old homestead of the Hoselton family for years. The history of Bath is not compared to book, as each landmark has been removed it reminds one of the lives of prominent pace in the story. To those of us who have been born in the vicinity and come to school and Sunday School, played on the lies each year, romped with the boys and girls on Hallowe'en and New Year's Eve, it causes many a sad comment when we witness a sight like the one on January 2nd, 1942, at 6.00 a.m., to say nothing of the material losses. Though all we have to mourn is to be thankful for. There was no one injured or a life lost. This is nothing to a number of poor people in Bath, England, and other places have suffered from the ruthless bombing. It is rumored that building operations will commence as soon as weather and conditions will permit.

Farmers! Attention! More Bacon is Required in 1943!

For Britain	For the Armed Forces	For the Workers of Canada

Canada has been asked for an increase of 28 per cent. in hogs for 1945. Ontario farmers' share of this increase will be 20 per cent. or 1,749,000 hogs.

Lennox and Addington should produce its share.

In the first 10 months of 1942 we produced 18,032 hogs.

In the first 10 months of 1943 we SHOULD produce 21,668 hogs.

WE MUST PLAN NOW!

HOW? Breed an extra sow Now—Which should produce a ton of pork in 1943—By reducing losses in little pigs — one more pig saved in each litter would yield 12 per cent. more pork.— Market all hogs at 200 to 210 lbs.

WHY? We have an obligation to Britain, our Armed Forces and our Allies. An extra sow will not require much care until farrowing time. Feed supplies are ample and prices reasonable. Grain is brought freight-free to you from Port Arthur and Fort William. Use labor saving equipment such as Self Feeders. Watch rations and sanitary conditions.

The local Office of the Department of Agriculture is ready to give any possible help.

Nylon Brushes Are Shipped With Guns

Nylon bristles, the same as you use to brush your teeth and smooth your hair, are now cleaning the guns being fired on land and sea. All types and calibre of guns, from those mounted on a submarine chaser or corvette to the 25-pounders in North Africa or the monster guns on the newest battleships, are cleaned with Canadian-made brushes bristled with Nylon monofilament fibres, according to John Harwood-Jones writing in the December issue of C-I-L-Oval.

With natural hog bristles formerly imported from Russia and China now on the reserve list, nylon fibres produced by Canadian Industries Limited at Brownsburg, Que., have literally stepped into the breech as a replacement material. When a gun leaves the factory, says the article, breech and barrel brushes are shipped with it—modern war is on a bigger scale than even Napoleon ever dreamed possible and when guns are shipped to fronts many thousands of miles away the replacement of gun cleaning brushes becomes a big problem. The importance of the long lasting properties of nylon monofilament bristles over those of hitherto imported natural bristles was soon realized by government and military specialists, and brush makers alike.

In addition to their use on active service, brushes bristled with nylon are being used in larger numbers and for increasing duties in war plants for cleaning shells, fuses, gun barrels and parts and many widening industrial uses.

YEAR DEVELOPED NEW DUTIES FOR MANY WOMEN

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Canada's women enter 1943 with the prospect that their part in the nation's war effort will be greatly increased.

The year 1942 has made history for women. It brought cares and anxiety because of the war on land and sea and in the air. But in brought achievements women would not have dreamed of a decade ago. Thousands who were never "gainfully employed" before thronged to factories, shipyards and business life. Thousands more went on active service in uniform. "The women of Canada in 1942 learned a new lesson in living."

"The women of Canada are wonderful," said Mrs. Rex Eaton, director of the women's division of National Selective Service. "They put on trousers and overalls, set their faces and hands dirty, and tackled jobs that make their backs ache and their muscles sore. They've given up soft, peacetime living. When necessary, they've given up homes for strange, lonely new places."

On August 1st there were 155,000 Canadian women in industry. As the year ended there were many thousands more. When Selective Service appealed for women workers the response was more than adequate to fill the need in all parts of Canada. Mrs. Eaton said. Women in 1942 had changed their attitude of mind.

"Now they want to do jobs that at one time they would have shuddered in horror," Mrs. Eaton said.

IN HEAVY JOBS

Women have gone into shipyards. They work as welders, riveters, drillers and crane operators and help in a hundred ways to build craft from merchant ships to corvettes and destroyers. Women have gone to the woods as "lumberjills" in Ontario and Saskatchewan. In British Columbia 1,000 women work in shingle mills, wood-working plants and plywood factories.

From Nova Scotia to Alberta women are working in mines—cleaning coal as the pick-and-shovel miner sorties nickel ore, keeping machinery oiled and in running condition.

In railroad roundhouses they work on the engines and the rolling stock. Women work as laborers and carpenters on construction jobs, tend switches and work on the tracks as mechanics, drive milk trucks and deliver mail.

Munitions and aircraft production would be drastically reduced if women put away their tools. Some of these have had to bring women from distant points and house them in dormitories. In some communities nurseries have been established so the new generation can be cared for while their mothers work. Women's willingness to do these jobs releases manpower for active service but women have done more than that. Nearly 27,000 women have volunteered for military service in uniform.

IN THE SERVICES

In 1941 only a handful of women wore the blue of the R. C. A. F. Today there are nearly 10,000 men and airwomen under the direction of Squadron Officer Kathleen G. Walker.

A year ago women in the Air Force did strictly women's work as cooks, clerks and drivers. In 1942 they took over more than forty trades, cleaning and assisting aircraft, plotting flights, making flying instruments, workers as meteorological observers, cooks and as wireless plotter operators. Thousands of men have been released by these airwomen for active flying duty.

The Canadian Women's Army Corps in the same period grew to that of the R.C.A.F. (Women's Division). When 1941 ended there were 770 women in khaki. Their number is now 21,000.

A new uniform appeared in Canada last year. Its khaki-costumed women in the trim navy uniforms of the Wrens—Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service — were seen on the streets of Ottawa, and in some seaports. Already 300 Wrens have been trained and are on active service in wardroom attendants, mess caterers, supply assistants, electrical operators, postal workers, secretaries, coders, plotters, wireless telegraphists, sick berth attendants and mess-menders.

Selling Butter Only With Order For Groceries Not Approved

The practice of selling butter only with an order for other groceries, adopted by some merchants in order to give preference to regular customers, cannot be approved now that butter is a rationed commodity. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board states.

Some weeks ago, when enquiries were received as to the propriety of such conditional sales, the Board advised its offices that in general retailers are not permitted to make the sale of one article contingent upon the purchase of other designated items, for example, a pound of butter and a half - dozen cakes of soap. However, the general policy of the Board is to encourage stores to serve their own customers, and the practice of setting minimum orders is in many cases the only practical way of determining who is a regular customer. Accordingly, it was ruled, there was no objection to a retailer making a sale of a commodity in short supply subject to an order for other commodities ordinarily sold in the store.

To make it is pointed out, cannot apply in the case of any goods rationed by coupon, namely, sugar, tea and coffee, and now butter.

WHAT FOODS MEAN TO YOU

Hello Homemakers! Is "nutrition" just a vague idea in your mind? Here's your chance to be "in the know" — to learn the meaning of terms being used nowadays and other things you will want to know about nutrition. For every-one should understand why nourishment must be taken in the proper proportions to give us energy, to build and repair body tissues to protect us from infection and to regulate all body processes. Just think! What you eat for breakfast, lunch and dinner is changed into flesh and bones and blood.

Strength and health can only come to us from the food we eat — for food is the body's only nourishment. Then it must be given up before it can be used through the kitchen. So it's important to choose the right kinds and right amounts of food for the family. We have all found out that when our health is not good our work suffers, we make more mistakes and cannot accomplish as much as we should. Health certainly, please Hitler only too well.

Price of an then Homemakers, let us understand nutrition and then work out our own nutrition program. You might cut this column out and keep it handy for reference.

Nutrition: The term "nutrition" comprises all the processes concerned in the growth, maintenance, and repair of living organisms.

Dietetics: Is the application of the principles of nutrition to the feeding of different ages, under different conditions, in health and disease.

Composition of Foods: In the six groups of constituents called nutrients — carbohydrates, fats, proteins, minerals, water and vitamins.

Classification of Nutrients: (1) According to their function in the body (mechanical energy, building, also repairing tissues, regulating body processes) and (2) according to their chemical compostition.

Essentials of an Adequate Diet: To insure health normally a diet must be state of health a diet must contain:

1 Sufficient carbohydrates, fats and protein to provide for energy and muscular activity;

2 Sufficient protein for growth and maintenance of all body cells;

3 Adequate amounts of minerals for bones and teeth and body regulation;

4 An adequate supply of water for regulation of body processes;

5 An adequate supply of each of the known vitamins for regulation of body processes.

Protein Foods, (Body Building and Repair): Lean meat, fish, eggs, milk, cheese, whole grain cereals, vegetables — peas and beans (fresh and dried).

Carbohydrate Foods (Supply Heat and Energy): Starches — Cereals flour, spaghetti, potatoes, bread, dried peas and beans; Sugars — Sugar, molasses, honey, dried fruits.

Fats (Supply Heat and Energy): Meat fat, butter, cream, vegetable oils.

Foods Containing Minerals (Regulating): Milk, fresh vegetables, whole cereals, eggs, meats, fruits.

Foods Containing Vitamins (Protective): Fresh vegetables, fruits, outer coverings of grain, milk, eggs, liver, butter, fish.

Water: We should take five to eight glasses of water daily in addition to that contained in foods.

Improvement Follows Adoption of Butter Rationing

Ottawa. — Discussion of butter rationing at meetings with the trade supply Wartime Prices Board officials said, last week.

After a full week of rationing the situation in most centres of shortage was described as "definitely improved."

No changes are indicated either in the ration of 2 ounces per week per person or in the list. The shipping situation suggests no variation as to tea or coffee.

It is pointed out that there is considerable dissimilarity between rationing here and that in United States. Often any policy they may adopt is the result of results here. This comment is made apropos of the "improbability" of rationing canned foods in Canada.

FOWL IS PLENTIFUL, LENDS ITSELF TO PREPARATION OF DELICIOUS DISHES

"A car in every garage and a chicken in every pot" was held up, not so long ago as the ideal of Canadian Prosperity. The car in every garage is no longer desirable and while the war lasts but the chicken for every pot is not only a possibility, but has now become a real asset to the preparation of a great variety of delicious dishes. Fowl is particularly delicious and lends itself to the preparation of a great variety of delicious dishes. Washington stews and fricasses; flavorful soups; salads, sandwiches, and made up dishes in almost endless variety can be prepared from birds whose days of usefulness as egg-layers are over. Frequently one of fowl is possible with the family and helps to stretch further, supplies of other meats which are in less plentiful supply.

The Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, suggests the following tested recipes. Other recipes and useful tips on buying, preparation and carving of poultry are contained in the recent "Poultry Guide" and mimeographed recipes issued by this department. These may be obtained, free of charge by writing to Publicity and Extension Division, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

General

Directions For Cooking Fowl

Fowl requires long, slow cooking in moist heat in order to make them completely tender. Simmering, braising, stewing or fricasseeing are best. Fowl is sometimes roasted by a combination of steaming and baking. In this case the stuffed bird is placed in a covered roasting pan with a small amount of liquid and slowly cooked till tender. The cover is removed during the last half hour in order to brown the bird.

Braised Chicken

One fowl, 5 to 6 pounds
Flour
Paprika
Salt and pepper
Fat
One and half cups of water

Cut up fowl in pieces for serving. Roll each piece in seasoned flour, making sure it is well coated. Brown in hot fat. Place in a casserole and sprinkle with paprika, salt and pepper. Pour each piece with a small bit of butter or drippings. Add the water and cover closely. Bake slowly in a 350 deg. oven for one and one-half to two hours. When fowl is tender, thicken gravy with a mix of flour, cream and butter. Season to taste. Add a little extra water may be needed. Serve gravy with chicken.

Chicken With Dumplings

1 If desired half-cup tomato juice may be used in making gravy.

2 Cooked or canned peas, carrots or cooked milk may replace the water used in making chicken.

3 There should be enough milk to cover the chicken and long slow cooking is necessary.

4 The chicken may be cooked on top of the stove over a low heat in a tightly covered pan, allowing the same time as for oven cooking.

Chicken With Dumplings

One fowl, about 5 pounds, cut in pieces
One quart boiling water
One small carrot
Two stalks celery
One small onion
Salt and pepper

Put fowl in a kettle with water and seasonings. Cover and simmer till tender, two to three hours. Allow fowl to cool in stock, then remove, skim off excess fat and strain stock. Measure and if there is less than one quart, add water to make up this amount. Add half cup flour with one-third cup milk, blending till smooth. Add gradually two cupfuls of stock of milk and add to stock. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add fowl, cover and heat. Drop dumpling mixture by spoonsful over gently lightly and cook 10 to 15 minutes without removing lid.

Devilled Backs and Wings

Backs and wings of two chickens
One-quarter cup fat
One teaspoon mustard
Half-teaspoon paprika
Half-teaspoon salt
One teaspoon vinegar
Two tablespoons water
One cup soft, buttered bread crumbs
Few grains cayenne pepper

Place pieces of fowl or chickens in baking dish. Mix fat with seasonings and spread on pieces. Add water. Cover with crumbs and bake, covered, in a moderately hot oven, 350 deg. for one hour. Giblets may be cooked in this way but they should be removed in water, till partially tender before baking. Serves three or four.

During a night raid in London a Canadian coalowner saw an incendiary bomb fall on a coal dump in a back street down which he was passing.

He went to help the householders deal with it. The bomb was easily extinguished and the coal did not catch fire. Being interested in coal, he asked who was the coal supplier. To his mortification, he discovered that the coal which would not ignite in contact with an incendiary must have come from his own pits!

NORSE REVEAL NAZI TERROR

BRUTALITY SHOWN IN SHOOTING HOSTAGES

London, (C.P.) — New details of the cold-blooded manner in which the German occupation of Norway has run and carry out intimidation of that country's people were revealed by the Norwegian Government in London.

Norwegian officials, dealing with a state of emergency declared on Trondheim from October 6 to 12, termed it a German "recipe for terror."

Thirty - four Norwegian patriots were shot and a hundred imprisoned.

"The whole system was carefully and cold-bloodedly planned in all its details with the object of achieving intimidation among the people of the populations," said a Government statement. "The district of Trondheim delag was chosen because the province had great military importance and also because it would be envisaged as an excellent excuse to get rid of some country folk from the parts of Crane who had been arrested on a charge of hiding arms and ammunition."

Information reaching Norwegian sources was that the Germans had decided in advance that two hostages were to be shot in Trondheim. One was in another part of the country and the Gestapo did not get hold of him until the day after the executions. But there had to be ten hostages, so another Norwegian officer, Captain Borg, was arrested and shot in his place.

Trondheim first realized something was breaking when no morning newspapers were to be obtained. A little later the police began to put up placards announcing a state of emergency "owing to the sabotage of food supplies."

At noon on October 6, Joseph Pedersen, Norway's German dictator, and Reitkos, the German Chief-of-Police drove through the town, followed by police on motorcycles with machine-guns. At the same time trains were arriving from Oslo packed with Gestapo men, S.S. troops and Norwegian State Police. Loud speakers were steadily set up in the streets and an eight o'clock curfew has been established, only a few people heard the announcement of the execution of ten of Trondheim's leading citizens, which was repeated after eight o'clock. Many relatives turned up the care of hostages, fathers, sons through the next morning's newspapers.

But grimmer still, the condemned men also heard of their own death over the radio. They were told, quite officially, that until the following morning, at appropriate twenty-four more Norwegians were executed, they, too, were also on the day following the actual announcement of their death, after having been given the opportunity to draw up their wills and write their valedictions. The new measures, Oct. 7, the houses of the guardian were ransacked and their money confiscated.

"The Hitlers now, who came from no higher than a corporal, have called out at eight o'clock in the morning and ordered all men to appear. They were kept standing until 7 p.m. in the evening. Then they were called in, two by two. Each one was questioned. The following day they were taken to the place of execution, where a whole Russian prisoners of war had been forced to dig. Row by row they were placed and shot. The final group of nine endured similar protracted ordeal.

"Then the Germans bundled itself the terror reigned unabated." said the Norwegian report. "House after house was searched; hundreds of people were arrested, and they were not released by any chance even from toilet requisites with them. Then their relatives were made to believe that all arrested persons were to be killed."

Window Screens To Be Of Nylon

Window screens that will not rust or require painting are a distinct possibility when nylon again becomes available for peacetime uses, according to C-I-L chemists. These screens will be woven of single heavy strands of nylon monofilament into a strong, smooth screens through which a maximum of light and air can pass, but which can be cleaned merely by rubbing the fingers over the displayed strands. The screen can be colored permanently in the process to match nylon. The material is flexible and suitable for roll screens.

THE TRANS-CANADA AIR LINES IN 1942

BY H. J. SYMINGTON, K.C.,
President, Trans-Canada Air Lines

Throughout 1942, the third full year of the war, Trans-Canada Air Lines has continued to do its part and has strengthened itself and improved its organization and facilities, the better to serve the nation. Over a route 4,857 miles long, T.C.A. aircraft now the 22,760 miles a day, more than a third and a quarter million miles a year.

The air line had been in transcontinental operation only a few months when Canada entered the struggle against the Axis powers, so that it has been almost since its beginning, an instrument of war. Based on the home front, while it has never lost sight of its function of accelerating the pace of business and unifying, as only a swift communication system can, our boad and widely diversified Dominion, the war cement Canada's energies are now directed to victory and the largest proportion of T.C.A. business is war business.

The steady growth in traffic volume is the best indication we have of the increased responsibility Trans-Canada has been called upon to carry. During 1942 the mail load transported by T.C.A. showed an increase over the preceding years of 93 per cent. Air express rose 53 per cent, passengers, an increase of 124 per cent. The number of passengers carried was 106,003, an increase of 24 per cent.

Service was extended to Newfoundland on May 1st. The route is from Moncton, N.B. to Sydney, N.S., thence across to Gander and St. John's. The service has proved so necessary that the passenger load faster on this section is the highest on the entire system and reservations are made weeks in advance. A second daily flight was inaugurated on November 1, to facilitate operation according to T.C.A. standards, the company installed radio and land line communications.

The development of business in the Maritimes — there are now four scheduled trips each day between Montreal and Montreal — made it desirable to establish a maintenance base and a dispatch centre at Moncton and a reservations centre at Halifax. A new airport centre was also opened up at Winnipeg.

These arrangements and other improvements in organization made for smooth and efficient operation in the trans-continental, with three-engine creation of communications has ordered our procedures in the air. Especially since until the following months the inadequate twenty-four more Norwegians were executed, they, too, were also on the day following the actual announcement of their death, after having been given the opportunity to draw up their wills and write their valedictions. The new measures, Oct. 7, the houses of the guardian were ransacked and their money confiscated.

Canada's Fighting Farmers

Canadian farmers today are fighting for victory as vitally as are the makers of tanks, ships and planes, in support of the men of our army, navy and air force. For the farm is the food reservoir of our battling legions on all world fronts.

To help the farmer increase food production and do his maximum part in this total war, the Bank of Montreal co-operates with him in many ways, particularly by lending him money needed for seed, labour and marketing. The Bank has been supplying credit to farmers since 1817.

If you need money to improve your production of food, either for export to feed the front lines, or for domestic use, you are invited to discuss your requirements with our nearest branch manager. He will understand your problems and will treat your business as strictly confidential.

Theatre managers who had Santa Claus in their lobby to accept mail from the youngsters reported many humorous requests. One small scaller wanted to know how the theatre Santa could be anything but a fake, considering that Superman hadn't yet rescued him from Hitler! Another asked for this-for daddy, that for himself, and "for mommy a pound of butter." That's a lad who'd delve to the needs of the moment. . . . Dinah Shore, the radio singer who is about to become a movie star, has one song she will never sing again. When Dinah was in college she fell in love and the song that she and her sweetheart picked out as theirs was "Stars Fell on Alabama," popular at the time. It was just a college romance than so it faded as time went by. More than a year ago her college sweetheart, in the army, wrote that he would soon have leave and visit her. She scheduled the song on a broadcast for him. Two days after word came that the boy to whom she sang had been killed at Pearl Harbor.

Hollywood's famed parade down Santa Claus Lane at holly time, an annual event for the last 12 years, was cancelled this year because of almost restrictions. Santa Claus Lane, which is Hollywood Boulevard during the ordinary part of the year, is something to see. Santa rode up and down the gorgeously-lit avenue in a van of floats and stars. Canada's Mary Pickford was the first star to share Santa's sleigh and Tom Mix led the parade until he died, after which Leo Carrillo became grand marshal. Watching the parade one year, this scribbler saw a cowboy riding up front who waved his hat and shouted greetings to the crowd. Santa looked at him blankly while it cheered the other stars. The cowboy was Gene Autry, whose pictures play small towns, and many of the onlookers had never seen him on the screen.

Lennox - Addington County Branch

ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

C. W. BUCHANAN, B.S.A.
Agricultural Representative

In another column of this paper an advertisement appears asking the farmers in this County to increase hog production. A swine production programme is required in every County in the Province that the increased production of pork in Ontario required by the Wartime Food Board, can be attained.

In order to meet the bacon and pork requirements for 1943 for all purposes including the armed forces, ships' stores, overseas contracts and domestic consumption, 8,000,000 pounds of pork will be required. It is estimated that the total slaughterings of hogs in inspected plants in Canada during 1942 will amount to 6,751,000 head. On this basis, Canadian farmers are being asked to increase hog marketings by 1,749,999 head or 28% per cent.

During 1942 Ontario farmers marketed 2,137,329 hogs or 34 per cent. of the total hogs marketed in Canada. At the Dominion - Provincial Conference recently held in Ottawa, Ontario assumed the responsibility of increasing her production in this Province by twenty per cent., as our share of the additional 1¾ million hogs required to meet all requirements in 1943.

The increase required in Ontario amounts to an approximately one extra row per farm where pigs are now being kept.

It is believe ed this increase can be obtained. The following four points are being featured :—

1 There is an abundance of grain on most farms and grain can be purchased at reasonable prices.

2 By the use of inexpensive labor-saving devices in hog feeding, the prosperity from an extra sow can be raised with very little additional manual labor.

3 Mortality in young pigs normally runs from twenty per cent. to 35 per cent. and can be reduced materially by a little greater care of the sow before and after farrowing. Lack of exercise in the sow can be responsible for many weak litters. If one more pig per litter is raised, our production from this source alone would increase twelve and one-half per cent.

4 Greater care in preparing rations can materially add to the profits of hog raising. Pigs fed on grain alone take at least 6 lbs. grain per pound of gain. Pigs fed on a mixture balanced by the addition of some protein supplement can be fed on 4 lbs. of mixture per pound gain.

A sow bred today can produce a ton of pork in nine months. We can increase meat production through hogs almost faster than through cattle or sheep but even at that, sows must be bred at once if the pigs are to be marketed in 1943.

Circulars are being mailed to our farmers this week in connection with the Annual County Seed Survey. This survey must be completed by January 27th. Any farmers who do not receive a copy of the circular and who have any good seed to sell, are urged to advise us at once.

To obtain the 1943 agricultural production objective for Canada, it is necessary to increase the production of fall wheat by one bushel per cent, barley by eleven per cent, mixed grains by one per cent, flaxseed by sixty-eight per cent, hay and clover by eight per cent, alfalfa by eleven per cent., soybeans by fifty per cent., sugarbeets by forty-two per cent.

The seed survey is being taken in every County in the Province. It has equal benefits for the buyer and the seller.

The co-operation of all our farmers having good seed to sell will be appreciated.

SEATS OFFERED HON. J. BRACKEN

Ottawa. — Hon. John Bracken, head of the Progressive Conservative party, has been offered three seats by Conservative M.P.'s, it was stated in the capital, but no decision has been reached in the matter of acceptance.

It is understood that two of the offers come from members of the numerous Ross clan in Parliament—Douglas Ross, of Toronto, and Arthur Ross, of Courtland. The other offer is from Mr. Bracken's own riding.

Mr. Bracken, it is believed, will decide by his decision till he has wound up the premiership of Manitoba.

Parliament will reassemble on January 27, but only to prorogue that day. The new session will open the day following. It is quite clear that Mr. Bracken will not be able to sit in the House till early in March at the earliest, and entail a delay of two months after the writ is issued.

Hon. R. B. Hanson has indicated his readiness to carry on for four or five weeks but not longer.

There are now three vacancies in the House of Commons. Manitoba, Humboldt, Saskatchewan and the Cartier division of Montreal. No move has been made about filling the first two. The C. C. F. party plans vigorously to contest the western seats.

POST-WAR PROBLEMS CALL FOR SACRIFICE, COURAGE AND SKILL

BY THE
RT. HON. ANTHONY EDEN

The following address was delivered by the Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, Britain's Minister for Foreign Affairs, at Albert Hall, Nottingham, on July 23rd:

It is nearly three years since Germany attacked Poland, and the British nations and France declared war against Germany in fulfilment of their pledge. It is just over two years since Dunkirk and the collapse of France, when the British Empire stood alone, almost unarmed, against the power of the greatest military machine of the modern world. Today we are again facing one of the gravest hours of the war, perhaps one of the gravest of our history.

TWO YEARS AGO WE STOOD ALONE

Two years ago we stood and faced 80,000,000 Germans and 40,000,000 Italians — together, thrice the population of the United Kingdom. The Nazis were convinced then they had won the war. The world seemed at their feet. It was not only our enemies who believed that for us the game was up. A great part of the civilized world who were our friends believed it, too.

We did not believe it. We did not believe it for a moment. In this small island, in our sister nations of the Commonwealth, in our territories overseas, we all knew we would come through. We did not see the way clearly. We knew not whither the road would lead us or how the wind would blow. We only knew that somehow, somehow, we would escape our pursuant dangers and free ourselves and others. Today, when the whole fabric of our national life is still threatened, when only efforts on the part of each one can save us, it is well to draw inspiration from the past, to confirm the formidable dangers we have to overcome.

FAITH IN OUR DESTINY

Two years ago we in the British Commonwealth had faith in our destiny. We stood and freedom still lives. We have faith in our destiny today, and freedom will live.

What brought us through the dangers of Dunkirk? It was not great armaments; it was not a vast Magi-not Line of defense; it was not that we played for safety. Each one thing alone, under Providence, brought us through — the spirit of the British people, that spirit which does not know when it is defeated — a spirit which will take great chances for great gains.

When we look back over the war it often seems we have been on the defensive all the time. It is true that after Dunkirk we were thrown back on the defensive, but I can remember many strokes we have given since then — sometimes, nearly always, at great risk to ourselves.

Throughout the history of the war comes to be written we need not fear. I think that we shall appear as little timid people sheltering upon our island. Believe me, when the history of our time comes to be written, it will be clear that our hour was struck by blows, but given them. It will be clear that we dared greatly and, because we dared, we have brought hope and salvation to ourselves and mankind.

Throw your minds back moment-by-moment to those grim, heroic months following Dunkirk, when we were almost defenceless. I remember those days. I remember one glorious summer evening making a broadcast in which I said that a new force which we were entering — the Local Defence Volunteers, as they were then called. A million men rushed to arms and the Home Guard, as we know it to-day, was the result. Men and women worked day and night in factories, building new plants, digging defense works, preparing themselves against invasion which seemed then inevitable.

WHEN GRAVE RISKS WERE TAKEN

Even in those days, when we were at the height of our danger and were thinking of other things besides defense. We were not playing for safety; we were not piling up arms and equipment here, to be used here.

At that time we had a small army in Egypt, inadequately equipped. We have made it into a great army. We have sent men and munitions away from here away from that area of danger, to reinforce that small army.

Throughout the winter of 1940 and the spring of 1941, that army drove the Italians from Sudan, from Abyssinia, and defeated them in Libya. It accounted for nearly half a million Italian soldiers.

How often do we recall, I wonder, that General Wavell's army was being reinforced through the spring and autumn of 1940? That with Britain so nearly defenseless, and the danger so imminent, we were taking grave risks in striking at the enemy? We were justified.

Then we recall the autumn of 1940 and the winter of 1940 here at our own doorstep. The Battle of Britain, how in that long, dark winter the people of Britain stood up to almost unending bombardment of the Luftwaffe. It seems a long time ago now. But we are apt to forget those things. But defeated we are not, remember. In those winter days we were not endure at home, but at the We were thinking how we could strike at the enemy. While we still were short of anti-aircraft defense guns, we were sending out guns and aircraft planes to the Middle East. The stream was not as deep and wide as we could have wished, but it stands to the credit of the British people that not only did they endure at home, but at the same time steadily built up striking power overseas.

Side by side with the gallant Greek army we fought the Germans in Greece. We fought them in Crete. After magnificent resistance against overwhelming odds, our men were driven out. We were defeated in Greece ,we were defeated in Crete, but we fought on. In these very reverses, and in the Yugoslav resistance, which is still continuing in parts of that country, were the seeds of future success.

We delayed the Germans sufficiently to defeat their plans in Syria, with the help of the Fighting French, and so protected Iraq and Persia before Germany could forestall us.

VAST PROBLEM OF SEA TRANSPORTATION

More important still, perhaps, these events set back the German attack on Russia several weeks. History may well record that the Allies saved the world by the toll they took of the enemy and the delay they imposed in Greece and Crete, just as Russia saved it later by her heroic courage and superb fighting power.

If these had been our only tasks, to defend our selves at home from the threat of invasion and from the fury of bombardment, and to strike at the enemy where we could get at him, that would have been much.

But during all this time, we were faced too with the need to maintain communications. We had to carry through a vast program of shipbuilding, and all the time the Royal Navy and the Merchant Navy were keeping the seas open punishing the Italian and German fleets and inflicting fierce warfare against the U-boats and surface raiders along the ocean routes. At no time in its long proud history has the Royal Navy been more splendid than in the present war. To these men, and the men of the Merchant Navy, no tribute can be too great, no praise too generous.

Then, in June, 1941, the Nazis once again broke their plighted word and attacked the Russians. We made immediate arrangements to help them with munitions. We promised, and we have distributed vast quantities of supplies of many kinds to Russia — tanks, aircraft and munitions of war. As a result our industrial life and that of Russia have become closely linked. This is all to the good, be for we have to strain every nerve to produce the industrial power that Russia has lost. Thanks to the skill and endurance of our seamen, most of the munitions sent have been used in action against the enemy.

It is nearly eight months since the Japanese, by treachery, crippled the American Pacific fleet at Pearl Harbor and attacked our territories in the Far East. As a result we have suffered heavy losses, and the United Nations have been prevented from importing raw materials, for instance rubber. We were already deeply occupied in the European conflict and were in no position to engage a new and powerful enemy in the Far East. I wish to state the facts exactly as I know them.

NO PLAYING FOR SAFETY

Our men in the East could not be adequately supported either at sea or in the air. We had not battleships nor the aircraft, and our forces were decimated during their faithful fulfilling all down the Peninsula of Malaya, in Singapore and then again in Burma. They were outnumbered from the start, while the enemy was well supplied with men and aircraft. Once again, I say, not until we have been keeping our munitions of war for the Russians. All this made for greater safety. Nothing could be further from the truth. We have given enormous quantities of all the munitions we make to Russia, but we have never stinted in British men we can find shipping.

At home we have good reason to believe that we have produced more munitions in proportion to our population than those of any other nation in the world. That is an achievement to be proud of, and we did so for our own safety. In the summer we had to withdraw from Libya; last winter we had Rommel back through Cyrenaica to Benghazi; this summer he has advanced to within 100 miles of Alexandria. Now we are fighting stubbornly for Egypt and that lies beyond. It still is touch and go.

CLIMAX OF THE STRUGGLE

That, in bare outline, is the story of our part in the war since the evacuation of Dunkirk. I have not yet spoken of certain splendid achievements of the Royal Air Force, which has helped to make more than 8,000,000 tons of enemy shipping and is guarding convoys in all our northern and fleet.

This war for freedom is being waged all over the world. Russians, Chinese, Americans, the British nations and many other peoples are fighting together against the common enemies of mankind. Today this very moment, we are nearing the climax. On the plains of Russia and in Egypt, our Allies and Imperial forces are locked in one continuous front. The outcome of the struggle in these areas will go far to decide the whole course of the war.

The Russians are fighting fiercely with splendid courage to defend their soil before a superior weight of armament. Their cause is our cause. If there be no doubt in the minds of our fighting men that they will be long or short, we, together with our Allies, are in this war to a victorious end. We cannot look back or disappointment, or allow our attention to be distracted to continue to fight against the enemy until they are absolutely disarmed and rendered powerless to do further injury to mankind.

NAZIS CUT OFF FROM HUMANITY

The recent German atrocities in occupied countries have shocked the world. These are not isolated outbreaks springing from barbarous acts of individual Nazi soldiers and officers. They are expressions of the policy of the German government which deliberately adopted a policy of terrorism.

THE NAPANEE BEAVER

The Nazis fully understand the implications of their choice. Thus, in a speech delivered in Berlin on June 16th, Goebbels admitted that Germany had severed the bridges which connected her with the world. Germany's rulers have cut themselves off from humanity. These barbarous acts, however, have not accomplished their object. Instead of weakening, they have reinforced the spirit of resistance and strengthened the ties which bind the United Nations together.

Such is our solidarity that a crime against one is felt as a crime against all. We stand united in our resolve to exact full retribution at the appointed time. We are working together for victory and beyond. For we haven't been fighting all these years merely to return to a world of fear and war and frustrated hopes.

No nation can hope to live alone, as we have been taught by the tragedy of the Second World War. The march of invention has brought all nations into the closest relation with one another. Whether it will or not, the world grows ever smaller. We must either build an orderly, law-abiding international society in which each nation can live and thrive freely without fear or favor, or we shall all be destroyed in a final and barbaric strife.

THE WORLD IS AWAKE

If we fail this time, we are not likely to be given another chance. The world will not give opportunity after the last war. It would be foolish to suppose that after this war a few favored nations could once more entrench themselves within a charmed circle and go forward alone. The whole world is awake. Everywhere people are on the march without distinction of race or color. Industry has reached the stage in which there is no necessity for anyone in the world to go short of food or lack of means to build himself a better life. The problem is to organize full production and equitable distribution for all. Only a decently fed and healthy people can work effectively for a better world. This won't be a short or an easy task; it will require the devotion of every nation, each according to its capacity and experience.

We must have no illusion about the future, even after the war is won. To win the peace will be as hard a task as to win the war. We will need the same national unity at home. We will need something of the same spirit of self-denial and sacrifice. We will need true friendship between the nations who have fought as Allies if we are to win through. We are pledged to make our full part in building a peaceful, free international society.

It is therefore most encouraging to note that in the United States the President himself and a number of leading statesmen have repeatedly expressed their determination to work for a world in which each country shall be given the opportunity to develop its own life and its own resources to the benefit of all. In this task our American friends can be sure we are ready to meet and work with them all the time, all the way.

After the war, the problem of peace will be urgent. We shall be faced by because the nations failed to work for it with the same energy they displayed in the war. We are resolved to make the same mistakes nor take the same risks with Germany again.

Disarmament of the aggressor powers must be complete.

WHEAT FOR OCCUPIED AREAS

But, then, the first task must be to feed the starving populations. As you may have read, arrangements are ready taken provide for this event. For instance, an agreement was concluded between the United States, Canada, Australia, the Argentine and Great Britain a month ago, pledging upon to store and distribute wheat fairly so that the interests of all buyers in the producing countries and the consumers shall both be protected during the stress of the reconstruction period. This agreement is the forerunner of many similar arrangement to include other countries where once they are free and able to make their own needs. This is only a small part of the problem of the revival of international trade.

There is also the problem of enabling devastated, impoverished and economically undeveloped countries to restart their industry and agriculture. For until people have money they cannot purchase what they need. This involves the type of relationship which should exist between highly developed powerful countries and those that are backward and the same level of economic activity or have little experience in self-government.

I feel there are two principles which should govern these relations, not only because they are fair principles, but also because they are the principles which will work best of all.

First, the receipt of financial and economic aid must not result in the loss of independence for any country. Secondly, any form of assistance or guidance given to a country unpractical use for the aid. Self-government must be such as to help it achieve its own development.

NOVEL POLITICAL FORMS REQUIRED

There are many complicated and difficult matters to be worked out after war. They will require not only hard work and much patience but also political invention of the highest order. We must devise political relationships develop, novel forms of political institutions, new working arrangements, are required to give expression to them.

Sometimes political instruments have been evolved slowly over centuries. Such has been the experience of the British form of government. On other occasions a new political instrument has been created at one stroke, as, for instance, the American Constitution.

After the last war, the British people invented a new political instrument in the shape of "Dominion Status" which gave expression to the relations between the peoples of the British Commonwealth. Another political instrument was invented by President Roosevelt recently when he devised the plan of Lend-Lease.

The future of the world will depend on our skill in foreseeing and creating the necessary political machinery after the war. Whole empires have been made or lost by their skill or lack of failure to adapt themselves by changing times.

The United Nations are working together for victory. Not before have independent nations cooperated so closely and effectively for a common end. That partnership which they are fighting is that each and every country shall be able to develop and improve its own life in peace.

MUST BE FOUNDED ON MORAL BASIS

This is a task which will call forth all energies at home.

Never again must we tolerate chronic unemployment, extremes of wealth and poverty, slums and the lack of opportunity for so many which disfigured our national life in the past. It will take years of hard work before we have remade our country in our liking, although the Government has already begun to lay the plans for the future, both at home and in the international sphere. Together with the United States, the Soviet Union, China and other nations, we shall take our part in working for the development of a great world-wide civilization.

For this great work in international relations to thrive it must be founded on a moral basis. We are fortunate in having special opportunities to found it on that good neighbor policy and to be able to begin now at home. To set against the hatred this war has engendered, our small country has been able to make many friendships. As a youthful English poet wrote with juvenile insularity when fretting in Berlin: "For England's the one land I know where men with splendid hearts may go."

Since 1939 it has been our good fortune to welcome men with splendid hearts from different countries. Friendships we have been proud to make have proved we can be good neighbors and good comrades. Now with the arrival of American armed forces in large numbers in this country, we are entering a new essay in friendship.

I am ambitious that the American should establish a consciousness of a comradeship in war that will abide in the peace to come. Its growth will be warmed by stories of heroism like those of the fifteen American torpedo bombers, none of which returned. They pursued and attacked, unprotected, the Japanese convoy in the recent victory off Midway Island, where vengeance was taken for Pearl Harbor.

CHERISHING SOME FUNDAMENTALS

But the comradeship I have in mind cannot be rooted only in the fighting of a common foe, still less in speech-making. It will endure only if the Americans and we find that we care for the same fundamental things—liberty, decency, self-respect and opportunity for the common man—and that we care for them a lot.

The most important question I now see in the sphere of foreign relations is how American soldiers and airmen will be made happy in our British setting. The future Anglo-American friendship may for the first time in history is in the hands of the people of this country. Knowing the great-heartedness and the generosity of our people, I look forward with confidence to the outcome of this great experiment. I pray that at the accident of war may come the lasting benefit of peace.

WAR DEMANDS "SHORTER" DAYS EFFECT HYDRO LOAD INCREASE

Wartime industrial expansion and a gradual lessening in the number of daylight hours caused Hydro's primary load to increase more than 54,000 horsepower during the month of November over the previous month, according to monthly loads statistics just released by The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario. This increase also represents a 6.5 per cent increase, or 7135,000 horsepower over the corresponding month last year notwithstanding power conservation by compulsory and voluntary means.

Based on the maximum 20-minute peak horsepower load for the respective months, the Commission's summary portrays load conditions on all four H.E.P.C. systems and the Northern Ontario Properties. The Niagara System, serving the majority of Southern Ontario war industries, experienced a primary load increase of 8.6 per cent. or approximately 132,000 horsepower in excess of the November 1941 demand. The total peak demand for primary load in November, 1942, was 2,221,119 horsepower, as against 2,086,165 horsepower for the same month last year.

Combined primary and secondary load demands for the four systems and the Northern Ontario Properties were also increased. The November 1942 peak demand of 2,360,354 horsepower was 3 per cent greater than the 2,306,624 horsepower load recorded in November, 1941.

Restrict Liquor Sales, Shorten Store Hours

Ontario moved into line with other Provinces, last week, when the Liquor Control Board announced shortened hours of sale and restrictions on purchases of spirits, beer and wines. The new regulations came into effect Monday, January 4th.

Purchase of liquor will be restricted to a maximum of 160 ounces per month and all liquor stores will reduce hours of sale to eight o'clock. Liquor Commissioner A. St. C. Gordon said in making known the new setup. There will be no beer sold until the end of March when a 25-cent, individual liquor permit will be made happy by the end of the
